ORGANIZE THE

A. F. of L. Balks at Struggle

> By LAWRENCE TODD. Federated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 .- No special effort will be made to organize the half million workers in the motor vehicle and accessories industry this year.

Promises made and plans outlined at the convention of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor in Atlantic City, last fall are scrapped, insofar as the automobile workers are concerned.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the executive board of the department, in Washington headquarters, when President O'Connell brot up the question of creating this new addition to the fundamental trade union structure of the country.

Abandon Unskilled.

Executives of metal trades organizations, constituting the board, were unwilling to undertake the expense and danger involved in a big campaign of organization in the automobile factories in Detroit and elsewhere. They took the position that any funds which might be available for organization purposes should be used to increase the existing metal trades union membership in plants employing a large percentage of skilled workers-such as the General Electric plants at Schenectady, Pittsfield and Lynn, and the American Locomotive Works at Dunkirk and Richmond. These skilled men would naturally belong to the international craft unions of their trades, as they had formerly been union men and would be likely to respond to an effort to bring them ba to good union standing.

Jealsusly Guard Jurisdiction.

ONLY DAILY WORKER BUILDERS CAN ATTEND NEW YORK BANQUET

NEW YORK, Feb. 5-The DAILY WORKER banquet, which is to take place at the Yorkville Casino Sunday, Feb. 21 will be limited to qualified members of The DAILY WORKER Builders Club. Any reader of The DAILY WORK-ER may become a member of The DAILY WORKER Builders Club by securing $10 worth of subscriptions for The DAILY WORKER, the Workers Monthly, the Young Worker and the Young Comrade, but only those that perform this equivalent service for The DAILY WORKER will be admitted to the banquet.

Since the capacity of the banquet Hall is only 550, and since at least 50 builders are expected to attend from other cities, the number of New Yorkers who can attend will be 500. The tickets will be issued to the first 500 readers of The DAILY WORKER who qualify by securing at least $10 worth of subscriptions or equivalent service to The DAILY WORKER thru the New York agency. Each ticket will bear the name of the person entitled to use it. Tickets will not be transferable. For information and supplies call at The DAILY WORKER New York Agency, 108 East 14th street.

Workers (Communist) Party

DEVELOP THE T. U. E. L. INTO THE MASS MOVEMENT OF THE LEFT WING IN THE AMERICAN LABOR MOVEMENT

THE enemies of the left wing and progressive movement in the trade unions have been attacking the Trade Union Educational League. In several trade union papers controlled by the reactionary bureaucracy there have recently appeared articles declaring that the Red International of Labor Unions has repudiated the Trade Union Educational League. These stories have also made ridiculous allegations that the Workers (Communist) Party has ceased to support, or in some manner has disavowed the Trade Union Educational League.

These reports are plain fabrications propagated by the reactionary bureaucrats, to mislead the rank and file of the workers and to destroy

It is the duty of a Communist Party to support the militant workers struggling to build up the trade unions into fighting organs of the class struggle. In the United States, this struggle has brought into existence the Trade Union Educational League, a militant organization not merely of Communists but of the left wing and progressive trade unionists-the American section of the Red International of labor unions. Therefore, the Workers ((Communist) Party supports the Trade Union Educational League today more vigorously than ever before, to the utmost of its

We warn all workers not to allow themselves to be fooled by these maneuvers of the bureaucracy whose primary purpose is to destroy the Trade Union Educational League as an effective organ for uniting the various elements comprising the left wing into a mass movement against the reactionaries in the unions and to transform the trade unions into organs of real struggle against the capitalist class. Fearing the growth of the Trade Union Educational League, the reactionary officialdom is working overtime spreading rumors of the above character calculated to undermine the confidence of the workers in the left wing.

The Workers (Communist) Party is now concentrating especially on strengthening the T. U. E. L. and working for its development into a mass movement of the left wing. The Workers (Communist) Party considers the Trade Union Educational League activities as of primary importance and unreservedly supports the Trade Union Educational League and categorically repudiates all the rumors that it has disavowed the Trade Union Educational League.

Statements have also recently appeared in the capitalist press making ridiculous attacks upon Comrade Foster and implying that his connection with the Communist International has been severed.

In denial of these slanderous rumors, we can only emphatically reaffirm our declaration of November 27, 1925. Comrade Foster is not only a member of the C. E. C. of the party, but he is a leading member of the political committee and is, at this moment, engaged as actively as ever before in a leading capacity in the party's most important work.

LEO KRALIC KILLED WHEN A ROTTEN ROPE BREAKS AND TANK CRUSHES SKULL

By O'ZIM, Worker Correspondent, its welfare holds first place among WEST ALLIS, Wis., Feb. 5-in all our activities and at no time must the reports of the capitalist press | we forget to support it. A collection about an accident to Comrade Kralik, member of Workers (Communist) Party, which caused his death, it stated that he slipped and some heavy object fell on him crushing his skull.

These are the facts as I have gathered them from the widow and from others who were the first ones on the scene:

Leo Kralik did not slip while moving a small tank as was stated in the plute press. He was engaged in winding a drum on a hoisting machine. A rotten rope broke and the "small" tank fell, hitting our comrade in the face and smashing it beyond recognition. He lay unconscious and unattended for a long time, as he was working alone.

When the accident was reported the ambulance would not turn out as it was "too cold" and workers are cheap anyhow. The bosses even refused to notify this worker's

A fellow worker finally transported Kralik to the hospital in Kralik's own flivver, and notified his wife. Kralik suffered for seven hours before death released him. He is survived by a wife and two small children.

Craft Union Reaction in A. F. of L. in New Blow at Solidarity of Labor

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, the American Federation of Labor records another victory for craft unionism and disintegration in the suspension of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employes.

It is a triumph for reaction as typified in the person of the treasurer of the A. F. of L., Dan Tobin, of the Teamsters' Union, who carries on an age-old fight on behalf of his organization to scoop in a few members here and there under a craft charter granted his union more than a quarter of a

Tobin won the decision of the Atlantic City convention of the A. F. of L. last October, that the railway clerks must turn over to his union several thousand so-called "express drivers." The fact that the work of these drivers is intimately tied up with that of railway clerking, in fact many of these workers doing more clerking than driving, makes no difference. It makes just as little difference as the fact that the bakery wagon drivers are close to the Bakers' Union, but Tobin must needs fight this drift away from craft unionism in his efforts to win a few more members for his exclusive

This development means just another independent union outside the fold of the recognized American labor movement. The railway clerks' union had already been split because of its jurisdictional struggle within the A. F. of L. fold. Whether unity can be secured outside the A. F. of L. remains

The railway clerks certainly do not have the advantages of the "railway brotherhoods" in holding their members together. It is looked upon as a "war baby" by A. F. of L. officials and receives the resulting treatment. It came into existence during McAdoo's regime over the railroads during the war, winning a large membership by governmental consent. It brought together masses of workers that had hitherto not been organized.

Its backward outlook, however, was revealed in the fact that it drew the color line in its membership against Negro workers. These Negro workers have been compelled, in order to get any organization at all, to build "Jim Crow" unions. They had separate delegates at the last A. F. of L. convention and had to make their own fight to abolish the race line in building the trade unions.

What a spectacle! The delegates of the Railway Clerks' Union, in the A. F. of L. convention, being fought on the one hand by the reactionary craft bureaucrats, and on the other hand fighting the efforts of the Negro workers to develop the union into a fighting working class organization.

The announcement of the suspension of the Railway Clerks' Union comes simultaneously with the declaration that the A. F. of L. will scrap its plans for an organization campaign in the automobile industry. This campaign, along with the showing of a "labor movie" had been long exploited as the great effort to reach the millions of unorganized.

This confession of inability to even attempt an automobile organization drive and the renewed support given reactionary craft policies constitute a challenge to every progressive in the American labor movement. It is another surrender growing out of the class-collaboration policies of the present Green regime in the A. F. of L. that must be fought Fought Against Slave Law. During the fight against the damnable industrial court slave law I supported Alexander Howatt, whom you know well as the greatest leader of the United Mine Workers of America During this fight one John L. Lewis put me out of the organization which had been a member of for over 26 years—just for fighting for justice.

I was in that fight from the beginning to the end. We were on strike for thirteen months. Then we went back to work-those of us who could get work. I had been the president of my local and a member of the mine committee and thru having a well organized local union at our mine we were all able to get our jobs back.

Hurt in Rock Fall. I had worked in the mine but two months when about two tons of rock fell on my back, mashing me up quite pensation from Oct. 29, 1922, to July, 1923, when they stopped paying me.

But Roberts had put a bug in the head of the company that had leased the mine and my friend was not given a renewal until he agreed to fire me. I was then out of work again.

On Company Blacklist. It had been made impossible for me to get a job in this state. The company I worked for before has sent my name to every company in the state and I have been put on the blacklist. "Oh, heil," Sam murmured quietly This is how far a company will go to get rid of a class war fighter. William Brackston.

WORKERS' SCHOOL HAS DRIVE FOR A $10,000 FUND

Larger Quarters Needed to House Classes

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 .- The drive for $10,000 fund to enlarge the Workers' School will be opened in New York Monday, Feb. 8, with A. Ravitch as director of the drive.

The Workers' School is now the argest institution offering working class education in the entire country. It has grown steadily and its registration this year is much too large for the present floor space and equipment. Additional courses are about to start for the second winter term and this will further strain the inadequate physical equipment of the school. The new registration for the term to begin Feb. 15, is already coming in and the English classes are starting even earlier.

The drive committee plans to carry their campaign into the unions and into the fraternal organizations of the workers of New York and vicinity. The drive includes circulation of lists addressing meetings, arranging debates, forums and other affairs, and will end about the middle of March with a big concert and mass meeting for which there will be an interest ing printed program, containing articles on workers' education and contributions from the students of the school and the teachers. Workers of New York and vicinity are urged to get behind the drive to build a bigger, better workers' school in New York. The headquarters of the school is at 108 E. 14th street. Room 34, and donations, requests for lists and catalogue of courses should be sent to that address.

Abandon Drive in Auto Industry

In spite of the announced determination of the Metal Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor, formulated at the Atlantic City convention last fall, to organize the workers in the automobile industry, nothing has been done. More than that, nothing is to be done.

A recent meeting of the department, held in Washington, abandoned plans for a drive in this frightfully unorganized and underpaid industry. At the meeting it was disclosed that some of the leaders proposed that each craft union having membership in the industry cede some of its jurisdiction so that a new industrial union of the semi-skilled and unskilled could be built up in the industry. This was rejected by the executives of the unions who considered surrender of a part of their jurisdiction was not "practical."

Such opposition from reactionary officials is to be expected. Nothing is practical that would interfere with their jobs as leeches upon the labor movement. To cede part of their jurisdiction in favor of an industrial union as a preliminary to a determined organization drive would vindicate and popularize the program of step would be amalgamation of the unions in that industry. Each set of petty officials look to their own interests and resent anything that threatens their jobs as czars within their own domains.

a powerful, highly centralized industry such as the auto industry. It would entail a real campaign to organize the unorganized and its success would tend to revolutionize the labor movement by enabling the semi-skilled and unskilled to gain the ascendency in the A. F. of L. over the highly skilled craftsmen, many sections of which are corrupted by the super-profits of imperialism.

Against this shameful abandonment of the promised campaign THE system of mandates establish the left wing in all the metal trades unions should more insistently I ed by the league of nations is a than ever raise the slogans of amalgamation and organize the unor-

Daugherty Again!

No wonder Cal Coolidge so desperately tried to stop the investigation of Harry M. Daugherty, his one-time attorney general, and leader of the "Ohio gang" of political crooks, by reviling those senators who insisted upon prosecuting the investigation!

The removal of Daugherty from his office as chief of the law enforcement department of the United States government was tantamount to blowing the lid off the cesspool of republican politics as practiced by the late Harding.

A grand jury in New York has recently brought to light the fact that Daugherty claimed to be without money when he became attorney general and that he became, in the short space of a year, a comparatively rich man, thru various shady deals. When Daugh- to the mandates is contained in article erty was called to testify he declined to do so on the ground that 26 of the mandate granted Great he might incriminate himself. When Daugherty issued his infamous injunction against the striking shopmen in 1922 we branded him as the hired lackey of the scab shop interests of the country. His acts at that time caused thousands of workers to despise the government he represented. POCATELLO, Idaho, Feb. 5.-E. F. Wickman was ruthlessly run down and killed by an automobile driven by a man under the influence of moonshine. By his death the Workers (Communist) Party of this state of which he was a member has lost an untiring, devoted worker. For twenty years he has fought for his class, first lining up with the socialist party and then in the Communist movement. The theory of the mandates system is that the league is responsible for the gradual uplifting of the inhabitants of these areas until they become "cap able of self-government," but assigns the responsibility for the enforcement of each mandate to a given nation. In practice the nation holding the mandate exercises the same despotic rule that is applied to colonies gained thru individual conquest.

YOUNG WORKERS LEAD STRIKERS ON PICKET LINE

PASSAIC, N. J., Feb. 5 - Poetry and song woke up slumbering aristopickets gathered outside the Botany ing armed with old and new producto the uttermost parts of the strike

While the textile mill workers are the bosses they make merry with singing and cause the exploiters much worry by lifting their voices in such songs as "Hold the fort, for we are oming; Workingmen, be strong; Side by side we battle onward; Victory will come."

"It aint gonna rain no more," has been changed into "We aint gonna slave no more." Clarence Miller, of the Young Workers League of New York City is responsible for this song which the strikers now sing every morning on the picket line:

The bosses ruled the mills, The workers suffered, by heck, But since the workers are on strike The bosses get it in the neck. (CHORUS:)

Oh, We aint gonna slave no more Oh, We aint gonna slave no more That's what all the workers say, We aint gonna slave no more. The bosses ruled the mills,

The workers were oppressed, Weisbord gave the signal And the workers did the rest. (CHORUS!)

The bosses ruled Passaic, The workers lived in hell, But since workers got together It is just running swell. (CHORUS:) Oh we aint gonna work no more

We aint gonna work no more, Until we get our ten per cent We aint gonna work no more. The superintendent threatens That if on strike we go, Back to school they'll ship us,

But he'll find us rather slow. (CHORUS:) John was a boss No overtime he paid. But when we'll have our union On his back he will be laid. (CHORUS:)

STUDENT MASSES BEGIN TO MOVE

WITHIN the last several months greater strike activity has been going on among the students than ever before. In Chicago and New cracy during the week as the thousand York school strikes have developed over the machinations of politicians and Garfield mills at 6:30 in the morn- in building new schools. In New York especially the strike is beginning to tions of music which stirred the air spread to many others besides the ones it started in until it now involves in Public School 148 and 210, and several others especially in Wilout in a life and death struggle with liamsburg to the number of about six or seven thousand children.

The Cleveland board of education in response to a general demand among the students has eliminated military training from the curriculum despite the opposition of Newton D. Baker and other war mongers. In Columbus, Ohio the students are agitating against militarism in the Ohio State University—a vote on the question will take place in a few days. Thompson the president emeritus admits that despite all he could do the vote will be about ten to one against military training. In Coe College, Iowa, the student council of Coe College has adopted a resolution against military

The Young Workers (Communist) league is progressing in its attempts to build a united front against militarism. This tremendous protest bears no good to capitalism. Let them be-

OHIO CONFERENCE IS PROGRESSING

With the Eastern Ohio conference of young miners to take place on Feb. 28, 1926, work is being intensified all along the line to make the conference a big success by rallying the mining youth of that section for a struggle in their own interests against the abominable conditions under which they live and work.

The national office of the Young Workers League has sent. Comrade Harvey Murphy into the field as a special organizer to work with the district organizer, August Valentine. It is expected that delegates will be at the conference representing young miners from practically every coal mining camp in this section of the
