Welcome to the Soviet Flyers STOCK MARKET -from the Land of Workers' CLOSES FRIDAY Freedom!

They alight today in New York-these messengers from the faraway land of workers' freedom!

Welcome, Comrades Shestakov, Bolotov, Sterlingov and Fufaev!

These "ambassadors of the air" complete today one of the most memorable air voyages ever made-a flight across three continents, across Em opean Russia, across immense uninhabited regions of Northern Asia to the American continent, over the mountains and forests of Alasks, Yukon and British Columbia to the Western Coast of the United States and thence on the "simple" flight across the United States to New York. United

This magnificent achievement of science, of human courage and skill, compares favorably with the greatest flights hitherto made by the airmen of any country. We do not expect the capitalist press to even the slightest true estimate of the feat of these men, but at give even the slightest true estimate of the least of the air yet made is superior to this one of the bird-men of the Union of Socialist Soviet

It is the continuation of the heroic tradition set by the ice-breaker Krassin in rescuing the lost crew of the Italian fascist Arctic expedition; it is the carrying forward of the daring precedent of the Soviet flier Chukhnovsky.

But it is something more than a scientific achievement. This historic trip across the world is an expression of the scientific achievements of a new Power that has come into the world--a Power that now stands victorious before the test of its prowess as compared with the alder and "richer" nowers of another order. The new and mighty power of socialism, based upon the Revolution of the Russian workers, has need of the mightiest achievements. And it is making good. As the wings of the Soviet ship cuts through the air on the landing-field today, the workers of this country must recognize the material symbol of the most stupendous technological triumph that has ever been known in the world-and by this we mean, not merely one ship or one series of air flights, but the unprecedented industrial advance that has been made and is now being made in the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

In no country in the whole world is the rate of industrial progress of the recent past equal to that of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. The immeasurably wealthier United States, under capitalist has not been making a technological advance of as great a rate as that now being accomplished in the Union of Socialist Soviet Reublics under the superior socialist method of industrial constructionto put it merely on the technological plane.

The flight of the Soviet airmen is a symbol of triumph, therefore, In new order of society, a triumph of our class-a symbol of coming triumph world-wide.

The flight is a bond between the workers of that mighty fatherland of all workers, the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics-and the working class of this and every other country on earth. It is a symbol of the unity of the cause of all oppressed classes and peoples, the soli-durity of all races of the earth.

We welcome you from the land of workers' freedom!

No newspaper has more right to speak for the American capitalist s than the New York Times. This voice of the Wall Street imperialists, in an editorial yesterday, after expressing its satisfaction over the failure of the German nationalist Alfred Hugenberg to secure sary support for the anti-reparations referendum, passes into a rhapsedy of joy over the gains made by the "socialist" parties in the Czekho-Slovak elections. Three socialist parties, among them the one headed by Dr. Benes, score a gain of 17 Deputies against a Communist s of 10. The socialists now outnumber the Communists three to one. The significance is not so much in the absolute numbers as its the trend. In Western Europe, since the war, the socialists have been a consistent force for appeasement and reconstruction, and the Communists have been, of course, for the policy of crisis. There was a time soon after the war when Communists found it feasible to cooperate with Monarchists in the promotion of disorder. The present moment in Central Europe seems to be unfavorable to the reactionaries of the Left as well as of the Right."

Of course the loss of 10 seats by our brother Communist Party of lovakia is, to a certain extent, a set-back. Undoubtedly the cho-Slovakian capitalists owe their thanks for these inroads against the Communist Party partly to the renegades, Jilek and Hais, who erted the working class party and did all they could to disrupt it; but on the other hand the exposure of Jilek and Hais (the equivalents of the opportunist renegades Lovestone and Pepper group in the United of the opportunist reflegades Lovestone and Pepper group in the United States) as the worst elements of opportunist corruption within the Communist Party was a necessary process by which the Communist Party of Cze enough to compensate for the temporary loss of parliamentary seats. On the surface it might be thought to mean that the "socialists" will be in a position to hold the working class back into a more "modernet in the fierce class struggle that is going on between the rs and the capitalists in Czekho-Slovakia. But in a deeper and he real sense, it means that the "socialist parties will be in a stronger tion to anbotage the workers' cause from within-that is, to be most affective instrument of struggle against the working class times. DON'T BE A SLACKER.

Today our Party faces greater responsibilities and tasks than ever before, The Central Committee Plenum gives our chief tasks as follows:

1. Struggle against capitalist rationalization and the capitalist offensive and organize the unorganized.

2. Struggle against imperialist war, against American imper alism and for the defense of the Soviet Union."

3. Struggle against social reforism and the Right Danger.

4. Building of the Party. Our immediate campaigns in carrying out these tasks are: Organize shop committees strengthen revolutionary unionsbuild the Trade Union Unity

"HAND IN HAND WITH REV. MUSTE" By EARL BROWDER.

More and more the opportunist renegades sink into the morass. In many respects they are already more emphatic enemies of the revolutionary movement than the Musteites, while playing the same general role. Compare Gitlow in "Revolutionary Age" with the Musteite "Labor Age" (the two papers have much more in common than the one word in their names; and the one is no more "revolutionary" than the other is "labor" on the subject of the T.U.U.L. Convention in Cleveland.

Gitlow saw in Cleveland "a damnable crime against the working class." "Labor Age" voices the same thought in milder language saying: "It is doubtful whether this is the auspicious moment for dual unionism, since dual unions may play into the hands of the employers."

Boubtless Green, Woll, and the "Wall Street Journal" agree with both, and will widely quote both opinions with impartiality as equally valuable for their purposes.

Gitlow tries to discredit all the delegations at Cleveland as representing nobody, or only insignificant groups. He disposes of the National Miners Union as nothing, saying: "There were 181 delegates of the N.M.U. when this organization has harely 3,000 members. Whom did they represent?" Again the Musteites are more careful in expressing the same judgment: "The Communist N.M.U., from all careful reports, is but a slight factor in the mine fields."

Let Gitlow and "Labor Age" take their "careful reports" to Messers Lewie and Fishwick in Illinois. These gentlemen would be glad to agree with Gitlow and Muste ,but they can't do it this week. They are too basy in frantically mobilizing the bosses and government to smash the great mass swing of the Illinois miners to the ranks of the N.M.U. Gitlow sees Cleveland as "the burial city of the T.U.U.L.," because it was connected with the R.I.L.U. He says: "the first criminal act that helped to wreck" the T.U.U.L., "emanated directly from Lozovsky and his clique in the R.I.L.U."

The Mustelies are equally opposed to the R.I.L.U. leadership, but are not so open as yet in their bitterness. "Labor Age" complains to the same effect but in a milder tone: "Everything to the last detail and bien settled ahead of time by the R.I.L.U. in Moscow." "What is unhealthy in the Communist position is . . . the stubborness of the blind, inciplined fanatie."

It is easily t obe understood how all varies of opportunism are completely opposed to the international leadership of the R.I.L.U. and to the "stubbornness" of the "disciplined" revolutionary workers upon which their opportunian comes to wreck!

After establishing the politcal identity between Gtlow and the Mustelles, it is interesting to note the minor differences between them. Gitlow can see nothing whatever in Cleveland except "crimes," "wrecks," "disasters," etc. He sees the "will of the rank and file was flouted" because he, the great man with two votes in 690, did not direct the gathering. In contrast, "Labor Age," not having Gitlow's intense sub-Mishka's conscience triumphed over his indecision and thrust his forward. He ran as fast as his legs could carry him to the bossital steps, then stopped as if rooted to the ground. Three windows completely dark. In one, a dim light burned. He went to the doorit was locked. He struck his head in at the window where the light burned and some one seized him by the shirt.

"Where are you trying to go? Do you want to break the glass?" Mishka turned; there stood a man with a broom in his hand. "I want to see Serioshka."

"What Serioshka?"

"Ours, from Lopatino."

"There is no Serioshka here. Clear out!" Imagine that! They had just taken him in, and now they say there is no Serioshka here.

Just then at the station the engine whistled.

"The train!" Mishka dashed away from the hospital, hardly feeling the gruth his dashed away from the hospital, hardly feeling the gruth his dashed into the station but he could be the station be the station but he could be the station be station be the stat beneath his feet. He rushed into the station, but he could get no satisfaction from any one. Some ran here, some there, some sat around drinking tea. He asked a mujik, and the mujik shrugged his shoulders "I know nothing, little brother, it is the fourth day that I myself am waiting. . . . Where are you bound for?" "I must go to Tashkent."

"That's exactly what it did." Mishka felt as some one had shot him.

He hurried over to the other side and in the darkness against a woman who was carrying a pail of boiling water. The pail rocked and the boiling water scalded her fingers. She dropped the pail to the ground and began to scream:

* "Hold him, hold him!"

No fleeing deer, thrusting apart the bushes with its horns, ever ran more swiftly than Mishka ran, his sack over his shoulder. Behind him the uproar grew, beating about his ears: ^{$4}Stop thief, stop thief!"

The Mujiks barred Mishka's way:

"Hey, you, son of a bitch!"

"Let him alone, don't beat him!"

"Get the militia!"

"Here he is, comrade militiaman . . . "He stole a sack from a woman."

"Move on there! Make way "

Either the ground was spinning like a wheel beneath his feet, the people were turning somersaults all over the place . . .

The ground was not spinning around, nor the people turning somer saults: it was Mishka's head that was spinning so that everything was blurred and confused before his eyes. He stood within a terrifying circle, and his tongue refused to utter a single word. He wanted to speak, but his tongue would not work. A tear splashed down Mishia's cheek, but who would notice a tear in all this confusion? All eyes were on Mishka's sack. Mishka's plight roused the mujiks, stapped with hanging about the station week after week.

"Pups like that need a good thrashing!"

The militiaman took him by the arm: "Come along!"

One thought filled Mishka's mind: "They'll never let me out again.

prosperity, the very same hypocritical excuses which its hourgeoistic give in attacking the vanguard of the working class. The socially party in its platform and practices is indistinguishable from the other capitalist parties, it is a third bourgeois party, except that the accieline party works for the bourgeoise in the name of "labor," in the name of "socialism." This cover of "labor" is what the bourgeoisie needs at this time to attack the Soviet Union, to crush the working class, 'o attempt to isolate the Communist Party from the masses. The capitalists need the socialists and A. F. of L. burequerats to give mass support for the terror of the bourgeoisie and to attempt to stave off the movement the masses to the left, to justify its terrorism and brutality against the working class. If the British bourgeoise that is suffering from sharpening of the contradictions in its system, from acute memployment, from the general world crisis of capitalian, requires the "pacifist" MacDonald, the spokesman of the so-called labor party, to carry ont in

In contrast, "Labor Age," not having Gillow's intense subjectivism and diseased ego, is able to note that "the decisions to make Cleveland the seat of the convention and the Labor-Day week-end the time, "Sere wise"—altho to Gitlow this was the "first crime" of the LLLLS which advised it. "Labor Age" lists a dozen positive aspects of Cleveland, and concludes that it was a demonstration of attention to the concrete situation, the application to details, the drive to penetrate into the ranks of the workers, the urge to create a mass movement of wage-carners." We are not particularly interested in whether the Musteites see

We are not particularly interested in whether the Musteites see the positive sides of the growing left-wing trade unions. But it is instructive for our Party to see how quickly the renegades lose all objectivity, so that they can't see even as much as a Musteite.

It is hardly necessary to point out in detail how closely in solidarity in essential questions of policy are the Trotakyites with Gitlow and "Labor Age." The facts are well known.

All of which throws new light on the political penetration of the RILE, which was able to foresee these developments in July when it wrote:

"It is only to be expected that the new centre. in carrying its new tasks, would also have to overcome the resistance tain self-styled 'Communists,' whose Communism consists tases to cover their essential opportunism. These renegade his try to cover their resistance to the new unions by all arts of demagogic appeal to 'free speech' and 'democratic rights' within the organized Left wing, but their activities are of the most disive sort and designed for opportunist ends. Of such are the of Lovestone, which is rapidly moving towards unification with the Muste group on the basis of its own program, which denies tion of the workers and advertizes the 'overthe growing rad strength of American imperialism,' and develops a whole ption of America from the world crisis of capitalism. the basis of the Muste group it will also find itself merging with the so-called 'left' group of Cannon, whose 'leftism' is indistin-guidiable from the open Right opportunism of Lovestone in Amerof of Brandler and Walcher in Germany. Norman Thomas for Violence Against the Workers Under the Screen of Police Efficiency

Behind the barrage of charges and counter charges of graft and corruption made by the three capitalist parties, democratic, republican and socialist, are concealed the real issues of the election campaign. Stripping aside the veil of election camouflage and capitalist demagogy with which the agents of the bourgeoisie seek to deceive the working class, one sees very clearly the general crisis of capitalism expressing itself in this campaign.

Two facts stand out sharply in the development of the campaign. First, the capitalist class is working feverishly to build up the forces of repression to centralize, consolidate and make more efficient the state machinery for suppressing the working class and to crush the rising resistance of the workers. In this connection the bourgeoisie is incorporating the underworld and the socialist party more directly into the state machinery in its plans of utilizing fascist terror against the working class. Secondly, the bourgeoisie is building up the socialist party as a third party of capitalism and is developing the socialist party so that it can more effectively play the role as the reserve power to put in force against the working class.

Capitalism in the United States is faced with the fact of growing instability. American industry is confronted with the problem of a narrowing market for its overproduced goods. Capitalism is compelled to resort to the speeding-up of labor and to the adoption of measures of the greatest exploitation of the working class resulting in general decline in the standard of living of the workers. American industry is on the verge of a new economic crisis already indicated by the overproduction of automobiles, oil, in steel, agricultural products, building construction, which has been registered with striking force in the collapse of the stock exchange. The capitalist class in order to overcome this crisis is compelled to resort to new methods of exploitation and to a more intensified attack upon the wages, living standards, and consequently upon the organization of labor. Opposing this offensive is the working class, that is not only taking up a defensive position, not only engaging in strikes and organization campaigns, but through militant action is going over on to the offensive to defeat the rationalization schemes of the exploiters, is fighting militantly to organize itself against the capitalist class. A wave of struggle is developing as shown not only by the heroic fight of the Gastonia, Marion and New Orleans workers of the South, but in the struggles of the oil truckmen, the food truckmen, the strikes of the needle trades workers, the movement for general strike among the transportation workers, the sympathetic strike action of the longshoremen in the oil truckmen's strike, and in a series of battles occurring in and around New York. The capitalist class is conscious that this wave will spread and that the development of the economic crisis resulting in a further slashing of wages, increase in unemployment, new speed-up devices, and an all around lowering of the living standards of the wage workers, that gigantic class battles of the New York and American workers will take place. The sharpening rivalry between the capitalist world and the Soviet Union and between the imperialist powers themselves, in the first place between the United States and Great Britain which is leading to new imperialist war, is compelling the capitalist class to resort to pacifist camouflage on the one hand and fascist terror on the other. The major demand of the capitalist class is the strengthening of the power of the state, the perfection of its state apparatus, for the sharpening class struggle. Tammany Hall in control of the city government has already built up a secret spy system. It has applied terror against the striking workers in the very midst of the election campaign, it has been using thugs and gangsters and its police force to crush the strike of the oil truckmen, window cleaners' strike, etc. It has increased the police force by eight hundred men, is building an air force, and is developing the police system as a special pretorian guard against the working class. The republican party through its candidate, La Guardia, agitates for the consolidation of the city government for making it more efficient and in the person of La Guardia, it puts forward a candidate that openly proclaims his admiration for fascist rule in Italy and assures the bourgeoisie that his candidace means swift and decisive action against the workers through the police department, courts, district attorney's office, etc. The socialist party likewise raises the question of the police force and charges Whalen that he is disrupting the morale of the city police while ex-Tammany Police Chief Enright also makes his main plea for support on the issue of stamping out corruption from city government, principally the police department. Tammany Hall and Jimmy Walker makes its main claim to continuation in office the fact that the city government has been cleaned out of graft and corruption and that the police force of New York City is the world's best. All parties are out to prove to their masters, the capitalist class, that they can best carry through the reorganization and the adaptation of the state machinery to the tasks of the present period of carrying through the offensive against the working class.

Into the campaign has been injected the "unsolved" Rothstein murder. Republican, socialist and Square Deal parties show the greatest alarm about this murder. What in reality does this signify? The Rothstein case is the symbol of the fact that the bosses are utilizing the underworld gangsters and fascist thugs on an ever increasing scale, that the underworld is being employed as part of the state machinery to crush the working class as has been sufficiently demonstrated by the needle trades struggles, the present oil truckmen's strike, the fascist thugs in Gastonia, and as every left wing worker knows, in his fight with the trade union bureaucrats who are agents of the capitalist class. Under the screen of lamentations about the unsolved Rothstein murder the bourgeoisie is aiming to conceal the organic integration of the underworld with the capitalist state machinery and the development of the so-called democratic state machinery into a fascist force against the working class. The bourgeoisie always carries through its plans of greater oppression and exploitation under the mantle, of general welfare of the needs of the people, under the guise of attacking "crime," "graft," "corruption," "law and order." Nowhere is this better illustrated than in the issues that have been thrown up in the present election campaign.

The socialist party and the candidacy of Norman Thomas are serving the capitalist class with the special competence in helping to carry through the fascization of the state power and in endeavoring to turn the eyes of the masses away from struggle against the capitalist system. The socialist party supports the Young Plan which means increasing burdens upon the German working class and which is a weapon of struggle against the Soviet Union and against Great Britain. The socialist party is particularly vicious in its attacks against the Soviet Union, against the socialist fatherland, against whom American capitalism is mobilizing to destroy. The socialist party in alliance with the A. F. of L. bureaucrats stands for class peace, for collaboration with the bosses, for capitalist rationalization, and spreads the myths of eternal American prosperity, which are the very things which the rulers of American imperialism need to carry through their plans for greater exploitation and oppression and for plunging the working class into a new world war. The socialist party in the last election campaign in the name of efficiency of government, stood for the four year term for governor, favored the reorganization of the state government, called for a more efficient polce force, as it does in the present election campaign. At the same time, Norman Thomas conducts pacifist propaganda, expresses lofty sentiments of praise for Hoovers demagogic peace propaganda (behind which is concealed the most feverish preparations for war) has endorsed the Kellogg Peace Pact which is a collossal peace of deception of the working class and whose real character was shown in the attempts of Secretary of State Stimson to utilize the Kellogg Peace Pact as a means of invading the Soviet Union. Thomas attacks the Communist Party at the very moment when the entire capitalist world is concentrating its forces for driving the Communist Party underground and makes this attack in the interests of peace in industry, of plans for war against the Soviet Union and against American imperialism; if the German imperialists need the social democratic party of Germany in order to shoot down workers and to check the revolutionary developments in that country, in the same way, American imperialism requires the building up of the socialist party (as a last reserve of the bourgeoisie against the working class), as an instrument to carry through greater rationalization, greater exploitation, a whole reter, of terror against militant and fighting labor. That is why the New York Telegram and the New York World endorse the candidacy of Thomas. That is why the big organ of finance capital, the New York Times, sovotes enormous space to the socialist party. That is why these strikebreaking sheets conduct a conspiracy of silence against the Communist candidates. That is why Harry Fosdick, Rockefeller's pastor, and that is why Lamont, the son of the partner of Morgan, supports the candidacy of the socialist party.

The two parties of capitalism, republican and democratic, are growing discredited before the masses, by their open strikebreaking service to the bosses. The capitalists are therefore pushing forward the cacialist party that stands for the capitalist system to boleter up their rule and to stem the left swing of the workers. The cunning bourgeoistic express this need in the name of liberalism, but this only reveals more clearly that under the badge of "liberalism" and "progressiviam" the fascist fight against the working class is being made. The Telegram, in endorsing Thomas, declares: "We believe that Thomas better the La Guardia provides a rallying point about which liberals of the city can seek to proclaim the end of the local republican party and open the way for a real and lasting liberal movement." What the Telegram means is not hard to perceive. Terror under the guise of liberalismsocialism—laborism. The German socialists have shown the way.

-Everything to fight the Communists. The Communist Party is the foe. To isolate the Communists, to drive them out of the working class movement, to lynch, murder and imprison them, that is what the capitalists are doing to put thru rationalization and imperialist war are to crush the rising tide of struggle of the workers. To do it with the support and through the A. F. of L. bureaucrats and the socialist party that is what is needed by the bourgeoisie. Communism is the foer is the South. It is the force for the organization of the unorganized. It is the only power that can destroy Jim Crowism against the Negrous It is the instrument for the mobilization of the imperialists for the imminent imperialist war. To crush the Communist Party, to do it in the name of pacifism. That is the way the bourgeoisie thinks can succeed in its plans. Here is where the Thomases and the Hilliptic are such splendid allies of the bourgeoisie.

Communism is the foe. It militantly fights against apoelleads the masses to use their strike power, to break the offensi the bourgeoisie. The Communist Party must be crushed. To do the name of peace in industry, of harmony between the classes, is the role of the socialist party.

For the working class the issues are clear. To fight again tionalization, to organize the unorganized, to fight against funcror, against imperialist war, the workers must fight the capitalis ties, and above all, the deadliest of the capitalist parties, operat the ranks of the working class, the social reformist-social party, the party of the Thomases, of the Hilquits, of the Must the MacDonalds, of the hangmen of the working class, the Mu and the Scheidemanns.

To support the Communist ticket, to vote for the Communist didates is an act of self defense of the working class. To support Communist Party, to vote the Communist ticket, is to strike a bloc for the organization of the unorganized, for the establishment of seven-hour day, five-day week, for the organization of the incompt for the freedom of the oppressed colonies, for the defense of the 20 Union, for establishing social, racial and political equality for Negroes. To support the Communist Party, to vote the Commuticket means to strengthen the hand of the working class, to back its power against all its enemies, for its liberation from capitalize capitalist terror.
