FRANCE FORCED Capitalism Preaches the Doctrine of Submission to SOVIET POWER Chicago's Negro Workers

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, the whole Negro press warns the Negro workers against the Communists. This press of the Negro workers, like the capitalist press of the white workers, fears lest labor will become class conscious and build its own power.

The Negro press is especially hysterical during these presidential campaign days, when Coolidge money is plentiful, and the coffers in the business office can be replenished for the lean months ahead.

In other ways, however, the Negro is being taught humility; urged to accept things as they are; asked to believe that he has already achieved his goal under capitalism.

It was doctrine of extreme humility that dripped its propaganda all thru the pageant, "Milestones," given by the so-called South Side Community Service, at the Auditorium Theater. This was probably one of the most ambitious efforts of the Negro race, in Chicago, but it was 100 per cent propaganda for the republican party.

The pageant was given in nine episodes. But never during a single moment was the Negro held up as a fighter for his own rights. In Egypt he was the slave of successive dynasties, pictured only as pleading to the kings of the Nile, "Let My People Go." He was shown as idol worshipper, abject in his idolatry. In the "African Village" scene, the slave traders come and kidnap the Negro natives wholesale, more submissive than the helpless animals of the forest. The whole village surrenders to the white slave hunters without a blow. They are equally helpless on the auction block in the American slave market. On the cotton plantations they are made to appear as praying, psalm singing victims of the slave drivers, sending up their wails to the Christian God, instead of bowing before the idol left behind in Africa; both with equal results.

The pageant attempts to deify Abraham Lincoln as the liberator of the black race, raising him to the pedestal of a God. There is not even the taint of an effort to show that chattel slavery was swept away as a result of the clash of economic interests between the growing capitalist class of the North and the feudal landed class of the South.

The complete prostitution of this Negro pageant to the purposes of the white dominant capitalism is best shown when a whole episode is given over to a tribute to Colonel Charles Young, said to be the only Negro to climb to this rank in Wall Street's military machine. The climax comes with the showing of the graves of Negro soldiers on Flanders Field, the black victims of Morgan's war, decorated by Negro mothers, with Negro children waving American flags and singing "America," half the audience sitting, half standing.

Toward the end of the pageant a belated effort is made to show that the Negro race, in America, has produced some outstanding figures. Among these, however, we find much attention given to a Negro comedian and a Negro business woman. No effort is made to visualize the growing importance of the Negro in industry, nor to give even an inkling of the great problems confronting both the Negro and white workers alike.

Perhaps an insight into the moving forces responsible for this pageant, with its propaganda of Negro submission, may be found in the fact that Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of one of the most prominent stockholders in the Chicago Tribune and candidate for United States senator in the recent primaries, gave a luncheon recently at the Chicago Women's Club as part of the campaign to put this dope over.

The names of all those present at the lucheon were prominently published in the program. They read like a directory of the wives of "our best bankers and business men."

It is the duty of every thinking Negro to make war upon this kind of poison. The Negro worker, no more than the white worker, can make progress for his class, by bending in submission to the forces that now rule over him. The Negro worker is the victim alike of the alliance between the Negro and white politicians, between Negro and white busi-

Only thru recognizing and fighting for his class interests will the Negro worker move forward. In this campaign, the Negro worker will deliver a blow at his own class interests by allowing himself to be misled by the McCormicks, the Chicago Tribune, and other instruments of republican capitalist misrule.

In this year's presidential campaign the Communists call alike upon white and Negro workers to stand erect and fight their common enemy-the dominant ruling class. Increasing support by Negro workers of the Communist campaign means new blows struck at wage slavery, the successor of chattel slavery, in exploiting the black race.

Every attack of the Negro press, as well as the white press, on the Communist movement, is added proof, if any is needed, that the Communists are the only true spokesmen of the whole working class. All races, all nationalities, all workers most move forward together for the common victory of all labor against capitalism.

At the same time, Sheriff George Snider and Chief of Police Hermann Rikhoff announce that they have their forces ready to double the guard if the need arises.

The controversy is assuming the nature of a labor war. On the one side are the union iron workers, backed by the organized labor bodies of Indianapolis. On the other are the open shop builders and the "law enforcement" officials.

The feeling of the labor bodies on the subject of the McNamara arrest runs high, partly because it is generally understood that McNamara is being persecuted, and partly because the bail demanded to release McNamara from jail has been placed at $20,000—a sum which the workers have found themselves unable to

A. W. Lyday, secretary of the central labor union and representative of the local miners' organization, says that he believes the persecution of McNamara threatens the destruction of all union principles.

Even Prosecuting Attorney William H. Remy has explained the indictments on which the arrest was made as a piece of legal strategy devised by Attorney-General Lesh. He admitted that it would be hard to prove that McNamara was the man who did the damage to the Elks building.

LaFollette Tries to Get Crowd with the "Labor Party" Label

(Special to the Daily Worker)

BENTLEYVILLE, Pa., Oct. 19.-At east two hundred miners crowded into the Miners' Hall here to listen to a Communist address delivered by Jay Lovestone.

In a nearby hall there was being held another meeting addressed by a LaFollette agent. Despite the fact that this meeting was held under the spurious name of the labor party, there were only a handful present. The LaFöllette forces boasted of an attendance of at most sixty. Some of the miners left the LaFollette meeting before it was over and came to the Communist gathering in the Miners' Hall. One of these workers showed his disgust with the so-called progressive labor party outfit by donating five dollars to the Communist campaign fund.

"There are today more than four hundred thousand workers walking the streets, out of work in the proudst, richest city of the United States— New York. The miners are now working at most only three days a week. Twenty out of every hundred steel workers employed a year ago are now jobless. One out of every four farmers in the fifteen wheat and corn states are virtually bankrupt.

This was the picture of the present economic situation given by Lovestone. In analyzing the role of the government and the various political parties. Lovestone said: "We have today a whole zoo, a full mangerie of bosses' parties. We have the elephant republicans, the donkey democrats and the bobcat progressives. But we have ony one working class party in the field—the party of the Communists, the Workers Party of America, which is as frank in its hatred of the capitalist class and its rule as the bosses are in their opposition to the estabishment of a workers' and farmers' republic in the

It is quite apparent to everybody that this is a contest between the laborites and the con- lunits. servatives. The result of the election will eliminate the libersignificance in the country.

Ben 217 again, and is attempting to smooth the way for the entry of George into the ranks of the conservatives.

At the recent congress of the labor party the proposition that the Communists would not be allowed to affil iate, that local labor parties were to refuse membership to Communists and were also forbidden to nominate Com munists as candidates was accepted This decision came from the MacDon ald clique, and was a step taken to prove to the middle class that the la bor ministers are opposed to Commun-

Nominate Many Communists.

In spite of this decision against the Communists, in many localities the lo cal labor parties are nominating Communists as their candidates in the present election. The disgraceful exhibitions of jingoism given by the MacDonald gang has disgusted many of the rank and file of the party. The sectacle of Thomas, colonial secretary warning the "foreigner" against encroaching upon the rights of the Brittsh Empire has been received by the local labor parties as an intimation that the leaders of the party are going even further to the defense of British imperialism that they did in the past.

Many of the conservative candidates are using the snobbish exhibition made by the labor ministers in their court dresses, fancy garden parties, and the other trimmings that they treated themselves to as soon as they entered office, as campaign fodder. The dis graceful imperialistic policy pursued by MacDonald while in office has giv en ammunition into the hands of the capitalist parties to be used against him. And these parties are hypocriti cal enough to use it even the there was no difference between the policies pursued by MacDonald and those of the capitalist parties, But the fact that the capitalist parties are able to use the fads and frills indulged in by the petty middle class persons who composed the MacDonald cabinet is cause for shame to the working class of the country.

Hot Contest Predicted.

The united front of the liberals and conservatives against the labor party will result in a hot contest, But it is unlikely that the differences between them can be patched up in such a JEWISH COMMUNIST DAILY CALLS short time, and particularly when there has been no change in the situation to warrant them combining for the formation of a government. Besides this the combination can only be at the expense of the liberals who are much weaker than the conservatives.

The fact that the labor party is able to secure hundreds more workers for an election than the other parties, and that these workers in the constitu encies are possessed of a crusading spirit, gives the labor party a great advantage in the election. It is most likely that the labor party will be returned with a slightly increased ma jority and will form the next govern

CANADIAN FILM SHOW BIG SUCCESS

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—The first venture into working class motion pictures to be made in Canada took the form of a showing of "Polikushka" in the city. It was a great success in every way, 1,250 people attending, despite the fact that all arrangements had to be made within one week.

All Canadian showings are arranged by the "Canadian Proletarian Films, Limited," at 28 Wellington Street, East, Toronto.

The film, "Polikushka," is a masterpiece in every respect, and was listed by the National Board of Review as one of the best pictures in the world. It is made by the famous Moscow Art Theatre from a story of the same name by Count Leo Toistoy. While it does not deal with modern labor types or conditions, the oppression that hounds a poor serf to his death is symbolical of the sufferings of enslaved Labor thru all the ages. The newer Russian pictures have a more virile, red-blooded message of revolt.

The Canadian organization will endeavor to route all films made famous in this country by the International Workers' Aid, 19 South Lincoln Street,

Hearst and Japan

When William Randolph Hearst wanted war with Spain he sent one of his best reporters to Cuba, with instructions to send every bit of news that would serve to arouse the fighting spirit of the American cannon fodder against the Spanish "enemy." The correspondent was ordered to serve atrocities up so they could be devoured with relish in the United States.

"Enemies" in those days had not yet learned the art of cutting the arms off babies, raiding convents and such other refinements of the art of civilized warfare, later on conceived in the foul brains of the journalistic perverts of capitalism during the late world war.

Hearst evidently did not make a phrenological examination of his correspondent. He was a keen disappointment. He turned out to be painfully honest. Shortly after his arrival in Cuba, he wrote back saying that he found no atrocities. He did not even see a big husky Spaniard steal candy from a kid. There was no sign of preparations for war with the United States. His assignment was a waste of money, he wrote, and suggested that he be allowed to return to the United States.
