Thus the general strike ends after a week of amazing demonstrations of solidarity and power. The struggle was broken off at a time everyone was confident of success and the retreat was effected only at the expense of much lost prestige.

"I regret the fact we are left alone to fight our battles," is the only word of reproach uttered by Cook, the fighting secretary of the Miners' Federation. The feeling among the miners is intense. The calling off of the general strike was a hard blow to them. What effect the last few day's events will have on the rank and file of other industries still remains to be more clearly expressed.

Tomorrow is primary election in Pennsylvania, the heavy guns of the campaign are silenced and the vote will in a few hours be known. Charges of monumental graft and bribery become ever louder and more insistent. The outpouring of money to corrupt the republican party electorate has probably exceeded anything in the way of state elections. Close observers say that even the notorious Newberry soandal in Michigan has been left far in the background.

The Mellon billions back the administration senator, George Wharton Pepper. William S. Vare, boss of Philadelphia, running on a "ringing wet" platform, has the backing of the Mitten scab shop street railway octopus of that city and smaller manufacturing interests scattered thruout the state. Pinchot, now governor, has mobilized his political machine and is backed by other industrial interests.

Each Claims Victory.

Each of the three candidates claims victory, for purposes of last-minute off. campaigning, but privately they admit that they consider the conflict very close. Real issues have been befogged with the wet and dry question.

While Pinchot, as opposed to Vare the "wet," is decisively and vocally "bone-dry," George Wharton Pepper, the Mellon-Coolidge candidate, straddles the issue by stating that he is for "law enforcement."

Each accuses the other of attempting to steal the nomination by "fraud," which is probably true in each case, as is usually the case in old party conflicts

Labor's Pathetic Role.

The role of organized labor, that is as far as the official spokesmen are concerned, is pathetically impotent. With the shameful policy of treachery embodied in the slogan "reward your triends and punish your enemies" in the old party camps, the state officials of the labor movement, endorse Pinchot. But hundreds of local leaders line up behind Vare, because of his wet platform. Pepper and the other state candidates on the Mellon-Coolidge ticket have no labor support whatsoever, which doesn't seem to worry them as they take the attitude that the leaders cannot deliver the vote anayway.

League of Women Voters at one of its sessions here adopted a resolution bitterly condemning the brutality displayed by the Passaic police against the 16,000 textile workers on strike.

Capitalism's Professors Admit War Danger in Hunt for Raw Materials

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

ONE of the choicest aggregations of apologists for capitalism, that has ever assembled under the stars and stripes, has just adjourned its sessions in the sylvan retreat provided by the exclusive resort of parasites known as Briarcliff Lodge. New York. The consensus of opinion, as keynoted by such outstanding defenders of the American dollar as Elihu Root and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, was that "the center of gravity has shifted from questions of pure politics to questions of pure economics."

It must have been rather difficult for these scholars and exponents of American "democracy" to admit that economic forces dictate the decisions of their Wall Street government at Washington. That is what Communists have always contended. Karl Marx carefully pointed it out to the whole world about 75 years ago, while Lenin applied these theories to the present period of development of the imperialist epoch.

There was no denying the fact, by any of those present at Briarcliff, that the possibilities of igniting the world powder barrel are greater now than ever before. In 1914, the strugle was limited more or less to the European slaughter house, in the war over "coal" and "iron," altho it was sedition, to be punished with long terms, to mention it then.

Now the capitalist "intellectuals" gravely discuss and sagely declared that:

"We must concern ourselves more than ever before with problems arising out of those multifarious trades and commerces which are the outcome of our industrial civilization."

Just how that situation has been met by the great imperialist nations is pointed out by Richard V. Oulahan, the Washington correspondent of the New York Times, when he says:

"Ever since the peace makers at Paris seven years ago inserted in the Versailles treaty an agreement to have a disarmament conference, the business of improving deathdealing engines of warfare has been carried on industriously by the nations whose representatives sat at the peace table."

is the protector of that imperialism The Harding disarmament comedy that seeks new sources of raw material, new markets in which to disat Washington, in 1921, no longer pose of its finished goods, new nareceives serious consideration. It tions to burden with its export caphad to do merely with limitation of naval strength, that offered numerital. develop its battle fleets of the air. There are no limitations and none will be tolerated. The invention of new and more powerful poison gases, and other means of mass murder. are hidden secrets of the laboratory. carefully protected from the prying search of all enemy governments.

Dr. Richard Mead Earle, Associate Professor of History at Columbia University, dares to whisper that there is "a tendency in this country by both government and private business to develop sources of raw materials overseas and that an aggressive policy of such American investments was certain to meet resistance."

It is difficult to understand what the professor means by "a tendency." The agents of the Standard Oil company roam the world, hunting new fields of explication. The rubber barons, in competition with those of Great Britain, do likewise.

Control of nitrates in Chile ranges in importance with the natural resources of Mexico and other Latin-

American countries. These are facts

Surely the capitalist brains gath-

the best that the scholars have to Everywhere among Mexican workrs amazement is expressed at the hesitating and double-edged utterances of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, regarding the strike. Barrios, of the railroad workers, pointed out to The DAILY WORKER correspondent that the A. "Green stabbel the British workers in the back," continued the Mexican labor leader. "I do not believe the American workers-the rank and file of the unions-will be satisfied with the kind of statements their president issued about the strike. The church owned over 20,000,000 acres of land in Mexico at one time and on its land it exploited the Mexican workers and farmers. The church today is the agency which is fomenting revolutions against the Calles labor government.

The Calles government in its move to divorce the church from the state and to end the exploitation of the workers and farmers on church lands, has made a progressive move. The Mexican clergy is given the right to preach religion to the workers and farmers provided they abide by the constitution of Mexico which provides that no clergymen shall try to link up the church and state. The clergy are allowed freedom of religious expression as long as they stick to religion.

SACCO-VANZETTI

Judge Thayer

By ART SHIELDS, Federated Press

NEW YORK, May 17.-(FP)- The denial of the new trial motions for Sacco and Vanzetti was a terrible shock to the defense. There had been informal assurances that the new trial would be granted. It was expected that the six year persecution of the last two prisoners from Palmer "Red Raid" days-they were arrested May, 1920-would soon be ended.

All down the line the 67-page opinion of the supreme court is a whitewash for Judge Thayer. Among the high lights of the opinion are: The Decision.

(1) Endorsement of the prosecu tion's grilling of Sacco on the witness stand as to his social views-his hat red of capitalist wars; his aspirations to a workers' society. Defense law yers claimed the "red" issue was viciously raised for the purpose of prejudicing the jury. But the supreme court calls this a legitimate testing of the credibility of a witness.

Supports Thayer.

into the jury room, secretly, without giving the defense an opportunity to combat. Certain cartridge shells having a bearing on the murder case were exhibited to his fellow-jurors by Foreman Ripley. The defense had no opportunity to puncture this evidence; knew nothing of it till long after the trial. Judge Thayer, in denying the motions for a new trial in October, 1924, had ruled that the Ripley incident was of no importance. The supreme court put its O. K. on Thayer's decision. All thru the opinion the court emphasizes that the trial judge has "discretionary power."

Many other vital matters of evidence are brushed aside. The trial judge had "discretionary power" is the supreme court's line of policy.

Ignore Travesties.

The refusal to allow separate trials, eries of justice pass muster with the Bay State black robes.

Defense to Fight.

This final verdict of the Masschusetts courts will not be accepted by the defense. Big mass meetings in New York and Boston will be organized as the agitation, which had lapsed while the supreme court's decision was awaited, is renewed. The first New York mass meeting, called by the American Civil Liberties' Union, the International Labor Defense and Italian organizations, for Central Opera House Wednesday, May 19, will, it is expected, be followed by a nation-wide agitation. Meanwhile the defense committee in Boston is conferring with Sacco and Vanzetti as to the appeal to the United States supreme court.

PEKING, May 17 .- Premier Yen is not able to get a single member he appointed to the new regency cabinet to assume office as long as the militarists insist on money to carry on their ventures.

Plan to Take Peking.

The Kuominchun army, realizing that the imperialist tools, Chang Tso-Lin and Wu Pei-Fu, are determined to annihilate them, have concentrated their forces and are expected to emerge from Nankow Pass and obtain needed food and supplies by capturing Peking. The Kuominchun army was forced to evacute Peking following a betrayal by Wu Pei-Fu.

The Kuominchun army and Wu Pei-Fu carried on negotiations to launch a concerted attack on Chang Tso-Lin Wu-Pei-Fu, an imperialist tool, carried on these negotiations and then at a least expected moment united with Chang Tso-Lin in a drive on Peking Their purpose was to crush the Kuo minchun. The Kuominchun withdrew in orderly fashion and is now prepar ing to make a nattack on the imperialist forces quartered in the city.

Natives Await Kuominchun.

Soldiers under Chang Tso-Lin and Wu Pei-Fu have robbed, raped and terrorized the natives in and around Peking. These natives, who were neutral in the fight between these two imperialist tools and the Kuominchun, are now impatiently awaiting the way when the Kuominchun forces will advance on Peking.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, May 17 .-The cabinet headed by Premier Ouzon vitch, which was reconstructed April 30 after charges of graft had been made against the cabinet, has now resigned. The resignation of the cabinet followed a defeat in parliament on the question of organizing a parliamentary committee to investigate fraud charges against the government. The cabinet sought a whitewash committee. The king has asked the cabinet to remain in charge until the sit-

900 On Strike Against Standard Oil Subsidiary

By a Worker Correspondent.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., May 17 .--Nine hundred workers of the Raritan Smelting workers, a subsidiary of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, itself a subsidiary of Standard Oil, formed a genral strike committee and walked out of the plant yesterday for a ten per cent increase in wages and a reduction of working hours. Organizers from New York have arrived here and mass picketing of the plant has begun.

Plan Strike Extension.

The strike started in the tank house where 150 men demanded a 10c per hour increase. It spread to the other departments until only 300 of the 1,200 men in the plant remained at work. Plans are being made to extend the strike to include the plants of the American Smelting and Refining Co. Co.

8-Hour Day Demand.

ents. The general strike committee called upon the manager of the Raritan works and submitted the demands of the strikers which included besides the 10% increase, an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime. The manager went to New York to confer with officials of the company and said he would give his answer in a day or two.

St. Louis, Pittsburgh and San Francisco Join!

DAILY WORKER BUILDER CLUBS are the order of the day. St. Louis has just organized and set a date for a Prize Party for September 12 -with prizes for lucky ones.

Pittsburgh has a live group-and candidates who swear they are all gong to Moscow. San Francisco held a Builders' affair on Sunday. New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Los Angeles-all have formed groups of Communist Press Builders and the army just keeps on growing. The future looks brighter for our press every day.

The "Daring" of the Reformists

Some rules formulated by Marx for the conduct of the armed struggle for power by the working class can very well be applied to such gigantic struggles as the British general strike.

The comparison of the necessities of the struggle in Great Britain with the tactics of the leadership of that struggle makes clear the have shown our employers a solid given the 40-hour week his endorseweakness of the latter.

Two of the conditions for successful struggle are:

1. Once the insurrection has begun, it is necessary to act with the utmost vigor, and to wage at all costs, the OF-FENSIVE. "The defensive is death to the insurrection."

2. Win successes EACH DAY, even small ones (one might say "each hour" in the case of a small town), and at all costs keep the MORAL SUPERIORITY.

The British strike lost the offensive when it failed to make the defeat of the government its objective and allowed Baldwin to appear as the defender of "the interests of the people" against the labor movement.

It lost likewise the "moral superiority" for the reason that the week will open a new chapter in the for it in practice. leadership was afraid to expose the government before the masses history of the workers' struggle for as their enemy and challenge it in decisive fashion. voke.

LABOR'S MILITANCY

UNCLE SAM—SHYLOCK

EDITOR'S NOTE:-In a recent number of The New Leader, the New York socialist weekly, James Oneal, the editor, published what purported to be a review of a recent book, "Left Wing Unionism," by David J. Saposs, formerly associated with the group around Professor John R. Commons at the University of Wisconsin, who compiled the "History of Labor in the United States," and now an instructor at Brookwood Labor College. Oneal's "review" was such a miserable perversion of the book and so obviously a designed attack upon the Communists that one of his own readers assails him for it in an article in the May 15 issue of The New Leader, which we publish herewith. Oneal states that he will reply to the author of the article in a series of articles setting forth previous tendencies in the labor movement similar to the Communist movement of today. Thus his readers, many of whom seem to be aware of his total unreliability as a historian and theoretician, will be treated to more perversions.
