Millions Demand Bread--And DEMONSTRATION They Get a War!

The "religious" attack against the Soviet Union is gaining momentum. Priests, rabbis and ministers who had been closing the gates of heaven to one another a short time ago, while condemning the other's adherents to eternal damnation in the hereafter, now stand united in a reactionary front against the Soviet Union. The real connection between the capitalist governments and the Christian-Jewish clergy is becoming more visible and distinct.

At the same time, every effort is being made to whip the masses all over the world into a frenzy of hate against the workers' and farmers' republic. The entire vocabulary of incitement is ransacked for suitable words to stir up resentment and hostility against the "unspeakable repressions" and "red atrocities" which exist only in the brains of the religious dopesters. All the denials of the Russian clergy, unable to deceive the masses and therefore forced to tell the truth, offer no obstacles to this orgy of religious lying. Every device of propaganda is and will be employed to split the masses along religious lines. That is the first aim of the clergy responding to the orders of their imperial-

In less than a week the appeal to heaven became a direct appeal to more earthly powers. Pope and rabbi are now calling for the material intervention of capitalist governments to give substance to the spiritual intervention of God.

"Protest" in the form of prayers has turned into unconcealed talk "putting down" the "religious outrages" in the Soviet Union. Words of "religion" are becoming words of war. To believe that the reactionary bloc of imperialists and clericals intend to confine themselves to futile prayers is to surrender to the illusion that the "religious movement" has no material-class basis.

To fail to understand that we are not dealing with a mere chorus of "protest," but with a definite movement to mobilize the masses for an armed attack against the Soviet Union is to betray the working class to the imperialists. It must be clear to every thinking worker that the whole religious hullaballoo is nothing but an ideological campaign in preparation for a war against the Soviet Republic. It is a brazen attempt to split the international working class by uniting it with the capitalists under the banner of religion in support of an imperialist war against the workers of the Soviet Union.

The capitalists and their clerical tools know very well that the policy of the Soviet Union is not to abolish religion by decrees from above. The march of Socialism means the abolition of the material conditions which nourish religious ideas. Only the destruction of the last remnants of capitalism, only the constant improvement in the material living conditions of the masses and their re-education on a vast scale on the basis of Socialism wll lead to the ultimate abolition of religion, as of alcohol and other dones.

"As in religion, man is governed by the products of his own brain," says Karl Marx, "so in capitalistic production he is governed by the products of his own hand." It has been the abolition of capitalism in the Soviet Union that has laid the basis for the utter destruction of religion. It is the sharp class struggle against the remnants of capitalism in the village, the kulaks in alliance with the village priests, that is destroying the last material refuge of subservience and super-

The economic crisis in the United States which has sharpened the general crisis of capitalism; the rapid advance of Socialism in the Soviet Union, with the help of the Five-Year Plan, has convinced the imperialists of the necessity of attacking soon or losing their opportunity entirely. The religious attack against the Soviet Union, therefore, is not merely a fight between atheism and religion, but primarily between Socialism and capitalism. Both capitalists and clergy see their doom in the continued existence of the Soviet Union.

"The protest," says the New York Journal, "transcends all differences of creed, uniting all religious beliefs in a common cause." The cause of religion is the cause of the capitalist class, the cause of exploitation and oppression. The same church and clergy that drove the working class into the last imperialist war for the profits of their masters; the same church and clergy that draw dividends from the trusts and corporations, sucking their billions in profits from the bodies of the working class, regardless of creed-these same peddlers of opium to the people are now crying for a war against the only country ruled by the working class.

Capitalism does not ask the worker about his religion when it throws him out of a job. But in the interest of their profits and the very capitalist system, the imperialist robbers, in the name of religion, through their religious agents, are calling upon the workers to fight against their fellow workers in the Soviet Union.

Against this ruling class "unity of all religious beliefs," the Communist Party calls for the unity of the entire working class against their capitalist exploiters. The Communist Party does not give up its fight to free the masses from the poison of religion. But it explains to the working class that only the sharpest class struggle against the oppression and the exploitation of the masses by parasitic couponclippers, only the complete destruction of the capitalist system itself will enable them to rise out of the swamp of ignorance and supersti-

Religion is not only the product of ignorance, but of class oppression, of the misery of the masses, of their subordination to social forces which they are unable to control.

The Communist Party will fight against every attempt to split the working class on the grounds of race or religion.

Workers! Religion is a pretext, a poison-gas attack to blind you to your class interests! In darkest America, where capitalist law forbids the teaching of evolution as a science, where the prosecutor of the Gastonia strikers rolls on the floor and hysterically calls God to send workers to the electric chair, where 7,000,000 workers and their families starve in the shadow of thousands of ornate churches, where in Marion the religious workers see the heads of the church kick them out of their accustomed place to breathe foolish prayers to an unhearing God, because they struck against wage cuts and the speed-up, in capitalist America, in short, the godly bootlickers of Wall Street cry for war on the Socialist Republic!

The workers of the world will accept the challenge! None of the 7,000,000 starving jobless will cease to fight-for "Work or Wages." None of the millions driven to exhaustion by the speed-up and harrassed by wage cuts will stop one moment in their fight against the capitalist attack! And all of them will unite against capitalism and its attempt to whip up a war against the Workers' Government.

ATHENS, Greece, Feb. 19 .- Hope for a union of imperialist powers against the Soviet Union was expressed today by the Metropolitan Church in Greece.

This religious dopester announced that he had appealed to the imperialist League of Nations for an attack on the Soviet Union.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 .- Knowing the willingness of American imperialism to attack the Soviet Union on the least excuse, religious dopesters have sent protests to the U.S. State Department against so-called religious persecutions in the U.S.

Acting secretary of state Cotton, who takes the same view towards the workers' republic as his master, Henry L. Stimson, said today he has not made any decision regarding the action of his department, but he would make the protests public later today.

The forces of reaction throughout the world are supporting the war plans of the imperialists against the Soviet Union. The Standard Oil Co. of N. ## BOSTON CAN GO OVER THE TOP

By ROY STEPHENS.

THE Boston District can go over the top in the recruiting drive despite the fact that it is far behind in it's quota of new members. In order to do this, however, every member must get busy and our work among the masses must be intensified to a greater extent. Our most glaring weakness at the present time is the fact that we are far behind in the recruiting of new members, especially the recruiting of Negro workers.

In shop nuclei and shop papers we have passed the quotas as originally set by the Central Committee. However, we can not be satisfied with this for some of the shop nuclei are not yet functioning properly and the shop papers do not contain enough news from the shops nor have the members been drawn in sufficiently in issuing these papers.

Our quota at present is too high in comparison with other districts but we must do everything to fulfill it. However, we must severely criticize the sections and the district for raising the original quota. It would have been much better to have passed the quota of the Central Committee instead of having the quota raised too high which has resulted in making many of the members feel pessimistic about the possibility of fulfilling the quota as it now stands.

A Slow Start.

We were too slow in getting into mass work and as a result we got off to a slow start in the recruiting drive. During the first weeks of the drive most of the new members recruited were sympathizers of the Party who had been very close to the Party for some time. While it was essential to bring these elements into the Party nevertheless the most important wield of activity of the Party, that of winning the masses thru participation in their struggles has begun only during the last few weeks. We have been quite successful in recruiting members at meetings of the unemployed but not very successful in recruiting members in the shops. Here is where the basic Communist activity must be done and the comrades in the shops must intensify their activity.

Many units have held mass meetings of their own to appeal to the workers to join the Party but most of these meetings were poorly prepared. That good meetings can be arranged in neighborhoods was proven by the success of the Lenin Memorial Meeting held in South Boston at which over 250 workers were present. This meeting was arranged a week after the Boston Lenin meeting and the same leaflet was used (with a change in date and place, of course), but they were able to attract many more new elements to the meeting than the whole Party in Boston did at their meeting. This also shows the need of making better preparations for our mass meetings by a bigger distribution of leaflets and a better mobilization of the Party membership and mass organizations. Despite all their shortcomings these neighborhood meetings must be recognized as opening a new epoch in the life of our Party and must be continued

Win Negro Workers. We should severely criticize ourselves for insufficient work among the Negro workers and beginning immediately we must pay more attention to winning the leadership over the Negro workers. In our work among the unemployed we have a splendid opportunity to do this but as yet we have neglected to do so. The Daily Worker has also been seriously neglected by this district. Many of the members are not yet subscribers and this is inexcusable. A comrade has been sent out by the district office to cover the outlying cities and we expect these units to give this comrade all cooperation possible and to see that every member immediately subscribes to the Daily Work-

The following are the main tasks for this district during the remainder of the period during the recruiting drive: (1) More recruiting of new members in the shops. (2) Mass meetings in working class neighborhoods by all units to mobilize the workers for the March 6 demonstration and to recruit members for the Party. (3) Units in Worcester, Providence and Negro section in Boston to immediately organize mass meetings of this character among the Negro workers. (4) All shop nuclei to meet immediately and prepare to issue a shop paper. Those units that have already gotten out the first issue should issue the second issue before March 6. (5) Every member not now a subscriber to the Daily Worker to subscribe immediately. Every member to get a new reader for the Daily Worker within the next ten days. 6) Every effort to be made by the members and units to keep all new members. (7) Every member to get into action to help build the Party and prepare for the mass demonstrations against unemployment on March 6.

By carrying out the above the Boston District can go over the top in the recruiting drive and together with other districts be in a much better position to go forward to building our Party into a mass Communist Party.

The Relation of the Workers Party to Religion

By N. LENIN.

THE speech of the deputy Surkov in the Duma debate on the budget of the Synod, and the discussions in our Duma fraction over the draft of his speech, have raised an extremely important and at the present moment topical question. Interest in everything connected with religion has today undoubtedly taken hold of considerable sections of "society," and has also made its way into the ranks of the intellectuals who stand near the labor movement, and even into certain working class circles. Social democracy must definitely make clear its attitude to religion.

Social democracy builds its whole world conception on scientific Socialism-that is to say, on Marxism. The philosophic basis of Marxism is, as Marx and Engels have repeatedly pointed out, dialectical materialism, which has taken over the historical traditions of eighteenth-century French materialism and of the materialism of Feuerbach in the early nineteenth century—that is, of materialism which is absolutely atheist and definitely hostile to all religion. We recall to mind that the whole of Engels' Anti-Duhring, which was read in manuscript by Marx, accuses the materialist and atheist Duhring of the inconsistency of his materialism, because he leaves a backdoor open for religion and religious philosophy. We would further call to mind that Engels in his work on Feuerbach brings aganist the latter the reproach that he fought religion not in order to annihilate it, but in order to revive t, to discover a new "elevated" religion, etc. Religion is opium for the people—this Marxist fundamental principle is the pivot of the whole Marxist world conception in questions of religion. Marxism regards all present-day religions and churches, each and every religious organization without exception, as instruments of bourgeois reaction, which serves as a shield for the exploitation and deception of the working class. At the same time, however, Engels repeatedly condemned the attempts of those who wished to be "more left" or "more revolutionary" than Social Democracy and to introduce into the program of the workers' party a direct confession of atheism in the sense of a declaration of war on religion. In 1874, in the discussion of the famous manifesto of the Communist refugees, the Blanquists, then living in exile in London, Engels treats their noisy declaration of war on religion as folly, and expresses the view that such a call to war is the best means to revive interest in religion anew and hinder the actual dving out of religion. Engels blames the Blanquists for their inability to see that only the class struggle of the working masses, which draws the widest numbers of the proletariat into a conscious and revolutionary political activity, that only this is able really to free the oppressed masses from the yoke of religion, while the declaration of war on religion as a political task of the working class is a piece of anarchistic phrase-making. Also in 1877, in the Anti-Duhring, in which Engels flays without mercy the slightest concessions of the philosopher Duhring to idealism and religion, none the less he condemns the would-be revolutionary idea of Duhring that religion should be forbidden in the Socialist society. Such a declaration of war on religion, he declares, is "to out-Bismarck Bismarck," i.e., to repeat the folly of Bismarck's "Kulturkampf" against the clericals, the fight which Bismarck in the 'seventies waged against the German Catholic Party, the "Center," by means of police persecutions of Catholicism. By this fight Bismarck only strengthened the militant cler-

5.-The unemployed demonstrations and strikes on March 6 must be utilized for connecting up closely the question of the economic crisis, which has resulted in millions being without work, millions working part time, and a vicious wage slashing campaign being carried on against the employed workers-with the contemplated armed attacks on the Soviet Union. Undoubtedly the fascisti of the United States will be mobilized for attacks on the Communists.

6.-The Communists must intensify their work to expose and destroy the influence of the social-fascist American Federation of Labor, socialist party and the renegade Lovestoneites and Cannonites. In this period, the imperialists utilize their most despicable and contemptible tools in the ranks of the working class to induce the workers to continue capitalist rule. Matthew Woll, vice-president of the A. F. of L. is right when he says that the struggle today is between the organization of capitalist "democracy" and the social organization of Communism.

A Challenge to the Unembloyed

Public Works.

THE undertaking of public works in periods of business depression is hailed by apologists for the capitalist system as a cure-all for unemployment. "Stabilizing prosperity," Mr. Hoover called it in his pre-election campaign following the unemployment crisis of 1927-28. And Hoover's mouthpiece, Governor Brewster of Maine, gave this glowing description of the project: "Picture the approach of an economic crisis with unemployment threatening on every hand. The release of three billions in construction contracts would remedy or ameliorate this situation. Follow the flow of these three billions to the contractor, to the laborer, to the material men, to the factory, to the factory employe, to the merchants, to the farmer. It goes like the house that Jack built and unemployment is at an end."

It does not take much imagination to "follow the flow of these three billions to the contractor." We had many demonstrations of a similar flow during the last war. Speaking in support of this measure during the recent Senate investigation, Isador Lubin disclosed a most significant feature of the plan. "During recessions," he says, "when private demand is usually small, the government could make purchases under much more favorable conditions than would otherwise be possible. At the same time it would be able to secure its required labor at lower wages." This, then, is the crux of Mr. Hoover's conscious policy for stabilization. A few widely advertised government contracts granted for profit at the expense of the wage standards of the worker. Unemployment, depression of wages, and the government going in to the labor market to undercut the union scale.

On becoming president, however, Mr. Hoover saw fit to let even this scheme for stabilization drop. The Jones Bill which modestly appropriated $150,000,000 as a "prosperity reserve" was defeated in January, 1929. Senator King, in registering his vote against the measure, put in one sentence the government's attitule toward the workers. "We had better postpone action on this matter for a year, when hard times will come."

Hard times did come, in less than a year. But the president's recommendation for "stabilizing prosperity" by governmental appropriations for construction shrank from three billion to $175,000,000 to extend over a period of ten years. Writing in the December 25th issue of The Nation on "Prosperity by Proclamation," Alfred Bernheim says: "I see no justification for any estimate which places the excess 1930 capital expansion budget of government and corporations combined above $750,000,000 and the wage share of that total will not afford full-time employment for more than between 175,000 and 200,000 men. This is certainly not an inexaustible reservoir of jobs, and offers little hope that new construction work can

Official figures received by S. W. Strau and Company from 588 cities and towns of the country for building permits issued in December, 1929, show a loss of 39 per cent compared with the same month of 1928. For the entire year the same centers revealed a loss of 12 per cent from 1928 and 13 per cent from 1927. "The decline in building," states the Straus Review, "it would appear, must go still further." (emphasis mine.) Building activity in New York City during December fell more than 50 per cent behind December, 1928. Permits in Chicago were more than $100,000,000 below 1928 and $150,000,000 behind 1927. The facts give the lie to the myth of business stability. Plans for increased building activity on which the entire Hoover program for unemployment relief concentrated have burst like a bubble. Prosperity advertising goes on, however, side by side with headlines on unemployment. The New York Times of February 1 carried these two headlines on the same page "Lamont (secretary of commerce) Declare Survey Shows Greater Industrial Activity and Less Unemployment." "Miss Perkins (industrial commissioner of New York State) Finds January Job Total 2 Per Cent Below December 6 Per Cent Under November; 8 of 11 Main Groups Drop; 100,000 Laid Off in Factories of State Since October."

It is obvious that appropriations for public works will not solve the problem of unemployment. Even if a nationwide building program of the kind suggested by Hoover in his preelection campaign were seriously undertaken it would provide work for hardly more than a few hundred thousand men. At the same time the technological changes in industry, the squeezing out of thousands of workers through mergers and consolidations, the transfer of a growing amount of American manufacture to foreign countries, the speed-up with its at tendant discharge of the older workers mean increasing millions of unemployed. That these millions of workers who have been trained for a particular craft in a particular locality, can overnight, be shifted across the continent and be put to work building a dam, a harbor, or a post office, is too preposterous an assumption for any worker to swallow, regardless of high pressure publicity.

The theory that appropriations for public works will solve the problem of unemployment is dangerous for the workers, not only becaus it spreads the illusion that unemployment i going to be wiped out by any such method It is dangerous because of the increased power it gives a capitalist government to use such appropriations-whether voted by city, state, or nation-to weaken the trade union movement. Workers cannot afford to become parties to the advocacy of such schemes. But they should lose no time in organizing to obtain job control by shop committees, shorter hours, higher wages and limitation of the speed-up on all government jobs and contracts, those under way and those contemplated under addi-

elimination of the social roots of religion. Why does religion maintain its hold in the backward strata of the town proletariat, in the strata of the semi-proletariat, and in the mass of the peasants? Because of the ignorance of the people, answers the bourgeois progressive, the radical or bourgeois materialist. So: down with religion; long live atheism; the spreading of atheist views is our principal task! The Marxist says: Wrong! Such a conception is a superficial, narrow bourgeois view of "spreading light and culture to the people." Such a conception does not explain deeply enough the roots of religion, does not explain it materialistically, but idealistically. In the modern capitalist countries these roots are above all social. The social oppression of the working masses, their apparent absolute impotence before the blind forces of capitalism, which daily and hourly inflict upon ordinary working men and women sufferings and atrocious tortures a thousand times more frightful than all the extraordinary happenings, such as war, earthquakes, etc .- here is to be sought the deep present-day roots of religion. "Fear has created the gods." The fear before the blind power of capital-blind because its action cannot be foreseen by the mass of the people-the fear that hangs like a menace over every step of the proletarian and the small owner, and can "suddenly," "unexpectedly," by "accident," inflict upon him poverty, downfall, to be turned into a beggar, a pauper, a prostitute, hand him over to death -here is the root of present-day religion, which the materialist must before all and above all hold before his eyes, if he is not to remain stuck in the children's shoes of materialism. No mere books of propaganda are ground down by the convict system of capitalist forced labor, who are at the mercy of the blind destructive forces of capitalism, so long as these masses have not themselves learnt, as a united, organized, systematic, conscious force, to fight against this root of religion-the domination of capital in all its

But does it follow from this that a book of propaganda against religion is harmful or superfluous? Not at all. Something quite different follows. What follows is that the atheistic propaganda of Social Democracy must be subordinated to its principal task-that is, to the carrying forward of the class struggle of the exploited masses against the exploiters.

Acute Danger of Armed Attack on the Soviet Union

By I. AMTER.

THE danger of an armed attack on the Soviet Union grows more acute day by day. That the naval "reduction" conference has the main aim of mobilizing all imperialist and reactionary forces against the Soviet Union daily becomes clearer.

The instigation of the attack on the Soviet government in China, by the American imperialist government through Chang Kai-shek; the interference of Mr. Stimson with called a "peaceful" settlement between Mukden and the Soviet government; the postponement of the conference between the representatives of the Soviet Union and the Mukden agents From January 25 to February 25, all at the behest of the U.S. imperialist government, were the beginning of a series of events pointing clearly to intervention.

The Bosses' Front.

The breaking off of relations between the Mexican and the Soviet government, the Mexican fascist president, Rubio, acting as a willing tool of Wall Street; the threatened breaking of relations by the British government, the provocation against the Soviet government by the French imperialists, in ascribing the disappearance of the white guard general Koutiepoff to plots of the Soviet embassy and the subsequent demand for the severance of relations between the French imperialists and the Soviet government—all occurring within a short period indicate the sharp trend of events.

The attack on the Soviet embassy in Munich, Germany, the bitter attacks carried on by the Berlin social democratic "Vorwarts" with the open aid of full assistance to the imperialist government, show the trend in Germany as far as the fascists and social-fascist social democrats are concerned.

Then came the encyclica of the pope against "religious persecutions" in the Soviet Union. Prior to that the American Zionists, led by Rabbi Wise, protested against the "indignities" placed upon the Jews in the Soviet Union, by the workers demolishing the synagogues and building up workers' clubs in their place. Then the declarations of the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Archbishop of York, followed by the snivelling statement of Bishop Manning of New York. The aim of these religious pronunciamentos is to arouse religious hatred against the Soviet Union, because the Communist Party and the Young Communist League of the Soviet Union, and the Atheist League, are carrying on a struggle against the medieval belief in religion and the church. This campaign of education and propaganda is proceeding with all energy and with splendid effect, with the result that the workers and peasants themselves decide to drive out the priests and convert the churches

Contrary to the lying propaganda about persecution of the priests and all believers, now being carried on in every imperialist country, including the United States, Metropolitan Sergius, chief patriarch of the Russian Church and member of the Synod, when asked a series of questions, gave answers in which he declares that the Soviet Union is allowing free practice of religious ceremonies within the law, and that when churches are closed it is at the will of the workers or peasants who have been parishioners of the church. Priests who have been punished have only paid a penalty for counter-revolutionary activity.

Not an Accident.

This makes no difference to the imperialists who are doing their utmost to stir up hatred of the Soviet Union, with a view to attacking

It is not an accident that the naval "reduction" conference is deciding to increase armament, that relations are broken off with the Soviet Union or a threat is being made in that direction by several reactionary governments, that a hue and cry over "religious persecution" is being raised throughout the reactionary world by the heads of the churches-all simultaneously.

The attacks of the Soviet Union on the kulaks, with the firm intention of uprooting this reactionary capitalist remnant of the old regime in the Soviet Union, are countered by the imperialists with attacks on the Soviet Union. The attacks on the kulaks are necessary in the industrialization and collectivization plans incorporated in the Five-Year Plan. The success of the Five-Year Plan is convincing the most backward peasants with small and medium holdings that this new mode of production-collectivization-is progressive. The driving out of the kulaks—the representatives of capitalism in the Soviet Union village-in many instances on the demand of the poor and medium peasants and often through their initiative-is coupled with the campaign of enlightenment carried on among the workers and peasants, intensifying their hatred against the kulaks, the upholders of religion and ignorance in the Soviet Union. But the world capitalists are determined to support their fellow capitalists in the Soviet Union.

Thus the attacks on the Soviet Union are not based upon an opposition of "religious persecution," on "freedom of thought" and the various other sham issues raised against the Soviet government, but entirely on the growing power of the Soviet government, of Soviet economy, of the growing misery of the workers and peasants in the imperialist countries, and the developing influence of the Communist Alleged agents of the G.P.U. of the Soviet Union making raids in Rumania; alleged agents of the Soviet government with large quantities of forged notes, etc., in Greece, agents of the Soviet government or the Communist International in India and Indo-China-all of these are issues raised in order to justify a united attack on the Soviet Union.

The coincidence of these happenings is not accidental. The crisis in the capitalist countries, driving the imperialist powers to war for markets: the vicious offensive against the workers of all countries to reduce their conditions: the fearful unemployment amounting to at least 17,000,000 in the imperialist countries, as contrasted with the rising conditions in the Soviet Union; the growing power of the Soviet Union and the rising tide of Communism as a result of the growth of revolutionary will to struggle on the part of the workers and peasants in the imperialist and colonial countries; the "arms reduction" conference which is an arms increase conference-all emphasize the closeness of imperialist attacks on the So-

The rising tide of fascism, the establishment and merging of fascist organizations in the United States, the unemployed demonstrations and strikes on March 6 point out lessons for the workers.

Lessons for Workers.

1.-There is immediate need of mobilization of the workers in defense of the Soviet Union. The Soviet government is resisting all provocations of the imperialists, but everything points to armed intervention, against which against the use of injunctions, Paragraph 600 in New York, the sedition and criminal syndicalism laws, the registration and deportation of foreign-born workers, the organized employment of gangsters and the underworld in at-
