NEGRO WORKERS PROTEST RACE DSGRIVATON

Oppose Imperialist Aim in Liberia and Haiti

Race discrimination and oppression of Negroes in the United States as well as abroad will be answered by the emphatic protest of Chicago work ers on Monday evening, Jan. 25, at a mass meeting to be held in Unity Hall, 3140 Indiana avenue, under the auspices of the Chicago Negro branch of All-America Anti-Imperialist League Among those who have been invited to speak is Richard E. Westbrooks, official representative of the republic of Liberia in this city.

"Never was there more urgent need of unified and decisive action in defense of the birthright of the Negro race," declared Walter Anderson, secretary of the local branch of the antiimperialist league, in announcing the mass meeting. "Every day brings to light some new form of oppression against our race. And while oppression of the Negroes at home continues, the United States government is exerting all its energies abroad to crush the only two Negro republics: Liberia and Haiti.

"The Harvey S. Firestone scheme appears as a simple business proposition for growing rubber but actually it marks the definite participation of American imperialism in the partition of Africa. How long will it take before Liberia will be groaning under an American military dictatorship, similar to that which is already being exercised in Haiti? Meanwhile, the imperialist crimes against the Negro population of Haiti are becoming bolder and bolder. Military Governor John H. Russell, who is engaged in crush-Haitian people by means of American marines, has just declared that he will permit no presidential election in the 'republic' this year. Instead of allowing the people an opportunity to vote, the present servile Borno administration is to be continued in office indefinitely-which means as long as it does the bidding of the United States marines.

"Imperialism is the universal exploiter of the Negro people in this country and abroad, just as it is the exploiter of all other oppressed races and nationalities. All the oppressed conles must unite against this mon-

It is expected that Unity Hall will be filled to overflowing for the antiimperialist protest meeting. The enthusiasm that characterized the meeting held on the south side of Chicago several months ago under the auspices of the Negro branch of the All-America Anti-Imperialist League is an indication of the attendance that can be expected on January 25.

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 .- Every conceivable nostrum for farm relief is proposed by senators and congressmen here except one that will really bills presented for its consideration and not one of them approaches a solution of the farmers' problems.

That relief is needed now is plain to all, and politicians from the agricultural states are almost frantic in their efforts to palliate the voters from their home states since their return to Washington after the holiday recess. However, their allegiance to the old parties prevents them taking independent steps even if they had brains enough to do so.

Old party politicians are trying to frame up some sort of performance that will enable the congressmen and senators from the various states to present conflicting bills purporting to relieve the farmers and then have records of congressmen can be created congressional elections that will be

The whole fraudulent nature of the farm relief measures are revealed by an examination of some of them, show ing that each author presented his bill purely for home consumption and not because he desired to solve the Fake Measures.

Chief among these measures are the ones drafted by Senators William B. McKinley (rep., Ill.) and Charles L. potato crop was 100,000,000 bushels McNary (rep., Ore.) for cooperative marketing. Senator Arthur Capper (rep., Kas.) has a similar bill up his port and General Workers' Union, got sleeve, and others are forecast in rumors from the senate office building. Henrik Shipstead, farmer-laborite of Minnesota, would have the federal government place agriculturists in the same general category as the railroads and shipping, with guaranteed returns 000,000 bales, but its value was $1, Mr. Capper has a forestry conserva-419,000,000, compared with $1,540, tion and a co-operative purchasing act, as well as an amendment similar to Other crops showing decreased val- one contained in Mr. McKinley's bill ues include peanuts, tobacco, sorghum to pertain to farm loans. Joseph E. cranberries, wild hay, tame hay and ilc lands exploited for sulphur. Morris Sheppard (dem., Tex.) wants similar Texas led the states in value of pro- prospecting for potash. Likewise Mr. luction this year, the gross value of Sheppard would have a dairying exall crops produced in that state be- periment station established in his ing estimated at Dec. 1 prices, at home state. Hiram Johnson (rep., on his ear. No worker is allowed to Cal.) and Francis E. Warren (rep., Wyo.) have new irrigation projects in line; J. Thomas Heflin (dem., Ala.) has four bills for cotton growers, and George W. Norris (rep., Neb.) wants inspection of export farm products. Bait for Farmers.

Politicians at Washington look with contempt upon the voters who elect them and they consider the farmers mere voting cattle can be stampeded into supporting any senator or con gressman who loudly bleats about his oyalty and claims that other senators and congressmen combine to defeat him. In their own states they are all defenders of the particular interests of the states, but in Washington they are party men, or tied to some sort of bloc, doing everything in their power to keep the farmers and workers in subjection to the capitalists who own the old parties.

The farm measures proposed are so much bait for the farmers. Though the farmers have been suckers heretofore and supported the old parties, the farm crisis that is growing ever more menacing will inevitably result in a political revolt through the agricultural region.

Never before was there a more pressing need for a powerful labor party in the industrial centers to form alliances with the discontented and impoverished farmers for an attack upon the old parties of capitalism.

> Half the Hungarian government, including army generals, diplo mats and a prison full of princes are involved in the most gigantic counterfeiting scheme ever discovered. Even Horthy the "hangman of Hungary" is under suspicion. No less than $30,000,000,000 French francs were in the course of printing when the conspirators were detected. It seems that the plot had two aims; one to completely ruin French currency and the other to use the money for a fascist coup in Hungary. It would not be surprising if British agents were at the bottom of the conspiracy. The Locarno treaty by no means solves the disagreements between England and France.

> THE prince of Wales captured I runaway horse and got on the front page of the New York Times. If the horse had captured the prince he might have broken into the Chicago papers. This is the first time in many years that the prince's name was mentioned in connection with a steed, that the royal scion did not come out second best.

> THO the Irish labor movement has I tended towards conservatism since it lost James Connolly's revolutionary leadership, it still follows a militant policy in the conduct of strikes. The government gave the contract for building a giant power station on the River Shannon, to a German engineering firm, which sought to employ labor at scab wages. The Irish Transin touch with the German trades unions and the latter pronounced the job "unclean." This precaution was taken to warn German workers against coming to Ireland on a scale job and also to rob the Irish capitalists of an opportunity to accuse Irish labor of being anti-German.

THE next step of Irish labor was to L call a national conference of all workers' organizations for the purpose of putting a national strike in the Shannon against operation scheme as the job is named. The instructions given to union workers and to their sympathizers in the Voice of Labor are drastic and would sure ly get an American injunction judge have any social relations with a scab whose names and addresses are published weekly in the labor press. Cinemas are not permitted to allow scab to enter the premises and the same applies to sport organizations and dance halls. The ability of the unions to enforce their decrees does not appear to be in question. It promises to be a stiff fight and an interesting one.

Labor Leaders Cannot TO COMMUNIST Fight Fascism and Also War on the Communists

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, the bloody hand of fascism seeks to tighten the murderous grip of its dictatorship over wider regions of capitalist Europe.

General T. H. Pangalos, with the applause of the British, swept aside the bourgeois republican constitution of Greece and proclaimed himself military dictator in the struggle against the rising strength of the Greek Communists.

In Germany the socialists are told by the leaders of the democratic and catholic center parties that they must join the "so-called big coalition" to stave off the threatening military dictatorship. Yet both moves are born of the same fear of the Communists.

In France the dictatorship is held as the only way out of post-war financial difficulties. But simultaneously grows the challenge of increasing Communist strength in this

In Hungary, where the socialists made peace with the Horthy dictatorship and were only lightly reprimanded by the Second (Socialist) International, it is declared that the fascists long in power, are planning the return of the mon-

This fascist spread will be welcomed by American finance capital that now controls definitely in Washington, as revealed by the big majority pledged in the senate to entry into the world court. It is in the light of this sweeping aside of all forms of bourgeois parliamentarism, supplanted by the mailed fist of profit rule, that the Locarno pacts reveal their real meaning. Every effort must be made to crush the workers' militant organizations at home before an effective new war can be launched against the Union of Soviet Republics.

It is here that the fraudulent attack of President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, against fascism in Italy and against the organization of Italian fascist groups in this country, under inspiration from Rome, is most effectively exposed.

Thru support of the world court, which means Wall Street's ambitions in Europe that are the ambitions of fascism, the Green regime in the A. F. of L. shows itself an ally of native fascism in the United States.

The socialists of Italy, Hungary, Spain, Greece, the Balkans and the Baltic states, and also in Germany, France, and England, have shown by their actions to the workers of the world that it is impossible to make war on fascism and Communism at the same time. That is what the present A. F. of L. administration claims it is going to do. Yet such an attitude gradually develops into an alliance with fascism, uniting definitely with it in the war against the Communists, who alone wage a militant struggle for the whole working

The class collaboration schemes of Green, Johnston and other leaders of the A. F. of L. with their evident efforts to bridge the chasm between "company" unions and the trade union movement, definitely place these officials in a position where they will not and cannot make a fight against capitalism that breeds fascism in self-protection.

If the fascism that is invoked to save the capitalist class in Europe results in war against the working class on the other side of the Atlantic, then the same is true of fascism in the United States.

The rank and file of the American workers must place the American Federation of Labor definitely on record against budding fascism in this country, the country in high they are compelled to fight their battles and win their victories. They will only win those battles by definitely organizing their class power and going into action as a unified working class.

Insurgent Republicans Help. Coolidge and Mellon have cause for plarm because the insurgent republicans will line up with the democrats in the fight against the aluminum trust and the department of justice, as well as against the second democratic issue, the Forney-McCumber tariff.

Under the subject of the tariff they will link such measures as farm re Hef and try to prove that the tariff on imports has enabled the American manufacturers to charge high prices for farm necessities, while failing in any manner to aid the farmers in the corn, wheat and tobacco growing democrats hope, by raising these issues in the coming campaign, to carry sufficient congressional districts and regain their majority in the house and increase their representation in the senate, as a prelude to carrying the presidential election of 1928. The insurgent republicans hope to so discredit Coolidge in the congressional elections that a representative of the industrialist bloc of the middle west will secure the republican party nomination in 1928, and they do not conceal the fact that they believe Coolidge will fail of election if he runs again.

The general farm depression and the slowing down of industry that is apparent and is expected to become intensified during the coming year will pave the way for widespread political revolts in the estimation of many of the democrats and insurgent repub-

To all appearances the third party movement launched by LaFollette in the last presidential campaign is dead as a door nail. Young LaFollette, who succeeded his late father in the senate, the an insurgent, is safely in the camp of the republican party. in the camp of the republican party, Wheeler of Montana is back with the regular democrats and howling for the world court, while the former LaFollette supporters in the republican camp are unanimously against this country entering the court.

The "farm bloc" is watching the developing farmer-labor parties in the northwestern states and is some what alarmed that the character of this new movement is more definitely of a class character and not tinged so much with the petty bourgeois psychology of the earlier parties bearing that name. Few politicians seem to have definite opinions on the rising demand for a labor party in the industrial centers of the country and not even the insurgents can be made affairs committee. to comment upon the action of two great labor conventions going on record for the formation of a class party of labor.

LEWIS PROPOSES FIVE-YEAR TERM

Union Against Rest

By ALEX REID.

Sec'y. Miners' Progressive Committee The proposal of John L. Lewis for a five-year contract for the anthra cite, which contract will undoubtedly terminate at a different time in the year and in a different year from the bituminous miners, is another in sult to the miners of America, and a betrayal of the hard coal miners Scranton convention demands

The miners are bitterly opposed to long term agreements. The tying of one part of the mining industry down to a long term agreement in opposition to another part of the industry, is in effect the setting of one part of reality contains the principles of dual unionism. It is the policy of the open shoppers, and the Lewis gang are playing directly into the hands of the Wall Street union wreckers.

form and functions. It is true that our party has always had its "educational department" which, to a certain extent, supervised and carried out our internal propaganda work. But not only was there really no systematic guidance and direction for our work of external agitation; there was no connection, extenal or internal, between our agitation and our propaganda activi ties. It was only with the recent establishment of the agitprop department of the central executive committee and with the gradual development of an agitprop apparatus thruout the party that a structure co-ordinating upon a systematic basis all the propaganda and agitation work of the party in what ever field and for whatever purpose was created.

Because of the comparative newness of the very conception of an agit prop department in our party, there still exists some confusion as to the nature and tasks of this department, its funnctions, structure, etc. In order to help liquidate this confusion the national agitprop is publishing a translation of an article appearing in the special supplement to the Parteiarbeiter for November, 1925. (The Parteiarbeiter is the functionaries' paper of the German Communist Party). We are sure that the following brief explanation of agitprop work will be of great value to many comrades.

THE agitprop department is the or- orated and determined by the agit gan that directs upon a uniform basis the entire agitation and propaganda work of the party, in all its forms and on all fields of work. It is not a "special" or "limited" department in the bad sense. On the contrary, its field of work extends to all departments; in co-operation with these department it elaborates the methods and forms of agitation and propaganda. The tasks of the agitprop can be classed under two main heads:

(a) Agitation.

The entire external agitation work (verbal, written, pictorial, etc.) of the party (of all its organs, of the fractions, of the nuclei, local groups, districs, etc.) Here belongs the regular everyday work of winning members in the factories, unions, etc., at meetings, at demonstrations, the carrying out of campaigns (including election campaigns), campaigns for the party press, etc.

(b) Propaganda.

The entire party educational work, the activity in study circles, groups, courses, party schools, issuance of study material, etc. Organization of libraries. Training of con lead discussions, (to give reports) on various subjects. All internal party work aiming at acquainting our membership with the fundamentals and methods of Marxism-Leninism,

The forms and methods of both of these types of work are numerous. Nevertheless, these two fields of work stand in the closest relations with each other. Without a basic and extensive propaganda of Marxism-Leninism there can be no effective agitation work among the masses.

Agitprop is not "special" work in the ordinary sense. What is "special" is the elaboration of particular forms and methods of agitation and propaganda. The concrete contents of agitprop are determined by the relations of the factory; for the fractions by the relations in the unions; etc. The whole work must be carried on along the political and tactical lines laid down by the party. The content of the agitation, the points of contact, the slogans, the concrete aims-all depend upon the field and basis of our work. The methods and forms of work, how we must agitate, how we must carry on a discussion, how we must organize meetings, how we must conduct ourselves in opponent meetings, how to issue a nucleus paper, how to construct our leaflets, throwaways, posters, etc., how to distribute them, how to make the best use of our means of agitation—this is the task of the agitprop. It is here particularly that experiences must be collected and transferred to the whole

PLAY AND MASS MEETING ARRANGED BY MOTHERS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

United Council of Working Class Housewives Helps Mothers of School Children in the Struggle for Better and More Schools

WHAT is the matter with the public schools in New York City? Why are parents protesting to the board of education? Why are small children transferred from one school to another where they are compelled to cross streets busy with traffic, endangering their lives thru being run over and maimed or killed? All these questions will be discussed at a mass meeting Friday evening, January 8, at 1347 Boston Road, Bronx. Prominent speakers in Jewish and English will address the meeting. Among the speakers is Ella Reeve Bloor, a well-known woman speaker from the west. A committee of mothers of children of P. S. 148 will tell of their six-weeks' struggle against transferring smaller children to other schools. At this mass meeting a play will be presented by the Young Pioneers. The play is called "The Public School," and is both interesting and amusing. The United Council of Working Housewives appeal to all workers, especially to women, also to working class

OVER 200 BOYS WALK OUT ON STRIKE AT IMPERIAL GLASS PLANT, BELLAIRE

Youth Strike on Scene of Young Workers' Conference

BELLAIRE, Ohio.—Unwilling to accept an approximate 10 er cent reduction in wages more than 200 boys employed by the Imperial Glass plant here walked out on a strike.

As a result many of the departments in the plant which were to resume operations are shut down. The local press is trying to make believe that the strike is not effective. But the strikers are full of spirit and are full of determination to win the strike.

The company announced the wage reduction December 25, after which the young workers held a mass meeting where the strike decision was made. All the young workers including the carrying boys, snappers and vase swingers are affected by the cut.

The reduction would affect the wages as follows: carrying: boys, 1. om $4 a day to $3.50; snappers from $4.80 a day to $4.30; vase swingers from $5.50 a day to $4.90.

This strike movement of the young glass workers is taking place right in the seat of the Young Workers' Conference which has been scheduled for Bellaire for Feb. 28th.

The militant young glass workers are being urged to line up with their fellow young workers, the young miners and steel workers in a joint struggle against the miserable conditions that the bosses dish out to us.

The Imperial Glass plant must be represented at the conference with a substantial representative delegation of the young militant workers of that plant

WILINSKY AND CO. CORRUPT LEATHER WORKERS' UNION

In Setting Prices Sell Out to Bosses

By A Worker Correspondent '

NEW YORK, Jan. 7-In the pocket book manufacturing plant of Metter Bros. and company, New York, 50 to 70 operatives are ordinarily employed. This firm is notorious for underpayment of its workers and maintenance of poor conditions of work. In the halcyon day of the open shop the original Metter, who has recently retired, fought the union tooth and nail. And he was always successful. He would shift his factory to Brooklyn, or he would put the very leaders of the strike to work in the factory at increased wages, thus breaking the strike. Again he would put private detectives at work beating up his striking employes. The firm would maintain an open shop with its $9 a week to girls and $12 to boys, allowing no attempts at unionization to be

THE SECOND PRIZE. LABOR FAKER ENLISTS AID OF BOSSES TO FIGHT PROGRESSIVES

By a Worker Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 7.—A little elightenment may not be amiss on a big headliner in the S. F. Bulletin of December 29, announcing that there is "plenty of work for painters here." The truth of the matter is that a local labor faker, T. J. O'Conner, business agent of a local Painters' Union, enlisted the help of a chamber of commerce paper in order to perpetuate his pie card.

Local Painters' Union, No. 1158, recently held its annual election of officers. Thinking that it was about time to rid themselves of the reactionary business agent, O'Conner, the+ building there were men of the dif- progressives made a determined fight to have him replaced by a man more active and appropriate. company, notorious members of the lo cal chamber of commerce.

Editor's Note: The motive behind the transferring from O'Connor's local to another one is healthy. But the tactic was wrong and the results will not be what was expected. The progressives in transferring simply left O'Connor in complete control of the local. The temporary loss of per capita will soon be made up. He will have the unquestioned support of the employers at the same time his opposition has been removed.

The progressives can fight O'Connor more effectively from within his own local than from without. This maneuver carries (unconsciously) the germ of the "effectiveness" of the splitting tactics as a weapon against the reactionaries. Withdraw per capita from a local union can very easily lead along the road to witholding per capita from the international.

We offer this criticism as food for that to our worker correspondent and to the progressives in the Painters' Union mentioned in this

LATES TO STATE OF

By a Worker Correspondent:

PITTSBURGH, Pa.--It was a foggy and damp Pittsburgh morning. The first rain of the new year baptized the unsheltered unemployed who were walking toward the employment office of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

I was one of this army of misery, which at 8 o'clock in the morning was already waiting in line in front of the building. At ten my turn came for filling out an application blank. Among the innumerable whys . . . and whens . . . which had to be answered, I missed two questions and I could't help wondering why they were not down there. One is, "Why was I born?" And the other, "When would I die?"

After filling out the notorious questionnaire, I was led to the third floor of the building which resembles more a capitalist court than an employment office. Mr. "Judge" was there, spread out in his comfortable chair. It is my turn to sit in the "defendant's chair" for crossexamination. So I sat down and handed him my application card. After glancing at the card "his honor" asked:

"Your name J. . . . ?"

"Yes sir."

"Worked here before?"

"Yes sir. At Department a-16." South a to the company of

After a moment's search he pulled out my record card from the files. He read it and threw me a mean look. Then in a loud voice he commanded me:

"YOU GET OUT OF HERE. YOU ARE NOT WANTED HERE, UN-DERSTAND? GET OUT AND STAY OUT?"

"Why? What is the matter?" I asked in a surprised tone.

"You're a trouble maker. Go on . . . Get out!"

Eleven o'clock and I was out again, travelling back along the same road I had started from at 8 o'clock that morning. The rain was still pouring. Pittsburgh was still foggy, and smokey and I was still lobless.

My "crime" was unforgivable. I had urged the 40 to 50 cents per hour slaves of Morgan-Westinghouse to organize and better their conditions. I have lost the right to earn a living because we workers still tolerate the capitalist system.

article telling about the conditions of the women workers in the millinery shops in Chicago. I eagerly watched the reaction of some of the millinery workers to this article. Some of the girls read it with enthusiasm and appreciation, "It's just like in our shop," they said. "Everything is true." Others still under the hypnotic influence of the Christmas gift presented to them by the boss, did not think that the boss is quite so unjust. Those workers went as far as to say they do not consider it necessary to organize a union.

The Holiday Spirit, The giving of Christmas presents to workers by the bosses reminds me of an old Russian tradition: to kiss one's slave in the name of Christ on Easter eve., A notoriously savage general in the army used to come to the soldiers' barracks on Easter eve and kiss every soldier on the lips saying piously: "Christ has risen." The soldier would have to reply: "Praise God, for Christ the lord is reborn." Next day if a soldier in meeting this general didn't stop twenty feet in front of him with the salute of honor.

the general inflicted upon his last night's "brother" a lot of misery. Some of the millinery workers receiving a present and a few words of flattery from the boss forget the past year of underpay and long hours of work. They forget that every year there is the same ceremony of presents and compliments but also the same disappointments when the holidays are over. They forget that after ten and twelve hours of work during the busy season, the boss piles homework on to the hand-workers. I have talked with millinery operators who deny this. Of course the not only during the season, but even on the road with their salesmen to operators cannot take their machines now, tho the season has not yet beat competition. Lenin Says:

"It is a complete misapprehension to suppose that precisely the literates and almost exclusively the literates (in the professional sense of the word) are capable of successful work upon a newspaper. The reverse is the case; the newspaper does not awaken to real life or capacity for continued life until 500 or 5,000 non-literates add their contributions to the work of five leading and permanently active literates."

works hard all day to accomplish the desired result. But because of the unusual requirements very little is 38 achieved during the day and so the boss as a matter of course packs up a bundle of homework for them. Those who want proof of this can see it on the corner of Wabash and Madison.

Working Overtime. Some girls console themselves with such reasoning: "Why during the season in the clothing industry the workers also work long hours and sometimes on Sundays too." That is true. But it is also true that because these workers are organized they are paid time and a half for overtime,

The millinery season is short. The operators belonging to the union make their year's expenses during the season. How much do the unorganized hand-workers make? I challenge those who are opposed to the union to answer.

Some workers think because they are complimented by the bosses for their skill, they are favorites and they do not need the protection of a union. Those workers forget that there can be no friendship between the spider and the fly. As long as the boss gets cheap labor he will be polite. That's one of his tactics for underpaying his workers.

While we spend the day and part of the night in toil, the boss plans how the more to economize on our labor and how to prevent us from getting together. The manufacturers are organized. They come together to discuss way and means to keep us from each other.

Let those who oppose organization analyze the situation carefully and not try to console themselves with making excuses for the bosses. The employers have their organization and we must strive to build ours.

The Liebknecht Anniversary

Seven years have passed since the murders of Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg by the soldiers and police of the social-democratic boodhound, Gustave Noske, one of the monstrous triumvirate that included Fritz Ebert and Phillip Scheidemann.

Karl Liebknecht who, in the summer of 1917, was acclaimed by Lenin as "the foremost leader of the proletarian revolution," fought against the monstrous betrayals of the social democrats from the outbreak of the world slaughter until the day he and Rosa were foully murdered in the streets of Berlin. The records of their revolutionary activity are known to informed workers thruout the world and need no recounting here.

But what of those guilty of the murder of Liebknecht and Luxemburg after seven years? If ever a crime demanded vengeance to the limit it was the wanton murder of these two leaders of the proletariat. Ebert, one of the foul triumvirate, died in bed, a traitor to labor and servant of capitalism to the last. Scheidemann and Noske still infest the earth, eminent members of the social-democracy which in Germany is today trying to fasten upon the German proletariat the imperialist fetters forged at Locarno. The bourgeoisie in Germany is too weakened to support the socialist renegades in their customary affluence, so the party that murdered the flower of the proletarian revolution in Germany lends itself to the schemes of the British foreign minister, Austen Chamberlain, in his efforts to form an alliance of European nations against the Soviet Union. Just as these social-democratic bandits and prostitutes slaughtered the leaders of the workers in their own country so they now strive to aid the tory government of Britain in a drive against the outpost of the world revolution.

But in this attempt against Russia they will fail, for two reasons. In the first place the European powers, if they dare attack Russia, will find that in their own countries are tremendous reserve forces of the proletarian revolution that will strike and strike hard against a government at war with the Soviet Union. Secondly, the German workers, steeled in the fierce fire of revolutionary upheavals since 1919, when Liebknecht and Luxemburg perished, will rise and destroy capitalism in Germany. In order to destroy capitalism they will march over the wreckage of the social-democratic party, the leaders of which are the last bulwark of capitalism.

The proletarian revolution in Germany and its extension to the rest of the world will be the monument to the lives of Liebknecht and Luxemburg.

The Hungarian Counterfeiters

The Horthy government of Hungary, which came into power by wading thru the blood of the working class, and which is so influential at Washington that it dictates to Secretary of State Kellogg the exclusion from the United States of people antagonistic to the white terror, has proved itself an ingrate to France. The Horthy government is supported directly by French and American capital, and at a time when the French franc is already hitting the toboggan and threatening to wreck the currency of the French republic, the Horthy government throws upon the market some thirty million These two headers get 63 cents per hour.
