THE tack of bringing about unity in the trade union movement, nation ally and internationally, in order to more effectively wage the struggle against capitalism is one of the most ortant immediate problems of the kers of the world. And in view of e charges of disruption hurled at nists by the social democrats it is interesting to watch the coments in the negotiations now taking place between the red interna tional of Moscow and the yellow in-

WHO are the disruptionists? Who are sincerely in favor of unity? No honest worker will have any difficulty in reaching a conclusion on this question if he will read the correspondence between the two organizations, published in the European press and in the DAILY WORKER. It is quite evident that the leaders of the Amsterdam International are placing every obstacle in the way of unity, going even so far as to refuse eeting with representatives of the Russian unions, the latter only demanding an unconditional conference.

So outrageous has been the conduct of the officials of the Amsterdam International that a great wave of protest has arisen over Europe against it. This is most apparent in England the backbone of Amsterdam. Lest some of our readers might think that the opposition to the Amsterdam obstructionists which is growing in England comes mainly from the Communist elements, I will quote the following editorial comment from Lansburry's Labor Weekly on May 30:

THE Russian Trade Unions have replied to Amsterdam by asking again for an unconditional conference. The Amsterdammers, however, are still trying to make them promise to join up with the International Federation of Trade Unions as a condition of being allowed to confer with it. This, of course, is sheer obstructionism. The L. F. T. U. leaders abroad don't want unity, and this is their way of trying to stop it. The next move is with the British representatives; for the I.P. T. U. will think twice before raupport. They must press olutely unconditional conthat obviously ought to be

The Russian reply makes it plain that they want to come in, and that they won't stickle about the exact wording of the I. F. T. U. statutes. But they want to be assured that they are really being invited in as friends, (Continued on page 6.)

The strikers also demand a 25 per cent increase of wages, 44-hour week and time and a half for overtime work.

Amalgamated organizers have been in the city for months conducting an organization drive. The campaign of necessity was secret, as the shops invaded were most hostile to labor organization and known possession of a union card meant immediate forfeiture of one's job. The campaign of unionization has been highly successful, according to General Organizer Frank Rosenblum, commander-in-chief of labor's offensive. Outstanding among these, is the appeal pending before the court in the case of "Ruthenberg vs. 'he state of Michigan," the outcome of which involves William Z. Poster, William F. Dunne and 28 other Communists being tried under the Michigan criminal syndicalist law.

The adverse decision of the Gitlow

Anita C. Whitney of California has also appealed the constitutionality of the syndicalist law of that state under which eighty members of the Industrial Workers of the World are serving time in San Quentin and Folsom prisons.

Case Pending Since April 1923 The Gitlow appeal has been pending since April 1923, when Gitiow was released on $7,500 bail set by Chief Justice Taft. Gitlow was the first of five Communists to be sentenced to from five to ten years for publishing and distributing what was known as the "Left Wing Manifesto," a statement issued in June 1919 by the executive council of the "left wing" sec tion of the socialist party.

The other defendants, C. E. Ruthenberg, I. E. Ferguson, Jim Larkin and Harry Winitsky were pardoned by Governor Al Smith while Gittow's appeal was being taken.

Gitlow, who was the managing editor of the Revolutionary Age, the or-gan of the "left bing" in which the Manifesto was published, was given a sensational trial before Judge Weeks that prosecutor Rorke said of Gitlow, thirty. 'He would make America a Red ruby in the Red treasure chest of the Red engineer by the railroad officials. They terror.'

CHINESE SEAMEN STRIKE AND ALL FOREIGN CONSULS ADOPT SOFTER TONE TOWARD SHANGHAI MILITANTS

(Special to The Daily Worker)

SHANGHAI, China, June 9.—The Chinese Seamen's Union struck this morning, tying up ten British river and coast steamrs. The union threatens, if the demands of the Chinese students ind strikers are ignored, to tie up all shipping, including trans-Pacific and European liners.

Strikers are directing their chief efforts against the Japanese and British, attempting to effect a nation-wide boycott on goods of those two nations.

A communication delivered to the foreign press representatives by the Shanghai-American Retired Students' club yesterday said:

"The Shanghai crisis was precipitated by the foreign police killing unarmed student demonstrators against inhuman labor conditions. Post mortem examinations of the victims show that they were shot from behind, and after only ten seconds warning. solution of the situation is possible only upon justice being done."

Evidences of a new and undoubtedly frightened conciliatory tone in the attitude of the foreign consular and other imperialist representatives here are seen in many quarters. The reluctance of Japan to take up an aggressive and belligerent position in spite of all the attacks upon her interests, and the note of the consular body on Sunday indicates that the home governments of the great powers are not altogether anxious to venture into large scale intervention, each of them realizing that such an action might mean war with the others over the loot.

COMMUNISTS IN COURT ON FREE SPEECH CHARGE

Five Face Jury Today in Fight for Party

The fight of the Workers (Communist) Party defending the right to hold open air meetings at W. North Ave. and Orchard St., goes before a jury in municipal court, Room 1106, City Hall, this morning, at 9:30 o'clock.

Five members of the party have been arrested at this corner within the past few weeks including J. Louis Engdahl and Karl Reeve, of the editorial staff of the DAILY WORKER Thurber Lewis, of the Labor Defense Council, John Hecker, of the Young Workers League, and D. E. Early.

Engdahl was arrested last Saturday night and booked on the charge of "speaking on the street without a permit." This, the police declared, is in violation of an ancient city ordinance that was long ago declared unconstitutional.

Last month Karl Reeve, Thurber Lewis, and John Hecker were arrested on the same corner, and booked under the same charge. D. E. Early had previously been arrested. The charge against him was at first the same as against the other Communists, but later a "disorderly conduct" charge was added. All these arrested are out on bail.

Down With American Imperialism! Manifesto of the All American Anti-Imperialist League

A MERICAN imperialism has shown its hand in China. It is a bloody hand, dripping with the blood of defenseless Chinese workers and students. All China is aroused at the latest imperialist outrage at Shanghai.

Unarmed students who dared to show their sympathy for the underpaid striking employes of big forign-owned textile mills have been shot down in cold blood by American, British and Italian troops in the streets of Shanghai.

From strike-breaking and murder the foreign troops have proceeded to complete military occupation, not only in the so-called "foreign quar ters" but over the whole city. All police powers have been usurped by them. Chinese newspapers and leaflets have been confiscated. Students and teachers have been forcibly ejected from the university of Shanghai, which now serves as a barracks for American marines.

Over 200 Chinese have alroady been killed. This is the practical outcome of the innocentsounding "rights of extra-territoriality," which the impe-rialist powers long ago forced China to accede to and which permit them to maintain their own military and police force, their own courts and their own legal systems in the foreign quarters of Chinese cities. "Extra-territoriality" is now revealed as the opening wedge to assumption of supreme authority, leading to the further partition of China among the imperialist powers under the slogan of "white supremacy." The road to super-profits in the Far East lies over the dead body of the long suffering Chinese republic.

Soviet Russia, alone of the great powers, is a staunch friend of China. American forces took the lead in the brutal rape of Shanghai. The excuse offered is that T. G. McMartin, an American dentist, was wounded by Chinese "rioters." But McMartin had forfeited all claim to consideration. He was wounded after he had taken up arms against Chinese people as a private in the volunteer army recruited from the rag tag and bob tail of imperialistic hangers-on among the foreign celony of Shanghai.

China have now cabled to Washington for "more naval assistance."

British and Japanese diplomats have done the same. War looms in the offing-not only a combined impeffalist assault upon China, but ultimately a fierce struggle among the imperialist robbers themselves, over

American diplomatic officials in is it a coincidence that the militaristic might of American Imperialism is just now being flaunted before the world? Is it by chance that the biggest American fleet in history has been demonstrating in Far Eastern waters and is now on a "friendly" visit to Australia? Is it accidental that President Coolidge has proclaimed July 4 as Mobilization Day thruout the United States? Wall Street is preparing its gigantic new profit-war and Washington is nothing but an administrative outpost of Wall Street. The assault upon China is well-timed. It aims to take advantage of the temporary disorganization following upon the death of the great leader. Sun Yat Sen, to shatter the Kuo Min Tang Party and destroy the Chinese nationalist movement. But the Chinese are offering a heroic resistance. Over 250,000 workers are on strike in the Shanghai area, tying up every factory, mill, telephone, street car and restaurant in the locality. All shops have been forced to close. The walls are covered with posters denouncing the imperialist legions. The students of Peking, Hankow, Tientsin, Mukden and many other cities have declared their support of the Shanghai students. Even the weak Peking government has been obliged to send a note of protest to the imperialist powers. Everywhere the Chinese are demanding:

Abolition of imperialistic privileges in China. Cancellation of "rights of extraterritoriality." Removal of the maritime customs, chief source of national revenue, from, the administration of foreigners. Prosecution of foreign policemen involved in the shooting of students. The All-American Anti-Imperialist League, representing the peoples under the heel of American imperialism in Latin America, Hawaii, and the Philippines, as well as revolutionary workers in the United States, makes common cause with its exploited Chinese brothers. It protests before the whole world against the latest imperialist outrage at Shanghai, and particularly against the actions of the hypocritical United States government, the pretended "friend of China," the socalled enemy of imperialism which has shown itself over and over again to be the leading prototype of capitalist imperialism in the world wage-earners of the United States. who feel the lash of Wall Street no less than the other oppressed peoples, to repudiate the imperialist ventures of their government and to demand the immediate withdrawal of all American naval and military forces from China.

To the mighty Kue Min Tang Party of China, the courageous embodiment of the struggle for Chinese liberation, we extend a fraternal greeting. We piedge ourselves to take up your fight, which is also our fight, to the end that the Chinese people may be able to throw off this curse of imperialism which is clutching at their throats.

It is recalled that Judge Weeks in his thanks to the jury for finding Gitlow guilty, said of him, "A young man, 29 years of age, of intelligence, a striking example of the educational system of the country, able bodied, of full intellect, confesses he owns property—employed at $41 a week the last time he was employed and never umulated any property!" seems to have constituted the large part of Gitlow's crime in the eyes of the judge whose whole speech of thanks to the jury was on the theme, protection of private property.

Gitlow Case Considered Test

The manifesto for which Gitlow and the others were convicted was in part historic resume of the proposition that some societies are overthrown by force. It was this section of the manifesto for which the five defend ants were convicted, altho no over act or any intention of an overt act was proved by the prosecution or even introduced. Now that the word of the supreme court on its attitude toward criminal syndicalist laws has been spoken in the Gitlow decision that has been looked upon as a test case, the Labor Defense Council is planning a great campaign for the fighting of the dozens of court battles that will be the result.

At the same time, the cement and tile manufacturers and the brickmakers are battling in the city council for the use of their material in construction of building walls. The brickmakers have so far prevented an amendment to the building code which would allow the use of hollow tile.

Not long ago the building and soning committee of the city council favored the use of hollow tile, and such an ordinance was passed. But Mayor Dever, who is in league with the brickmakers, refused to sign it. Now William Schlake, president of the Illinois Brick company, which has a monopoly on brickmaking, has the backing of the council committee to such an extent that his secretary writes up the minutes of the city council committee's meetings.

The same sort of a fight is going on as to whether asphalt or cement shall be used to pave the city streets. John J. ## GENERAL STRIKE Push Forward in Soviet Stopes Defeate AGAINST LANDIS Republics But Pull Is WILL MOVE TO AWARD LOOMING Backward in Tennessee QUASH THE CASE

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, the simple-minded among those who lay claim to some brand of fake liberalism try to draw a parallel between "the Tennesse case" and developing events in the educational system of the Union of Soviet Republics. But they only succeed in stepping on their own toes and revealing their own ignorance.

It is declared that the Soviet Union is replacing aged teachers with younger teachers. This is compared to the plan to remove the younger teachers, in Tennessee, and elsewhere, who run foul of anti-evolution legislation.

Yet the difference is clear. The Soviet Union takes its stand on the side of progress, with the most up-to-date methods of teaching, with the modern sciences, when it puts the young Russians, inspired by the new social order coming to life thruout the Workers' Republics, in its school rooms. New ideas, political, idustrial, social, forge to the front. They are passed on to the growing generation that eagerly accepts them.

The passing of the aged instructors, schooled in the reaction of the deposed czarism, is the passing of the black ignorance imposed upon the masses by the old order that disappeared on Nov. 7, 1917. Only those who still hope for the restoration of the czardom will weep at their going. Among these, of course, are to be found the propagandists of the American capitalist press.

But in Tennesse, U. S. A. There the simple principles of evolution are under the ban. The youthful professor, "Johnny" Scopes, was indicted under a law passed by state legislators who declared that the theory of evolution "interferes with the bible."

The Russian czardom overworked religion in its efforts to keep the masses humble and contented with their lot. That is the effect of the Tennessee legislation, that wouldn't change a word in the biblical story of creation. The henchmen of capitalism in the Tennessee legislature are in the same boat that harbored the political agents of czarism, who believed that the czars ruled thru divine inspiration, an idea that the late German kaiser also entertained before he lost his job. This belief has also been cherished by great American industrialists, and may still be, altho they manage to keep rather quiet about it.

The Scopes trial is one of those harmless things, however, that every liberal likes to play with. Scopes is still very respectable, since he believes in his christianity.

But Scopes must not be placed in the same category these liberals will argue, with the young Communist teachers of the Soviet Union, who are not content to patch and mend the capitalist system, but insist on destroying capitalism completely, even to its smallest roots, to make way for Communism. To them it is a horror to rid the Russian educational system of aged czarist teachers who live in the centuries past, just as they are stricken with terror at the thought that counter-revolutionaries must go to prison in order that the Workers' Republics might enjoy greater freedom and security of development.

The liberated men, women and children of the Soviet Union alone may laugh at the antics developed by "the Tennessee trial," for they alone are on the road to complete intellectual, as well as political and industrial liberation. Communism sweeps away all the capitalist rubbish that gets in its path. Liberalism is content with a little court battle in Tennessee; so content that it even fights to have all the rest of the capitalist rubbish remain. This should help shed a little more light on the meaning of "the Tennessee trial" for the exploited workers and poor farmers of the United States.

By C. E. RUTHENBERG.

tion of the Communist con ention that American democracy is s sham and a fraud. This confirmation is contained in the decision upholding the conviction of Benjamin Gitlow under the New York criminal anarchy law. The decision was rendered after two and a half years consideration of the case during which the court twice heard arguments.

History of the Gitlew Case

N order to understand the far-reach ing significance of the decision in the Gitlow case a knowledge of the origin of the case is necessary. The conviction of Citiow on the charge of criminal anarchy grew out of the first attempts to form a Communist Party in the United States. In upholding the conviction of Gitlow the supreme court has declared illegal the advocacy of the principles of Communism and at the same time has held constitutional the criminal syndicalism laws on the statute books of twenty-six states, which were passed during the period of the birth of the Communist Party in the year 1919.

Immediately after the signing of the armistice there came into life in the socialist party a left wing which supported the principles of the revolutionary class struggle that had trium nhed in the Russian projetarian revo lution. This left wing won the sup port of overwhelming majority of the nembers of the socialist party. The nswer of the right wing reformist leaders of the socialist party to the attempt of this left wing to take con trol of the party and affiliate with the Communist International was the wholesale expulsion of the left wing nembers. At the end of June 1919 the left wing met in New York City to plan its next steps and to formulate a statement of its principles.

The left wing conference elected national council of which Benjamin Gitlow, James Larkin, I. E. Ferguson C. E. Ruthenberg, Bertram D. Wolf. John J. Ballam, Louis C. Fraina, Max Cohen, Eadmon McAlpin were mem bers. It authorized this council to publish a manifesto and program of the left wing which would state the principles of Communism as against reformist socialism and on the basis of which the fight in the socialist party would be continued until the national convention of the party.

It was for the publication of this manifesto and program of the left wing in the Revolutionary Age, the official organ of the left wing, that Benjamin Gitlow was convicted of criminal anarchy. All the members of the national council were indicted but only Gitlow, Larking, Ferguson and Ruthenberg were arrested, tried and five to ten years in Sing Sing.

In 1922, after Gitlow had served two years and three months. Larkin two years and Furgeson and Ruthenberg a year and half, they were released on bail by the court of appeals of the state of New York, pending a decision in their cases. In August of that year the court of appeals affirmed the conviction of Gitlow and Larkin and reversed the conviction of Ferguson and Ruthenberg and ordered a new trial in their cases. The Law and the Issue

THE New York criminal anarchy law was passed in 1901, as a result of the assassination of President McKinley. It forbids the advocacy of the doctrine of "the overthrow of organized government by force, violence or other unlawful means" or by the assassination of public officials. Up to nearly twenty years after the passage of the law, that is until 1920, there had been no indictments or convictions under it. In 1920 it became the weapon thru which the capitalists teachers with funds donated by John | tried to stop the forward march of the Communist movement.

During the year 1919-1920 some twenty-five other states passed laws modeled after the New York criminal anarchy law, calling them in most cases "criminal syndicalist" laws.

When the Communists were called to answer the charge that their principles violated the provisions of the criminal anarchy law they stoutly denied the charge. They declared from the witness stand, and, as in the case of Gitlow in a speech to the jury, that They Might As Well the Communist program was not the "overthrow of organized government," that is, the abolition of all govern ment, against which the law was di rected, but that their program was the overthrow of the capitalist government and the establishment of a proletarian dictatorship in the form of a Soviet government. The New is admitted in administration quarters York courts, ruled, however, that big to have shriveled. Finance Minister West Madison. This view is now confirmed by the supreme court. There is, however, another issue involved in the upholding of the New York law and with it the privated syndicalist laws of other states.

In the first amendment to the con titution of the United States there is he provision "Congress shall make to law abridging the right of freedom of speech, press and assembly..."

That is pretty plain language. "Conress shall make no law..." This is one of the provisions of the constitution upon which is based the claim that the United States government is a democracy and that the constitution protects the rights of the people.

"Congress shall make no law. .. ' But congress did make laws abridg ing the right of freedom of speech, press and assembly. It passed the Espionage Law immediately after the entry of this country into the world var, which in a score or two of forms abridged the right of freedom of speech, press and assemblage.

The Supreme Court and Free Speed

WHEN the question of harmonis ing the provision of the constitution which said "congress shall make no law" with the fact that congress made a law, came before the supreme court for adjustment in appeals from convction under the espionage law the court found an interesting way out of the dilemma. It declared in a num ber of decision upholding the constitutionality of the espionage law: Of course, congress has no right to make laws which prevent people from say ing what they please or writing what they please, but congress can punish such persons for what they say or write if there is a clear and imminent danger of injury resulting from the speech or writing.

The "clear and imminent danger rule was applied by the supreme court in all of the war cases. To illustrate the meaning of that rule: A preacher was accused of making a speech against the draft law in Montana. It was proven in his case that all of his audience was above the draft age Well, said the court, no injury could come from such a speech since no one who heard him could have been influenced not to register, and it re versed the conviction of the preacher

The rulings of the supreme court in the war cases, while nicely evading the clear and explicit language of the constitution, left, theoretically, some vestiges of the right of freedom of speech, press and assemblage.

In the Gitlow case the supreme court has finished the job. It has stamped out what vestiges of the rights granted by the constitution which were left by its war-law deci-

The New York criminal anarchy law, as well as all criminal syndicalist laws, do not punish for the results which may come from a speech or writing. They punish the mere ad vocacy of certain ideas or principles. The court of appeals of the state of New York, from which Gitlow appealed, expressly stated in its opinion affirming Gitlow's conviction that the question whether any one read the Revolutionary Age and a "clear and imminent danger" of injury resulted was not important in the case. It de clared that the law punished the advocacy of certain principles no matter when or how they were uttered or

The supreme court has upheld this view in confirming the conviction of

From the constitutional provision that "congress shall make no law ... we have come to the ruling of the supreme court that congress or the state legislatures may make any law they see fit to punish the advocacy of ideas which they considers detrimental.

The supreme court has written "finis" under the theory that the constitution assured the people of this country the right of freedom of speech, press and assemblage. It has declared that we have freedom to write, speak and hold meeting about only those things which our masters think are good.

To the Communists the supreme court has given one more proof that the boasted American democracy is a sham and a fraud, one more proof that it is not constitutions but the interests of the capitalists which dominate all the institutions of the government-one more proof that the only way to democracy for the workers is thru the establishment of the hig it form of democracy, the Soviets and he proletarian dictatorship

FARMS DEVELOP BETTER CROPS

Good Grade Seeds and Pure Bred Cattle

By ALFRED KNUTSON

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R .-- (By Mail)-The Soviet farms have as their pur pose to develop pure bred cattle and good grades of seeds and place these things at the disposal of the farmers These farms are agricultural experi ments stations where the farmers a particular district can go and get good cattle, good seeds and receive valuable information as to how to get the best results out of their work on the farm.

They committute a land-mark in the development of Russian agriculture and are of tremendous significance for the farmers generally

Modern Production Methods

It is true that these stations canno as yet function really well because of the lack of modern farm machinery but it is only a question of time when this need can be supplied. The So viet authorities are all the time any ions to make use of the most up-to date farm production methods available, no matter from what source they may come.

The size of the Soviet farms is about one section or 640 acres, some containing a larger area and others a little less. The one I visited at Ramensko near Moscow has an area of about 250 dessjatina, approximately one section of land, and of this 162 acres are under cultivation, 125 acres in timber land and the rest meadows, pastures and garden and.

A Soviet Farm

The farm has 13 horses, 40 milch cows, 30 heifers and usually employs 22 workers. With the introduction of modern t... rm machinery the number of workers can undoubtedly be materially reduced

This farm is now self supporting The wages of the workmen is 28 roubles per month and they receive in addition living quarters, light and heat without paying anything extra. The board costs the workers' about roubles per month. The workday is s hours except in the busiest time of the summer when it is 10 hours or more and then the wages are 50 per cent greater.

Success Assured

The wages are in accordance with the income of the farm, and it is very significant to note that as production increases the wages also increase The conditions of the workers on this Soviet farm are steadily becoming better from year to year. It is a hard pull, to be sure, but success is assured.

Horse Breeding Farm

Near Tula, about 130 miles south of Moscow, is a horse breeding farm the purpose of which is to furnish the farmers with good breeds of horses At the present time the Soviet government is subsidising this farm in the amount of 25,000 roubles per year.

Among the 180 horses now found on the farm, some are considered very valuable. I was shown one stallion really a very pretty animal that the manager said was easily worth 100.000

Likes Soviet Management

The manager of this horse farm is the former owner-a bourgeoisie of the old days, and he tola me that he was more satisfied with the work on the farm under the new government than during the reign of the Czar.

He was frank enough to admit that the Soviet government was proceeding along far more practical and use ful lines than the rulers of the old

The walls of the residence are decked with all kinds of large paint ings of different breeds of horses and the manager took particular delight in explaining the merits and demerits of the various types. His very life was wrapped up in horses.

When sold the horses usually bring a good price, stallions selling for 1,000 roubles and mares for 600 rou Mes (one rouble is about 50 cents) The average horse that is used by the Russian farmers generally in culdivating the land is valued at from $0 to 250 roubles.

Government Helps

Under the new economic policy every enterprise is expected to be selfsupporting but this farm is not yet able to pay its way. The government helps wherever help is needed and as production in both industry and agriculture increases it becomes more and more liberal with such assist-

The demand of the mill strikers as proceived by a local newspaper are as follows:

1. Discontinuance of ill treatment to workers by Japanese foremen. (The Japanese owners answer that they treat their workers better than in any other mills in the city or in China but do not deny that they do beat their workers, which leads one to believe that a general cleaning up of mills all ovre the country is necessary.)

2. An increase of 10 per cent in wages. (The owners say that it is matter of efficiency and that their rate of payment is higher than most actories. When one takes into consideration that the highest salary paid by th Japanese to unskilled labor is 40 pitry cents a day-about 18 cents U. S .- then it is no purpose that there is fear of sympathy strike on the part of other mills.)

3. Payment of wages every two

4. Reinstatement of 40 employees dismissed from Nagai mul. (The barons answer that this is a matter of discipline, that the employer has a right to discharge any one from his employ if he sees fit.)

5. Full pay during the strike. (The grafters state that they are already paying 30 per cent of the wages every day but they forget to mention the fact that they pay it only to those who come to the factory daily to work during the period of the strike but whose numbers are too small to make production possible.) 6. Abolition of deposit system.

(The details of this system are not given for publication for some reason or other by the Japanese owners, but they say that the deposit system is for the interest of the workers that it resembles a bonus system and that it would be against the interests of the workers to establish it. It seems as if they are taking especial care to "safeguard" the interests of the work-They should see the absurdity

7. o employee to be discharged without proper reason. (The answer to this demand concides with that to the 4th demand.)

8. Strikers arrested and now in the hands of the police to be immediately released. (Their answer is that they cannot interfere with the procedur of the mixed court, or of justice. Again utterly ridiculous. Would the arrested ones be detained if no charge was brought against them by the owners and if the owners speak in their behalf?)

Adopted by the Central Exceutive nittee of the Werkers Party. GENERAL: 1. The party shall be gin immediately an agitation in all industrial centers for the idea of a national labor party and for the formation of local and state labor parties. This agitation shall be car ried on in every labor organisation with particular concentration upon lo cal unions. The issue of the labor party shall be raised at all trade union conventions local, state and national and also at the forthcoming conven tion of the A. F. of L.

2. Wherever the issue of the Party is raised, this shall be Wherever the issue of the Labor basis of the present day issues of the workers, such as a struggle against wage cuts and unemployment, for the right to organize in unions, against imperialism, for the nationalisation of the mines and railways, etc. Our campaign for a labor party shall be carried on along the following general lines:

a. Formation of concrete economic demands based upon immediate burning needs of the masses.

b. Popularize these demands among the masses and the labor organisations

c. Call upon the rank and file in the shops, unions, and among the unemployed to address resolutions. petitions, and to hold mass meetings, demanding that the "labor" ring of the LaFollette progressive combination, the LaFollette group in congress, and the non-partisan political bodies of the trade unions propose and fight for legislation along the lines of the demands of the masses. At the same time we shall create united front organisations from below to carry on the struggle of the rank and file for these demands.

d. By these campaigns unmask the bourgeois nature of the LaFollette movement and of its labor lieutenants, expose the futility of the non-partisan political methods of the trade union bureaucracy and demonstrate the necessity of forming a labor party, a political party of the trade unions and other labor organizations, independent of and opposed to all political parties of big and small capital.

3. The practical objective of this agitation in the local unions of each locality is to prepare the ground for the labor party issue in the central labor councils. The issue should be raised in the form of a resolution committing the local unions and the central labor bodies to the organisa tion of a local labor party. As a matter of general policy every effort shall be made to win the central labor councils over definitely to the labor party idea, and to the formation of local labor parties. The central labor councils shall be made the central strategic point in our struggle for the formation of local labor parties. We shall favor the actual organization of local labor parties when the volume of support for the project in the local unions and in the central labor bodies is sufficient to assure the mass character and the vitality of the organization. But we shall not favor the or ganization of "fake" labor parties that is, labor parties consisting more ly of the Workers Party and its close circle of sympathising organisations

There are still in existence is many localities various nonpartisan political bollies of trade unions These poppartisan committees and the nonpartisan political policy generally will again be brot forward by the trade union bureaucracy to coun ter and check any development toward indenpendent political action by the workers. The policy of the Workers Party toward these nonpartisan trade union committees shall be as follows: a. We must fight resolutely against the nonpartisan system in general on principle and fight for class policy and for a labor party. b. We shall endeavor to secure the election of party members or supporters to these conferences and figth there for class political action and a labor party.

b. Use them as a basis for the formation of a labor party.

Where we remain in a minority Where we remain in such organisations but still in such organisations but still have support, we shall strive to form propaganda committee for the formation of a labor party from such minority delegates. These delegates shall, however, remain within the orsanisation. These propaganda commitees should be united with the trade union propaganda committees which may be set up and conduct a common campaign for the labor party.

Where a Conference for Progressive Political Action and labor party organization exist side by side, we shall follow the same policy of penetrating the C. P. P. A., building up support for the labor party and striv ing to unite the two organisations into a broader labor party.

6. Where farmer labor parties are already organised or are organized by other groups we shall, as a rule, affiliate with such farmer labor parties and work within them. The Central Executive Committee shall make the decision for or against affiliation in each such instance.

7. It is our task in the farmer labor parties to strengthen the labor wing and establish its leadership with a view of ultimately organising the labor elements into a labor party which will form a bloc with the

IV. Local Organizations

The approaching municipal elec tions in certain localities should be utilised for an intensified labor into the labor party campaign in the party agitation under the slogan "An Independent Local Labor Party for the Coming Municipal Elections," and where sufficient mass support develops to put up a united front labor ticket or form a labor party.

2. This campaign for a local labor party shall in no way weaken the preparation of the Workers Party to enter the municipal election campaign under its own name where no labor party had been formed

3. In cities which have municipal elections this fall, we shall immediately begin a campaign in the trade unions thru the introduction of a resolution which shall:

a. Call attention to the coming municipal elections.

b. Emphasize the local use of government power against the workers, citing concrete experience such as the use of police in strikes, injunctions, etc.

c. Urge the necessity of independent political action by the workers and appeal to their pride as a class.

d. Place the unions or other work ers' organisations on record as favoring the calling of a conference of representatives of the trade unions and other workers' organisations to consider the question of entering a labor ticket in the election campaign and the formation of a labor party.

b. Of forming a local labor party using the list of organisations which have endorsed the proposal as ponsors for this conference. Central Executive Committee shall decide in each instance whether such conferences shall be called.

5 While we thus use the oncoming election as a means of forming local labor parties where mass support develops, we must emphasize that the labor party is not merely an organisation for the election campaign but to carry on continuous political struggles for the workers.

V. Labor and Farmer-Labor Party Election Campaigns

Wherever labor parties or farmer labor parties are organised and we are affiliated with them we shall endeavor to place Communist candidates on their tickets.

2. In such places where nominations are made thru primary elections we shall nominate Communists for the labor or farmer labor party nominations. Our candidates must carry on a clear cut Communist campaign for the party program. If nominated as candidates for the labor party or the farmer labor party their campaign for election must be similarly a Communist campaign on the full party program. If elected to office they must conduct a Communist parliamentary struggle under the direction and dis cipline of the party.

3. As a rule, if our candidates for nomination of the primaries are defeated we will support the candidates nominated on the labor party or farmer labor party ticket, at the same time criticising these candidates and their program. The position of the party as to supporting the farmer labor party cnadidates is to be decided in each instance by the Central Executive Committee.

SHEBOYGAN, June 2.—Almost 200 people saw the picture "Russia on Germany" and "Beauty and Belshevik" in Sheboygan Opera House. The attendance was unusually large considering the fact that this is the first time in the history of this city when a moving picture portraying true con ditions in Soviet Russia was shown.

The furniture trust was very much slarmed by the interest aroused the workers by this picture and by the thunderous applause which was ma by the audience every time the hammer and sickle and the pictures of proletarian revolution were shown. The extent of the fright experienced by the bosses is evidenced by the edidorial which appears in the Sheboygan Press, the mouthpiece of Sheoygan capitalists. The editorial is entitled, "There will never be another," and it calls upon the forces of law and-order to suppress the insidious propaganda. The paper further clamore that a spark extinguish ed in time will not cause conflagretion which is but another way of saying that the spark, if not extingsished, will cause conflagration.

Plenty of Inflamable Material. The plutes have much to fear from the spark because the extent of exploitation is very large. The workers are mistreated and trade unionism is ruthlessly suppressed. In recent years a number of strikes were ruthlessly suppressed by gunmen and police. As the result of this the city has very little organisation of trade unions and all of the large factories are unorganised. Wages in the city range as low as 28 and 32 cents an hour with a majority of the workers receiving less than 50 cents an hour.

The list of industrial accidents is running very high. It is a common sight in Sheboygan to see a worker with a mutilated hand or several of his fingers cut off. This is due to the fact that wood working machinery which operates at high speed and requires very close work has practically o safety guards. Very few workers are able to obtain satisfaction for their claims.

Koheler Rules as Lord. A few miles from Sheboygan there is a large Plumbing Mfg. Co. of Kohe ler, which dominates the entire city bearing its name and Koheler rules more efectively and has a greater control over the material well being of his workers than any feudal lord ever exercised, over the seris.

Koheler provides the rules prohibiting the workers from buying any land in the city, exercising there almost a complete monopoly. In this way the workers are at his complete nercy even the they do own the nouses. Trade unionism is ruthlessly suppressed at Koheler, but it is rumored that unions in the east are exerting considerable pressure upon the concern in refusing to handle the non-union goods. Conditions of work at Koheler are unbearable. Workers are driven at a high rate of speed and it is positively known by the old timers that no worker can last in that plant for more than ten years at that time his health has been completely destroyed.

There Will Be Another.

Notwithstanding the assertion of the bosses sheet, the Sheboygan Press that "There will never be another." the workers of Sheboygan who helped to organise the showing of the first picture with such tremendous success, are determined that another picture will be shown in the city in order to acquaint the workers with

EAST LIVERPOOL DEAD CITY WITH SHOPS AND POTTERIES CLOSED; WORKERS RALLY TO RED LEADERS

By MARY WATERS.

EAST LIVERPOOL O. June 9.—The industrial situation here is about same as it has been for months; the potteries—the leading industry—thing two and three days a week on an average. Some pottery superstendents have told the men that they would have that much work until July 4, but after that, nothing could be promised them.

We are expecting a complete lay-off after July 4 for a couple of months, and that in the fall work will be offered with wages cut all along the line. At least, this method has been used

New England is going to be organ ised against a "theoretical enemy." New England was selected as the re gion for study because it is near Washington and the two weeks' work here will not cost much in these days of economical administration and the time spent here will be a welcome re lief to the tender graduates after more than eight months of indoor study.

The officers are picked amongst the ablest in the army and include 19 colonels, 17 lieutenant-colonels, and 37 majors and a small group of naval and marine officers, under the tutelage of Maj. Gen. Hanson E. Ely. No guns will be heard; there will be no troop movements. Instead, officers will be observed late this month moving rapidly by automobiles from point to point studying large maps to learn how their studies in the war college agree with their observations on the

Fight Theoretical Enemy.

Like the "Blacks" and "Blues" of the pacific fleet games, the game here too will have its theoretical enemies to point out the faults. Among the points considered are the placing of the National Guard units in the N. E. corps area, protection of lines of communication, water supply, locaiton of artillery headquarters and airdromes All this and much more has been worked out by these officers. Their next and final step will be to go to New England and by means of another war game learn whether observation on the ground reveals any faults in their paper plans.

From their maps at the college, for example, they may have decided that so many troops with artillery could be moved over a certain bridge. But when they study the bridge, they may find that it would not support heavy ence being colored people; and it will artillery. When they are thru, New have good results.

England will have been organized on paper-for war by what is considered "the best brains in arms." Sev eral naval officers will accompany them as naval operations off the coast would necessarily have to fit in any plan of action involving this par of the country.

50 New England Jingo Societies Enlisted to Stir Up Patriotism

By H. SIDNEY BLOOMFIELD

WORCESTER, Mass., June 9 .- The jingoes of New England are feverishly at work trying to surpass last years' war demonstrations when 200 cities and towns whipped about 1,138,770 civilians and about 31,230 regular troops, national guardsmen and reservists into line last Septem-

New England is designated as the first corps area by the war department, and because of its position on the map as a strategical point, the showing made by the larger cities naturally attract much attention in the war department. For the purpose of stirring up artificial patriotism, more than fifty jingo societies are being mebilized in this district to supply the much needed enthusiasm.

In the meantime one factory after another is knocked off to the highest bidder at public auction, wages are cut incessantly and the parks and streets are full of idle workers in desperate straights. In some of the small towns the entire populace is nnemployed while the bosses are out on a vacation by the seaside or in Europe.

Supreme Court Legalizes Exceptional Laws

The United States supreme court with Holmes and Brandeis enting has upheld the constitutionality of the New York crimnal anarchy law, upholding the conviction of Benjamin Gitlow and alizing imprisonment by the states of men and women for the ression of opinion.

The criminal syndicalism and criminal anarchy laws enacted ring the war by this decision become a permanent part of the "Defense of the nation from the alien enemy" was the excuse ven by the spokesmen of capitalism for those suppressive measures hysteria" was the reason given by the liberals. The first lied nd the second wanted to keep an excuse for their continued support American institutions.

We Communists have been fooled by neither of these groups We fold the workers that these laws were on the statute books to may, that they were there for one purpose alone—to furnish a thin veil of legality for the jailing of workers whom capitalism consid dangerous to its bloody rule.

Those fatuously cheerful ones of the New Republic and Nation type, the yellow socialists who have quivered with resentment when Communists denounced American democracy as a huge fraud. now attempt to explain how it is that the most vicious legislation passed during the world war, state laws providing sentences of from ones to twenty years together with enormous fines, have been the only part of the mass of war legislation to be carried over into the post-war period and finally affirmed.

Never fighting on the real issues, never trying to arouse the workclass to a sense of the danger, always stressing the legislative formulas, the social patriots and the social traitors have joined ands here as in every other country.

Every county and state attorney now has the backing of the hest authority in the United States to proceed not only against revolutionists but against any strike of workers. It is to this phase of the criminal syndicalism laws that no one but the Communists have paid any attention. This neglect on the part of labor officialm and its middle class advisers has largely prevented any activity of the unions for the repeal of these laws.

The fact that the labor unions are not now engaged in any great struggles, that in 1922 prosecution of the striking railway pmen was carried on under an injunction prosess, has given the trade unions a false sense of security. Just at present the Communists and members of the I. W. W. are the only ones against whom prosecutions are carried. But when the trade unions are forced into struggle by nation-wide wage cuts and unemployment, when they bein to really act as rallying centers for the working class, there will be a different story to tell.

With the criminal syndicalism laws declared constitutional the defense of their most militant fighters becomes one of the major tasks of the American labor and revolutionary movement.

The decision of the supreme court the way American capitalism has of saying that it is going to use its state and national government to the limit to suppress the working class, that it intends to give no quarter in the class war. The workers will have to accept this challenge and, instead of being cowed and retreating must press forward with new vigor and determination.

It seems to us that this decision of the supreme court throws into aronger relief the processes by which the machinery of the capitalist states safeguards the interests of the ruling class. In comparatively peaceful periods, when American capitalism is not called upon to meet the workers in bitter struggle upon either the political or economic field it by no means forgets the class conflict as a large section of the working class are prone to. On the contrary it quietly occupies as many strategic points as possible, repairs its damaged apparatus and establishes firmly those institutions that have been set up for trial and have proved successful in suppressing intelligent and ant workers.

Capitalism works for itself all the time-in war and in peace, in periods of depression and of prosperity.

The workers must be equally as conscious and militant in be half of their class interests. Only then will the sacrifices of the vic tims with which capitalism fills its jails begin to bear the red fruit of the social revolution.

Class Justice

The American workers who have gotten rid of the patrotic guidge son grease with which the brains of so many of our working class population are saturated, need not be told that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor. We see a Doheny and Sinclair who loot the nation's oil reserves and a secretary of the interior who accepts $100,000 in graft for helping in the game, go scott free while poor victims of capitalist society go to jail for stealing a bottle of milk. This is not the only country where such uneven justice prevails. It exists wherever capitalism exists.

The Voice of Labor, official organ of the Irish Transport and General Workers Union, in a recent issue tells of a laborer who was given four years' penal servitude for stealing about $500. The same court, four days later handed out a sentence of nine months to a solicitor who fraudelently converted about $6,500 to his own use. In addition while the poor laborer must slave in the pen during his four years sentence, the solicitor wil really enjoy a good rest. having his own furniture, books and visits from his friends. This the kind of justice the workers get under capitalism.

The Chilean Strike

Chilean strikers have confiscated nitrate plants and the dispatches state that troops are on their way to the scene.

The Chilean labor unions are 300,000 strong and American imrialism, with all its bribery and debauching of Chilean officialdom a not having easy sledding. What is needed is the linking up of these combined working class and anti-Wall Street movements into one powerful organization with branches in every Latin-American working in the closest harmony with the militant workers of the United States.

The Pan-American Anti-Imperialist League has such a program, That it has a great role to play and that the movement is already aking shape is shown by the rapid extension of Wall Street control of Latin America and such counter-movements as that in Chile. The textile capitalists view the prospects of another world war with avaricious eyes, itching palms and drooling lips. They have been given just a wee glimpse of the juicy contracts that will be theirs while the mangled bodies of the working class are buried in the trenches they dug themselves and the wounded fill the hospitals.

Lieutenant Gardner of the quartermasters department, preparing for the test mobilization on July 4, has mentioned to the textile barons just a few of the items that will be required for a good war-97.000.000 vards of 20-ounce olive drab melton cloth and many other items in similar gagantuan quantities.

Will the textile industry be opposed to war? Don't make us laugh.

Then there are smaller items such as 899,000 dozen muslin bandages, 42,950,000 yards of plain gauze, 8,130,000 yards of unbleached muslin, etc.

These items will bring great visions not only to the tired textile barons, starving to death on 20 per cent dividends while their greedy employes actually receive as high as $19 per week, but also to the embryo red cross nurses.

Try to figure out the number of flirtations with officers that could be carried on while 42,950,000 yards of muslin are being rolled into bandages and you will see why all the sex-starved females of the main street middle class will begin to powder their noses and order fetching nurse's uniforms when the tom-toms begin to thunder for the

In every branch of industry the bosses are receiving orders in advance, contracts are being signed and all technical arrangements made for capitalizing the coming slaughter. Allotments of the exnected loot are being assigned and all beneficiaries of capitalism organized on the businesslike basis of getting theirs from the treasury while the workers and farmers are getting it in the neck, the belly, the heart, head and all other vulnerable parts, on the battlefields.

The capitalist organization, outside of the test mobilization, which requires a good deal of advertising, is conducted quietly and this quiet is ominous. It means that if the working class waits until actually faced with war, if it does not prepare its resistance now to territorial arrangements contained the bloody plans of the fat murderers, it will be slaughtered both at therein. Chinese interests were enhome and in the foreign nations against whom American imperialism is making ready an offensive.

The Russian Crop and American Farmers

There is considerable food for thot as well as for the Russian workers and peasants in the news that the grain crop of Soviet Russia for 1925 is estimated at 3,200,000,000 poods—actually 600,-000,000 bushels more than the biggest bumper yield of wheat ever secured in the United States-for years the greatest wheat-growing

It means that the internal market for the products of Soviet industry will expand much more rapidly than hitherto, that the tion to take Korea by speaking with export trade of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics will take tongue in cheek of the recognition of an upward leap, and as a result of improved economic conditions the workers and peasants will begin to draw in ever larger measure dividends from the investment of struggle and sacrifice they made n 1917 and the following years of invasion and famine.

As we say in this land of slang and slavery disguised as democracy, Soviet Russia is "over the hump."

For the American farmers, living in the fatuous paradise of Coolidgeism, the huge Russian crop means that they no longer can sell their product in a market which they dominate. No fake co-operative marketing schemes will help the farmers now. They can either settle down to the dull drudgery the European peasant has known for years or combine with the workers in a struggle to throw the bankers, landlords, the harvester trust and the milling trust from

The exploited farmers must begin to pay some attention to the problem of organization for and by themselves and kick out the frockcoated "grangers" who betray them to Wall Street.

The Marine Workers' Unity Conference

The New Orleans conference made a good start. The Havana conference ought to extend the work and lay the basis for a real organization of marine transport workers of the western hemisphere.

Not the least important of its tasks will be the definite organizational linking of the western unity organization with the unity movement of the European and Asiatic nations.

The Wonders of Capitalist Coal Control

Seventeen miners are kliled by a gas explosion at Sturgis, Kentucky, in a non-union property.

The cry of the coal capitalists is that there are too many mines and miners. The industry must be stabilized, they sav and now that the department of mines has been placed under the care of Herbert Hoover, the stabilization process, hitherto conducted in a rather are games for the young and games hit and miss manner, will be standardized, i. e. the government will be still'more militant in aiding the operators' war on the union.

In the meantime the surplus mines and miners are being eliminated by two methods—closing down mines and straving the miners speeches, and as there are three good or blowing them up and killing the miners outright.

The safety and sanity of capitalist industry are thus demonstrated.

Dispatches tell of great riots in Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, where every spark of revolt was supposed to have been stamped out.

But a government that depends solely on the bayonets of mercenaries, even the backed by the imperialist nations, cannot crush all opposition so easily these days.

There are still workers and peasants in the Balkans who will Then Dan Stevens, (you know Dan) not lay down their arms until they are free.

That is why they have arranged for most interesting and delightful time next Sunday-June 14-at the Trade Union Educational League picnic, held at West River Road and 34th avenue South.

The refreshments (oh boy!) will be gin to be served at 11 in the morning and the lord only knows how late they will continue to be served. Then there for the old-that is for those who have years but are still young enough to enjoy play.

But the main dish of the day is the ones, you can take your choice after listening to all three for the one price. Otto H. Wangerin, who has recently returned from an extensive trip thru Europe, will speak on "European Trade Unionism." J. F. Emme, of the Machinists' Local 459 and candidate of the left wing in the past I. A. M election, will speak on "What Has Happened to the American Unions' will speak on "Future Trade Union Policy."

Everybody in and around Twin Cities take note of the place and date: West River Road and 34th avenue south, Sunday June 14. Come and bring all your friends. Picnic is under the auspices of the Twin City section of the T. U. E. L.
