WORKERS CENTER GALA OPENING IS CELEBRATED HERE

German, British Parties Send Greetings

More than 600 workers filled the second floor of the Workers Center 26-28 Union Square, last night at one of the most enthusiastic proletarian celebrations of recent years—the great "Red Banquet" of the militant workers of New York and vicinity in honor of the establishment of the workers Center as the new home of the revolutionary movement.

All day workers kept streaming into the Workers Center in a last minute rush for tickets, and long before the banquet actually started, many of the guests had already arrived and were busy inspecting and discussing the new Center.

Cables of greeting received from the German and British Communist parties were enthus astically applauded. They follow:

"The Communist Party of Germany sends revolutionary greetings to the Workers Party at the opening of the new revolutionary headquarters in the stronghold of world imperialism. We see in this step of your Local 24 Opposes Plan Party an indication of the growth of our movement and express the hope that the American working class will rally to the Workers Party in the fight against American imperialism and its agents in the ranks of labor.

VIENNA, April 27.-Bela Kun, Hungarian Communist leader, who headed the Hungarian Soviet Republic in 1919, was arrested by the Viennese police yesterday. Bela Kun is believed to have gone to Vienna to reorganize the Austrian Communist Party and to aid the Hungarian Party in its struggle for legality.

It is feared that the Seipel Government, which has steadily swung to the right and which has maintained the most friendly relations with the Horthy regime, may deport Bela Kun to Hungary. Lippai, another Hungarian Communist leader, was arrested with Bela Kun.

OFFICIALS LEAVE NEW YORK FIGHT

Succeed in Aim To Check Organization

Abandoning all further efforts at preventing the organization of the New York traction workers because hey no doubt believe that all such danger has now passed, the national officers of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes yesterday ordered James H. Coleman, local organizer, to pack his trunk and go home.

The order, it was learned, came from Detroit yesterday following the earlier abdication from the scene of P. J. O'Brien one of the vice-presidents of the Amalgamated.

Coleman and O'Brien together with P. J. Shea, an executive board member, Wm. B. Fitzgerald, vice president, and Wm. D. Mahon, president of the union for nearly two years, have faithfully carried out the policy the Tammany-controlled city officials in the attempt to prevent organization of the traction workers This obedience to the Tammany commands reached its climax in Unusual Program at the recent complete sell-out of traction workers when Mahon and Fitzgerald acted to prevent a strike by calling off a regularly scheduled meeting of the union and

Man, Has Nice Birthday Here

THOUSANDS of over-worked and underpaid tobacco workers in the plantations and factories of Benjamin N. Duke yesterday were happy in the joyous news that their master was spending a quiet birthday at his 89th St. mansion in New York City.

Surrounded by his immediate family, which included his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle, Jr., and his grandchildren, the tobacco magnate expressed the opinion that things were going on nicely in the United States.

Twenty-five years ago Mr. Duke had a personal fortune of $60,000,-000. Living a frugal life, however, and walking to and from work instead of riding in the subway, Duke is said to have doubled that amount.

"He has regarded his fortune," said one of Mr. Duke's associates yesterday, "as a divine gift placed in his trust."

Some time ago Duke made a deal with an obscure college in the south whereby the institution changed its name to "Duke University" in exchange for $1,000,000.

All week two rank and file workers. Goldfield and Elbaum, had been busy decorating the second floor of the building for the banquet under the direction of the two revolutionary artists, Adolf Wodff and Hugo Gellert. In the center of the wall opposite the entrance to the banquet hall, a great red star had been built, with hammer and sickle in the center, brilliantly illuminated with electric lights.

International Affair

Beneath this star hung a large picture of the leader of the proletarian revolution, Vladimir Ilyitch Lenin. On another wall hung a picture of Charles E. An explanation of the causes of war was offered here yesterday which, if not historically correct, is at least highly ingenious. The author is none other than Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., retired, and therefore free to deliver talks before such organizations as the Society of New England Women.

"If there were no women or children," said the scholarly navy man, "there would be nothing to defend, because there would be no riches for an opponent to strive for."

Descending further into the depths of sociology, the admiral announced that "all men want would be enough to eat and drink and a place to sleep.' But women, he asserted, demand jewels, silks, great houses, limousines. sulting wars.

Following his discourse, Fiske made an eloquent plea for preparedness for the next war.

WASHINGTON WAS QUITE A DULL GUY

GEORGE WASHINGTON: Rebel and Patriot. (1762-1777) Vol. 2. By Rupert Hughes. William Morrow

Reviewed by JIM CORK.

THIS book has been highly praised by the pundits and damned by the patriots. It is easy to see why the latter have raised such fire-tipped brimstone around the premises. As an individual, Washington is restored to a three-dimensional figure-far removed from the beloved and haloed "Father—"; and a pretty dull and uninteresting sort of duffer he proves to be. A "gentleman farmer," who spent most of his time pottering trifles; a man who loved his fox hunthis dancing, his theatre, his jokes and stories, especially if they were spicy He could spend a terrific amount of time and energy doing the dullest and most trivial things imaginable. A typical case in point is his counting of the number of timothy seeds in a pound—the number being 298,000. Whew! He never seemed to read a book worth a damn! He didn't seem to care what was going on around him, even with empires tottering and the birth pains of the American republic already in evidence. Compared to intellectual giants like Madison, Hamilton and Jefferson, he seemed the veriest tyro. But to acknowledge the value of this three-dimensional antidote to the patriot puffers is to be finished with

-"only that and nothing more."

The typical petty-bourgeois mind and mode of analysis is nakedly revealed througut. Hughes has destroyed the Great Hero of the one hundred percenters; kicked him out doors. Truth has forced him to this iconoclasm. And his chest comes ap like a pouter-pigeon's. But the petty bourgeoisie needs its heroes, badly and so Washington is let in thru the back window in different guise. There is dramatic soul development. Somehow Washington, unfer the adversity and setbacks of his new (and unexpected role) of commander-in-chief of the Revolutionary tess of the Revolution. "Never before, if ever since, did any soul of such flawless patriotism appear upon the dirty pages of history. Besides, Washington had, in a measure, to build the altar on which he laid the sacrifice of his complete devotion."

ART UNDER BOSS RULE?

NDER capitalism, talent is looked upon as the private property of its immediate possessor, and is regarded as a means of enrichment. In capitalist society, the product of talented activity is a commodity which can be sold for one price or another, and thus becomes the possession of the person with the longest purse. A work of genius, a thing with infinite social significance, and one whose essential nature is that of a collective creation, can be purchased by a Russian named Kolupayeff or by an American named Morgan, and the buyer is then entitled to change it or destroy it as fancy dictates. If Tretyakoff, the famous Moscow merchant, had one fine day made up his mind to burn down his picture gallery instead of presenting it to the town of Moscow, there was no law in capitalist society by which he could have been called to account. As a result of the private purchase and sale of works of art, rare books, manuscripts, etc., many of them are rendered inaccessible to the broad masses of the people, and these rarities become the exclusive possessions of members of the exploiting class. The Soviet Republic has declared all works of art, collections, etc., to be Workers (Communist) Party, whose tion. The same purpose is served by the decrees aiming at the withdrawal from private ownership of great libraries, so that these also have become social property. 50,000 Workers Will Wear May 1 Buttons

Fifty thousand workers throughout the United States will wear a May Day button, designed and distributed by the Workers (Communist) Party. The button has a central design of a red flag, bearing the emblem of the hammer and sickle, with the words "May Day" beside it, and the slogan, "For A Workers' and Farmers' Government.'

Tens of thousands of these buttons have been distributed throughout the country, and will be worn by the workers at demonstrations in streets and halls, and at mass

Orders for the buttons are still being received in large numbers at 43 E. 125th St., New York.

DOVER, N. J., April p7 .- It is now two years since the explosion of the United States arsenal at Dover destroyed the homes of surrounding families, killing many outright and injuring others. Yet the United States government has made no retribution to the victims or their dependents. The survivors of the accident have almost all moved away from the scene of the tragedy and there isn't one who doesn't bear some scar from the explosion. Demands have repeatedly been made for further compensation than the little already doled out but no action on the part of the gevernment has re-

"Like European Countries"

Some Mexican politicians who are very naive and some others very much worse than naive are stumbling over their own feet to get in line with the idea that the United States bankers and their bank-runner, Coolidge, will go easy with Mexico in the matter of "debts" of Mexico to these bankers. Thomas W. Lamont, the Morgan partner who has the United States army and navy and also the state department behind him and an "ex"-Morgan partner as United States ambassador to Mexico under his orders, is propagandizing the Mexican upper classes with the subtle illusion that the international committee of bankers on Mexico will not "press" the Calles administration "to an undue

"Like the European countries after the world war"-is the slogan now in circulation, and this is supposed to describe the · manner in which Wall Street and the Wall Street government will treat Mexico in this golden age of Morrow and Lindbergh.

"As the Kaiser treated Belgium" is closer to the truth.

Mexicans who are not so naive and not worse than naive should not be fooled by this monstrous trap that the Morgan-led bankers' committee and the Coolidge government have laid.

This is the period of Imperialism, and the United States is not the least but the most imperialistic state on earth. Wall Street bankers would like to quiet and also to complete the corruption of the upper layers of the Mexican ruling classes, and this soft talk is intended only to gain a better footing for the open conquest of Mexico with blood and iron.

Not the few millions of interest on "debts," but the whole of Mexico as its own colony, is the aim of finance-capital of the United States. Mexico is, in the minds of the Wall Street bankers, only the first bite in the big imperialist cake of Latin America. Not only the slow corrupting process and the partial subjection which the United States applies to weakened European debtor states, but the sharp and violent military invasion of Mexico is the Wall Street program.

Mexico should today be the fighting front of a bloc of all Latin-American republics to resist the encroachments of the Wall Street government. Every possible sacrifice should be made to build up the resistance to the conquest of these Southern republics. Otherwise all lose their independence. Certainly this is also the cause of the workers and exploited farmers of the United States no less than that of their brothers of Mexico.

The more the upper layers of the Mexican petty-bourgeoisie become corrupted by the Lamont-Morrow machine, the more the Mexican Communist Party must and will work to rouse the workers and peasants of Mexico to make themselves the active force ing the war by the "Social Demoof resistance to United States imperialism and to its Mexican agents.

Coal Capitalism on the Constitution

Those who are capable of learning from developing events- a long time; for although Germany the purpose of stealing the colonie a section of the population very nearly limited to the working time the strongest, the Entente Whether Germany or Russia is vicclass-will derive considerable profit from the lesson in history (Russia, England, France, and Italy) torious, or whether the game is which has emanated from St. Clairsville, Ohio.

In order to carry out its purposes, coal capitalism of that section has resorted to the regular and necessary methods now familiar in industrial communities. Only those who deal in abstractions—and fools—would have believed that these necessary methods of capitalism would or could be modified in dealing with women and children when they too joined actively in the class

Accordingly seventy-five women were jammed into a vile- the enemy, fanning among their peo- mously by the socialists of the whole smelling, stuffy, overcrowded pen when they persisted in march- ples the most violent hatred against world at the Basle International S ing in the picket line. That they were tricked into jail in the effort to lay claim to be merely tion was passed in anticipation merely lends atmosphere to the picture.

All this is "unconstitutional," of course.

So believe the honest dealers in abstractions—the fools who still insist that the constitution is something by which to gauge the class struggle. The prosecutor of Belmont County has no such illusions. He understands that these acts are perfectly conatitutional, as capitalism understands its constitution.

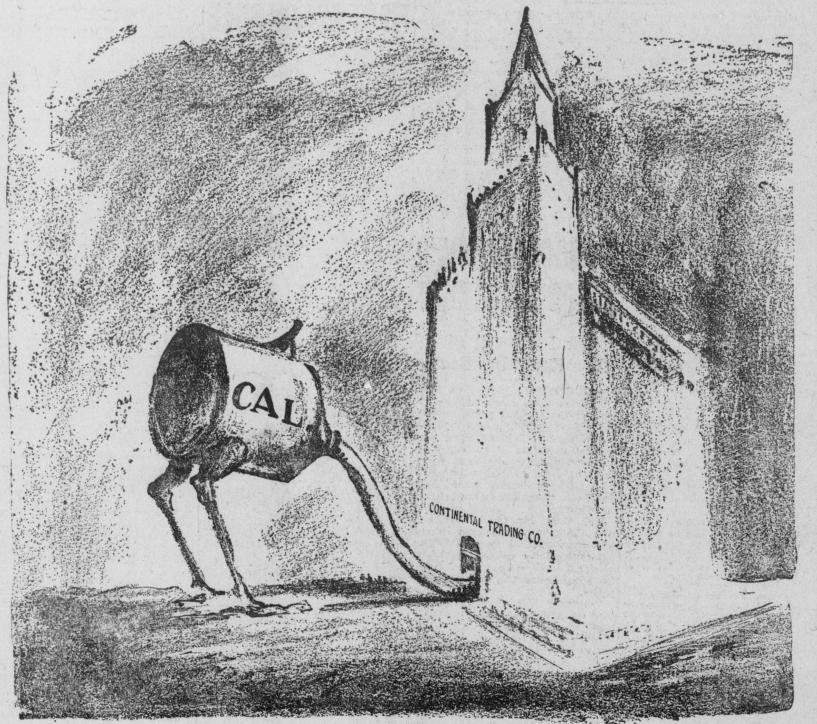

He expresses his philosophy in somewhat disguised language, to be sure:

"We have had to forget what we learned in school about the titution," he declares with an engaging honesty that is a conable relief from the language of idealistic searchers after the socialist party has become. e speech" and constitutional guarantees. Then Paul V. Wad-I, the "legal" representative for the state, that is, of coal capital- in my life," he told a reporter. "I war without a revolutionary struggle m in Ohio, tells us why his acts are "constitutional":

"By so doing we have nipped in the bud the most menacing movement in our whole year of the mine strike, the movement of the so-called 'Save-the-Union Committee.'"

Coal capitalism has been a valuable teacher for the American working class during the past thirteen months. None of its instructors has been more definite and valuable than Prosecutor heaval and we would be apt to hear arm itself for war against imperialist Waddel. And, finally, his testimony as to the strength, and for his class the "menace," of the Save-the-Union Committee, is the best evidence of the growing power and approaching victory of the great mine strugge.

Union Scores Brutality To Ill Teachers

Through their union, teachers are crying halt to the medical board's tyrannical hounding of sick fellow workers. Naming names and challenging the school authorities to an open hearing, the union has submitted complaints from 17 teachers, nine physicians and five teachers' relatives that the medical tyrants order sick teachers back into school rooms.

A wide and deep investigation of medical board abuses is demanded, with doors open to the public and a stenographer and representative of the union present. Teachers, fearing loss of jobs and prejudice against obtaining work elsewhere, will not attend star chamber inquiries, President Henry Linville warns.

The signed protests of 17 teachers, 5 relatives of teachers and 9 physicians, charging brutality on the part of Dr. Emil Altman, chief medical examiner of the Board of Education, have been forwarded by the Teachers' Union to the special board of inquiry, composed of City Commissioner Mc-Kee and School Superintendent William J. O'Shea. A public hearing of the charges against Altman, before the committee, was urged by Dr. Henry Linville, president of the Teachers' Union.

Al Smith is the symbol of the "New Tammany" with the high hat and respectability. Louis Waldman in nominating Norman Thomas for president, declared: "I don't know of any man who will be better able to match the 'New Tammany' with the 'new socialism'." For the first time since 1917, I am compelled to agree with Louis Waldman
