DISCRIMINATION Needle Workers Force Conference

HIT RED CROSS

NEW YORK .- A delegation of the Dressmakers' Unemployed Council, by militant picketing, yesterday forced the Gibson Red Cross Committee, 70 Pine Street, to confer today with representatives of the council on the allotment of work relief. The Cou cil demands that the work of making garments for distribution by the Red Cross Committee shall be allotted without discrimination by the Unemployed Council. The delegation protested against the present reported arrangement whereby this work will be given out by the top leadership of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. The work, thus allotted, will not be distributed without discrimination among the jobless, because most of the unemployed have been dropped from membership in these unions.

Report Results Tomorrow

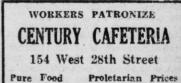

Results of the conference today will be reported at a meeting of the dressmakers' council at 1:30 p.m. to-morrow at 140 West 36th Street.

When the delegation yesterday first demanded to see a representative of the Red Cross Committee, they were told that the representative was "out." The delegation immediately started picketing the headquarters. Police arrived. At this point, however, a a representative of the committee called the delegation inside and promised the conference today.

This telegram from the "Aurore Malgache", Madagascar newspaper, discloses the gravity of the situation in that French colony off the East coast of Africa. A Madagascar Negro, Rapaoly, was entenced for failing to pay his taxes. He was summoned to the tax office -and never left the office alive. Dauphin, a government official kicked the truck-driver Rakotomavo in the abdomen, killing him, only because this native did not present his identification card to the imperfalist agent quickly enough.

Herriot, the French Prime Minister, has placed 400 Madagascar Negroes on trial-under a law that is no longer in force-for alleged membership in the International Labor Defense. EVERETTSVILLE, W. Va .- On or about July 5 there was a strike called at the New Engand Fuel and Transportation Co. by the U. M. W. A. leaders. I knew we could not win the strike because the leaders were only thinking of their own interests and not of the working man. But I was in sympathy with the working man and struck with them, thinking we might better the conditions some as 9 we were working 18 hours a day and PEORIA WORKERS couldn't make a living. The March Begins!

THIRTY-TWO Delegates of the Unemployed Councils and associated organizations left Seattle yesterday, beginning the 3,000-mile trek to Washington to present the demands of the starving masses to Congress. They will be joined by others along the way at each important city and town. This is only the start of the first column, eight of which will converge from all over the land upon Washington, reaching there on December 5, when Congress gathers.

Thus begins a historic battle in the struggle against starvation. The solid ranks of the vanguard are swinging into the battle line. One after another, hundreds of detachments are preparing to step into line. The battle is for unemployment insurance at the expense of the Federal government and the employers. It is further, for the immediate payment of $50 emergency winter relief for each unemployed worker, plus $10 for each dependent, in addition to the miserable local relief.

AT the same time the impoverished veterans, heroes of the A world war, given their reward by the capitalist system, in the form of being thrown onto the streets, clubbed and shot down like dogs-these veterans are gathering their forces to renew the demand that the government shall pay them the duly acknowledged debt of back wages, usually known as the "bonus".

The farmers, crushed under the weight of monopoly capital, being driven from their farms, are sending delegates from all over the Union to Washington, to present demands to Congress for relief from debts and taxes, immediate increase in prices without increasing the cost of living in the cities, freedom from evictions and foreclosures. Already delegates have been elected from more than 30 States, and are beginning to move to Washington.

The foundation and background of these actions are the growing organization and struggles in each neighborhood, each town and city. How strong these local organizations and struggles are growing are exemplified, above all, in the great victory of the Chicago Unemployed organizations, when 50,000 workers marched into the loop and compelled Mayor Cermak to express his agreement with all their demands, and forced the Federal Government to immediately provide the money to restore the relief which had been cut 50 per cent. Also in Birmingham, in the heart of the reactionary South, where 5,000 workers, Negro and white, came into the streets, shoulder to shoulder, defying the threats of the Ku Klux Klan and the police, and forced the authorities at least to promise food for the starving.

In every locality, the amount of relief being given is in direct proportion to the amount of struggle and organization among the workers under the leadership of the Communists. Where the workers are quiet, there no relief is given. Where the workers fight and organize and march. there the relief funds, miserably little as they are, grow continually.

THE STORY SO FAR: Legally kidnapped because the powerful white planter, Jim Deering, needs cotton pickers, five Negroes, including David Jackson, son of the poor share-cropper, Dee Jack-son, are forced, under threat of being sentenced to the chain gang, to accept Deering's offer to pay $25 fine for each of them as advances against wages. There were some who found contentment in the Deering stockade. A man has to work for someone, so Joe Wallis, with his moon face and sunny disposition, was happy. To Joe life was filled with fun and laughter.

Joe sang. His round face would wreathe in smiles, his feet would tap time, his head and shoulders would shake and his eyes would roll. Ballads, blues, spirituals. He had a great store of them, and when those were not sufficient for his mood, he would make up his A LETTER FROM HOME own, about little things in the stockade or thoughts that he had or a girl he had known. mine yo' own bus'ness an' you'll git along lots better, too!" There was something about Limpy that discouraged even the guard from pressing him too far. Limpy did his work. Despite the hip injury that caused the limp, he was one of the best pickers in the stockade. He picked so rapidly that he had leisure to stroll to the clearing frequently for a dipperful of the warm water. Sometimes he spat it out contemptuously.

Incidentally the force and weight of this trial broke through the long standing silence of all the capitalist papers in Buffalo. How did they sum up this event? From the Courier Express: "The Communist Party yesterday divided itself into conservative and radical groups. THE MARCH HAS BEGUN.

Timely Action Halts Wage Tax

MAYOR J. HAMPTON MOORE, the Philadelphia city coun-cil, and the rest of the servile mercenaries of the notorious Bill Vare organization of graft and corruption, decided to slam a wage tax on the workers of that city. With revenue falling off, it was a question of raising additional funds or cutting down the city governmental machine. The Vare machine decided not to tax the rich but to again rob the poor.

No sooner had the move been announced than it met with widespread mass resistance. Moves were started for mighty mass demonstrations in historic Rayburn Plaza where the unemployed and part-time workers, under the leadership of the unemployed organizations and the Communist Party, have heroically stood up against the most savage police attacks.

So determined is the resistance that the City Council has decided temporarily to refrain from going through with the wage tax. However, the Vare machine is undoubtedly waiting for its labor henchmen, like the notorious Phillips, president of the State Federation of Labor, to get in their disruptive work before renewing the attempt to further beat down th standards of life of the masses of Philadelphia.

MASS action has won a temporary victory. The utilization of that victory to consolidate organization of the unemployed and part-time workers, the participation of larger numbers of Philadelphia workers in local hunger demonstrations, the joining in the great national hunger march to Washington at the opening of Congress, the mobilization of the veterans to join in the demands on Congress-all these actions will contribute toward building a force that will make impossible the renewal of this shameful attempt to tax wages that are already below the starvation level.

This action in Philadelphia shows that it is possible to defeat the plots of the bosses and their political henchmen, even in the most firmly entrenched places, when we selze upon an issue that impels to action whole sections of the working class population.
