Lenin Points the Way!

These words, flashing around the world on January 21, 1924, brought a stunning blow of sorrow to the heart of every worker conscious of Lenin's role as the great strategist of proletarian revolution.

Lenin was-and is-irreplaceable. Of him, A. Losovsky, General Secretary of the Red International of Labor Unions and one of the hundreds of those who have written upon Lenin and his work, said:

"There are epochs in human history when single individuals incorporate the experiences and historical tasks of whole classes. . . . As the class struggle develops in intensity, these individuals appear in the foreground and assume their greatest importance at a time when the social antagonisms reach their highest point. . . Only in the 19th century when the proletariat came to feel itself as a class, do we find the reflection of its interests in the genius, Marx. Lenin is the direct successor of Marx.'

When Lenin died, the leaders of world capitalism chuckled with glee. With their bourgeois stupidity in the estimation of "great men," which does not take account of the connection between the rise of a "great man" and the rise of a class, they thought: "Now that Lenin is dead, all that he built will go to smash.'

But though Lenin died, Leninism lived on! It lived on and it grew! And it still grows because the world working class, the proletariat, having conquered power in the land of the Czars under Lenin's leadership, is still advancing on a world-wide front under the banner of Lenin's teachings to put an end to capitalism in every country of the globe.

And all that Lenin built did NOT go to smash, as the capitalists thought. On the contrary, the capitalists have gone to smash! As one of the cleverest of British capitalists, the Marquis of Lothian, only recently admitted: "Events prove that what Marx and Lenin predicted is being realized with the most uncomfortable accuracy.

Every worker can see with his own eyes the unanswerable facts! There, in the Soviet Union, where the working class with the guidance of Leninism are building socialism, victoriously wiping out unemployment, increasing wages and improving every condition of the masses—the forces of progress rule because the working class rules!

Here, in the capitalist world; here in capitalist America, "the richest nation," millions go hungry among mountains of food they have produced; homeless amid palaces they have built; ragged though they weave enough to clothe the world! Hunger, anxiety, poverty, war-today these are all summed up in one word-capitalism!

Today, there is no worker who has freed himself from the lies of the capitalists or the foul deceit of those agents of capitalists who are "soalists" in words and fascists in action but who looks to Leninism for guidance in the struggle against capitalism.

And because Lenin founded the world Communist Party, and because the Communist Party daily guides the struggles of the working class under the banner of Leninism, the workers more and more look to the Communist Party as their own party, the party of their great leader-

Let every worker, then, who on this, the eighth anniversary of Lenin's death, wishes to enter the ranks of those who fight for all that Lenin fought for; who would free all who toil from the prison hell that is called capitalism; let every such worker come into the Communist Party-the

Giant Demonstration Sunday Before Pineville Court RELIEF IS VITAL

Arrest Negro Miner On Syndicalist Charge

PINEVILLE, Ky., Jan. 20. - Coincident with the arrest of another strike leader for criminal ysndicalism. the Central Strike Committee today issued a call for a huge, militant demonstration in front of the Pineville court house Sunday to smash the unparalleled terror of the coal operators controlled "law" and their deputy gun thugs, and to establish the right to strike and picket.

The latest victim of the criminal syndicalist charge is G. Green, a leading Negro miner, who was arrested in Middlesboro late Tuesday. The arrest of Green is in line with bloody Blair's policy, the singling out of Negro miners for the most extreme terrorization. The demonstration in front of the Pineville court house next Sunday, the same day that the "Spread the Strike Conference" will be held, will tack against the starvation program of the coal operators and the murderous terror of their gun thugs.

Miners living in coal camps 15 and 20 miles distant from Pineville, will march into the center of the strike area in a body with their families, and will hold the demonstrations despite the statement of the mayor of Pineville that "no National Miners Union meeting can take place."

The extreme militancy of the miners in the 60 miles strike area is further shown by the spread of the strike yesterday into new mines in lief coming in, new mines came out on strike, at mines where miners had remained at work, and at mines that had been partly struck in the King NEW YORK .- On this 8th anni- The fierce terror raging against the Mountain and Anthras section around

FOSTER ANALYSES ROLE OF R. I. L. U, IN THE CRISIS

Exposes Fascist Role of A.F.L. Leadership

NEW YORK .- "As capitalism decays the reformist and reactionary trdae unions decay along with it, creating a virulent poison injuring the workers," said William Z. Foster, speaking at the Workers School Forum last Sunday before an audience of over 1,500 workers. The subject was the "Red Internationa! of Labor Unions.

"As the reformist unions decay, the revolutionary unions grow, rallying a great number of workers, leading the struggles against wage cuts and the impoverishment of the workingclass."

Foster pointed out that the decay of the A. F. of L. should nto be interpreted as its disappearance or its decline as a factor of betrayal. He declared that especially in the present period this organization through its fascist leadership has been one of the most powerful forces in putting over mass wage cuts.

"In some cases, where the A. F. of L. does not exist," Foster said, "the bosses bring it in, help it through the check-off, in order to keep back revolutionary trade unionism." He cited the examples of the United Mine Workers in Pennsylvania, where the coal operators used them to break the strike, and the check-off in the clothing industry.

Coal Miners and Coal Capitalists Lenin's Simplicity His Knowledge

It was only recently that the Petrograd report of the delegation from the Donetz workers exposed the gentlemen coal mine proprietors of the Donetz, who are criminally disorganizing production, who are stopping it, who to safeguard their "divine" right to enormous profits are condemning the workers to unemployment, the country to hunger, industry to a crisis because of the lack of Today we received a telegram informing us of another equally brazen attempt of a criminal group of coal mine proprietors in another part of Russia. Here is the telegram sent to the Soviet of Workers' and Soldiers' Deputies and to three Ministers:

"The Soviet of Soldiers' Deputies and the union of employes in Mikhelson's Sudzhensk mines on May 12 removed nine persons from the administration of the mines because of their criminal and provoking manner of managing the business, which might have led to the shutting down of the mines. The management has placed in the hands of a council of engineers a technical council under the direct control of the Soviet of Workers' and Soldiers' Deputies. A commission of the leading Sudzhensk organizations has, upon investigation. approved our decision.

"Mikhelson, in a telegram dated May 24, refused to settle with the workers; we demand complete restoration; restoration is impossible; (* the meaning is not clear. Does the telegram aver that, once the mines are shut down, it would be difficult to start again?) the mines are threatened with anarchy, the workers with misery. Take immediate measures by sending half a million rubles, determine the fate of the mines, confiscate them. The mines are working for national defense, the daily output is 135,000 poods—stoppage may imperil the movement of trains, the functioning of factories. So far the work is normal. LENIN AT THE AGE OF 18.

Vladimir Ilytch-Ulianov Lenin was born of peasant stock on April 10, 1870 in the town of Simbirsk, Russia. In 1887 he was expelled from Kasan University for taking part in the student movement. In 1888 he began to study Marx. He moved to Petrograd in 1893, and was exiled to Siberia in 1897.

1903 saw him lead the formation of the Bolshevik Party and in 1905 he returned to Russia to participate in the first great Russian revolution. When the years of reaction followed the 1995 revolution, he was forced to leave the country again, but 1917 saw his return, again to take part in revolution. In 1918 he was wounded by a social revolutionary, and on January 21, 1924, Lenin died.

By M. GORKI.

In the Autumn of 1918 I asked a worker from Sormova, Dmitry. Pavov, what he thought was Lenin's nost striking feature? He answered, "Simplicity. He is as simple as truth itself." He said this as though it had been thought out and decided long ago. It is well known that one's severest critics are those who work under one.

Lenin's chauffeur, Gill, a man of great experience, said, "Lenin is quite unique. There are no others like him. Once I was driving him along Myasnitsky St. when the traffic was very heavy. I hardly moved forward. I was afraid of the car getting smashed and was sounding the horn, feeling very worried. He opened the door, reached me by standing on the footboard, meanwhile running the risk of being knocked down, and urged me to go forward. "Don't get worried, Gill, go on like every one else. I am an old chauffer. I know that nobody else would do that." It would be difficult to make the reader realize how easily and naturally all his impressions flowed in the same channel. With the invariability of a compass-needle his thoughts turned in the direction of the class interests of the workers. One of our free evenings in London a small company of us went to the "Music Hall" -a democratic theatre.

V. Tyitch laughed gaily and infections v at the clowns and comedians and looked indifferently at the rest He paid especial attention to the timber-felling by the workers of British Columbia.

Stalin on Lenin

The Eagle.

I first made the acquaintance of Lenin in the year 1903. This acquaintance, it is true, was not a personal one, but was based on an exchange of letters. But this acquaintanceship made an unforgettable impression upon me, which has not left me during the whole of my Party activity. At that time I was living in banishment in Siberia. Acquaintance with the revolutionary activity of Lenin at the end of the nineties and particularly after the year 1901, after the appearance of hte "Iskra" (Spark) convinced me that here we had to do with a quite exceptional person. I saw in him at that time not the simple leader of our Party, but its actual founder, for he alone understood the inner nature and requirements of our Party. When I compared him with the other leaders of our Party, it always appeared to me as if Lenin's collaborators-Pleckhanov, Martov, Axelrod and others-stood quite a head below him, as if, in comparison with them, he was not simply one of the leaders, but a lead of a higher type, an eagle, who is a stranger to all fear and would courageously lead the Party along the unknown paths of the Russian revolutionary movement.

This impression penetrated so deeply into my soul that I felt the necessity to write to a near friend of mine who was at that time in exile, in order to obtain his opinion. After some time—at that time I was already in banishment in Siberia, it was towards the end of 1903-I received the enthusiastic reply of my friend and a simple, moving letter from Lenin, to whom my friend had given my letter to read.

Lenin's letter was comparatively short, but it gave a bold, fearless criticism of the practice of our Party and a surprisingly clear and compact presentation of the whole plan of work for the next period. Only Lenin was capable of writing so simply and clearly, so compactly and boldly over the most complicated things that every sentence not only speaks to the reader, but also hits the bull's eye. This simple letter increased my conviction that we had before us in the person of Lenin the eagle of our Party. Unfortunately I have, according to the custom of old conspirators, burned this like so many other letters.

It is from that time that I date my acquaintance with raw material which is wasted, and Two years afterwards in Capri, said Hyitch. "They couldn't work as ended by regretting that no one had when he was discussing the Utopian quickly as that in reality. "War Is Politics Continued By Other Means"

This famous dictum belongs to one of the profoundest writers on military questions, Clausewitz. Rightly, the Marxists have always considered this axiom as the theoretical foundation for their understandnig of the meaning of every war. It is from this very standpoint that Marx and Engels regarded wars.

Apply this idea to the present war. You will find that for decades, for almost half a century, the govern- ation. ments and the ruling classes of England, France, Germany, Italy, Austria and Russia, conducted a policy of colonial robbery, of suppressing their fundamental classes, shows labor movements, of oppressing for- that the opinion which justifies eign nations. On the contrary, in China, Persia, India and other dependent nations, we note in the last decade a policy of national awakening, tens and hundreds of millions of people striving to liberate themselves from under the yoke of reactionary "great" nations. HOW LENIN WORKED TO ORGANIZE UNEMPLOYED COUNCILS

LENIN AT A PARADE ON THE RED SQUARE, MOSCOW, 1919

This description of the leading part taken by Lenin in the organization of the Unemployed Councils, and in pointing out the line of struggle during the revolution of 1905-06, is part of the pamphlet, "Unemployed Councils in St. Petersburg in 1906," to be published shortly by the Workers Library Publishers.

This pamphlet is by Sergei Malyshev, one of the old members of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (Bolshevik) who was prompted to write his pre-revolutionary experiences by the abolition of unemployed under the Soviet Power. (Editor's note.)

At 8 o'clock that evening, we sat in a country house at Lesny where the delegates who were to consider the question of helping the unemployed had gathered and were waiting for the representative of the St. Petersburg Bolshevik group. This comrade was also the chairman of the Unemployed Commission. While we were waiting we acquainted ourselves with the situation in the district.

The majority of the delegates were members of our Bolshevik circles. All of them, of course, as the most active workers, had been driven from the factories and blacklisted. But they did not look as if they and their families had been thrown out on to the streets and were starving; the science of Bolshevism had taught them, above all, to control themselves and not break down no matter what happened.

The chairman of the commission arrived, greeted us, and then turned to a student standing there, our host. He wanted to know if everything had been seen to, should the police or the gendarmes raid the place.

The chairman of the Unemployed Commission laughed and said that they could be sure that they would not be taken either by the gendarmes or the police, for they would have to be fed in prison and the bourgeoisie had dismissed them in order to starve them to death.

Conditions of the Unemployed. We got down to the business of the day. Our Bolshevik comrade started his report on the condition of the unemployed. The funds of the unemployed were exhausted. The levy on wages in the factories and mills was ceasing because the employers were obstructing the collection, and in some places they had ordered the officers not to give the money deducted to the Soviet of Workers' Deputies. The situation in the districts "This, we suppose," said the speaker, turning to the delegates, "you yourselves know well, but you must remember that such a situation threatens to last. Individuals and entire groups of 'undesirable' workers are being turned out of the factories and m"s. All that the unemployed had in the way of clothes and other valuables have been sold or pawned during this period. "The term for redeeming these belongings—is approaching and there is nothing to redeem them with. The things are being lost. The landlords are throwing the workers and their families into the streets without pity. There are thousands of such cases in all the workers' districts. "We cannot help these families of the unemployed who are being thrown out on the streets. Some collections are being made for the unemployed at workers' meetings, in trade unions, among the students, but these sums are so small that we cannot do anything substantial. "Dining-rooms are being opened by the Soviet of Workers' Deputies and some liberal groups in districts. These provide some tens of thousands of dinners, but they may be closed because the liberals, who are campaigning for elections to the Duma, will soon stop contributing money for Proposals of Bolshevik Group.

After he had finished reading the figures, the speaker urged that the delegates immediately organize an unemployed commission at each dining-room which would not only audit the accounts but would direct the business end of the dining-room and administer it generally Further on the speaker declared that the situation of the unemployed at the given moment was grave, but not hopeless now," said the comrade, "supports the unemployed movement and helps us organize ourselves into a strong organization. It is essential to organize all the unemployed and set up a leading body-an Unemployed Council

"This council, with the help of the unemployed. must start a struggle for bettering the condition of the unemployed not only through the distribution of dinners and 30 kopeks a day, but chiefly by getting the City Duma to organize largescale public work for the unemployed. The unemployed are not paupers, they do not want charity. They demand bread and work.

"The question must be so presented that our demands to the City Duma win the support of all the workers in the factories and mills. The city must organize public work. There is quite enough work of that kind to be had in the city and it is now being given to various contractors who give the city administrators large bribes. The most highly skilled workers of all trades are to be found among the unemployed. They can do all types of work. The city has a number of contracts essential for public welfare for instance, the construction of tramways."

Bolshevik Proposals Unanimously Accepted.

The delegates listened silently and very attentively to the speaker. When he had finished, others got up to speak. Each one welcomed the suggestions made by the Bolshevik organization and spoke briefly and clearly on how to realize them. All the proposals of the speaker were unanimously adopted. It was decided to organize an Unemployed Council by holding elections at the dining-rooms where the unemployed were getting their dinners, and a group of worker Bolsheviks were assigned to carry on the agitation for it and get the elections carried through.

The council was to consist of thirty delegates from the unemployed. It was also decided at this meeting to print leaflets calling on the unemployed to organize themselves immediately as the only way out of the grave situation.

This printed appeal of the Bolshevik group of workers actually made it possible to carry on elections to the Unemployed Council within a short period. Thirty representatives of the unemployed were elected to the Council. After several days, the first meeting of the thirty delegates took place and Comrade Kairsky was elected president

The first things we discussed were the aims and objects of the unemployed organization. The following points were adopted unanimously:

1. The geenral aims and tasks of the Unemployed Council are to lead the unemployed out of their unbearable situation.

2. The most immediate task of the council is to get the city to organize public work for all

3. The council is to rally all the unemployed around these aims on the basis of their comegates to the City Duma and subsequently seek other means of influencing the City Duma.

After a number of organizational questions and suggestions on what further steps the council should take, the first meeting was adjourned.

On the day following the meeting of the Unemployed Council, Comrade Kairsky and I went to Lenin to report to him what we had done to organize the Unemployed Council, Vladmir Hyich heard what we had to say, and then said he had some doubts as to whether the Unemployed Council alone could fulfil its programme by its own efforts.

The Employed Workers Must eB Drawn Into. the Struggles of the Unemployed.

"Through this organization alone," said Lenin, "you cannot influence the bourgeoisie; you will not be strong enough, and the unemployed workers themselves will not be able to develop this work on a broad proletarian class basis. Therefore, you must immediately extend the Unemployed Council to include representatives of those employed in all the factories and mills of St. Petersburg.

"You must now begin to agitate in the factories and mills for this purpose, and immediately arrange for the election of these representatives. The Unemployed Council must consist not only of 30 representatives of the unemployed, but of 100 or 150 representatives from all districts from all the factories and mills. This will provide the unemployed with a genuine proletarian leading body which will really be able to exert pressure successfully on the City Duma and on the bourgeoisie generally."

Delegates elected by the unemployed at general meetings, one for every 250 workers, and from factories and mill districts constituted the district councils.

representatives from every district council, three representatives from the unemployed, and three from the employed. The Executive Committee was to ke o in touch with the Duma bodies. All questions which were to be raised for discussion in the Unemployed Council were first taken up by the Executive Committee which was empowered to carry out the general decisions

The Unemployed Attack the St. Petersburg City Duma

Party, the St. Petersburg Unemployed Council began to prepare for the first offensive on the St. Petersburg City Duma.

A petition to the St. Petersburg City Duma was drafted by the Unemployed Council couched in the most forceful, Bolshevik-proletarian terms. The petition was discussed by the Unemployed Council, adopted and sent to all the factories and mills of St. Petersburg and its vicinities to be discussed by the workers and to get their signatures to it. Of course, the discussion of our petition in the factories was carried on at the general factory meetings. But in addition, it was discussed in our proletarian press, except in the paper under the control of the Mensheviks. The Mensheviks (I will prove this later on) opposed the Unemployed Council most energetically and hindered our work in organizing the unemployed at every step. Our Council delegates were to insist on reading the petition at the meeting of the City Duma before a vote was called for. This petition read as follows: "Owing to unemployment, numberless workers' families are now without bread. The workers do not want charity, or doles. We demand work. The masters refuse to give us work. They say that they have no contracts. But the city has contracts and can provide work for the unemployed. We think that the way the city disposes of the public funds is scandalous. Public funds should be used for public needs and our need today is-work. Therefore we demand that the City Duma immediately organize public work for all the needy. We demand not charity, but our rights, and we will not be satisfied with charity. The public work which we demand must be started immediately. All the unemployed of St. Petersburg must be allowed to do this work; every unemployed worker must receive an adequate wage. We have been delegated to insist on the fulfilment of our demands. The masses who have sent us will not be content with less. If you do not accede to our demands we will report your refusal to the unemployed and then you will not have us to deal with, but those who sent us, the masses of unemployed."

Our speakers went with groups of the unemployed, stopped the workers as they left during dinner-time or in the evening during the change of shifts, and held factory-gate meetings on the questions of unemployment and the help which should be given the unemployed. The meetings were always successful. Brief resolutions on the necessity for helping the unemployed were made and signatures were collected for the petition.

Drawing Sympathetic Petty-Bourgeois Groups Into Unemployed Struggles.

But beside raising the spirits of the masses of the workers, which it undoubtedly succeeded in doing, the Unemployed Council had also to rouse a desire, among the petty-bourgeois groups to help the unemployed.

The Unemployed Council managed to interest a number o fliberal newspapers in St. Petersburg in this work. Comrades who had connections with the liberals on these papers were commissioned to speak with the more liberal among them in order to get them to help by writing articles and announcements in their papers. They supported the unemployed because their petty-bourgeois readers brought serious pressure to bear upon them to do so.

The armies of a hundred thousand unemployed had seriously alarmed the petty-bourgeoisie. This tremendous mass of starvipeople, they reasoned, would spread value epidemics, which undoubtedly would first affect those petty officials, office workers, etc., who came in contact with them in the course of their

#Help is essential not only in the interests of the workers, but for the sake of the health of the whole population," said the president of the Duma Commission. "It is known that typhus, beginning in the cellars and garrets, claims increasing number of victims among the higher groups of society. On the other hand, the prospect of death from starvation may drive the people, embittered by poverty, to extreme meas ures. That being the case, it is essential t help them now. Help that is given too late may cost us dear."

Sympathy for the unemployed movement increased daily in all districts, factories and mills. Nuclei of the Unemployed Council were formed in factories and mills. District councils were organized. Committees were set up to investigate the condition of the unemployed and to help them in their struggle with the City Duma.

The Mensheviks Fight against the Unemployed Organizations

But at this point we found ourselves up against unexpected enemies of this proletarian work in the persons of the Mensheviks. As soon as they saw that we had attained considerable influence among the masses and had created a competent body to lead the masses, the Mensheviks on the St. Petersburg Party Committee-Bolsheviks and Mensheviks belonged to the same party at that time-began to oppose us and, particularly, the Unemployed Council.

They carried on a campaign against us in all the districts and tried to disrupt our unemployed organization, or at least to arrest its development. But the Mensheviks' efforts were a complete failure in the workers' districts since we had already created a strong organization there, leanings, supported them.

The Menshevik speakers were howled down at all meetings of the workers in the factories and in the districts, whenever they attacked the Unemployed Council. Then they transferred their Menshevik tricks to the leading organ of the party, to the St. Petersburg Committee in which they then had accidentally an insignificant

In the discussions of this question in the committee, the Mensheviks expressed the opinion that the Unemployed Council, led by the Bolsheviks, was provoking the workers to premature action, that the organization of the unemployed was a Bolshevik stunt. Our petition, which had already been circulated through all the districts and factories and had received thousands of signatures, was much discussed at this meeting of the St. Petersburg Committee.

The Mensheviks demanded the deletion of the concluding words of the petition: "If you do not accede to our demands, we will report your refusal to the unemployed and then you will not have us to deal with, but those who sent us, the masses of unemployed." They then demanded categorically that the unemployed delegation be restrained from going to the City Duma. They also opposed the demand for the organization of public work because, they said, the City Duma could not give the unemployed work-that had to be done by the State.

The Mensheviks Oppose the Participation of Employed Workers in Unemployed Councils.

The Mensheviks also strongly opposed the election of representatives from the factories and mills to the Unemployed Council because they saw in this a revival of the Soviet of Workers' Deputies. In conclusion, the Menshevik leaders insisted that the St. Petersburg Committee forbid us, the Bolsheviks, to work among the unemployed and to develop and strengthen this organization, and in the event of our persisting in this, that we be expelled from the party.

The leaders of the unemployed told the Committee that such a decision would be harmful to the proletarian and not binding on them, and therefore they would not submit to such a decision. The Committee decided to meet the next day to take up this question at an enlarged meeting. The enlarged meeting, it is true, was called on the designated day, but it was after April 12, after we had already won all our demands from the City Duma. This caused a split in the Menshevik ranks and those opposed to us were left in the minority. No decision against us could be arrived at.

shop paper there are other causes which hinder the shop-paper work in the district, causes which I am going to mention hereafter; but underestimation is the main cause.

I am not going here again to write about the role of a shop paper as a political instrument. I would like to face our comrades from top down to the nucleus and put before them squarely the question: What is a more impressive approach to a worker, a street corner speech where in many instances the worker goes away with the impression-"well I heard enough of it"-or printed reading material which is mostly read at home when the worker is at rest, can concentrate his mind and there is a better possibility that the esesnce of what he or she reads shall penetrate into the brains?

I want to ask the comrades from the nuclei, how great are your opportunities to talk to your fellow-workers in the shop or at home (if you have the address)? Is not the shop paper the best way by which you can approach your fellow-workers from the shop-on the daily problems and issues confronting them, be the guide and adviser, point the proper way for organization and action and become the leader of any move for struggle in the shop? Is not the shop paper, issued by the Communist nucleus, the best way for bringing the face of the Party before the workers in the shop, and on the basis of facts and their own experience to prove to them how important it is to have a Communist

Is not the shop paper issued by the Communist shop nucleus the best instrument where agitation, propaganda and organization can be brought before the workers in the shop; the exact meanings of the current events of the world (to eradicate the poison from the capitalist printing material which the workers are reading); the meaning of the Party campaigns in relation to the experience of your fellow-workers in the shop? Who is more than you comrades qualified to know how to approach the workers with whom you are in constant touch? Who is more than you qualified to know their state of development and their mode of thinking?

Why do some shop papers in the New York District fail to appear for months and why is it so hard to establish a shop paper where there is a basis for it? The comrades in the nucleus claim that they cannot write. Especially is it too hard for them to write a political article.

They must depend on a leading comrade in the Besides the under-estimation of the role of a | section or district to have it ready made for them. This leading comrade is usually busy with other Party activities which are considered in the section of more importance than shop paper work, and so it takes a few weeks or months until such an article is ready.

Why cannot the comrades in the nucleus write for their shop paper. The nucleus I visited gave the answer. No agit-prop work, no educational development, no discussions on the Party campaigns. How can we expect these comrades to be capable to approach their fellow-workers and raise their political level?

How different the situation would be if a politically developed comrade from the section agitprop committee (or the best is to have such a comrade assigned to the nucleus) would come at least once a month to lead in the nucleus a discussion in relation to the current Party campaigns; current political developments; the problems in the shop or other phases in relation to the material for the next shop paper issue? On the basis of such a discussion it would be much easier to outline the structure of the articles and sub-divide the writing of the articles for the shop paper among the comrades in the nucleus.

I want also to remind the comrades in the nucleus that it is not so hard to write for a shop paper, even "political" articles; that they are the ones to make the best job, providing they will have in their mind that when they read the Daily Worker they must not neglect to read the articles or editorials on the current events and Party campaigns, in order to have a better understanding on the line for their shop paper. (As far as I know our comrades in the nucleus claim not to have time to read such material.) Because these political articles must be linked up with shop problems and issues, and the comrades working in the shop are best qualified for

One of the greatest obstacles in the issuing of shop papers in the New York District is the problem of technical help. Some sections have really not a single typist for making a good stencil. Some sections have typists, but they claim that the district offices keep they too busy. Some sections could mobilize a technical force, but no real effort was made in this direction. It is surely for the section org. and the district org. to come to an understanding and cure this deplorable situation, which is the main obstacle for issuing and developing shop papers in the

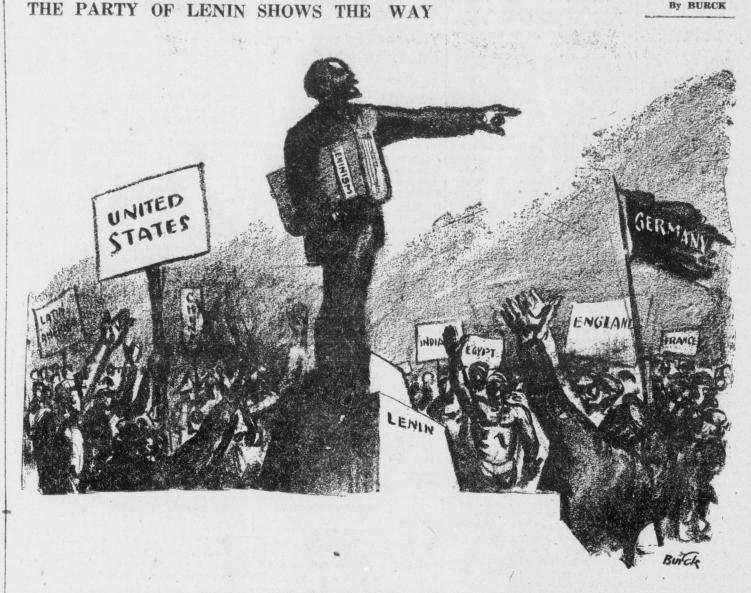

Since the time when the district shop paper committee began to send representatives direct to the nucleus, the comrades got the impression that the time when the district took care of the shop papers is returning, that these representatives have to write the articles for them, edit the paper, organize the technical work and the distribution. Now ,this is surely a wrong conception. Our line on shop paper work is and should be-the development of the initiative of the nucleus, as fully responsible for the paper. The duty of the section and the district is surely to give leadership to the nucleus in shop paper work, and the comrades in the nucleus have to demand from the section the guidance and assistance that is essential for the issuing of their shop paper. But the actual getting out of the paper is up to the nucleus itself, mobilizing all comrades of the nucleus and workers of the shop for this work.

Capitalism mobilizing. All the rotten agents and boot-lickers of imperialism bing rushed into the attack on the Scottsboro defense. The Alabama Supreme Court itself is an instrument of the ruling class, it exists to maintain the robbery of the workers and poor farmers and the brutal suppression of the rights of the Negro masses.

Investigators of the International Labor Defense are thrown into jail or ordered out of town. Vital evidence proving the innocence of the boys is seized and suppressed by Huntsville, Alabama, police. Pressure is being made on Chamlee, including an attempt to disbar him, to force him to withdraw from the Scottsboro defense. Every effort is being made to disrupt the defense. In the South these efforts are organized and led by Stephen Roddy, an acknowledged attorney of the National Association for the Advancement

In New York City, Walter White, national secretary of the NAACP is similarly engaged. Following the forced withdrawal, under the pressure tof the masses, the boys, their parents and other kin, of the pretense that his organization was "defending" the boys, Mr. White has been busy visiting the offices of "liberal" publications and flooding the Negro press with vicious attacks against the Scottsboro defense. War and the Marine Industry

One of the fruits of Mr. White's activities in mobilizing the press against the fight to save and free the boys is seen in the current issue of the Pittsburgh Courier. This organ of the Negro bourgeoisie which originally joined the Southern lynch bosses in branding these innocent boys as "rapists" now discovers that the Scottsboro boys are being made "martyrs of I.L.D.

In a front page article by its New York correspondent, Floyd J. Calvin, the Courier echoes the demands of the Southern white ruling class that George W. Chamlee abandon the Scottsboro defense. This article says:

"George W. Chamlee should resign the Scottsboro defense after the outrageous public meeting held by the International Labor Defense in this city Sunday, at which Mr. Chamlee was personally present, according to reports in the daily press

And what made this Scottsboro protest meeting so "outrageous" in the eyes of this bootlicker of the imperialists? Because, says Mr. Calvin: "The meeting definitely linked the Scottsboro case with the 'Communist International.'" And what is Mr. Calvin's "proof" that the Scottsboro case is linked up with the Communist International? Says Mr. Calvin:

"Proof that the Scottsboro boys are but fuel for the Communistic propaganda flame was furnished by several speakers. J. Louis Engdahl, secretary of the ILD declared at the meeting that their task is to 'tie up the Scottsboro case with the struggle against landlords, with the struggle for bread and for jobs, so that we can eventually draw 10,000,000 American workers into the class struggle and move on to victory."

have been very skillful in their introduction of bad conditions. The Hoboken strike precipitated portance to note that no general wage cut has been made in the marine industry. The marine workers have felt the effect of the crisis less than any workers in all basic industries. Seamen, despite the great unemployment, are relatively better off. The bosses do not rely upon the general charity rackets for providing them with relief. The capitalist press states "they realize the special need of the seamen and ask that special steps be taken to raise a special sailors' fund."

Other "homeless" men are only given a few meals and lodging and then they are forced to move on. Not the seamen, the bosses' plans contemplate providing steady relief to seamen. A special committee, with representatives of the large shipping interests on it, has been organized to raise a special fund for the seamen. The

I.L.A., 1927). In 1916 the I.L.A. was non-existent in many ports on the West Coast, but it was revived in order to fit in with the war plans which demanded politically safe labor. With govern-by the government is insufficient to explain these facts. Two things offer adequate explanations:

workers as a politically reliable group.

1. It is a war industry.

keep the seamen together as a favored group.

Although there has been a steady worsennig lesson to the owners.

From the very first, the apologists and defenders of imperialist oppression of the Negro masses have attempted to cover up the lynch terror nature of the Scottsboro death verdicts which would burn eight innocent Negro children in the electric chair as a means of terrorizing the Negro masses into submissio to the starvation program of capitalism, into submission to the outrageous robbery and enslavement of the Negro majorities in the "Black Belt" by the big landowners, merchants, bankers and their hang-

The Intrenational Labor Defense and the League of Struggle for Negro Rights have correctly and consistently pointed out that the struggle to save and free the nine innocent victims of class justice, is at the same time a struggle for absolute and unconditional equality for the Negro masses in this country, against landlord-capitalist oppression and plundering of the Negro masses, and against the starvation system which forced these working class boys to bum their way on freight trains in a desperate hunt for work in the effort to help their starving families, and then caught them up in the net of a vicious frame-up and lynch terror.

It is on this understanding of the Scottsboro frame-up that millions of Negro and white workers and poor farmers in this country and thruout the entire world have rallied in mass defense of the nine innocent Negro boys. More than ever now, it is necessary that the world working class thunder its angry protests against the attempt sof the imperialists and their white and Negro lackeys to carry through these hideous lynch verdicts. Workers! Demonstrate your furious resentment against this brazen class justice! Hold meetings everywhere! Demonstrate against the lynch terror! Send protest telegrams to the Alabama Supreme Court! Defend the Negro masses! Demand the immediate and unconditional release of these innocent working class children! Smash the lynch verdicts!

ment backing the I.S.U. grew to a membership of 100,000 during this period and will be revived in the same manner when the occasion arises. The merchant marine is a naval auxiliary and the L.S.U, and I.L.A. are utilized to maintain a safe crew for this important section of the navy.

Thus, the shipping board in interceding and breaking the deadlock was motivated by the fear that the proposals would provoke a general strike on the coast and cause 1. Increased militancy of workers.

2. Complete exposure of the leaders of the I.L.A. and possibilities of the Marine Workers Industrial Union, affiliated to the Trade Union Unity League gaining greater influence.

The shipping board is organically part of the government and the shipping board dictates to the rest of the shipping interests the method of introducing wage cuts, speed up and even their size. The I.S.U. and I.L.A. are not only the means of introducing these bad conditions but they are also the organs for maintaining the workers as a politically reliable group, and as such are supported by the government.

Thus, in the third year of the crisis, with its deep going effect upon the industry, we find the ship owners have delayed, and have been extremely careful and skillful in attacking the conditions of the workers, and that these tactics are determined by its being a major war industry and of the necessity of maintaining organizational and ideological control of the marine workers, so important in the transportation of troops and munitions and supplies in the event of a war.

But as the recent wage cuts indicate, they are nevertheless out to make ever greater attacks upon the workers and with the deepening of the crisis to further worsen their conditions which does produce increased radicalization. The perspective of future developments and possibilities of struggle, the close control maintained by the government, the tremendous array of forces and the importance of this industry in defending the Soviet Union, place enormous tasks squarely before the Marine Workers Industrial Union and demands that the T.U.U.L. and Party turn its face sharply toward the waterfront and actually begin to put into effect the decisions of the Pittsburgh meeting of the National Committee of the T.U.U.L. and the 13th

The Persecution of Foreign-Born--An Attack on All Workers

By S. HORWATT.

(Sec'y, New York District Committee Council the Protection of Foreign Born).

IN a previous article the writer exposed the vicious anti-foreign born nature of the Cable Bill (H. R. 5093) now pending in Congress, providing for registration of foreign born workers as if they were prisoners on parole. But there is another bill even more victous, directed against the foreign-born workers, the Bachmann Bill.

The Bachmann Bill "H. R. 1967" introduced to the first session of the 72nd Congress on Dec. 8th, 1931 is to amend the Anti-Alien-Anarchist law which states that "Aliens who are anarchists . . ." should be outlawed and deported. Now Mr. Bachmann proposes to amend this law by inserting "(a) Aliens who are anarchists or Communists."

If this ammendment is adopted by Congress, then everyone who expresses any grievances against the government; any individual who expresses any disagreement with the practices of any government body; the members of any union which will call its members out on strike and meets the opposition of the bosses' courts and police force will be charged with Communism and will be subject to deportation.

What is to be done in order to stop the terror against the foreign born and to force Congress to reject all the bills which aim to discriminate. persecute and to deport foreign born.

The Committee for the Protection of the Foreign Born has called conferences in various parts of the country. At these conferences plans were adopted in order to mobilize a mass movement of the millions of foreign born and native Americans for the struggle.

The New York Conference for the Protection of the Foreign Born which was held on Dec. 20 called upon every organization, native and foreign born, that mass protest meetings be organized by each and every organization where protest resolutions be adopted to be sent to the Congress of the U.S. The Dec. 20th Conference showed that the issue of protection of foreign born is of vital interest and importance. The response of the conference was enthusiastic. Delegates of 21 nationalities representing 229 organizations of various political affiliations showed that we are able and must mobilize the millions that support the struggle for the protection of foreign born

Every workers' organization should affiliate with the Committee for the Protection of the Foreign Born. The national movement for the protection of foreign born should be very tightly linked up with the movement for immediate relief and unemployment insurance. By the establishment of a federal unemployment insurance, the suffering of the native workers in general and the foreign born ni particular will be lessened considerably. For this reason a mutual cooperation should be established between the protection of foreign born committees and the Unemployed Councils.

The time is short. Soon the anti-foreign born bills will be given a formal hearing. We must see that a large committee should be elected representing all nationalities of various unions, fraternal organizations, benefit societies and cultural federations. This committee to be sent to Washington to state our position towards these bills. Reports of this committee will be given in every center of the U.S. to mobilize the masses against the vicious attack age nst the foreign

Only through a united mass m. vement of all nationalities, native and foreign been, Negro and white, will we be able to smash the offensive against the foreign born imprired by Hoover and directed by Doak. Smash the Hoover and Doak plans of discrimination, registration and deportation of foreign

Forward with the mobilization of a mighty mass movement for the protection of the foreign born !

A NAME FOR OUR PARTY WHICH WOULD BE SCIENTIFICALLY AND CONDUCIVE TO PROLETARIAN CLASS THINKING

AM coming to the last point, the name of our party. We must call ourselves the Communist Party-as Marx and Engels called themselves Communists.

We must insist that we are Marxists and that we have as a basis the Communist Manifesto, which has been perverted and betrayed by the Social Democracy on two important points: (1) The workers have no country; "national defense" in an imperialist war is a betrayal of Socialism; (2) Marx's teaching about the state has been perverted by the Second International.

The objective needs of capitalism which has grown into imperialism have brought forth the imperialist war. This war has brought mankind to the brink of a precipice, to the destruction of civilization, the ruin and brutalization of countless millions of human beings

There is no other way out, except a proletarian revolution.

And just when that revolution is beginning, when it is taking its first awkward, timid, weak, unconscious steps, when it is still trusting the bourgeoisie, at that moment the majority (it is the truth, it is a fact) of the S leaders, of the Social-Democratic parliam ians, of the Social-Democratic papers, in a word, all those who could spur the masses to action, or at least the majority of them, are betraying Socialism, are selling Socialism, are going to fight the battle of their national bourgeoisie The masses are distracted, baffled, deceived by

And should we aid and abet that deception by etaining the old and worn-out party name, which is decayed as the Second International? this imperialist World War in which hundreds

We want to rebuild the world. We want to end of millions of people are involved and billions of dollars are invested, a war which cannot be ended in a truly democratic way without the greatest proletarian revolution in history .- (From The Revolution of 1917 by Lenin, published by the International Publishers, New York.)
