

5-Day Meeting Held by CP Nat'l Committee

The National Committee of the Communist Party held an enlarged five-day meeting from Nov. 13 through Nov. 17, it was made known here yesterday at party headquarters.

The meeting heard and discussed an analysis of the election results. A public statement on the election is being prepared for release in the near future, it was said.

The meeting also discussed the events in Eastern Europe and issued the open letter on this subject to the party membership.

As its final order of business, the committee discussed a draft of a new party constitution. This is now being edited and is scheduled to be released in early December for the pre-convention discussion.