COMMUNIST, SOCIALIST, A. F. of L. WORKERS! - RALLY IN SOLIDARITY WITH THE AUSTRIAN TOILERS AGAINST FASCIST REACTION!

Tonight, at 7 P. M. sharp, New York workers from hundreds of organizations will fill the huge Bronx Coliseum, 177th St. and West Farms, the Bronx, in a mighty demonstration of solidarity with the heroic Austrian workers who have taken to the barricades in their desperate struggle against fascism. This mass meeting, called by the Central Committee and the N. Y. District of the Communist Party of the United States, will rally all the working class forces in the city in a huge united front mobilization against fascism and war. Socialist workers, A. F. of L. workers, toilers of all industries and those who are unemployed, are expected to jam the huge Coliseum in thousands, regardless of their political affiliations. New York workers, who have been stirred to profound sympathy and support by the splendid courage shown by their Austrian comrades in this historic battle, realize the crying need for powerful actions of solidarity such as the mass meeting tomorrow night. The situation in Austria will be taken up and discussed thoroughly by C. A. Hathaway, editor of the Daily Worker, and Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist Party, U.S.A. Charles Krumbein will act as chairman; James W. Ford will also speak. The speakers will give a political analysis and explanation of the situation, giving the background of the complicated events in all of Europe as well as in Austria. The meeting tomorrow night must be an expression of the world-wide struggle against war and fascism, which the Austrian workers are fighting with their very lives. All Party members of New York are called on to report to their section headquarters at 7 p.m. tonight, where leaflets in preparation for the Coliseum meeting will be available for distribution, Every unit member, every reader of the Daily Worker-on the job! Fighting solidarity with Austria's embattled workers is the crying need of the hour!

The social democratic and Communist workers are jointly conduct-ing a heroic struggle which will play a powerful role in the greatest days of the liberation struggle of the pro etarian class.

At Heavy Odds

At the present hour it is not yet clear who will remain victor in these struggles, the Austrian working class led from defeat to defeat by the social democratic leaders, fighting in this situation where heavy disadvantages make this struggle tremendously difficult. In this hour, the hour of bloody struggle, where the lives of workers, women and hildren, are being destroyed by the bullets of a class trembling for its profits and its power, in this hour the workers of the world must recognize which road is the correct one, the road of social democracy in Austria and Germany, which led the working 1918 into Fascist dictatorship, or the road of the Communists, who in all countries of the world are molding the workers together into an uncom promising struggle against the bour-geoisie and show the road to power -that power which brought abou the historical successes of the Soviet Union, where the Bolsheviks seized power, destroyed counter-revolution and are building up socialism.

In this hour there is not a single nonest worker in the other countries who, in his thoughts, is not among the fighters, who would not wish to fight with a rifle in his hands side by side with the Austrian workers against Fascist barbarism. In this hour, there is not a single honest worker who does not uunderstand that the struggle of the Austrian workers is the big proletarian pre-liminary skirmish of the European workers for the destruction of fascist-capitalist reaction and domina-

Among a mass of other vile con-ditions revealed at the hearing, a systematic Jim-Crow system against Negro cab drivers was disclosed.

"It is a fact," said Samuel Orner, a driver, "that, although we're north of the Mason and Dixon line, discrimination and Jim-Crowism against colored hackmen prevails in New York's taxi industry."

He declared that, until recently, only green-colored cabs were given to Negro drivers, in order to enable company inspectors and passengers to know that a Negro was driving the car. "At the garages," Orner to Negro drivers. When a Negro hackmen does get a cab, he is forced to bring in a definite sum at the end of his shift. Sometimes he has to make it up out of his day's tips, and at other times he even has to put out his own money, if he has it."

The existence of this Jim-Crowism evidently gave the former S. P. judge

Some Interesting Letters

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—"In reference to your column of Jan. 31, where you say that books are too expensive for workers to buy, may I tell you how a group of workers to which I belong has solved this problem:

"There are about 25 of us who want to study more about the class struggle, and books being so expensive we were in a dilemma. But finally we hit on the idea that if each of us paid a small sum weekly into a common fund, enough would be accumulated after a while to buy another book. This has continued until now we own a small but wellselected library. By this method we have been able to read books otherwise

"I believe thousands of other workers in the same category could club together and do the same thing. It could be done in the shops, mills, social and athletic clubs, neighborhood centers, wherever workers gather "Yours for more proletarian readers,

"LESTER CROSS."

A Swell Idea

A NSWER: This is a splendid idea, and most certainly should be followed up. The workers ought to develop their own local initiative on such things. The reading circle among scattered groups of workers was really the first means by which the revolution struck its roots in the soil of Czarist Russia. These reading circles were illegal, but in America there are still no laws against reading books that tell the truth about capitalism.

Let us have hundreds of proletarian reading and study groups. Don't wait for someone to organize it for you; organize it yourself with five or six friends. The only way to get things done is to do them. You don't need a functionary to direct everything you do; that's the way bureaucracy lies. Every member an organizer is still a good one.

Also on Literature

BOSTON, Mass..."That was a good job you, did telling workers what to read. There are thousands of isolated workers all over the country who will be Communists sooner or later, and whose only contact now is through literature. It is important to find them, to speak to them, to bring them in. I wish you would review some of the fine pamphlets put out by the International Publishers, such as Civil War in the Taiga, etc. These are real adventure stories of our class. I have given some of these to 12 year old boys and they were so enthusiastic they got their parents to read them."-Jones, District Literature Committee.

NSWER: These pamphlets you mention are very thrilling. Written with A genuine artistry by workers who participated in these dangers, they have the suspense of the best kind of detective story, with our class viewpoint an organic part of the story. Yes, these are worth reading; but I wish we had more American stories by workers as good as these. Why are so many of our American pamphlets so statistical, and technical, as if they were written by research men for other researchers?

Just a Postcard

OS ANGELES, Cal.—"Somewhere in your writings you say Mark has said somewhere that the proletariat will have to have as much as 10 per cent of the bourgeoisie with them to carry on a successful revolution. Well, the morning the Blue Eagle went into vogue I said, holy gee, was Mike dreaming when he made that statement? The way they fell for it! There wasn't one-half of 1 per cent to choose from-even the peanut vendors fell for it. Mark did say this: the proletariat will not ask the bourgeoisie what they want to do, the bourgeoisie will do what they are compelled to do. Fraternally, one of Doc Luttinger's Weary Willies .- A NSWER: But some of the booboisie are now beginning to suspect the A Blue Eagle of being just another capitalist buzzard. It's true it takes twice as long to educate the educated. But they are not hopeless and we can and must win that 10 per cent. They are necessary in the transition period, until we can educate a new generation of Communist intellectuals.

What Does She Want?

VEWANEE, III .- "We can never escape evil by "hating" it, or destroy it by violence of thought or emotion. The standard of morality for all humanity has got to be raised. I am perfectly sure the struggle-for-existence has been 'transferred to the psychic plane.' You've said we didn't have to worry about our souls, but we simply can't escape our souls. In your calm moments, when you have a breath of leisure for something beside your legitimate work and researches, ponder on the other line of thoughtthe metaphysical, the 'mystic' side; if you possibly can, investigate some of the cults like 'New Thought.' Love is stronger than hatred, goodness superior to evil. Metaphysics also contains the idea that since the spiritual is superior to the material, some day Man wil learn how to exist without food. Meanwhile, in my own psychic way, I believe that Communism is the first grand step to a spiritualized world, and entirely worth dying for,-better yet, to live for. But Ma says I should not write you about metaphysics-it might throw you out of your stride."-Cornbett

Listen, Wild Eyes!

A NSWER: I have received several such letters from New Thoughters.

Also I once lived for two years in California, and am thoroughly familiar with the spirits. Listen, Wild Eyes, have you ever been in a big strike? Take your theories out on a picket line for a cold week or two. "Love" a few gunmen and cops, maybe, or the Steel Trust. See what happens and come back and report to us as to how your methods succeeded in winning a strike. Maybe it is true that we can kiss capitalism to death. But I doubt it; and I doubt that man will ever be able to live without food. This is a capitalist idea, anyway; and some of the unemployed are starting to dispute it. I would suggest to all people still bothered by these foolish metaphysical cults which are merely a disguised form of the old theologies, that they give up all theorizing for a year or two and do some practical work for the Revolution. It is only in action that one learns what the world is like. The rest is fantasy. The working class cannot afford to deceive itself with such pipe-dreams. Its dreams are of the earth, and are more beautiful and mighty than all this vaporizing, just as any rose is more wonderful than the poems written about it. Besides, the occult in philosophy leads to fascism in politics. Did you ever think of that, sister?

"Indeed," I said, embarrassed. 'My wife is sleeping. Give me your suitcase. We will leave it here and go out for a cup of

"I'd do anything for a cup of coffee, but it just did not occur to me at the station," Lenin said.

We left the hotel, only to find the whole of the Rive Gauche empty, Everywhere the shutters were up. "Listen here, Vladimir Hyich, just a few steps from here there lives a young artist, Aronson, a master sculptor, who has already won a name for himself. I know that he begins work frightfully early. He won't begrudge us a cup of coffee."

We dropped into the sculptor's workshop, where some new master-piece, copies of which would find their way all over the world, could always be seen. Our host prepared coffee for us. Vladimir Ilyich smacked his lips, buttered the roll and began to eat. He was ly hungry after the train

Aronson took a view of Lenin that was at once politically naive and rich in meaning. Aronson, a Jew-ish democrat, hated absolutism. He regarded Lenin, before all things, as the embodiment and the leader of the Revolution which dashed the monarchy to pieces. For this he was grateful to Lenin. As a democrat he felt proud of him, but as a peace-loving artist whose field was culture he was terrified of Lenin, the mighty

He was well aware that Lenin had not stopped at abolishing absolutism, that the Revolution connected with his name had dashed capitalism to pieces, proclaiming a feasible transition to the kingdom of justice.

Aronson frequently told me that he placed Lenin along with Moses and Jesus, for Lenin too, loved human beings with a passionate superhuman love, loved also that justice in which alone men can achieve happiness and realize their worth "But Lenin," the artist would say, "stands higher than the prophets of the past because instead of predicting things he achieved them, being a merciless destroyer and a

The huge forehead, executed with anatomical precision, was full of thought, at once weighing things and drawing conclusions. The eyes looked penetratingly into the distance. While the lower part of the face revealed exceptional resolution, Aronson gave an unexpected softness to the mouth and lips. The mouth itself and the parts of the face near the corners of the eyes and the mouth ex-pressed a quality of compassion and enormous tragic love covered this to their surprise and dismay. And world its eyes nor its ears to the approach of the world revolutionary army, and in the tread of the workers of Vienna it hears the sounds of the first battle of the era which swiftly opens before us-the era of wars and

Once again, the battle cry of the working class, so terrible to the ears of the bourgeoisie, rings powerfully and magnificently throughout the world: "Workers of the World Unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains, and a world to gain." Can anyone read of the events in Vienna without being shaken to the depths? The bourgeoisie and their hirelings grow pale and tremble. The working class and the toiling masses, all haters of fascist reaction, feel the irresistible heroism of proletarian power. The workers of the world see the flames of Vienna. And they will rise to answer the call. "The civilization and justice of the bourgeois order," wrote Marx in his scorching manifesto on the Paris Commune, "comes out in its lurid light whenever the slaves of that order rise against their masters. Then this civilization and justice stand forth as un-disguised savagery and lawless revenge." With the blood of the Vienna proletariat are the fascist gangs of the Dollfuss regime writing this truth.

It is the incalculably significant fact that, in the very fire of battle, is being welded the triumphant unity of the working class, that precious unity which has for so long been split and betrayed by the leaders of Social-Democracy busy forming "temporary" coalitions with the bourgeoisie.

Socialist and Communist workers, brothers and comrades in the class struggle against capitalist exploitation and oppression, clasp hands at last-on the barricades. From this day, nothing will ever again break that bond, the bond of class.

The proletariat of Austria has finally broken the chains of its Social-Democratic leaders, the chains which bound its power and paralyzed it, while fascism steadily grew strong. The latest reports disclose the following sentiments uttered by embattled workers on

"We have been deserted by our leaders. It is fortunate for them that they are in prison." Such is the fury and bitterness of the Austrian working class, now awake to the infamy of the Otto Bauers, the Seitzes, the Adlers. And the working class of the world cannot but share in their emotions.

Too long has the working class been divided, its strength sundered and dissipated by the leaders of Social-Democracy, who chained the masses to the capitalist State machine with the false and rotten blandishments of bourgeois democracy. Too long have the Otto Wels', the Vanderveldes, the Kautsky's, the Noskes, the Scheidemanns, and the Norman Thomases deceived the Social-Democratic workers into submission to capitalism, blinding them with the illusion of the "peaceful road to Socialism."

Too long have the Social-Democratic leaders placed a wall between the class brothers and comrades, the Socialist and Communist workers, warning them, in their shameless loyalty to capitalism, against cementing the proletarian united front in every-day class struggle against the ruling class.

Now, the immense ocean of working class solidarity has swept this wall aside. Now, the Socialist and Communist workers are finding their common unity again-in struggle, in heroism.

As the smoke of the Paris Commune lifted, disclosing the streets of Paris littered with the bodies of the massacred proletariat, Marx wrote, speaking of the revolutionary struggle of the world proletariat:

"THE SOIL OUT OF WHICH IT GROWS IS MODERN SOCIETY ITSELF. IT CANNOT BE STAMPED OUT BY ANY AMOUNT OF CARNAGE. TO STAMP IT OUT, THE GOVERNMENT WOULD HAVE TO STAMP OUT THE DESPOTISM OF CAPITAL OVER LABOR-PRECISELY THE CON-DITION OF ITS OWN PARASITICAL EXISTENCE." This is the guarantee of our victory.

OUT of its bitter experience, having tasted its fruits, with the Social-Democratic leaders' pleading for reliance on bourgeois democracy as the road to Socialism, the workers of Vienna, of Austria, have finally rejected with true proletarian wrath the path of bourgeois democracy as the path to Socialism, the path onto which they were led by their Social-Democratic

lead to the overthrow of the hideous capitalist dictatorship. It is the road of the Communist International, the road that leads to the smashing of the bourgeois State and the establishing of Soviet power, of the Proletarian Dictatorship. It is the road long ago laid down by the immortal founders of the First PUBLISHED DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY, BY THE International, Marx and Engels, when they declared: COMPRODAILY PUBLISHING CO., INC., 34 East 13th

"The Commune was compelled to recognize that the working class, once come to power, cannot carry on business with the old State machine; that in order not to lose its newly-won supremacy, the working class must smash the old repressive machinery of the State . . . and set up the dictatorship of the proletariat."

It is the road of Lenin, who led the October Revolution, and showed the road to the toiling masses of the modern world, oppressed by world imperialism.

The working class everywhere strives for unity against fascism, for unity in struggle. Side by side in the daily struggle this unity is being forged. The proletariat of Austria and Germany show the road. It is a road that we, here in this country, must and will follow. Eternal honor to the workers of Austria! Socialist fellow workers, united we go forward in revolutionary struggle for the overthrow of the bourgeois dictatorship! "Every proletariat must settle with its own bourgeoisie," Marx taught us. The spirit of Marx, Engels and Lenin, the spirit of the Paris Commune, of the Communist International leads us! Forward to Soviet power! Forward to proletarian dic-

United Action in Solidarity men's Circle, Slovenian National Alliance, German Sick Benefit Society, A. F. of L. locals and Bohemian So-With the Austrian Workers

THE Austrian workers, fighting heroically against ter-rific odds to drive back fascist reaction, must have the united support of the international working-class if they are to win. Deserted by the Social-Democratic leaders, who month after month have aided Dollfuss in his efforts to demoralize and disarm them, the Socialist and Communist workers are unitedly making a last desperate stand against the fascist blood-hounds.

Already in bloody barricade battles they are facing the combine forces of black reaction within Austria. The foreign armies of Italian and German fascism, and the equally reactionary forces of imperialist France, are concentrating on the Austrian borders. All the counter-revolutionary forces of Europe are preparing to stamp out the Austrian revolution in

In such a situation immediate and decisive action was and is necessary to rally the broadest international working-class support for our struggling Austrian comrades. The bloody hand of fascist reaction must be stayed. Mass support must be rallied for these heroic anti-fascist fighters.

THE Communist Party of the United States, without delay, recognized its responsibility to the Austrian working-class. It immediately sprang to action. Demonstrations were called throughout the country, mass meetings are being organized.

Tens of thousands of additional copies of the Daily Worker were printed and circulated in the factories, calling upon the workers for solidarity action

In all of the activity of the Communist Party, the fundamental slogan was the unity of all workers, Communist, Socialist, A. F. of L., and non-Party workers, in solidarity with the revolutionary workers of Austria. It was to unite the ranks of the American workers in the struggle against fascism and against the danger of war brought closer by the Austrian events, that the Communist Party undertook to rally the workers.

It addressed its calls to the workers of all Parties, to workers of all union affiliations, and particularly to the Socialist workers. The Communist Party stands unshakeably for a united mass movement that will sweep the entire country in support of the Austrian revolution and the world struggle against fascism and

The Communist Party did not wait to negotiate with action. It undertook, as a first step, to rally the workers in the streets before every Austrian Consulate in VESTERDAY representatives of the Student League I for Industrial Democracy, of the Young People's Socialist League and of the League for Industrial Democracy called the Communist Party national office on the phone and proposed one united demonstration in New York City. The Communist Party immediately, and without question, agreed. We invited them to meet immediately to work out the joint arrangements. The Special Edition of the Dafly Worker, which was run off at noon yesterday, was held for half an hour to carry the joint appeal of this committee and of the Communist Party.

It must be said to the credit of the young comrades of the L. I. D. and the Y. P. S. L. that they readily agreed on proposals for joint action. A joint statement was drafted and set in type. The edition of the paper was already to go to press with this joint appeal for a united demonstration at 4:30 yesterday afternoon at the Austrian Consulate. Suddenly an alien hand was felt in the negotiations. A representative of the City Committee of the Socialist Party, Jack Altman, intervened. He met with the representatives of the Y.P.S.L. and L.I.D. in a room provided by us in our headquarters. And under the pressure of this City Committee representative, these young comrades, who wanted unity, were forced to agree to withdraw the joint appeal for united action.

The appeal at the last minute had to be pulled out of the special edition just before it went to press. The Communist Party sees in this another act branding the leaders of the Socialist Party as the barriers in the e:ort to unify the workers in the struggle against fascism and war, in the struggle to support the heroic Austrian workers.

THE Communist Party again declares its complete adherence to the policy of united front. We want unity of the masses, effective unity, based on the principes of the class struggle against the assault of the bosses on the workers' living standards, against the reactionary drive toward Fascism, against the closely approaching imperialist war.

The Communist Party knows, and this act of the representative of the City Committee of the Socialist Party proves, that the Socialist leaders are barriers to effective unity,-a barrier that must be hurdled by the honest rank and file workers who desire united

The Socialist and Communist workers are fighting and dying together on the barricades in Austria doesn't this, comrades, of the Socialist Party, prove the need for unity here?

Comrades of the Socialist Party! Workers of the American Federation of Labor! All workers! The need is urgent. Events are developing at a rapid tempo. Revolutionary struggles are developing everywhere War is closely approaching! Close your ranks! Decare your solidarity with the Austrian workers, with the workers everywhere, fighting against fascist reaction, against Imperialist War, for the Defense of the Soviet Union.

Mass Meeting Called in Brownsville: Fight Must Be Redoubled

NEW YORK.—Word of programs of struggle against war and against the Roosevelt campaign of jingoism continues to come in from various parts of the country. Mass meetings are called, broad distribution of leaflets exposing "National Defense Week" arranged.

Workers in many cities and towns have taken action in addition to those which are reported in today's Daily Worker. But the work must be pressed at a far greater rate still.
"National Defense Week" must be made the occasion for the broadest exposure in meetings, demonstrations, and in trade unions, in the shops and mines, of the tremendous prepara-tions for war which are going on in the name of "defense," and "arming for peace."

WAUKEGAN, III.—The Section
Committee of the Communist Party and the Waukegan North Chicago Branch of the Socialist Party issued a joint call for a local conference against war and fascism to take place Sunday, Feb. 25, 2:30 p.m., at Slovenic Hall, 10th and McAlister, Waukegan,

The call is signed by H. Erickson for the Communist Party and by J. J. Cerk, for the Socialist Party. The call is issued to all working class organizations in Waukegan and declares in part, that "the sharpening aggressive policy of Japanese imperialism creates a danger of war and intervention against the Soviet Union. The greatest naval race in history is now on between the U. S., England

In calling for a struggle against war, the call declares that the task of all working class organizations is to unite their forces and to arouse the masses "within each country for active struggle against the war policies of their own imperialist gov-
