WOMEN TEXTILE WORKERS IN MISSISSIPPI GET $464 YEARLY

A full week's work for $9.80 and a year's work for $464. Such figures do not come from China or India or Germany or Italy or Soviet Russia, but from the 100% American state of Mississippi. They are pretty close to the average wages for the work of white women in the industries and stores of that southern openshop paradise. The wage for Negro women is considerably lower.

The figures are taken from a study of women in Mississippi industries by the women's bureau of the U.S. department of labor. The survey was made at the request of the state and with the co-operation of employers. so the exploitation has not been painted +-

Lewis and he administration in the United Mine Workers' election Dec. 14, the Brophy group is demanding that the union constitution be lived up to this year by the international officers.

Vote Report Required.

The constitution requires the of ficers to make a report in printed form of the vote, local by local. The constitution further requires that this detailed report be sent to the secreary of every local union not later than Jan. 10. The object of these clauses was to prevent fraud in the count of ballots.

In the 1924 election, in which Lewis was declared the victor, no such report was made. It is believed that failure to make the report this time will result in serious charges at the miners' convention which meets in Indianapolis the end of January.

(Special to The Daily Worker) WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. - Listing expenditures of $2,777,942 in the Pennsylvania republican senatorial primary last May, the Reed campaign fund committee filed a preliminary report with the senate on its Keystone state inquiry.

The committee merely recited the revelations of expenditures on behalf of Senator George Wharton Pepper, Senator-elect William S. Vare and Governor Gifford Pinchot, without filing any recommendations.

The committee also reported of the inquiries held in Oregon, Washington and Missouri and in each case declared there was no evidence of slush and recommended that the investigations be dropped.

Have Contempt Case.

.The committee launched its first contempt case by formally citing Thomas F. Cunningham, Vare Lieutenant, to the senate for his refusal to answer questions concerning contributions to the Vare fund. The committee asked the senate "to take such action as the senate may deem proper.

Rap Manufacturers.

"Added to this purely political contest was the determination on the part of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, under the leadership of its president, a wealthy manufacturer of Eastern Pennsylvania and an experienced lobbyist, Joseph R. Grunds, to elect John S. Fisher, corporation and railroad attorney, and to defeat Edward F. Beidleman for the republican gubernatorial nomination and thereby prevent the repeal of an excise tax on coal mined in the state, as advocated by Beidleman, and insure the manufacturering interests continued freedom from all state corporate taxation," the report said. Absolve Oregon.

In its Oregon investigation, the committee reported it was convinced the charges were unfounded that the Portland Electric Power company had paid the Portland Oregonian $35,000 to oppose the candidacy of Senator Stanfield of Oregon.

The committee also found that the charges made in the Washington senatorial election that $100,000 had been spent on behalf of A. Scott Bullit, the democratic nominee, were unfounded. It did discover expenditures of $28,000 on behalf of Bullitt, the report said, For "Xmas Eve Party" • but the committee "believe the charges of excessive expenditures were unfounded."

Nearly 3 Millions More are likewise being given to the progressive candidates supporting Cobb, Speaker Incident Only a Small Sample

A hard-driving baseball manager; a pitcher who was over-worked to the detriment of his arm and sacked; an allegedly fixed game in 1919 upon which two famous managers and two star players bet several thousand dollars-these form the background of organized baseball's biggest public scandal since the crooked world series of 1919.

The two managers are Ty Cobb of Detroit and Tris Speaker of Cleveland. The players are "Smokey" Joe Wood and "Dutch" Leonard. The latter caused all the trouble. He claims Ty Cobb "pushed" him while he was in the box for Detroit, that, as a consequence, his arm gave way, and Cobb then tried to sell him to a minor league team.

Fixed Game.

Leonard charges that the four men involved fixed an end season game between Cleveland and Detroit and laid several thousand dollars, or tried to, on the outcome. The bets were not all placed. Only a few hundred was won between them. But Leonard claims that this little incident is only sample of the way it works. He produced letters from Cobb and Wood to verify his charges. It is significant that both Cobb and Speaker retired from the game this yearwealthy men. The investigation being conducted by Commissioner Judge K. M. Landis can only sift a few facts about this specific case. The principles are out of baseball. Crooked Thruout.

"Anyone who thinks organized baseball is on the square, has another guess coming," said an old time game follower to The DAILY WORKER. There is too much money involved in it. A vast betting machine has been built up around the game and the line between a game honestly won or lost and one 'thrown' is far too thin. The present airing of a very minor incident that happened many years ago s only a drop in the bucket of what real investigation would reveal."

Chicago ball fans may also be heard to inquire why it is that Judge Landis has been so reticent about making public the facts in this particular case. t certainly could not have been unnown to the commissioner, they say, that Speaker and Cobb retired for eason. The case also reveals that Landis has been conducting hearings on it for some months past. The press earned of the case, not thru Landis, FREIHEIT AFFAIR but because "Dutch" Leonard "talked."

But there is danger that it won't.

Inorder to be successful, from the

ite police method.

THE latest scandal in baseball will remain just "another scandal" if workers are not aroused by it against all sports for profit.

Defenders of the capitalist system pride themselves on the fact that their social order offers personal gain, IN MONEY, as the great driving motive for human action. They argue that without this incentive, progress is paralyzed.

Baseball's new scandal again proves to the open-minded the corrupting influences hatched by this profit desire, and gives the lie to the champion of capitalism's big incentive.

In the words of Hebert B. ("Dutch") Leonard, who spilled the beans, "Why Cobb (Ty Cobb, former manager of Detroit) turned on me I don't know. Money is his sole thought. That also applies to Speaker (Tris Speaker, former manager of Cleveland). Cobb may have figured he was too big to be touched. Well, he knows now that he is not."

Baseball players, and especially managers of baseball teams, are amoung the most highly salaried in the land. Salaries granted college professors, scientific workers and similar categories are pigmy in size. Yet it is well-known that gambling, the desire to make more money and in a hurry, permeates the whole capitalist sports structure, especially baseball. Clark Griffith, of the Washington American League team, for instance, openly declares that, "There was no great crime in Washington players betting on their own victory in a 1912 game with the Boston Red Sox."

Thus it is not necessary to enter into the question of whether there is any truth to the charges made by "Dutch" Leonard against Cobb and Speaker, who have retired from the game wealthy men. The fact remains that professional baseball, part of the profit system, is conducted for the money that there is in it, and the players and managers are out to get what they can, just as well as the owners of the teams, whose takings run into the millions each season.

To question the right of players to gamble on their own victories might direct attention against the gamblers on the boards of trade, chambers of commerce the and the stock exchanges where gambling has been raised to the high art of financiering. Instinctively baseball players think they have the same right to "throw" a game, that the big capitalists have in "rigging" the market for their own profit purposes.

should be another urge for the working class to develop its own sports, To be sure the hauls that lure fostered thru its own organizations.

ON UNTIL ALL

(Special to The Daily Worker) PASSAIC, Dec. 22. - The big texile strike will continue until all the nills have settled with the union, eight thousand textile strikers were told at a packed meeting in Belmont Park Casino, Garfield.

No Company Union.

The meeting rivaled in size and enthusiasm the huge rallies of the early period of the strike, which is now in its eleventh month. Gustave Deak, president of the United Textile Workers' local, acted as chairman, and told the workers that the strike would go on against the other mills until everyone of the struck mills had followed he example of Passaic Worsted, Boany Worsted, Garfield Worsted, and the Dundee Textile, and had recognized the union.

He announced a meeting of all Forstmann & Huffmann workers to consider plans for carrying on and intensifying the struggle against the Forstmann & Huffmann plants "until Mr. Rheinhold is made to realize that the only union we want, the only union we will have, is the United Textile Workers' Union of the American Federation of Labor and not the dead carrion of a company union."

Fight Goes On, Says Coco.

Chief Organizer Coco predicted an early settlement in all the mills, stating that "the bosses one by one have been convinced that the only way to settle this strike, the only way to have peace in the mills, is to recognize our right to have a union of our own choosing. They thought to starve us begging back, but instead we go back in victory, with our union to protect us. But the fight is still on against those mills that have not yet settled, the Forstmann & Huffmann, the Gera and others. And I want to say to the workers from those mills that the fight will continue until those mills too are brought to recognize the union, until the pirate flag of company unionism is hauled down in every one of the mills."

GATHER SOME FACTS.

The DAILY WORKER is interested in securing facts regarding corruption and graft in the labor movement. It is one of the characteristics of the American trade union movement that graft, dishonesty, corruption and gangsterism are not only widespread but are more or less looked upon by the mass of the membership as something to be expected.

The importance to the workers' movement of studying this condition in all its ramifications is at once obvious. The larger cases of this kind that have come under the searchlight such as the Brindell incident in New York, are of a nature from which facts are easily gleaned. But there are innumerable local samples of corruption more obscure and that can be exposed only by persons in the locality and in touch with the facts.

Our request is that readers who are interested in this study and who know of such cases do us the favor of sending. as briefly and clearly as possible, the main facts concerning them. We insist, however, that the material be composed of facts that can be proven.

Are Same Group That Control Here

By LELAND OLDS, Federated Press.

The right of American multi-millionaires to exploit for their own profit is challenged by the Mexican people. That is the meaning of the present Mexican crisis, as is forcefully pointed out by William P. Helm in the Chicago Journal of Commerce. This business paper tells the world that American interests have grabbed at least onefourth of the wealth of Mexico.

The Americans behind the pressure of the American government on Mexico, says Helm, are "the Morgan interests, the Standard Oil interests, the Penrose interests, the Sinclair Interests, the Guggenheim interests, the Mellon interests, the Coleman-Ryan interests, the Bethlehem Steel interests, the Southern Pacific interests, the Kuhn-Loeb interests, the Henry Doherty interests and the interests of other wealthy Americans and American corporations."

Have Support of Kellogg.

This reads like a catalog of the capitalist oligarchy which controls the economic life of the United States. According to Helm, the state department is supporting their plan to extend that domination to Mexico.

This group of powerful corporations, says Helm, owns from one-fourth to one-third of all Mexican resources, divided as follows:

Exporting of Tobacco Increases in Russia; Turkey Aiding Market (Special to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, Dec. · 22. - The Russo-Oriental chamber of commerce has conferred with representatives of the Soviet-Turkish Company "Russoturk" on the question of export to Egypt of Black Sea tobacco grades, mainly the Sukhum ones.

U. S. S. R. actually occupies the fourth place in the Egyptian import of tobacco, the first place being taken by China, followed by Japan and Greece.

There was imported to Egypt 800, 000 kilograms of Soviet tobacco in 1924, and 700,000 kilograms in 1925, out of a total import of tobacco of 7 million kilograms.

The above mentioned conference has decided it was necessary to enmen. large the export of Sukhum tobacco to Egypt, thru the channel of the "Russoturk" apparatus.

They were crowded into one little room, with a gas plate and a sink in an unventilated alcove, and another alcove with a curtain before it, and a cot on which Paul slept. Ruth was ashamed to have Bunny see them in such a place, but explained that it wouldn't be long, just till Paul got a job; he was out looking for one now. She herself had got work in a department store, and as soon as they could get ahead she was going to study trained nursing. She looked pale and worn, but smiled bravely; she didn't really mind anything, so long as Paul was out of jail.

Bunny wanted to know all the news, and plied Ruth with questions.

Just what had Paul done to get arrested? The first time, Ruth said, the sheriff had raided the Fascum cabin, with a lot of rough, hateful men who had torn everything to pieces and carried off all of Paul's books and papers-they had them still. They had done the same thing to all the other fellows that used to come to the cabin-they were going to prove them "reds," but what evidence they had or claimed to have was a secret the sheriff or the district attorney, or whoever it was, was keeping to himself. They had had a lot of spies on the bunchone fellow was known to be a spy, and two others had disappeared, and would no doubt turn up as witnesses-but who could tell what they would testify? #### THEY WERE ONLY 'GREASERS'

By C. A. Moseley

Moseley covered the shooting affray in South Chicago which ended in the death of a police officer and a Mexican laborer. The man who in all probability shot the officer, being dead, could not be satisfactorily hanged, so the police arrested another Mexican and charged him with the killing of the policeman. The story throws a light on how justice is meted out to aliens in the United States. Yet our press raves about occasional affront to a Yankee capitalist in Mexico, but outlawed bandits.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 22. To help The DAILY WORKER to combat the commercialized-religious bunk of Christmas, at the same time dance and relax, is the threefold aim of the Christmas eve social and dance arranged by the Minneapolis District of the Workers (Communist) Party. The affair will be held in the Labor Lyceum, 1426 Sixth avenue, North, Minneapolis, will start hilariously at 8 p. m. on Friday, Dec. 24th, and wind up gloriously at 1 a. m. Many comrades of the gentler. wiser sex will bake cakes and cookies; there will be Communist food, games of all kinds, excellent music-in short, the makings of a memorable affair.

One day will then be permitted to pass uneventfully and on Sunday, Dec. 26, the evening after Christmas, the comrades will gather again at Finnish Hall, Western Ave. and Humboldt, for more fun and merrymak ing. PATERSON, N. J., Dec. 22. - At a general membership meeting of the Worker (Communist) Party in Paterson, N. J., more than $100.00 was raised by the 35 members present to aid in the crisis in the cloakmakers' strike in response to a telegram appealing for aid from the New York office.

It was pledged to the National Council for the Protection of Foreign-Born Workers, by unanimous vote, that the Workers Party will actively assist in forming a local council.

Plans were laid to visit all nonparty subscribers of the Communist press in our local for membership drive.

The greatest part of the evening, was devoted to the report of Comrade Gardas on the C. E. C. Plenum and applications of its decision to local conditions. Comrade Gardas made the trip from Passaic, where he is active in the strike, especially for this pur-

Half of Tax Money in Canada Goes for War

OTTAWA, Can., Dec. 22.-The Canadian government spends on public health, scientific institutions and industrial relations less than 1 per cent of the annual revenue, while 50 per cent is consumed by the obligations arising from the world war, official figures show. About 10 per cent goes to war pensions: so 40 per cent of the total revenue goes to enrich the wartime money lenders for saving their country-and the profiteers. Commenting on this curious outcome of the war, J. S. Woodsworth, parliamentary leader of the labor party, suggests that the Canadian gov-

On Advertising.

"The revenue from the sale of papers is only a fraction of the sum necessary to conduct a newspaper. . . . . On many papers the circulation receipts are only one-fifth to one-tenth of the receipts derived from the sale of white space or advertising. ... Advertising makes possible newspaper profits."

-Newspaper Management by Professor Frank Thayer.

Many comrades do not realize the importance of this statement and the degree in which they can help The DAILY WORK-ER by soliciting advertisements. By a little systematic effort, advertisements can be obtained from restaurants, halls, doctors, dentists, which are frequented by comrades who read The DAILY WORKER. One comrade connected with a foreign language newspaper makes it a practice to go into a different restaurant each day, and solicit ads. If unsuccessful the first time, he SOMETIMES goes to one restaurant twice.

Considerable advertising can be obtained from organizations (labor and fraternal) in which our comrades have influence. No affair should go by without an ad in The DAILY WORKER. No activity should be carried on by these organizations without a paid notice in The DAILY WORKER. We do not have to support The DAILY WORKER. Advertising space is 85 cents an inch and arrangements should be made when soliciting the ad to secure immediate payment either when the order is given or immediately after the appearance of the ad. Ads should be secured from responsible persons or organizations only. Let us see what you can do?

The Task of the "Save the Union" Bloc

Returns from the anthracite, District 5, western Pennsylvania and District 12, Illinois, published in THE DAILY WORKER within the last few days, indicate unmistakably that the "Save the Union" ticket headed by John Brophy has defeated John L. Lewis in these decisive sections of the union.

In most of the locals from which the returns have been secured the Brophy ticket beat the Lewis machine two and three to one. Even in local unions where the machine had all the tellers Brophy has polled a majority of votes.

But it is apparent now that the Lewis machine has not the slightest intention of complying with the constitutional provisions which we quote above: which makes it mandatory to furnish all local unions with the tabulated lists of votes cast local by local. Failure to do this in the last election was prima facie evidence of the defeat of the Lewis machine.

In the meantime the Lewis machine is carrying on in the capitalist press, the United Mine Workers' Journal and the official trade union press, an intensive campaign to substantiate the claims of victory.

Ellis Searles, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, says in the issue of December 15, which went to press before the election :

While the votes cast at the election have not yet been canvassed and counted, our confidence in the proverbial loyalty of the membership to sound trade union principles is so deep that the result, when announced, will prove to be such a crushing defeat for these interlopers that nothing more will be heard from them. .

John L. Lewis himself has been getting up to meet Springfield trains going to outlying mines to tell members of the union that he has been re-elected.

The whole publicity machinery of the American Federation of Labor is claiming the re-election of the Lewis machine.

With the detailed results of the election in possession of the ing measures to cripple the power of machine, it is preparing now for the convention on January 25.

Reports from District 31, West Virginia, received from miners approached by agents of the Lewis machine, are to the effect that a group of 150 delegates is to be sent to the convention from that district alone altho, including members exonerated from paying dues, the total membership is only about 6,000. This delegation will be financed by the Lewis machine.

Such are the methods of an officialdom that has been repudiated by the rank and file.

The "Save the Union" bloc must likewise prepare for the convention struggle. It must be able to show to the membership of the union and the labor movement at large the nature of the Lewis conspiracy against the membership.

It should also broaden its slogan of "organize the unorganized fields" into a practical program for the struggle which will take place beginning with the expiration of the Jacksonville agreement next spring.

The mines are working now better than for many months. The

Class Peace and Class Struggle in Great Britain

GHT is thrown on the conditions in which the British coal miners e left by the desertion of the des Union Congress leaders by an m appearing in the London Daily ald for Dec. 6:

Hundreds of miners from Ryhope nd Silksworth, large colliery vilges near Sunderland, who went on ek to find work in the South Yorkire coal fields last week, have had wretched experience.

Many spent the night in disused ke ovens, sheds and even in the open air under hedges. They had spent their all on charabanc (motor busses) fare of 10 shillings, and the charabanc proprietors had to bring them back free.

Now comes the significant part of he item: Meanwhile the local terms offered at Ryhope Colliery have been accepted during the week-end, and the pit will re-start today. WITH such misery prevailing among the miners as the above item pictures, the coal owners are in a position to dictate terms. What these terms mean can be

Never had proposals so exacting, so unjust, and so inhuman been offered to any body of workers, said Mr. W. P. Richardson, treasurer of the Miners' Federation and general secretary of the Durham Miners' Association, in a speech at Ryhope, on the settlement terms. . . . the owner's demands as to times of starting and ceasing work were so unreasonable as to make it impossible for the men to have any social life at all. In some places they were making it that the men did not finish a shift until 7 p. m. or 7:30 p. m. WHILE the miners are being driven back to the pits under conditions described succinctly above, the British capitalist class and its government are moving against the rest of the labor movement all along the line.

The Daily Herald for Dec. 4 says editorially: Another of the tory government's attacks on the workers appears to be ready for launching. The cabinet committee, which has been considerthe trades unions, has completed its who contributed five, million dollars in support of the strike and who were aid given by the Amsterdam Inter-

The right wing leaders had placed great hope on the aid to be secured from the American unions But when all the smoke had vanished the great American contribution amounted to only fifty thousand dollars, a mere drop in the bucket, and a staggering blow to those who rested their hopes on the American labor movement. The difference between the contribution of the Russian workers and the American workers is an excellent comparison of the ratio of class consciousness existing in the two countries.

WHAT effect did the strike have on the British labor movement? The decline of British capitalism has revolutionized the British labor movement and the general strike and the long drawn out miners' struggle exposing these leaders to the rank had increased class consciousness among the workers ten-fold. This has expressed itself in a tremendous surge of left wing sentiment among the rank and file of the workers and the very rapid growth both in numbers and influence of the Communist Party of Great Britain which is in the process of becoming a real mass party having its roots deep down in the British labor movement.

 $A_{\rm of\ British\ capitalism\ which\ means}^{\rm LL\ signs\ point\ to\ a\ further\ decline}$ an intensification of the class struggle. The one big lesson of the British general strike and the miners' struggle is that if the working class is to win in its struggle with capitalism, it must have a leadership which will not falter at the critical moment and which will be steeled by a correct understanding of the struggle.
