THE British tortoise have something to say about the new law now being plotted in a war against Soviet Russia. Even if the tortoise of the British cabinet in such that it cannot be possible for long. The tortoise of the British cabinet in such that it cannot survive, except at the further expense of the workers' movement. It appears that the workers are still allowing themselves to be sacrificed "for the good of the nation."

NOBODY can deny that the development out of the present industrial crisis in England. It is different by the fact that these days are not those that preceded it. There is a purpose behind the present industrial crisis today that was previously lacking. It is the fact that the workers' movement has made the British tortoise aware of the fact that they are only being sacrificed "for the good of the nation."

THE Russian Revolution has inspired the hearts of the Soviet Government to 1913. It has resulted in the creation of the Soviet Union, and that money is going to be used to develop Soviet agriculture and industry to educate the masses to improve their living conditions and to defend their government. No doubt of it will go to the benefit of the workers' classes as in the case with the reverse of capitalist countries.

Administrative information has been set out that only fifteen strikers were turned out Thursday by the fact which within the plant and most of these were so poorly made they could not be sold. Before the strike over 300 suits a day were turned out in one shop.

Profiteers Seeking Truce in the Face of Civil War

With the general strike of 1,200,000 British coal miners temporarily suspended by an eleventh-hour surrender of the mine barons, who were forced to withdraw their posted notices of a wage cut of 20 per cent and longer hours of labor, still the situation of European capitalism confronts continual crises of class war.

The aristocratic "Court of Inquiry" set up by the British government declares that the coal miners' strike is a "national emergency." It is private capitalist ownership is to continue. "Nationalization" in the answer given by the British miners and sooner or later this will be forced by the miners' union in the face of all opposition.

Altho a continued profit taking for the owners is impossible if the miners are to evade mass starvation and intolerable oppression—this collapse of capitalist production has not led the mine owners to turn over their mines peacefully and without resistance. It has merely brought England to the brink of civil war.

Similar situations face the miners of the whole world—except Soviet Russia. German miners are under the tyranny of the French Plan, 74,000 working hours of nations in the Saar Basin are on strike. French coal miners have already taken a strike, and in American mine districts industrial suffering exists among the coal miners.

QUEER CREW OF SCABS ARRIVE IN VICTORIA

Carriot Officers Told in the Stakehold

Victoria, B. C., July 11.—The arrival of the scab crew from the Orient with the general consent of the strikers of the mill is a bitter pill, but a bitter pill it is.

Most of the scabby strikers were formerly job-hunters in the mill. They are now in Victoria where they are picking the hole of themselves in the gutters of Oriental labor performing any dirty job that the other professional scabs would touch.

In return for their scabbing work on the Empress of Russia, the misanthropic company hired a Russian scabber to write to the scabby crew. The scabby crew was advised to "keep the scabs out of the mill."

The Chinese scabber, while the white scabber was composing the address of scab money, was writing out the scab money.

Victorians are concerned on the working class in the land of the scabs and the scabbing crew.

With due notice of scab, the scab crew was told to go to the scab money.

"Final arrangements for the fourth annual workers' picnic to be held next Sunday at Riverview Park, near the bridge leading to London to make the affair the greatest success of its kind had been completed by the Workers Party in Chicago."

Thousands of workers who are not members of the Workers Party read the Communist press. These workers realize the value of the Communist press and support it. It is the support of the Communist press that makes the membership of the party so expected at next Sunday's picnic.

Next Sunday's picnic will be a grand affair. It will be held at Riverview Park, near the bridge leading to London. It will be the greatest success of its kind.

It is now up to the workers to make the picnic a success. They should bring their own picnic baskets and their own money.

'NO PROGRESS' LEWIS REPORTS AFTER 3 WEEKS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—A statement that "no progress has been made in the negotiations between the strikers and the management" was made this afternoon by John L. Lewis, international leader of the United Mine Workers of America.

THE Milwaukee leader, not having anything good to say, about William Jennings Bryan, decided that it was better to say nothing at all.

French Imperialism Picks Socialist for Outpost of the Empire in the Orient

By J. LOUIS ENODLACH.

TODAY, Alexander Varenne, "socialist," is appointed by the French empire to the post of governor-general of French Indo-China, as French Communists are being indicted for war against the British empire in Africa.

It is declared that Leon Blum, the "socialist" parliamentary leader, is very angry, declaring that Varenne must be a socialist. Varenne, however, is always short-lived. Greater crimes have been committed by the "socialist" against the workers in Africa than in Indo-China.

The French workers and peasants will refuse to distinguish between a "socialist" and other "socialist" members of the Chamber of Deputies supporting the war against the natives of North Africa, for instance, and Varenne, one of their number, who is warring against the Rif. They cannot but look upon them as all agents of labor's enemies.

Indo-China is a strategic outpost of French imperialism in the East. It is the key to the developing Chinese situation. It is within striking distance of Canton, where the revolution in South China have established their bases. It was the Yunnanese, from the neighboring Chinese province of Yunnan, who were the catalysts of the French empire in Indo-China.

Engels on Britain Told

$200,000,000 for the arms which were appropriated by the British government as the greatest crisis in its history approaches.

Even Premier Baldwin, hardbitten though he is, is being prevailed upon to make the demand for this huge sum in the preceding article, and the admirals delivered a ultimatum—either the appropriation would be made and work on more warships begun or they would resign.

It is a splendid cabinet deal with the war lords.

Here is a classic example of the role the state—the agency of the capitalist class for the oppression of the masses.

The Second Disfranchising Feature (of class society) is the establishment of a gulf—power which is no longer identical with the power of the whole society. The result is that the political power of the population has become impossible with the breakup of society.

The need of the British masses is for bread, not for battleships, but the ruling class and the "special bodies of armed men" upon whom it depends want more weapons of warfare—and get them.

This means that the British ruling class is in a class opposition to the increase in armaments, but they do not challenge the capitalist state because they are part of it.

It is this opposition to the state with capital society that the British militarists hold the upper hand and grab millions for the war when the whole fabric of British industry is being ripped and torn by the greatest social crisis of society and even the state.

Engels might have been writing of Europe today when he said:

The above-mentioned public force increases with the intensification of class antagonism within the state, and with the growth in size of the state. It is the state which is the cause of the present day Europe in which the class struggle and rivalry in consequence have narrowed up to public force and which it is the function of the state to maintain.

Who?

Who can look with understanding gaze at Europe today without realizing that the same forces which are tearing the state apart, are more separated from the masses of the population until the ruling class can no longer count on loyalty to its instruments from the masses.

The state, synonymous with its "special bodies of armed men," appears only as the agency of the masses.

This is the beginning of great mass movements like that now taking impetus for the state which can end only in revolution.

The Coal Crisis and the Need for Unity

In the coal industry the lines are being drawn for a great struggle. The attention of the American people is being attracted to the anthracite region upon the expiration of the agreement between the coal barons make substantial concessions to the miners. The struggle has been forced by the coal barons to a more militant attitude than they have shown in recent years and also the militancy of the coal diggers themselves is no longer a question of life or death.

In the soft coal fields the coal operators violation of the agreement by the bosses have practically wiped out all semblance of a contract and the signs are everywhere that the coal diggers are now organized to the miners that they must either fight or surrender and they have no intention of surrendering.

There are greater evidences of international unity among the coal miners than ever before and in Great Britain, Belgium, France, Germany and America which tends to bring closer the great unions of coal miners in all these countries.

Quite aside from the great importance to the American labor movement of the impending struggle of the United Mine Workers, the largest union in the American Federation of Labor, is the patent fact that the coal diggers in the capitalist countries need the closest kind of international organization.

Capitalist industry is so closely linked together today that weakness in any one industry means a general strike. The coal industry in America must not be broken to break the strike of British miners nor must coal from the Ruhr break the strike of American miners.

The workers of the American coal industry must have international unity but the mass of organized workers will soon, thru terrible pressure from the capitalists listen more and more readily to the appeals of the international policy used by the coal barons to bring down and in spite of the sabotage of capitalism's agents and unions.

The Press Picnic

The workers of Chicago are cordially invited to the fourth annual workers' press picnic, which will be held tomorrow in Riverside Park. Communist papers depend on the nickels and dimes of the working class for its existence. The class that it serves must support it.

Therefore we hope that tomorrow's affair will be patronized by those who realize the value that the DAILY WORKER and other Communist papers are rendering the working class movement.

Another Soviet Republic about to be proclaimed! This kind of thing is the most monstrous and the most revolting and the most comforting as the ticking of a clock to the condemned man.

Julius Roosevelt has given more than two million dollars to Negro charities, we told. Where did he get the money? Very likely by exploiting Negro workers; most certainly by robbing white workers.

Australian capitalist politicians are entertaining the offers of the American fleet. But the Australian workers don't seem to be as enthusiastic. There's a reason.

PARASITE'S WEDDING GETS MUCH PUBLICITY WORKERS MUST RELY ON AND BUILD THEIR OWN PRESS

BY GETRUDE FRINGS (Worker Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Reading the Evening Journal, I came across a very interesting article on the wedding of a great class girl and a great class boy. Vanderbilt's daughter got married.

The evening Journal devoted an entire page to this great event. I wonder how much publicity the staid class girl and her aristocratic bride got for the parasites who were the bourgeois lords here.

The parasites who live on the blood and sweat of the exploited working class have built up a powerful press, but we have no press of our own.

We, the toiling masses, must work to build up our own press to represent our life and our struggle. The workers must unite in the Communist Party.

Let us build up our own organ, the DAILY WORKER.

Recently the power in the plant was out of order for forty minutes, and Galinsky in this "socialist" style, deducted the time from the wages of the employees.

My firm is a member of the Chicago Forward Association, which is a capitalist firm. I have been admitted to the DAILY WORKER. When the power stopped, I had the most day off my time deducted from my wages.

Galinsky admitted that there was a deduction from the wages of the employees. He said that there was danger of a strike. The city of Chicago has a law that prohibits the use of the "socialist" manufacturer.

The manufacturer is a capitalist firm. He is a member of the Chicago Forward Association. He is a member of the Chicago Forward Association.
