500 Drug Clerks Plan Strike for Recognition By Store Proprietors

NEW YORK-More than 500 drug clerks in Bronx retail drug stores will be affected by a strike called for Friday morning by the Pharmacists Union of Greater New York, it was said yesterday by officers of the union.

The pharmacists and clerks will demand recognition of their union, and a minimum $35 wage for a maximum 54-hour week. In most retail stores the current pay is $18 to $20 for a week ranging from 65 to 70 hours.

Many individual owners have already signed contracts granting all three of the demands. The union has rejected an offer from the Pharmaceutical conference of $20 for a 54-hour week. The Pharmacists Union yesterday called on all workers and sympathetic organizations to assist in strike by sending volunteer

Garrison Tells of Secret Deal of Olander with Owners

By Marguerite Young (Daily Worker Washington Bureau)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2 .-Recognizing waterfront strike sentiment at present still sufficient to result in paralysis, a complete tiethe Atlantic and Gulf coasts," Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison, of the National Labor Relations Board, today announced that leaders of the International Seamen's Union (A. F. of L.) have secretly agreed with shipowners to withdraw heir Oct. 8 strike call.

Garrison voluntarily pointed out, owever, that strike preparations are oing right ahead under the leadership of the Joint Strike Prepararine Workers Industrial Union, I. S. U. rank and file and other seamen's representatives. The Roose-velt "Labor Relations" official deined to predict how many of the S. U. membership would accept the no-strike agreements. Asked what he thought would be the next development, he merely said:

"The shipowners didn't agree to anything specifically," Garrison said when asked about the seamen's strike demands. They merely promised to "negotiate" with the I. S. U., he added. Asked what his own scouts have told him about strike sentiment at the present moment, he said:

> Shipowners Like Olander Garrison explained that Victor J.

Olander, secretary treasurer of the I. S. U., "made an excellent impression personally on the shipowners in secret conferences in New York last week and yesterday.

Thus the no-strike agreement was reached. He admitted frankly that these negotiations took place after government scouts found the rank and file of seamen ready to strike virtually solid. In multiple protestations that he "didn't go to New York to 'sell' the I. S. U. to the shipowners." Garrison actually gave away the fact that must be obvious to every rank and file seamanthat the I. S. U. used the strikesentiment of its own men to get the "negotiation" promise and thus defeat the men's demands.

"Den't you know that the M. W. I. U. has from 8,000 to 10,000 m bers on the East coast, and the

GREEN AND THE MANUFACTURERS HAIL 'TRUCE'

ROOSEVELT'S proposal for an "industrial truce" has been hailed by "capital and labor" in the form of enthusiastic statements by William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, and the gendemen of the National Association of Manufac-

They both see in this proposal the opportunity to achieve their purposes.

William Green, speaking in the name of the A. F. of L. bureaucracy, pledges that he will attempt to bind the A. F. of L. unions to the Roosevelt system of "arbitration of labor disputes," if the employers will "pledge to do the same."

And the Manufacturers Association, representing big industrial capital, welcomes the Roosevelt proposal, if "labor" will agree to "maintain the status quo.'

What is the situation here? Why does Roosevelt act now for "truce" and why do the A. F. of L. bureaucrats and the Manufacturers Association respond to this proposal as they do? The answer is this. Roosevelt and the employers realize that they face the biggest strikes in the country's history, particularly in basic industry, in marine, steel, auto, rubber. They are aware that the conditions of the workers in these industries, constally where the N.R.A. labor boards succeeded in breaking strikes earlier in the year.

-AN EDITORIALare becoming altogether intolerable. They know that the N.R.A. has brought the workers to a position where they are ready to strike against the intensifying misery which the N.R.A.-Roosevelt program has brought them.

Therefore, Roosevelt steps in now to ward off these strike movements by means of his "truce," attempting to play the part of a neutral force in the struggle between capital and labor, urging "both sides to mediate their disputes" before resorting to the "older weapons of industrial dispute." Actually, of course, this "truce" is of the greatest advantage to the employers, who thus get the government protection against the resistance of the

. . WHAT does William Green mean by his proposal to pledge acceptance if the "employers promise to obey the law," that is, the rulings of the Roosevelt Labor Board? He means that the bureaucracy of the A. F. of L. is willing to pledge their unions to a no-strike agreement if the employers will recognize them as the union representatives of the workers in the basic industry. The A. F. of L. leadership is thus bargaining with the employers, offering a no-strike agreement in return for the emoluments and dues that will come with the recognition of the bureaucracy in the basic industries

The employers, on the other hand, are not quite ready to accept the A. F. of L. leaders in the basic industry, in steel, for example. They are fearful that these leaders are no longer capable of holding back the workers from mass struggle. That is why the employers are willing to accept Roosevelt's "truce" plan only on the basis of the "status quo," that is, on the basis of present conditions for the workers, and an avoidance of outright recognition of the A. F. of L. bureaucracy in the basic industry. They prefer as yet to work through company

These are the maneuvers going on around the Roosevelt "truce" plan. In reality, of course, all three, Roosevelt, the employers, and the A. F. of L. officials, admit and agree on the main purpose of the plan-to stop the rising strike wave. It is only on the precise method of doing it that they disagree. Their disagreements are only on how to break the resistance of the workers.

IT IS clear what this plan means to the workers. The employers have already demonstrated what they mean by the "status quo," a status quo which has been, under the last 18 months of the N.R.A., a continuous and ruthless drive against the wage levels of the workers and their conditions of work. Roosevelt has demonstrated what he means by "arbitration" in the strikebreaking in the steel, auto, and textile industries, sending the workers back every time without the slightest material concession in wages or conditions. And the A. F. of L. leadership is only seeking a face-saving device whereby it can restrain the workers from fighting for their welfare.

Roosevelt's "truce" can only mean the binding of the workers, while the employers continue to lower wages and intensify speed-up. For the American working class to accept this

'truce" is to accept new slashes in real wages, as

Rocsevelt's inflation sends the cost of living upward. It is to accept more degradation in conditions of work. It is to encourage the employers to proceed with their new offensive. The weapon of the strike cannot be handed over trustingly to the class enemy. On the contrary, now is just the time when the strike weapon becomes the sole bulwark between the workers and new misery. The Communist Party calls upon the workers in the trade unions, in the American Federation of Labor, to reject this treacherous Roosevelt "truce," and to organize themselves with greater determination than ever before in new mass struggles for bread, for decent conditions of work, for unemployment insurance, and for an end to the yoke of capitalist wage slaver;

IN ORDER that our readers may know the detailed truth of the financial situation of the Daily Worker we will publish two stories by the Daily Worker Management Committee, one on Friday and the other on Saturday.

The Management Committee will clearly reveal the exact status of the paper, the full story of income and expenditure, exactly where money received is spent. A full explanation will be given of the costs of publication of the three-edition Daily Worker, with the new eightpage New York "Daily." These stories will contain information of great interest to every revolutionary worker, every reader of the "Daily."

Murphy aroused suspicions from the very first by making exaggerated statements regarding his activities for the union in the J. & L. mill at Aliquippa. Therefore, real contacts in the mill were never disclosed to him, and by keeping a signed tasks the suspicions against him were confirmed.

His trial by the Steel and Metal Workers' Union resulted in his con-fession that he is a federal agent Ryan Truce Deal of 11 years standing, that he has been in Southern Illinois around 1931, and that he was among the deputies thrown out of a South Brownsville (Pa.) meeting, along with Sheriff Seaman, in 1933.

He also exposed the names of two other stool pigeons with whom he has been working, namely, George Butcher and Ed Monihan.

Murphy, like most stool pigeons had never learned to speak the language of the militant tradeunionists and revolutionary workbut merely mouthed exaggerated statements and phrases, which wed his real character.

The platform pretends strong opposition to the New Deal but makes no effective proposals for ending or alleviating the mass misery which it admits vaguely and uncertainly.

Unable to ignore the growing mass demands for unemployment insurance, the platform declares that 'we favor a system of unemployment reserves." It preserves the capitalist principle of making workers pay for the crisis by saying that such unemployment reserves (which have no provision for the illions now unemployed) should be contributed to by the workers in ndustry as well as the employers. The platform makes no mention of Federal responsibility for unem-

CHANGE

ANE usually has solemn thoughts walking up and down on the picket line. I did some of this thinking last week on the line of the Macauley strikers in New York, the first strike in a publishing house.

To begin with, there are cops around, unfriendly, hard-boiled cops with an automatic hate of strikers, even though the police forces always has some economic grievances of its own, and in at least one American city, Boston, once formed a trade union and went out on strike.

These cops glare at one. They are armed with blackjacks and guns, and unlike most human beings, really enjoy slaughter. This is because they feel secure most of the time, since they are going up against an unarmed enemy. So they glare, inviting a disturbance of

This makes one think a lot. It is really an education. But I was not thinking of that, but of the fact that some fifty authors were parading up and down on the sidewalks, draped with placards, and singing strike songs.

American authors were showing their solidarity with the stenographers, bookkeepers and office help who had struck against the brutal sweatshop methods the notorious Furman brothers were using in publishing "literature."

An Attack on Authors

ONE of our unesteemed contemporariés, Westbrook Pegler, the columnist for the "liberal" World-Telegram, has taken the occasion to utter his customary comment on these authors who went picketing. In effect, he says that most authors are self-inflated, vain folks, lower in actual technique than newspaper reporters, and that they should be grateful to the publishers who have invested money in them and boosted them to importance. Mr. Pegler doesn't care for authors, and he doesn't like strikers, but he sheds a bitter tear for the poor publishers. He has done this kind of thing before. His sympathies are invariably on the side of authority and power. A man who works for wages and is more tender of the interests of his employers than of the rights of his fellow-workers is of the true scab material.

There are Authors and Authors

QUT it isn't true that all authors are snobs or pompous asses, always anxious for publicity. It isn't true that a hundred authors walked the Macauley picket line out of personal motives, as Mr. Pegler seems

There are authors who are all that this columnist claims, bu they are probably the ones he knows best and with whom he fraternizes. Authors suffer from many occupational diseases forced upon them by the conditions under which they must work. Many of them are Behemian, irresponsible and vain, as are many actors and newspapermen, but that is because they have no secure status in a capitalist order. They alternately starve or feast; for years they are kicked around like homeless dogs, then perhaps a day comes of "fame," and then the slide downhill again. Give a man who has been starving for weeks a square meal and he is liable to an attack of dizziness and light-headedness. Many authors are newly rich and this is what makes them such vulgarians.

But what is happening today is that authors, like millions of other workers in America, have become socially conscious. They are shedding painfully many of their old trade diseases. They are marching in picket lines. They are not too proud to fight for the rights of the stenographers and bookkeepers who help publish their books. And they feel closer to these workers in their industry than to pennysqueezing, semi-literate speculators, like the Macauley bosses, who are the entrepreneurs of their talents.

It is the first time in American literature that large groups of authors, young and old, have been feeling this way. It means a great deal for America and its literary future. Like newspapermen, actors, engineers, architects and other professionals humiliated by the depression, the authors are beginning to realize their manhood. Books will be different after a few more years of this; and Mr. Pegler won't like

Investing One's Life

SO THESE were some of the thoughts I had on the picket line. But I was thinking also of the strike itself.

Many ignorant, comfortable and prejudiced people like Mr. Pegler like to picture every strike as a kind of schoolboy lark, or the expression of a bunch of bellyachers and soreheads. To him and his like it seems like an irresponsible whim that he cannot understand.

But every strike is a most serious affair, a matter of life and death. The people who engage in it live on wages, have children, have dependents, responsibilities to carry. They strike because they are pushed to the extreme. They endanger their lives and the lives of those they love only because they have been forced to. No worker ever enters a strike lightly.

Bosses invest money in an industry. But workers invest their lives. And it is these lives than mean, cockroach chisellers and big corporation chisellers tread underfoot like so much dirt.

The Macauley bosses, it is obvious, have a great contempt for those who run their profit-machine for them. They begrudged electric light to their slaves; they put in a speed-up; they cut wages whenever they thought they could get away with it. Even a union contract meant nothing to them. They signed the contract, as a result of an earlier strike, and then in a few months fired the active members of the union. These included a girl who has been their faithful bookkeeper for six years.

It offended them to feel that they had contracted to treat their workers like human beings. Didn't they own the business? Wasn't their money invested here? Why shouldn't they be able to kick anybody out overnight if they cared to? Who were these union people, anyway? Only workers-workers who would starve to death without a job.

But the strikers are putting up a brave fight for their union. They know what a union means. It means the first step in a human status for workers. And this is the first, white-collar strike in New York, which is a city of millions of white-collar workers. It deserves the hearty support of every worker and professional who values human beings above greasy dollars.

But Mr. Pegler sneers at authors who sympathize with such a strike. His job, evidently, is secure forever, if he can stave off the cirrhosis of the liver which usually finishes careers like his.

Mr. Pegler looks down on such authors as Malcolm Cowley, Louis Adamic, Kenneth Burke, Matthew Josephson, Edward Dahlberg, Tess Slesinger, Gilbert Patton, Albert Halper, Isidor Schneider, John L. Spivak, all of whom, and many others, have picketed in this strike. Mr. Pegler is a superior newspaperman, he says. His colleagues will not thank him, however, for such a defense. Many of the Newspaper Guild members have also been picketing along with the authors. They know there is no real conflict between two sets of workers, but that authors and newspapermen have a common front and a mutual enemy. Wait and see, Mr. Pegler.

Who Are the Real Criminals Behind The Lindbergh Baby Kidnapping Case?

Kidnapping Flourishes in Social Soil of Capitalism

By Si Gerson

ON THE night of March 1, 1932, the infant Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., was taken from his crib by some person whose identity to this day is unknown. From the Lindbergh home in the Sourland Mountains, near Hopewell New Jersey, there spread of thread of investigation which raveled it-self about thousands of miles across the United States, spanned the ocean and is unwinding itself in Leipzig, Germany, and the Bronx County Courthouse.

More ink has poured over the printing presses on this case than on any other criminal case in recent history. Whether for good or bad the Lindbergh case has be-come of social significance and must be discussed from this view-

The facts of the case, briefly, and in chronological order, are:

1. The child was kidnapped on the night of March 1, 1932, from its bedroom in the Lindbergh house The nurse discovered that the child was gone at about 10 that evening A ladder near the bedroom window and a ransom note were the only clues left by the abductor. 2. Upon notification of the police a man-hunt the like of which the country had never seen began. The New Jersey state police, the Federal Department of Justice, the New York city police and the gendarmerie of every state in the union went on the trail of the kidnappers. 3. In despair the fruitless efforts of the police to recover the child, Lindbergh on March 5 hired two well-known underworld characters, Salvy Spitale and Irving Bitz, associates of the notorious "Legs"

by rival gangsters' bullets-to negotiate for the recovery of the child. Al Capone, emperor of gangland, offered his aid, a by no means inconsiderable factor. A seemingly unbeatable united front was formed. 4. Dr. John F. Condon, known as Jafsie," a retired Catholic teacher, entered the case at this time, serving as the go-between, making con-

Diamond-since hastened to his rest

5. On the night of April 2, Dr. Condon and Lindbergh went to St. Raymond's cemetery in the Bronx where Dr. Condon delivered $50,000 to the kidnapper and was informed that the child was on a ship off Martha's Vineyard, Massachusetts. The baby was, of course, not there. 6. On May 11, the body of the infant, in an advanced state of decomposition, was found by a local and be caught is bad. tact with the kidnappers.

7. After months of tracking down clues and using a veritable army of police agents, $14,590 of the ransom money was found a few days ago in the home of Bruno Haupt-mann in the Bronx. An investigation, the details of which are now commonplace, is under way. The issue has become the most talkedmovie vie with each other in publicizing the cause celebre.

The old Italian criminologist, Enrico Ferri, one of the first to be-gin to apply Marxian ideas to the question of crime, once said very well that

Its social roots run deep in the present capitalist society, a society divided into two great classes, owners and propertyless. "Thus Mr. Calverton disposes," writes Stork, "of 'Origin of the Family and Private Property," rep-resenting the result of the collaboration of Marx and Engels on the remarkable investigations of Morgan, which has become an invaluable heritage of modern social science. Seamen! Fight for Your Original Demands!

MICTOR OLANDER, secretary of the International Seamen's Union, and Lloyd Garrison, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, moved yesterday to head off the seamen's strike scheduled to begin next Monday. Without taking the matter before the rank and file, these gentlemen met in secret session with the shipowners and agreed to call off the strike without winning any concessions for the workers. The Joint Strike Preparations Committee, which was elected by the seamen to represent them, was not permitted to attend this meeting.

But statements from Olander and Grarison, who in no way represent the opinions of the men on the ships, are not sufficient to halt the tremendous strike movement that is sweeping along the entire Atlantic Coast. The rank and file will have the final word to say about this matter.

More than 17,000 seamen on ships touching Atlantic and Gulf ports are standing solidly behind the Joint Strike Preparations Committee, which has issued a call for the men to reject the Olander-Garrison betrayal and to strike the ships on Oc-

Thousands of members of the International Seamen's Union have signed strike pledge cards. Misleaders of the I.S.U. are attempting to scrap this mass pledge to fight for better conditions; they are trying to divide the seamen, to keep them from uniting in a solid united front behind the Joint Strike Preparations' Committee.

These misleaders are telling the seamen that they have won a victory without a strike. But wherein lies the victory? What has been won? Surely none of the demands that the men have pledged to fight for have been granted. All that the agreement calls for is a discussion of the demands in round table conferences between shipowners and I.S.U. officials. It was on this basis that A. F. of L. leaders betrayed the textile strike.

Demands have been presented time and time again to the shipowners. The shipowners have refused to grant these demands. There is no time now for discussion and round table conferences A general Atlantic Coast maritime strike is the order of the day. The strike is the only thing that will make the shipowners consider the demands.

When the seamen are on strike and when the ships lie idle at the docks-that will be the time for a conference with the shipowners, a conference where the seamen are represented by a rank and file committee elected by them and not by a few top leaders of the I.S.U.

The seamen are ready to strike. They must not allow themselves to be tricked and sidetracked away from the fight by the smooth statements of Olander, Brown and Artel. These men have proven themselves open agents of the shipowners, who are attempting to keep the seamen from winning their

Green on Fascism

WILLIAM GREEN, in his "keynote" speech to the American Federation of Labor Convention, once more proposes to surrender all of the demands of the workers into the hands of the employer-controlled Federal Government boards. Green highly praised President Roosevelt's speech in which a nostrike "truce" is proposed.

"Communism and fascism will never gain a hold in the United States," William Green declared, claiming to be in favor of "liberty and democracy." But William Green used his words against fascism. and his high-sounding phrases for the 30-hour week and against unemployment, as a cover for his deeds. The actions of William Green have, in reality, aided the development of fascism in the United

How Green fights "fascism and Communism alike" can be judged from the fact that Green had as an honored guest at the convention, Mayor Rossi of San Francisco, the fascist attacker of the San Francisco marine strikers. While Green was extolling the speech of the man whose police murdered strikers, he denied the platform to a delegate who wanted to report on a visit to the Soviet Union, the only land in the world where the workers rule. "You can't preach Communism here," Green said to Jack Geraghty, delegate from the Central Labor Union of Vallejo, Cal., who was sent by that body to the Soviet Union in a

Green's false slogan of "liberty and democracy"; his mention of fascism in the same breath with Communism, is an attempt to cover up his strikebreaking tracks.

What kind of "liberty" did Green advocate for the workers when he trounced the San Francisco general strike and remained silent regarding the murders of National Guard rtoops who shot down these strikers? What kind of "liberty" for the workers did Green advocate when he surrendered in silence their right to strike, to picket and to meet, when he remained silent while government armed forces were shooting down strikers in Toledo, Milwaukee, Alabama, and in the textile regions? Green watched the forces of the Roosevelt government tear these strikes to pieces without lifting a hand to mobilize the workers in support of the strikers.

It was "liberty and democracy" for company unions and for strikebreakers that Green furthered when he betrayed the steel, the auto and the textile workers' strikes to compulsory arbitration of the Roosevelt government. Green, together with the employers and the Roosevelt government, helped to found and became a part of the N.R.A. ma-

During the last year and a half every strike "settled" by the N.R.A. boards "arbitration" has resulted in defeat for the demands of the workers for higher wages, against the speed-up and for shorter hours and union recognition. Green and his lieutenants are responsible for these defeats. Green welcomes the increased government control of the trade unions. He allows the armed terror to break up picket lines without protest. By doing this, Green is helping the development of fascist trends in the United States.

Green mouths phrases about opposing fascism. But Green carries on a determined "red scare," attempting to drive all Communists, all militant fighters out of the trade unions. His red scare aims to split the unity of the workers' ranks, making it easier for fascism to drive in its wedge. At the same time that Green attacks rank and file trade union members, he is proud to have his vice president, Woll, function as acting president of the fascist, stool pigeon agency, the Civic Federation, which is doing its best to usher fascism into the

The rank and file in the A. F. of L., which is now holding a conference in San Francisco under the auspices of the Rank and File Committee for Unemployment Insurance and Relief, calls on the A. F. of L. members to repudiate Green's antilabor policies. They call on the workers to accept a united front struggle for all the elementary rights of the workers, to organize to strike and to picketfor the control of the trade unions by the rank and file—for a determined struggle for all the demands of the workers, and for the enactment of the Work-

Relief Tax Maneuvers

DROPOSALS for a wage tax at the flat rate of one per cent on all incomes above $1,500 a year and a rent tax are "under consideration" by the New York Board of Aldermen for financing unemployment

By a tax on incomes, carrying as it does exemption for unearned income from bonds and securities, and, by the same "democratic" principle, a flat tax rate on rents, the main weight of unemployment relief is placed upon the workers and the ower middle class.

Meanwhile, by carefully gauged newspaper propaganda a state of alarm is being created as a screen to force through the bankers' demand for a subway tax. LaGuardia's maneuvers behind the scenes and his more overt actions are schemed to loot the pockets of the workers and small taxpayer, the middle class and the small merchants.

While maneuvering to gouge the workers, La-Guardia has consistently refused to endorse the Workers' Unemployment Insurance Bill. While mouthing words about the "financial dictators" and the "strangling Bankers' Agreement," he guarantees the bankers their loot, prepares to line their pockets with interest on new loans, taxes the workers and slashes relief.

The Communist Uarty, in its election campaign and in the daily struggles of the employed and unemployed, demands the enactment of the Workers' Bill. demands adequate unemployment relief and sufficien' appropriations for Winter relief at the anse of the bankers and the wealthy. Answer LaGuardia at the polls as in the daily strugglesvote Communist! Fight for adequate relief at the

To the Active Fighters Against War and Fascism

VOU are candidates for membership in the Communist Party of the United States—if you are not yet a Party member.

Not every opponent of war and fascism is a Communist. Many of them do not yet realize that only from the platform of Communism can one wage a consistent fight against war and fascism, a fight to the end, to the victory of the proletarian revolution in the United States. But every active and leading worker in this struggle is ripe for membership in the Party. Now is the time to join. The recruiting drive of the Communist Party, initiated on October 1, raises this question with spe-

The Communist Party seeks to mobilize for the struggle against war and fascism the widest masses of workers, toiling farmers, youth, women, Negroes and intellectuals. Especially does the Party seek to build the strength of the League of Struggle Against War and Fascism among the workers in the shops of the basic industries. It is with this end in view that the Party participates in the League. The Second Congress of the League held in Chicago, September 28-30, shows that the mobilization of the masses is making serious progress.

Considerable numbers of capable and militant workers have come up from among the masses to take an active and leading role in the struggle against war and fascism. These non-Party actives in and around the local organizations of the League have seen for themselves the leading role of the Party in the League. They have seen the truth of the words of Dr. Harry F. Ward, National Chairman of the League, himself not a Party member,

"The group which can offer to this movement the most valuable suggestions concerning the program and tactics, which can offer the most dynamic active forces for carrying it out, will gain political activity out of it in this League, and they are entitled to do so."

This is the recognition of the role of the Communist Party from a man who has seen the Party at work and is therefore able to appreciate its value and significance.

In the leading role of the Party lies the reason why the active and leading elements in this movement should join the Party, and join it at once. These active elements must reflect upon the reason why the Communists are able to render such service and leadership to the movement. It is because the Communists are organized into a Party; because this Party is guided by the theory of Marxism-Leninism; because this Party is the American Section of the Communist International, led by Stalin. In short, the strength and value of the individual Communists in the mass movements of the workers and in the League of Struggle Against War and Fascism lies in their Party.

Workers! Actives in the anti-war movement! Answer the present recruiting drive of the Party by joining it. Members of the Party-those who are engaged in the work of the League of Struggle Against War and Fascism! Recruit your best co-workers and collaborators in this field of work into the Party.

But it is not only the political and trade union problems of New York which will be dealt with in the new paper. A third writer has been assigned to police headquarters, through which he will ollow up occurrences in every section of New York, uncovering little-known aspects of the suffering of the city's masses, aiding the Daily Worker to present the problems of the jobless and homeless. Delegations Invited Every single group has been urged to send such delegations. Trade union locals, Communist Party and Young Communist units, mass organization branches, workers' clubs and cultural and youth groups, women's councils—all have been invited to send representatives to the Central Opera House on Sunday night. These representatives should come prepared to contribute from their organization's funds to the support of the New York Daily worker. By doing this, they will be boosting New York's total in the present financial drive - a total which should reach the distrct's $30,000 goal rapidly if the many improvements planned by the paper are to be maintained. They will also show by their contributions that they mean to challenge seriously the lead which the out-oftown districts have piled up in the drive for $60,000.

The New York District of the Communist Party has issued a final call to working-class organizations to determine the amount of their contributions on Sunday night and to elect delegates who will report back to the members the plans which the Daily Worker has made to offer all workers of this city the most complete and improved Daily Worker ever issued.

'Fighting" Fascism By Expulsion of The Enemies of Fascism

MIS Britannic Majesty's official labor opposition leaders have their own peculiar way of "fighting" fascism. None of your rowdy, mass tactics, none of your crude mobilization of the working class to disturb England's quiet streets with howls and unseemly shouts against the fascists can be considered by these gentlemen who have worn his Majesty's

At the 34th annual conference of the British Labor Party, just opened at Southport, a paper resolution against fascism (in the hypocritical style of the British labor leaders) was passed, and then the conference went into action. Those forces in the Labor Party who were printinent in the actual fight against fascism were brought up for expulsion. The convention authorized the party executive to take disciplinary action against Lord Marley and Ellen Wilkinson, former member of Parliament, on the ground that they favored the united front with the Communists in the fight against fascism.
