AS WE SEE IT By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

A 1508 by one of his predecessors is causing Pope Pius considerable annoyance. This bull conferred the right of apostolic appointments in the western world on the king of Spain, which right so far as Argentine is concerned passed to the government of that country after Spain was kicked out. That the catholic church is a big political machine is very clearly shown by this fact. The pope appoints one Mgr. Boheo as apostolic governor of the Buneos Aires diocese without consulting the government. When the papal envoy arrived the government demanded to see his credentials and the afoesaid envoy said "Nothing doing" or words to that effect.

F the Argentinian official who so politely requested the papal dignitary to let him have a squint at his papers, was bitten by a small army of New Jersey mosquitoes, he would not or could not be more excited. He talked eloquently in Spanish, swearing by the virgin's faithful and confiding spouse, that he would knock his holiness for a string of spaghetti even if the pope happened to be St. Peter's right hand man a dozen times over.

SEEING that according to the Argentinian constitution the president of that country must be a Roman catholic those who cannot be listed among the faithful, or in other words adherents or ex-adherents of the Roman church, will marvel exceedingly at the cold, calculating and hostile manner in which portions of his flock proceed to make life exciting for the shepherd on the Tiber. But to catholics ex and otherwise it is only an added reason for the pope's unpopularity. Atheists grow in catholic countries where there is no protestant opposition worthy of the name as fast as flies multiply on a heap of dead fish. The Argentinian authorities threaten to drop Mgr. Boheo into the nearest cell unless he shows his credentials. We are hoping he does not show them.

A RISTIDE BRIAND, former socialist and premier of France during a period of the world war, is now applying the pulmotor of his eloquence on the dying league of nations. The renegade socialist knows that the league is a farce comedy as long as the United States is on the outside, and the latter is too powerful and too wealthy to join something that would not add to its power unless it could be used to fasten its hegemony on the rest of the world. The league would only hinder Wall Street's ambitions, so it is given the frozen glove. Briand will holler in vain, but he may bark his way on the Wall Street payroll, as his former social democratic German "comrades" did.

THE former secretary of the young people's socialist league, a more or less fictitious organization, recently became disgusted with the socialist party and joined the Workers Party. That in itself is scarce worthy of editorial comment, such incidents being very common particularly since our party nominated its own candidates under the Communist banner in the recent elections. The socialist press 1919-20. was loud in its praise of the comrade before he became a Communist, but lo! once it became known that he had a red card in the Workers Party tucked away in his pocket the yellow sheets began to spew their vomit at He is now accused of being thirsty for gore and a place at the Communist beheading bee. The old story of the fox and the grapes.

It was war and self preservation rendered these tactics a matter of life and death. The struggle between the Soviet government and the capitalist nations is similar. It cannot be compromised. It is a fight between two systems. We felt that the MacDonald government had violated its unwritten agreement with us when it sanctioned a guaranteed loan to Russia. This we could not tolerate.

WIT was quite possible that the labor government might be returned in the elections as it had several good talking points, and was playing for the business vote on the basis of its record in office, demonstrating that business had nothing to fear from it and that during its regime unemployment was reduced, and strikes were as firmly dealt with as under either liberal or tory governments. All indications pointed to a (Continued on Page 4.)

The large theater where the meeting was held was packed with rank ship. and file coal diggers. Miner after miner took the floor to tell what he knew about this and other crooked elections and bit by bit the whole rotten story came out.

The officials of the Buckner local told how the ballots were locked in the hall and when the tellers returned, they found that some one had broken in and what seemed to be fake ballots substituted for the gen-

Frank Johnson, present sub-district secretary, who was running as a progressive candidate for re-election. There is not a shadow of doubt that Johnson was re-elected. If the count was fair he would have been re-elected by an overwhelming majority, as all the rank and file miners say he has given better service than any former sub-district secretary.

Yet Johnson, as well as all other progressive candidates, will lose out f the steal is allowed to stand. Just before the fake ballots from the Buckner local were sent in to Frank Johnson, the Buckner officials were notified by Johnson that the official ballots sent out by him had a special mark on them. KILLING OF 34 DUE TO NEGLECT

Dam Bursts from Waste Not Disposed Of

SALTVILLE, Va., Dec. 26.-Thirty four persons are know to have been killed, half a hundred were injured, and two hundred are homless following the breaking of a "muck" dam in the salt and alkali works of the Mathieson mill settlement. The accident was caused by the accumulation of refuse and waste lime, which the management of the salt works had not properly disposed of. This lime muck was allowed to press against the dam until on Christmas eve the dam burst inundating the valley below.

The avalanche that swept down from the broken dam of the Mathieson Alkali Works consisted mostly of lime refuse. It was solid enough to sweep ahead of it houses, fences, barns and vehicles. The entire valley is covered with the half frozen slush, being from a few feet to ten feet deep. The company had made no provision to take care of the lime waste, which had been accumulating for years. It was made soggier and heavier by recent rains, but still was allowed to pile up against the dam.

Many of the survivors have contracted pneumonia, and the death list is steadly growing. Those in hospitals are suffering from severe irritations of the eye, nose and throat due to contact with the alkaline muck water, but this is no novelty to the workers in the mill.

Amalgamated Workers STRIKE AGAINST WAGE CUT AT RACINE, WIS. Mnst Present Front to (Special to The Daily Worker) Amalgamated Dollars To Defend Victims of RACINE WIS., Dec. 26 .- The body finishers in the Hupmobile body

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, big business is making plans for a whole host of new mergers for the coming year. The 365 days of 1925 are going to be good ones for the great capitalists.

As this year fades combinations and consolidations are rapidly going forward in bakery products, sugar, dyes, natural gas, grain and other products. But the best information tells us that this is only an inkling of what may be expected next year.

The Coolidge administration will do nothing; except to silently acquiesce, in the best style of "Silent Cal."

There is a law on the statute books of the nation called the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. It is supposed to prohibit the organization of mighty competition-killing trusts. But it has been used more against labor organizations than against consolidations of great wealth.

It is felt, in the marts of the multi-millionaires, that the results of the last election constitute an edict to proceed with their trustification schemes. The great rich consider it a 100 per cent endorsement of their policies; the biggest of which is to strengthen their position against the working

But big capitalism is not entirely unafraid. It prepares its campaign with every possible caution. The Coolidge administration at Washington must not start proceedings in the courts; not even fake litigation. That would hurt.

A special Washington dispatch to the Chicago Tribune declares, that, "Any proceeding by the government against large industrial enterprises * * * * leaves the impression on the public mind that big business is the enemy of society."

But, at the same time, the masses must not be allowed to feel that the capitalist government at Washington, D. C., is merely the bond slave of organized dollars. So rumors are carefully circulated thru the subsidized presse that the government is on the look out for violators of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. It is stated that the department of justice and the federal trade commission are well informed on the whole situation. A government official is quoted as saying that, "The merging process is going on more rapidly than appears on the surface, and has cropped out in only a comparatively few instances."

So the innocent public goes on its innocent way assured that the police dogs of the "trust busters" are on the job.

They never wake up again until they find that some greater merger has been completed, and with the elimination of competition, left the way clear for unimpeded increases in prices.

While the so-called public, with its middle class ambitions and prejudices, is thus fulled into slumber, the workers must be jerked wide awake. The concentration of great capital plunges an increasing number of middle class elements into the working class; thus weakening the struggles of the workers, if the ranks of labor are not held together by insoluble ties.

The transportation, mining, metal and other great industries are being drawn more and more under the complete domination of great finance, centered in Wall Street.

The issue of the amalgamation of the organizations of the workers should be of the greatest importance with the coming of the New Year-the year of the greater centraliza-

Industry and finance are amalgamating their forces. They will get every possible support from their kept government, at Washington, now in the hands of the Coolidge

The workers must amalgamate. They will face the brutal opposition of the whole capitalist government, bulwarked by reaction in their own ranks. But organized labor must go forward in spite of this strongly entrenched enemy class, with all its supporters. It is amalgamation or annihilation. If there is to be any annihilation, it must be the annihilation of the capitalist class and all its supporters.

BAKERS MUST ABOLISH NIGHT WORK, SAYS T. U. E. L. PAMPHLET

There is no reason why the bakers should be forced to work at night, except the greed of the employers for more profits. Dr. Benzion Liber says in a pamphlet issued by the Trade Union Educational League on the subject of "Bakers and Night Work."

"It is a senseless and entirely unnecessary tradition that bakers must work at night," says Dr. Liber. "What has been possible abroad should not not be impossible here. We should be ashamed to be behind Finland, Poland and the Scandinavian countries, where night work in bakeries has been totally abolished.

"Do we really want our bread made by people who are inferior and deficient mentally and ho are kept away from daylight as well as from intellectual light. Are we satisfied to let them mix their worry, their tragic life, their physical weakness en and diseases into our bread?"

Liber declares that the statisticians of the Prudential Insurance Company place the bakers' work in the list of the "unhealthy trades," and they show that between the ages of 15 and 25 the deaths of bakers from tuberculosis of the lungs are nearly 25 per cent of the deaths from all causes. Between the age of 25 and 44 their deaths from tuberculosis are 25 per cent of the deaths from all causes. From the age of 45 and over their deaths from tuberculosis are nearly 11 per cent of the death from all causes.

William Z. Foster, who wrote the creface of this pamphlet, declares 'night work is ruinous to the health of the workers and is not requir ' by the technical nature of the baking inworkers' unions everywhere should be placed the slogan, 'Abolition of Nigh Work'.

dustry. On the banners of the food

"In carrying on their struggle against unhealthful night work th bakers are making only a part of the general fight of the working class to preserve its health in the face of the anti-social schemes of exploitation en gineered by the greedy capitalists.

"If the workers are ever to fine their way to emancipation they mus combat all these attacks upon their health by the employing class. A de generate working class will never etablish the new society. The first re quisite for real battlers, whether or the social, military or any other field of battle, is rugged health and virility The bakers must protect their physic al well being in their general fight for a higher standard of living. Night work in bake shops must go.'

Coal Operators

(Special to The Daily Worker) PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec., 26-Progressive miners held a conference here last Sunday and decided to wage a determined campaign for the release of the thirty eight victimized miners imprisoned at the Moundsville West Va., penitentiary for participating in the mine trouble at Cliftonville on July 17, 1922.

The trouble started when the operators decided to run the mine nonunion. The miners of the Avella section gathered and marched to Cliftonville in an effort to convince the strike breakers to join their ranks. As they neared the mine a shot was fired and both miners and mine guards began firing.

Operators' Tool Killed. Sheriff Duval, a tool of the operators vas killed in the melee. Over 200 men were arrested and 43 of them were held by the state for prosecution. The miners were tried before a prejudiced court and a picked jury and sentenced to terms ranging from three to ten Counsel for the defense, advised hem to accept trial in a body and lead guilty.

The wife of one of the prisoners attended the defense conference and charged the district officers of the union with betraying the miners of Cliftonville.

Organize Committee. The conference organized the Miners Moundsville Defense Committee with a committee of seven men to direct the defense. William A. Guiler and Pat Toohey were elected chairman and secretary-treasurer respectively. Every local in the district will be visited. Resolutions and petitions are to be immediately spread thru the district.

Locals will be asked to circulate the petitions, adopt the resolutions and contribute money for the defense. Every miner of the Pittsburgh district is urged to communicate with Comrade Poohey and receive petitions and resolutions. One of the prisoners is a Hungarian who cannot talk or read English. Hungarian workers should take note of this.

FASCIST PARTY IN SPLIT OVER

Communists Expecting Large Gains

ROME, Dec. 26.-A split has occured within the fascisti party over the hill introduced by Premier Mussolini calling for a new election in March. The extreme "right wing" of the fascisti, led by M. Bianchi, formerly a member of the socialist party, do not want a new election as they feel that the extreme fascisti have little chance of being returned to the chamber of deputies. The extremists have called a convention to take place Sunday Dec. 28.

The opposition has issued a state ment declaring that Mussolini's election is a move to distract attention from the illegalities which have been fastened on the fascisti. The opposition charges that Mussolini wishes to make the election an excuse for declaring general amnesty, which would release the fascists who have been implicated in murders and other violent activities. The opposition further declares that the elections cannot be ment as the "fascist government and free election are two incompatible terms."

The Communists have issued statement declaring that the presentation of the bill is a desperate attempt of Mussolini to keep in power, and that the Communists will make large gains in the elections.

(Special to The Daily Worker) BERLIN, Dec. 26 .- Three foreign correspondents were injured, one seriously, when the police attacked the crowd that gathered to greet the released German Communist, Erich Muchsman, just released from a Bavarian prison. The government did not want news of the great demonstration to be sent out over the wires to other countries. When the correspondents showed their cards to the police, they were met by a volley of filthy insuits and later on by clubs and rubber sticks.

The worst sufferer from this assault was a Hungarian correspondent for several Scandinavian newspapers. There is much criticism of the police over this affair. The police head is a socialist.

Open Switch Point Derails Locomotive

GALESBURG, III., Dec. 26.-A partly open switch point was blamed for Lewis Fails to Poll the derailment of the locomotive of carried out under the fascist govern the Galesburg Peoria passenger train on the Burlington train, at Maquon, 15 miles from here. No one was badly injured. So far no one knows how the switch point came to be open. The company takes advantage of the heavy snow storm at the time and says that the heavily falling snow date got 83. The entire progressive held the switch point open a distance, sufficient to throw the locomotive off the rails. If that assumption were true then snow storms are indeed a tragic event in these parts. If snow storms are known to be responsible for such possible danger to life, then the company had better get busy to insure the necessary action of the switch point at such a time.

A special train was sent from Peoria to take passengers to that city.

Immediate Returns

To workers who are modest about demanding a high wage promptly paid, we commend the example of William Morgan Butler, erstwhile campaign manager for Calvin Coolidge. The votes have hardly been counted when Colonel Butler is discovered in Washington with a demand for a higher tariff on the products of his textile mills and those of his collegues in the profitable enterprise of exploiting the labor of children.

Colonel Butler may have a high regard for Calvin Coolidge and this may have spurred him on to do his best as campaign manager, but the little matter of juicy pickings to be had from higher taxtile tariffs was a much greater incentive. Nor has the colonel been hesitant in demanding his re- will recall, was the campaign manager vard. FIGHT FOR THE FUTURE!

By JAMES H. DOLSEN,

Organizer, District 13. No more far-sighted plan could have been devised than that of INSURING our daily paper for 1925, and it is worthy of every comrade's wholehearted support. The launching of such a campaign shows that we are facing facts and using our common sense in solving

This district (No. 13, California) will do its utmost to contribute its quota, despite the burden it has had of maintaining also a local naner, and despite also the distance which separates us from our national headquarters. Personally, I shall emphasize the importance of this drive at every opportunity.

In my opinion, the DAILY WORKER is the very heart of our organization. It has done more to make us a real factor in the life of the American working class than any other weapon we possess. Its revolutionary attitude is bringing ever closer a large group of sympathizers who look to it for information and guidance.

It is the DAILY WORKER which will make possible the growth of an English-speaking Communist movement in America. Every comrade must get behind our Daily for the BIG PUSH!

THE END OF THE PACIFIST ERA

sequences for England Itself. By A. MASLOW.

To seek to attribute the annihilatng defeat of MacDonald solely to the anomalous, obsolete English election ystem is childish. A whole number of factors have contributed to this de-

Numerically regarded, the defeat of the first English "labor government" is, at the first glance, not great. The proportion of the votes cast by the conservative party and the labor party respectively are as 6 to 51/2. But in spite of this these figures prove on closer inspection, to be crushing for the labor government.

For the masses of the electors consist of workers, of compact masses of workers, who, in the cities, as for instance, in Birmingham, have overhelmingly voted for the conservates What is the reason for this?

It can be regarded as a rule that masses who are not politically trained and steeled do not think of support ing a government which has not done something definite for them.

This was the experience in Russia; not only with Kerensky, but in many struggles in Siberia, in the Ukraine, in Caucasus. This was the experience in 1923 with the "workers' government" in Saxony, where the proletariat entirely failed to defend "its" government against the Reichswehr, precisely because it had experienced nothing to show that it was "its" government.

The MacDonald government had given nothing to the broad masses of propaganda. Therefore, there remained nothing else for the broad masses of English workers, with their imperialist tradition and their petty-bourgeois ideology, than to act like real gentlemen, to be responsive to the oratory of the conservatives, the more so when the well-aimed bomb of the forged Zinoviev letter exploded. It appealed to their British sentiments: "The first people in the world." "the freest people, and here was interference on the part of the barbarian, undemocratic and unmoral Soviet government," "we-want to promote English trade, not to give our money to untrustworthy undemocratic despots who in return incite our brave soldiers and blue jackets to mutiny." and such like cheap appeals. This was to be seen on one side

On the other hand there was the increase in the votes cast for the labor party. That means that the English working class is becoming politically conscious and more revolutionary. In fact there was no more radical party in the elections than the labor party. The eight Communists do not count. And in spite of its miserable policy this party gained votes in election. This shows that class antagonisms in England have increased, stronghold of the rebel elements are increasing, and will continue to

The new conservative government in England will no more be able to ping out altogether because their McKenna duties (upon sugar, tea and "revolutionary thought" was mostly coffee) and thereby abolish the only been definitely crystallized into the the dominions upon tinned salmon, its ranks and help blast the road to struggle will flame up against these tariffs and against the increase of Secondly, the conservative government will abolish the Wheatley housing scheme. This act was a pure swindle; it provided for the building of two and a half million houses at the cost of the state and municipal authorities during the course of 15 years. But the labor party will make a virtue of necessity and mobilize the workers against this abolition of the housing scheme.

Thirdly, the conservatives will conduct a campaign against the unem ployed maintenance.

Fourthly, they will set up fascist rganizations in order to crush any ebellious working masses. (They will have no opportunity of discharging 'socialist" officials, as the labor govrument did not appoint any, but took over the old conservative apparatus is it stood.)

The inner political effects will unloubtedly be a strong revolutionizing of the working class, an enormous increase of class antagonisms, and at the same time a differentiation within the working class, which will proceed much more rapidly than in the last nine months.

The workers now have a new charter, a program of demands for which they will fight. These demands are unacceptable for the conservatives. Nationalization of the railways, mines and banks, a 44-hour week, a legal minimum wage-all this will not be granted by any conservative government, unless they are thoroly compelled to it. The carrying out of even these inadequate and incomplete demands means the death of English capitalism. A fight, a real fight over them is a fight for life and death.

This fight stands on the order of the day. This does not mean that English capitalism will be "settled" tomorrow or the day after. But this means that in England the struggle for the ending of capitalism has begun. And this means a great deal,

The Defeat of MacDonald and its Con- | and pushes the whole international la bor movement a stage forward.

> Everything at present is in a state of flux. Singapore, the greatest naval base in the world, the link between Africa, Asia, Australia and America, will be renewed and will immediately raise three questions: the attitude of the dominions to the mother country and of the mother country to the dominions; the attitude of England to the United States and vice versa: the attitude of England to Japan and vice versa.

Another example: Mosul. Here policy of prestige can lead very rapidly to a great war.

A third example: Egypt. The Egyp ian question can very easily become French or Franco-Italian question. For the Egyptian opposition can be used as a pretext so to strengthen the Mediterranean fleet that it would not be tolerated by France.

All these possible difficulties render t improbable that the English con servative government will create unnecessary difficulty by withdrawing the recognition of the Soviet Union. But the treaty will certainly not be Even if the government ratified. wished, they could not ratify it in the face of the election campaign. which was waged against the treaty There will therefore be new negotia tions, prolonged negotiations; the conservatives will practice the strategy of wearing down their opponent.

The new era which is now begin ning will be an era of unrest, of mis trust of one government by the other, he English workers. Not even good of sham conferences, of secret agreements, of diplomatic intrigues, of increased war preparations.

> What is the task of our Communist Party in England? It was rightly pointed out that its tasks and its pos sibilities of development were especially great during the "democraticpacifist" era. This era is at an end. The tasks however, not only remain, but have grown.

> Broad work of enlightenment among the masses. Energetic rallying of the workers for the demands of the Hull congress or even "only" the election manifesto of the labor party, which the leaders will of course let Creation of factory councils. Rallying of all active elements in the trade unions. Penetration into local organizations of the labor party. Organization of the fight against the fascist organizations which are arising. Recruitment of members, extention of the press with the view to setting up a Communist daily paper with a mass circulation. Energetic propaganda of Communism—these are the tasks of our party in England.

And Still They Come.

While we protest against this kind of thing publicly and express much moral indignation, the Soviet government gets equally excited over our maneuvers in Georgia and our relations with the did not have any Zinoviev letter, but we had one drawn up almost just as good. It was so good that it fooled Ramsay MacDonald, tho that gentleman was willing enough to be fooled.

ACDONALD made the mistake VI of attacking the Soviet government and affirming his belief in the authenticity of the letter. This played into our hands. His later statements professing doubt did not matter. It was his first comment that counted. We scared small business stiff. We got big business fighting mad. Millions of workers who were wavering in their allegiance came over to us fearing revolution if the respectable MacDonald party were returned. The forgery, (a rather nasty name) did its work. Now that the elections are over, it makes little difference whether its authenticity was proven or not. But genuine Commun. ist propaganda looks so much like the fake letter that the average person could not detect it."

THE journalist never heard such a frank confession by a government official before. He was shocked. The tory grinned and said, "If you published what I have told you and I denied its authenticity, it would mean your ruin not mine." The journalist did not publish the story. He told it to his friends.
