GREETINGS TO COMRADE PAUL CROUCH

Comrade Paul Crouch, who was sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary for his agitation among the soldiers in the United States army, is slated for release from San Quentin prison today.

The DAILY WORKER, now under fire from the same capitalist enemy that railroaded Comrade Crouch to prison, welcomes him back into the fighting ranks of the militant workers again.

The ideas that Paul Crouch went to prison for cannot be crushed. by confinement. They burst all bonds because they are pushed forward by the inexorable drive of evolution.

At this moment in world history when the dogs of war are being unleashed and the slaughter houses are being put in shape for another debacle in which millions of the world's working class are destined for the shambles, fighters like Crouch are invaluable. Every effective fighter is needed now more than ever. We feel sure that his term in jail has steeled Crouch for the struggle ahead.

The DAILY WORKER greets and welcomes you, Comrade Crouch. The DAILY WORKER,

Chiang Broods Over His Treachery to China FASCISTI AND

STRIKE-BREAKER MADE PRESIDENT OF PRUDENTIAL FOR LOYAL SERVICE

This series of ten articles, of which this is the eighth, deals with the exploitation of the industrial insurance agent and methods to combat the evils of weekly payment life insurance. This series is the result of numerous requests to publicize the details of the swindle and fraud to which the agent is subject in common with the policyholder.

Article VIII. By CHARLES YALE HARRISON.

The existence of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents should justify, in the eyes of the Insurance Department, the creation of an insurance workers' protective organization.

Every year millions of dollars are paid to the presidents' association in the form of fees. This money is taken from the current "mutual" expenses and paid to this association which is the official lobbying machine for the insurance trust.

The New York Department of Insurance is the recipient of thousands of letters of complaint from ex-insurance agents in which specific charges of fraud and withholding of salaries are made

In 1916, the companies involved spent millions of dollars in crushing the strike which occurred that year. In the annual report issued the following year no mention was made regarding the expenditure of this "cooperative" money.

No Help From Insurance Dept.

The agent has nothing to hope for from the official departments of Insurance which are in existence in the various states. It is a known fact that the departments operate in favor of the company at all times. They Are Celebrating the Fifteenth Anniversary

By WILLIAM F. KRUSE. (Moscow Correspondent of "The DAILY WORKER")

MOSCOW, May 9th (By Mail) .-The fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the Bolshevik Daily-"Pravda"-was celebrated today at a festive meeting held in the "Hall o'. the Columns" of the Dom Soyus (the "Labor Temple" of the Moscow trade unions, formerly the most exclusive club of the nobility). Thousands of electric lights sparkled from the more than fifty great crystal candlebra. their glitter caught up in the polished white marble columns that give this famous hall its name. Above the stage, on which sat about two hundred of the more prominent members of the "Pravda" staff and Party organs, was suspended a big red and gold streamer: "Greetings to the Bolshevik Pravda!"

Fifteen years ago the Bolsheviks realized that the time had definitely come when a break must be made with the opportunist, liquidatory Mensheviks with whom they had thus far been "united" in a single Social Democratic Labor Party. This "unity" deserves the quotation marks because never had two horses pulled ment of the vast masses of workers so contrariwise as did this team; both wings, representing widely divergent ideology and generally advocating diametrically opposite tactics, they had maintained their own organizations and press, and Party history had been a long sequence of almost twenty years of inner-Party struggle over every vital question confronting the enjoyed the active support of tens of young Russian labor movement.

Smashing the Imperialist Front in China!

The black picture of a defeated and disorganized nationalist movement, pictured by Frederick Moore, New York Times correspondent, and other mental scavengers of imperialism is shattered by the lightning flashes of vietory as the militarist front in China collapses before the Hankow advance. The temporary arrest of the victorious advance caused by the treachery of the renegade, Chiang Kai-shek, who tried to turn a part of the nationalist forces over to the imperialist invaders, has been overcome. The collapse of that venture was the reason for the hasty dispatch of British, Japanese and American forces to Tsing-tao and Tientsin and. points up the Yangtze in preparation for repetitions of the bombardment of Nanking.

In spite of and against the forces of predatory capitalism the nationalist armies march from victory to victory and again raise high the hopes of the revolutionists and anti-imperialists of the world. The converging of the two nationalist armies-the main force from Hankow and the Shensi batallions of General Feng Yu-siang-at Changchow, the intersection of the two main railroad lines, gave the national liberation movement control of all Northern China and assured the collapse of the armies of the bribed bandit generals in the service of American, British and Japanese capital.

This magnificent victory will drive the imperialists mad with fury and they will hesitate at no atrocious crimes, they will resort to any unscrupulous provocation, in order to stem the rising tide of revolution.

Now, more than ever, the working class of the great powers must insistently demand that all invading forces be withdrawn from China so that the workers and peasants may be left unhampered to organize their own government and exterminate the ban-dit gangs who for years have been used by imperialism to thwart THE WORLD WAR—A WAR TO PREVENT ALL WARS (?) the desires of the masses of Chinese.

WE WANT PEACE MILITARY PREPARATIONS

Mussolini has frequently stated that he is for peace, with honor of course. Part of the material required to fortify the mythical honor of this depraved monster and his capitalist backers in Italy and America, is an army of five million men by 1932. In this respect he follows the example of the other imperialist powers, which hide behind a veil of pacifist phrases a feverish preparation for war.

"Patience" and the Poets

Gilbert and Sullivan Again Take a Crack at Hero Worship

MARGALO GILLMORE

DERKE Hamburg Productions, Inc., are reviving Gilbert and Sullivan. They are a courageous outfit, to put "Patience" on at the Theatre Masque. That's too close to Greenwich Village. Somewhere out in Bronx would have been safer. For "Patience," one of the lesser known of the Gilbertian operas, swings a wicked lash over our long haired friends. If you hear your versifying neighbor running down "Patience," believe him not, his wrath is highest praise, and proves the whip bites deep.

The action revolves around Reginald Bunthorne (James Watts), a fleshly poet, an arrant knave, who knows he is a fraud, and Archibald Grosvenor (Joseph Macaulay), the idyllic poet, who is a Narcissan, and so unfortunate as not to know it. These are prototypes. Their children are still with us, damn the luck.

Both are flouted, mocked, dissected flayed, and stabbed in the back, to the tune of some very pretty lyrics, sung by remarkably pretty girls. But the women who trail after these poets are not spared either. No wonder this play has been unpopular.

None who worship matinee idols could enjoy it, and the idols too, would have to feel that the most unkindest cut of all was the ridicule that indirectly drops upon them because of the quality of their conquests. The curtain rises on an elaborate jeer at the women who fall for poets. The KLAW ladies enraptured by Bunthorne, stand around the stage, dressed in semi-Greek costumes, in poses more goofy than Greek, and sing-"Twenty lovesick maidens we-maidens much against our will." Who can take credit for winning what is evidently easy to win?

As foils to the poets appear the Heavy Dragoons, glaring with "prime colors." How come they march on the stage doing a goose step as stiffly as the House Guards of the Hohenzollerns? Is this as it was in elements. They trusted more to the the beginning, or has some Irishman puny voices of "respectable" citizens. bored from within the Perke Hamberg corporation?

Woll Busy Seeking Cop Protection

The general picket committee of the Furriers' Union held their organization meeting last night at Astoria Hall, where arrangements for the coming stirke were discussed.

The committee will start their work immediately in preparation for the struggle. In numbers it equals the famous general picket committee of the 1926, having the same amount of enthusiasm and fighting spirit. Ben Gold was present and told the assembled workers what their tasks would be. All those who were present pledged to fight until victory is achieved.

The Joint Board announced last evening that a general member shop meeting would be held Thursday evening right after work where the final mobilization for the strike will take place.

At last night's meeting of the Joint Board, plans for the struggle were discussed at great length and the union machinery was declared to be ready for the general strike.

What They Do.

All these organizations exist primarily for propaganda. Their main activity therefore is printing literature and giving out press copy. Less common are public meetings, debates, furnishing speakers, conducting prize contests for patriotic essays or orations in schools and colleges, though they all figure.

The propaganda is chiefly against radicalism in all its forms, including LaFolletteism, the child labor amendment, and industrial welfare bills. Next most conspicuous, is the attack on pacifism, usually coupled with radicalism, on the theory that the object of the pacifists is to disarm the United States "so that the Bolsheviks can take it." Restriction of immigration, and Americanization of the aliens who are here, come next in importance, though the efforts at Americanizing are very feeble. This activity is based on the assumption that most aliens are Reds (or most Reds are aliensit works the same either way).

In the background of activities, but underlying them all, is hostility to organized labor. Where organized maintained in the state house corri- you are also against labor-linking all, is notified in the variable in the variab unions are regarded as part of the menace to "Ameri- tives, Boston Street Carmen's Union, tablish the ideological hegemony of can institutions." The repressive policies of the reactionary leadership of the International Ladies' Garment Workers culminated in the expulsions of Locals 2, 9 and 22 in the middle of 1925. The Joint Action Committee, predecessor of the 1927 joint action committee of the Cloak and Dressmakers' and the Furriers' joint boards, swung into action and beat the international into submission.
