TN looking over an old copy of the International Socialist Review I raninto an article by Karl Kautsky, which justified the stand of the German socialists in supporting the war, on the ground that the German government was a better government than that of the czar. And who do you think should denounce Kautsky as a renegade socialist and nationalist? None other than William English Walling, the most contemptible backslider that ever sold his birthright for Wall Street's dollars. Walling has long since swallowed his socialism or better, vomited it. He is now a more debased renegade than Kautsky. The latter is a great renegade, in the sense that he once rendered great service to the socialist movement, Walling was never anything but a cheap and superficial scribbler.

Lewis Tries Shifting Blame for Secrecy

(Special to The Daily Worker) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25-The anhracite strike conference will be continued here by reconvening again Tuesday afternoon, to consider the settlement plan proposed by E. J. Lynnet, the owner of the Scranton Times.

The operators, altho they finally reected the Lynnet plan as a basis for discussion at first gave out a statement that their spokesman, Major W. W. Inglis, had accepted the plan, which in no way favors the miners' demands and is close to the disguised arbitration plan of Pinchot.

Observers note with some cynicism that Lewis left to the choice of the operators, whether they wished the conference to be held in the anthracite region or elsewhere, and whether they wished the conference to be open or secret.

LENIN MEMORIAL MEETINGS HUGE SUCCESS; ENTHUSIASTIC REPORTS COME IN TO DAILY WORKER OFFICE

Reports coming into The DAILY WORKER office show that the Lenin memorial meetings that were held in many cities thruout the nation on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, to commemorate the second anniversary of the death of Vladimir Ilyitch Ulianov Lenin were attended by greater masses of workers than ever before. In a number of cities police disrupted the meetings. In Republic, Pa., the state police in Fayette county arrested one of the speakers and cleared the hall with drawn revolvers and threatened the other speakers that if they ever entered the county again they "would suffer the consequences." In East Chicago the speaker was arrested and the meeting disrupted.

In Chicago 8,000 workers filled the Coliseum. In New York thousands of workers filled the four halls that were secured for the occasion. Reports of meetings continue to pour in. Everywhere the local party organizations report amazing progress. Since the party has reorganized on the shop and street nuclei basis it has been able to reach broader masses of workers and it has made it possible to have demonstrations increasing in size.

Y. W. L. SPEAKER SHOWS PATH YOUTH MUST TAKE IN IMPERIALIST WARS

The representative of the Young Workers' League at Sunday's Lenin memorial meeting, Comrade Max Shachtman, spoke briefly on the lessons that Lenin had taught the revolutionary youth movement and the working class youth as a whole. The menace to the working class youth in particular of new wars and of an attack on the Soviet Union gave added impetus to the slogan which Lenin and the Bolsheviks issued during the darkest days of the imperialist war of 1914: Turn the imperialist war into a civil war of the exploited against their oppres-

In the swiftly approaching day of a new world war, this inspiring revolutionary slogan of Lenin must be borne in mind by the entire working class. Instead of an imperialist slaughter of the flower of the working youth, the revolutionary proletariat must lead a real war to end all wars, a war of the working class against the imperialists for the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of the dictatorship of the workers.

CHICAGO SCENE OF MEMORABLE COMMEMORATION

Thousands of Workers Fill Coliseum

The most enthusiastic, largest, and inspiring demonstration ever staged by class conscious workers in Chicago was the Lenin memorial meeting at the Coliseum in Chicago, Sunday night attended by 8,000 workers.

This vast hall-the largest in Chicago-was filled with workers, many of whom work in the "yards," the Western Electric, the International Harvester plant, the large garment shops, and every other industry thruout the city.

In this great mass were many Negro workers, who comprise an increasing part of the industrial workers of the city and are coming to realize the necessity of the white worker and the Negro worker meeting on a common ground and battling for better conditions.

Breath of Chinese Revolution.

Chinese students, who today see a great struggle going on in their native land against the imperialist powers of America, England and Japan came to the meeting to pay their respects to Lenin and to the Communist Party, which is aiding the Chinese in their struggle.

Filipino workers and students, who see an active struggle in the Philippines against American imperialism came to this meeting as they realize it is the workers and not the bankers and the present ruling class in America that will aid the Filipinos to gain their independence.

American-born workers and workers of many races and nationalities were in this great mass commemorating the anniversary of the death of their leader, Vladimir Ilyitch Ulianov Lenin.

Early in the evening, when the doors of the Coliseum were first opened, many of the workers looked at the wide expanse of seats and gasped. All wished that they would be filled. All doubted it could be done. At eight o'clock, when the program was scheduled to begin, this wide excanse of seats was replaced by a vast sea of faces. As soon as the ground floor was filled, the back of the hall was jammed. It was then necessary to open the balcony.

As speaker after speaker mentioned the name of Lenin and named his ranch. Some men among the strikers, Draw Guns on Workers; done by the Russian workers and accomplishments and the great work (Continued on page 4)

These leaders of the "irreconcilables" as they are called, found solace in the fact that they forced the adoption of many amendments which they think will make the senate itself, and not the president, the judge of what matters shall be submitted by the United States to the court for judgment.

A monster crowd packed the gal leries when it was known that the Coolidge gang was going to thrust cloture down the throat of the opposition. Dawes, whose dreams of being a Mussolini and closing the mouth of all who disagree had been dramatized by his advocacy of cloture as a principle, saw the awaited hour of his triumph in this respect.

At 1 o'clock he rapped for order and silence reigned. Then he asked: Dawes Gains His End.

An "Insurgent" Lines Up with Chicago's Tribune, Organ of the Profiteers

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, Gerald P. Nye, so-called "insurgent" senator from North Dakota, who was supposed to have had some little difficulty in getting his seat in the United States senate, is on record on the world court. He is against it. Yet it is the profiteers' organ, the Chicago Tribune, and not the masses of workers and farmers in North Dakota and the nation who rejoice in his opposition.

Senator Nye's position on the big problems confronting the nation is very important since his "insurgency" is supposed to divert the drive for the labor party in North Dakota, where it is gaining considerable headway. He works with Senator Frazier and Governor Sorlie to fight independent political action of the workers and farmers.

The fact that the Chicago Tribune can find comfort from the contents of Senator Nye's world court speech is proof in itself that what he had to say was not in the interests of those who man the machines in the shops or run the tractors over the land out in the northwest.

But Senator Nye did better than that. The Tribune prides itself on the fact that Nye took as the text of his speech the headline of an editorial in one of its recent issues asking, "Why the Hurry with the World Court?" Nye accentuated his pompous outlook as a dollar statesman by requesting that The Tribune editorial be read to the assembled senators. History as it is made by the daily newspapers declared, "It was so read."

Thus the alliance between Senator Nye and The Tribune may be considered complete, at least on this issue. It is important because the court and league issue vitally divide the toilers and the exploiters of the world.

Workers and farmers should oppose the world court and the league because they are instruments of the imperialist nations for the protection of their loot and the continued oppression of labor. The Tribune is not against the world court because it is against capitalism. Rather it is supremely jealous of the position of American capitalism in world affairs. One of its arguments against the court and the league is that the United States will be overshadowed by Great Britain, according to present arrangement.

The Tribune speaks for the great industrialists who do not need the court and the league in their business. The great bankers do need these institutions to protect their loans and foreign investments.

Yet the great industrialist and the international banker are just as much the enemies of the workers and farmers. Schwab, the steel magnate, and Morgan, the Wall Street financier, are no less the upholders of capitalism and the bitter foes of labor because they disagree for the moment on the world court issue.

Labor's opposition to the world court must be based on its class interests. North Dakota's workers and farmers know that their class position is in the trenches opposing the capitalist trenches where The Tribune takes up its position. The Tribune is the organ of the industrialists, the food profiteers, the grain gamblers, the little bankers, the landlords and all the other thieves who fatten off the producing masses. When Senator Nye throws in his lot with this Chicago Tribune, applauding its policies and quoting its editorial utterances, he shows he is but another lackey of the bandit profiteers. That is why he opposes the labor party in North Dakota. That is why the workers and farmers of North Dakota should favor the labor party.

COMPANY UNION RAISES PROFIT FOR PACKERS

Swift Boasts Slaves' Loyalty to Bosses

Employe representation helps proluce big profits, boasts Pres. Louis F. Swift of the giant meat trust in announcing that 1925 profits exceed those of any postwar year. The company union, introduced in 1921 to lower wages and lengthen hours, is praised as partly responsible for the $15,379,152 profits which mean approximately 18% on the real investment of the owners.

'What success Swift & Co. has attained during the past year and previously," says Swift, "has been due to the faithful work of the employes. One of the strongest assets Swift & Co. has is the splendid spirit of devotion to the company's interests shown by its employes. It is our aim to make the employes feel that they have real interest in the company's wel-Since we established employe representation in 1921, much progress has been made toward removing possible causes of misunderstanding. We have found that in most cases frank and open discussion of problems leads to better appreciation on both sides. Where there is between men a realization of each other's difficulties, there is usually a deeper sympathy and greater respect.' Here is a clear statement as to the purpose of the company union. It makes the employe an asset to the stockholder. But how about the employe's real interest in the company's welfare? According to department of labor figures packinghouse wages are considerably below the average for industry as a whole. The average male worker in the packinghouses of Illinois gets $27.37 a week compared with an average of $31.25 a week paid his fellows in other Illinois factories. So much for what Swift em ployes get for their "devotion to the company's interests."

Significant figures in the Swift report for 1925 and 1924 are:

Swift & Co. Total sales $875,000,000 $775,000,000 Net profits 15,379,058 14,125,987 Dividends 12,000,000 12,000,000 Added to surplus 3,379,152 2.125.987 69,478,967 Total surplus Capital stock 150,000,000 Percent profit 10.25% 9.41%

Issue Program to All British Seafarers

LONDON, Jan. 25-The International Seafarer, organ of the seamen's section of the international propaganda committee of revolutionary Transport Workers, announces that the seamen of Great Britain, who went thru a bitter battle against both the shipping companies and the reactionary union leaders of the N. S. and F. U., headed by Havelock Wilson. have formed a section of the National Minority Movement, which is much like the Trade Union Educational League in the United States, with the following program and demands of and for the British seamen:

Seafarers of all grades: It should be needless to inform wou that the conditions under which you work are appalling: the hours are far too long, the wages at a starvation level, the food of the worst quality, and often not enuf of that.

You are also aware of the chaptic state of affairs that exist in half-adozen different unions that are supposed to be fighting on your behalfapparently they are more concerned about fighting each other.

All these things you know well enuf; what you do want to know is how to get out of this mess.

The late unofficial seamen's strike. altho unable to stop the infamous reduction agreed to by Havelock Wilson, taught the seamen two lessons:

(1) The need for one union for all seafarers.

(2) The control of this union by the rank and file.

With these facts in view a large number of seamen lately on strike have formulated the following program and formed a seamen's section of the Transport Workers' Minority Movement. These proposals are submitted to all seamen and an appeal is made for support by making them a reality.

In view of the fact that the shipwners are in one organization known as the Shipping Federation and that this organization is linked up with the stagnant political formula of the late Federation of British Industries, in other words the one big union of all the bosses, it is claimed that the only successful way of fighting the shipowners is by one union of all seafarers linked up with other transport work-

WORKER s its development into a mass organ of the American work-

The effort to solve this problem goes hand in hand with the struggle to build the Workers (Communist) Party into a mass Communst Party.

The character of "Our Daily" is, to life of our party. It is inconceivable that either/ the party or the "Daily" should become a mass expression without the other being almost equally so.

THE work of building The DAILY WORKER into a mass organ is just as tedious and difficult as lifting the party to the same level. It is no easy task. It calls for the best efforts of all our comrades.

There is no doubt that the Special Campaigns of The DAILY WORKER in different industries, like the present campaign in the stockyards' industry, is a great aid in introducing our paper to the masses. Tens of thousands of workers in the stockyards today know about The DAILY WORKER. They were ignorant of the daily's existence a month ago, "The Daily" has been the topic of discussion on the killing floors of Armour's and Swift's in Chicago. Workers have passed it from hand to hand and read it eagerly.

NEGRO WORKERS IN OHIO JOIN

Steel and Iron Men Are Ready to Organize

(By a Workers Correspondent) WARREN, Ohio, Jan. 25 - Robert Minor addressed a good meeting here in the Hippodrome Hall. Quite a number of colored workers were at his meeting.

The colored workers here are joining the American Negro Labor Congress and a nice start has been made to build a local of them under the leadership of Daniel Rogers who is quite an active colored organizer of

The colored workers are also very active in East Liverpool and are doing good work under the leadership of Comrade Roy Mahoney, who recently organized a local branch of the American National Labor Congress in Bellaire, Ohio.

A drive will soon be started in the Mahoning valley against the attempt of the capitalists to put thru a state police bill in the Ohio legislature in this coming session.

open meeting, on the police bill and the need of organization and strengthening the Amalgamated Association.

There seems to be a revival in the desire for organization among the steel and iron workers of the valley. They have been subject to so many cuts in the price per ton on their work that they are in a spirit to resist, and they see that the only way to meet these cuts on price per ton lies in organization.

The ventilation in this shop is a source of agony for every one in the shop. Yet nothing is done about it. Smoking is not allowed even in the wash room, not for safety reasons, worker goes into the wash room, the foreman times him and watches that he does not stay there too long.

Hiring and firing goes on without interruption. No one is allowed to talk to his neighbor. He is fired if he does. When the boss gets a big order everybody must work overtime without extra pay. To refuse means to lose the job. A shop mate of mine could not work overtime because his wife was sick. He explained he had to be at home. The next morning when he came to work the foreman handed him his check. He was fired.

This is how conditions are in shops where the workers are unorganized The thing for us to do is to organize ourselves into a union. That is the only way that we will be able to put forth demands for better conditions.

Morgan, leader of the boy scouts of America's camp in Darlington Hollow, is charged with receiving stolen goods. Morgan is charged with having in his possession a stove, two wash boilers and other utensils used in the manufacture of moonshine which Walter Bujaski claims were stolen from his home.

Mr. Morgan need not feel lonesome in his present perdicament as there are boy scout leaders, who as robbers of the workers, would make him look like a piker. Only last week E. M. Herr, president of the Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. company, a section of the electric trust, and O. F. Hartsof, general superintendent of the Braddock Works of the U. S. Schenectady Labor Sees Need for Labor Party; Boycotts Republicans

By a Worker Correspondent. SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Jan. 25-

The labor union leaders of Schenectady are considerably stirred at the rough treatment, openly administered, given labor by the republican bosses. These bosses held a secret caucus with the republican members of the board of supervisors while representatives of the city trades assembly vaited outside the room. When they had reached an agreement they came out from three hours of republican caucus and passed one resolution in 30 minutes giving a slap o labor by removing two employes who are members of a union and appointing Atty. W. S. McNab, who has an anti-labor record, over the protests of the unionists, as county attorney.

The trades assembly held a special meeting and put not only the county buildings, but the supervisors personally on the unfair list. The Citizen labor union organ, says in summing up the episode: "What is the use of electing 'friends of labor' on the republican ticket, when all real friendship is forgotten after election? This episode is just another reason why there should be a course it is. Chicago's Lenin Demonstration

The fact that 8,000 workers of Chicago attended the Lenin memorial meeting of the workers (Communist) Party last Sunday of the party. In the past struggles is interesting and instructive from several sides. It would be absurd for a Communist Party in a city the size of Chicago to be satisfied with a mass meeting of 8,000 (even with paid admissions) as tical measures the opposition proa test of its power to mobilize the working class. A party which must attain the capacity to mobilize the majority of the city's working village poor? None. The Fourteenth class does not set for itself such a low standard as that. We would party conference pointed to the nerather choose the standard of ten times that many.

But relatively, nevertheless, this mass meeting shows a very substantial and significant increase in the vitality of the Workers! (Communist) Party in this second biggest city of America. This demonstration was the largest that has ever yet responded to the invitation to assemble in a hall under Communist auspices in Chicago. In comparison to the largest party mass meetings of 1924 and 1925 in this city—which were also Lenin memorial meetings this demonstration shows that the Workers (Communist) Party is now reaching more Chicago workers than ever before, by several thousands.

In class composition the demonstration was of the best quality. Workers from the outlying industrial sections, such as the Pullman shops and steel mills, were heavily represented.

In another respect the Lenin demonstration shows a very significant gain—the large number of Negro workers and Chinese who turned out for this meeting to show their love for the great leader who was, as one of the speakers said, as much an American, a German, & Frenchman, an African, a Chinese, as he was a Russian. A party congress the composition of the party which could not reach and win the loyalty of the so-called membership should be formed so that in 1917 consisted in the fact that he in our co-operatives, there are capi-"inferior" races would not yet be a Communist Party.

At the Chicago demonstration the Workers (Communist) Party sible if the party had 6,000,000 memshowed that already it is possible not only to reach the Negro bers. This has not an interests of all the working class as a whole, as well as the emancipation of the foreign victims of imperialism.

Not the least significant reason for the success of the demonstration, of course, lies in the occasion for which the demonstration was ant elements into proletarian party. called. It shows that the name of Lenin commands the respect and loyalty of many thousands of workers who have as yet learned to see no more than that the great leader of Bolshevism somehow symbolizes the hopes of the working class.

But the successful Chicago demonstration also tends to indicate another supremely significant phenomenon—that the spirit of the working class in the American big cities has passed the turning not bear criticism. THE DAILY WORKER Bucharin Speaks at Russian Party Congress (International Press Correspondence) Moscow, U. S. S. R., Dec. 21-(By Mail' - Comrade Nikolai Bucharin was the first speaker in the discussion upon the political report of the central committee of the Russian Communist Party at the Fourteenth Congress here. He was received with storms of applause.

Bucharin pointed out the extraorlinary significance of the fact that a member of the politbureau came forward with a second speech to the report of the central committee. The opposition had stressed at all the provincial conferences that they opposed the line of the central committee with no other policy. This is contradicted by the fact of the second speech which is unexampled in the history with various oppositional groups, a second speech has never bene made.

In the earlier discussions the question of the permanent revolution was raised because the standpoint of the opposition concealed within it a doubt as to the possibility of the building up of socialism in our country. Zinoviev declares war upon all those who confuse the N. E. P. with socialism. We support that completely, but the basic difference remains between us. Zinoviev deals with the N. E. P. almost exclusively as a retreat. Zinoviev's formulation is as follows: The N. E. P. is the broadest retreat of Leninism. How did Lenin regard the N. E. P.? Lenin said: The N. E. P. is the greatest strategical maneuver. It includes (1) an element of retreat. (2) a reformation of forces, (3) an advance along the reformed front line. The Zinoviev formulation of the N. E. PRAVDA URGES AGAINST DISCUSSION IN THE RUSSIAN COMMUNIST PARTY

International Press Correspondence) MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Dec. 22-(By Mail)—Today's leading article in the Pravda, official organ of the Russian Communist Party, entitled. "Is it necessary to commence a discussion?" savs:

"The course of the party congress proves that it is capable of solving its difficult tasks. The party congress analysed cooly and unanimously all the burning questions of present policy. The attempts of a few individual comrades of the opposition to lead the party congress from its practical work and to light the fires of a new internal party discussion have failed. It is absolutely without doubt that the new opposition is working for the commencement of a discussion. It is similarly without doubt that the party congress and the whole party will reject this.

The article appeals to the words of Lenin upon the danger of a discussion in a party which stands in power. The smallest breach threatens to develop into great groupings and fractions to undermine the authority of the party leadership, to weaken the party and with it the basis of the proletarian dictatorship. The opening of a discussion in the dangerous. It is only possible for the Leninists to lead the elements of growth in the wished for direction their own ranks. The Leninist unity of the party must not be endangered, otherwise the economy of the Soviet Union would develop into a direction dangerous for us. After the Trotzky discussion the party does not want another discussion. It would be impossible to avoid a discussion if the basic contradictions in the party were so large, that to leave the contradiction within the party organism would be a greater evil than the discussion. The oppositional comrades were, however, despite the efforts of many and despite the co-speech of Zinoviev not able to oppose thhe standpoint of the Central Committee with a real basic policy. The complete political characteriessness and lack of principle of the opposition is obvious. For want of a real practical political platform, the new opposition can do nothing better than to distort the standpoint of the party leadership. The article ends with the declaration that the party does not want a discussion and will not discuss. The party will call the hysterical comrades to order.

For this reason the whole question must be put concretely, practically and topically.

Zinoviev quotes us how Lenin put the question of the rich peasants, how Lenin characterized the rich peasants as bloodsuckers, vampires, etc. This comes, however, from the year 1918. Zinoviev adds that this language must not be repeated. Zinoviev's book dealt with the topical questions. The topical party policy, however, consists of the destruction of the remains of war Communism. At present we struggle against the rich peasants with other methods. The speaker contended that the words of Zinoviev concealed the idea of the disorganization of the decisions of the fourteenth party conference. At present one must reckon with the growth of the differentiation in the peasantry, one must reckon that in the immediate future an intensification of the class struggle will take place.

THERE are many new dangers of an international character present, as we are connected with the international market and there are many new dangers of an internal character present, because a tremendous growth both of class activity and class differentiation is proceeding.

The most important task is the drawing together of the working class. The pessimists do not understand that we are faced with the tremendous task of educating new sections of the working class.

The speaker demanded that the Leningrad delegation should confess its mistakes exactly as the one time secretary of the Leningrad organization, Salutzky, had confessed his mistakes in connection with state capitalism.

The speaker accused the Leningrad delegation sharply that it had not elected the tried and trusted fighter Kommarov to the party congress, only because he is loyal to the central com-Unity, proletarian discipline, loyal-

The speaker expressed his conviction that all the delegates would subordinate themselves to the decisions of the party congress as one man and recognize these decisions as the one and only final interpretation of the Leninist party policy. (Storms of applause).

Gomez Dictatorship Is Denounced in Congress

BOGOTA, Colombia, Jan. 25 .-- The second national labor congress of Colombia has adopted a resolution of protest against the bloody dictatorship of Juan Vicente Gomez in the neighboring republic of Venezuela. The Venezuelan dictator, worthy successor of Cipriano Castro, enjoys the confidence and support of American imperialism.
