

"By the Sweat of Thy Brow"

A duke is making the plates, a count is doing the printing and a baron acts as a lookout in the counterfeit syndicate recently exposed in Hungary, that has involved the monarchists of many countries. This is proof that the revolutions in Europe have forced the parasites to "live by the sweat of their brows."—(From Proletarska Pravda, Kiev, Soviet Ukraina.)