

15 January 1963

Dear Ms. Dunayevskaya: I picked this up at the newsstand this evening and immediately I thought of you. It is stirring again! Happy new year to you and congratulations on your fine book. I was given a copy by your sister, whom I had dinner with and spent a lovely evening. But shortly after I got it I had to give it up to the committee of the West Coast Association of Marxist Historians (WAMH) with whom I have been working to have you presented at a public forum in LA to discuss the centennial of Marx. Meanwhile, I am still trying to tie down confirmations from the various departments here at UCLA for the sponsorship of your lecture on RM and the theories of Marx and the Women's Movement. Please give my best to Lou Turner. See you soon.

Dear Raya: I hope that this brief note finds you well. Thank you very much for sending the report from News & Letters of your national tour. You must have been very tired when it was finally over! In return, I am sending you the attached copy of the University of California Press's announcement of new books for Fall 1983. As you can see, they are giving Garvey a lot of prominence; he would certainly have enjoyed it. With best regards,

(via handwritten note)

Today, July 20, 1983, I acknowledged the advertisement and personal note from Robert Hill about the Univ. of Cal. publication of the Marcus Garvey papers, asking him to try to get me the two volumes on the papers for which I would write a lengthy review, making sure that both Russia and Ireland appeared in my review. (Also, ~~XXXXXX~~ making sure that he knew I considered the price absolutely ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ prohibitive.)

At the same time, I wrote a P.S. about the fact that the video-tape of my interview with Cedric Robinson was incomplete as we heard it, but that, in fact, it has a part both on the break-up of the JFT and on women, after the 1/2 ran out.

I wrote in the PLS. that ACOT would be off the press at the end of August and I would make sure he got a copy.

Dear Raya: Many thanks for your kind letter. You should be receiving the Garvey volumes for review in NEWS & LETTERS; I wrote today to the person at the Press who handles review copies about your request. It is certainly good to know that the video film of your interview with Cedric has now turned up the response you made to the question about the JFT's demise. Sometimes this technology does surprise all of us. Best regards,
