The yellow socialist guardians of the Amsterdam International issue warnings that British labor will repudiate Purcell, Tillet and the other visitors, when they return. There will be a fight of course. All British labor is not even as far advanced as Purcell, Tillet and Bromley, but the revolutionary leaver working, and the Communist Party of Britain, small the it is, gives the revolutionary movement leadership.

NOTHER desperate effort to kill the Communist government of Russia, is the secret of the present international campaign led by the tory government of England against the Soviet power. The strongest reason for the present campaign is the great inroads Communist propaganda is making in the colonia possessions of the robber powers. The growing influence of Soviet Russia in China, the inspiration given by the workers republic to the exploited peoples of india, Egypt, Morocco and other countries has created terror among the ruling classes of the world who maintain their power by exploting their own proletariat at home and by the double exploitation of the poor natives in the

GOVERNMENTS OF FRANCE AND ENGLAND START WHITE TERROR TO FORCE DAWES PLAN ON LABOR

(Special to The Daily Worker)

PARIS, France, Dec. 7.—The government of Herriot, the socalled "radical socialist," has arrested 300 Communist workingmen and has announced thru Minister of the Interior Chautemps, who is commander of the national police, that it has the movement under control.

These workers were taken in raids upon Communist headquarters both in Paris and thruout France. This is the result of an international conspiracy to crush working class resistance to the Dawes plan.

Twenty police commissioners and 700 men of the political police were engaged in searches for rumored "stores of arms" HERE'S PROGRESSIVE and the Communist army of 29,000 men" which a catholic cardinal warned against the other day. They got 300 workers but no arms. Not One Russian-Ain't That Hell?

Only 70 of these workers are foreigners, and not a single Russian was taken, which was quite a disappointment as Herriot had only yesterday declared of the chamber of deputies: There are to many foreign Communists in France. They are indulging in political demonstrations and we will not tolerate it; we will not let them meddle in our political life. If we meet resistance we will break it; and we will deport as many as necessary.'

That the whole affair is part of the plan by European capitalist governments to attempt to break the resistance of labor to the enslaving Dawes plan, is seen by the statement of Herriot, who frankly admits a conspiracy with the English government against the working class. He says:

Admits Conspiracy Against Workers. "Mr. Chamberlain and I readily agreed to the necessity of putting down the Bolshevik activities." This was openly told press reporters following the conversations between Herriot and Austin Chamberlain, secretary for foreign affairs in the new

FRENCH COMMUNIST PARTY SHOWS WHY IT IS PERSECUTED—STATES RIGHT WING IN PARTY MUST GO

That the raids on the Communist Party of France, as carried out by the order of Premier Herriot, and the general persecution of French workers on strike, have a clear and direct connection with the domination over France of the banking interests of J. # Czarism Must Be Rooted Up, Both Plant and Seed, By Workers of America

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, while it is being announced that Communists will be driven out of the capitalist nations of Western Europe by the hundreds of thousands, the American plutocracy receives to its bosom, the "grand duchess" Victoria Feodorovna, wife of the "grand duke" Cyril Vladimirovitch, who recently proclaimed himself Cyril I, "czar" of all the Russians.

Thus the American colony of czarist emigres with the glad consent of the American imperialist government, finds its ranks increased by the sister of Queen Marie, of Roumania, where the lives of workers and peasants have been blotted out by the thousands under one of the most fiendish white terrors Europe has yet seen.

It is well known that the "grand duke" is an extreme eccentric. Under ordinary circumstances he would be confined as a lunatic. Even his own family frowns on its pretensions. It has some other candidate for the job. But harboring this ambition is just as insane as the grandiose announcements of the "duke" himself.

All these titles so grandiloquently proclaimed are "the bunk"; since Russia under Soviet Rule, recognizes no dukes or duchesses. If there are any left in Russia, they have lost their titles and been put to work.

But the American subsidized press recognizes them, the social circles of the parasites bow before them, and the American capitalist dictatorship gives them what standing they can.

When the would-be "czarina" arrived in New York, she was met by a special force of police and detectives, just like any other capitalist "somebody," and the royal suite at the Waldorf-Astoria was turned over to her free of charge. She was even honored with "threatening letters," that the efficient reportorial staffs of the yellow press always furnish the illustrious manikins that they parade thru their columns.

The visit of the fake "duchess" should do much to unmask the fraudulent character of American democracy in this capitalist republic.

With the "admirals," the "generals" and the what-nots, from among the Russian czarist emigres that waited on the "duchess," there appeared Mrs. Henry P. Loomis, president of the Colonial Dames of America, an aggregation of snobs claiming ancestry among those who made victory possible against Great Britain in the revolutionary war of 1776. It is into this atmosphere that LaFollette would have the American workers and poor farmers plunge with his "Back to '76" slogants it each

But the workers and poor farmers, if they wish to find the counterparts of the Russian czarists in this country, need only look over the list of hosts to the wandering "duchess," whose family in Russia oppressed the greatmasses of workers and poor peasants for centuries.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, the widow of the American railroad czar, heads the list, with Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer. of the newly rich family that owns the New York World, court organ to the democratic wing of Wall Street's bi-partisan politics. She will enter the official political family in Washington as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lansing. This is the Lansing who was secretary of state under Wilson. He did his part in plunging this country into the European blood bath in 1917. The "duchess" will also be received by Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of one of the unofficial family of the republican party. Hammond, the multi-millionaire mine owner, has been active as an open-shopper, at the same time lending himself to the class-collaboration schemes of the National Civic Federation, that claims the whole Gompers' regime in the American Federation of Labor as one of its greatest mainstays.

The "duchess" will thus have good democratic and republican connections in Washington. In Philadelphia she will enter the circles of the most exclusive American aristocracy, that stood by Coolidge with its millions in the recent campaign, under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer and Mrs. Gardner Cassett.

The strike-breaking, union-crushing vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, William Wallace Atterbury, has decided to give the "duchess" a free ride on his railroad, thru turning over to her one of the road's best private cars.

The "duchess" will get some comfort in the fact that she will find her memories of czarist rule in Russia, mirrored in the brutal conditions inflicted upon workers and poor farmers in this country.

Perhaps Mr. Atterbury will let her take a run thru the anthracite coal fields, owned by Pennsylvania's railroads, where the labor hating coal and mine barons join with the labor bureaucracy to keep the workers in submission.

Perhaps the "duchess" will shake hands with John L.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers' Union, as a reward for revoking the charters of miners' locals in the hard coal fields, and breaking up their resistance to the mine owners. Perhaps she will give a smile to Lewis' agent in the anthracite fields, President Rinaldo Cappellini, of District

Czarist rule has fallen in Russia. But it has deep roots in the United States in American capitalism's fertile soil. Workers and poor farmers here must unite under the same Communist leadership that made Soviet Rule in Russia victorious, to root out and destroy it, plant and seed.

IRISH FAMINE AND COUNTRY

Government Refuses to Take Action

(Special to The Daily Worker) DUBLIN, Dec. 7.—The spectre of a ferrible famine looms over Ireland. In the western part of the country, the failure of the crops presents a situation as threatening as any since the black days of '47. And while deaths from hunger are reported the Free State government does nothing but twiddle its thumbs.

Trade Unions Split.

The crisis is caused by a crop fail re and also a heavy slump in trade. The extent of the crisis can be gathered from the fact that there are 100,000 industrial workers listed at the unemployment exchanges, while the entire membership of the trade unions at best never exceeded 250,000 and the population of the county is only about 4,000,000. But the distress is not confined to the industrial population, and the figures for the agricultural regions are not easily available as they do not register with the unemployment exchanges.

Food Prices High.

Food prices are already higher than in England and are 80 per cent higher than before the war. Instead of doing something to help the famine stricken people, the government has created a commission to inquire into the cause of the crop failure.

When the great famine broke in Russia, the Irish priests attributed the disaster to a visitation of the christian God because the Russian people permitted Bolshevism to find root among them. Ireland is the most catholic and loyal to Rome of any country in the world, yet the western part of the country is a fertile ground for famine and the prayers of the clergy seem to have no influence in increasing the food supply.

Lovestone Condones the Treachery of the Farmer-Labor Leaders of Washington.

One more quotation from Comrade Lovestone's article will complete the proof that his conception of "an intensified campaign for a class farmerlabor party" is an opportunistic conception of the "the united front from the top only" by means of negotiations and conferences with reformist leaders of reformist organizations. Moreover, it will show that he condemns our Communist action in entering the Workers Party in the election campaign under its own banner formist leaders.

Comrade: Lovestone's "Exhibit B" is the farmer-labor party of Washington, a reformist party, predominently agrarian and based on individual membership. Comrade Lovestone is very indulgent towards this so-called party. He says, it "merely endorsed LaFollette and Wheeler."

In the competing theses of the majority and minority groups of the Central Executive Committee there are many differences, some of which are very profound. For the purpose of this article we will take only one point-the question as to whether we shall continue to use the united front tactic on the political field, thru the use of the slogan "For a mass farmerlabor party."

I support the minority view: that ve must continue to use the united front farmer-labor party tactic, more energetically now than ever before, and with a fundamental correction of our conception of what the united front tactic is.

I believe that a profound misconception of the Bolshevik tactic of the united front underlies the whole policy of the majority of the C. E. C. as carried out in the past eleven months, and that only their mistaken application of it has brought them to the pass where now they wish to discard it as far as the political field is concerned. I will indicate what I think are these misconceptions of the ma-

"We do not expect to see a Communist program come out of this convention, a Communist form of organization, or Communist candidates nominated.

It is a curious coincidence that Comrade Foster's speech was almost a perfect paraphrase of a statement issued by the non-Communist Minnesota farmer-labor convention arrangements committee some weeks earlier:

"There will no doubt be Commuists as there will be other schools of thought represented at the convention, but they will represent such a small fraction that even if they so desired, they would make no impression on the great mass of farmers and workers who are interested in practical legislative measures and not in visionary doctrines."

This passage from the farmer-labor arrangements committee's statement had been sharply called to the C. E. C.'s attention, because of the fact that it had appeared in newspapers as This is no exaggeration of Ruthen signed by a member of the Commu-Committee declaring the apparent The policy of the Central Executive Hathaway as "conduct inadmissible rade C. munist Party and the Communists, when forming a bloc with the pettybourgeois elements, must so much the more sharply underscore their views instead of disavowing them." (It appears now that Comrade Hathaway did not actually sign the statement, and that its appearing in the capitalist press over his signature was due to its being accompanied by a mimeographed form letter bearing Comrade Hathaway's signature requesting its publication. Comrade Hathaway explained that it passed thru his hands merely as a matter of routine and that had he noticed the passage above quoted he would have objected to it.)

Yet Comrade Foster, confronted with the accusation that the "reds" were capturing the leadership of the convention, could not refrain from getting up and repeating the spirit of the statement, idea for idea, paraphrase for phrase, from beginning to

Later, at a metting of the party editors and district organizers called by the C. E. C. in Chicago on July 10. Comrade Foster responded to questioning by admitting that he should not have made such a statement to the St. Paul convention, but explained that this was a typical example of the kind of things we are forced to do as the inevitable result of the anomalous position we were in at St. Paul; the anomaly being that we found a majority of the convention with us, whereas our "natural" position in such an action was to be in the minority. Because we found ourselves in possession of a majority and therefore responsible for the convention he said, we were forced into a position of denying our principles-a position which we must be careful never to be forced into again. This idea of the Communist role in the labor-party united front is very definitely continued in the majority thesis of the Foster-Cannon group now before the party.

2. Majority thinks a Communistled left wing farmer-labor party would be "dual unionism on the political field."

When in 1923, in the "August thesis" of the C. E. C., we who were then a majority spoke of the possibility of a left wing labor party being developed into a mass Communist Party as one alternative that might arise. the Foster group violently objected to the idea of the left wing of the labor movement crystallizing into a labor party, and demanded its repudiation as "dual unionism on the political field" and as the "split theory.". The idea of the possibility of using the labor party slogan with a view possibly to develop a left wing labor party organization into a mass Communist Party, was most bitterly attacked by the Foster group, who denounced it as criminal folly and as the absolute negation of the basic purpose of the labor party tactic which was to get a labor party.

For us, on the contrary, this united front labor party action like all other present actions, had and continues to have only the unchangeable purpose of building the Workers Party into a mass Communist party, any other purpose being subordinate, tentative and subject to change to conform to the one supreme purpose. As declared in our August thesis, the development of a mass Communist Party of some hundreds of thousands of members would be a far greater attainment, and far more advantageous to the masses of the exploited, than to get a farmerlabor party of three millions based upon what is called the "bona fide" trade unions and led by the leaders of those unions. It is true that we signing of the statement by Comrade unhesitatingly formulated the slogan, "a great mass organization formed by organized labor." Confronted with the fact that there already existed several embryonic frameworks claiming to be "labor parties"—abortive

> 4. Majority thinks that since the trade union burocracy refuses to organize a labor party, and betrays the movement, then the object of the slogan (which was to have a labor party) is lost and the basis of our political united front action has vanished.

For, after the trade union burocracy has failed to form one of these farhave thus presumably exposed themselves, then, says the majority thesis:

6. Does the betrayal by Gompers, Fitzpatrick, Hillman, Hillquit & Co., or the electoral defeat of LaFollette, destroy the basis for the use of the labor party slogan?

We assert that the mass basis of the demand for independent political action (historically expressed as the labor party demand) is still in existence. This demand did not originate in the soliloquies of Mr. Fitzpatrick or Mr. Hillman or Mr. Johnston, and therefore the Foster-Cannon group is wrong when it says that "when the leaders . . . enter into a permanent alliance with the betty-bourgeoisie' and get for the alliance the support of "almost the entire organized labor movement" which they control—that then "the question of forming a labor party loses its basic foundation." On the contrary. If the class struggle is mer-labor parties of the kind which sharpening and creating the friction "if it is to be a success cannot be a which generates the mass demand, Communist party," and after they and unless the class struggle is being abated, the betraval of these leaders creates the best possible basis for the "But when the leaders of these or use of the slogan. The greetings sent to our last year's convention by the Comintern are still valid and quite applicable on this point:

"That Gompers and his reactionary trade union officialdom oppose it (the united front) because of their antities; that the socialists, having renounced every revolutionary idea and desertion of the leaders breaks up the lined up with the reactionary forces to Gompers, that they denounce the fore also oppose the united front-is creating the best basis for the united front policy."

The class struggle is sharpening in America, not abating. The fury of government repression will strike death blows at labor more, not less, in the immediate future. The demand for political action on the united front basis (which historically takes the form of the demand for a "farmerlabor party") will be more urgent now than ever before.

But "the present situation calls for neither a labor party policy nor a labor party slogan," writes Comrade Bittelman! And under such guidance we slip into setarian solitude while the A. ## Labor Unions Oversee Apprentice System

(Special to The Daily Worker) NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Russian workingmen are ingenius mechanics, says Samuel Shipman, for two years labor manager for the industrial plants in ers can get along with antique or broken down machinery that would drive, an American mechanic to despair. Acduring the years of czarism and the blockade that followed the revolution they have learned to improvise their own ways of getting things done.

The difficulty comes in getting the Russian mechanic used to the modern machinery that is being installed in the Kusbas district and in the industrial centres of old Russia. For this new, modern machinery, Shipman says, young men and boys are more adaptable.

To Train Apprentices.

Shipman told of the apprentice training system at the colony. The industrial laws of new Russia compel each plant to carry and train a number of apprentices equal to six per cent of the total force. The labor unions oversee the apprenticeship system in order that the coming mechanics get the proper training and the proper health safeguards while learning. Youngsters between fourteen and sixteen are permitted to work only four hours daily; between sixteen and eighteen only six hours.

SOLIDARITY OF PRIVATE BANKERS REAL END ACHIEVED BY CREATION OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

In Union There Is Strength was the slogan of the private bankers when they put over on the country a new constitution which vastly extended their title to exploit the wage earners and farmers.

This new constitution which superseded that adopted in 1787 is known Bosses Refuse Workers as the federal reserve act of 1913. It was amended in 1917.

This further increased the power of the bankers to exact every ounce of increased productivity from the actual producers who were thus left no better off as the result of the progress of industry.

Solidarity of the private bankers was the real end achieved by the creation of the federal reserve system. The full resources of the country's money power thus became available to prevent collapse in any locality where suspicion developed that title to this power rests on fraud. The federal eserve act gave the bankers power to issue paper money guaranteed by the United States in order to allay any such suspicion.

Want Power to Issue Money.

Approximately 95 per cent of all he money used today is created by the private bankers and circulated in the form of checks. It is supposed to be secured by the paper profits derived from bank-made money of the past. It is really a mortgage on the surplus which labor will create in the future.

In 1907 the bankers found that the old banking law limited their ability to create this loan money by requiring a reserve of at least 25 per cent of it in gold. This actually prevented them from expanding their money as pers. In the months before the trial fast as the productivity of industry. came he went out of town. # The European Crisis

Two facts stand out from the European dispatches of the last three days.

1. That there is a great revival of revolutionary sentiment and action on the continent, and

2. That the capitalist governments are hysterical and fearful of mass uprisings right at the time when the Dawes plan was supposed to have lulled the masses into that state of somnolence which is necessary for their successful plundering.

One more conclusion can be drawn from the European news and its full significance will be understood. It is that under the domination of American capital, to which every western European power is mortgaged now, there is being prepared another offensive against Soviet Russia that waits a favorable opportunity to go into action.

The success of the Dawes plan depends upon the wholesale subjugation of European labor. The Communists in every nation are the leaders of the fight against the Dawes plan and it is the purpose of the capitalist governments to crush the Communist parties which take the lead in organizing the European working class against the Dawes plan and against war on Soviet Russia.

Raids, arrests and mass murder are not going to stamp out the Communist parties. The European working class already know that they have been sold by their rulers to American imperialism. The ployed, even in the Carpenters' Union, long be- Whenever the "hero" Denikin ap cal action in Madison, Wisconsin, on capitalists of Europe have lost their greatest propaganda weapon. They can no longer raise the slogan of defense of the fatherland and rally the masses of the workers who know that the House of Morgan speaks thru every European cabinet.

The raids on the Communists, as in France and Germany, the death sentences passed out en masse in Esthonia, Spain, Roumania and Bulgaria, the enemies of the labor movement revocation of "white" enemy added to the good politicians. It is apparent that the foolish stories of the "tottering Soviet govern- charters, disruption of the union, denunciation of spirit there. The program was furment," are not evidence of the strength of European | the striking miners in the capitalist press, a united nished by the Y. W. # Beating the Boss to the Punch

The workers employed by the Illinois Traction company at Springfield have gone on strike for a 10 per cent increase in wages. Their chances of winning are good inasmuch as they gave the company only a few hours notice instead of thirty, sixty or ninety days as is customary in respectable union circles.

When the American unions develop the system of surprise attack—a military tactic endorsed by the best authorities—as one of the most dependable weapons in industrial warfare in place of long drawn out negotiations that give the capitalists ample time to recruit scabs and gunmen, they will be on more even terms with the bosses and the labor movement will profit immensely by the militant spirit that this tactic will spring from and increase.

Will Use Farmer-Labor Movement as Ballast

By LAURENCE TODD.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Berger is reenly enjoying the situation created by the LaFollette movement.

"Son, LaFollette has fought the republican party and left it: there is no question about that," he has told the republican caucus have made speech es charging that the republican party is corrupt and operates as the enemy f the farmers and wage workers, as n enemy of the common people. They ave done all they possibly could to lefeat the republican party.

"There is just as much cause and eason to keep them out of the repubcan caucus as there would be to teep me out if I claimed now to be republican. I believe it is dishonest making good his promise, by joining new party. The chances are that ne will be re-elected to the senate in four years if he takes that course.
