(Special to the Daily Worker) NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 .- The war gong of the coming imperialist conflict was today sounded with startling emphasis at the American Federation of Labor convention in session here when Paul V. McNutt. national commander of the American Legion, addressing the labor delegates called upon them to endorse legislation calling for a strengthening of the government war resources.

The labor bureaucrats headed by William Green, president of the Federation, set the stage for the entrance of the fascist legionaire whose organization and membership has broken up labor meetings scores of times in practically every section of the country.

Concealing the full import of his program under a camouflaged criticism of war profiteering McNutt declared: "We believe the united strength of our nation instantly ready to defend our homes and our institutions will prevent any other people or group of people from ever giving us cause to use that strength." McNutt then urged a plan for a universal draft in war time. A moment earlier, McNutt had declared that the A. F. of L. and the American Legion "were working hand in hand." Fight for Better Pay, Shorter Hours

An intensive drive to organize the drug store clerks is now under way according to an announcement made yesterday by Aida Flomenbaum, secretary of the Drug Clerks' Union. Increasing unemployment, low wages and fearfully long hours, she said, are forcing the workers to unite for the elimination of these evils.

At the same time the American Pharmaceutical Association, the bosses organization, is preparing itself for a fight against the union. At a recent meeting held by this association, a resolution was adopted virtually declaring war upon any attempt to unionize the trade. Would Make Wall St. Germany's Shylock

BERLIN, Nov. 20 .- The Reichstag today rejected the Communist motion of non-confidence in foreign minister Stresemann and his policy of continued reparation payments at the expense of the workers, the government policy of continued construction of armored cruisers and the growing departure into a new and strong imperialism.

The motion was made by the Communist deputy, after he had exposed the policy of the government, backed by the social-democrats, and pointed out the increasingly bad conditions of the workers, due to adherence to the Dawes

British Policy.

In reply to Stresemann's speech in the Reichstag yesterday, in which he supported the American position that war debts and reparations be separate, a British memorandum on reparations was handed to the German charge d'affaires in London to-

It is understood that the note restated the British and French position that Germany must pay as much in reparations to Britain and France as these countries must pay in debts to the United States. This is paramount to insisting that Germany pay the United States directly for French and British was debts. It is also understood that the note objects to separating the questions of evacuation of the Rhineland from that of reparations, as Stresemann wishes to do.

Anglo-French United Front. PARIS, Nov. 20 .- At the cabinet meeting today, Emile Moreau, governor of the Brank of France, was strongly recommended to represent France on the special committee of experts, suggested by Germany, to discuss the settlement of the war debts and reparations.

LONDON, Nov. 20 .- The labor group in parliament decided today that Ramsay MacDonald should move rejection of the bill providing for a merger of cable and wireless companies when it comes up for second reading tomorrow. Objection would be based on the contention that the merger sacrifices a valuable public utility to private gain. The motion will contend also that the introduction of such a bill in the last days of a dying parliament is unsound constitutionali

The bill provides for consolidation of Empire Radio, British Marconi and Eastern Telegraph.

SLAVERY FOR MIGRATORIES IN THE WEST

Low Pay, Long Hours, on Railway and Farm

CHICAGO. (By Mail) .- Being unable to secure work in Chicago, I went West lest April: first to Fargo, North Dakota, from where I shipped to Glandive. Montana, as a laborer with Foley Bros., a construct tion company, doing extensive railroad work at the time. Wages were 35 cents an hour on this job, with lots of bosses and a general speedup for every worker. The hours were supposed to be 10, but as we travelled to and from work on our own time, it really amounted to an 11 hour day. The day after our bunch arrived, 80 men quit in a body the company camp, and because they learned they were to be assessed $2 apiece for a "poor tax."

I stood this place a week, when 12 down our tools and walked to the We had to wait from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. for our time checks. Our suppers had been deducted from our pay as well as the aforementioned taxes. When we started eating the supper, for which we had been charged, we were told to get eating the meal we had paid for, as we were 30 miles from the nearest town and it looked as if we would have to walk back there. We had been told to leave camp several times before supper, and know we wouldn't be allowed to stay the night.

We were forbidden to ride out of town on the work train to Glendive. 20 miles away, but thru the decency of the train crew managed to hide in the cars and get there.

"The Vestris leaked on the last 'our voyages," said Isaac J. Scott, waiter aboard the ship, in his timony before Commissioner Neill.

"A starboard door, about six feet bove the water line, was the source of this leak," Scott testified. "Every ime water slapped the starboard side of the vessel, there was a leak." After his examination, attempts o discredit his story were made by 'investigators," but they were forced to enter it into the records. Set Screw on Gaskets Faulty. Gilbert Ford, Negro chief fireman of the Vestris, was also called at he hearing before O'Neill and said hat it was nothing unusual to find water in the engine room.

"Sunday morning the water was coming in through the ash hopper,' Ford said. "Then it came in the stoke hold. That was under three feet of water. The cover was on and was screwed down, but it was impossible to work the screws. At time on the trip was I able to ike the screws work."

Boat Drill Neglected. Ford said that the last life boat drill he could remember was on the door into the engine room. The water poured in at such an alarming rate, the engine room crew reported, that the engine room became flooded, the starboard boilers were put out and some of the Negro members of the crew reported that, on Monday, just before the Vetris went down, they had to work n water up to their necks.

Seek to Frame-up Workers. In spite of the rapidly accumulating pile of evidence incriminat-iz the Lamport and Holt Line and U. S. government for the sinkof the Vestris, the officials in charge of the investigation continued to give greater credence to the testimony of those engineering the frame-up of the workers than to the crew itself. Some of these were William Herbert Renham, a ship surveyor; E. A. Swan and Fred L. Dennis, a boiler inspector. Despite the evidence of the crew that the hull of the Vestris was rotten and repainted the Vestris was rotten and repainted bring their friends! to hide the corrosion, all of them said that the Vestris was "in good

REVEAL VESTRIS Shield Tammany in Rothstein "Investigation" COMMUNITY FUND

The shooting of Arnold Rothstein, notorious gambler threatens to reveal a huge dope ring of which he was one of the heads. Since high officials of Tammany Hall are involved in this ring, Police Commissioner Warren has been having his hands full trying not to uncover the facts. In this, of course, the Tammany jazz mayor, Jimmie Walker, has also been playing his part according to form. His part consists in "bawling out" Warren for failure to uncover the odorous mess which Walker, Warren and the rest of the Tammany grafters are at great pains to conceal. Photo shows Warren leaving City Hall.

Will Be Realized

Living up to its reputation as the most venal and reactionary labor bureaucracy in the world, the American Federation of Labor convention now in session at New Orleans has before it for action the recommendation of its Metal Trades Department favoring a bigger navy. At the Saturday session of the various departments the resolution advocating a bigger navy was passed by the metal trades branch and on Monday became officially a part of the proceedings of the con-

The demand for a bigger navy is the one demand of the convention that will assuredly be realized. What is significant as showing the depths of depravity to which the labor lieutenants of capitalism have sunk is the fact that the demand for a bigger navy becomes the major political slogan following close upon the new outburst of imperialist jingoism since the election of Hoover. The Coolidge Armistice Day speech in which he proclaimed the intention of the United States to build the mightiest navy on earth, the announcement of the gigantic naval program of Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, the imperialist journey of Hoover to Latin-America, the fierce European reaction against the Coolidge threat are all indicative of a general political realization of a sharpening of the world-wide struggle between the great imperialist powers of the world that must inevitably culminate in a new war for a new redivision of the world. The demand of the Metal Trades Department for a bigger navy supplements the imperialist armaments program of the government at Washington.

It is not to be doubted that the sponsors of the proposition for a bigger navy are the direct spokesmen for the strike-breaking government. It is not to be doubted that an agreement is already in existence which provides that in case of danger of real labor organization in the basic industries, that is to say the potential war industries of the country, the fakers of American Federation. of Labor will step in and create a spurious organization that will be nothing more nor less than an integral part of the war machine, a means of delivering the workers bound and gagged to the war-mongers.

At the identical time the Metal Trades Department advocates a bigger navy the labor bureaucracy performs another service for its imperialist masters by laying plans for "strengthening" the Pan-American Federation of Labor, which is nothing other than the yellow labor counterpart of the Pan-American union, composed of agents of the yankee imperialist government and the vassal governments in the service of Wall Street that terrorize the Latin-American masses. The big navy program enunciated by the A. F. of L. Metal Trades Department should be utilized in all Latin-American countries to expose the true role of the Pan-American Federation of Labor as agents of dollar des-

But while the bigger navy proposition of the convention at New Orleans will be realized because the imperialist butchers have placed it on the order of the day at Washington, the other demands will not be realized. The fakers will not organize the unorganized into labor unions for the simple reason that, as agents of the capitalist class, their job is to prevent organization. They will not succeed in crushing the Communists, but on the contrary will have to answer for their crimes against labor before ever larger sections of the working class that, under Communist influence, recognize the Greens, the Wolls, the

The One A. F. of L. Demand That Lewises as the splitters of the trade union

The sole defenders of the unity of the labor movement against the disrupters, the splitters, the red baiters and all the hirelings of capitalism at the head of the A. F. of L. are the Communists and the left wing of organized labor. And it is precisely this vanguard of the whole labor movement that is driving relentlessly forward toward the mobilization of the masses of labor with new and more powerful organizations preparatory to the time when all the agents of capitalism will go down to defeat before the revolutionary fury of the exploited masses along with the class they serve.

A Lame Duck Returns to England

Alanson B. Houghton has returned to his post as ambassador to the court of the king of Britain after his defeat as republican candidate for United States senator from New York state. Thus we have another example of the working of American democracy. When a servant of imperialism fails of election even under the fraudulent forms of democracy in vogue in the United States, it does not disqualify him from holding office. In other countries defeated politicians remain out of the picture until they again succeed in securing some sort of parliamentary office. But in the United States when a politician becomes so discredited that he cannot aspire to election even as a dog catcher he is taken care of by the political machine and receives what is known as a "lame duck" ap-· Kellogg, defeated for United States senator in Minnesota where his record as a paid pleader for the grain trust is too well known, becomes secretary of state by a lame duck appointment. "Big Bill" Taft, defeated more overwhelmingly for reelection for president than any other person who tried to succeed himself in that office becomes chief justice of the United States supreme court, also by grace of a lame duck appointment.

The return of Houghton to England as ambassador is not surprising. What is of passing interest is the sneaking, doublefaced, deceptive role played by Coolidge in the affair. When Houghton returned from London to participate in his campaign for senator he sent his resignation to the president. Coolidge replied that he was sorry that Houghton had seen fit to resign and praised his record as ambassador. It was generally taken for granted that the resignation had been accepted. But when Houghton was defeated he was requested to return to-his post and Coolidge explained that in his reply to Houghton's resignation he merely expressed his regrets but did not formally accept the Houghton's absence from London did not impair the effective working of the American embassy there, however. Which again shows that it is not the particular political appointees who function as part of the government machine but, as Lenin so often emphasized, a whole army of hirelings that make up the bureaucratic apparatus of the state. This apparatus functions at Washington or London equally as well without the government figureheads as with them.

The Wall Street embassy at London, in browbeating the British government, seems to make greater progress than before not because Houghton is superior (as he might possibly be) to others who enjoyed less success, but because the power of American imperialism, its domination in the capitalist world, is so effective that it can carry out its policies better than it did at a time that Britain was the dominant power of the

Misleaders in the American Labor Unions

By Fred Ellis

BY WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.

Lewis' master betrayal was in t great strike of the 600,000 mine n 1922. On entering this historic strike the union found itself in most difficult position. But the sit uation was saved by a glorious strike of the unorganized miners, 50,000 strong, in Western Pennsylvania, home of the Steel Trust. This vonderful incident turned the tide in favor of the union. But Lewis, in signing the agreement upon the conclusion of the national strike, shamelessly betrayed these loyal miners. He made no provision for them whatever in the national and district agreements. Abandoned, sold out, they stayed on strike for several months, until they were beaten and starved into submission. This treachery has dealt the prestige and power of the U. M. W. A. a deadly blow, and made the union zation of the non-union fields ex tremely difficult.

The following letter, written by man who made a good record in t steel campaign of 1918 as an c ganizer and who led the miners in the strike in question, but who has since become a supporter of Lewis, gives a picture of the shameful be-

> Charleroi, Pa., September 21, 1922.

Mr. W. Z. Foster, Chicago, Illinois Dear Friend Bill:

I was pleased to hear from you, and learn that you are still in the land of the living. I surely appreciate your interest in the battle I am engaged in for industrial freedom in the Connelsville Region where industrial slavery has been in existence so long. Bill, it looks as though you have the right dope on this situation, as I am the only international or ganizer in the field. Nationa Board Member O'Leary, and Dis trict Board Member Hynes along with two of the Pittsburgh district organizers, make up the crew that are fighting this battle against the most powerful coal companies in the country. Our men are holding out remarkably. We are fighting with our backs to the wall. Without sufficient funds or help. I have appealed time and again for assistance, but to no avail. Five thousand miners and their families have been evicted from their homes, and fifteen thousand others have been served with eviction no tices. Tent colonies are erected all over the region, and twenty-five hundred hired thugs and gunmen have been deputized by the sheriff of Fayette County. Two hundred state police are scattered over the field. The jails are filled with striking miners. Six striking miners have been brutally murdered, and twenty-five others have been wounded. Hundreds have been beaten up, many of them crippled for life. Wholesale evictions are taking place daily. We need funds, and need them bad. Appeals have been sent all over the country for assistance by us, and upon this. depends the very existence of the struggling men and women of the Connelsville coke region.

The recent settlement, by the district officials of District No. 5 was a staggering blow to the miners of the coke region, when they signed for the large Hillman interests, in the old Pittsburgh district and left out the twelve mines of that company that we have organized solidly in the Connelsville field. This was the damndest blunder of the age. O'Leary and Hynes fought against this settlement, but the gang overwhelmed them. We are demanding a special convention, and it will be some convention. There will be Hell to pay. I find both International and District organizers throwing cold water on this very important situation. International Secretary William Green is the only national of ficial that has paid us a visit. notwithstanding that Vice-President Murray, who lives but forty miles from the seat of war, cannot find time to visit the field. Bill, I expect to be a candidate for district president, and believe me, there will be some fun. We have received the paltry sum of three thousand dollars from District 5 to help carry on the strike, with forty-five thousand men involved.

I must now draw to a close, for God's sake if you can help us, do so, we need shelter, food and clothing, children are without shoes, and unable to go to school. Wishing you every success, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM FEENEY.

P. S. Billy, I hope you are able to keep out of jail and that some of those so-called Labor Leaders will take your place behind the bars where they belong. Bill, I am weary, tired and indignant a the treatment we are receiving. I will invite you to convention when we get it, although we can look out for an injunction.
