WHEN the devil was sick the devil a monk would be: when the devil was well the devil a monk was he.' So it is with Calvin Coolidge. When millions of bamboozled workers and farmers landed him in the White House a few years ago Calvin laid down the law strictly and caustically to the so-called insurgents that find It profitable to stage a little rebellion in the G. O. P. corral, occasionally. But the devil is now politically ill and repentant, since those voters who scratched the ballots one way a few years ago scratched them another way in the last election.

THERE is such a thing as gratitude in politics. The politician who does not do the right thing by the fellows who bring out the vote is not likely to sprout gray hairs in the busi ness. Politicians can afford to be faithless to the voters but not to the wote-getters. Coolidge recollected that a fellow by the name of Hanna tried to do the right thing by him in North Dakota, so when a marshal was needed in that state Hanna's friend got the job. There ensued frenzied indignation from the successful insurgents who felt that any gravy that might be squirted around should find a resting place on their hamburger. A few kicks from the insurgents and a decent fellow was out of a job. Which again proves that nothing succeeds like success.

THE Queen of Roumania was rather disappointed on reaching Bucharmest only to find her husband awaiting ther in the depot. "So, this is not Chicago" the queen growled as Ferdy got a half Nelson on her, just by way of keeping up appearances. It appears that Marie's train was late and the government got hungry and repaired to the nearest lunch counter. While guzzling, the queen arrived. A considerate official sidetracked the train long enough—as he thot—to enable the government to wind up their gastronomic activities but to no avail. The nose bags proved more attractive than the queen. Which confirms us in our belief that the value of a queen like most anything else is determined by the socially necessary labor power embodied in her production, DENVER reader of The DAILY A WORKER takes sharp issue with me over some remarks I recently made anent the threat of five thousand French girls to meet an equal number of American legionnaires when the latter disembark in France for the legion convention, with a view to applying for alimony. Expressing regard for our occasional lucidity our contributor expresses regret that we should have fallen so low in our estimation of the prowess of the legionnaires. Jadging from his letter, our reader seems to be of the opinion that most of the members of the American Legion that can afford to visit France heard of the war when it was over. The fact that the Denverite served in the war gives him some right to express such a caustic opinion.

THERE recently died in this city an individual by the name of Patrick Carr, who distinguished himself during a hectic political career, by acts of charity that did not appreciably deplete his bank roll. All good things finally end and so did Carr. After being elected sheriff of one of the juiciest counties in America-Cook county-Carr petered out. His funeral was the envy of this city's political circles. Rich and poor piled flowers on his coffin. The papers used up columns of space dwelling on his generosity. But after it was all over people began to ask: "Where did Carr get the money that he gave away?" No doubt Carr was a fine fellow but a man who walks about the streets distributing money to the masses must be exceedingly honest to get away with it.

CAPTAINS of industry are scheduled to meet with war department officials today to discuss the question of national defense, Those naive citizens who think that this government of ours represents all the people should find something to ponder over in this announcement. It is quite obvious that governmental action is determined by the interests of the capitalist class and that our senators and congressmen are merely puppets that are depended on to create the impression that the country is run from Washington,

A Letter to All Those Workers Who Want a Fighting Daily Workers' Newspaper in the United States

DEAR COMRADES:—The DAILY WORKER has been fighting the workers' battles now for nearly three years.

During that time it has been in the forefront of every struggle in the workers' Interests:

It has supported every struggle for better wages and working conditions. It has stood for making the trade unions militant fighting organizations of the workers. It has fought for amalgamation of the trade unions into industrial unions in order to strengthen the organized labor movement.

It has carried on the struggle for independent political action by the workers thru the formation of a labor party.

It has helped in the fight to defend the workers who are prosecuted by the capitalists for their part in the class struggle. It has supported the campaign for the organization of the unorgan-

It has been the leader in the struggle against the attack on the foreign-born workers thru proposed laws to register, fingerprint and photo-

It has carried on the work of building a revolutionary movement of the workers for a workers' and farmers' government and the abolition of

The DAILY WORKER has been kept alive to carry on this work in the Interest of the workers thru the support it has received from those who are fighting for this program.

Today The DAILY WORKER again faces a crisis. It must raise a fund of $50,000 In order to overcome that crisis and guarantee the appearance of The DAILY WORKER for the coming year.

Altho over $23,000 of this fund has been raised, The DAILY WORKER'S immediate need of financial support is still great. It must raise the balance of the fund in order to overcome its financial crisis. It must raise at least $3,000 weekly to make headway against this crisis.

The DAILY WORKER appreciates the spirit shown by those who support it in raising the $23,000 contributed. BUT TO MEET THE SITUATION THIS SUPPORT MUST BE CONTINUED UNTIL THE $50,000 FUND IS COMPLETED.

This letter is an appeal to every worker who is for the program above outlined to take up the fight for The DAILY WORKER anew, and to complete the $50,000 fund by securing additional contributions.

This will require hard work. It means that the utmost resources must be mobilized in the fight for The DAILY WORKER. Send in contributions direct to The DAILY WORKER, Circulate the

Keep The DAILY WORKER certificate books and secure the support of every worker who will help.

WE MUST NOT LOSE THIS FIGHT. WE CAN WIN THIS FIGHT. WE WILL WIN IT IF THE SAME ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORT IS GIVEN THE KEEP THE DAILY WORKER FUND WHICH WAS SHOWN IN THE RAISING OF THE $23,000 ALREADY CONTRIBUTED.

CANTON ENVOYS WATCH SESSIONS OF THE LEAGUE

It Doesn't Recognize Them—Nor They It

(Special to The Dally Worker) GENEVA, Dec. 6.—Representatives of the Canton People's government of China attended sessions of the league of nations as observers. Considerable attention was pald to the smiling and polite envoys of the new revolutionary government because everyone feels that it will be the only government in China before many more days have

Some exception to their preence at the league meeting because the Canton government is not a recognized one was answered by the Kuomintang representatives with the observation that their government did not recognize the league of nations, either. They intimated that if they are sufficiently impressed with the league that it is possible their government might consider joining it. But for the time being they preferred to remain merely unofficial observers of the league's sessions.

It is also significant that the delegate of the Peking government lodged no protest against their presence. This is explained by the fact that the Peking government is no government at all. Merely a shadowy appendage of the military machine of the war lords of north China.

Shanghai Demonstration Stopped. SHANGHAI, Dec. 6 .- A huge demonstration organized by the workers of Shanghai in support of the Kuomintang government now removed from Canton to Wuchang was suppressed by the authorities. The military governors of Shanghai, taking their orders from Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian generalissimo of the militarist allies, took this action finally after many weeks of very careful tactics with the population who do not hide their sympathies with the advancing Cantonese.

Supreme Court Decides Against Secretary

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. - Another conspiracy trial, growing out of the oil scandals was assured when the supreme court held that ex-secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair must stand trial on the indictment growing out of Fall's lease of Teapot Dome to Sinclair.

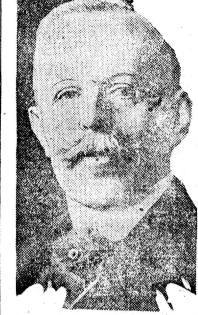

Fall is now on trial for conspiracy n connection with the lease of Elk Hills reserve to Edward L, Doheny, The decision means as soon as the present trial is ended, Fall in all propability will be brot to trial again with Sinclair.

The decision upheld the lower courts, which also had sustained the validity of the indictment against the ex-cabinet officer and Sinclair,

Robinson Sticks to Story. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6-Capt, J, K. Robinson, witness for the defense of Fall and Doheny in the trial on charges of the Elk Hills oil lease conspiracy, stuck to his story that the navy department sanctioned the oil leases to Doheny because of their fear of a war with Japan. He said that was the reason secrecy was enforced on the dealings. When the cross-examiner pointed out to him that he had testified before the senate committee that the secrecy was to prevent congress learning of the transaction. Robinson professed a weak memory,

He also could not explain the war fear in view of the fact that at the time of the leases, Japan and the United States were in conference to agree upon disarmament plens.

WORLD UNITY GOES FORWARD,

Intl. Head Returns from Mexico Meet

SAYS FIMMEN

By ESTHEL LOWELL, Federated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 .- International trade union unity is growing, slowly but surely, in spite of the present black outlook, asserted Edo Fimmen, secretary of the International Transport Workers' Federation, on his departure for Europe after five weeks' visit to Mexico. Fimmen and delegates from British, German, Swiss, Polish, Argentinian, Nicaraguan and Cuban trade union federations met in Mexico on invitation from the Mexican Federation of Labor (Crom).

The Japanese workers' delegates ailed to secure permission to pass thru the United States and could not attend the conference, nor could the French delegate come at the last moment. American Federation of Labor representatives were at the Detroit convention.

Discuss Unity.

No set topics were discussed at the Mexican meeting, but the general subject of world labor unity was the major problem faced. The Mexican federation maintained its stand that it would join no international trade union federation (except the Pan-American Federation of Labor) until there was greater unity between the International Federation of Trade Unions at Amsterdam and the Red International of Trade Unions at Moscow. Ohter Latin-American groups unaffiliated with either international follow the same policy. Argentine's federation joined the I. F. T. U. (Amsterdam) a few months ago and Chile's federation is affiliated with the R. I. L. U. (Moscow).

Should another reactionary attempt be made, inside or outside of Mexico, to overthrow the present government there, the International Transport Workers' Federation would stand by he Mexican people, Fimmen declared

The two and a half million deckers. railwaymen and seamen affiliated to the international supported the British workers valiantly in the May, 1926, general strike. Fimmen said. When the British transport unions, at the end of the general strike, stated that they would haul all coal, foreign and domestic, the international federation could not well be expected to have with an embargo unaided. The British transport workers' stand was federation.

Where Chinese Strike Against Foreign Imperialists

Here is a panorama of the important Central China city of Hankow where the Chinese labor unions, since capture of the city by the national revolutionary armies have conducted a strike against the foreign concessions. The Canton government has been moved to Wuchang, a great industrial city across the Yangtze river from Hankow. The nationalist government plans a bridge to connect the two cities.

10,000 MINERS TALK OF STRIKE IN PITTSTON, PA.

Penna. Coal Co. Miners Await Developments

PITTSTON, Pa., Dec. 6. - The 10:000 miners in and around Pittston. mostly all employed by the Penna Coal company, are now waiting with interest the next link in the long chain of developments which will make for the building or the destruction of the United Mine Workers of America in this region.

Cappellini Balks.

Brazenly refusing to give Alexander Campbell, ex-member of the International Executive Board of the U. M. W. A. a credential to act as checkweighman for the miners of Number 6 colliery of Pittston, Rinaldo Cappellini, district president, is bringing to a head a very serious situation.

Campbell was elected by an overwhelming majority at the local union elections some time ago to serve the men as checkweighman. Campbell has long been known as an enemy of the hated contractors which are in vogue in the mines of the Penna Coal Co. and it was Campbell who led the big 1920 strike to eliminate the contractors. The local union leadership, and Number Six, the "key" local of the Penna general grievance committee, is the basis of the rule and existence of the hated contractors and were a clean, militant leadership to take control of the local the con tractor system would soon be wiped out. This fact the contractors are well aware of and so go to all ex tremes to keep control of the local union leadership.

Threatens Contractors.

Campbell has oftentimes threatened to wipe out the contractors once in a position to do so, and that he would do it the contractors know very well. To keep Campbell from assuming any responsible position then has been the aim of the contractors, assisted by the district office. Cappellini ordered the local sec'y, not to issue to Campbell the necessary credential, despite the specifications of the anthracite contract and district constitution of the miners, that the selection of a checkweighman to serve them is a sole prerogative of the miners.

Cappellini has assumed the power to dictate to the local union just who shall and who shall not serve the Miners Hear Brophy miners of Number 6. Cappellini got in touch with his henchmen, the local officers, and overruled the decision of the union meeting. Campbell, as a consequence of the foregoing, could not commence his duties Dec. 1st.

Drive Out Veteran.

The local union secretary made a statement that he was instructed by Cappellini not to accept dues from Alexander Campbell when he appeared to pay them. This is a move on the part of Cappellini to drive from can such losses continue?" he asked. the union Campbell and all opposition miners in Number 6.

At the following local union meeting, the question of checkweighman was again brought up and after a heated meeting Campbell was again elected b va very large majority. When the count was made showing Campbell victor the Cappellinites and contractors smashed the lights, broke succeeded in giving the chairman an cation, Central Pennsylvania, made an opportunity in not striking strongly excuse of adjourning the meeting

FOUR KILLED IN BLAST AT DEPONT DE NEMOURS CARNEY POWDER PLANT

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 6-Four men are known to have been killed and several others injured this afternoon when 5,000 pounds of smokeless powder in the "dry house" of the Dupont de Nemours powder plant at Carney's Point exploded. Fire immediately followed the explosion.

The bodies of four men are said to have been recovered.

without credentialing Campbell who was again elected.

The following night, or rather a a. m., the house of an active opposition miner in Pittston, John Coombe was wrecked by a blast of dynamite. This miner is well known for his long fight to wipe out the contractors. A year or so ago the house of Campbell was demolished by dynamite, endangering the lives of his wife and seven children.

The miners today are discussing what shall be done now. On all sides the unanimous opinion is "another 1920" which means a general strike to wipe out the contractors and set he union on a proper path again. The discontent of the rank and file of the Pittston miners will burst into lame at any moment, and at any moment a general strike can be expected It is expected that if the Penna goes on a general strike, the Hudson Coal Co. general grievance committee, of 20,000 miners, and the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. general committee of 15,000 miners will also declare a general walkout.

POLICE ATTACK CARPET STRIKE

3 Strikers and Brutal Officers Arrested

By J. O. BENTALL.
(Special to The Daily Worker)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 6c-Three strikers and one cop were arrested, the strikers for having walked too briskly on the picket line, and the cop for having broken the jaw of an eighteen year old girl striker of the Philadelphia Carpet company, where a strike has been on for ten weeks.

Hit For Boarding Car. The girl striker attacked by the cossack in this brutal manner committed the crime of wanting to board street car for her home after her work on the picket line had been finished. It happened that some of the scabs went on the same car and it seems to be against the law of the cops to let pickets use the public transportation if the scabs want them for their private purposes. COMES FIRST DAY

Policeman Richie struck the girl on the jaw and sent her staggering to the ground. Stunned for the moment the girl was unable to make further attempt to board the car. This was crime number two, and the cop promptly arrested her. Fearful of the consequences of his slugging, the minutes after the final session of the cop began to talk incoherently to the girl, saying, "Now you know I didn't hit youse. Don't say that I hit youse. I wouldn't hit youse and I didn't crack your jaw. It wasn't cracked and you know I didn't crack it for youse," and a lot more blabber.

Then the union got on the job. The case against the girl was dismissed. for assault and battery. The judge set the bail for the cop at $500.

The three strikers arrested for walking too fast on the picket line were held in $300 bail each. The ex cuse for the speed-up on the picket line should have been valid since the thermometer was flirting with zero and the wind was pacing along like a loom shuttle. The pickets simply wanted to keep warm and had never heard of any speed limit on the picket line.

The strike is stiffening up in the breeze of the December weather and the tomfoolery of the bosses and their emporary tools.

The city of Foochow, farther down the Yangtze than indicated by the line on the map, fell on Friday. Strengthen the Bond of the Working Class With HERE TO COPE the Class War Prisoners

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

DRISONS have been likened to communication was restored. tombs. Prisons are inhabited by the living instead of the dead. But the living dead in prisons only live because of the thin thread connecting them with the world "outside." For many that thread has been completely broken. The will to establish that slender communication and to strengthen it, between the whole working class and all the class war prisoners, until it becomes a powerful, unbreakable bond of unity should be the irresistible driving force behind the National Christmas Fund Drive of the International Labor Defense.

Look into the prisons. It is late at night. The United States marshal arrives with his prisoner sentenced to ten years behind the bars. The warden has waited up. He wants to take a look at the new convict. The procedure is just the same as for all the rest. High on the third tier, in the north block, the empty cell awaits. The new convict is told to enter: the heavy, iron barred door closes upon him. Then silence returns to the vast cell house, except for the jerky coughing here, there, everywhere, thruout the living tomb, the coughing of prisoners, victims of, or rapidly succumbing to tuberculosis. Thus Eugene V. Debs entered upon his ten year sentence at the Moundsville, West Virginia, prison. Yet the outside world never forgot Debs. In this he was fortunate.

It is different with those who have few friends, or none at all, on the "outside." The convict was sitting at a high-power sewing machine in the huge garment factory. within the walls of the Jefferson City, Mo., penitentiary. He was sewing button holes. That was all. Just button holes. Thousands of Tens of thousands! Perhaps hundreds of thousands! Thru the days, the weeks, the months, the years! Just button holes until death came to release him, for he had been sentenced to life imprisonment. But across the front of the little box on his machine, that held thread and needles and other bric-a-brac, were carved the three letters, "I. W. W."

"He's just a 'Wobbly!'" exclaimed the guide, who came along to see that no one spoke to the prisoners, or got into communication with them in any way. An unknown "Wobbly," because I had never heard of his case before. His touch with the outside world had been destroyed. He was among

Here comes a woman. She fought in the ranks of labor. She is paying the price. She marches single file, lost in her prison uniform among the rest. They are coming into the prison chapel, a bare, hard room. It is Christmas Day. The thunder of the orthodox god is hurled at them by a preacher from the city. They are all forced, willing or not, to sing the orthodox hymns of the hypocrite world that has made felons of most of them because they would not conform to its orthodox edicts. Thus "things as they are" seek to maintain or to develop its shackling influence even over those it has put away.

Somewhere else, in a dark dungeon, shackled by the wrists and strung up to the ceiling until toes barely touched the floor, some rebellious prisoner of the class war is suffering because of a slight infringement of the prison rules. Thus the wrath of the oppressors follows its victim into the death chamber of the living.

Or, somewhere another prisoner sits in solitary, all light shut out, to live on bread and water for as many days as the jailer demands/

There are 50 of these class war prisoners in these capitalist United States today. The story of each and everyone of them should be written and blazoned to the entire working class as part of the campaign of the International Labor Defense to raise its Christmas Fund that has three vital purposes:

First: To supply the class war prisoners with some of the comforts, that are denied them in prison, to let those on the "inside" know that they have not been forgotten by those on the "outside."

Second: To provide for at least some of the needs of the dependents, wives and children especially, left without support when the prison gates closed inward upon the breadwinner of the family. Third: To provide adequate legal defense for the many workers who are now being threatened with imprisonment. The many thousands of readers and sympathizers of The DAILY WORKER will surely respond, quickly and substantially, in such a cause. All workers must help build the International Labor Defense as a more powerful "Shield of the Working Class." Here is an opportunity to do so.

WITH PROBLEMS

Only Farmers Can Help Agriculture. Is View

The American farmer alone has the ight to work out a national agricultural policy, Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told 3,000 delegates to the eighth annual convention today.

Thompson called on the 6,000,000 American farmers to band together. "emulating industry and labor," if they would secure equal representation and the economic rights "to which they are entitled."

"If we are to have a safe and sane agricultural policy," said Thompson. "it must be worked out by the farmers themselves. The development of a national policy is of national concern. The right and duty of the farmers to lead in its determination should be definitely recognized.

No Wavering.

"It is a noteworthy coincidence that while we are assembling here congress will convene in Washington. There will be no wavering in our de mand for the passage of legislation which will relieve the farmer from the unjust punishment from which he suffers through the production of sur pus farm products."

More than 3,000 delegates, representing farm organizations in 45 states and 1,800 communities were present when Thompson opened what is expected to be the most important meeting in the history of the federa-

Split in Two Groups.

The convention was split into two widely differing groups as the meeting began, one determined to stop at virtually nothing to secure relief, the other, more conservative, seeking to prevent what might be the beginning of a transformation of the federation into a quasi-political party.

Thompson, elected last year over the more conservative O. E. Bradfute, who paved the way for the address by President Coolidge, frankly stood opposed to the "do nothing" policy which he said marked the administration's attitude toward farm pected that the farmers ought to do it themselves. Thompson, in speaking of the general decay of farm life said it would be alright if all the young dumb-belis went to the city but it was the other way round; the bright young boys

industrial Conference Board, an em ployers' association, said that industry must take a larger interest in farm problems. He suggested that the bankers and commercial men might supply the directive brains for urging diversified farming and other methods of relief. He said the farm problem was a very wide one, affecting not only the farmers and consumers here but the international market as well. If we would dispense with our agricultural products in the world markets we must not prevent outsiders from disposing of their goods to us, he said.

Robert Pack, a propagandist for privately owned public utilities was another speaker. He is from the Ontario Hydro-electric company and painted the virtues of his company to the Ontario farming communities.

The sessions will continue for several days.

U. S. Owned Railways Threaten Cut

(Special to The Daily Worker) MEXICO CITY, Dec. 6.-The Railway Workers' Union of Mexico has just terminated its annual convention with the decision to enlarge the scope of the Railway Union by including in its membership all workers connected with transport-that is the longshoremen of all Mexican ports as well as all those working in or with railroads. They also passed a resolution sending Jose Maria Benitez, a Mexican journalist, member of the Railway Workers' Union and for a long time editor the Railway Workers' Journal, to Soviet Russia, to investigate and report back on the true conditions of the workers in Soviet American Owners.

No sooner had the convention terminated than the management of the Railways (The Mexican Railways are now in the hands of American capitalists since the La Mont de la Huerta treaty, which returned the railroads at the beginning of 1925) anmounced that it was about to reduce the working personnel and cut wages. The unions served notice that they would tolerate no such procedure. They pointed out the departments in which thousands of dollars could be saved by economizing on sinecures and political jobs held by men who did nothing but draw fat salary checks each month-the workers also suggested that if the company abolished its own police guards which cost them over $20,000 each month that they would not need to reduce wages. The Railway management feels general strike at the present time due to the strained relations between America and Mexico-for they would be accused of trying to embarrass the government. Nevertheless, in spite of the precarious situation the railway workers have served notice on their bosses that they will not accept a wage cut,

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.-A miniature Bayonne in the jungle is the title of an article in The Lamp, Standard Oil of New Jersey house organ.

The piece tells of the erection in the Sumatra jungle, Dutch East Indies, of an oil refinery similar to the famous Bayonne, N. J., plant of this Company unionism is the curse of the Bayonne workers, but the article does not hint whether company unions will be established among the Sumatran refinery workers. It does tell of welfare work done for the white workers, not the natives.

Tells of Welfare. Transporting the white workers from Palembang to the refinery site was expensive, so the company early began building brick and stucco structures with red tile roofs for the white workers. A concrete swimming pool, commodious club house with piano, victrola, radio, moving picture machine, etc., are noted.

Native Houses Poor.

Conditions for the native laborers Chinese, Javanese and Malays, are not so good. They are housed in temporary huts of bamboo frames with thatched roofs and sides.

The article states: "Due to the difficulty of securing and handling native labor, much of the work was let Fascist Government out on contract." And as much machinery was used as possible to replace native labor.

On Oct. 19 he issued authority to police chiefs to ban meetings "likely to cause disaffection" and since that date and up to the 17 inst., 40 meetings were prohibited in England and 23 in Wales. These figures exclude prohibitions in Scotland which would probably make

VICTORIA

Victoria is the only state in Australia that has a non-labor government. It is almost impossible to elect labor government in this state, because of the unfair distribution of seats. The nationalists have got the electorates divided in such a way that labor has an almost impossible task before it. There are three parliamentary par ties in Victoria-labor, nationalist, and country. The nationalists hold the rein of government, but very insecurely. Several times recently they have been defeated in the house, but still they hang, on. The Communist Party is very weak in Victoria. In fact, the revolutionary movement has boss would, always been weak there, but still a few gallant comrades carry on the good work, and we have hopes of their work bearing fruit shortly. The next All-Australian Trade Union Congress will be held in Victoria in February. Some of the Sydney Communists who will be delegates to the conference, may be able to give the Melbourne comrades a hand.

The 44-hour week case is still being conducted in Melbourne. The workers' advocates are trying to prove to the learned judge that the workers can do more work in 44 hours than they do in 48. > The South Australian branch of the Australian Labor Party has just concluded its annual conference. Nothing of very great importance was decided. One thing, however, will give an insight into the character of labor politicians in this state. The conference had decided to place the 44-hour week on the fighting platform of the party. On the evening of the same day, the labor premier, Lionel Hill, begged them to wipe it off the fighting platform, as it would compromise him in the eyes of the country and middleclass elements of the community. The conference obligingly acceded to his request, so now the Premier is compromised in the eyes of the working class, but that does not hurt him half as much as the antagonism of the

One hundred students is the limit set for next summer's delegation, according to Chairman R. Davis of the publicity committee. These students, 60 per cent of whom must be undergraduates, will be selected on the basis of their preparation for scientific study in such a social laboratory as Soviet Russia, and their ability to join this growing movement of ours to present their findings effectively thru writing and speaking.

"Unless we can inform the students of this country as to what is really happening in Russia, a student delegation is of little value." declared Davis. "The delegation will be subdivided into groups, each group choosing some specific problem, such as trade unions or national minorities, and limiting Its investigations to that field." To Raise Funds.

"Funds to finance the delegates will be raised by the groups sending such representatives," declared Bishop. "Here at Columbia a theater party and other affairs will be held for this purpose. Plans are being worked out for the creation of a loan fund which will make it possible for delegates to borrow all or part of the $500 needed for the trip. "THE NEWS-SO THAT HE WHO RUNS MAY READ," is the caption above a special column in one of the leading metropolitan dailies of the country. Here we find predigested into a line or two the news of each important event, so that the movie fiend, the jazz hound, the baseball fan, and the lounge lizzard may get it at one painless gulp. Such columns are familiar to the average capitalist daily. With their aid the ruling class seeks to develop among the workers, an attitude of ready acceptance of its propaganda, an uncritical, unquestioning and superficial attitude toward life and its problems.

"THE NEWS—SO THAT HE WHO TOILS MAY UNDER-STAND," is the motto of The DAILY WORKER. For this reason The DAILY WORKER seeks to give not only an accurate account of the facts of concern to labor, but also a clear, working class interpretation of them:

But the management of The DAILY WORKER is not content with that. The physical limits of a daily paper do not permit a full analysis of each problem, and a thoro discussion of its underlying significance. We wish to encourage the workers who read our paper to go further, to follow up the news, with a careful study of the underlying principles and causes of the given situation. This can be done only by reading the proper literature on the subject. The reading of such a book as Dolsen's "Awakening of China" is indispensable for a correct understanding of the wonderful movement which is now developing in China. In the field of international finance, Lenin's "Imperialism," Lovestone's "American Imperialism," Nearing's "Dollar Diplomacy" are valuable aids with which to follow with intelligence the most recent events. A knowledge of the facts coupled with a knowledge of the principles of Marxism and Leninism, this is the unconquerable weapon which we aim to equip the working class for the struggle for its emancipation.

Issues and Forces in the Struggle in the Needle Trades

It is not surprising that The New York Times is acting as the mouthpiece of the reactionary forces massed against the militant That was the life provided for the majority in the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and women textile workers of Passaic by the other needle trades unions.

The Times has turned its columns into propaganda agencies for the Sigman forces and their program and why should it not give them all the support of which it is capable?

THE DAILY WORKER Working Class Women Have Helped Win the Passaic Strike

> By KATE GITLOW. Secretary of the United Council of Workingclass Housewives.

THE Passaic strike is the first of its kind in the history of the labor movement in the United States. Fifty per cent of the strikers are women and most of them are married and have children. The lot of the women textile workers, before the strike, was even harder than that of the men. During the day, they had to take care of the children and the household, did the cooking, scrubbing, and mending, and tried hard to make ends meet. During the night, instead of resting, they had to work long hours in the mills. the mill owners in their greed for Endured Much. Since women by nature are patient, the women textile workers suffered patiently for a long time, until they could stand it no longer. Husband and wife working together could not earn enough to support the family. Then came the wage cut, and this was the direct cause of the strike. The wage cut awakened the men and women textile workers and made them think and act together.

After the wage cut, the textile workers organized themselves into the United Front Committee of Passaic and vicinity. On Jan. 25, 1926, the textile strike was declared. Because they had no union before the strike, and because of the low wages they received, the strikers found themselves immediately in need Then the Passaic General Relief. This work of the Neighborhood Councils helped to broaden the scope of the relief, and to acquaint the different working class women's organ izations, as fraternal, benevolent, charitable and religious organizations with the struggle in Passaic.

Open air mass meetings and social affairs were held; subscription lists were circulated, and house to house collections were made. Food and clothing wre also collected. All funds

This and here a beginning was made to strike proves conclusively that the bring women's organizations together to help with the feeding of the strikers' children. At the conference, a committee was elected which consist ed of one representative from each unit represented and the name United Women's Conference was adopted.

The delegates to United Women's Conference meet regularly once a month. Leona Smith, the secretary of the conference is very able and has been responsible for much of the good work which has been accomthis conference will broaden its scope workers and to unite with existing class women and of the working class working women's organizations thru as a whole may be discussed, and permanent delegated conferences, and plans devised and carried out for the to unite their struggles with those of protection of the interests of the workingclass women and the workingclass as a whole.

Already a joint provisional committee is in existence to further such a conference. To this conference will be invited labor unions and fraternal organizations.

In the beginning, the Housewives Council of Passaic thru their committee managed the kitchens. They had committees for buying, cleaning, cooking, and for feeding the children. The NEWS FROM NOWHERE, by William good management of the women of the Housewives' Council of Passaic made it possible from the beginning "The farm relief question is the vital But to their horror, they found that to feed so many children. These Working Women's Councils, at this time, number ten with a membership of from thirty to fifty in each, and they are of several nationalities. These women had no previous training in organizations. They did not know how to conduct a meeting, or how to act as secretary or chairman. From the beginning. these women were made to serve on committees and to talk in their own language. Business meetings were conducted in English, and those who could understand this language explained to those who could not understand all that was transacted at the meeting. A class for all Council Executive Committees was organized in order to train the women how to conduct meetings. In a short time the women had learned, and now the meetings are becoming very lively. Lectures are being held jointly for all the councils. Outline of lectures

On All Committees.

THE women in the Working Women's Councils are serving on all committees, committees in the kitchens, on the playgrounds, committees visiting organizations, collecting food, arranging affairs, and committees for raising funds to feed the children. They have learned by this time that the strikers are helped not as charity but as solidarity in order to help win the strike, and that it is expected that the Passaic textile workers will do likewise when other workers shall be engaged in a struggle with their bosses to better their conditions. Tho the women in the councils are mostly strikers themselves or the wives of strikers, who have been engaged in a bitter struggle for eight months and are in need themselves, they are now raising a little money for the British

The Lesson of the Passaic Strike HOUSEWIVES have often been considered of no use except to remain at home and attend to household duties. These housewives have proven, during the Passaic strike what a great help they can be in all labor struggles when they are organized and made to understand. It should be remembered that due to the high cost of living the Workingclass Housewives are leaving home more and more to work in the different in-Women's Educational Club of Passaic dustries. It is now almost impossible for a worker to support his family. It ed so long if the women at home did ganizations of all nationalities and should be understood by organized labor that there is alread mass of working women in the different industries and that more are coming in and that these women are to a great extent unorganized.

Now Important Factor. THE working women as well as the working class housewives are fast becoming an important factor in the economical and political life of the workers. The master class has learned this long before the workers. This class is doing all it can to use the workingclass women to its advantage. The railroad workers' wives are being organized into an auxiliary of the company union.

This Passaic strike proves that the great mass of workingclass women in the factories, shops, and homes can be made to serve, economically and politically the interests of the workers. It must be understood by all those interested in the labor movement and by the working men and women, that all the struggles of the workers to better their conditions, no matter whether they are fighting for a union, against low wages, for better homes, cheaper rents, better schools, against child labor or for maternity protection, that these struggles must be carried on unitedly by the women and men of the working manage it."

The great man sat at his flat mahogany desk, as clear of papers as the prevailing superstition required. It appeared as if a captain of industry had not a thing to do but grin at a college boy, and gossip about the boy's mistress and his own. But when Bunny remarked, "Mr. Roscoe, I came to see you here because I want to talk to you about the new wage scale." And in a flash the smile went off the magnate's face, and it seemed as if even the fat went off his laws. If you have thought of him as a mixture of geniality and buffoonery, this is the time for you to set yourself straight, along with Bunny, and all other rebels against the American system. Bunny started to tell about the way the men felt, and the trouble that was brewing; but Mr. Roscoe stopped him. "Listen here, Jim Junior, and save a lot of breath. I know everything the men are saying, and everything that Bolshevik bunch up there is teaching them. I get a confidential report every week. I know about your friend, Tom Axton, and your Paul Watkins, and your Eddie Piatt, and your Bud Stoner, and your Jick Duggan-I could tell you all you know, and a lot that would surprise you."

Bunny was taken aback, as the other had intended. "Jim Junior." he continued, "vou're a bright boy, and you'll get over this nonsense. and I want to help you over it-I might save you a lot of suffering, and also your father, that's the salt of the earth. I've been in this world thirty or forty years longer than you, and I've learned a lot that you don't know, but some day you will. Your father and the rest of us are running the oil industry, we got here because we know how, and that's a real thing, by Jees, and not just a lot of words. But some other fellers want to kick us out, and think all they got to do is to make speeches to oil workers and set them to raising hell-but let me tell you, kiddo, it's going to take a lot more than that."

"Yes, Mr. Roscoe, but that's not the point-'

"Pardon me, but it is. Let's cut out the hokum-just say to yourself that I've been sitting in at the arguments of that Bolshevik bunch of yours. Do they mean to take the industry away from me and your old man, or don't they?" "Well, they may think that ulti-

And I tell you that if any sons-of-b--- imagine they're going to live off my wages while they're getting ready to rob me, they're mistaken; and if they find themselves in the jute mill at San Quentin, they're not going to get my money to bail them out."

non Roecoe was looking Bunny straight in the eye. "Jim, Junior, I know all the fine idealistic phrases them fellers use on you. It's all lovely and sweet and for the good of humanity-but they know that's all bait for suckers, and if you could hear them laughing at you behind your back, you'd realize how you're being used. What I tell you is, you better get on your own side of the fence before the shooting begins." "Is there going to be shooting, Mr.

Roecoe?" "That's up to your Bolshevik friends. We've got what we want. and they're going to take it away from us."

"We needed the oil workers during the war, Mr. Roscoe, and we made them promises-"

"Pardon me, kiddo-we didn't make any promises at all! A goddamn long-faced, snivelling college professor made them for us, and we're done with that bunk for good! We've got a business man for president, and we're going to run this country on business lines. And let me tell you for one, I'm god-damn sick of having to buy labor leaders, and I can think of cheaper ways to
