MARCH OF 1,200 FORD WORKERS SPREADS STRIKE TO EDGEWATER

United States Anti-War Congress Opens in New York Tonight

Special Cable to the Daily Worker LEIPZIG, Sept. 28.—Using as a pretext the opening of the German Judicial Congress in Leipzig, the Nazi court which is trying Ernst Torgler and the three Bulgarian Communists, today adjourned its sessions "for several days."

The announcement of the adjournment of the court followed the appearance of 13 witnesses who testified in connection with the three fires in Berlin which Van der Lubbe, the Dutch provocateur and Nazi tool, confessed to having set.

There is no doubt that the Nazi officials will seek to utilize the Judicial Congress to justify, indirectly, the frame-up trial against the Communists.

Despite the fact that the presiding judge tried to muzzle Dimitroff on the ground that his questions were "irrelevant," the Nazi court today permitted detailed, trivial testimony by numerous witnesses for the prosecution.

The NRA-Gangster

MURDER threats and gangster slugging have become one of the means of putting through N.R.A. "settlements." Considering the fact that the ex-Cossack Grover Whalen heads the local N.R.A., this is not hard

Whalen is enlisting all of the dreggs of the underworld as N.R.A. assistants, hoping by this means to stem the tide of growing strikes for

The latest gangster attack on painters at Mecca Temple Tuesday and the threatened murder of Louis Weinstock, secretary of the A. F. of L. Committee for Unemployment Insurance should sound a warning to all workers and arouse them to active organization and resistance.

These painters came to Mecca Temple to protest the intended "settlement" of the strike of 15,000 New York painters. The "settlement" had been engineered in the N.R.A. offices.

Even before the meeting started two workers were battered so they had to be taken to the hospital. Weinstock was ordered out of the hall at the point of guns, and told he would be "put on the spot."

These gangster, murderous assaults were employed time and again against the Needle Trades Industrial Union, and they cost the lives of

The same underworld gang now threatens the murder of Weinstock.

HEADING the Painters' District Council is the criminal Philip Zausner, neck deep in the cesspool of New York gangsterdom. Allied with him are rats like Harry Rosen, "Mike the Bum," and "Happy" Cohen. The N.R.A. has declared a "free field day" for these gangsters when they attack workers criticizing strike sell-outs. They are valuable tools The greatest alarm should be aroused among all workers, especially among A. F. of L. rank and filers against these fascist assaults, as they

In Greensburgh, Pa, the 1,000 strikers at the Walworth Foundry Co. set an example of how best to fight against such attacks. When thugs were brought in from Pittsburgh, a rallying cry was issued for mass mobilization. Workers streamed in, some U.M.W.A. miners coming from the surrounding coal fields, ready to give these gangsters a reception these rats

In New York, the gangsters are blood and sinew of the Tammany officialdom, and can be fought only by united action of all workers. The needle trades workers, the miners and other workers have shown what can be accomplished through energetic mass self-defense activity. The workers should now set up their own organized defense groups in these gangster-infested local unions.

Answer these fascist onslaughts by a greater mobilization for struggle for higher wages, for the rights of rank and file members, for real trade union democracy, for the re-instatement of expelled members.

United action of all workers will end this new plague of gangsterism bred by the festering carcass of the N.R.A.

They Are Worried! IN A MIGELY wave of strikes, the coal, steel, textile, workers are rising in struggle against the hated slavery, the starvation wages of the Roose-

The cunning N.R.A., which was to have done away with strikes through the treacherous promise of "collective bargaining," is itself being engulfed in a wave of strikes.

And this is already bringing a cry of anguish from the capitalist employers and their agents, who see their crafty N.R.A. trap beginning to be trampled on by the millions of workers for whom it was intended.

Yesterday's issue of the "liberal" New York World-Telegram bared its teeth in a snarl of anger against the workers who are now facing the bayonets and machine guns of State troops in defiance of the plans of the employers to clamber out of the crisis on their backs. Says the Telegram:

"N.R.A. has let loose a plague of strikes. In most cases the chaosbreeding difficulty seems to come from the attitude of unions, most of which are not connected with the American Federation of Labor. Present strikes and chaos is a sabotage of recovery.'

And what is this "recovery" which is being endangered by the mighty strikes of the American workers? Discreetly buried away on the back financial page, the Telegram gives us the answer:

Wall Street is greatly disturbed over the labor troubles that have rung up recently...they may cut deeply into profits." Yes, indeed, this is the capitalist Roosevelt idea of "recovery

The workers strike, and Wall Street is worried. And the World-Telegram is worried. And both are worried about the same thing-"cut-

The World-Telegram expresses its "ardent desire for justice for

But let the workers try to "cut deeply into profits" by striking against starvation wages, and then the World-Telegram speaks in words behind which one can hear the rattle of machine guns

It is in defense of the "recovery" of profits that they are prepared to hurl against the striking workers the full military and police force of the State now, with the legal sanction of the N.R.A. codes.

THEY are worried about the "unions not affiliated with the A. F. of L."

And this is because they see the steel, coal, and textile workers breaking away from the yoke of their reactionary, treacherous, A. F. of L. leaders. They see new, revolutionary unions of the Trade Union Unity League growing in influence over the workers.

And the sight of these key workers breaking away into strikes against all the treacherous efforts of their leaders to hold them back, strikes fear into the hearts of the capitalist employers and their press. All the promises of Rocsevelt, all the Rooseveltian gilt is fast wearing off the N.R.A. slave codes.

The Communist Party and the revolutionary unions take their place at the head of the American working class in the fight to smash the glavery and intensified exploitation that lie imbedded in the N.R.A. slavery codes.

EDGEWATER, N. J., Sept. 28.—With the initiative and precision which marked their close down of Ford's Chester plant last Tuesday, twelve hundred strikers moving in 250 automobiles invaded the Ford plant here to call on their fellow brothers to join them. At six in the morning, when workers began to arrive at the Ford gates, they found the Chester strikers picketing the plant and urging them to join with them.

About 600 have already joined the strike. It is expected that all of the 2,500 men employed in the assembly plant here will join by morrow.

Thomas J. Dunphy, one of the strike leaders, addressing a large meeting today said that the "only way to bring Ford to terms was to close every Ford plant in the country." ## EXAMPLES OF CLASS DEVOTION

N EVERY corner of the country the working class is rising up in a series of strikes against starvation wages. The workers are everywhere giving heroic examples of solidarity, devotion and courage. And this heroism finds its expression in the $40,000 Daily Worker Prive. For the workers know that part of their fight against starvation is the fight to make the Daily Drive victorious. From a worker in Pennsylvania comes the following letter: Enclosed you will find donation of 20 cents to the 'Daily.' Would gladly give more if I could, but I haven't done a day's work for about two months, and don't know when I'll start again." From a working class housewife in Chicago: "Please find enclosed money order of $6.00, my contribution to the 'Daily' Drive. I am a housewife, no longer working outside of my home, but I saved up this amount from our household expenses."

F ONE thing is certain, comrades, it is the unshakable knowledge that increasing numbers of workers throughout the country consider the 'Daily' as their paper—the paper which alone voices their struggles against exploitation and capitalist oppression.

And they are ready to endure real hardship for it to keep it alive, to And this is the guarantee that the Dally Worker Drive can be made

But it is also true that the Party districts, the Party organizations have been inexcusably slow in going out into the masses of American workers who are devoted to the "Daily." The Party districts have been inexcusably slow in organizing this profound devotion for the "Daily" into concrete active assistance for the paper.

COMRADES, we must go into the shops to the workers at the machines, into the mines, mills, factories where the workers feel the lash of capitalist exploitation.

We must go into the neighborhoods where the housewives of the working class feel the whip of rising food prices We must go everywhere carrying the message of the Daily Worker

The workers are ready for our leadership. It is up to us to go out to meet them. With new enthusiasm for the Daily Worker Drive, Comrades!

PLAN MASS TRIAL OF ALL OFFICIALS INVOLVED IN WELFARE ISLAND MURDER

Form James Matthews | Minor, Ford Testify Branch of L.S.N.R.

NEW YORK .- A decision to hold a public trial of "all officials responsible, directly or indirectly, for the murder of James Matthews on Welfare Island" was reached at a meeting held last night in Lafayette Hall, for Negro Rights.

Fifty workers at the meeting formed the James Matthews Branch of the L.S.N.R.

The public trial which will call to account those responsible for the slaying of the young North Carolina Negro is set for October 15, but the hall in which the trial is to be held has not yet been selected.

Not only will Tammany officials be called upon to testify in this, but all other principals in the case will be invited to be present, it is announced. These include Mark Shahian, eye-witness to the Matthews murder whose affidavit describing the killing was first published in the Daily Worker; Edward Kuntz, International Labor Defense attorney, who represented Shahian in the "investigation" which the District Attorney's office claims it conducted; John L. Spivak, special Daily Worker reporter, who bared the details of the murder of Matthews, and others

After continued delay, assistant U. S. District Attorney Jacob J. Rosenblum yesterday informed Attorney Kuntz that he and his chief, Harold Z. Medalie, would finally see Shahian on Monday and quiz him about his knowledge of the operation of an active narcotic ring on Welfare Island. Shahian charges that this dope ring the Negro "sitting on my wife's involves prison officials and guards ach with his back to the door."

If adopted by the state it is to be effective until a federal program of memployment insurance is launched.

The decision to start this campaign was reached following a tour of Herbert Benjamin, national organizer of the Unemployed Councils to this territory. A meeting on Sept. 23 in this city, addressed by Benjamin was attended by 1,200 people.

Previously a meeting was held of the Central Federation at which Benjamin spoke. After a lengthy discussion the decision was reached unanimously to affiliate with the Unemployed Councils.

I take for granted all true Communists have a very deep hatred for the Capitalist class. I am judging, by the way I feel. The greatest desire in my life has been to change this capitalist system into a Communist Govern-ment where things are called by their right names and there is justice for all. I also have a son who wishes to join the Communist Party.

Now as to my Communist activity Last fall I was a Communist Part Presidential Elector in Missouri, 14th Congressional District. I used a petition to get names so we could have a Communist ballot out in this state for Communist literature. I also had tent, as per your suggestion. I also think we should be more bold about letting people know we are reds. Being a red is something I am proud of and I hope in the near future I can be a member of our great party, then I will be a real Communist and not just a sympathizer. This is a small town in a farming community and there are no labor organizations here. There were only seven Communist votes in this county last election.

I hope you publish this letter in the Daily Worker, as I think there are thousands of communists like myself who would and will join the Party if they have an opportunity, and are only holding back because it seems so difficult to get into the

A Cross-Section

Letters from readers are always a most interesting part of a paper. The workers correspondence movement has proved to be one of the mightiest forces of Socialist construction in the Soviet Union.

I wish the Daily Worker could print many more letters every day They have to be edited down to the bone, of course, for reasons of space, but the thing would be worth doing. What a cross section of the real mind of the masses such a symposium becomes, often better than the work of the trained reporter.

If there was more room in this column I should print many such letters. But hree are just a few. They have been brutally chopped down to fit inside the non-elastic column lines:

Of Course We Agree

"Communists talk about the completer equality of men and women. Why deny it in practise? We fight against racial discrimination. What about discrimination against women, within and without the party? Of course it is a problem to draw a worker into active party life if his wife is opposed? So isn't it the job of the party to try to draw her in? To explain why she should fight this rotten system that enslaves women?"-Helen Hayes, Washington, D. C.

"Whether it makes you feel better or not, I must say your column and Dr. Luttinger's are to me very educational and sometimes entertaining. Keep it up, because through your articles I have made many new contacts for the Daily, and you and I and the rest of us want to make our Daily Worker always stronger and stronger."-Ray, Bklyn., N. Y. Can It Be True?

"Like you I'm getting disgusted with the radio. Mooing crooners and Nira yodelers, blatant jazz nad futile beauty-hints make the radio almost useless as an instrument of culture and enjoyment. There is only one speaker I have listened to with any degree of satisfaction. Station WARD Brooklyn runs a series of weekly broadcasts on books Wednesday mornings at 10:15 a.m. Paul Kaminsky, who speaks, has on innumerable occasions criticized the NRA, capitalists, the Socialist Party, etc. I can assure you it was a surprise and pleasure to hear him coming over the air. I feel he should be encouraged; if he's not the real thing, maybe he should be shown up. I wish you had a Radio Editor to guide me."-Irving Pinchuk, Brooklyn,

Not Many Such Cops!

"Your column is real gold to me. Your article on Jim Larkin reminds me of a meeting with him during the war. It was in Brooklyn, at Willoughby avenue. How Jim laid it out to them, the place was jammed, police inside and out. Listening to the conversation of two police. I heard one say, "By gust, he can talk; Jim's a fine lad and you know, he's damn right about the war." The truth had hit home. Greeting to you and the cause we work for.-Nordika, an old timer and grandmother, Waco, Texas.

What A Sorehead

"You were raised on the East Side of New York and I was raised in the Michigan Copper country-part of the time across from the gas house, boiler factory, coal dock, etc. And another part of the time from the smelts, wire mills and sawmill. Previous to that a stone quarry, also I put in several years at the General Motors hellholes here in Flint. 'So I guess that makes us both intellectuals. There may be something wrong in me but I can't get the local Communist crowd to use me for anything. I must look educated or something. Anyway, I'm glad to see there is somebody in the movement wise enough to get out a good agitational sheet. I hope they won't slam down on it, I mean the present thug government. I am a sorehead, but am really delighted to see that the Daily has made the necessary turn."-Bert de Vriendt, a sympathizer, Flint, Mich.

Must We Always Explain Poetry?

Say, what d'ye mean by that Pittsburgh poem? Every steel organizer in the district is wondering what you're driving at, let alone the several thousand new members of the Steel worker's union. It's true the steel organizers are run down from overwork, but not yet ready to kick off, especially with hundreds signing up for the union every day, and some successful strikes. Why can't you write simply, like Arthur Brisbane?"-Jim Allander, Pittsburgh, Pa.

No. It Was Another Mike

"I liked that jazz poem. I read it to my gang of six giddy, scrappy boys and girls whom I'm trying to wean away from capitalist bunk. They liked it, but still prefer Robert Burns. Say, 32 years ago, comrade I boxed another Mick Gold in Johannesburg, South Africa. Maybe a nephew of yours, eh, what? as he came from New York. The best of luck .- A. S., Los Angeles.

Boring Within the Church

"We who want Communism have a great stake in the organized religions of the status quo. Why? Great masses are there, yes, the most influential part of the masses, by far. If we are wise and truly scientific we will organize to penetrate those mass-churches. All those who honestly and consciously take some stock in a true non-sectarian spirit of religion ought to organize to drive out the blind leaders of the blind and those who make a business of religion. For the sake of the oppressed masses, let us sing with them, pray with them, and as sure as the light overcomes darkness, the truth that is in us will light up those strongholds of reaction. Show them their church is dominated by the selfish rich, show them the conditions of our iniquitous status quo. Teach them the living spirit of Communism."-William Geminden, Columbus, Ohio. How Whalen Smells

"The pain in my neck has increased rapidly since sweet-smeilig Whale'em flung his tailor-made elegance over the blue duck. In the saddle as NRA boss, he's roaring the old battle cry of "reds," arrested pickets, squawked, squeaked and squirmed. These four-flushing patriots with one hand deep in the treasury! It is a fantastic nightmare. But no tyranny can last forever. The day of tolerance is over. What we need is a good red-blooded hatred of bourgeois injustice, and a grim determination to wipe it off the earth. Machado went; Hitler will go; and maybe some day we can rid New York of tin boxes, moron mayors. and grafting Algers, But it will take a better man than La Guardia. I don't think a single Wall Street banker will vote against him. So what good is he to us workers? I'm for Fighting Bob Minor this year.-

T. G .- a worker-critic, Long Island. What Does It Mean?

"Can you decipher the following paragraph? Its title is, 'a theory of the action of the after-effects of a connection upon it.' It is an extract from a synopsis of a paper by the well-known psychologist, Edward L. Thorndike, in the program of the 41st annual meeting of the American Psychological Association, held here recently. But here it is for you to crack your jaws on: 'A satisfying after-effect which influences the connection whose after-effect it is does so by arousing what may be called the 'Yes' or 'O.K.' or 'confirming' reaction. This does not act either mystically or logically to strengthen the right or adaptive or useful connection or that connection which causes the after-effect in ques-Astor and "The Important Witness,"

No, it wasn't written by the inmate of an asylum nor is it a typographical error. It's the profound wisdom of an eminent bourgeois professor. # A Leader in the Great World Movement Bryn Mawr College Against War Comes to the United States for Women Workers

By H. W. L. DANA

(Author of "Social Forces in World Literature," etc., and formerly teacher of comparative literature at Harvard, Columbia and

During the World War, in the midst of the shrieking of shells, the rattle of machine-guns, and the bursting of bombs, a French Poilu in the trenches wrote a tremendous scorching demonstration of war. This was the book called "Le Feu" "Under Fire: the Journal of a Squad." It presents a terrific picture of soldiers who had given up trying to be themselves, who had given up thinking, and become brutes doing things they do not want to do.

The book was at once denounced by the military authorities who thought it criminal to tell such truths in war time. Yet the book spread like wild fire throughout France, was awarded the Goncourt Prize as the best French novel of the year, was translated into more than twenty languages, and achieved larger circulation than any book

International in Origin and Appeal The author of this book, Henri Barbusse, combined in himself the best traits of two races: the passionate oratory of his French father and the practical realism of his English mother. He was international not only by his origin but also in his appeal. Men in all countries felt a kinship with him. No one could have been better suited to lead the struggle against war.
Before the war, Barbusse had been sensitive writer of the naturalistic school of Zola, about whom he has just written a very interesting book. When the World War came, Barbusse gave up his writing and volunteered as an ordinary soldier in the 231st Regiment of Infantry. other soldiers, surprised to find this writer joining them voluntarily, soon welcomed him as one of themselves. Three times he fell sick. Three times he was invalided home. Three times he returned to the front. He emerged from the war, decorated for bravery and promoted to the rank of lieutenant, but terribly lacerated in body and soul and filled with burning desire to carry on to the end

It was the "far-sighted wisdom of President Roosevelt that the "militant" Norman Thomas found the outstanding political development of the current situation. And it was in this way that the Socialist "miltants" who like to think of themselves as being close to real revolu-tionary policy, began their conference-with exalted praise of the most cunning representative of the capit alist class that has been in the White House for a long time.

And then the third, and final note of the "Militant" conference was struck by the statement by Darlington Hoopes, who attacked the Soviet Union's Socialist victories in Agriculture by declaring, "Collectivization there has failed.'

So between fulsome praise of Roosevelt as a "far-sighted leader," as-saults on the Communist Party, and against the Soviet Union, "Militant" conference leaders wavered back and forth deliberately, evading all attempts to make them define either their purpose or alleged political differences that are supposed to separate them from the "Old Guard" whom they presumably fight

The Bulgarian Communist leader forced Vogt to admit that on April 1, long before he had even ques-tioned Dimitroff, Popoff or Taneff, he had issued a press statement implicating the Bulgarian Communists with van der Lubbe in the Reichstag fire plot.

Vogt tried to evade the question at Vogt tried to evade the question at first, and the indignant Bulgarian Communist shouted at him: "Answer 'Yes' or 'No!" Presiding Judge Buenger tried to shield Vogt, saying: "This court is not the place to crossexamine a judge." He then asked Dimitroff what the object of his qustion was, and the Bulgarian leader coolly answered:

"It it my purpose to show that Vogt's examination was prejudiced."

Buenger shouted: "Dimitroff, shut up!" but he was compelled to put Dimitroff's question to Vogt himself, and the latter, his face reddening, Dimitroff then asked whether Vogt hadn't sent a statement to the press that the three Bulgarian defendants were the ones who had burned the Cathedral in Sofia, Bulgaria, in 1925. Vogt admitted that such a notice had been issued but claimed that it hadn't come from him.

Dimitroff's further protests were stopped by a policeman seizing him and forcing him down into his seat. A general tumult spread through the courtroom, and the five red-robed udges, totally unable to silence Dimitroff's accusations, filed out of the Vogt's testimony, instead of bol-stering the Nazi case, resulted in a result of Dimitroff's brilliant crossexamination. He left the stand completely flustered, after his widely advertised "proofs" had been punctured miserably

Gang, Under Fascist Swastika, Tortures Western Farm Organizer
