Working Class Must Elect Socialist Candidate for Governor of Colorado, Else Face a Two Years' Reign of Barbarism Rivaling That of the Peabody Regime.

BY GEORGE H. SHOAF. Stat Correspondent Appeal to Besson.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 10.—Either Haywood or Buchtel is going to be elected the next governor of Colorado.

Of that there is no possible doubt. Without an organized following Lindsey has no more snow of winning the governor of the colorado.

has no more show of winning the governorship than he has of flying heaver ward without a pair of wings. When his candidacy was first announced the strength of the Socialist movement was underestimated, and he was placed in underestimated, and he was placed in the field purely to draw votes from the aemocratic ticket and thereby insure republican success. He went against the game so strong, however, that his very political life compelled him to remain in the race, even after the discovery of the powerful Haywood boom. Lindsey is an artismion seah-loying, child-alays. is an anti-union, scab-loving, child-slave dealing, democratic snake, secretly wedded to the corporations, and, were be by some unexpected turn elected governor, it would be a body-blow to the cialist locals have been established in interests of the working class.

Alva Adams is dead—irretrievably agricultural sections of the state. The dead—and absolutely beyond political miners in the northern coal fields are resurrection in Colorado. True, a few with Haywood to a man. dead—and absolutely beyond political resurrection in Colorado. True, a few railway and coal corporations are espousing his candidacy in the open, and there are a few union labor skates who expect political jobs should Adams win, but aside from this his candidacy has no strength. Around the office of the Rocky Mountain News—the mouthpiece of the democratic party—the greatest gloom prevails. From persons intimate with Senator Patterson I learn that the big democratic boss does not hope for democratic success, but that he continues championing the Adams candidacy be in this campaign is between Haywool in this campaign is between Haywool championing the Adams candidacy be-cause he feels there is no other choice.

Patterson's True Opinion. This is what Patterson said about the courage and fitness of Alva Adams a few years ago in the Denver News:
"NO ONE WILL IN THESE COLUMNS CALL INTO QUESTION THE PROPRIETY OF ALVA ADAMS LIFE OR THE INTEGRITY OF HIS BUSI

OR THE INTEGRITY OF HIS BUSINESS DEALINGS, BUT ON CONTROVERTED PUBLIC QUESTIONS HE IS WEAK AND VACILLATING; HE AVOIDS THE WEARINESS AND WOUNDS OF HARD ENCOUNTER
UPON VITAL MEASURES."

In a recent speech Judge Lindsey had this to say of Alva Adams;

"Alva Adams never championed a single noteworthy reform or took a definite or positive stand upon a single issue which confronted the party that promised either strife or division."

Again Judge Lindsey says: "Frank Adams, president of the fire and police board, who is a powerful in-fluence in the democratic party, is also the chief official grafter in the demo-cratic party; also the protector of ballot box stuffers, who have stolen elections in the past and, in one notable instance, at-tempted to steal a supreme judgeship. This Frank Adams has used his position without any rebuke from his brother, Alva Adams, to permit open lawlessness in the running of wine rooms and saloons on Sindays, in violation of the law, and in permitting young girls to frequent such places, thereby permitting his ice company to feast upon their flesh and blood and bodies and souls in acceptions of the same such process. cepting money from saloon keepers for his ice, which they dared not refuse to buy and pay for promptly, fearing for their licenses.

"Milton Smith, chairman of the state democratic committee, has defended in court the wine-room keepers whom this Frank Adams for the last five or six years has permitted to violate the laws while his company put money in its pocket that came from the debauchery of children and young girls.

"I have denounced his brother, Billy Adams, as being a notorious corporation lobbyist and never having done one not-able thing for the people of this state. I have denounced this Frank Adams for permitting his employes to steal elec-

Through the influence of the Western Federation of Miners alone, Haywood will secure 20,000 votes. The overwhelming majority of these votes will come from the democratic party.

In addition to the miners' organization, more than a dozen trade unions affiliated with the State Federation of Labor have endorsed the Socialist candidate. Out of a membership of 350 men in the Painters' union in Denver, more than 300 will cast their votes for Haywood election day. It is known that Morer. Haywood and Pettibone, is now a raving maniae.

Advices which have reached Deaver contain the information that Orchard's mind has given way under the terrible strain to which he has been subjected for almost a year.

It is reported that Orchard is confined in the hospital ward of the Idaho penicentiary at Boise, and that the most radical measures are necessary to guard him.

The Orchard confession was secured by James McPartiand of the Pinkerion egency. From the Saturday Evening Post.

Various mouthpieces of high finance are beginning to express a dismal fore-boding that both great political parties will make the next presidential campaign on platforms of antagonism to capital and neighborliness to Socialism. They point to the most conspicuous act of the last congress, to the anti-trust activities of the administration, and to the president's latest utterances as proof to longer obtains in various or the president's latest utterances as proof to longer obtains in various. The volume of the president's latest utterances as proof to longer obtains in various. though still written in the law books, no longer obtains in practice. The right of accused persons to refuse to furnish evidence that may be used against them is no longer respected. The right of accused persons to be taken forthwith accused persons to be taken forthwith the pretended confessions of associates, the nearest magistrate is systematically if he persists in asserting his that the party under his leadership has of accused persons to refuse to turnish abandoned its fraditional attitude of evidence that may be used against them is no longer respected. to the nearest magistrate is systematically denied. Their right to be free from coercion of every kind except for hill and the trust prosecutions are for the protection of capital. Nothing could be more anti-Socialistic than their motive. The crux of the Socialist position, ever since Karl Marx announced it, has been that the big capitalists would swallow the small ones, that the "middle" purposes of detention while awaiting a public hearing before a magistrate, is ruthlessly, brutally and criminally sub-verted. All this has been brought about by what is known as the police "sweat

The "sweat bex" is not a box; creat, to conserve small "middle-class" business—which the rebate-giving rail-roads and the trusts that used cutthroat methods of competition were actually destroving at a rate that made Marx look like a prophet.

We suppose there is no particular harm in high Gnance hurling its pet anathemas, "socialistic" and "academic," at whomseever it pleases. But the plain fact is that President Rurvit is the champion of capital par excellence. He to savels in the President Rurvit is the champion of capital par excellence. He to savels in the Ruiz-Jalankie Bould alpha is a confession from the victim guilty or innocent. What the "third degree" is are indifferent approves it. An edit champion of capital par excellence. He to explain—the Philadelphia Press, forces which, by concentration it forces which, by concentrating it in a few hands; would lead to its destruction. In answer to an inquiring reader, the Philadelphia Press, on an occasion sev-eral weeks ago, explained the meaning of the "third degree" as administered Capital cannot be saved finally unless some considerable portion of the elecby police detectives to persons in their custody accused of crime. The inquiry had been drawn out by the following paragraph in the same paper two days before: The daily papers report that John Mitchell is going over the route followed by Debs in the coal regions for the purpose of "counteracting" Debs' work. If Mitchell wants to counteract Debs' work, and thinks he is able to do it, why does not instead of waiting till his case.

The prisoner was taken to the station house at Trants and Buttonwood streets. The "third degree"—given as it is given only when a po licensain is injured—was administered to him. Through the closed door of the lieutenant's room, his walls and cries for mercy could be heard, mingled with a confession.

Evidently outraged by this complacent story of impudent violation of the law by officers of the law, the reader of the Press asked its editor for an explanation of the "third degree," and by what au-thority in law such torture is adminis-tered. The latter part of his question remains unanswered. Answering the former part the Press said:

of 'The Jungle' was a request from a So-cialist paper, the Appeal to Reason, that I write them a serial."—Upton Sinclair,

There are 10,000 miners in Colorado affiliated with the Western Federation of Ainers, of which William D. Haywood is the secretary-treasurer. These men are going to vote for the liberation of their imprisoned comrade. From ployed by "Sleuths" to Extort Confessions From Helpless Prisoners, Which in take to explain by what authority in law these assaults upon helpless pris-oners are made. There is no authority oners are made. There is no authority at all for them in law. They express the malice of the lyncher, not the law of the state. The law presumes that of the democratic commissioners of San Juan county in abolishing the Silver every man is innocent until his guilt is proved; but the "sweating" process, from beginning to end, assumes his guilt. The law makes it the duty of every official, from humblest constable to haughtiest judge; into whose custody a prisoner is mediately processed. cial, from humblest constable to haughtiest judge, into whose custody a prisoner accused of crime may fail, to warn him, before listening to anything he may wish to say, that he is not bound to speak at all, but if he chooses to speak, then that whatever he says may be used against him at his trial; but under the "sweating" process, not only is the prisoner not se warned by his custodians, but ne is rigorously cross-examined by but ne is rigorously cross-examined by them to force him to make a full and complete confession of his alleged crime. And when rigid and persistent questioning fails to extort a confession from the harassed and friendless prisoner he is suddenly confronted with hideous tableaus calculated to break him down neryously and make him yield to the will of his tormentors.

Sometimes, "in a few western cities," naively remarks the Philadelphia Press, "the 'electric brush' is applied to obdurate prisoners,"—that is, to prisoners who assert their legal right to remain silent. As Philadelphia is not to be reckoned among western cities, one reckened among western cities, one might like to know what caused those "wails and cries for mercy" to come "through the closed doors" of the Philadelphia police lieutenant's roem, which destroyed by the devilish tortures in the Press itself reported two days beflicted upon him by Demon McPartland fore its explanation of the "third degree." Were they squeezed out of the prisoner by "rigid and persistent questioning"?

The truth is that under this police "sweating" process, the principal effort of the police is to break down the principal effort. None but an insane man, whether oners will and undermine his sanity; guilty or innocent, would make such a and to that end various modes of torture confession as that imputed to Orchard. Prevention of sleep is a favorite. The only object of all this is to enable in-competent detectives to seem to have have been permitted to see Orchard since ferreted out dangerous criminals when he made his confesion—it was imperating the fact they may have victimized weak and friendless unfortunates. ### SOCIALISM HERE AND ABROAD.

It is singular but true that Socialism has made less progress in these free United States than in many monarchies Germany contains more regularly organ-ized Socialists than any other country, and is regarded by students as the home of Socialism and the foster-mother of the Socialists in every other nation. In France, Italy and England they are actually represented in the govern-ments. In Germany the Socialists con-trol an important section of the imperial congress, but in Germany so far the em-peror has been able to keep them out of the actual government. As a matter o fact, Germany is next to Russis in the autocracy of its government, and is now on even a more secure basis as practically an absolute monarchy than an other European government.

Tet it is true that the Socialist vote is increasing very rapidly in this country. In 1900 their presidential vote was only 125.117, while in 1904 (in four short years only) this vote had jumped all the way to 445.781, an increase never before achieved by a new party within so short a space of time, except the republican narty in the four wears which presented party in the four years which preceded the civil war and the election of Lincoln to the presidency. Politicians of all kinds admit that the first break in the wonderful prosperity of this country will mean a big break in political alignment as now constituted.

Just what share the Socialists would get of the efficient party votes would be hard to say, but that they would immedistely come into a position of great im-portance, both political and economi-students claim to be beyond question. Syndicate Article.

Because capitalists, under a system of capitalism, own the earth, and they don't purpose to be dictated to by a set of theory reformers.

In other states they would do the same things that they do here if the other states had as many reformers. But reformers with this good little law and that good little law can only drive the enpitalists to reckless defiance.

They cannot curb them even a little bit.

For the first time Texas can boast that it has a woman candidate for con grees. Laura B. Payne is a Socialist and presumably a woman suffragist. At any rate she is a vigorous campaigner and outspoken against all grafters.

No woman has yet had a seat in the house of representatives, but both the house rate and republican parties have lemocratic and republican parties have gladly availed themselves of women compaign speakers. At Cincinnati, in 1876, women addressed a republican convention for the only time. In 1990 at Kansas City, Mrs. Cohen, of Utah seconded the nomination of Bryan Utah and Wyoming sent women delegates to the republican national con-centions in 1892 and 1909.

Under equal suffrage numbers of women have been elected to the legislatures of Colorado and Wyoming, but they have seldom held any other officin the state government than that of superintendent of education. To Belva Lockwood belongs the distin having been twice nominated for president by the equal rights party, in 1884 and 1995.

There is nothing apparently in the constitution of the United States to bar Laura B. Payne, of Fort Worth from a seat in congress. It prescribes merely that "no person shall be a rep-resentative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years and States, and who shall not, when elected be an inhabitant of that state in which he shall be chosen." It is only a ques-tion whether Laura B. Payne will admir tion whether Laura B. Payne will admit that she is twenty-five and can poll enough Socialist votes.

I believe this to be perfectly practicable; indeed, that any other method is simply a relie of harbarism. I believe with Frederick Maurice of Enz-land, that it is infidel for any one to say that the law of supply and demand is as changeless as the law of gravitation, which means that competition must forever prevail. I believe that compe-tition is doomed, the Trusts, whose sin gle object it is to abolish competition having proved that we are better with-out than with it the moment that one corporation controls the entire supply any product; and what the Socialist desires is that the corporation of human-ity should control all products. Beloved comeades, this is the frictionless way; it is the higher law; it eliminates the motive for a selfish life; it enacts into our every-day living the ethics of Christ's gospel; nothing else will do it nothing else can bring the glad day of universal brotherbood. . . . .

Today the individual voter in this country is as powerless as he is in Russia; his candidate is selected, his platform written, and he goes to the polls to register the previous decision of those political manipulators who are in secret league with corporations that are perpetually seeking the job of locating water works, gas works, street cars, tel-ephone lines, telegraph lines and other sublic conveniences in every locality, and who make so large a margin on their in vestments that they have money left over with which to buy up such political favors as they require. The system is favors as they require. The system is perfect as a Waltham watch; once wind it up and keep it wound, and it will turn out multi-millionaires at the top and victimized voters at the bottom while a "republican form of government" is ground between the upper and nether millstones into dust so fine that it becomes invisible. It is high time that some excellent people got out of the book of resolutions into the book of acts. "Evil is not a nocessity." But no ma terial evil is greater than hopeless pov erty. The pagen political economy, shose utmost wisdom has never reached higher than the "law of supply and demand," is fast becoming discredited in factory and shop, pulpit and pew, and the law of Co-operative Commonwealth looms up in place of it.
