Dept. of Labor Leads in War on Workers

By H. M. WICKS.
(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19 .-he role of the government as a strikebreaker always ready, willing and anxious to do the bidding of the most violous and unscrupulous exploiters of labor was never more clearly exposed than in the action of the department of labor in the present Passaic strike.

When the strikers' delegation sought admittance to the white house to see Calvin Coolidge, the strikebreaker president, they were told they could not see that worthy. Coolidge's ecretary "suggested" that James P. Davis, secretary of the department of abor, was the proper person with whom to discuss the matter.

Already a number of mill owners nd their agents had secured the oficial blessing of Davis thru his ninion, Hugh Kerwin, head of the onciliation department of the departnent of labor, which was a matter of public knowledge, so it was not posible for this cabinet member to deny he strikers a hearing.

Among other proposals Johnson agreed to was one that Albert Weisbord and the United Front Committee be completely ignored and that only actual workers in the mills deal with the bosses. who were hired in this fashion, when informed of the trimmers' strike, quit their jobs and left the city. Two men who came here from Detroit demanded that they be reimbursed for their expenses at $25 apiece. They made emphatic demands to the general manager, Mr. Ginsburg, who was forced to grant them.

Ed Finch (Fink), promoter of nany schemes, owner of a poolroom, a store, and several rooming houses, a regular loudmouth during the first wo weeks of the strike, offering one of his houses for the accommodation of up to 20 strikers free of charge, is now under suspicion of being a provocateur stoolpigeon. He has returned to work over a week ago, finking on the trimmers, and aiding | the company generally to bluff the strikers into believing that production is going at full blast. This bluff, however, has already been exposed.

The striking trimmers, wondering where all the auto bodies loaded upon the trucks for shipment were coming from, pursued several trucks one night last week in their cars, merely to find to their great amusement that these trucks were taking trips thru strike are entirely incompetent. Last November, after a two weeks' layoff, the trimmers were hired back and a 9 per cent cut imposed on them. This cut was not sufficient for the greedy bosses, who then maneuvered another layoff in December. Operation of the plant was resumed in January, and after about seven weeks of work the trimmers received the dastardly cut of 10 per cent on Washington's birthday. After the announcement of this cut the trimmers walked out en masse. The irony in the situation is that the wages of the scabs have again been cut 71/2 per cent below the rates offered the trimmers prior to their no regular trimmers other than factory, the bosses tried various schemes to obtain some help from the local furniture industry. "Yellow slips" were sent to the homes of upholsterers announcing that a good job was waiting for them at the plant to work as trimmers, and that a mere interview with the employment manager would place them into excellent positions. No scabs were gained thru this trickery, as a union of upholsterers was organized here but a few months ago. Individual rehiring among the trimmers did not fare better. One trimmer, who was offered special opportunities if he, together with his brother, resumed work there, told the superintendent to go to hell. Both are now named as two of the nineteen defendants in the injunction.

The wrath of the bosses was given vent the other day, when a striker was drenched by a bucket of paint oured upon him from the finks in the paint stock room as he was walking by the shop. As it was self-evident hat this attack was instigated by the cosses, this striker is now suing for

When hundreds of automobile workers, together with the striking trimmers, reached St. Hyacinth Hall to attend the regular Wednesday night meeting of local 3, they were puzzled for a moment by the great number of cars parked near the hall, throwing immense spotlights on the men as hey entered the hall.

It soon became known that these spotlights were operated by executives of the Hayes Ionia company, for the purpose of spying on those workers who were attending the union meetings and learning that only thru united and organized action can they hope to solve their many shop prob-

Among their demands will be the immediate withdrawal of the newly installed platoon system from the Lowell School and the replacement of the children who have been crowded out. The parents will offer to temporarily accept the double shift providing that immediate work is started on the building of a school

This was the decision reached at a meeting of the Northwest Parents League at 1634 N. Kedzie Ave., called o consider the problems facing them at present. Speakers addressed the meeting stressing the dangers of the platoon system which was shown to be nothing less than the speed-up methods of the factory brought into the school. Boss controlled, open shop advocating, and teachers' councils busting superintendent of schools, William McAn drew was quoted as describing the platoon system and the junior high as a means for training the children to become efficient wage slaves. His chief argument for the system is that will be helpful to employers.

The need for a strong organization of the parents was also stressed and the parents were warned by a repres entative of the Rogers Park Parents League not to base any hopes on the board of education promises as "You can expect nothing but double-cross ing from the Chicago board of education," he said.

Hatred of Capitalism's Police System Revealed In Chicago Court Trial

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

HATRED for the police is given as one of the reasons for The "not guilty" verdict returned by a Chicago jury against the so-called "Genna gangsters," John Scalise and Albert Anselmi, charged with the killing of two policemen in

This was the case that the local kept press and the "100 per cent" prosecutors sought to convert into propaganda, not only against Italian immigrants, but also into an attack on all foreign-born workers. The rebuff has come quick and

One need harbor not the slightest sympathy for the Genna "millionaire" bootlegging outfit in order to draw the lessons of this trial. Workers who permit themselves to become the henchmen of the wealthy distillers of foul moonshine are beyond commiseration when they get into trouble. But the reactions of a community, in a case of this kind, where the whole propaganda power of the ruling class has been converted into an hysterical effort to arouse prejudice against all foreign-born is worthy of serious attention; especially when the "open shop" Better Government Association had carried the entire matter to Washington and asked for an investigation by the United States senate that could have been easily framed to continue the anti-alien stream of malicious falsehoods.

Capitalists seldom go on juries. They haven't the time. Jury duty is beneath them. The Scalise-Anselmi jury was made up of a railway employe, machinist, bookkeeper, wagon driver, iron worker, chauffeur, book store secretarytreasurer, foreman, signal engineer, mechanic, shoe salesman and butter roller. The first ballot stood nine to three for acquittal. It was in the discussion to win over the three for the "not guilty" verdict that some of the jurymen are reported to have stated their views on Chicago's police system. Some of these are interesting. They are worth re-

"Raid! I'll tell you how the coppers are," said one. "I was in a certain house once, not doing a thing wrong, just having a little fun, and the coppers came in and raided the place and pinched us all. Just for nothing."

"Yes," cut in another, "and the police are always quick on the draw. I remember when I was a boy and us kids used to be in swimming in the drainage canal, the cops used to come up with drawn guns and

"Yes," said another, "I was down to the LaSalle street station once, when the coppers picked up a bunch of fellows as suspicious characters -for nothing."

"They're always after you when you go out in your automobile," broke in the chauffeur. "One came up to me when I was going six miles an hour, and he told the judge I was going thirty-four, and the judge

There was more. None of the police officers with whom these jurors had come personally in contact was involved. They manifested a hatred that had been developed against

Not one of those jurors had evidently come in conflict with the police system as it is used by employers during strikes. Their hatred had therefore, not yet found a foothold on a class basis. But that will come in time.

"Passaic, New Jersey," in the minds of millions of workers, is now identified with the use by the police of tear gas against strikers. That is shocking large masses of soldier-workers, who were sent to the European war in 1917 and 1918, into doing some real thinking.

But the plans now before congress, to finger-print, photograph, and classify all foreign-born workers in the land, will inaugurate a police spy system that must inevitably reveal the capitalist state, to the whole working class population, as the ever-present power behind every act of persecution.

The Scalise-Anselmi case has brought to light a healthy hatred for the American police system among ordinary workers. American capitalism's efforts to entrench and solidify its power thru the adoption of the police methods of the deposed czarism will develop the hatred of labor as a class, not so much against the police system, but against the capitalist state that spawned it and keeps it alive.

(Special to The Daily Worker)

CLEVELAND,, March 19 - The painter bosses are not satisfied to bombastically state that they do not intend to grant the painters an increase in wages and the 40-hour week, and that they are supported by the banks, but they are now resorting to religious bunk and quote scripture to support their demands for lowered conditions for the workers.

Thus under the date of January 26, a realtor of Cleveland sent the following letter to O. P. Hoehringer, secretary of the Painters' District Coun-

"As a loyal supporter of unionism for many years, I am indeed disappointed in learning that your council has determined upon such a radical change in working conditions.

"Public sentiment is against the forty-hour working week and the action is going to prove of vast value to the open shop proponents.

"We meet with many, many people during the course of each business day and we find that public sentiment is likewise opposed to further in creases of wages in the building trades because of the fact that most of the employes can no longer claim only seasonal employment.

"Personally we cannot understand why the council would risk the chances of another period of dull years in which employment might be scarce, because while the public refuses to buy there is no need of employes

CHILDREN AND YOUNG WORKERS IN FOREFRONT OF PASSAIC STRIKE

By THELMA KAHN.

WORKERS all over the world are being oppressed by the master class.

This reached a white heat point in Passaic.

In Passaic the textile industry employs about 16,000 workers. The conditions under which they work are the most miserable that can possibly exist even in a capitalist society. The workers receive from $8 to $24 a week Such a measly amount can't buy food, clothing and shelter.

The workers, realizing their miserable conditions, realizing there was no way in which to buy their children clothing, tried to find a solution. In addition to this the bosses, not satisfied with their profits from the sweat of the workers, affected a 10% decrease of wages. This was the straw that the world, determined six days for broke the camel's back. The workers, headed by the United Front Commitlabor and the seventh for rest, and tee, by the children and women, went on strike. 12,000 men and women

Their demands are: Recognition of the union, 10% increase, time and a faction amongst those other workers half for overtime, sanitary conditions, no discrimination against union men, and the 44-hour week. These are the just demands of the Passaic textile

These little children realize the conditions of the strikers, and aiready are willing to help the strikers' cause. In Passaic this also is true. The Pioneers is an organization of children of the working class. They are organized in every large city in the world, because every city meets with the

U. S. AGENTS IN EUROPE DEPICT GLOOMY FUTURE

Declare Nations Refuse to Disarm

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, March 19 - A picture of European conditions so gloomy as to appear almost startling has been presented to President Coolidge, by his chief advisors on foreign affairs, it was learned today. With it has gone the well-nigh complete evaporation of any and all plans for promotng a new disarmament conference, either thru the agency of the league of nations, or thru independent action by the United States.

Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton and Minister Hugh S. Gibson, summoned home from Europe for consultation with the administration concerning foreign policy, are both understood to have informed President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg that it is utterly futile to expect my real constructive step toward disarmament in Europe at this time, or n the near future.

An Empty Gesture.

The league council, it is understood, will this week go thru the motions N. Y. Financier Pleads To Whom It May Concern: of postponing the already much postponed meeting of the preliminary commission on disarmament until next September, when Germany supposedly will become a member of the league. However, the president has been advised that even should this preparatory commission get together in September, which is by no means assured, there is little prospect of any real accomplishment because the viewpoints of the leaders, particularly France and Great Britain, are so far apart as to make agreement well-nigh impossible.

Disagree Upon Basis.

As a result of recent developments abroad, including Mussolini's fistbrandishing toward Germany, the revelations of intrigues at Locarno, and the break-up of the league council at Geneva, it is now considered a hopeless task to get the various European powers together on any basis of disarmament. The principal difficulty, is a fundamental difference of opinion between Britain and France as to what should constitute the basis of British Viewpoint.

It is the British viewpoint that any further disarmament on land or sea followed by the Washington conference, i. e., existing strength and visible weapons of warfare.

French Attitude. Still smarting under what she considers was unfair treatment at Washington. French statesmen positively reject this theory, and insist, instead, that any further disarmament be This would include population, wealth, industrial development, in fact anything that adds strength to a nation n war time. Under such an arrangement, of course, Britain and the United States would do most of the disarming because they are the wealthiest powers and also the most thoroly organized industrially. The poorer Latin countries, like France and Italy, would do very little disarm-

These two attitudes will inevitably clash when the league's preparatory commission meets to lay the plans for a new conference next September, Washington government, will be an acrimonious wrangle, charges and counter-charges, mutual recrimination -and nothing accomplished.

May Withdraw U. S. Acceptance. The question is being seriously discussed in the conferences which have been going on since the arrival of Houghton and Gibson as to whether America's acceptance of the league disarmament invitation is to be considered so elastic that it will cover the many postponements.

President Coolidge is exceedingly anxious, according to reports, to promote American participation in any disarmament conference that gives promise of accomplishing something. but he is represented as being stauchly opposed to participating in any bickering, quarreling and gouging under the guise of discussing disarmament. If future developments strengthen the now crystallizing opinion that the league can and will accomplish nothing, it is within the range of possibility that American

A large number of Iron arrows and knives, glass bracelets, bone combs and jewelry of gold and silver have been unearthed. Some primitive pottery, adorned with textile designs, has also been dug up. Traces of an ancient Kremlin have ben found.

The investigators state that the chief occupation of the inhabitants, judging from these remains, must have been the raising of cattle. Hunting, the stage of development indicates, had already been relegated to a minor pursuit.

Dissipating Its Energies

The Universal Negro Improvement Association, now holding its convention at Detroit, shows no indication of extricating itself from the visionary and impractical program of Garveyism. Instead the convention is embarked upon a path which will inevitably lead to the disruption of this really great mass organization of American Negroes. In the dispute over leadership persons predominate over permitted to represent the employer principles. Even in the matter of the release of Marcus Garvey, who was incarcerated because of his interference with the designs of American imperialism to hand over the Liberian Republic to the tender mercies of Mr. Harvey Firestone's rubber interests, the U. N. I. A. convention made a weak and entirely inadequate protest. It is the intention of the republican administration to deport Garvey, financiers and mill owners. This com and the U. N. I. A. convention is engaged in a controversy as to which set of individuals will inherit the crown.

The Universal Negro Improvement Association seeks to solve the problems of the Negro of America by a utopian zionism and colonization schemes. They raise the slogan of "Africa for the of those textile mills, seized by the Africans" and by implication concede to the ku klux klan their con- United States government, and during cept that "America is a white man's country."

America is not a white man's country any more than any other spot of this earth is exclusively white man's territory. America States. must belong to those who built and made America—to those who felled its forests, tilled its soil, delved in its mines, manned its transport, sweated in its steel mills and slaved on its plantations. In the work of building this nation the 12,000,000 Negro workers and farmers have, in common with their white brother workers, performed their share and more than their share of the work.

The Negro worker is beginning to realize, together with his white brothers, that their common problem can be solved only thru militant struggle and by economic and political organization, under the guidance and inspiration of the Communist International. The workers and farmers of the Soviet Union have found the practical, immediate and permanent solution of the so-called race problems that plagued the Russia of the czars, by laying the axe to the root of all race problems—by destroying the soil in which race prejudice grows-by overthrowing the capitalist economy and building in its place the socialist economy under the direction of the rule of the workers and farmers.

It would be well if the Universal Negro Improvement Association would study the method and program of Soviet Union in dealing with the race questions and national minorities and decide to affiliate with the International Association of Oppressed Peoples which has issued an inviation to the U. N. I. A. to participate in its world congress at Canton, China.

Self-Perpetuating Government

Certain American financial and industrial magnates never tire of extolling the virtues of the fascist despot, Mussolini of Italy. Their ideal government is one after the pattern of the fascist government where labor is pinioned to the industrial slave pens by the bayonets of the state and where every form of peaceful protest is obliterated. The "laws" of the fascist dictatorship are such that no political criticism dare challenge the Mussolini brigand crew.

The secretary of the fascist party, Farinacci, announced recently that the present chamber of deputies has carried out its work so well that no new elections will be held until 1929. In reality no elections will be held on that date or at any other time according to the unique l procedure adopted by the Italian government in conducting the affair. Says Farinacci:

Then (in 1929) the elections will be held much differently than they have been in the past. The government and the party will SELECT THE CANDIDATES from among the most deserving of the present deputies and from those party members who, while eminently fitted for the task, never have been interested in becoming deputies."

Thus there is no possibility of opposition. Only fascist deputies shall be permitted to run for election and the government and party shall choose these. No opposition to fascism is permitted. The voters may endorse any fascist who happens to be selected for them.

Recent exposures in the Matteotti murder, which was instigated of an overwhelming majority of the by Mussolini to prevent his exposure as a plain thief before the whole workers in these mills are from $12 to world, have made it rather difficult for the fascist apologists to make much headway with their propaganda. It is all right for the blackshirts to butcher workmen in the streets, but when it becomes necessary to dispatch a deputy by the approved methods of fascism it sometimes evokes scorn from the rest of the world. Hence in the future adequate precautions will be taken to avoid the disagreeable task of assassinating opposition members by the simple device of changing the rules of the election game so that there can be no opposition in the chamber. If the yare too disagreeable they will be butchered as private citizens, but not as public servants.

However, the fascist government will soon learn what all ruling classes have learned and that is the simple lesson of history that whenever despotism stifles opposition it has no means of measuring the forces of its enemies and eventually goes down amidst the thunder and lightning of revolution. But as for Mussolini, one thing is certain and that is he knows that even within the fraudulent forms of parliamentary democracy fascism would be so overwhelmingly rebuked that the masses, perceiving the immense numbers opposed to it would rise and crush the tyrannical government by the power of the proletarian revolution.

The local agents of John L. Lewis at Castle Shannon, Pa., write to the United Mine Workers' Journal, taking a wallop at THE Daily Worker for a story in which we said that the company is trying to blame the miners for an explosion in which 20 miners were killed. "Credit where credit is due," write the fakers, boosting the coal company. If we erred, it was in the direction of the working class. The errors of the Lewis outfit are always in the direction of the enemy of the workers. They never miss an opportunity to do the boss a good turn. Therein lies the difference.

PASSAIC STRIKERS PRESENT THEIR DEMANDS TO THE UNION-SMASHING SECRETARY OF LABOR, JAMES DAVIS

(Continued from Page 1) settlement of differences existing between the mill owners and the employes now on strike in the New Jersey textile industry. Inasmuch as you have wisely and partially declared of many occasions that a mere living wage is not in harmony with American traditions and ideals, but that every worker should be guaranteed a saving wage to provide for old age, misfortune, and education of offspring we are assuming that you will use your good offices to have our proposals for a settlement of the strike promptly accepted by the mill own

We desire to make the following ad ditional suggestions and requests:

Bar Colonel Johnson. That A. F. H. Johnson, represent ing the Botany Consolidated Mills, the largest mills affected, should not be in case of the acceptance of our proposal for conciliation and adjustment for the following reasons:

1.-The company represented by Mr. Johnson, as you are doubtless aware, is owned and controlled large ly, if not exclusively, by foreign pany has thirty affiliated textile mills in Germany, Hungary, Italy, Latvia Czecho-Slovakia and Holland.

2.-The company represented by the said Johnson was, with three others the period of the war and for a long time thereafter was in charge of the alien property custodian of the United

3.—We have appointed a sub-com mittee charged with the duty of demanding an investigation from the United States government authorities into the circumstances under which the present owners of the Botany Consolidated Mills secured the return of the property from the alien pro perty custodian.

4. The said Johnson represents the Prussianized system of factory oper ation and control which is repugnant to American industrial standards and cannot be tolerated by respectable American citizens.

5.-The said Johnson has repeated ly denied the right of his workers to a living wage and the right of collective bargainings, and has person ally influenced and fostered attacks made on the constitution rights of free speech, free press and peaceful assemblage, as evidenced by the fol

a He arbitrarily discharged the entire representative committee that waited upon him with respectful requests for redress of intolerable grievances

Assaults Strike Pickets.

The employes of the Botany mills were attacked with poisonous bombs, and men, women and children deluged with plug streams of water on a bitter cold day, causing intense suffering, resulting in illness and imperiled lives. Many victims of the assaults are still confined to their beds on account of their brutal treatment, some of em suffering from gas poisoning caused by the bombing

c. It was for the benefit of the mill controlled by the said Johnson, and directly in front thereof, that peaceful citizens, including strikers, newspapermen, and local merchants, were clubbed and beaten in order to suppress protests against the conditions in said Botany mills. Raps Protective Tariff.

We also respectfully call your attention to the fact that this industry is one of the most highly favored beneficiaries of the protective tariff system, enjoing an average rate of 8 per cent on its products. The proconents and defenders of this tariff tell us that it was passed to protect the wages and working conditions of the American workers. The earnings $20 per week, and stoppage and irregularity of employment reduce heir incomes even far below these

In consequence, we are unable to pay our rent. We have produced the pass books of our grocers to show that nany of us are unable to pay for necessary food, and practically all of us are deeply indebted to the local merchants. Almost all of the adult workers have families, and on our present wage we cannot sufficiently clothe and feed our children to keep them in school. In fact, hundreds of mothers with families are compelled to work all night to add enough to their husband's wages to support their families, thus causing enforced neglect of helpless children and strongly tending to destroy the family unit.

The infant mortality rate in our community is frightful in comparison with other localities, and the percentage of illiteracy among the impoverished workers is appalling.

at the Mecca Auditorium

Saturday Evening, April 3rd, 1926

Tickets $1.00, $1.50, $2.00

at Freiheit Office, 30 Union Square, New York City.

In comparison with the situation of the unfortunate workers and the exceedingly high tariff granted to this industry, we call your attention to the fact that, according to high financial authority, the net earnings of some of the mill companies involved, as represented by cash dividends and the issuance of preferred and common stock dividends, exceed 93 per cent

National Strike Looms,

We also call your attention to the fact that one of the reasons given by the mill owners for paying starvation wages in New Jersey is their alleged inability to compete with the New England textile mills, where rents and other living costs are lower than in Passaic. Obviously, if conditions are not relieved in New Jersey, this strike must and will extend to the other textile industries of the country, thereby bringing widespread maladjustment, as well as hunger and suffering to countless thousands of honest and industrious workers.

We are taking the liberty of making hese suggestions to the end that a just and peaceful settlement of the strike may be brought about and the present reign of terror in the New fersey textile industry ended.

For Prompt Settlement.

We recognize that the fundamental asis of right to collective bargaining the free selection of representaives by both employers and emloves. Nevertheless, we feel it our luty on behalf of those whom we represent to present these facts for your consideration so that you may use your conciliatory influence to prevent he selection of the said Johnson as a epresentative of the textile employers and endeavor to bring about a prompt settlement of the strike and elief to the thousands of suffering

> Very respectfully. Employes' Strike Committee.

heir spies and stool pigeons to get delegations satisfactory to them so that the vast majority of the workers could be betrayed into accepting any mposition of the bosses

Strikebreaker Proposal Rejected This impudent demand was flatly ejected by the committee which declared that they would not permit others to pass on what they shall eat or wear. Frank Walsh plainly said that for the government to take responsibility for such a proposal was o place it in the role of strike-

After more than two hours the conerence finally adjourned with the promise that a statement would be submitted by Walsh for the committee in a short time. After a day the statement was drawn up and reiterated the full demands against the demands of the mill owners that Weisbord get out of the strike by assailing the representatives of the owners, particularly Colonel Johnson, who speaks for the Botany Mill before which all the violence in the strike has occurred.

Mass Meeting March 24 at Schoenhofen Hall

There are before congress four bills directed against foreign-born workers in the United States. If any of these becomes a law the status of every for eign-born worker in the country will be that of a suspect liable to criminal prosecution. The significance and especially the class nature of these laws will be discussed in full at a meeting to be held on Wednesday, March 24 at 8 p. m. in Schoenhoffen Hall at Ashland and Division streets. The speakers will be Robert Minor, editor of the New DAILY WORKER Magazine and Arne Swabeck, district organizer of Workers (Communist Party District Eight.

The most dangerous of these proosals, the Aswell bill, asks that every alien worker in the country be forced to submit periodically to the indignities of the rogues' gallery. Photographs, finger-prints, complete family history and biography, regular registration — in word, provisions that go the worst European passport aws one better, constitute the Aswell bill. The penalty for failure to register is $5,000 fine, two years impris onment and deportation. Full powers are vested in the United States de partment of labor for the execution

The other bills, the McClintic bill the Hayden and Taylor bills and the Sosnowski bill are either variations or supplements to the common object of all the proposed laws affecting aliens—the intimidation of the foreign-born worker and a blow at or ganized labor as a whole.

The class nature of these measured is obvious. They constitute an at tempt to initiate a great national black-list system in the operation o which the government will directly co-operate with all the big employer of labor. The primary object is to destroy all organization among for eign-born workers and to make impos sible in the future such brave strug gles as the steel strike of 1919, the great textile strikes and the gigantic mine conflicts, the backbone of which have been the foreign-born workers. Every foreign-born worker has a di rect interest in these pernicious meas ures now before congress and will de well to acquaint himself with all the details of them by attending the meet ing in Schoenhoffen Hall on Wednes day, March 24.
