CONFERENCE FOR PROTECTION 201 REPRESENTS

(Special to The Daily orker)

NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 18.—Announcements of delegation elections to the conference for the protection of foreign-born workers, called for this Sunday, February 21, 2 p. m., at Central Opera House, 67th St. and 3rd Ave., continue to pour in.

The latest workers' organizations to elect delegates and declare their solidarity with the fight for the protection of the foreign-born worker, are: Trade Union League 201; Workmen's Sick and Death Benefit Branch No. 4; Furrier Cutters' Local No. 1; Workmen's Circle Branches 366 and 150; Williamsburg Progressive Assn. Inc.; Dress Makers' Local 22; Hotel Workers'

Branch of the Amalgamated ! Food Workers; Carpenters' Local 376; International Ladies' Garment Workers' Locals 38 and 45; Workers Party; Bakers'
Local 1; Amalgamated Food
Workers' Local 1.

Other organizations who had previously signified their intention to attend and elected delegates include I. L. G. W. U., Locals 22 and 82; Knit-good, Local 55; Cloak, Suit and Dress. Local 35; Sample makers, Local 3; Cloak and Suit Local; Bakers' Local Bosses Cannot Break ment Workers; Shoe Workers' Protective Union, Locals 53 and 54; and Workingmen's Circle Locals 155, 86

Great Masses Represented.

The conference is already assured over the flat refusal by the United a representation of 200,000 workers. Front Committee of Textile Workers This unparalleled mass rallying to the to fall for the proposal made by the in the United States is due to the vicious nature of the Aswell bill for work pending a settlement of the difthe finger printing, card-indexing and registration of the foreign born workers and for the deportation of any been born in a foreign country and be fighting for American living standards in the United States. The bill is a for picketing before the gates of the frightful menace to the foreign born Forstmann & Huffman mills. because deportation to such countries as Italy, Hungary, Roumania, Bulgaria or Poland, or some of the others in which the white terror reigns, is forts to get the workers who are still equivalent to death by torture in its in the mills to join the 10,000 now out most terrible form. SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 18 -The Studebaker Motor company is importing workers here from different distant cities while at the same time thousands of workers, who have large families and have lived here many years, are walking the streets looking for a chance to go to work. WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 - The old anti-administration coalition of democrats and insurgents resumed the war path in the senate today in a drive to force a senatorial investigation of the Mellon-owned aluminum company of America. While apparently unable to block the aluminum investigation, administration leaders quietly laid plans to prevent a recurrence of the investigations of 1924, which ended only after two republican cabinet officers vere forced into retirement. The regular republicans rallied around a new declaration of policy" under which all resolutions proposing senatorial inquiries, would have to be approved first by a standing committee of the senate. NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 18 .- John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, raised the issue of Communism on Tuesday, at Scranton, to put over his treasonable "Black Friday" agreement with the mine owners.

Today the rich fur manufacturers of New York City are screaming "Communism" thru every instrument at their disposal, including the kept press, in an effort to cloud the issues in the struggle that has called 12,000 fur workers into battle with

Lewis Had Clown As an Ally to Put Over Black Friday Surrender Pact

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

COURT jesters are not a thing of the past. They have only changed their clothes. In the days of kings and queens, the jester danced about, in his cap and bells and vari-colored uniform, cracking his jokes at the expense of those high and low.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in his court just held at the Town Hall, in the anthracite coal town of Scranton, Pa., had his jester, provided for the occasion, one Con MaCole, who claims to have been a miner at one time. But that must have been a long time ago. * * *

CON MaCole was presented to the convention shortly, after the catholic priest, Father J. J. Curran, had finished with his more serious business of throwing the fear of god into the delegates if they did not accept the "Black Friday" surrender. God still rules as something to be more feared than the mine barons in the anthracite coal fields. But the jester, Con/Ma-Cole, also had his purpose.

He was presented with 15 minutes of the time of the convention by its temporary chairman, Chris J. Golden, president of District No. 9. So this is the way he started:

"Fifteen minutes isn't a very long time. And you say you are union men. Well, 15 minutes ought to make up a day's work anyway."

That brought a good hand all 'round. Even the anthracite miners, stung with the latest sell-out by President Lewis have dreams of a shorter workday.

THEN the clown of President Lewis' court took over the chairman's gavel and announced that he was going to run a convention of his own-a mock convention. Here was his opening:

"You know what we are here for. We are here for the Miners' Annual Convention to accept nothing.

"If there is any man in the hall satisfied with his wages, let him get out now while he can walk out," and then when the laughter had subsided, the comedian concluded, "If he doesn't we'll be walking slow behind him in four rays."

HE then told the story of the miners who had come up to within 10 feet of the surface in a 900 foot shaft, when the car broke away and they were plunged back to the bottom again. He asked: "How can you expect

St. Peter to raise you 900 feet if you can't make the corporations raise you ten per cent." This sally was greeted with a burst of applause, the coal diggers hardly realizing that they were convention. He was pictured as demanding a ten per cent wage increase and being especially loud in his demands for the five-hour work-

He then mimicked another delegate as declaring, in commenting on the radical's speech, "Well, he's a good union man." That brought forth an unexpected burst of applause that almost put a serious expression on the smiling face of the clown. It caused the officialdom to squirm. Yet that is the real purpose of a clever clown's sallies. Lewis' clown was doing his very best. There was much more of the

Then the funny man tried to turn serious and recite a poem that waved the flag in every line and denounced the Bolsheviks in every syllable. The catholic priest had put in his oar for god. The comedian proclaimed, "I'm boosting for Uncle Sam." That either one of them got a hearing indicates that the miners have some distance yet to go before they rid their gatherings of these stage trappings that are presented by their officials to get the minds of the delegates off the real problems confronting them. . . .

CON MaCole did pretty well and Lewis will no doubt reward him for it. Out west the miners' officials make even better use of their comedians. Their latest pet is Oscar Ameringer, who performed for a long time in the socialist party, and has even been substituting for Victor L. Berger on the Milwaukee Leader, the official mouthpiece of the Wisconsin congressman. Ameringer parades as "Adam Coaldigger," thru the columns of the "Illinois Miner," the official organ of the Farrington machine in the Illinois Mine Workers' Union. Ameringer's ambition, self-admitted, is to become jester to the great American working class. But he has not realized, and will never realize that an awakened working class will not laugh at his jokes when the workers learn that he is trying to get them off the main track in the theory of "get something now."

Ameringer has taken some job on his hands when he attempts to put a radical coating on Lewis' ally in Illinois, Frank Farrington, who wants to become president of the United Mine Workers of America when "John L." joins Coolidge's cabinet as secretary of labor. . . .

BUT the workers will find the right time to laugh and the right time to be serious. They will learn that the best time to be serious, and act accordingly, is when their officials are trying to put something over on them. Seriousness is always required to fight "Black Friday" surrenders.

"The coal mining industry deserves great credit for what it has done in accident prevention work." He is upset because editors have charged the coal mining industry with reckless disregard of the lives of mine workers. He issued his whitewash to the Na tional Coal Association, the employe organization. What are the facts?

The fatality rate in 1924, was 1.59 miners per million hours of exposure in the industry. With the exception of 1922, we must go back to 1911 to find as high an accident death rate. The average fatality rate for the 3 years 1922-24 was 1.56 per million Hunter Miller, chairman of the Amehours of exposure. This compares with an average of 1.47 for the 12 pre- sanne treaty. FIGHT AGAINST REGISTRATION

Urge Support of Foreign-Born Councils

The foreign-born workers of Chicago are becoming aroused against Coolidge-Mellon government and being spread broadcast by the secretary of labor, James J. Davis. They realize full well that such legislation as the proposed finger-printing of foreign-born workers is only a preliminary to the systematic terrorization of all workers.

Recently the Greek Workers' Educational League held a meeting in Hull House where the assemblage was addressed on this subject by speakers familiar with the menace contained in the registration scheme and adopted the following resolutions, calling upon other foreign-born workers PALO ALTO, Calif., Feb. 18.-After to take similar action and affiliate nducting 10,000 experiments, Prof. with the councils for the protection of ohn Edgar Coover, of the psychology the foreign-born, which are consolidatepartment of Stanford University, ing the movement against this latest

Trade Unions! Fractions in the I. A. of M.

Our members many times have been asked by the party to join the trade unions. It is also true that many lectures were given and many articles written on that subject in an effort to get our members to understand the significance of the trade union work and the opportunity this work gives to our party for carrying on Communist propaganda. Still, all this did not bring about the desired result.

The last plenum session of the C. E. C. of our party established that the trade union work is a problem which concerns the party as a whole. members into the trade unions.

AT N. Y. FORUM THE MEANING OF OUR DEMAND FOR MORE SANITARY CONDITIONS IN PASSAIC TEXTILE STRIKE

By MIKE ELASIK, Young Textile Striker.

PASSAIC, N. J.-Many thousands of young and old workers went on strike in the textile industries here in Passaic and the bosses seem not to know why or for what reasons we struck. Well, that's what they all say. Anyhow, I'll be very generous about it and tell them why thru the Young Worker Column. Well, in the first place they thought they would get away with it by

RETAIL CLERKS

Bosses Fear Militant Organization Drives

By a Worker Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 - The purpose of this article is to expose the miserable conditions of the grocery clerks of years ago and the changes brought about by the Retail Grocery and Dairy Clerks' Union of Greater New York and the miserable conditions in the non-union stores of today.

To become a grocer's apprentice 10 years ago was very easy.

Joe gets up 4 o'clock in the morning; pulls on his clothes; wets his hair; slides down the three flights of stairs and grabs a morning newspaper. He walks over to the nearest lamp-post, and turns to the "want ads" page and reads: "Grocery boy wanted. No experience necessary, 555 Hoe Ave., Bronx, N. Y."

Joe gets on the train at the nearest elevated station and arrives at his destination at about 5 a. m.

He walks into the food store of Mr. "H." A wheelbarrow figure on two short legs, bent over a box of rolls: "Young man, you are just the guy I want," grunts Mr. "H." I had no luck with my boys lately. They don't seem to stick, but a fellow, whose ambition brings him here 5 o'clock in the morning is the right dough for me. Deliver these seventy orders. You will then go up to my house for breakfast. Repeating Lewis' Propaganda

John L. Lewis, the ne-plus-ultra of labor lieutenants of capitalism, achieves distinction not only because of his ability to betray the organized mine workers of this country, but he now becomes the theoretical and intellectual leader of the rich Jewish fur manufacturers who are trying to break the strike of the 12,000 fur

Certainly we Communists have no objections to such creatures assailing us. To be attacked by Lewis in the anthracite and the fur manufacturers in New York is to be distinguished. To incur such enmity is praise-worthy and we shall endeavor always to merit it.

We do object, however, to any one trying to befog the elementary issues involved in labor struggles by raising the fake cry of Communism. But no matter how much the petty capitalists of New York or the mercenaries of big capital at the head of the trade unions to cajole and persecute workingmen. may rail against us, we are not injured thereby. The workers in It really turns the department of laevery industry will not fail to perceive that the most determined fighters for the demands of labor and those most thoroly hated and feared by the greedy exploiters are the Communists.

In the Furriers' Union, the Communists, who were a very small minority in past struggles, now play an important role because in the bitter fight against the Kaufman reactionary machine our forces convinced thousands of workers that the Communist tional in the treatment accorded to Party is the real vanguard of the working class.

If the real opposition to Lewis comes from the Communists, when the full realization of the immensity of his betrayal spreads to every habitation in the anthracite slave regions the masses there, who are now awakening, will unquestionably follow our leadership.
