Changsha in Hunan Is in Revolt Against Chiang Kai-shih

Rebellion Everywhere

Shantung Echoed Both South and North

CHEFOO, China, Feb. 24.-The light cruiser, U. S. S. Trenton, and two U. S. destroyers have arrived here from the Philippines with Admiral Blakely. They came in response to a report from Consul Leroy Webber, although Webber stated that there was no danger to Americans in Chefoo. Four Japanese and three British war vessels are also now at Chefoo. It is reported that the "nationalist" commander, Lin Chen-nien, is "awaiting reinforcement" to carry on the fight against Chang Tsung-Chang. However, reinforcements are practically cut off from all sides but by sea.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 24.—The beautiful but fictitious picture of national unity of China under the Nanking government of Chiang Kaishih is falling to pieces completely as new revolts appear in central China and in the north besides the spread of the uprising on the Shantung peninsula.

With all eastern Shantung thrown into confusion by the old bandit general, Chang Tsung-chang, seeking a come-back by raising a revolt throughout Shantung province un-der the old five-barred Peking flag (Continued on Page Five)

DECIDE CROUCH CASE THURSDAY

Mass. Authorities Not to Drop Charges

The hearing to decide on the ques tion of the extradition of Paul Crouch, national secretary of the All-America Anti-Imperialist League to the state of Massachusetts, to face charges of disturbing the peace in connection with the New Bedford nor Roosevelt announced yesterday to the New York branch of the International Defense.

Rumors to the effect that the New Bedford authorities had decided to drop the charges and waive the demand for extradition appeared in the New Bedford press last week. The press announcements, however, were false, the I. L. D. declares.

The extradition of Fred Bieden kapp, national secretary of the Workers International Relief, to Massachussetts to face similar charges was last Monday refused by Governor Roosevelt. Clarence Darrow, Arthur Garfield Hays and Joseph Brodsky are handling the case for the I. L. D. International Labor Defense.

NANKING REGIME MAKE IT RECORD-BREAKING U.S. IMPERIALISM TAILORS' MEET HEADING TOWARD WEEK IN "DAILY'S" DRIVE FOR UNDISGUISED LAUNCHES FIGHT

Comrades:

Due to the energetic drive of many comrades and sympathetic workers the Daily Worker has been able to overcome its most pressing debts from day to day and put off its less pressing ones. This means that you, fellow-workers, have been able to ensure the publication of your paper from day to day.

But this by no means solves the problem which faces us. At the beginning of our campaign to save the Daily Worker we acquainted you with the facts of the crisis. We told you that unless funds were immediately raised we would find it impossible to go to press. You responded and we were able to resume the publication of a six-page paper. This does not mean that the crisis is over, but that we were able to satisfy for the moment our most pressing bills.

At this time, the impetus of the donations coming in must be increased, for we must pay off as many debts as possible in order to gain a solid financial footing to continue the revolutionary functioning of the Daily Worker in as effective a manner as possible. During the next week, every member of the Party, all readers of the Daily Worker in unions, fraternal organizations and workers' clubs, must carry the drive at full steam into the mass organizations and make a united and energetic effort to place the "Daily" on a solid foundation.

A workers' revolutionary paper has many difficulties to face. The effort of Hillquit, the millionaire boss of the socialist party, with the aid of the capitalist court, to crush the charges of graft made by the Daily Worker, charges which Hillquit cannot deny, by putting the paper's editors in jail and levelling large fines, can only be combatted by the united efforts of the workers. The Hillquit gang hates the Daily for its support of the strike being led by the Needle Trades Workers' Industrial Union against sweat-shop conditions and the treachery of the socialist-scab International. They would like to see it out of print, for in its pages every day they see a new expose of their own corrupt and reformist policies and the voicing of the revolutionary struggle against their imperialist masters and themselves.

Just as the working class will finally sweep the ruling class with its Hillquits and Wolls and Lewises and Schlesingers out of existence and replace it by its own Socialist society, they will sweep aside this new difficulty placed before the Daily by Hillquit by redoubling their efforts to save the Daily Worker and feed it plenty of financial fuel to continue its expose of the manipulating of the 300 shares of the bank of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union into the coffers of the trade union reac-

Workers, every cent you contribute or collect for the Daily Worker is a blow at Hillquit, at the whole rogue's gallery of the A. F. of L. bureaucrats, at the socialist help-mates of Wall Street, at Wall Street itself and its frenzied preparations for another imperialist war, at the enemies of the Soviet

To Die for U. S. Capitalism in Far East

Hundreds of these soldiers sailed from their base in Brooklyn to reenforce the American forces in the Philippine Islands, American capitalism's advance outpost in the Far East. Undoubtedly the Philippines will be the scene of fierce fighting in the coming imperialist war when the American capitalist class will be glad to give each of these young fellows a chance to lay down his life or his entrails or an arm or leg or anything else that happens to get hit in the "holy war" to defend the bosses' profits and possessions. Meanwhile they'll be used to oppress and torture Filipino peasants and workers, an activity in which the Stimson government is fond of mixing sport and business.

Newsboys are children of workers whom poverty forces to slave on the streets in all weather for 14 hours a day or more, in order that a few cents may be made to keep the worker's family from starvation. In order to keep the newsboys from learning the real reason of the poverty of their families, the bosses and church collaborate each year in giving a dinner to a picked number of the boys. The boys are forced to listen to lectures on "loyalty" to the bosses; and patriotism so that they may become sheep for slaughter in imperialist war. Photo shows H. Randolph Guggenheim and Rev. PARTY PRE-CONVENTION DISCUSSION SECTION

The comrade who writes these articles, for reasons relating to his work, cannot sign his real name. However, he is one of the Negro comrades who, in a recent membership meeting at Los Angeles, was attacked by Emanuel Levin, former district organizer in California as being a black chauvinist.

The Plus and Minus of Shop Work Since Last Party Convention

By GERTRUDE HAESSLER.

(The following is the first of a short series of articles dealing with the Party's shop paper work throughout the country during the period since the last convention. It is of a general nature, covering various phases of the work. Those to follow will deal in detail with the political content of the papers, their trade union line, their technical make-up, and a concluding article will cover various miscelleanous matters and sum up.—EDITOR.)

* * * In making a general review of the Party's shop paper work during the period between the two conventions, one finds that in spite of some very serious shortcomings still existing in this important phase of Party work, much progress has been made. It is extremely important and extremely exacting work. It embodies many important slogans which the Party has put forth—"Face to the Masses," "Proletarianization," Masses," "Proletarianization,"
"Building of Shop Nuclei," "Roots in Industry," etc. "Every workshop is a fortress of the working class," wrote Lenin. The shop paper is an effective offensive weapon in

The Reverend Muste's Social Reformism

Wherever there is a market you will find a merchant.

Whenever sharpening class relationships appear in a capitalist society, with the accompanying increase in the class consciousness of the workers-there is invariably an up-cropping of petty-bourgeois supporters of the capitalist system ready with pseudo-radical slogans intended to hold the masses in support of the reactionary system.

Recent months have seen attempts to cover up with socalled progressive phrases the reactionary, anti-working class policies of the bureaucracy of the American Federation of Labor. These efforts have been led mainly by the Reverend A. J. Muste and a corps of associates.

The Muste group is now trying to take on an independent organizational form. It is a "Left" social reformist group, with a political as well as a trade union character.

No intelligent worker can afford to let himself be deceived as to the real nature of this movement among supporters of the employer class and its capitalist system. It is necessary to understand the origin of this group. Its formation arises out of the sharpening of class relationships in this country at this time, with the narrowing down of the A. F. of L., the increasing importance of the unskilled and semi-skilled workers as the decisive factor in the labor movement, the development of new unions under Communist influence and the growing influence of the Communist Party.

Here is a widening market for the wares of such as little Mr. Muste. Neat packages of social reformism, done up in pink paper-guaranteed "just as good" as class struggle!

Against what is the movement of this petty-bourgeois group directed?

Its composition and its program make it an instrument directed chiefly against the Communist movement. The role of the Muste group lies in its tendency to attempt to isolate the Communist influence among the masses. The Reverend Muste and his associates attempt only to steer the discontent of the masses into the channels of capitalism. The workers who are seeking the path to break away from the reactionary trade union bureaucracy, from the influence of treacherous social reformism, this Muste group would seize upon and lead back into the camp of social-reformist illusions, into the camp of capitalism.

The Muste group is now engaged in an effort to unite the various social-reformist groups and parties into a party directed against the Communist movement.

The real aims and the dangerous role of this group in the labor movement must be made known to, and thoroughly understood by the working class. Its liberal, petty-bourgeois ideology and "Left" slogans are most dangerous to the masses precisely because the Muste group, having already fought against all genuine Left aims, will in the future quite consistently betray every real Left slogan in action.

An examination of the social character and activities of the group surrounding the Reverend Muste shows nakedly the close and intricate connections with the yellow socialist party and the bureaucracy of the A. F. of L.-i. e. with the worst and most corrupt and active lieutenants of big capital in the labor movement.

And the pacifist face of the Muste group is sufficient guarantee that in the fast-developing imperialist war situation it will play a role of leading the workers into the shambles with pretty words of "peace." Imperialist war cannot be without its "pacifist" servants and the associates of Mr. Muste are quite clearly applying for a post as pacifist camouflage for the imperialist war makers.

This group takes what position in the class struggle? Certainly not a position in favor of class struggle on the part of the workers against the capitalist class. It fights against the Workers (Communist) Party. It fights and maneuvers against the Trade Union Educational League, against the new, militant trade unions and against their strikes—against every organizational expressional of struggle against capitalism.

It is impossible to let this group of adventurers off with the estimate that it is "harmless," as merely playing a negative part, as "not participating in the class struggle." The social-democratic parties and groups, like the trade-union bureaucracy, do not play a negative role. Their crime is not that they do not participate in the class struggle, but that they do participate in the class struggle as most active and dangerous forces for the employing class and state. The socialist party is today a well-developed party of the police and strike-breakers. The Muste group, social-democratic at base, but playing a would-be ambiguous role pretendedly "to the Left" of the police-socialists and the strike-breaker trade union bureaucrats, are in fact merely a foot-loose type of social-democrats, dyed-in-the-wool yellows, who at every test in the past have betrayed the workers and who at every test in the future will do the same.

The narrowing base of the A. F. of L., the growing decisiveness of the unskilled proletarian masses in the labor movement, the increasing influence of the Communist Party which has played the leading role in every recent struggle of the workers and which nurtures and guides into the channels of class struggle the growing radicalization of the workers—these are the phenomena which cause the raising of the yellow flag of the Muste group inscribed with "Left" phrases intended to draw the discontented working class back into the camp of the class enemy.

Every class-conscious worker should do his part to expose this coterie of charlatans and to compel its liquidation. Forward with the class struggle! Build the Party of the Class Struggle—the Workers (Communist) Party!

The "Desecrated American Flag"; Dynamite and Frame-ups Against the Union by Thiel Detectives

Previously, Haywood wrote of his early life as miner, cowboy and homesteader in the early days in Utah, Nevada and Idaho; of his years working up to the office of Secretary of the Western Federation of Miners; its early battles in Colorado; how the union fought against martial law, declared by Governor Peabody, to aid the mine owners and open shop Citizens' Alliance. He is speaking at present of the great Cripple Creek strike of 1903. Now go on reading.

PART XLV.

ONE night I had paper laid out on the dining room table at home. When my wife called out from the next room and asked what I was doing, I replied:

"I'm making more trouble for Peabody." I was at work on what became the notorious "desecrated flag" poster. I drew a rough picture of the United States flag, with a caption at the top, "Is Colorado in America?" each stripe of the flag was an inscription: Martial Law Declared In Colorado. Habeas Corpus Suspended in Colorado.

Free Press Throttled in Colorado. Bull-Pens for Union Men in Colorado. Free Speech Denied in Colorado. Soldiers Defy the Courts in Colorado. Wholesale Arrests Without Warrants in Colorado. Union Men Exiled from Homes and Families in Constitutional Right to Bear Arms Questioned in Colorado. Corporations Corrupt and Control Administration in Colorado. Right of Fair, Impartial and Speedy Trial Abolished in Colorado. Citizens' Alliance Resorts to Mob Law and Violence in Colorado. Militia Hired by Corporations to Break the Strikes in Colorado.

HAD a picture of Henry Maki chained to the flagstaff. The photograph had been taken in Telluride, where he was chained to a telegraph pole during the strike. Under this was the title "Under the Folds of the American Flag in Colorado," and under the flag, "If Old Glory is desecrated, it has been done by the Governor of Colorado. The strikers are struggling to enforce the laws of the state and to break not only the chains that bind Henry Maki, but the chains that bind all the workers. Following this was an appeal for funds for the Colorado strikers, with the signatures of Moyer and myself.

Victor Poole, a young miner, was in and out of the bull-pen and jail many times. Finally Governor Peabody declared the writ of habeas corpus suspended in his case, and said that he must remain in prison. We followed this decision by applying to the federal court. While the case was pending the military authorities, fearing that the writ would be granted, contrived to have charges preferred against Victor Poole for a minor criminal offense which had been forgotten if it had ever been committed. They turned him over to the sheriff of the county and in this way slipped from under a writ that would in all probability have been granted. Poole was not an official of the union. His continued persecutions caused much comment.

THE Vindicator mine was under guard of the militia, but an explosion on the six-hundred-foot level that killed the foreman and superintendent was charged to the Western Federation of Miners. From the examination they made of the mine and the evidence introduced, the coroner's jury was unable to determine the cause of the explosion. Sherman Parker, Charles Kennedy, Bill Davis and Tom Foster were charged with this crime and placed under arrest, but the district attorney quashed the indictments for lack of evidence. The persecution of these men had become a byword in the district. They had been arrested and re-arrested, charged with nearly everything to be found in the annals of crime, but never once was any of them convicted of the slightest offense.

Parker. Davis and Foster were out at this time under large accumulated bail, though they had not been charged with any offense and no crime had been committed. None of the previous accusations having been fastened on these men, a serious charge was being framed

CERTAIN lodging house in Cripple Creek was the rendezvous of the A gunmen and detectives of the Citizens' Alliance. There the thugs planned their vicious conspiracies. It was there no doubt that Sterling and Scott arranged with Beckman, the Thiel detective, and McKinney, a rounder and pimp, the details of a proposed train wreck, the responsibility for which was to be placed upon Parker, Foster and Davis. Scott had already inquired of a railroad engineer named Rush, where the worst place would be for a train wreck. Rush told him that if a rail were loosened at the high bridge, it would throw the train down an embankment, three or four hundred feet and kill or injure all the passengers. Scott told Rush that he must be on the lookout at a certain hour that night when he was driving his train.

At the identical spot near the high bridge, Rush stopped his train and took the fireman and others ahead, where they discovered that spikes had been pulled and a rail had been loosened. A wreck certainly would have occurred if he had attempted to run his train over the spot, carrying to death or injury between two and three hundred people. Kennison, the president of the Victor Miners' Union, and many other union men were on the train.

SHERMAN PARKER, Bill Davis and Tom Foster were arrested as the principals of this terrible crime. When they were brought to trial McKinney was the star witness for the prosecution. He testified that he had done the job with the accused, but after a severe cross-examination admitted that he had testified at the instigation of Sterling and Scott, who had promised him a thousand dollars in cash and a ticket to anywhere he wanted to go. If he should be arrested and convicted, they had guaranteed him a pardon from Governor Peabody.

Beckman admitted that he would be willing to kill two hundred or more people for five hundred dollars. The attorneys for the Western Federation demanded his immediate arrest, and called upon the district attorney and his assistant to do their duty. But the detective was never arrested. Sterling and Scott also testified, but the slimy wretches fastened all the blame on their tools, Beckman and McKinney.

The final witness for the prosecution was Rush, the engineer, who testified that Scott had asked him where the worst place for a wreck would be, and that he had tipped him off that an attempt would be made at the place designated near the high bridge.

Without calling a single witness for the defense, without a word being said by the defendants in their own behalf or by the attorneys of the Western Federation in behalf of them, the judge ordered the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

A FEW days after this victory, Moyer and I went to Cripple Creek district to see the stores and visit the district union. Before we left

"I don't propose to spend any time in the bull-pen." "Well," he said, "what are you going to do if they arrest us?"
"Let's shoot it out with them," I said.

We took a couple of extra revolvers in a handbag. I told him: "If we dont need these we can leave them with the boys."

In the next instalment Haywood writes of the situation at Cripple Creek on his visit there; of how Haywood and two fellow workers shot it out with a gang of deputy sheriffs at Eighteenth and Champa Streets in the heart of Denver; a touch of Big Bill's grim humor in the midst of class war. The average southern white is an inferior individual who attempts to hide his inferiority complex by a pretentiousness of manners, an assumed superiority based upon color only and, therefore, the inherent inferiority of the black race.

The rural Negro is frequently prejudiced against the town Negro and adopts a patronizing attitude toward "educated Negroes." This is but the reflex of the white planter's psychology who doubts the wisdom of edu-cating his "niggers." In his opinion, it makes him uppish, refractory and generally untrustworthy as good field hands. "Education puts social equality notions in a nigger's head." Thus the Negro manhood of the south is individualized and degraded until it accepts as natural and inevitable such derogatory institutions as concubinage. peonage, chain-gangs, segregation and a host of other festering evils which are damning indictments of white capitalist civilization in America. By a peculiar mental twist the Negro endures these evils by refusing to recognize them and the southern Negro as well as the southern white bitterly resents criticism of his community by an outsider.

Between the master and the working class, Where stand these men and women on the side Of Labor, shouting "Ye shall never pass!"

No beat of drums, no bugles shrilly crying Assemble these red hosts in fully array-Though some are weak and sick and some are dying,

Across their way, the pickets firmly stand Against the brunt. What though harsh taunts are lashing, The placards make reply in steady hand.

Still stand the rickets—those unflinching ones.

This is the battle ground where labor fights. Here, 'gainst the few, defiance by the masses Is flung and these no longer seek their "rights."

Defiance and a challenge here are flung Against the bulwarks of society. What though our leaders have been shot or hung, Still others rise to take their places. See!

The Red Flag flies above the sturdy lines, Advancing ever in the fiercer fray, While over all the Star of Russia shines And marks the dawning of the Workers' Day !

Here see the lines that mark the sharp divide

Yet on they press unarmed into the fray. Though maces swing and bayonets are flashing

Though rain sharp blows upon defenceless heads And fly the bullets from the gangsters' guns, Though every heart is filled with nameless dread,
