THERE are labor fakers in all capitalist countries but in no other country in the world could one of this fraternity afford to openly ally himself with the stoolpigeons of the capitalist system and get away with it. It is true that in England, Havelock Wilson, head of the seamens' union is an accomplished fink but even the British trade union bureaucracy are forced to hold their noses when the name of this odoriferous gentleman is mentioned. In the United States the labor stoolpigeonprovided he works on a salary basis and not on commission-is accorded the respect that prosperity usually carries in its train.

THE particular faker that I am referring to just now is Matthew Woll, president of the Photo Engravers' Union, a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, head of the insurance company founded by the A. F of L. and acting president of the National Civic Federation, an open shop patriotic aggregation of capitalists and flunkeys from the higher circles of the trade union bureaucracy. Mr. Woll has gent workers by his willingness to scab on the underpaid stoolpigeons and with pacifist illusions. who stay up late at night writing the illegible reports of their day's work to their employers.

WHAT Mr. Woll is chiefly con-cerned with is his own personal interests. This parasite has lived on the American workingclass since he was old enough to realize that a fellow with a glib tongue, an elastic conscience could get along working be served by being loyal to their masters and paving toll the workers and gulling them with legitimate grafter who played the role of middleman.

THERE is no essential difference between the part played by Matthew Woll and his kind in the American class struggle and the part played by the Hindoo princes in India. England's policy-and the policy of all imperialist powers in similar circumstances-has been to divide the conquered. England picked on the nobility and put them on her payroll -the money being extracted from the toil of the conquered. The noble hirelings became the native overseers and slavedrivers for the conquered.

IN the labor movement the capitalists first fought the labor leaders and then bought them. Sometimes there is no direct transfer of cash. Indeed we would have less respect for the originality of the capitalists if they were unable to devise methods that would not leave footprints on the sands in such delicate bartering While the original crop of labor leaders were young and incorruptible the capitalists put them in cold and clammy cells. British-Soviet Break, War Danger, to Feature Anti-Imperialist Meeting

The breaking of diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union by Great Britain and its connection with events in China will be discussed at the protest meeting arranged by the Workers (Communist) Party for Friday evening, at the Central Opera House, 67th St. and 3rd Ave.

This meeting is called not only to protest against American intervention in China and to demand the withdrawal of American troops, but also to acquaint workers with the complicated international situation.

The speakers will be Scott Nearing, Bertram D. Wolfe, H. M. Wicks, M. J. Olgin, Alexander Trachtenberg, Juliet S. Poyntz, Chas. Krumbein, a Chinese speaker, and a representative of the Young Workers League, Jack Stachel will be chairman

To All Comrades and Sympathizers:

In spite of the heavy blows that have been delivered against us we still publish The DAILY WORKER. But the crisis is not yet overcome. We want to be perfectly frank with our readers about our position. We still face the future with misgivings. We do not know what tomorrow will bring forth. Although many comrades and supporters have responded to our appeals we are still far short of the amount necessary to assure our publication even Comrades Dunne and Miller are still in jail and even their jailers carry on the persecution started by the three judges who refused them bail. Visitors who tried to bring them the little things that prisoners need in the filthy jails of capitalism were denied admission and the jailers would not permit even food to be sent to them. Visitors were told that on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays no one could visit or send provisions to prisoners.

Next Friday they will again be taken into court to find out how long they will have to serve because of their services to the paper and to the revolutionary movement.

Comrades, no one can deny that the decision of the three judges was a class decision. No member of the ruling class is ever sent to prison to await sentence because of a misdemeanor-a small crime. But our comrades were thrown into jail and bail denied them because the powers that prey knew The DAILY WORKER was having a hard struggle to exist and they hoped by this action to silence us so that nowhere in the United States would there appear a daily paper in the English language that fights the battles of the Comrades, do not let the conspirators succeed in their drive to kill your paper. Do not let a day go by that you do not get someone to contribute to our emergency fund in order that we may keep alive and get a chance to prepare for the future by overcoming our financial difficulties.

You have acted thus far and we are still alive, but you must stay on the job. Our fate is in your hands.

Honor Victims of British Imperialist Lust in Impressive Demonstrations

SHANGHAI, May 30.—One million Chinese workers today shook their fist in the face of British and Japanese imperialism while observing their second memorial day.

Two years ago today British police fired into a mass of unarmed Chinese students, ten seconds after they had been warned in English, a foreign language to them, to disband. Sixteen were killed and scores wounded.

Hundreds of thousands of workers struck in protest against the brutal murder of the marching boys and girls. A nation-wide boycott against English goods was also instituted as a result of the massacre.

The great demonstrations were held in the Chinese section of the city. British and French carefully patrolled the international and French settlements, even forbidding foreigners to enter the native city. Ten foreigners held. Only newspapermen were permitted beyond the barriers.

UNDERPAID INSURANCE WORKERS OFTEN FLEEGED BY LOAN SHARKS

This series of ten articles, of which this is the seventh, deals with the exploitation of the industrial insurance agent and methods to combat the evils of weekly payment life insurance. This series is the result of numerous requests to publicize the details of the swindle and fraud to which the agent is subject in common with the policyholder.

Guady Reports.

And now comes the 1926 annual report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company with its figures running into billions of dollars to lend heart to the mulcted customer and the oppressed and goaded agent.
It is a known fact that half of the agents of these billion dollar corporations are in the hands of loan sharks. Such philanthropic institutions as the Morris Plan and other "industrial" bankers have thousands of "industrial" agents on their books. These "banking" organizations operate in such a manner that when one becomes a customer one remains a customer, "Industrial" banking for "industrial" agents!

"Of the People."

Let the agent whose pay is mort-gaged to these loan leeches take pride in his company's annual report. It is a thing to be proud of.

Last year the "Big Four" made 50 million dollars on lapsed policies. This enormous sum of money went directly into the pockets of the companies who indulge in such maudlin blurbs as "the company of the people" and similar tripe.

Last year the "Big Four" stole 33 million dollars from the pockets of their agents in "lapse charges." The legend should read, "From the Peo-

Pennsylvania Labor Endorses Negro As

PHILADELPHIA, May 30. - The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor in convention recently adopted a resolution against barring the Negro from certain unions. The resolution lauded the colored worker as a loyal union man when he is given the opportunity.

Continuing, the resolution read in part, "If we bar the Negro from our unions, he will work as a non-union man, for he must make a living, and the employers are hiring him.'

Sinclair Writes Letter Of Sarcasm to Governor A'bout WhitneySentence

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 30 .-Upton Sinclair has written the governor of California a letter full of sharp irony over his purported dilemma about the Whitney case. Many women's clubs and liberal organizations sympathizer with the cause of the have protested against the actual infliction upon one of the most popular women in the state, of the sentence of "from one to fourteen years in the penitentiary" which the Supreme Court of the United States has decreed she must suffer because of conviction under the iniquitous criminal syndicalism law of California. Anita Whitney was convicted like all the other victims of that law, on frameup evidence of professional labor spies and detectives.

Sinclair's letter is as follows:

FULLER'S MIND BEING POISONED ON SACCO CASE

Gloom Among Friends of Workers Grows

BOSTON, May 30 .- A deep gloom is pervading Sacco-Vanzetti circles here this week, following the hopefulness of recent weeks.

With Governor Fuller fully launched on his secret investigation, with Defense Counsel William G. INVINCIBLE RED ARMY PREPARED AGAINST ATTACKS

May Day Demonstration Inspiring Event

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL. (Special to The DAILY WORKER.) MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., May 1. *(By Mail.)-Unity between the Red Army and the working masses of the Soviet Union,-this was one of the big facts revealed in Moscow's May Day Demonstration. Missing this was to fail to realize an important part of the significance of this occasion.

This fact, that was also made apparent in all the May Day gatherings over the whole Soviet Union, is of especial importance in these days of new threatening attacks on the Workers' Republic by the imperialist foe, finding expression to some extent in the imperialist war waged against the Chinese Revolution.

Aguinaldo, native military leader of a quarter of a century ago, has long been the servile vassal of American imperialism. Every American worker with brains enough to perceive the class struggle sympathises with the trade union movement in the islands and urges the workers in the arsenal as well as all other workers under the iron heel of the Wood despotism to refuse to disband their unions in spite of the forgers' threats. Unquestionably the struggle for national liberation in China driven out of China. against the imperialist powers is exerting a strong influence on the Philippines and we hope the day is not far off when the major generals and rear admirals will be driven from the country. In their struggle against American imperialism the Filipinos will have the support of the militant section of the working class in the United States.

Green, alone, speaks for labor, according to his opinion of himself. However, there are thousands upon thousands of trade unionists for whom he does not speak. They belong to international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and pay no attention to the ravings of creatures of the Green calibre. Many local unions would not permit Green to address them any more than they would invite the chairman of the open shoppers to harangue them.

Furthermore, labor in the United States, though suffering from the blight of a reactionary and traitorous officialdom in most of its organizations, has never expressed its desires re-

The Left Wing in the Garment Unions Furrier Chairmen Urged RIGHTS SACRIFICE

By MARGARET LARKIN

Following the expulsion of Local 1 and Local 25, the reactionary officials of the International Ladies' Garment Workers started heresy hunts against individual members. But this just started a new revolt, leading to the left wing demands of 1925. The story is told in the Joint Board's own official account of the Left Wing in the Garment Unions, published in pamphlet form.

Shop Chairmen Warn of Drive by Bosses

The growing revolt of the workers against the lowering of union conditions in associated fur shops is made plain in a "call" issued by the Shop Chairmen's Council of the Furriers' Council of the Furriers' Union following the recent meeting of the shop chairmen to consider the situation resulting from the attack of the reactionary A. F. of L. and International officials.

Chairman Simon Biro and Secretary Hyman Bassin, in the name of the Council point out to the fur workers what is happening in the shops where there is so-called "right control," and it urges the workers to be on their guard in "the face of the danger that is confronting the Union."

"Wages are being cut 30 to 40 per cent, and in many cases even more,' says the Shop Chairmen's Council.

"Many manufacturers are forcing their workers to work 44 hours a week. In many shops, overtime is being worked on Saturdays and even on Sundays. A great number of manufacturers allow themselves to deduct so-called dues from the wages of the of the scab-union. Union conditions

Exchange Laughs at Untermyer Efforts to Curb Wall St. Control

Government control of the stock exchange and elimination of proxy voting by directors on shares not even controlled by Wall Street brokers, Hudson County is still on. was asked yesterday by Samuel Un termyer in a letter to the president of the governors of the exchange.

His request followed the exposur of the voting of huge blocks of stock in the I. R. T. by directors who had no legal right to do so. Thereby control of the I. R. T. and other huge corporations is retained by 10 per cent or less of the stock, held by a few influential financiers.

Untermyer wants a law to curb all this, but the stock exchange is confident that it can beat any laws that may be enacted.

It will be the great agency of the Nation, potent and far-reaching, for the buildingup of Peace-Time Patriotism.'

High Pressure Methods.

The better American Federation, though heavily backed by corporations, goes after members extensively. The "red menace" appeal is apparently relied upon to produce the best results. One pamphlet of exposés of the radical plot to overthrow the government is entitled "Behind the Veil," though most of its material, where accurate, could be secured from radical publications for fifty cents. Another money-getting folder in red, white, and blue is entitled "Are you an American or ? ." It includes extracts from I.W.W. songs and quotations from radical journals, all in red ink, with a pledge at the bottom. The signer, who contributes to this employers' body at the same time, agrees to

'oppose all organizations or individuals who openly or covertly, directly or indirectly, give aid, comfort, or support to the doctrines, practices or purposes of the Bolsheviki, the I.W.W. or kindred organizations, or who do not give undivided allegiance to our flag and the great principles of constitutional free government of which it is the emblem."

When the business crowd behind the Better America Federation want to do a political job that might embarrass that organization, they get up machinery under another name. The Citizens Committee of Ten Thousand (actually a few score) is one of them, devoted solely to ampaigning for the "right men" from Los Angeles in the legislature and Congress.

A circular appeal from that committee to business men in February, 1924, puts its job plainly:

"Laws which are detrimental to business or injure you, the members of your family, or the community in which you live, can be prevented.

"You are being robbed every day,---losses running into the thousands, yes, probably millions of dollars yearly. You and your business interests are footing the bill.

Down in West Virginie, the coal operators behind the American Constitutional Association got out a letter of appeal, addressed to "members and friends." It is taken from the court record in the case of a solicitor one of our Bluefield (W. Va.) members writes:

'We have got to have something with PUNCH in itsomething which will awaken and HOLD red-blooded men, and make them sit up and take notice and keep exists which can break this unity. IF HENRY GEORGE WERE A GERMAN.

The State, by Franz Oppenheimer. Vanguard Press, Inc. $.50.

Oppenheimer is most of all a single taxer. The only thing that establishes his superiority over the average "Little Lander" is the fact that he is also a scholar, and was a professor of sociology at Frankfort University at a time when Germany prided herself on hard and thoro investigation in the sciences, and on exact thinking.

True to this tradition, Oppenheimer gives a vivid, and on the whole, trustworthy account of the way in which certain states arose. He carefully analyzes and classifies types-the feudal state, normal growth on the vast plains, the commercial slave state, built on ocean commerce and piracy, etc. This is the best part of the book, and justifies its reprinting by the Vanguard Press. It is an old book (1908), and thru the clouds of controversy that have gathered around it since its first publication, certain historical facts have emerged, by which we can judge it with considerable accuracy.

Judgment is made easier by the reason that Oppenheimer was intellectually honest. He did not dodge any issues. He started with a definition of the state which is clear and distinct, and essentially that of the class conscious worker:

"The state, completely in its genesis, essentially and almost completely during the first stages of its existence, is a social institution, forced by a victorious group of men on a defeated group, with the sole purpose of regulating the dominion of the victorious group over the vanquished, and securing itself against revolt from within and attack from abroad. Teleologically, this dominion had no other purpose than the economic exploitation of the vanquished by the victors," (page 15) Compare this with the Communist Manifesto, Chas. H. Kerr edition, p. 42, and with the Origin of the Family, Private Property and The State, by Engels, same publisher, p. 130.

But Oppenheimer speedily brings in his two essentially false corollaries: (1) The class state arises only thru war; the conquering tribe makes slaves of the conquered tribe, and sets up the state by that means; (2) The repressive State depends entirely on the existence of large landed estates.

. . . In regard to the first of these, Bukharin comments: "The theory of L. Gumplowicz and F. Oppenheimer, which traces the origin of classes from extra-economic force, overlooks the difference between the abstract theory of society and the concrete facts of history. In actual history, the role of the extra-economic use of force (conquest) was very great, and had an influence on the process of class formation. But in a purely theoretical investigation, this condition may not be considered. Assuming that we are analyzing society only, "abstract society," in its evolution, we should find classes developing here also (so of course the state, too, even according to Oppenheimer-V. S.) by reason of the so-called 'internal' causes of development mentioned ployed; for 2 members of the family, in England is, as is well-known, Leslie Urquhart. In or- by Engels. Therefore the role of conquests, etc., is merely a (very impor-12-14. (Historical Materialism, International Publishers, p. 285.)

In other words, when the material development of peoples has reached works of Russia turned out about 2 million 100 thousand a point where private property is possible and efficient, classes develop, by Overtime work is allowed in the tons of copper. Of this total, the Urals works smelted one means or another, and bring with them the state. Besides this answer U.S.S.R. only in exceptional and parabout one-half, the Caucasian, one-third, and those of of Bukharin's we may show cases where states develop by other means than

> There is much evidence (see Morgan, and others) to indicate that slavery, thru debt, and classes of nobles, grew up from other causes than tribal wars. Especially the Chinese have developed classes and states, even feudal states, out of primitive peasant proprietorship, out of communal proprietorship, even; and these trace to other causes than wars of conquest.

But another refutation of Oppenheimer's first corollary is bound up in the collapse of his second theory, that about landed property. For Oppenheimer, with strict logic, argues that if no sufficient indigenous people exists to be conquered, as in Australia, New Zealand and North America, and if impormission, and all persons guilty of in- companies was one, "The Kyshtimski Works" Ltd., of tralia and New Zealand, or if creation of landed estates of great size is tation of a slave class, or of homeless "free labor" is prohibited, as in Ausstopped, "as in Utah", (?) then no state can arise. Accepting Oppenheimer's premises, I see no way in which to escape his conclusion. His argument is good. But then, if since he wrote his book, the Australian, New Zealand and Utah governments begin to give such complete and irrefutable evidence of of the "Kyshtimski Works, Ltd." The main factory of of radical books, passing of anti-labor union laws, the shooting of Joe Hill, statehood as is found in suppression of strikes, prohibition of the importation the "company" was the Karabash, constructed in 1905, and all the other characteristics of a fierce class war—we have to conclude Press-day, celebrated in the begin- newly equipped in 1912, and from that time smelting that something is wrong with Oppenheimer's theories of "conquest" and landed estates. If his ideas about these two things were correct, Utah, Australia and New Zealand should be no states, but places of what he calls, "freeman's citizenship."

Like all single taxers, Oppenheimer saw the spread of "freeman's citizenship" thru the breaking up of the European great land holdings, due, if hibitions and book bazaars were ar- without his "cultured" help and experience, these works could not be restored. He knew, of course, that his no 'surplus value' for the capitalist class, because the laborer himself can The press exhibition in Tiflis agents, on the retreat of Kolchak, had done all they form capital and himself become an employer." (!) Perhaps we have been (Georgia) showed that printed and could to destroy the works. But the example of Karawall-papers are universal not only in the factories and workshops, but in Soviet economy: it worked excellently without Urquhart.

There is no need to add more. Sundry minor points of Oppenheimer's beyond the borders of the U.S.S.R. in works in the Urals. LITERARY NEEDLEWORK.

The Time of Man, by Elizabeth Madox Roberts. Viking Press, New York. $2.50.

This novel, which was mentioned for the Pulitzer prize and hailed by some bourgeois critics as "great," suffers from too much literary excellence.

Consider the author's material. Among the hills of Kentucky, isolated from the rest of the world, there live semi-migratory, poor white tenant who used to work in his factories, in the form of the farmers. Their life is barren and naked, a desperate struggle with the elements and with their fellow numans for a wretched existence. These are the existing works, a huge Soviet Bogomolov copper-smelt- poor white trash that industrial civilization has forgotten and that a benevolent capitalism remembers, if at all, only to help dig their own graves. An 10,000 tons yearly. This factory is not being built on ugly life, decaying, meaningless, with here and there some rigorous beauty struggling to bloom.

> And what does Miss Roberts do with this brutal ugliness? She poeticises it, she envelopes it in soft, soothing twilight colors and sounds, a monotone of beauty, melancholy and resigned. She etherealizes her characters, diverts them of the flesh and blood that are humanly unlovely, stained and by ken and she evades their emotions by simply talking about them from a safe distance where passion is distilled in a delicate mist. And all this ard life, driven cruelly against the soil, is wrapped, sans fangs and claws, in soft, sheltering sentences, langorous beauty.

Beauty. I felt a little sick at the end, hungry for a large, juicy slice of igliness to make me feel alive again. The bite of an incisive mind might hurt, but it would draw blood instead of water.

Consider, I say again, the author's material. Practically a virgin field from a literary standpoint, peasants whose speech is as rhythmically beautiful as the peasants in Synge's plays, a life more devastating and ironic in its implications than anything Thomas Hardy ever knew. And then consider what has happened to all this in "The Time of Man." Consider the book's impeccable propriety, the propriety of lifelessness.
