To be precise, during this period the office of the Daily Worker re-

The Silk Strike

BETWEEN 50,000 and 60,000 silk workers and silk dyers are out on strike in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York. Most strikes in the past were of a local character. The workers were defeated in one center and then in another. Today the strike of the silk workers is truly a national

It is the first national strike of recent time in any one industry or branch of an industry of such importance as textile. It is without doubt a forerunner of national strikes in other industries. It represents the development of the class struggle to a higher phase.

THE second important feature of this strike is that it is clearly a strike against both the application of the NRA cotton code to the silk industry. and the so-called truce decided by the NATIONAL LABOR BOARD of which Senator Wagner is the head. This is not the first strike where the workers showed their dissatisfaction with the NRA codes. But it is the first major strike which is being continued despite the actions of the NATIONAL LABOR BOARD.

This second feature of the silk strike is of the greatest significance. It indicates that the workers will not accept starvation conditions even if handed down with the blessings of the NRA. The workers will fight against the attacks being made upon them.

THE third feature of the strike is one of the most important. It is a strike over the heads of the strikebreaking officials of the American Federation of Labor. The national office of the United Textile Workers did not call or sanction the strike. But Mr. McMahon, the president of the U.T.W, from the beginning conspired with the employers and the NRA officials on how to call off the strike. Conferences were arranged in New York and Washington.

The National Textile Workers' Union and the independent unions also sent their representatives to the hearings. They were heard, but, following the open hearings, McMahon met with the bosses and the NRA officials behind closed doors. THEY ANNOUNCED THE FAMOUS FIVE WEEKS' TRUCE WITHOUT CONSULTING THE WORKERS. McMahon promised to send the workers back to the mills.

The NTWU delegation was joined by all the other independent unions in refusing to agree to send the workers back to work without winning their demands.

WHAT WAS THE RESULT? MC MAHON WAS REPUDIATED 100 PERCENT NOT ONLY BY THE MASS OF THE STRIKERS BUT ALSO BY THE MEMBERSHIP OF THE U.T.W. ITSELF.

The silk workers have demonstrated that the AFL bureaucrats can not speak for them. They have told the NRA officials what they mean by the right to be represented by representatives of their own choosing. They have shown to the bosses and the govrnmnt that the labor bureaucrats can "settle" strikes, but they can't settle them for the workers. The workers insist on their right to decide matters themselves.

Similarly in the dye strike the bosses and the government have learned the same lesson. This had to be recognized even by the bosses and the government' representatives, when they backed down on their refusal to meet the representatives of the National Textele Workers' Union and announced that they would meet such representatives when formal application was made. Such application has already been made.

THE fourth important feature of the strike is the progress being made in developing the united front of the workers who belong to different trade unions. At the last conference, held Sunday in Allentown, there were representatives of 27,000 striking workers from the locals of the UTW the NTWU, and the independent unions, of which the Independent Silk Workers' Union of Allentown is the largest, already having enrolled more than 4,000 workers. At this conference the delegates unanimously repudiated the attempt of McMahon to send them back to work for the same starvation wages they now receive. They demand that the bosses grant them a living wage, and improved working conditions.

The Allentown conference elected a national strike committee and also elected a broad committee to negotiate with the bosses and the NRA officials for the settlement of the strike.

It is true, however, that much still remains to be done to unite all the workers. In Paterson the local officials, headed by Schweitzer, are now beating a retreat for the purpose of maintaining their position and to be able to sell out the workers later. The local officials now "go along" with the membership and even deny that they had first agreed to the truce. The workers must have no trust in these leaders. They are no better

The membership of the United Textile Workers in Paterson m strengthen their strike committee and eliminate those elements that wanted them to go back on the present starvation conditions. So long as these gentlemen remain in the leadership, the strike is in danger.

FIFTHLY the silk strike has exposed the position of the Muste adherents. Muste himself was one of the leaders of the Paterson strike of 1931. He is completely separated from the present big strike. What happened to his followers? The leaders of the type of Brooks are the tools of McMahon and Schweitzer. As for the few rank and file followers that he may have had, they support the militant policy of the National Textile Workers' Union, either in the UTW or in the NTWU.

A word about the weaknesses in the strike. There are many. They cannot all be recounted here. One of the important problems that still must receive more attention is the work within the organization of the American Federation of Labor (UTW). There is still too much separation of the work of the NTWU and the work inside the UTW organizations. THIS IS TODAY A DECISIVE QUESTION. Our comrades must insist on actual unity on the picket line and in the street demonstrations. There must be more mingling of the workers in the halls. We must break through the barriers set up by the Schweitzers and Kellers and Keelys and over their heads establish unity of action among the strikers.

AS COMMUNISTS working in the strike we must recognize as a great weakness the slowness in building the Party among the strikers. It is impossible to lead the strike successfully without the Party. And this means to bring forward the Party among the strikers, to explain the role of the Party in the strike, to recruit members into the Party, to organize the Party fractions to assure real militancy, solidarity and discipline in the strike.

In some cases the Party activity has been "postponed" until after the strike. This means to rob the workers of the leadership of the Communists. It is not enough that the individual Communists are in the front ranks of the fight. The Party must also act as a Party.

The Daily Worker must be utilized more to strengthen the strike.

THE COMMUNISTS MUST DO ALL IN THEIR POWER TO WIN THE STRIKE TO CONVINCE THE WORKERS OF THE CORRECT

If the Party is "dissolved" in the strike period, if the Party is not built, if the workers are not taught the logic of the struggle through their experiences in the struggle and through the guidance of the Party, then not only will we fail in our aim of revolutionizing the masses, but the very success of their fight for their immediate demands is endangered.

THE sitk workers through their heroic struggle are making history for labor. They have already dealt many blows to their enemies. But the fight is not yet won. Their enemies will still use many tricks to break the strike. They will use McMahon with new maneuvers. They will use the NRA. They will use the police force if need be.

The workers can defeat all these attempts to break their strike, by keeping their ranks solid, by establishing and strengthening the united ceived a total of $1,094.45 in response to its plea for a fund which will guarantee the continuance of the paper as well as to ensure its constant During this ten-day period the five concentration districts of the Party have made a showing that can hardly be described as impressive. District 2 (New York) with an assigned quota of $20,000 turned in $665.63. The Chicago district, with a quota of $5,000, sent in during the first ten days the stupendous sum of $28.20! The Detroit district (quota $2,000) has succeeded in gathering up in this active scene of struggle, where the Daily Worker has shown itself to be a staunch fighter of the auto workers, the sum of $38.01. The Cleveland district (quota $2,000) has contributed $11.22 toward the "Daily" drive. The Pittsburgh district (quota $1.000) has sent us $14.35!

Clearly, comrades, it will take a long time indeed to reach our objective at this rate.

WHEN we first announced the drive for $40,000, which is needed most urgently, we promised that we are a solutions. urgently, we promised that we would conduct our campaign without hysteria and screaming headlines. We were confident that it was not at this time necessary to agitate our readers about the necessity for raising this fund. Moreover, we were determined to use the valuable front-page space for news of strike struggles now raging throughout the country rather than for elaborate appeals for funds.

But the readers of the "Daily" must not as a result permit themselves to fall into a languid state regarding the paper.

Comrades, we have made energetic efforts to improve the content of the Daily Worker and to make it a popular mass paper. We have sought to introduce features which are attracting new readers everywhere. We are planning new features. But we must tell you frankly that unless our appeal for financial aid is responded to, it may be necessary to be more conservative in our plans.

In THIS connection some comrades, seeing a ten-page issue on Saturday (as they did last week) jumped to the conclusion that the "Daily" Is upon a sturdy financial foundation. This is not so, of course. As a matter of fact these enlarged issues of the "Daily" are made imperative by the constantly increasing struggles of the workers everywhere, and the printing of these enlarged editions simply increase the normal deficit of

Ship Owner Gives Girl Debut; Makes Sailors Pay the Piper

OLD WESTBURY, L. I.—Elisa Ladew Grace, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Grace, owner of the Grace lines, made her debut into society on Saturday night, amidst an atmosphere of "veritable fairyland."

Aboard the Grace line ships, there was no rejoicing, for Saturday brought with it the second $5 wage cut in six weeks.

"About 400 members of the debutante set and their house guests were present. In one wing, opening on a courtyard, is the riding school where the dancing took place. The room is large with heavy raftered celling and the only decorations were clusters of brilliant silk banners with medieval morial shields. Dark red silk studded with gray coicred rosettes made a panelling for the lower walls," the society editor of the Times reported.

SIGNS SOFT COAL CODE

Compulsory Arbitration Board Aims To Stop Strikes

By HARRY GANNES.

NEW YORK .- President Roosevelt has signed the soft coal code. The code grants certain paper concessions on wages to the miners. At the same time it provides a system of the worst form of compulsory arbitration contained in any code to keep the miners from fighting to see that the concessions are carried out.

The promise of a code that would improve the miners' conditions was first made last August by Roosevelt when 70,000 miners went on strike despite the orders of John L. Lewis and the other UMWA officials. The miners were driven back to work then.

For over a month no code was passed. A week before the present code was adopted more than 40,000 Pennsylvania miners again came out on strike. This forced the signing of the code in its present form.

The miners were getting from $2 to $3 a day, and now the code proposes wages of from $3.60 for com-mon outside labor, to $4.60 for skilled inside labor in the main fields. These are not the miners demands, though on paper at least they raise wages above the present levels. The miners demands were expressed in the National Miners Union code, presented in Washington, providing for a $6

No tonnage rates are set. This can be won only in the way that the National Miners Union pointed out: by the mine com-mittees, elected by the miners, deter-mining the rate through negotiations

The National Miners Union demand that the miners be allowed to buy in any stores they want to and not be forced to buy in the company stores or live in company houses was grant-ed. But again this will be carried through only by the action of the workers themselves, not by relying on the coal operators to live up to it.

Checks and Scrip

The demand of the NMU that the miners be paid in cash was partly granted, the code providing that the miners be paid by cash or check. But here too the "check" may become company scrip, if the miners do not stop the practice by their action.

It is clear throughout the code that these concessions won through struggle will remain on paper unless the miners continue to fight and not submit to the compulsory arbitration set up in the code.

The operators know that the miners won certain concessions through struggle. That is precisely the reathe powerful strikebreaking clauses were put in the code-to prevent the miners through struggle carrying them through and winning more in the same way.

The code makes no guarantee of employment and makes no provision for the hundreds of thousands of unemployed miners as demanded by the National Miners of injunctions for unemployment insurance.

The compulsory arbitration clauses was supported and demanded by John L. Lewis in an effort to keep the miners from striking, as they have repeatedly disobeyed his orders not to strike.

The object of making these concessions was to attempt to herd the miners into the UMWA, and to establish the leadership of John L. Lewis as the "miners representative," so when in all actions the miners have repudiated John L. Lewis.

Negro Worker Says Now Is the Time to Build the LSNR

Tells of Kansas City Experiences; Requests That Workers Elsewhere Also Write

By A. W. BERRY.

IN HIS report to the Extraordinary Party Conference, Comrade Earl Browder asks the question: "Is it not possible that the time has now ripened, that the League of Struggle for Negro Rights can be successfully brought forward as the answer to the problem of organizin, the broad Negro Liberation movement?" I wish to answer this emphatically in the affirmative. In fact, from the activities of our enemies, it seems that the mand for a Negro st te in America.

In both instances the movement is aimed at stopping the trend of the Negro people toward the Communist movement, in support of the Soviet Union (the doctor pictures the Soviet Union as a "white na-However, the latter aims at protecting the rights of the white imperialists to rob the Negroes, and keeps the Negroes from struggling for the rich territory known as the Black Belt. Packing Company Store Raises Prices Under Flag of NRA

By a Worker Correspondent ST. PAUL, Minn.-A week ago the Daily Worker printed an article I sent in dealing with the slaughtering of the hogs the government is buying. Up to date the Armour packing plant has killed approximately 40,000 government bought hogs. Of these hogs about 20 per cent are being saved to feed the unemployed, and the rest are made into fertilizer.

THE STORY SO FAR: The crew of the S.S. Utah, after the boat has stopped at Copenhagen, Helsingfors, and Leningrad, U.S.S.R., return to their boat, deeply impressed by what they have seen in the Soviet port, as contrasted with the ports in the other countries. So, when they are awakened at 4;30 one morning and have to wait around for an hour before beginning work; and when they are ordered to work on Sunday, their day off, they refuse. In this move their leader is Slim, a member of the Marine Workers Industrial Union, You read how the seamen, after organizing for the strike, held their ranks solidly and stood for their demands before the threats of the Captain. You also read how they won their demands and how Pitts had, unknown to Slim and the others, joined up with the M. W. I. U. at Leningrad. At a meeting of the ship's group, Slim and Pitts, a strike is planned. Meanwhile, two days before the ship is due in Copenhagen, Pitts writes and spreads among the seamen a resolution to defend the Soviet Union in case of attack. Now read on:

What has brought them to this chaos and collapse of art and of business, whether they like it or not is that they are simply commodities which a decaying system permits blundering privateers to sell to a public no longer interested in buying. These actors—some of them talented—are working hard and getting little either in terms of money or human recompense, because in the last analysis they do not know the theatre-the world to which it belongs its inner mechanism, its economic foundations, what part they play in it, how it can be changed and how they can help change it.

In fact, they are not part of the theatre at all, for a theatre, as a Soviet theatre director recently defined it, is an "ideologically cemented collective," and the Broadway theatre is at best nothing more than a bazaar, a haphazard assortment of wares thrown together to be auctioned to idlers on the market place. actors are all victims more bloody murder than Mr. Carroll with his spectacular imagination can show at $3.30 a seat. Across the street from the New Amsterdam, a more realistic entrepreneur advertizes "Slaughter at Minsky's." Take your choice.

"The Emperor Jones" Opens Today at the Rivoli

"Emperor Jones," an adaptation of the stage play of Eugene O'Neill, with Paul Robeson in the leading role, will have its premiere showing to-morrow night at the Rivoli Theatre. The picture was produced in New York and was directed by Dudley Murphy. Other players in the cast include Dudley Diggs, Frank Wilson, Fred Washington, Ruby Elzy, George Haymid Stamper and Jackie Mayble.

The general plan on which the powers are agreed is that the continental nations adopt a uniform sysem of military training, that certain types of war aircraft (for which commercial craft can easily be substituted) be eliminated, that no reduction be made of any other type of weapon, and that France and Italy should join in the London Naval treaty, which fixes naval ratios, giv ing the United States and Great Britain the largest naval power, and that international supervision be adopted nstead of arms limitations for a peid of three or five years.

Editor's Note. - Many marine workers will be delegates at the United States Congress Against War which will meet in New York Sept. 29 to Oct. 1. A marine worker delegate also has sailed to the World Youth Congress Against War and Fascism, which opens in Paris Sept. 22. The role of marine workers in war, and in the struggle against war is discussed in the fol-lowing article, by the editor of the "Marine Workers Voice."

By HAYS JONES "They force us to join the Naval Reserve to keep us from striking for better conditions," an unemployed sea captain wrote to the Herald Tribune early in September, of this year. That is only a small part of the significance of the Naval Reserve requirement of the merchant ship owners. Beyond a doubt, the strikebreaking phase is Another factor is that the United States government paid the shipowners to build most of the ships now flying the American flag, and still pays for many of them through ship subsidies, to have those ships ready in case of war to be used as com-

No group of workers suffers as keenly from war as the marine work-

Shipments of munitions to Kolchak were stop-ped, and Kolchak's armed assault on ish, French and Japanese troops, collapsed. The power of the American Red Guards crushed the "Admiral" and his own troops shot him. The invading foreign forces were driven out of Soviet territory. In more recent times, many marine workers in various countries have taken part in effective actions to stop the shipment of arms and munitions to Japan and to the White Guards in Manchuria. In Copenhagen, early this year, the S. S. Jolantha was scheduled to sail with a cargo of munitions. Led by the International of Seamen and Harborworkers, seamen, longshoremen and unemployed of Copenhagen put up a battle to stop the shipment, and only the scab-bery of the leaders of the reformist transport unions and the police were campaign and move against imperial-able to get that ship out, three days ist war, and will take a very active late.
