It wasn't that the workers didn't want to know who was there to look at them. Roumanian flags flew from the tops of the buildings and they were told in advance of the coming of the queen to "inspect" them. They looked up from their heavy toil and saw the narrow-guage royal special go slowly hy. They saw the queen. And they gave her the cold shoulder.

Flat Welcome.

There was no show of enthusiasm, hardly one of recognition. There was no cheering and waving of greasy work caps as the Steel Corporation dukes in the glass-covered cars anticipated. Aboard the car in which the queen sat there was a feeling of flat failure. The president of the Illinois Steel Co. shifted nervously in his seat. A high lord of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern showed that he felt the tenseness created by the damp welcome. The queen felt it.

As the little white cars crept be tween the smelters past the furnaces and thru the yards, thousands of workers saw. Many of them, perhaps a

STALIN'S SPEECH AT CONFERENCE OF THE C. P. OF THE SOVIET UNION

Assails Opposition as Anti-Leninists

By JOHN PEPPER (Special Cable to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Nov. 16 .- Joseph Stalin, secretary of the the rest of the country are none the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, was the last speaker as the special party conference came to a close after voting unanimous support to the Central Committee and setting the time for the regular party congress next autumn.

Following is a summary of Stalin's speech on the question of the opposition bloc led by Trotsky, Zinoviev and Kamenev whose proposals were beaten overwhelmingly by the assembled delegates:

STALIN'S SPEECH

Stalin pointed out that the well-known thesis of Engels, given out in 1840, in the last century, declaring that the proletariat is day's session and the report adoptunable to triumph in a single country, was true at that time, but owing to the present development of imperialism, this must be replaced by Lenin's formula stating that the victory of socialism in single countries is quite possible, and probable under the new conditions of developing capitalism+ metropolitan newspaper has permitted itself to indulge in such plain speaking, with regard to the financial implications of Marie's visit. The Tribine goes further. It/s well known statstician, Oscar Hejwitt was given the job of computing the amount of money that the queen caine in contact with n her social engagements with money pags in a score of wealthy American Tribune Opposes Loan.

Incidentally, it may be pointed out hat the Tribune is against a loan to Roumania because it is against foreign loans in general. The paper, specifically the mouth organ of McCormack's International Harvester Co., is, generally, the spokesman of large midwest industrial capital that finds itself in disagreement with the international money transactions of Wall Street. That is why it can speak so plainly.

Once on the job, Oscar Hewitt made complete analysis that led off with the sentence quoted above. After saying the queen has made many friends. Hewitt goes on: "A large percentage of these friends who have come in closest contact with her have good American dollars in large quantities."

A Little Irony.

The Tribune statistician indulges in the irony that the freedom of his paper on this question allows him by finishing his study in the following manner:

"If, following her tour of this country, it develops that Roumania actually has applied for a loan, it is certain that she-perhaps without any thought of the loan-has made friendly acquaintances in a fertile field."

Divergence of Opposition. Unlike the opposition, one must nake a difference between the victory of socialism in one country and its final and complete construction. The declaration that the party underestiof the revolution in our country is sheer calumny. The Comintern policies, such as the united front policy to help the British miners, etc., are united efforts of the international proletariat tending to world revolution, and also the development of our

Workers Will Slap Last In Their Struggle With the Capitalist Politicians

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

ITHE Federated Press correspondent at Washington reports that Senator Curtis of Kansas, Coolidge-Mellon republican leader in the upper house of congress, upon meeting Senator Lynn Frazier, of North Dakota, a week following the recent elections, jovially slapped the western solon on the back and addressed him as follows:

"Hello, Lynn! How are you? I'm coming in to see you and have a talk, before long.'

This should be important news for the workers and farmers, especially labor out in Minnesota and the Dakotas, where the Fraziers and nonpartisan political action constitute an employing class antidote for the Farmer-Labor Party and independent political action.

Frazier was elected on teh republican ticket in North Dakota. He was supported by what remains of the nonpartisan league.

In Minnesota some remnants of the repudiated nonpartisan league leadership in that state are trying to lure the workers and farmers back into the democratic party. At the same time there are rumors that Hendrik Shipsted, the farmerlabor senator from Minnesota, is being urged to run as a republican in 1928, when his term expires.

When Curtiss slapped Frazier on the back at Washington, it was, to some extent, a verification of every charge that the Coolidge administration is seeking to enmesh all the socalled insurgents in its all-inclusive political net. There are indications that the Coolidge cry for "Help!" wil not go unheeded.

The republican "old guard" put Frazier out on the back doorstep in 1924 when the North Dakota senator supported LaFollette. Not only Frazier, but the whole LaFollette outfit, stayed around that same back doorstep making the worst kind of a racket asking to be let

The door has been gradually op-The republicans need the votes to keep the democrats from coming in the front door.

The negotiations between the "old guard" and the "insurgents" are not based on principle. It is merely a matter of jobs. If Frazier can be prevailed on to accept some committee chairmanship, then it is felt that he will be hogtied to the machine of the G. O. P. sufficiently to maintain a working republican majority. All this will take place next year with the assembling of the new congress.

Efforts to win over the "insurgents" however, will be made even at the rapidly approaching short session of congress. First attempts at mollification will be made in the case of Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, who is in line for the chairmanship of the senate judiciary committee as a result of the tember, in which he predicted the future consolidation of the opposition bloc. Stalin emphasizes the disorganization of the bloc, its best elements, knowing that industry is unable at the like Comrade Krupskaya, having forsaken it. The results are quite contrary to those predicted in Trotzky's letter. The party long ago turned its demagogic aims, using the dissatisfac- back on the opposition, whose complete failure is obvious.

The conference, standing, cheered death of Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa. There were threats against Norris, demanding that he be barred from this committee appointment because he went into Pennsylvania during the recent campaign and urged the election of the democrat, William B. Wilson, to the United States senate. The predicament of the republican "old guard" may be judged from the fact that it is even willing to overlook this breach of party regularity. It is expected that the republican committee on committees will meet in a few days and make its position clear. It is also declared that Senator

Charles L. McNarty, of Oregon, one of the authors of the McNary-Haugen farm relief measure that was rejected by the Coolidge cabinet with Mellon as chief opposition spokesman, will be promoted to the chairmanship of the senate committee on agriculture.

Senator James Couzens, of Michigan, who is somewhat "irregular' at times, may become chairman of the committee on education and labor, thus helping to spike his guns.

Norris, Frazier, McNary, Couzens, and perhaps Shipsted, will hail these appointments as "victories" for the progressives in congress. They are nothing of the kind. They are merely maneuvers to bring insurgency under the wing of the old guard.

The "old guard" maneuver will help destroy the influence of these politicians even as spokesman of the middle class.

It should also help unmask them as political agents of the great capitalists and therefore the worst enemies of the workers.

In the days ahead the LaFollette group will be drawn, more and more, into the regular republican machine. This is inevitable. But this should act as a stimulus toward the development of the Farmer-Labor movement, not only in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana and Washington, but in Iowa, Nebraska and other states as well.

The LaFollette politicians have been slapped on the back by the "old guard" in loving approval of what may be expected of them in the future.

In the next election struggle these LaFollette politicians will again come among the workers and farmers, in their back slapping stump speeching campaigns, seeking the votes of those they have betrayed.

The time for the workers and farmers to repudiate that backslapping, vote-seeking campaign is now. The method is thru the building of the independent political action of the workers and farmers thru the Labor Party. That will be a slap in the face for both the big and little capitalist class politicians. But he who slaps last

VARE AND SMITH WILL BE OUSTED SURVEY REVEALS

Senate Alignment Now Against Seating

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 .- William S. Vare of Pennsylvania and Frank L Smith of Illinois, whose senatorial campaigns were featured by huge expenditures, will be ousted from the senate in the seventieth congress by an overwhelming vote, a partial poli has revealed.

G. O. P.'s Join Dems.

The poll revealed that at least 17 republican senators will vote along with virtually the entire democratic membership of the new senate to nullify their election. Such a lineup would result in the ousting of Vare and Smith by a two-to-one vote, as the republican organization will have but single vote plurality after next

The republican senators who are known to oppose the seating of Vare and Smith are: Jones, Washington; McNary and Steiwer, Oregon; Johnson, California; Borah and Gooding. Idaho; Norris and Howell, Nebraska; Frazier and Nye, North Dakota; Mc-Master and Norbeck, South Dakota; Brookhart, Iowa; Capper, Kansas; La-Follette and Blaine, Wisconsin, and Couzens, Michigan.

Won't Condone Graft.

Not all these senators have come out publicly in denunciation of the Vare and Smith campaign funds, but those who are not as yet on record either voted to oust Tryman H. Newberry in 1922 for spending $195,000 or have told friends privately they would not condone the Pennsylvania and Illinois primaries. This poll, incidentally. does not represent the maximum anti-Vare or maximum anti-Smith strength in the senate. A half dozen more republican senators were reported ready to vote against both men, altho not yet committed.

Democrats Nearly Solid.

To date the democratic ranks have emained almost solid against the two senators-elect. The lone break came when Senator Cole Blease, of South Carolina, announced he would vote to seat both Vare and Smith on the ground the senate had no control over primaries in the states.

The attitude of several prominent republicans in denouncing slush funds has done much to turn sentiment against Vare and Smith. "Old guardsmen" were shaken first when Theodore Roosevelt took to the stump to attack slush funds and their users. A far greater shock came only a few days ago, when General John J. Pershing criticized lavish use of funds in campaigns.

Pershing Backs Norris. The Pershing statement, incidentally, has given fuel to Senator George W. Norris, insurgent leader, who campaigned against Vare in Pennsylvania. Norris declared Pershing's utterance was an endorsement of his own doctrine that the use of slush funds meant auctioning off of public offices.

U. S. BATTLESHIPS WORKER WHO ACCEPTED CHALLENGE OF LADY ASTOR TO GO TO RUSSIA WRITES OF EXPERIENCES HE FINE OF LADY ASTOR TO GO TO RUSSIA WRITES OF EXPERIENCES HE FINDS

The following is a letter from James Morton, London worker, who acepted the challenge of Lady Astor to take his family to Russia to live for a period. Lady Astor didn't think any one would accept her "daring challenge," but Morton did. This letter was sent to a worker in Los Angeles.

Dear Comrades: I have so many to write to that I will be compelled to organize my friends into groups. No. 1 Group consists of London comrades, who will pass all correspondence on to Liverpool. From Liverpool, letters United States were being extended to can be sent to the comrades in the United States. We landed in Leningrad on Friday,+ by a deputation from the Supreme Economic Council, who whizzed us away in an auto to the Hotel Europa. We were asked to stay as their guests for a few days, but just arranged Yesterday the American cruiser to stay long enough to allow Alan, who had been sick during the whole sea voyage, to recover a bit.

We left on Saturday night at 11, had bed each in a sleeping car, had a goed night's sleep and reached Mostow at 10:30 on Sunday morning. Here we were met by another delegation, which took us into a car and drove us to the Bolshoi Hotel. Surrounded by eastern luxury, we had good time. We met a few old comrades and had very soon decided that we had reached the promised land.

On Monday I had an interview with Comrade Lepsi, the chairman of the Metal Workers' Union, who advised us to return to Leningrad, as it was a much better place for engineering workers, and also because it was much easier to get housing accommodation at the biggest plant in all Russia. There are over 3,000 members of the Communist Party working at the Red Putilov Fabrik. Down the road from where I work is the Marti ship yard, called after the French Communist. All the works are called after working-class leaders.

We have had a great reception here. Everyone is greatly amused at the Astor affair. We have been chased by photographers and story writers.

Today. Sept. 5, great demonstraions have been held all over Russia to collect funds for the English miners. North, south, east and west the children, youths, soldiers, sailors, workers and peasants have been marching and collecting. What enthusiasm! What a display of working-class solidarity! It would be worth while living on dry bread to be here.

Leningrad from an early hour this morning has been a blaze of color and gaiety. Thousands of people of all ages marching. The police, military, naval sections, all marching with the workers and singing revolutionary not give justice to it all.) On they march, column after column. Mary and Alan beaming with joy, marching with the Young Pioneers. Tableaux in galore. Here a huge wooden figure (bust and head) representing a capitalist, top hat, eye-glasses and sigar complete, and a young Communist (very much alive) knocking hell out of him with an axe.

It is estimated that in Leningrad aicne over $25,000 would be collected today. The activities here on behalf of the English miners make one ashamed and disgusted with that bunch of fakers who run the labor movement in England.

I have met Mrs. Cook and the other miners' wives, also the other dele-Uritsky Palace (formerly the Duma) where they were met by the workers' delegates of Leningrad at a meeting organized by the trades council of this city. They got a magnificent relike being at Armstrong-Whitworth's. ception. I wrote a report of the meeting and sent it to the Daily Herald.

It is getting late and I have been writing a number of letters today, so will now conclude this one with fraternal greetings. James Morton.

IRON MOULDERS STRIKE AGAINST WAGE SLASHES, Y.W.L. INSPIRES WORKERS

By a Worker Correspondent. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16 .- In the midst of an organization campaign carried on by the Young Workers' League at the O'Keefe & Merrit stove factory, fifty moulders in the foundry rooms walked out against a wage cut, and are now under the direction of the moulders' union.

Two strike issues of the "Stove Worker," bulletin of the Young Workers' League, have already been distributed. Attempts have been made to use scabs, but five workers who were transferred to the foundry refused to scab, and were fired. The league builetin urges the young stove workers to refuse to scab on their fellow-workers who are striking, and warns of a threat-

GIRL, 12, JAILED FOR AIDING IN PASSAIC RELIEF

Young Pioneers

By a Worker Correspondent. ROSSELLE, N. J., Nov. 16 .- Mary Kortnowsky, 12-year-old member of the Young Pioneers, was arrested here for selling bread cards for the relief of the Passaic textile strikers' children. The little girl was dragged from the house where she was trying to sell a card by a member of the local poice and thrown into a foul cell in police headquarters. She was held there for over six hours before her parents were able to get her release.

Given Rough Treatment. During the six hours she was held n jail the little child was subjected to he most brutal treatment and ques tioning. The police questioned her at length regarding the Young Pioneers, and Mary told them what the Pioneers were—an organization of working class children fighting for the working

The police told her parents that they would certainly have detectives on hand at the next meeting of the Pioneers. They intimated that the Pioneer group in Rosselle would be broken up by force if it were found as radical as Mary's reply indicated. Another Pioneer Grilled.

This is not the first occurrence of this kind in Rosselle. A few weeks ago Herbie Axel, an 11-year-old Pioneer, showed his teacher a copy of the Young Comrade. The teacher was horrified. She took Herbie to the principal of the school, who, after questioning him, evidently found he needed help to curb this infant "red menace," and called the police department. A detective was sent over to the school and Herbie's mother was also called into conference. Mrs. Axel said that she knew Herbie belonged to the Pioneers and that she entirely approved of their program. The principal then threatened to expel Herbie from school unless he left the Pioneers. His mother replied that her son would continue to be a member of the Pioneers at all costs, as she thought something was needed to counteract the poisonous capitalist propaganda of the public schools.

The Challenge of Youth

Why Every Young Worker Should Join the Young Workers (Communist) League

By SAM DARCY

IS JUST OFF THE PRESS!

It's something new and vitally necessary in the work of revolutionary youth. This pamphlet tells in simple language what the Young Workers League is and why young workers should join it. It analyzes the condition of the working youth of this country and deals with their problems as no other book or pamphlet has done up to now.

RESOLUTION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED BY THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

I. The General Situation.

1. The Economic Situation.

THE industries of this country are still operating at a high rate of production, with on indication of an immediate sharp trend toward depression. The figures showing the trend of production during the past few months still show a general upward tendency. Even such industries as textile and mining, which have been in a partial state of crisis, show some improvement, the latter as the result of the export of scab coal to Great Britain and the Continent to fill the shortage caused by the strike of the British miners. There are in the background, factors indicating the instability and weakness of the present situation such as the decrease of exports, the recession in building operations, the downward trend of the automobile industry, the dangers to the credit system resulting from inflated installment has a high standard of life itself. The fact that the workers are not sharing as a class in the general prosperity of capitalist industry is shown by the course of production and wages. Certain sections of the workers, the organized. skilled workers, who make the aristocracy of the labor movement, have made gains as a result of the concessions made by the capitalists to make them allies of American imperialism, but this is not true of the masses of workers. During the six years from 1919 to 1925 wages show a decrease of 9% reactionary leaders of the aristocracy of labor, wideand the cost of living a decrease of 11% indicating only a very slight gain in the real wages of the workers. Our party has not learned to connect its general agitation with the local questions affecting the lives of the workers. The party organization in each city must study the local political questions, formulate a program on the basis of the workers' issues and raise the slogan of "A United Labor Ticket in the City Elections-A Labor Party for the 1928 Elections," in connection with these municipal elections. The aim which the party must set itself is to organize local labor parties, or, if this objective cannot be achieved, to organize committees for the formation of a labor party. In the elections this year, the party organizations in many places did not prepare early enough for the election campaign and consequently failed in placing a ticket in the field. This must not happen in the municipal elections. Steps must be taken immediately to see that a united labor ticket is placed on the ballot in every city in which the municipal elections take place, or if this cannot be achieved, a party a-In connection with this mobilization of the party for the election campaigns next year, it is necessary to carry on an ideological campaign in the party to bring to the party members an understanding of the necessity of the party participating in the election campaigns to the fullest possible extent. Our party still responds too little to the possibilities for development of a movement of the workers and extending the party influence thru election campaigns. These campaigns constitute a major opportunity for agitation among the workers and the party must utilize them to the fullest extent. Election campaigns as a means of political propaganda and agitation have especially great significance for our party. Active participation in election campaigns will be the means of our first approach to many American workers.

2-The party must take up in earnest the work of forming trade union committees for the formation of a labor party, in every local union, in the central labor bodies of each city, and on a state scale, as outlined in the resolution of the last convention. The formation of a network of trade union committees for the formation of a labor party thruout the whole country will create a solid basis for the realization of the slogan, "A Labor Party in the 1928 Elections."

3-The party should endeavor to initiate under trade union auspices if this can be achieved, if not, under party auspices, a referendum of workers in the factories thru a petition addressed to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor requesting that body to call a national conference of trade unions, co-operatives, labor fraternal organizations and labor political parties for the formation of a labor party to represent labor in the 1928 elec-

gress in elimininating factionalism in the party to 1,000 in the month of October, with the corduring the past year, particularly since the last plenum of the Central Committee in May. Here and there remnants of the whole condition still exist in the party and further efforts to liquidate these situations must be made. The line of the Central Committee for complete unification of the party and mobilizing of all its forces, both in the membership and leadership must be followed until all remnants of factionalism are ended and the party carries on its work as a united whole.

THE party is following a line which rejects both right wing deviations and ultra-left sectarianism. Wherever manifestations of either appear in the party, they must be exposed and repudiated. Neither of these deviations from Leninism appear in the party in a crystallized form extending thru the party.

However, right wing manifestations have appeared in a number of instances in our trade union work. particularly in the city of New York. The right wing manifestations here referred to have become outstanding in the conduct of some of our comrades leading the strike of the cloakmakers. Permeated by a craft union ideology, these comrades not only resisted the party policy on amalgamation, but failed also to carry out the decisions of the party that a militant struggle be waged against the Sigman right wing machine which consciously worked for the defeat of the strike in order to use the defeat to eliminate the left wing from control of the union. The failure to pursue a militant policy in this and many other matters demanded by the party has weakened the party influence among the masses in the cloakmakers' strike.

The party must therefore resolutely resist all these manifestations, endeavoring to convince the comrades of their mistakes and bring them to the party line. If these measures do not result in the correction of these right wing deviations, the party will be obliged to take stronger measures.

3. Party Education.

THE New York Workers' School represents a big achievement for the party. Hundreds of comrades are receiving a training in Marxism and Leninism thru the classes of this school. Similar schools on a smaller scale are being developed in other cities. This work is of the utmost importance to the party and must be given the fullest support and extended. A training in the theoretical basis of Communism is the best guarantee that our party will remain true to the correct Communist policies and reject all deviations to the right or left. Such training will also strengthen the party for every phase of its (Special to The Daily Worker) BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 16 .- The secnd annual conference of the Internaional Labor Defense, New England district, will be held here, Nov. 28, at Franklin Union Hall, 41 Berkeley St. Delegates will attend from labor unions, working class organizations, and I. And the same thing applied to the movement in its national aspects. The American Federation of Labor was maintaining a bureau in Washington, for the purpose of combatting the radicals. and this bureau was for practical purposes the same as any patriotic society; its function was to collect false statements about Russia from all over the world, and feed them to the American labor press. And of course, if any labor man was defiant, and insisted upon telling the other side, he would incur the bitter enmity of this machine, and they would throw him to the wolves. There would be a scare story in the capitalist press, telling how the Communists had got possession of the plasterers' union, or maybe the button workers, and the grand jury was preparing action against a nest of conspirators. The average labor leader, no matter how honest and sincere, shivered in his boots when such a club was swung over his head.

Also there was Harry Seager and his troubles. The Seager Business College had turned out a class of young men and women, thoroughly trained to typewrite, "All men are created free and equal," and also, "Give me liberty or give me death." And now these young people were going about in the business offices of Angel City, and discovering that nobody wanted employes to sypewrite anything of that sort! In plain words these young people were being told that the Seager Business College was a Bolshevik institution, and the business men of the city had been warned not to employ its graduates. The boycott was illegal n Angel City, and if any labor men tried to apply it, they would be whisked into jail in a jiffy. But imagine Harry Seager asking the district attorney to prosecute the heads of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, whose campaign contributions had put the district attorney into office!

Bunny went up to Paradise, and there was another bunch of grief. In preparation for the coming struggle over the wage scale, the oil operators were weeding out the "trouble-makers," which meant the active union men. And now for the first time, Ross Consolidated was following the policy of the rest. Ben Riley, one of the fellows who met in the Rascum cabin, had been old that he was no longer needed. They had too many men, the foreman had said, but that was a plain lie, because he had taken on half a dozen new men since. No, Ben was a Socialist, and cal officials. It was Ruth who told Bunny about this; very seriously, with distress in her gentle eyes. "It's a shame, Bunny, because Ben has got no place to go. And here he's got a home, and a wife and two little girls.'

Bunny was worried too; Dad had promised this kind of thing should not happen!

"Can't you do something about it?" pleaded Ruth.

"Well, Ruth, but Ben was a pumper, and that's in the department of operation, and Dad has only to do with the development work. He wouldn't butt in on the superintendent of op-

"Yes, Bunny, but then, what about Ben's feelings, and all the men?" Ruth persisted, with that surprising force that gentle people sometimes display. Ruth did not understand abstract questions, she had not theories about the "class struggle"; but when it came to a human fact, a grievance, then she was posessed by it, and as determined as Paul. These men who came to Meet Thursday Night to the cabin to argue and discuss, they were all her friends, and if they did not get a square deal, something must be done!

So here was Bunny in his old tormenting position watching a fight which he was powerless to stop, or even to mitigate! Ben Riley managed to get work on a ranch; he had to put in twelve hours a day, but all the same, he would come onto the tract at editor of the Federated Press will night and distribute his Socialist literature—and of course with Send The DAILY WORKER speak on "Who controls the schools a burning sense of bitterness, shared by his frends.

STRIKE STRATEGY

By WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

ARTICLE XVII UNDER-COVER MEN

American employers make more extensive use of undercover men than any capitalists in the world. They plant large numbers of detectives and stool pigeons among the workers to betray and defeat them. Those under-cover men constitute a real problem in all important organizing campaigns and strikes. Strike strategy must include ways and means to uncover these traitors and to defeat their treacherous activities.

In all sections of the labor movement the under-cover men are a deadly influence, but nowhere so much as in newly formed organizations of the unskilled. In established unions the employers, to control the masses, depend largely upon the corrupt and conservative bureaucracy. But in new unions and movements of the unorganized, the employers have to depend upon the under-cover men. Hence, employers flood such new unions with their detectives and try to capture them entire.

In about all the great movements of the unorganized in American industries under-cover men work their way into the leading committees. Often the leadership is saturated with spies and detectives. In some cases, as in the I. W. W. a dozen years ago, the rubber strike in Akron, undercover men actually made up a majority of the leading union committees.

Under-cover men are obstructionists, provocateurs, spies, and disrupters. When many of them are working together in a new union they may engage in all these activities, simultaneously, but generally they are to be found performing one particular, organized role, the character of which is dependent on the state of the movement. The employers carefully fit their policies in the shops to harSTRANGLING A STRIKE

Under-cover men appear as obstructionists especially when an organizing campaign is just beginning, or is just weakly going ahead. Therefore, they set their | Especially is this the case in the later, more difficult stages stool-pigeons, well-organized and strategically situated, at of these struggles. They then spread defeatism among the a policy of systematic obstructionism. These worthies oppose the honest leaders, spread defeatism among the workers, and block every effort to build or vitalize the movement. In this way many a promising movement has been

The employers, to facilitate the slow strangulation of the movement, do not discharge or otherwise victimize leading workers, fearing thus to galvanize the whole body of workers into action. Under these circumstances, the left wing must militantly expose the harmful tactics of the detectives. It must fight for the democratization of the leading committees, and upon every possible occasion force these doubtful characters before mass meetings of the rank and file to defend their reactionary policies. When the leading union committee is controlled by under-cover men, ways must be found to crystallize the honest forces in the union and to gradually build a substitute leading body.

PROVOKING PREMATURE STRIKES Where a movement is going ahead effectively and the choking process can not succeed, then the employers may decide to kill the union by a premature strike. Then the under-cover men become provocateurs, demanding a strike to adjust some discharge case or other grievance carefully rigged up by the employers. As strike provocateurs, the under-cover men are especially dangerous. They pretend to be the defenders of the rank and file. But the left wing must learn to keep its head and not allow the workers to be stampeded into hopeless strikes.

In flourishing organization campaigns, such as those in the packing and steel industries in 1917-19, the role of the under-cover men is reduced pretty much to that of the spy

Left wing leaders must learn how to combat the menace of the under-cover man. This is not to be done by inagurating alarmist spy-hunts such as have occurred in some unions. The best way to approach the problem is by a careful study of the given situation, and to systematically isolate those doubtful individuals who are manifestly carrying out the under-cover policy of the employers. This much can be done to neutralize these traitors and often they can be exposed and driven from the unions.

METHODS OF DIVISION

The employers seek to demoralize the workers intellectually by injecting the poison of patriotism in their ranks and by cultivating religious prejudices among them. They starve the strikers and their women and children; they terrorize them with the courts, the army, the police, and various kinds of private thugs. To all these methods They head "back-to-work" movements, frame up acts | they add bribery, in the shape of cash payments to leaders, and of illusory concessions to the workers, such as company unions, welfare systems, temporary wage increases.

They plant their provocateurs and detectives in the But it is based in the methods most likely to break up the ranks of the workers to mislead and betray them. They try to force them back into the mills or shops with "Citizens' Committees" and "Back-to-Work" organizations. Their nondescript politicians and go-betweens try to poison the strikers' spirit in a hundred insidious ways. In ther quiverthe employers have many deadly arrows of disruption to shoot into the ranks of the workers.

UNITY THE PRIMARY TASK

To defeat the employers' many-phased policy of driving wedges between the different categories of workers, of starving, terrorizing, demoralizing, and bribing them; to maintain a solid, unbreakable unity of the strikers in spite The essence of good leadership in strike situations is of all these attacks, is the prime task of working class plication of the general line of strategy above outlined.

3. Party Mobilization Campaign.

IN order to turn the attention of the party to the work of strengthening the party organization and the training of the new party units in their work, a party mobilization campaign must be initiated immediately and during the next six months a large part of the party energies must be directed to the organizational problems. This party mobilization shall include the following: A. The drawing back into the party of members who did not come into the reorganized party. Many members were dropped from the party. thru lack of persistent propaganda to win them for the reorganized party and thru a too mechanical cutting off of these members from the reorganized party. These members can be drawn back into the party. B. A recruiting campaign to win new members. Our party has never developed the necessary organization measures to draw into the less ination is that the whole membership is not the class struggle. The party must learn that constant recruiting of new members must accompany the political and industrial campaigns of the party.

C. The training of efficient party officials for the shop and street nuclei. For this purpose, training schools for party officials must be established in every large city and comrades must be brought in for week-end lectures from the

D. Closer contact must be established between the sub-section, section and city committees with the nuclei, with representatives of these committees attending the meetings to give instructions on how to carry out the party campaigns and to train the shop nuclei how to carry on their work in the factories.

E. The shop and street nuclei must be furnished with agendas for discussion of the party problems, and work under the leadership of representatives of the committee having charge of the territory in which they are organized. F. One of the weaknesses of the party organdrawn into the party campaigns. The nuclei must be trained in the assignment of work to every member with regular reports on the carrying out of the work assigned.

G. In connection with this campaign, there must be a campaign for systematic payment of dues by all party members so as to register the whole strength of the party monthly dues. H. The organization department and agitprop department shall work out concrete instructions for the carrying out of the above phases of the party mobilization campaign. The campaign to draw back the old members and recruit new members shall be so developed, as to make the Lenin memorial meetings the climax
