DES MOINES FARM CONFERENCE OPENS TODAY WITH POLITICAL SHYSTERS IN COMPLETE CONTROL

(Special to The Daily Worker)

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 27.—Bankers, merchants, representatives of real and fictitious farm organizations-mostly of the well-to-do elements—are assembling here for the farm conference which starts tomorrow. Every precaution has been taken by the agents of the exploiters of the farmers, who have the audacity to pretend to speak for them, to prevent any sincere attempt to solve the crisis. The show is to be staged for purely political purposes and agents of the industrialists of the middle west are already busy with secret conferences in order to create an artificial demonstration for Frank O. Lowden, benefactor of the Pullman millions, who is+ striving to obtain the presidential nomination on the republican ticket for 1928. Representatives L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, who hopes to be able to run for United States senator is also to address the conference and is supposed to represent the congressmen of the eleven states that will be represented at the conference.

Stand on Fake Program. Leaders in the parley, outlining today the prospective program, declared the conference adjourns to reach a common ground and adopt a unified program. They hoped to swing the conference into indorsement of a federal agricultural board and the establishment of a government export $15,170,089 made by Western Union proposed board.

"We are aware of the great efforts hat have been made by the several arm organizations in the trying marketing program with which they are wrestling. Our courses should run parallel and our forces foin because we are working toward the same end namely, to put agriculture on a money making basis. We acknowledge their eadership and pledge them our steadfast cooperation."

May Launch Coalition.

Eleven present governors, including he treasury-looter of Illinois, Len Small, will be on the job, each trying to advance his own peculiar political nterests. A number of these political leaders of the middle west and outh, discouraged with the futility of the old party programs may endeavor o start a coalition of so-called radical epublicans and democrats for the purpose of bringing pressure to bear ipon both old parties in the coming congressional campaigns. No permanent organization of the nature of a third party is likely to come out of the conference, but the LaFollette strategy of forming a coalition beween the insurgents in both parties may result in concerted effort on the part of the middle-west politicians that will smash Coolidge's support in congress and establish a bloc system that will keep the administration in hot water thereafter.

Socialists Go to Norris, Republican, for Their Coal Problem Remedy

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, workers and farmers are given another insight into where the socialist party goes for its peculiar brand of nostrums for labor's ills. In the current issue of the American Appeal, which is the official organ of the socialist party, Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, is presented as having the "true coal remedy," which is, therefore, offered as the party's remedy.

Senator Norris is a republican. He makes no pretense to socialist leanings. He has followed in the wake of Senator Borah and the late Senator LaFollette. The lashing waves of discontent among the Nebraska workers and farmers have never been able to force Norris to quit the republican ranks.

Senator Norris is a lawyer, therefore the same kind of a politician as Borah is and LaFollette was. He was prosecuting attorney for two terms in Nebraska, which means that he invoked capitalist law against the workers and farmers of his district. He was for five terms a member of the house of representatives and he is now in the senate, yet the predatory interests have never had cause to tremble at any of his utterances. He was considered an excellent safety valve to head off the drive of Neraska labor toward independent

Yet it is to this republican politician that the editor of the American Appeal, who happens to be none other than Eugene V. Debs, writes for a statement of the "true coal remedy" and gets it. Even Victor Berger, the socialist party's congressman, and Morris Hillquit, who has had first hand opportunities to get acquainted with the coal problem, are pushed aside.

Norris is of an extreme individualistic type. He comes from a state where no coal is mined, where there are no "coal interests." It is, therefore easy for him to offer "nationalization" of the mines as a remedy. But he does not even do that. He says:

"It has seemed to me that the settlement of the coal question must be by the government taking over at least a portion of the mines and

This is the remedy of the individualist. The government should take over a few of the mines, operate them in competition with the privately owned mines and thus create "ideal conditions." Norris forgets, and the socialists accept this oversight, that the government is a capitalist government in the hands of the private owners of property, with whom Norris would have the capitalist state compete. Some western governors, notably the governor of Nebraska, a political bedpartner of Norris, tried to sell gasoline in competition with the Standard Oil Company. They learned it couldn't be done. Rockefeller owns more than oil. He is part owner of the government.

In his "coal remedy" as published in the American Appeal, Norris does not even present a single provision for workers' participation in the control of even the partially government-conducted industry.

Somewhere, however, he has heard of the scheme President Frank Farrington, of the Illinois coal miners' union, is offering to Illinois miners as a cure-all for their woes. It is proposed to erect furnaces at the mine mouths to produce electricity for the new "power age." There is one great obstacle, however, and that is that waterpower is cheaper than power secured from coal. So this hope fades.

This is merely cited in brief to show the absolute bankruptcy of the socialist party when it comes to espousing definite working class principles. It has shown again that it gets its political direction from irresponsible middle class politicians.

The "true coal remedy" will be found when the workers take over all industry thru their own Soviet power. Until then they will fight for every advantage in the conduct of privately owned industry, or even industries conducted by the capitalist state.

They will refuse to accept any fake cure-all as a final solution of their problem, which is the absolute abolition of private ownership in property, the wiping out of capitalism.

RAILWAY CLERKS REFUSE TO OBEY A. F. OF L. HEAD

Insist on Right to Organize Drivers

(Special to The Daily Worker)

CINCINNATI, Jan. 27.—(FP)—Suspension of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks from the American Federation of Labor looms as the automatic aftermath of the reiterated refusal to obey the jurisdictional decision of the Atlantic City convention.

90,000 Clerks in Union.

By unanimous vote the grand executive council of the railway clerks declined to turn over to the International Brotherhood of Teamsters & Chauffeurs the several thousand railway express drivers awarded to the teamsters by the American Federation of Labor convention. The term of the award as adopted at Atlantic city, Oct. 13, 1925, included a clause for the suspension of the clerks in 90 days if they remained refractory. The 90 days if they remained refractory. The 90 days expired early in January. Suspension would pull over 90,000 railway clerks out of the federation.

"The grand executive council in refusing to comply with the decision of the American Federation of Labor is following the specific instructions of the membership of the brotherhood as expressed by the convention held in Kansas City last May," says Phil E. Ziegler, editor The Railway Clerk. 'Were we to consider the comparatively few men involved in this dispute and the financial and economic strength they add to our organization, as against our continued affiliation with the federation, we would comply. But we hold that the primary consideration in the settlement of these jurisdictional questions should be the welfare of the workers involved and that has been ignored in the decision of the federation.

Organized 1,400 Cities. "Ours is a transportation organization specializing in the railroad and express industry. The teamsters union represents men outside this field. To bring another organization into the transportation field would simply make for confusion in the relations between the carriers and their employes and make the unions less effective. We hope some way may be found by the officers of the federation to permit our continued affiliation. Having jurisdiction over express workers, the right of our organization to continue to represent these men, whom we organized and have been representing the past seven

RED-BAITER OUT FOR BETTER JOB; ASKS LABOR AID

Lefkowitz Amuses New York Union Council

By Sylvan A. Pollack. (Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 27 .- The Central Trades and Labor Council was enlivened by an amusing performance by Abraham Lefkowitz of the Teachers' Union, who in a pitiful manner denied the charge levelled against him of being a Communist. Lefkowitz, locally known as a red baiter, has had the tables turned on him at last, and treated as he has treated others.

Red-Baiter Seeks Soft Job.

Lefkowitz, ambitious to rise not only in local labor and political circles, but also to obtain a well-paid position in the high school took an examination for assistant teacher in history, and because he was not immediately assigned, he came before the Central Trades and Labor Council meeting complaining that he was not being treated fairly, stating Aaron I. Doty, of the teachers' council, had called him a Communist. Lefkowitz, who paid little attention to the question of obtaining a raise for the lowest paid teachers in the schools, is now taking up the time of the Central Trades and Labor Council with his own personal affairs.

He declared: "They charge me with being a Communist. How amus ing! I who have always fought them! "Just because I spoke from the

Great Reception to Far Eastern Labor

By CLEMENT LAMAR. Special Moscow Correspondent to The Daily Worker.

MOSCOW,-(By Mail)-Among the fraternal delegations which came to attend the all-Russian congress of the metal workers was a Japanese delegation consisting of two officials of the Japanese Metal Workers' Union. It was not only the first delegation representing the unions of the far east that came to Soviet Russia, but the two men had a very difficult journey because the Japanese government, of course, would not permit them to depart on such a mission. For both these reasons and also because of the great movement now going on in the far east for national liberation, the reception given these delegates was the most cordial and enthusiastic that I

Great Reception.

The delegation had been expected for several days, but it was only Sunday that a telegram came announcing their arrival the same day on a certain train. The entire presidium of the congress, accompanied by about 500 Moscow metal workers and a band went to the station to meet them.

A loud hurrah greeted them when they stepped down from the train, which was followed by a speech of welcome delivered by Lepse, the president of the All-Russian Metal Workers' Union, and a fraternal reply by the secretary of the Japanese Metal Workers' Union. Then they were taken to the House of the Unions where a concert was being given for the benefit of the delegates.
