ELECT GOMMUNISTIN MINNESOTA Morgan Tightens Dictatorship at Washington

AS WE SEE IT By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

THE National Security League is very frightened lest children between the ages of two and six start revolutions. Here is what it says to the toddling infants, who are just learning to ask for pennies with which to buy candy: "It is unlawful to start a revolution. You are not only not free to do so, but you will be punished if you do." It would not surprise us to read a story in the capitalist papers one of these days as follows: "Revolution threatens U. S. A. Gary and Rockefeller locked in oil tank. League of Communist Infants sieze Then the story in the Daily "Yesterday when the twelve c'clock whistle blew, as if by preconcerted arrangement, a fleet of baby buggles, surrounded the loop and armed with suckers, cross word puzzles, dolls and other weapons of modern warfare, the hidden army of the League of Communist Infants, overthrew the government in Chicago. The police were immediately disarmed and sent home to wash the dishes while the revolutionists drove terror into the hearts of residents of the loop by their unearthly yells." 'Everything is bawled up," declared Mayor Dever as he was carted to the gullotine in a baby carriage. "I have the satisfaction of dying for Chicago. . .' He would have said more but a member of the youthful cheka threw him into the subway and cried: "Dig,

HIS is perfectly ridiculous, but so I is the National Security League. Since the 11-year-old member of the Junior section of the Young Workers League was arrested New York, by a small army of policemen, it seems that the nerves of the ruling class of this country are badly jangled. Children who develop red hair on the outside inside are in for hard times.

LENN YOUNG is happy again G His friend Small was elected. Young said this means that the "forc es of law and order" are on top. The notorious Klansman is not the only one to rejoice over Small's election. There are others. John Fitzpatrick and Victor Olander for instance. Fitzpatrick said Small's election was a victory for labor. "Labor" is not hard to please! It's funny "labor" didn't lick Crowe, the it tried to. Looks as if the labor fakers do not cut much ice in elections. They have been selling their alleged influence to the polificians, but the latter are now learning that they have been throwing their money away.

chine. The Daily News and the Tribune opposed him to save their faces. But those papers supported Coolidge slide that carried Small back to office again. The labor fakers make much of the opposition of the Tribune-News to Small. But John H. Walker supported Deneen for senator, and Deneen had the support of the Tribune. Walker claimed that Sprague, Deneen's democratic opponent was anti-labor and connected with the nonunion firm of Rothchilds, but this little thing did not bother the so-called Wage Earners' League, which endorsed Sprague. The labor fakers know what they are after. They are out to feather their own nests, but it is doubtful if they are worth the money wasted on them by the capitalists during election time.

HERE is another way of looking at this however. It is not the services rendered around election time that means most to the capitalists. The workers are obliged to go on strike occasionally in order to force a better standard of living out of the employers. This is when labor fakers come in handy. They force the strikers back to work, brand the strike outlaw unless they go back and settle with the bosses at terms as favorable as possible to the latter. So perhaps after all, their little gift around election time is not badly placed.

Seven Years of Labor's Rule

Manifesto by the Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party and the National Executive Committee of the Young Workers League on the Seventh Anniversary of the Russian Proletarian Revolution.

Seven years ago, the workers and peasants of Russia triumphantly swept away the last vestiges of the rule of the government of their exploiters and oppressors and established the Soviet Government and the Dictatorship of the Proletariat.

For seven years, this government of workers, which is abolishing capitalist ownership of the means of production and distribution and building a Communist social system, has with-SMALL was elected by the Ku Klux stood the blows of the capitalist world seeking to destroy it.

Victory After Centuries of Struggle.

Thru all ages, oppressed classes have fought and struggled to end oppression and build a social system in which all men could be free. The New Social Order.

What is the aim of the workers' government of Russia? To create a social system in which those who toil, those who produce wealth, will no longer labor for the enrichment of a small group of exploiters but in which all that the inventions, discoveries and genius of the human race has in conflict with the exploiters was, achieved will rebound to the happiness and well-being of the people of Strikebreaker Coolidge and Open Shop Dawes are in the saddle. Reactionary imperialist capitalism, as predicted by the DAILY WORKER on election morning, has won.

RED RUSSIA PROCLAIMS BROAD AMNESTY ON

(By the Federated Press.)

MONTREAL, Can., Nov. 5 .- Thousands of Russian political refugees amnesty proclamation by the Russian government thru America's failure to recognize the Russian government. The amnesty for the Russian government's foes will take effect with the celebration of the seventh anniversary of the present regime November 7.

A. A. Yazikov, special representative for Russia in Canada told the Federated Press that the amnesty order applies only to Russians residing in countries that have accorded diplomatic recognition to his government. This excepts thousands of followers of Denikin, Kolchak, Yudenitch and Wrangel who are now exiled in America, he explained.

The amnesty order, says Yazikov, shows that the new social order in Russia is too strong to be overthrown. All persons coming within the scope of the proclamation will be furnished passports to the home land on presenting themselves to local Russian representatives after November the reporting of statistical returns, 7 and before June 7 of the following

Then these votes were solemnly "counted." But in many places counting ballots was the last thing the "judges" thought of doing. When Workers Party watchers, who couldn't be scared away, were encountered, judges jovially settled the matter by saying, Well, Foster won't be elected any Low, so we'll give you fifty votes. industries for their profits, must come the workers' control and management of industry. This is the new social order that the workers' government of Russia is building today. It is this new economic basis of society that is being created thru the rule of those who toil and produce wealth.

Before the Russian workers' government lies the ideal of a social system Wall St. Ticket to Ride which will give to all those who work and toil in Russia, a high standard of life. The Russian workers want not only food, clothing and shelter, but the opportunity for education, recreation and the establishment of a high culture to all those who are willing to work and serve the new social order. It is this ideal that is being realized in Soviet Russia thru the might of the Russian workers manifested in the dictatorship of the preletariat which rules that country.

The Struggle Against Capitalism.

The capitalists, the world over, are opposed to the new social order that is being built in Soviet Russia. To them it means the loss of their privilege to exploit the workers and amass great wealth for themselves.

It is because of this that the capitalist governments have been fighting Soviet Russia. It is because of this that the American capialists who contral the government at Washington are the bitter enemies of Soviet Russia. Soviet Russia is a dagger thrust straight at the heart of world capitalism.

It is because the capitalists of all capitalist countries fear that the workers inspired by the victory of the Russian workers will follow in their fcotsteps that they are maligning, misrepresenting, lying about the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. It is because they fear that the workers of their countries will organize their power, establish a workers' government and begin the task of abolishing capitalism and building the Communist soclety that they resort to every means to weaken and destroy the Russian workers' government.

The basis of capitalism has been weakened by the World War. The capitalist system is in the period of decline.

The capitalists are struggling desperately to rebuild the industrial system from which they profit. The American capitalists are playing the leading role in this effort. 'The Dawes' plan is their latest effort to restore capitalism in Europe. Thru this plan the German workers are to be ground down to more bitter poverty, and their enslavement to be the means of placing greater burdens upon the workers of America and the world over. Down With Capitalism!

Workers of the United States! On this seventh anniversary of the triumph of the Russian workers, join with them in the struggle against world capitalism.

Youth of the United States! The youth of Russia has gained the opport tunity to develop in an environment which gives them educational oppose tunities, recreation and culture and does not chain them to the machine at an early age. Young Workers! Follow the lead of the revolutionary Russian youth in the organization of the struggle against the bitter exploitation of children.

against the menace of new capitalist wars. The Russian workers' government was established thru the leadership of the Communist Party of Russia. To carry on the fight against capitalism in the United States there must be a powerful mass political party fighting a revolutionary struggle in the interests of the workers. Fighting with this Communist Party there must be an organization of youth who hold aloft the isteal of the new social order among the young people of the land.

Coolidge Wins But the Communists Step Into a Strategic Position

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, LaFollette sits midst the wreckage of his house of cards. His political deals have all gone awry.

He set out in his Don Quixote attack on the republican and democratic citadels of Wall Street by attempting the destruction of the Farmer-Labor movement for independent political action of city and land workers. He has ended not in personal aggrandizement, as he expected, but in his own humiliating defeat.

Under the slogan of "Get something now!" his supporters from Gompers to Hillquit, promised much. The organization of the class power of labor was held an Utopian dream. The fight of the Communists for the farmer-labor party was anathema to the place hunters of the third party movement.

LaFollette lives at Maple Bluff Farm; prompting some jokester to exclaim that instead of "Fighting Bob" it should be the "Wisconsin Bluff." Certainly the LaFollette wreckage that lies strewn over the land indicates that the Wisconsin senator built a big fire under a boiler with very little

He has carried his own state; perhaps North Dakota. That is all. Coolidge swept Minnesota with its two Farmer-Labor U. S. senators; both LaFollette campaigners. When Johnson and Shipstead betrayed the Farmer-Labor movement of Minnesota, especially at the June 17th conference. they threw the doors wide open to republican victory in their state.

The corporation lawyer, U. S. Senator Walsh, in Montana, endorsed by LaFollette's running mate, U. S. Senator Wheeler, as against the Farmer-Labor candidate, is elected. But instead of LaFollette carrying the state, the democratic votes cast for Walsh knifed the LaFollette ticket and went to Coolidge instead. Wheeler double-crossed his own crowd. In turn he was double-crossed.

In Illinois the LaFollette campaigners were found at all times clinging to the coattails of Governor Len Small, in company with the Ku Klux Klan. Len Small is re-elected, to be sure, but he carries the state in company with Coolidge, not LaFollette. The LaFollette total in Illinois will not run far ahead of the highest socialist vote, in the big years, while this year the socialist vote has almost disappeared.

In New York City the victory went to Al Smith, for reelection as governor on the democratic ticket; while Coolidge, republican, carried the state by nearly a million. The Gompers' labor fakers in New York, spawn of Tammany Hall, crawled aboard Al's band wagon just in time to escape the LaFollette debacle. In New York state, as in Illinois, the LaFollette vote will not run far away from big socialist results in the early days of the war. But the New York socialists also suffered disaster. No members of congress. No members of the state legislature. Total obliteration!

But one must turn to Wisconsin to witness the big effect of the LaFollette-socialist alliance on the socialist party in that state. Thru his deal with LaFollette, Vic Berger is returned to congress, the lone socialist. But everywhere else disaster is visited upon the socialist candidates. The Milwaukee County socialist ticket is beaten. Leo Krzcycki, socialist candidate for the second Milwaukee district, is defeated for congress. The socialist ticket in the state was running a crippled third, not within hailing distance of socialist totals cast in the state in previous years.

LaFollette's joust with the windmill of capitalist politics is therefore featured by three results:

First: The Wisconsin senator did not cut into the republican party, as did the Roosevelt insurrection in 1912. At last reports the Coolidge landslide was running close to the Harding victory in 1920. Wall Street held its pride, the C. O. P., intact against LaFollette's assaults.

Second: If LaFollette won any appreciable middle class support it came from the democratic party, long a refuge for little business. But even here the LaFollette inroads were not great. Tammany Hall held its own in New York. Tom Taggart lost nothing in Indiana. "Boss" Brennan held the democrats together in Illinois, in face of defeat. The Solid South remained loyal to the Jeffersons and Jasksons of the donkey party. In spite of many pre-election claims LaFollette made not the slightest dent below the Mason and Dixon line.

Third: The bulk of the LaFollette vote without doubt came from workers and farmers who were ready for independent political action. It was this movement that La-Follette and Compers, Johnston and Stone, Hillquit and Berger, sidetracked into an imaginary "third party" movement. Their leadership has brought these masses up against the proverbial stone wall at the end of their blind alley venture. It is against this stone wall that the LaFollette "third party" and the Hillquit-Berger "socialist" party will go to pieces rapidly, now that the workers and farmers stand completely disillusioned with the passing of Election Day.

The LaFollette-Gompers-Hillquit attack on independent political action, with its betrayal into a "third party" movement, has given class action of the workers and farmers a big setback.

But the after-the-election disillusionment must awaken the city and land workers to their real needs. They will get on the right track.

They will learn that the Communists were right. They will find that the "red baiters" in the labor movement were wrong. Increased numbers will accept Communist leader-in this campaign many self-confessed friends of labor were put to the test and found sorely wanting. They were unmasked as labor's worst enemies.

The line of demarcation has been drawn as between labor and little business. The workers have won some slight victory in this election if they have learned to cut loose from all political connections with the capitalist social order. Then there will be a great impetus, to the work immediately ahead, of building the class power of all who labor and are oppressed under capitalism.

Coolidge and capitalism won this election. But enlightened labor inspired by Communism has been placed in a favorable strategic position for future struggles.

Said Lenin

"No amount of condemnation and lies will be able to do away with the great historical fact that it was for the first time in hundreds and thousands of years that the oppressed slaves have risen in their anger and have declared that they are not going to fight the battles of their masters.

"It was for the first time in thousands of years that the vague and blind instincts of the masses found their expression in a clear-cut political program, in an organized struggle of millions of oppressed under the leadership of the proletariat, which resulted in the first victory of the working class and the victory of the Russian Proletariat.

"This first victory is not yet the final victory. We have made many mistakes. We are not afraid to admit it. We shall continue to study our experiences soberly and impartially in order to improve our weapon of struggle against world capitalism.

"We know we have only made a beginning. The triumphant end is yet to come. And altho we cannot say precisely when and in what country the proletariat will make the next decisive step, THERE IS ONE THING WE DO KNOW—AND THAT IS, THAT THE ICE IS BROKEN, THE WAR HAS BEEN SHOWN TO THE WORKERS OF THE WORLD HOW TO FIGHT CAPITALISM AND ESTABLISH THE RULE OF THE WORKING CLASS."-N. The Coolidge "Landslide"

The expected has happened. The reactionary republican party has carried the election. Coolidge and Dawes will now direct the capitalist cause for United States. the coming four years.

It is yet too soon to tell the exact number of votes the various candidates polled. But one can already safely estimate the significance of the results of the contest. The superior political organ ization, the unexcelled publicity machine, the unlimited financial resources of the upper crust of our ruling class have carried the day. The employing class control and ownership of the workers' jobs was never more ruthlessly utilized than in this election. In no previous campaign was money more lavishly expended by the biggest business in- On the heels of the victory of Teapot Dome governterests than in this campaign. The slogan of "cash ment at the polls, this special edition will raise or chaos" has won.

The disastrous showing made by the democrats under the leadership of Davis was a foregone conclusion. Widely touted as a candidate of reaction, Mr. Davis could not make as effective an appeal as Coolidge for a multitude of reasons. First of all, the employing class could not and would not so readily invest their resources in removing Coolidge from the White House and placing in his stead one just as black. There is no use in disturbing machinery when it runs smoothly was the belief of the bankers and manufacturers who run the country. Then, the lower layers of the owning class, which as a rule are in the democratic fold, certainly could not be attracted to Davis by his record and campaign.

Present indications point to surprisingly small strength for the so-called LaFollette progressive party. Between the LaFollette assurances not to disturb anything fundamentally, not to resort to any "radical changes," and the republican and democratic pleas to save the constitution and continue or restore prosperity, the inertia of the great mass of voters could not but come into play heavily in behalf of those who would have things remain unchanged and untouched. The dismal failure of the LaFollette party to approach having even the slightest influence in the electoral college will only tend to lend further confusion to the chaos already prevailing in the Babylon of the self-styled progressives. The failure of the LaFollette movement to carry certain sure northwestern states will go a long way toward divorcing a large section of the masses who were misled into the Wisconsin senator's camp and toward promoting genuine class political organization amongst the exploited workers and poor farmers.

In so far as the Communists are concerned this campaign is to be judged not by the number of votes officially recorded for the Workers Party by sentiments" of his political adversary of yesterday, the bosses' political machine. It is to be judged solely by the opportunity afforded the Communists to utilize the election campaign for bringing their program to the masses and for enhancing the cause of Communism amongst these masses. With this as our criterion, the election campaign has proved of considerable aid in helping build a powerful Communist Party in the United States.

Lessons in Democracy

For many months nearly 20,000 Filipino sugar workers have been on strike in Hawaii. These workingmen rose in revolt against the American sugar barons among whom is to be found United States Governor Farrington of the islands. The working and living conditions of the Filipino wage of Coolidge and reaction. slaves on the sugar plantations are too deplorable, too gruesome to face description.

As soon as these brave Filipino workers declared their strike they were immediately subjected to all the vicious blessings, to all the lessons in the purest of American democracy. First of all, they were evicted. Secondly scabs were brought in in great numbers. Thirdly, the courts were brought people think the workers can win this way. Funny, into play against them. Last and worst, the entire military power of the U.S. government in the islands was mobilized against them. The workingmen were jailed, clubbed and hounded.

Recently matters took a most serious turn. Failing in their attempt to drive the Filipino strikers millionaire of New Bedford, Massachusetts, who into submission, the American capitalists openly got rich by working girls and men, also, for from resorted to unrestrained violence against the workingmen. Pablo Manlapit, the leader of the strikers, in discussing the brutal attack made by the armed gunmen of the United States government on the Filipino strikers, has declared that the dead and wounded workingmen were shot in the backs. The hospitals in the neighborhood of Liuhe, Hawaii, have, since mid-September, been crowded with defenseless strikers who were wounded by the strikebreaking military forces. The United States government is now making an attempt, thru acting Adjutant-General Bolton, to collect from the sugar Adjutant-General Bolton, to collect from the sugar WORKERS PARTY in the murderous strike-breaking expedition.

The wholesale wounding and slaughtering of Filipino strikers in Hawaii should rouse every workingman and poor farmer in the United States to immediate effective protest. The words of Karl Marx that no country can be free as long as it is ruled by a government which oppresses other people and countries, are brought out in their painful truthfulness in this incident. Likewise the Filipino nationalist leaders should not lose this opportunity to unmask and denounce the Yankee imperialists as hangmen of defenseless colonial

November 7th

This issue of The DAILY WORKER is one of the two editions gotten out this year to celebrate the greatest event to the working class in all history. The class conscious workers of America, who are the election returns and listen to not carried away by the LaFollette illusion, or the snappy speeches from leading party Coolidge illusion, will celebrate November 7 as the day on which the first working-class government in the history of the human race was founded. They will come together in mass meetings thruout the country, listen to speeches, telling the story of the Russian revolution, distribute literature and oin the enthusiasm engendered at those meetings nto members for the Workers Party, and new eaders for The DAILY WORKER.

This issue of The DAILY WORKER will reach thousands of exploited all over the United States. the hope of those who are depressed and urge the workers on to battle for their freedom in the only way it can be won, by fighting the capitalists with the object of overthrowing their robber system and organizing a workers' and farmers' government.

Congratulating the Victor

With the transmission of congratulations by ohn W. Davis to Coolidge, even the shouting of the campaign is over.

The mere congratulation by itself is a formality. No one considers it in any other light. But in view of certain events which transpired in recent weeks, the contents of the Davis congratulation to Coolidge are instructive. The disgracefully defeated democratic candidate now expresses the hope that the Coolidge administration "may by its success ensure the welfare of the country."

We wonder what happened to all the long ing, dancing was enjoyed and then we speeches of Mr. Davis urging the voters not to endorse Coolidge because of his failure to measure up to the democratic standard of "common honesty" amongst big capitalist thieves. We wonder whether Mr. Davis would have the world believe that the overwhelming endorsement accorded Coolidge by the mass of misled, confused and cajoled voters has made him honest over night.

The Davis telegram of congratulation merely adds further evidence to the truth of our contention that in the mud-slinging contest between the democrats and republicans the country was treated merely to another case of the teapot calling the kettle black. When Davis speaks of the "success and welfare" of the country, he has in mind precisely the success and welfare of the uppermost group of the employing class which has engineered the return of Coolidge to the White House. When Coolidge answers Davis and appreciates "the patriotic he is merely chiming in with the sentiments directed towards the success and welfare of the monarchs of American finance and industry who rule this country.

This incident illustrates the indisputable truth of the essential unity of class interests between the democrats and the republicans. We now expect that Mr. LaFollette will run true to his color and also transmit congratulations to Mr. Coolidge on his sweeping victory. This would complete the entente cordiale of the standard bearers of American capitalism. It would put the finishing touches on the political picture as it appears today after the election campaign. As a good patriot and loyal citizen, LaFollette will in all liklihood not delay long in joining the Davis prayer for the success

The qualifications of an election judge are now known. It is to be able to count up as far as three. That makes three political paties recognized. Then divide the total vote cast between the three by shooting dice for the first and second place. Some Coolidge attributes his election to a "divine providence." But we remember that his campaign manager, Wm. Morgan Butler, is a textile multi-$6 to $15 a week.

LaFollette can now feel himself given a mandate by the nation to lay himself away beside old King Tut. But Tut, poor chap, was really a progressive compared to the Wisconsin crawfish.

> Those liberty bells, those liberty bells, How many a yarn the darn things tell, Of votes and jobs and lots of jack, But, drat the luck, look at that crack!

As soon as we have deviated from the straight path, as soon as there appears the slightest crack in our solid wall of unity, the revolution is endangered.

This is how the Russian Communist Party looks upon its task. This is why it is so anxiously watching every dissention in its organization. The party is aware that the bourgeois elements which still remain in the country serve for some political expression. Order for Your Nov. 7 Meetings

1. The Symbol of Revolution.

Until 1917 the program of proletarian emancipation rested pretty much in the realms of theory. The workers of the world talked of it, dreamed of it, and speculated about it. But it lacked reality. It was but a scientific calculation and an inspiring hope. It was only by the advent of the Soviet government in Russia that the concept of revolution took on flesh and blood. Then it became a living, vibrant thing and an ispiration to the workers of the world.

The masses learn best from concrete facts; they require definite object lessons. They cannot be satisfied with theory alone. To them incomparably the best argument for the world revolution is to see a workers' revolution take place successfully in some country. The Russian revolution has provided them with that vitally necessary object lesson. It is a tremendous demonstration of the possibility and practicality of the proletarian revolution. It is the world symbol of the working class victor-

They have worked out the principle of the new economic policy, and they know its dangers and advantages. They have also mastered the principles of proletarian military organization, after a bitter and sanguinary experience. They have learned the most valuable lessons as to the psychology of the masses during the revolution and its attendant hardships. Shortly after the United States government began its crusade for democracy and incidentally to protect thé shekels of J. P. Strange to say, tho these were peaceful aims the other nations associated with Russia in overthrowing their competitors the kaiser and his capitalist owners felt very much aggrieved, because the Russian workers and peasants would not continue to fertilize the trenches of Germany, Poland and Austria with their dead bodies.

It is well to state here that before the November revolution in Russia, a 'democratic" and "kindly" gentleman by the name of Kerensky, was premier of that country. The recognition of the Soviet Republic by grance on the eve of the power of the proletariat, is the worst blow yet delivered against the policy of Baptist Hughes and the battalion of death that supports him. While in Europe, the labor movement, reactionary tho it is, unanimously favored recognition of the Soviet regime, here in America, the spokesman of the American Federation of Labor, was the strongest anti-Soviet bulwark of the Coolidge-Hughes administration. Gompers, no less than Hughes, feared the psychological effect of such action on the part of American workers who were fed for years on atrocities and tales of horror and misery, governmental inefficiency and progressive debility of the Soviet power. To be obliged to recognize "these horrible monsters" after all the cursing and praying, would put these political skypilots in a bad light.

The American capitalists have held out well if not wisely. But it is not very likely that they will succeed in accomplishing their main purpose thru this policy, namely the overthrow of Soviet rule. A in attempts to colonize all the world and to transform it into one huge profit mill for one dominating group of capitalists and to reduce the working class portion of the human race to robots, that was the aim it set out to accomplish. This process of transformation to be achieved by a series of imperialist wars which were to settle the question of the supremacy of one group of the warring capitalist nations and at the same time are to solve the problem of military conquest of the earth.

This stage of capitalist development, altho of recent date, could not surprise the world by its appearance. Marxism, Communism, had laid bare the very entrails of the capitalist system predicting the phenomena of imperialism. Unlike the augurs of old, the Marxians base their predictions not on the windings of the entrails, but on a scientific analysis of the origin and character of the food passing thru the body of capitalism. This food was seen to be the life-blood of the working class; it was seen to circulate thru the body of capitalism as profit, turning into new capital; it was seen to fatten up that body of ous but class conscious proletariat and masses, the suffering workers and that they could no long claim ignora menace to the working class. fight to the finish was inevitable.

Either the old order would succeed in defeating the Soviets, then revolution was doomed and the old government would remain in power-or the Soviets would be victorious, would destroy the old order and its government: then these Soviets would become the government of the new order. The hesitating leadership of the Soviets, that of the Mensheviks, prevented the facing of this conflict. They desired to solve it not by a victory of the Soviets, but by their abdica-

Thus the conflict between revolution and counter-revolution manifested itself not so much in the struggle between the Soviets and provisional government, but in battles for leadership of the Soviets between the henchmen of the bourgeoisie, the Mensheviks and the representatives of the Revolutionary proletariat-the Bolsheviks.
