PART OF SYMPOSIUM

Describes Vast Planned Growth Result of Soviet Power

Declaring that there can be no real planning of production and distribution for the welfare of the masses unless the working class seizes power and abolishes the private ownership of the productive resources of this country, Earl Browder, secretary of the Communist Party, yesterday presented the program of the Communist Party in a symposium on the role and opportunity of the technician in social planning.

The symposium, part of the dum vote, were regional conference of the International Relations Institute, held at the Russell Sage Foundation to discuss Social Planning, is to cover the various types of planning which are now being discussed and practiced as solutions for the crisis.

Browder's paper was read to the conference by Clarence Hathaway. editor of the Daily Worker, due to Browder's unavoidable absence.

NEW YORK .- The mounting evidence of fascist plots financed by Wall Street banks was augmented yesterday by the latest revelation that at least $100,000 had passed through the hands of Gerald C. MacGuire, Wall Street agent acting as a go-between between the banks and the militarists.

Despite testimony which they gathered, the Dickstein Congressional Committee has set itself against making any further inquiries into the ramifications of the fascist organizing that is increasing in the country and is financed by the leading Wall Street banks, and involves leading figures in the Roosevelt government.

HEARST CALLS FOR FASCIST MURDER BANDS IN U.S.

IF ANY more evidence is required to arouse the entire working class of this country to the grim menace of approaching fascism it is the editorial which appeared yesterday in every Hearst paper in the country, on the first page. In this editorial, signed by William Randolph Hearst, and issued as instructions to every Hearst editor in the country, Hearst gives a flat endorsement to the necessity for creating just such fascist groups as envisaged in fascist plots revealed by the jingo General Smedley Butler. In words whose sinister threat cannot be mistaken, Hearst writes as follows: "I do not think that there is any danger of fascism in the United States AS YET . . . there is no danger of fascism as long as there is no danger of Communism. . . . Fascism will only come into existence into the United States when such a movement becomes necessary for the prevention of Communism. . . . We do not want to have to resort to a fascist movement in order to prevent such misgovernment." (Hearst's emphasis). Here then is the full endorsement of fascism as the weapon with which to fight the revolutionary movement of the working class against the yoke of capitalism and wage slavery. The enormity of this development

AN EDITORIAL realized when one remembers that the Hearst press reaches more than 10,000,000 readers!

Hearst lays the basis for the fascist attack on the labor movement as follows: "The proletariat is composed of citizens without property of any kind; and the reason they have no property is because they have the lowest intelligence, the least industry, the least thrift." "The proletariat today is the body of citizens least able to manage their own affairs and consequently least able to manage the nations affairs." It is in this way that Hearst, the multi-millionaire who has fattened on the sweat of millions of workers, heaps his contempt upon the millions of jobless, the millions of workers whose labor makes the Wall Street parasites with their plunder. On the same day, Hearst's papers endorsed Hitler's policy in the Saar Valley. Hearst has just returned from an interview with Hitler in Berlin.

the wheels of industry turn, whose labor provides

This has one meaning. This means that the fascist organizations in this country have now found an official press in the Hearst papers, that Hearst has endorsed fascism on an international and domestic scale. This means that the tremendous Hearst press machine is at the service of Hitler and Hitlerism both here and abroad.

IT IS the capitalist system whose insanity and destruction have made life miserable for the vast majority of the country's toiling population that Hearst defends with his vile slanders against the working class and the labor movement. It is against the "propertyless" masses, those who are propertyless because they are plundered and exploited by a handful of capitalist pirates, that Hearst warns in his call for fascism. And at the same time, this fascist calls upon the masses to fight Communism as the main cause of fascism, to defend the system which dooms them to poverty and misery!

The root of fascism in this country is the effort of the Wall Street monopolies to uphold and defend their profits by means of violence and bestiality against the working class, against its revolutionary vanguard the Communist Party.

Indeed it is the Communist Party which leads the fight against fascism and capitalism! But this fight is in the interests of the whole toiling population, the vast majority of the population against the miserable parasites who are atworking class. It is the Party of and by the working class. Hearst's instructions to his editors, following on the heels of the fascist revelations of General Butler, reveal with what speed fascism is developing in this country. And they reveal from where the menace comesfrom the leading government and financial figures bound up with the Roosevelt government. It is not only the Communist Party that faces the menace of American Storm Troops, American concentration camps, violence and torture.

Contradictions in New Deal

The New Deal is shot through Roosevelt's right hand must not know what his left hand doeth. The N. R. A. cancels the results the "economy program." The inflation cancels the promised increase of mass purchasing power. only example known to history. Marx and Engels, as far back as 1848, foresaw the whole course of capitalism. The Communist Manifesto, written then, reads like a contemporary description of the present crisis. Allow me to quote:

"Society suddenly finds itself put back into a state of elementary barbarism; it appears as if a famine, a universal war of devastation, had cut off the supply of every means of subsisitence; industry and commerce seem to be destroyed; and why? Because there is too much civilization, too much means of subsistence, too much industry, too much commerce. The productive forces at the disposal of society no longer tend to further the development of bourgeois property; on the contrary, they have become too powerful for these conditions by which they are confined, and a soon as they overcome these limitations, they bring disorder into the whole of bourgeois society endanger the existence of bourgeois property. The conditions of bourgeois society are too narrow to comprise the wealth created by

Exemplified Today Capitalist crisis, thus described in 1848 by Marx and Engels, finds its supreme example in the present condition of the capitalist world. It can be solved only by destruction and violence. If the conditions of bourgeois property are to be maintained, this can only be accomplished by the destruction of the excess wealth and productive forces, and the most violent suppression of the suffering masses who have no interest in such property. If the productive forces and accumulated wealth of society are to be preserved and further developed, this can only be accomplished by the destruction of bourgeois property rights, and of the institutions by which they are maintained, with the necessary accompaniment of suppression of the Thus, some form of violence and which is the foundation of society

As Marx and Engels said: "Of all the classes that stand face to face with the bourgeoisie today, the proletariat alone is a really revolutionary class. The other classes decay and finally disappear in the face of modern industry; the proletariat is its special and essential product . . .' "All previous historical movements were movements of minorities, or in the interest of minorities. The proletarian movement is the self-conscious, independent movement of the advanced majority. The proletariat, the lowest stratum of our present society, cannot stir, cannot raise itself up without the whole superincumbent strata of official society being sprung into the air . . ."

"The modern laborer . . . instead of rising with the progress of industry, sinks deeper and deeper below the existence of his own class. He becomes a pauper, and pauperism develops more rapidly than population and wealth. And here it becomes clear that the bourgeoisie is unfit any longer to be the ruling class in society, and to impose its conditions of existence upon society as an overriding law. It is unfit to rule, because it is incompetent to insure an existence to its slave within his slavery, because it cannot help letting him sink into such a state that it has to feed him, instead of being fed by him. Society can no longer live under this bourgeoisie: in other words, its existence is no longer compatible with society. . . . The development of modern industry therefore, cuts from under its feet the very foundation on which the bourgeoisie produces and appropriates products. What the bourgeoisie, therefore, produces above all, are its own grave-diggers. Its fall and the victory of the proletariat are equally inevitable.' Engels on Planning

What is the effect upon the productive forces of the overthrow of capitalist power, and the establishment of a working class government? Let us take the answer from the words of Engels, written in 1883 showing for how long have the leaders of the working class been studying the problem of social-economic

"With the seizing of the means of production by society, produc-tion of commodities is done away with and, simultaneously, the mastery of the product over the producer. Anarchy in social production is replaced by systematic, definite organization. The struggle for individual existence disappears. Then for the first time man, in a certain sense, is finally marked off from the rest of the animal kingdom and emerges from mere animal conditions of existence into really human ones. Man's own social organization hitherto confronting him as a necessity imposed by nature and history, now becomes the result of his own free action. . . . "We are in favor of centralism and of a 'plan,' but it must be the centralism and the plan of the proletarian state,-the proletarian regulation of production and distribution in the interest of the poor, the laboring, the exploited, against the exploiters." This theory ignores the central fact, that the faster production and productivity increase, so much deeper becomes the crisis of capitalism, the more inextricable its contradictions. Crisis arises, not from lack of productivity, but from its excess above what can be contained within the relations of capitalist property. Any policy which leaves intact capitalist property maintains thereby the cause of inevitable crisis.

Stalin was able to cipation in such socialist economy, or from the tasks of its concontrary, the Communist program from its first enunciation has foreseen the enormous importance of allies of the working class, first of all the impoverished farmers (and oppressed colonial peoples), and second, sections of the middle classes and even of the ruling class, which desert their class and go over to the revolutionary working class. In the Communist Manifesto, of 1848, it is stated on this question:

"Entire sections of the ruling class are, by the advance of industry, precipitated into the proletariat, or are at least threatened in their conditions of existence. These also supply the proletariat with fresh elements of enlightenment and progress.

'The process of dissolution going on within the ruling class . . . assumes such a violent, glaring character that a small section of the ruling class cuts itself adrift and joins the revolutionary class, the class that holds the future in its hands . . . and in particular, a portion of the bourgeois ideologists, who have raised themselves to the level of comprehending theoretically the historical movement as a whole.

"In order to bring socialism intain it, the proletariat has a twofold task to perform. It must, by its heroism in the revolutionary fight gainst capitalism, carry with it the whole mass of the working and exploited people, organize them, and lead them to the over-throw of the bourgeoisie and the complete destruction of every kind of resistance. It must also lead the entire body of workers, as well as all the petit bourgeois strata of society, in breaking the ground for the enonomic reconstruction of society, while it creates a new bond of social union, a new discipline of labor, a new organization of work, which will avail itself of the latest discoveries of science and of the advantages of capitalist technique. In this way the masses of conscious workers, welded closely together, will carry through the work of socialist production on a large scale." (Lenin. the Great Initiative, pp. 18-19). Social Insurance Fight Gains in Detroit A. F. of L.

Frank X. Martel, President of the Detroit Federation of Labor is issuing attacks against the local A.F. of L. Committee for Unemployment Insurance and Relief and its members? For the past two years this gentleman has followed the policy of squashing any discussion or publicity that the committee may have received through discussions in the any delegate of any local union, Central Body or local unions, and professing ignorance of any such committee. The reason that he has not changed his tactics is linked up directly with the drive against the Communuists, initiated by Green and the Executive Board of the A.

The local A. F. of L. Committee for Unemployment Insurance and Relief, taking into consideration the critical relief situation in the city, the vicious slash in relief to workers on projects and direct relief decided to call a conference to take concrete action on this burning is-

It is about time we Yard workmen got wise to the fact that we are doing the dirty work for Wall St. The ships we are building will be used against workers just as in the last war. The implication that lies in the asking of the questionthat what is good for insects ought to be, or might be, good for human beings, we do not believe holds true.

The answer to your second question: Why do you experience physical dullness and slowness after wet dreams, we believe lies in the third question: How can I overcome my shyness and great fear of manifest-

You should not feel any physical dullness after wet dreams. dreams are a perfectly normal process and should cause no ill effects: on the contrary, they should have at the Savoy Ballroom in Harlem, a good effect in relieving sexual where Prof. Yosel Cutler will hold tension. It was fed to you like food by a hypocritical society. It is up to you to fight both -both the hypocritical society that damages growing boys and girls and the damage that has been done to you in the form of these feelings of guilt and fear.

Do not feel yourself responsible in any way for the feelings you now have; but recognize them as a boyish hang-over from earlier training. Throw them overboard, as you have many of your other boyish ideas, and adopt an entirely new attitude toward sex based upon your knowlelge as a man, and a man, we take it, who is interested in building a new society of which sexual hypocrisy will not be a part.

CHANGE

BOSTON, MASS.—If any worker still thinks the N.R.A. was designed by philanthropists who love labor the way the stockbrokers of America love their Peggy Joyce, he ought to take a look in at Haverhill, Mass, some fifty miles from Boston.

Massachusetts has been the home of the shoe industry. Now the industry is rapidly moving out of the state, and all the local parasites are as alarmed as the workers.

Haverhill is a big shoe town. During the past few months 28 Haverhill shoe factories have either failed, liquidated, or moved from the city, leaving, the press reports, at least ',000 shoe workers without Reason: the N.R.A. shoe code. It has what is called a differential that allows scab wages to be paid in small towns. So New England states, are making goo-goo eyes at the Massachusetts shoe factories.

They are offering low tax rates, free land, and "cheap, contented" labor in the form of farmer's boys and girls in the small towns. The South did the same thing a few years ago in textiles. Now it is fostered officially by the N.R.A. Well, it's like the story of the man who killed his brother for fifty cents. The Judge asked him why, and the murderer shrugged his shoulders, and said confidentially, "Well, Judge, you know how hard these days it is to make a living-so everything helps-fifty cents here, fifty cents there-"

A Nazi Holiday

THE Boston officials invited a Nazi gunboat to visit their fair city a few months ago. It was the Karlsruhe, and the Hitlerites were given a royal welcome by their American brothers. Boston, you must know, is the cradle of the American revolution. It has always had the most wonderful traditions of American free speech, free press, free assembly, abolition of slavery, etc., etc. This is the place where Emerson and Thoreau and William Lloyd Garrison thrived. This is where the first guns were fired in the Revolutionary War.

So the Hitlerites, who spit on democracy, who hate and murder their opponents, Communists, Socialists and liberals, when Nordic, are considered to have a Jewish taint), these Hitlerites who have made a shambles of free speech and assembly for the masses, were invited and feted here by the guardians of the revolutionary Boston tradition.

It would have been a swell piece of Nazi propaganda if all democracy had died in Boston. But it hasn't: it has merely changed its address. It has moved from Beacon Hill, the State House, the Mayor's city hall, and the dwellings of the bourgeoisie, into the dingy meeting halls of the marine workers, the shoe workers, the John Reed Club, the student councils, and the Communist Party.

So, though it is true, there were squads of pot-bellied, whiskyflushed political racketeers in top-hats to greet the Nazi boat, there were also present 10,000 delegates of working-class democracy to boo and jeer and protest against these visiting assassins of liberty.

And official Boston proudly vindicated the new tradition that has taken the place of its old one. The police made it a Nazi holiday, and slugged and clubbed like the hireling thugs they are everywhere. And 16 workers and students, who happen to believe sincerely in democracy for America, got in the way of those Nazi clubs and were arrested for it. Now they are on trial, and their accusers are these same Nazi cops. It is the usual farcical trial, a joke on justice.

Politicians and Decadent Snobs

ANOTHER group of students and workers are already serving a sixmonth sentence for the demonstration against Hanfstengel, when Hitler's dainty boy friend was corrupting Harvard.

The Boston papers give such trials scarcely a line. They suppress all labor news. They are the most provincial and commercialized papers, I think, on the American continent. World events that spell a new war danger never are noticed, but every other day these stupidest of journals will print enormous headlines such as: "Mrs. John Quincy Adams Sprains Left Ankle."

It is a very backward and peculiar city, divided between sordid Irish politicians and decadent Yankee snobs. It is hard to figure out which group of the ruling class here is worse for the workers. They fight for power between themselves, and one could only wish a grand and mutual annihilation.

The Sky Pilot's Bread and Butter

HE Catholic Church is the biggest religious-political machine in the world. It is not satisfied with a "spiritual" domain over its millions; it goes after real, concrete power on this earth. Look at the reactionary Catholic party in Spain, which is trying to set up a fascist dictatorship under Robles. Look at the Catholic fascism in Austria. Look at Boston.

They want to burn every modern book, and destroy science. They preach race hatred in Austria, they shoot down workers and peasants in Spain, where they have executed thousands.

Here, in Boston, they can't quite work so openly, but they did unite with the Back Bay Yankees in the lynching of Sacco and Vanzetti. They have the most bigoted censorship in America on books and theatres, and you can't hold a street meeting here, or picket in a strike, or walk with a placard of protest, without being clubbed and jailed by this Catholic machine.

Organized religion is a branch of the capitalist state, and most priests, rabbis and clergymen are the spiritual police of this murdering profit system. When has the church ever led a fight against war, or poverty, or illiteracy. Here and there, a liberal may attempt it, but his bosses soon get rid of him. Most sky pilots soon learn on which side their bread is buttered. It is the capitalist side, of course.

The Laundry Is Short-Handed

HEARD a little story from one of our comrades here. She has spent some time for picketing in one of the women's jails. She says that the women's jail here have steam laundries where the women must work hard.

These laundries do most of the work of all the local politicians and their henchmen, she alleges. A little minor graft, probably, nothing much when measured up by the big graft that goes on.

What is mean and horrible about this petty racket, however, is this: whenever these jails haven't enough inmates to slave in the laundries, are short-handed, the inmates say to each other: "Well. there'll be new raids now. And the girls will get stiff sentences this trip. The laundry is short-handed again."

I is a good thing for a reviewer to come across a play like "The Children's Hour" to counterbalance the puerilities of such concoctions as "The Farmer Takes a Wife" or 'Ladies' Money"-to mention only wo of the current Broadway It serves to remind him that playwriting may be a mature art, playgoing an adult entertainment, and reviewing an occupation of some meaning.

The play is laid in a private school for girls, run by Martha Dobie and Karen Wright, who have spent eight years of struggle and self-denial building the school. The younger of them, Karen, is engaged to marry Doctor Cardin, the uncle of one of the pupils and the nephew of the rich Mrs. Tilford, who had been of considerable help to the two teachers in their early

The child, Mary Tilford, is neurotic, spiteful, unbalanced, domineering, selfwilled, scheming. Pampered at home by her grandmother she cannot fit into the discipline of school, and she imagines that she is the special object of the teachers' persecution.

Intent upon revenging herself for mild and well-deserved punishment, she runs away to her grandmother. To avoid being sent back to school, she accuses the two eachers of having homosexual re-Grandmother Tilford is horrified, and even before she has probed into the accusations of her grandchild, she telephones to all the mothers to get their children out of the school. The two teachers, faced with economic ruin, sue her for libel and lose.

THE third act finds the two teachers alone in the now abandoned school, a week after the trial, helpess before the stigma of homosexuality, persecuted by the townsfolk, their life's work shattered. their future without hope. Doubts have crept even into the doctor's mind, and in a tacit understanding the marriage is broken off.

And only now, face to face with the problem, Martha Dobie realizes that there is truth in the accusation of homosexuality; that she has been in love with Karen since their college days. This realization drives Martha to suicide.

There the final curtain might have fallen, but the author adds another drop of acid to her brew of bitterness. She brings back Mrs. Tilford, contrite, heartbroken, who has learned that Mary had lied. While the dead woman is in the next room, there is a long, unnecessary and painful scene between the two women; unnecessary because the bitter, ironic point of the play had already been too comoletely brought out.

The suggestion is that fresh material be used-that organizational news need not repeat the history of Scottsboro in each issue, that every discovery need not be that of a new Fascist step. Periodicals PLOTTING the AMERICAN POGROMS

This is the final instalment of the last article of John L. Spivak's series, "Plotting the American Pogroms," which have appeared weekly in the New Masses, and have been reprinted in the Daily Worker. In these articles, Spivak has produced overwhelming proof of widespread and organized anti-semitic activities in this country, closely linked up with Nazi Germany, operating under various disguises. He has uncovered the anti-semitic propaganda of organizations such as the Silver Shirts, Order of '76, the Paul Reveres, and individuals like former Congressman Louis T. McFadden, Ralph M. Easley, George Sylvester Viereck, Viola Ilma and others. In Part One of this article Spivak proves that Milo Reno, leader of the Farmers' Holiday Association, worked with the "Crusaders of Economic Liberty" to spread anti-semitism among the discontented farmers, until advised by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to break this open connection. Act Against Roosevelt's Relief Cuts

THE Chicago united front demonstration 1 of 25,000 workers for increased unemployment relief, against relief cuts and for the Workers' Unemployment Insurance Bill, is evidence of the intense protest of the workers against the relief slashes now being carried through by the Roosevelt government.

The employed and unemployed workers alike are indignant at the recent moves of the Roosevelt government to reduce relief and cut wages. The already pitifully inadequate work relief minimum wage of thirty cents an hour has been abolished. "Unemployables" are being removed from relief rolls and abandoned. Wages are being cut. The demand of the workers for the thirty-hour week without reduction in pay, which would reduce unemployment, is opposed and considered "impossible" by the Roosevelt government. Roosevelt has abandoned his promises to grant unemployment insurance and has come out definitely against any federal unemployment insurance and for only state "reserves" which do not apply to the unemployed

In answer to these attacks, which are of vital concern to both the employed and unemployed, a broad united front National Congress for Unemployment Insurance is being held in Washington, D. C., on January 5-7. This Congress has as its central demand the passage of the Workers' Unemployment and Social Insurance Bul.

Leading up to this congress, local struggles for the demands of the unemployed and employed workers are being developed. These struggles should be extended manyfold. The broad united front developed in Chicago should serve as an example to all

Strikes of those on work relief should be developed and organized wherever possible against cuts in pay, increase of hours, and for recognition of the

In every city struggles must be organized against relief cuts and for adequate relief for the unemployed during the winter, against reduction of the wages on work relief, for the thirty-hour week without reduction in pay for all workers: for the immediate passage of the Workers Unemployment and Social Insurance Bill, which includes health, old age and all forms of social insurance; for the rights of the workers, employed and unemployed, to organize, to meet and to strike.

Especially must the members of the Communist Party and the Unemployment Councils take responsibility for developing these local struggles as a part of the preparations for the united front Congress for Unemployment Insurance.

Immediate steps for mass demonstrations, and pressure on local governmental bodies and upon Congressmen and Senators must be made at once.

The delegates to the National Congress should receive support in every city by mass demonstrations of workers on Jan. 7, the day on which the Congress delegates will present their demands to the United States Congress and to President Roosevelt.

To build these demonstrations, the work of popularizing the Congress must go forward in the shops, in the neighborhoods and at the relief stations. Mass meetings and the distribution of literature at the relief stations, mobilizing of the relief workers to elect job delegates to the National Congress, symposiums on unemployment insurance must be arranged Develop local struggles against the Roosevelt relief slashing drive!

Build a powerful united front around the National Congress for Unemployment Insurance!

The NRA and the 30-Hour Week

THE drive of the Roosevelt government against labor, was carried forward on another front yesterday with the announcement that the N.R.A. is being "reorganized" on the basis of "a uniform fortyhour week," and the rejection by the N.R.A. officials of the demand of the workers for a basic thirtyhour week without reduction in pay.

The N.R.A. officials, news dispatches state, consider the thirty-hour week demand of the workers "impossible." This "draft" proposal will be sent to the Recovery Board and to Roosevelt.

The drive to lengthen hours of the workers is being carried on simultaneously with the whole anti-labor drive of the Roosevelt government. The Roosevelt government is attempting to cut wages. Only a few days ago, Secretary of Interior Ickes. declared that the building construction workers must accept wage cuts on government building projects, and Federal Relief Director Hopkins ordered abolition of the minimum wage of thirty cents an hour on government work relief. The attempt to reduce the wages of the building trades workers, and the cut in work relief wages, iz the spearhead whereby the Roosevelt government is trying to drive down the wages of workers in all industries, and lower the standard of living of the entire working class.

The Roosevelt government is making one move after another to increase the profits of the employers and get out of the crisis at the expense of the workers. The anti-labor drive is being carried through on all fronts-attempting to outlaw strikes through legislation and compulsory arbitration; bringing forward the company unions and the "open shop" as expounded by Donald Richberg in recent speeches, and now removing all restrictions on

President Roosevelt at the inauguration of the N.R.A. announced that its basic aim was to end unemployment by reducing hours and increasing wages. The N.R.A. reduced the wages of skilled workers by making the minimum wage the maximum wage. The N.R.A. protected company unions and broke strikes. But now the drive against the workers takes a sharper, more open turn. Now Roosevelt's demagogy regarding reduced hours and higher wages is scrapped. Roosevelt would have the workers believe they must accept wage cuts, relief cuts, longer hours and company unions (while the bosses' profits are maintained and increased) in their own interests, as a necessary "sacrifice" The N.R.A. is being "reorganized" with the features which strengthen monopoly retained and the few restrictions on the employers removed

The proposals of the Communist Party directed to the Socialist workers for a united fight for more unemployment relief, against wage cuts, in defense of the rights of the workers, and for union recognition, should be carried into effect in every locality if the workers are to defeat the anti-labor drive

Silk Workers Need A New Leadership

SUPPORT of the Rank and File program at the Second Convention of the Federation of Silk Workers was sufficient to place the convention on record for a number of progressive measures. The small but energetic group of militant delegates won the election of a member on the National Executive

However, on many of the most essential questions facing the convention the reactionary officialdom of the union still showed its deadening grip. In face of the present general wage cutting drive of the employers the resolutions calling for setting a date for a general strike was defeated. Instead, confidence is to be continued in the Labor Relations Board, and the results of the Winant report are to be awaited. The resolution condemning the treacherous manner in which the recent General Strike was terminated was also defeated, and the convention again placed control of the union in the hands of the same reactionaries.

It would be a serious mistake to think that because the convention has endorsed a reactionary policy, and placed reactionaries in office, it is impossible to develop a fight against the wage cuts, or to organize the silk workers. It certainly can be done! This, in fact, is the primary task before all militant workers in the industry, and especially the Communists, who must give the leadership.

The officialdom in whose hands the organization was placed again are neither going to, nor are they able to, build the union and lead a struggle. The workers will never forget how they betrayed the last strike and left them in an even worse position. This is why thousands have been leaving the union, or refuse to pay dues or attend meetings since the general strike

Only new, honest, militant leaders can gain their confidence. As in Paterson they are repudiating the old line officials. New, honest leaders from the ranks are coming to the fore. It is these who can bring into life the program of organization which has been adopted at the convention and prepare the workers for a nation-wide struggle for the establishment of union conditions in every region.

The convention has revealed that, despite all weaknesses and unclarity which still exists, an active rank and file movement has sprung up. The militant delegates left the convention not with the feeling that they have met defeat, but heartened with the partial success scored. They left realizing the responsibility that rests upon them-to lead the workers in a struggle and build a powerful union in all regions despite the dead hand of the officials.

This is the response of all the fascist forces, supporting Hitler, to the revolutionary peace policy of the Soviet Union. Making clear to the entire world that German fascism and Japanese imperialism were driving the world to a new slaughter, the Soviet Union entered into mutual as with France and other countries, offering the same pacts to Germany and Poland, as well as to all Eastern European countries.

These mutual assistance pacts provided that in order to secure peace in the face of the open move to war of certain imperialist countries at this time that the countries entering into the pacts give one another every help against the country who proved to be the aggressor. The Soviet Union's definition of aggressor was included in all of the security pacts signed by the workers' fatherland, declaring that country is an aggressor which puts its armed forces across the border of another country. Naturally, this powerful bulwark of peace of the Soviet Union aroused the hysterical vituperation of those countries who were making ready to revise the boundaries of Europe and the world by immediate

The Soviet Union, the world fortress of the proletarian revolution, fighting in the interests of the toiling and oppressed masses of the whole world, is ready to use all the forces of its growing powerful Socialist society to block the movements of those imperialist powers who want to plunge the world into a new, criimnal imperialist war.

THE U.S.S.R. strives for alliances for peace, utilizing the imperialist conflicts to the detriment of those imperialist countries who want war NOW. As Litvinov, Soviet Commissar of Foreign Affairs, declared: "The guiding principle of our foreign policy is outlined in Stalin's brief but expressive formula: We do not covet foreign land, but not a single inch of our own will we yield. It follows that once we do not want foreign land, we do not want wars."

This is the answer to all of the enemies of the Soviet Union who try to draw an analogy between the peace alliances of the Soviet Union today and the imperialist war alliances of Czarist Russia with France. The pre-war alliances were formed on the assumption of the community of interests of certain powers and the antagonism of interests as against

The powers with kindred interests undertook to support each other against the powers with interests antagonistic to theirs. The Soviet Union's peace security pacts, however, are circulated with only one aim-namely, to preserve peace. They assume joint action on the part of all signatories to the pact against any country which might violate peace. Thus they provide a counter-weight to the violation of peace, no matter from what side it may come, and strengthen the security of all signatories equally.

But no matter how the Soviet Union strives and fights for peace, utilizing every possibility of action against those powers driving to war now, the major action against imperialist war and for the defense of the U.S.S.R. rests in the allies of the proletarian dictatorship in all capitalist countries, the working

The peace policy of the Soviet Union, backed by the masses in the land of Socialism, together with the revolutionary struggle against war in the imperialist countries is the most potent force making it difficult for the imperialists to plunge the world into a new slaughter.

It is no accident that the Trotzkyite counterrevolutionists raise their voice in unison with Hearst and the German fascists and Japanese imperialists against the Soviet Union's peace policy, and its actions to guarantee peace.

New York Section Launches Campaign In White Chauvinism

At a unit meeting recently in ection 8, District 2, an announcement was read of the formation of a class in Negro problems. The response to this was such that a section committee member present insisted on a full discussion of this subject. In the course of this discussion it was revealed that all seven unit members present held white chauvinist ideas.

Two days later at a section committee meeting the existence of Nationalism among leading Negro nembers was made clear.

Why do apparently good Party embers still retain white chauvinist ideas Why do apparently good Negro comrades retain petit bourgeois nationalistic opinions? How does section 8 propose to combat and remedy this situation?

The existence of such conditions did not suddenly dawn upon the section committee. It had existed for some time. The section has discussed the matter at length. Decisions were reached, plans were made. But they remained on paper. They were never put into execu-

Brownsville (Section 8) has a fairly large Negro population. These people are subjected to all the discrimination and perscution accorded Negro workers everywhere. Despite many instances of vicious mistreatment of Negroes by landlords, bosses and city officials there have been no consistent and vigorous campaigns organized to fight such cases. There has been no conistent ideological campaign against white chauvinism or nationalism. Because of this and because the ection committee failed to carry out its own decisions on this quesuestion the white chauvinist and Nationalistic ideas dormant among many of our comrades was not brought out into the open. Negro comrades seeing few struggles carried on around specific cases became susceptible to the poisonous petit bourgeois nationalism theory At the unit meeting mentioned above, questioning brought out that none of the members had read any of the literature published by the Party on the Negro question. They protestd strongly when told they were guilty of holding white chauvinist beliefs. At the section com-mittee likewise the Negro comrades resented strongly the expressed opinion they were holding nationalistic ideas. Surely, if our comrades were clear on the position of the C. P. on the Negro question this situation would not have developed. The Negro comrades instead of sullenly resenting the lack of action would have raised hell about it. If the section persisted in taking no vigorous action they would have appealed to the district. Could the white comrades, if they were clear on this subject, have allowed such lution a condition to exist Hardly.

The section committee has been The district has taken steps to strengthen it. New forces have been sent in. The section committee has discussed the problem at length. We recognize the extreme danger of such a condition as has existed. At a time when the country is in the process of a constantly increased tempo in its process of fascisation the danger be-comes even greater. We recognize that the situation calls for immediate, drastic and vigorous action. With this in mind we are taking the following steps:

Anarchists Damaged Fight The deeds of the anarchists in Spain in the decisive struggles against fascism again proved up to the hilt the historical Marxian criticism of the whole theory and actics of anarchism. Not in all the history of anarchism have their leadership and basic ideas been so costly to the workers as in Spain. This flows, not out of the tactical mistakes of the Spanish anarchists in this particular situation, but out of the whole conception of anarchism in relation to the class struggle. In Spain the damage was so great because the anarchists had won leadership over 1,000,000 workers and the leaders carried out units on the Negro question. Sabotaged General Strike Hence, when it came to the decisive test, when fascism sought to establish its open, brutal dictatorship, the anarchists, true to their historical role, sabotaged the general strike, the armed uprising for Catalonian national independence, throughout Spain.

Anarchism, in the person of the Spanish anarchist leaders, performed a service for Spanish capitalism which its mercenary, criminal Foreign Legion could never have performed alone with its most modern means of mass murder.

The lessons of the Spanish revo lution are of international significance, and will have international, immediate repercussions in the class struggle and the world battle power.

South African Silvershirts "35,000 Babies Starving"

FOUR executed, 999 years of imprisonment—that is the balance sheet of Nazi justice for September. The Red Aid of Germany reports that those executed were the antifascists Hans Schidzik, Gregor Meissner, Willi Jaspar, and

Hundreds of workers, Communists and Socialists, were sent to prison for terms ranging from one to 20

While the terror machine grinds, there is a deadly silence about the fate of Ernst Thaelmann. Every once in a while the Nazis issue trial balloons in the form of announcements of his trial before the special death tribunal, called the People's Court. And when the world protest demonstrations respond, there is more silence.

What is being done with Thaelmann? Where is he? These are questions which should be thrust before every Nazi official agent in every country, with the mass de-mand: "Free Ernst Thaelmann and all other anti-fascist prisoners."

SIX South African fascists, who instead of adopting Hitler's brown shirt, took over the American-style Silver shirt, were arrested for safe-robbery. Their organization particularly carries on a rabid anti-semitic campaign. Recently six of them broke into a synagogue, assaulted the rabbi, and stole the safe. In their defense they produced documents which they alleged they found in the safe. These consisted of copies of the notorious "Protocols of the Elders of Zion."

The expert who in 1908 examined the "Protocols" for the London Times happened to be in South Africa at the time and gave evidence against the Silver Shirts. He proved the document a forgery. The outcome of the case is that the Silver Shirts were found guilty of assault, housebreaking, theft, libel, perjury, and one or two other of-fenses. Damages were set at $360,-
