

despite the ungentlemanly manner in which they conducted themselves. THERE are signs that the French government is moving towards a break with the Soviet Union. When the French foreign minister and the president of the republic visited London prior to the raid on Arcos, the subject under discussion between Chamberlain and Briand was the mutual relations of England and France to Russia. France was not in a position to follow the British lead then, but the threatened demand on Moscow that ambassador Rakovsky be recalled for having signed his name to a manifesto of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union calling for international, solidarity of labor against world imperialism, indicates not indicate a right trend on the part of British trade unionism. Class collaboration, sired, damned and baptized in the United States is now being introduced to the British working class by labor fakers and employers as a substitute for the class struggle to which British labor leaders, with comparatively few 'exceptions, have given up lip service in the past. The government, representing the employers has worked assiduously for several years and particularly since the General Strike with the object of "Americanizing" the labor movement, that is, company-unionizing it wherever possible and where this method would meet with the hostility of even the labor leaders, seducing the unions with proposals for that might be gained thru increased prices. efficiency.

Thousands of American Legionaires are in France. Other thousands are on the Atlantic Ocean, in many steamships, hurrying towards the scene of their 1927 convention, in Paris. During the days ahead The DAILY WORKER will publish additional material exposing the real nature of these American fascisti. Today we publish the first of a series of "Crimes of the American Legion." Our readers are invited to send in articles reporting the activities of the Legion in their cities or neighborhoods. Some of our readers have already done so. Others should do the same. In its mob and horsewhipping activities, the Legion resembles in many respects its twin relation, the Ku Klux Klan. This is shown by these facts:

A glaring and authentic case of violence at the hands of the Legion men occurred on May 16, 1920, when Arthur Clark, editor of the Carpenteria (California) Herald, was whipped with a rawhide until his body was swollen with bruises because he had written some articles about the American Legion suming public, which above means the today the workers are just as deter- that were resented by the local post, of which he was formerly a member.

Mr. Clark was waited upon by a committee of six men, who dragged him to the Legion hall and into a prize ring (one of the attractions) where he was told he must cease his articles and print a retraction under a two

The alternative was to put on the clothes for a bout with any member the committee, the loser to receive fifty lashes with a rawhide. Mr. Clark is small and middle-aged, and knowing that he stood no chance with answered: "Well, consider me beaten right now."

The ringleader then rained lashes upon him until his body was crisscrossed from shoulders to knees. Five members of the committee were subsequently fined $100 apiece by a justice of the peace, before whom the latter said that while the treatment meted out to the editor had had the approval of the post members in advance, official action had not been taken, as that would have required a meeting with five days' notice.

Textiles Flourish As Soviet Armenia Improves Industry

(By Federated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 .--- Must the badly oppressed textile workers of New England and southern mills look to the Soviet Union for the only exception to their industry's worldwide record of low wages, long hours and unemployment? The leading article in the current Textile World, authoritative magazine of the industry, in a review of cotton raising and weaving in Soviet Armenia would support such a conclusion. Alfred G. Smaltz, who has just returned from abroad, recounts the remarkable achievement of the industry in the small Soviet republic which lies between the Caucasus and Turkey. Both the raising of cotton and its manufacture into textiles were practically destroyed during the world war. "But in only a little over five years since Armenia became a part of the Soviet Union," Smaltz writes, "they have set about to rehabilitate their little country with so much energy and along such sound economic lines that they have achieved an almost incredible amount of reconstruction. The plan under which the Armenian cotton industry is being fostered reads as if it might have been drafted by an Armenian agricultural expert."

Soviet Armenia Flourishes.

The cultivation of cotton, Smaltz states, almost paralyzed in 1921, was resumed under Soviet control in 1922 with systematic distribution of high grade seed and practical instructions: Credit cooperatives were established, experimental stations were opened. Mills were established to manufacture cotton by-products.

At Leninakan the cotton is made into textiles in modern mills where nearly 7,500 unionized workers are employed. Smaller mills are being set up in Erivan and Karaklis.

The industry and the union have supervised the erection of workers' and several postponements, the conquarters in the new mill towns. MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Aug. 25 (By Mail).-Two hundred fiftyeight million roubles have been alloted this year for capital works in metal industry.

The total cost of capital expenditures in metal industry since 1922-23 economic year to 1926-27 economic year amounted to 577 million roubles.

The state of works connected with construction of new plants and capital reconstruction of old ones will enable us to start new works in time stipulated by the plan.

EIGHTH ASSEMBLY LEAGUE MAZE OF LOW INTRIGUE OF

See Hand of American Imperialism

GENEVA, Sept. 11 .- The cabals and intrigues going on behind the scenes here indicate a definite rift between the great powers. Poland, which discussed with some of the other nations the general question of disarmament withdrew her first proposal and has another ready to submit. It is understood that this one is more drastic than the first and is is said to be absolutely unacceptable to the other powers. In certain circles statesmen and political journalists claim to see the hand of American imperialism, which they charge is backing Poland and urging her to make such proposals as will be refused. Drastic disarmament proposals will be defeated but that will enable the enemies of the league to carry on a world wide campaign to the effect that it has collapsed.

See Evidence of World Fight. Britain has been using the league for its own ends during the past two years and its dominance frequently interferes with plans of the American bankers. It is felt here that the American capitalist government, incensed at the complete failure of its own naval arms conference which ended so disastrously, is playing certain small nations against the league itself

Vandervelde On the Job.

Emil Vandervelde, hero of the socialist international, flunkey of Albert the king of the Belgians and social traitor, is there as the foreign minister of the capitalist government of his own country and has promised to support a second proposition of the small nations, that of the Holland delegation which wants to revise the trilogy of arbitration, security and disarmament approved at the fifth assembly of the league and known as the "Geneva protocol." Vandervelde favors a plan whereby the attacked nation will be able to receive heavy loans from the big powers to enable it to purchase the necessary means with which to carry on war. This same plan is also approved by the British tory foreign minister,

Sir Austin Chamberlain. For the most part the real confer ence is concealed from the press and the dirty work of the secret diplomats proceeds without publicity, because they dare not face the light of day with their real designs.
