Comrade Gaylord was at his best at the Waukesha meeting last Monday evening. He said that he proposed to prove that the Republican and Democratic parties are today supporting principles which are fundamentally anarchistic.

He quoted William Jennings Bryan as the author of an essay recently published in a leading magazine, entitled "Individualism vs. Socialism". Mr. Bryan is entirely hustler in modern industry or commerce. The Panama canal is not being built by individual hustlers, but by an organized army of workers, using modern machinery.

"The workers of the world can never be anarchists: for they must enlist in industrial armies, take their places at the appointed time. They cannot practice the principles of anarchism, which are 'do as you please, and mind your own business'. But there is a class in society today which is in a position to practice these doctrines, and does so. An illustration of this class is found in the contempt with which Mr. H. H. Rogers treated the court when he was called upon to answer a few simple questions recently. In effect he told the court to mind his own business, that he, Mr. Rogers, would do as he pleased.

"Judge Grosscup of Chicago says, in an article in the American Magazine of last December, that 'fully nine-tenths of the business transactions of this country are handled by corporations'. He then goes on to say that 'the corporations do business in a domain outside of the law'—which simply means that there is no law adequate to control them. President Roosevelt said in his message to the Congress last winter, when he was asking for rate legislation, that 'there is no national law, and certainly no state law, which is adequate for the regulation of the railway corporations of this country'. And that simply means that Mr. Roosevelt is not President of the United States, but only of so much of it as is not included in the control of the railway corporations.

"Now, who are the anarchists? 'How does this happen? What is the cause of this situation?' 'The invention of labor-saving machinery has resulted in the building of big machines. The proper use of these machines compels their use on the largest possible scale—to full capacity. In many cases the machinery has been so far perfected that when properly organized and used it can do the work of an entire industry with a single set of machines. That spells monopoly—in the nature of the machines. That also gives to the owner of the machines the power to dictate the conditions and the wages of labor, and also the prices of the product which the laborer needs when he must buy the things which he has made. This is the condition which creates the industrial and commercial despotism of today.

"The supposed government of today—the government by President, Congress, Supreme Court, sheriffs, and dog-catchers—this is not the real government. It is nothing but a many-wrinkled mask upon the face of the real government, which stands back of it. There is no real President of the United States.

"But the real government is that which says under what conditions you shall labor, and what shall be your reward when you have finished. The real government meets you at the shop door when you go to buy bread and tells you how much bread you shall buy, follows you home and tells you what kind of a home you shall have—if you are to have any at all. It tells you the kind of a family you shall have, and what your children may eat and wear—it even tells you whether you may have any children at all. You have no voice in this government, you are not asked to vote on the hours or conditions of labor, or the prices of the things which you must use. The real government settles all this for you. You vote for the various officials of the make-believe, hocus-pocus government, at which the real barons of the land snap their fingers. But I would like to be President of the real government for a little while. That would be worth while!

"This is the government by private property. Its power is due to the fact that the real governors own privately those things which are social utilities, are allowed to make a private profit out of a social necessity. Now, there are some things which are properly private property, and Socialists do not propose to abolish all private property. Those things which must be privately, personally used must be and will be private property. But those things which the people must use in common must and will be owned in common.

"And for the proper control of these things there must be a democracy, based upon the social ownership of the social utilities. We must choose between the industrial despotism, which is made possible by the private ownership of social necessities, and that industrial democracy which can never be established until the people own the means by which they control their own bread supply.

"Prof. Hertzka of Austria, has shown what the industrial democracy would be able to do, and what would be the industrial 'slavery' of which Mr. Bonaparte has been speaking in such frightened terms. He shows that with a proper use of labor-saving machinery, one-fifth of the population, working 300 days a year, and two hours and twelve minutes a day, could produce all the comforts and necessities for all the people. What an awful slavery that would be! A guaranteed education for every boy and girl; an old-age pension for every one who has done his share of the world's work; and the guarantee of opportunity to all willing to do their share of necessary labor—with ample leisure for culture, and time to find out who is really the 'best man', measured by standards of manhood instead of by standards of money.

From the Gaylord Speeches.
"The Social-Democratic party shows the danger of anarchism, and stands today as the only party pledged to exterminate that class in society which as a class represents the last of the anarchists."

"The government of which Theodore Roosevelt is the head is not the real government of these United States. The real government is the one which prescribes the food you shall eat, the clothes you shall wear, the time you shall go to work and the time you shall quit, what you will get for that work and whether you shall work or not. The real government is the one which buys and sells your legislators like sheep on the plains.

"The fundamental principles of anarchy are 'Mind your own business' and 'Do as you please'. The real anarchists are the men who are at the head of the trusts, and who snap their fingers at the other little government which they have made. They do as they please and say, 'Mind your own business' even to the courts of this country."

To What is Economic and Political Development Tending?

By PAUL KAMPMEYER—Translated by E. H. THOMAS.

Are the Conditions of Production Stationary or Expanding?

"Although we are often inclined," writes the Socialist Sydney Webb in his little book "England's Working Class in 1837 and 1897," "to take a dark view of the condition of the people at the present moment, nevertheless it is evident that since 1837 a considerable change for the better can be noticed.

"In the majority of all trades, and in almost all places, the wages of men are much higher than at that time, and the workman also receives many more commodities for his labor than 60 years ago. In many cases the working day is shorter, the conditions of labor are better, and the standard of living is higher. In the city as well as in the country the housing has become better, the sanitary conditions have often experienced a complete revolution; education is not only far more universal, but also much more comprehensive, and the means of culture, as libraries, museums, art galleries, concerts, and sanitary institutions, are much more accessible for the workman than formerly. In short, the great mass of the people is much more civilized than 60 years ago.

"However terrible our industrial system may be, nevertheless, the standard of living in England is now in almost every respect more humane than formerly. The wrongs which still exist at the present moment should not blind us to the remarkable progress already made. Just so far the eulogies of the present optimistic statisticians are justified.

"About the general rise of wages since 1837 I need not say much. As far as male workers are concerned, we have no reason in general to doubt Sir Robert Giffens' statement that in almost all trades wages have risen from 50 to 100 per cent. . . .

"In general, it cannot be denied, that the last 60 years show a remarkable improvement in the standard of living of a very large part of the people. But, nevertheless, it must be emphasized that this great increase of prosperity, this great rise in the standard of living, has not been universal. There are even at the present day great masses of the people who as to their economic conditions still live in the year 1837. . . .

"And when we sum up in one general statement various facts known to us from the comparison of statistics of wages, we come to the following result: While the income of the skilled male mechanic has considerably risen, and entirely new classes of responsible and

THE WISCONSIN STATE PLATFORM.

The Social-Democratic party is the American political expression of the international movement of the modern working class for better food, better housing, sufficient sleep, more leisure, more education, and more culture.

Under the present system society is rapidly dividing into two classes: the rich and the poor, the capitalist class and the proletariat. The one toils without enjoying, the other enjoys without toiling.

In the wage earner and the farmer, we recognize the types of the producing elements of this country. Under our present economic system, both are exploited for the benefit of the capitalist class, the laborer on the sale of his labor power and the farmer on the sale of his products. Both are again exploited in the purchase of practically all the necessities of life.

The final aim of the Social-Democratic party is the emancipation of the producers and the abolition of the capitalist system. For that purpose, we organize the producing classes in city and country into a political party to take control of the powers of government.

The most characteristic expression of the present economic system is the trust and the monopoly.

Electricity, steam, and many modern inventions have struck the death blow at production on a small scale. Competition has wiped out competition. Production on a large scale makes monopoly a necessary condition. The trust and the monopoly are here, whether we wish it or not. The only question is whether they shall be public or private monopolies.

Private monopoly is a curse to the nation. Thus we see the coal trust making untold millions out of the sufferings of the poor, the oil trust oiling up the greatest fortune the world has ever seen upon the ruins of innumerable small dealers and in defiance of all laws and courts of justice, the meat trust sending thousands of unsuspecting human beings to an early grave by selling diseased meat simply to make dividends and heap up millions. Similar statements could be proven against all the other trusts.

Therefore the Social-Democratic party demands that the production of this country shall be taken away from the control of a small number of irresponsible men, whose only aim is to exploit us to the last limit of our endurance, without regard to human life or welfare.

There is no relief to be expected from any of the old parties. Formerly, the Republican party was the favorite political organization of capitalism, while the Democratic party stood for the middle class. But since the trusts have bought the Democratic party, there is no difference between the two. They both stand for capitalism and the present economic system.

With this in view, the Social-Democratic party of Wisconsin reaffirms its allegiance to the principles of international Socialism and declares its adherence to the platform of the national Socialist party adopted at the convention in Chicago, and pledges itself at the present time to the following measures:

That the state legislature, the governor and our representatives in Congress shall take such action as is calculated to bring about the nationalization of all the trusts, notably the coal, the meat, the oil, the sugar, the farming machinery trusts, and others of the same kind.

2. To bring about the national ownership of the railroads, telegraphs, telephones, and express companies and steamship lines.

3. To enact a law, granting every wage-worker over 40 years of age, who has earned less than $1,000 a year and has been a citizen of the United States for sixteen years at least, a pension of not less than $12 a month for the rest of his life.

4. To bring about the enactment of a national law, by which the government of the United States shall lend the cities and townships money on bonds issued by said cities and townships. Such loans shall be made in legal tender and without interest, the refund to take place in twenty years in equal shares. The money shall have its intrinsic value secured by the bonds and the assessed valuation of the city or township that receives the loan, and it shall be canceled with the bonds as fast as the loan is refunded.

5. To amend the United States constitution so as to abolish the United States Senate, which is a bulwark of capitalism and trustocracy—the general referendum of all the people to take its place as a check under proper provisions. Furthermore to elect the United States judges by the people of their respective districts for terms not to exceed six years—instead of having the appointment by the president—in order to make an end of government by injunction.

6. To establish life-insurance by the national government.

We also demand,

7. That all elective officers, national, state, and municipal, shall be made subject to the imperative mandate, and to a recall, by the expressed wish of three-fourths of their constituency.

8. That no city in Wisconsin shall have the right to sell, lease or give away public franchises. Provided, however, that in cases where existing laws and public necessity make a franchise unavoidable, it shall be granted only upon such terms as will guarantee justice to the people in the matter of rates, and fair treatment of the workers in respect to hours of labor, wages, etc., and especially shall provide for the transfer of the utility to public ownership at the earliest possible hour. Or, provided further, that the granting of such franchise shall first be approved by general referendum of the respective city or township.

9. Every city in Wisconsin shall have the right to take possession of all its public utilities by paying to the present owners the price of the properties involved as fixed by an impartial jury, the same not to include any franchise values; every city and township shall have the right to issue bonds for that purpose. All unlimited franchises now in existence to be declared null and void.

10. Complete self-government for cities and townships. They shall have the right to erect public slaughter houses, cold-storage plants, elevators, coal and wood yards, ice houses, stock yards, and manufacture commodities and sell them to the citizens at cost.

11. The state shall provide free school books and school utensils for the public schools. We also demand legislation enabling school districts in the country to give better school facilities and free transportation for the children to and from school.

12. That no further water rights shall be given away to individuals or private corporations, and those that have been given away, shall be re-covered as rapidly as possible. All mineral rights reserved in private contract shall be abolished. No land belonging to the state shall be sold, and all lands now belonging to the state shall be kept for state purposes.

13. That steps be taken to protect the head waters of our rivers. We demand also the reforesting of denuded tracts suitable for reforesting, so as to provide wooded land for future generations who have been robbed by the timber thieves.

14. That laws be enacted, limiting the working of youths under 21 years of age, and women of any age, employed anywhere in Wisconsin to eight hours a day, and prohibiting the employment of children under 16 years of age in any factory, store, workshop or mine, also for the strictest protection of life and limb in workshops, factories, mines, stores, railroads and boats. Also the removal of the principle of contributory negligence from our statutes, and the enactment of laws to compensate workmen when injured while employed. All wages to be paid weekly in lawful money.

15. That a graduated income and inheritance tax be enacted, small inheritances and small incomes to be exempt.

16. That fire and accident insurance be established by the state.

The Social-Democratic party also stands for every radical change that will bring more wealth, more culture, and more security to the masses of the people. But we call attention to the fact that the measures we urge are not a cure for all the existing evils, nor are they all Socialist measures. They are to be viewed rather as mere palliatives capable of being carried out even under the present conditions. Under no circumstances should the people rest content with palliatives of this kind. The people should move onward to the conquest of all public powers, to an entire change of the present ownership of the means of production and distribution and thereby by the blessings of our modern inventions, and a standard of civilization and culture hitherto unknown in history.

This is the program of the Social-Democratic party in Wisconsin. We call upon every intelligent voter of this state, regardless of race, nationality or religion, to join the Social-Democratic party, vote its ticket, build up its organization, and stand shoulder to shoulder for a better order and a higher civilization. And especially to the economically oppressed we call in the words of the immortal Karl Marx:—"Proletarians of the world, unite. You have nothing to lose but your chains and a world to gain."

quite well paid workers and mechanics have arisen, yet at the present day there is a greater number—although a smaller percentage—of hopelessly wretched existences than at any former time."

The result of the industrial development is therefore this: A considerable improvement for the skilled workman and a percentage decrease of hopelessly wretched existences. Moreover, according to Webb there is a prospect that the dregs of the people, "the wretched existences", may be raised if the different forms of the collective system—municipal Socialism, co-operative societies, and trades unions, and governmental control of industry—everywhere strikes root.

"And just there," writes Sidney Webb, "where the progress of the collective system has been checked—in those industries to which effective factory legislation has not been applied through distrust, in those places which are entirely withheld from municipal undertakings—just there only a very slight or even no progress can be observed. The factory legislation, the trades union movement, and those associations for educational and administrative purposes, which appear either in the form of municipal Socialism or co-operative stores, and moreover, the powerful working system of taxation and the centralized administrative control—these were the powerful factors of all the progress which we note since 1837. We can only hope to raise the dregs of the people by further extending these forms of collectivism."

All these facts seem to us to open a joyful and heart-cheering outlook for a gradual rise of the whole working class. In any case, the fabulously rapid monopolizing of the means of production and the hot-house-like forcing of technical progress in the last half century signify no growing increase of wretchedness, oppression, servitude and degeneration of the English working class. The army of the unemployed could not stop economic and social elevation of this class.

A great multitude of articles of use has passed over to the consumption of the workers. With the general rise of the working class a considerable quantity of the "surplus" of the means of life can overflow into the masses of the people, especially if these masses shall have attained a decisive influence in the great state, city, and co-operative institutions.

The shell of even capitalistic property is elastic and variable. Of course, this shell will no longer remain the same.

Capitalistic private property is passing through a manifold metamorphosis. It is turning into city and state property. And upward-striving workmen are constructing the city and national institutions.

The conditions of production, the conditions of property, under which capitalist society is producing, flow with the eternal stream of change. These conditions of production are perhaps gradually expanding, and altering, and they therefore do not need to be violently broken up.

The Struggle for Existence
By Walter Thomas Mills, A. M. of Chicago, Ill.
This is a Study in the Foundation Principles of Social Economy and Their Application to the Collective Struggle for Existence.
A THOUSAND QUESTIONS of the greatest importance to the working class carefully stated and discussed. This book will make you understand what the political warfare is all about, and how to work with those whose interests are the same, no matter if a decisive victory for yourself. There are no more our workers who can read this book and not learn how, collectively, to put into their own lives the Law of Struggle and More of Existence.
You can't afford to talk or vote till you have read this book. After you have read it you will have your own way in all rational political and economic discussions.
Every Printer ever engaged in setting type or reading proof on this book has become a Socialist.

The Ghastly Mockery of Present Conditions!

RESCUE IS ALWAYS IN SIGHT, BUT ALWAYS PROVES A DELUSION. SOCIAL-DEMOCRACY THE REMEDY.

By WILLIAM MORRIS, Poet, Manufacturer, Socialist.

In one of Edgar Allen Poe's tales he tells how a little group of wrecked sailors on a water-logged vessel, at the last extremity of starvation, are suddenly made delirious with joy at seeing a sail approaching them.

As she came near them she seemed to be managed strangely and unseamly, as though she were scarcely steered at all, but come near she did, and their joy was too great for them to think much of this peculiarity.

At last they saw the seamen on board of her, and noted one in the bows especially, who seemed to be looking at them with great curiosity, nodding also, as if encouraging them to have patience, and smiling at them constantly, showing while he did so a set of very white teeth, and apparently so anxious for their safety that he did not notice that the red cap he had on his head was falling in the water.

All of a sudden, as the vessel neared them, and while their hearts were leaping with joy at their now certain deliverance, an inconceivable and horrible stench was wafted to them across the waters, and presently to their horror and misery they saw that this was a ship of the dead. The bowing man in the bow was a tottering corpse, his red cap was a piece of his flesh torn from him by a sea-fowl; his smile was caused by his jaws, denuded of the flesh, showing his white teeth set in a perpetual grin.

So passed the ship of the dead into the landless ocean, leaving the poor wretches to their despair.

To us Socialists this ship of the dead is an image of the civilization of our time, just as the cast-away seamen are of the hopes of the workers now held captive by this "civilization."

The cheerfully bowing man, whose signs of encouragement and good feeling turn out to be the wells of death and corruption, well represents the much-praised philanthropy of the rich and refined classes of society, which is born of the misery necessary to their very existence.

How the people note eagerly the beautiful hope of the softening of life by the cultivation of good feeling, kindness, and gratitude between rich and poor, with its external manifestations — its missionary enterprises at home and abroad; hospitals, churches, refuges and the like; its hard working clergy, working, dwelling, amidst the wretched homes of those souls they are saving; its elegant and enthusiastic ladies sometimes visiting them; the cultured gentlemen with lectures on thrift and economy, which the poor can scarcely fail to practice even unpreached to; etc., etc. All this, which seems so refined and humane, it but the effect of the distant view of the fleshless grinning skull of civilization seeming to offer an escape to the helpless castaways, but destined on its nearer approach to suffocate them with the stench of its corruption, and then to vanish aimlessly into the void, leaving them weltering on the ocean of life, which its false hope has rendered more dreadful than before.

The one reality of modern society is industrial slavery, far-reaching and supreme over every man's life. No man and no set of men can do anything that does not tend towards the support of this slavery unless they act as conscious rebels against it.

The first struggles of the trade unions with capital took place when those trade unions were still illegal. But the repeal of laws against combinations of workmen in various countries set them partially free. Aided by the rising tide of commercial prosperity, which made the capitalists more willing to yield up some part of their enormous profits, under penalty of a hard struggle, the unions succeeded in raising the standard of livelihood for skilled workmen, although in ridiculous disproportion to the huge increase in the sum of the national income.

It seems, therefore, that along this line, which the workers are beginning to take up of themselves, progress towards revolution will be made. They will press forward their case politically.

Twenty years ago the working class knew very little of Socialism, and misjudged it. The worker looked upon himself as a free citizen, like any other man, and had no idea that the reason for his existence as a workman was that he might produce profit by his labor for his master.

Germany's Debt to Socialism!

We take the following account of the work of the Social-Democrats in Germany from a campaign address delivered in Milwaukee the past week by Comrade Richard Elsner, candidate for attorney general of Wisconsin. He began by speaking of conditions in Germany in former years, and said:

"In those days the workers were not respected and had no rights to speak of and poverty was evident everywhere.

"The governmental and military officers were wielding their powers without regard to the rights of civilians, who had to give way to the former, conspicuously on sidewalks and public streets, and duels were frequent. The cities especially were almost as poorly managed as our American cities; all in the interest of the exploiting aristocracy and nobility, so that before the advent of our party's power the Germans furnished, of all the countries, the largest contingent of emigrants to our country.

"Having seen all this myself, and having seen Germany again in 1883 and 1884, I would not believe such a tremendous change for the better has taken place, especially in the last ten years, if I had not seen Germany again last year for myself.

Instead of bureaucratic and autocratic spirit a rather democratic spirit now exists. The Kaiser has long since given orders to pay due respect to all civilians. The governmental and military officers give way to civilians, and workmen can now ride even on first and second class railway cars when other cars are occupied, which was never the case in my time. The royalty and nobility can hardly be seen in the open street for fear of making a "break" and to be criticised thereafter in the Social-Democratic or liberal press. The Kaiser, according to his principle, "Sic volo, sic juro," has influenced, in order to please the workmen and to guard against further increase of votes for our party, the manufacturers to produce as cheap and good articles as possible with little profits and give the workers the highest possible wages, with the result that the export trade of Germany is constantly increasing. Old-age pensions, invalid and sick benefit provisions have been made by law so that the workmen of Germany are protected under any circumstances from becoming public charges or inmates of a poorhouse, as is usually the case in our country of so-called Democratic or Republican rule.

"Germany has now the best factory laws of any country for the protection of the workers. I did not see more than perhaps three cripples, and the governmental railroads did not kill a single passenger last year.

"Through the constant agitation of the Socialists in the German Reichstag against military cruelties, the Kaiser has created — all with a view to decrease and neutralize the Socialist vote — the office of special adjutant, to whom all such cruelties must be reported after investigation, and who must daily report to the Kaiser as to the punishment received by the offending officer, which must always be most severe "per order of the Kaiser," and last but not least, the Kaiser has secret agents working among Social-Democrats for the principal purpose of finding out their next movements and particularly the next laws to be introduced by them in the German Reichstag, for the improvement of the conditions of the working class, with

His ideal was good wages and constant employment — that is, enough to live without much trouble, but in a constant condition of inferiority. And this was the old idea of unionism, some vestiges of which still remain.

This is now so much changed that the mass of the working class is beginning to feel its position of economic slavery, and hence to take part in the movement for Social-Democracy.

The not infrequent result that the Kaiser himself takes the initiative of such laws to make people believe that they don't need those radical Socialists. And the German people have the benefit of enjoying the resulting better laws to such an extent that I have not seen a single beggar. The workmen are better clad and housed and have a healthier appearance than the "sovereign" voters and "free" American citizens. And as an additional relief all the public utilities are placed in the hands of the respective municipalities as fast as possible. No corrupt politics about that. A dishonest public official is a rarity, while with us honest public officials form the rarity.

"Compare conditions: At every election our working class has to face a fake issue, like: Free trade and protection; silver and gold, although the workmen have the least of it; full (empty) dinner pails; Greater Milwaukee — while the only true issue in every campaign is: Shall the capitalist class or the class that works control our government?"

"The capitalist class of America especially will personally talk to the workmen every day, but can do it only through their newspapers, and the majority of the workers are foolish enough to read capitalistic instead of their own papers. To such a degree of mental lethargy have our people been trained by the capitalistic press and capitalistic hirings of all kinds down to the wage heeler, that the corporation magnates openly arrogate to themselves the guardianship of the public utilities for the people, thus leaving the inference that the people are wards and incompetents. How degrading a picture!

"To hope for enactments and successful application of labor laws in a truly capitalistic state, with capitalistic legislatures, with capitalistic governors and capitalistic judges, is another conspicuous picture of political childishness on the part of Democratic and Republican workmen. A little thinking should drive them to the conclusion that through ever-increasing Socialist votes they can force the other side to the same position as Emperor William is in — to do all possible to stem the tide of Social-Democracy — and with similar results.

"At least 50,000 Socialist votes this fall in Wisconsin will have more effect than 250,000 Democratic or Republican votes for the workers. The politicians would surely hustle at the next session of the legislature to do "something" for labor, in order not to lose more votes the next time. As long as workmen vote, in the main, the Democratic or Republican ticket, the politicians are not in a hurry.

"If the workmen would, instead of doing so much hard manual work, do only a very little thinking, they would see wonders in im-

The Quick and the Dead. When we see a kitten rummin' and tryin' to catch its tail, Though its antics may be 'musin', yet, while watchin', we oft fail To understand the reason why the kit with its tail plays, And tryin' to understand it we're oft wanderin' in a maze That is built by speculation, yet the reason is quite clear — It's inherited this notion from ancestor, far or near. 'Tis the same with us mere humans, we've inherited some tricks That were played by our ancestors before they crossed the styx. There's bequeathed to us some notions from our each lamented dad, Who leave to us enough of good to warn us of the bad. And they're expectin' of us that we should go ahead And those rocks be avoidin' that tripped those who're now dead. That we all should learn this lesson — if our heads are not too thick While the dead should be consulted, progress comes from but the quick. Frank V. Corr.

The Red Flag. The red flag, adopted by Social-Democrats throughout the world, is emblematic of universal brotherhood. It represents the life-blood of humanity. It reminds us that the pathway of capitalism from time immemorial, down to the present, has been crimsoned with the life-blood of humanity to satisfy the insatiate greed of capitalism.

The red flag demands the establishment of a new system of civil government, under which human life, human happiness, and universal prosperity shall be cherished and protected. Human life shall not be sacrificed to sustain the murderous demands of capitalism. Those who work with brain or brawn, to keep the world from starving, shall have the full enjoyment of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Wisconsin. T. M. Watson.

Let Us Stop Dividing Up!

No, Socialism does not stand for dividing up. Capitalism stands for dividing up. I feel a good deal like apologizing for referring to the absurd dividing up objection. But, if you consider it an insult to your intelligence, remember that there are still many people who actually believe that Socialism stands for dividing up.

Capitalism does stand for dividing up. Capitalism compels the industrious to divide up with the idle. Suppose you are the average wage worker. You work about nine hours a day. In the first hour or two of your day's work you reproduce by your labor the amount you receive for the entire day.

In another hour or two you reproduce your proportion of the wear and tear, the running expenses, the raw material, and the wages of superintendence. Well, then, having done this, it is time for you to take up your coat, and hat, and dinner pail, and go home to your wife and babies.

Do you do it? No, you don't. What do you do? You go ahead and work the rest of the day and add still more to the world's wealth by your labor. Who earned that surplus? You earned it. Who gets it? The capitalist gets it. You divide up with him. The Social-Democratic party says that you, who earned it, shall get it.

The reason you do not get it now is because a few private individuals and corporations are permitted to own the means of production and distribution and to compel you to hand over to them the bulk of the product of your toil in exchange for an opportunity to earn a bare living. By voting a capitalist ticket, the Republican or Democratic ticket, you have extended to the capitalists the privilege of exploiting you out of the lion's share of your earnings. The Social-Democratic party says that that portion of the means of production and distribution which, when privately owned, can be used by the private owners to gouge other people shall be publicly owned and popularly managed; that exploitation shall thereby be banished from the earth, and that the workers shall thereby secure the full product of their toil.

So much for the wage earner. Now suppose you are the average farmer. A capitalist, individual or corporate, either owns the farm you live on or holds a mortgage against it. Out of your product you pay him rent or interest.

You divide up with him. But that is not all. No matter whether you are a farmer with a farm free of encumbrance, a farmer with a mortgaged farm, or a farmer on a rented farm, you are compelled to hand over a slice of your product, in the form of profits, to each of the retail stores with which you trade.

You divide up with them. You are also compelled to hand over a slice of your product to the elevator company.

Another to the railroad company. Another to the coal trust. Another to the oil trust. Another to the flour trust. Another to the commission merchant. Another to the board of trade speculators. Another to the beef trust. Another to the agricultural implement trust. Another to the binding twine trust. Another to the barbed wire trust. Another to the steel trust. Another to the lumber trust. Another to the rubber trust. Another to the hide and leather trust. Another to the copper trust. Another to the brass trust. Another to the can trust. Another to the glass trust. Another to the paper trust. Another to the shoe trust. Another to the woolen trust. Another to the cotton trust. Another to the sugar trust. And others to various other exploiters and grafters.

You divide up with them. You have to. That is, you have to so long as capitalism exists.

But you can abolish capitalism by voting the Social-Democratic ticket. No, Socialism does not stand for dividing up. Socialism is the public ownership and the popular management of the means of production and distribution, which are now used to exploit the masses of the people out of the bulk of the product of their honest toil.

Socialism will prevent dividing up. It will enable the men who produce the wealth to get it and enjoy it. —John M. Work.

FOR OUR NEW READERS:

THIS COUNTRY is largely made up of working people, both industrial and agricultural, but it is ruled by the capitalist class, which is numerically a very small fraction of the population...

We Socialists believe that the country should be managed in the interests and for the well-being of those who produce the wealth. That is what government is for in the first place.

The means of production should be owned by the collectivity in order that the fruits of industry should go to the MANY, instead of to the FEW.

Under the present capitalist system, the majority of mankind must sell their labor power to the capitalist owners of the means of production and distribution in order to live—and to live very miserably at that.

The people own the post office and everybody is glad of the fact. The people ought to also own all the trusts so that all may enjoy the benefit.

To bring this about, the people—that is, the workers, not the shirkers—must have possession of the political power. The Social-Democratic party (known as the Socialist party in some states, and nationally) is organized to bring this about—this and the abolition of capitalism.

The Social-Democratic movement is international, but will doubtless achieve success in the United States first, because the capitalist system is farthest developed here and is preparing the ground for the higher system of society.

To show you that your interests lie with us we give herewith the following:

Program of International Social-Democracy:

- 1. Collective ownership of all industries in the hands of trusts and combines, and of all public utilities.
2. Democratic management of such collective industries and utilities.
3. Reduction of the hours of labor and progressively increased remuneration.
4. State and national insurance for the workers and honorable rest in old age.
5. The inauguration of public industries to safeguard the workers against lack of employment.
6. Education of ALL children up to the age of eighteen years. No child labor.
7. Equal political and civil rights for men and women.

Following is an extract from a playful article by Alfred Henry Lewis in the Saturday Evening Post of Sept. 15, entitled "Joseph Medill Patterson".

"In the outskirts of Milwaukee is a tree-sown grassy breathing place called Schlitz's Park—Schlitz: the name hath the aroma of Socialism!! On a day not many weeks ago, thousands of men, and women, and children, gathered there.

The children were happy, care-free, as children are with trees above and grass below, and the sun shining over all. The women were worn, anxious; poverty spoke in their eyes, their work-hollowed cheeks, their poor, patched frocks.

The men—Poles, Bohemians, Russians, Hungarians, Germans, Jews, with here and there a Frenchman or a Spaniard—were rough, toil-hardened, bearded, with stumpy fingers and broken, unkempt nails. If not of the "submerged", they were so near the mark that just their noses were visible above the surface of society.

"In the faces of the men and women there glowed a light. It was as though some mighty lamp shone there. The light was of the future, as they beheld it with their simple eyes of faith. The treadmill present might be without hope; they looked forward to a time to come.

Somewhere over beyond the curve of their world was a harbor—the harbor of Socialism. For that they would hold their course. It might be far. They who were old might not live and last to reach it. But their children, or their children's children, would yet cast anchor there.

Then would trouble end. The hungry would be filled, the naked clothed. Peace would take the place of strife, safety succeed danger, plenty supplant want, the slave would find liberty, the weary stretch their toilstrained limbs in endless rest. It was this vision of the future that glowed like sunshine in their faces—the dream-vision of Socialism.

"Up in the speaker's stand a man arose. His garb was of the rusty-clerical. (That's one on Thompson!) His eyes were bright with feeling rather than with discernment. The man was Carl D. Thompson. He held up his hand, asking silence and attention. A hush descended, broken only by the cry of a child too young to understand. The Rev. Mr. Thompson wished to introduce the orator of the day.

An Appeal to the Heart and the Brain!

I am one of those described as crafty agitators; but I am a man, with a head on my shoulders, and eyes in my head, and I am sick and sorry with the sights I see. I look up. I see the solemn heavens and the shining stars; I look down, I see the fertile earth, and the pure rivers, and the radiant flowers of the field.

I see the fertile earth, and the pure rivers, and the radiant flowers of the field. I look around, and I see my fellow-creatures struggling and sweating, suffering and debauching; I see them fighting and plundering and oppressing each other the wide world over.

I bethink me that the earth is fruitful and fair; that man is clever and strong; that life is short, and its needs few. I bethink me that with order in the place of chaos; that with wisdom in the place of folly; that with peace in the place of war; that with helpfulness in the place of antagonism; that with love in the place of hate, the earth would yield to all men all things needful, both for the body and the mind.

I see that men might be happier and better, and more free and able to grow in grace than they now are. I see that grace and peace can no more be born of lust and hatred than a dove of a vulture, or a lamb of a wolf. I see that lust and hatred prevail in a society which foredooms helpless babes to crime, and young girls to prostitution, which rewards industry with contumely, and seals brave histories with a pauper's grave; which promotes vice and greed to high places, and clothes idleness in robes of price; which fosters craft and falsehood, and dignifies the whole swinish, hellish system with the name of Christ. I say that such a society is bestial and accursed.

But the "crafty agitators" will not rest satisfied while one willing worker has no work, while one idle loafer lives on other men, while one child lacks bread, or one woman is exposed to ruin. They will first have the people fed and clothed, and taught and cherished, and not till then will they put one cathedral stone upon another, nor grant one ounce of gold for royal or plutocratic crowns.

When a captain, a passenger, a chaplain, and a dozen sailors are adrift in an open boat, there is no thought of keeping up positions. The bread and the water are equally shared out; the captain commands, but he does not steal rations from the common stock.

Study the words of Christ and the Apostles, and you will find that the true dignity and honor of the great and the strong are in their sacrifice, not in their clothing and their wages. It is the duty of the brave to lead, of the able to rule, of the strong to work. It is the right of the colonel to die first, and of the captain to quit the sinking vessel last.

What would be said of an Atlantic liner if, while the crew were dying of typhoid fever and starvation, the captain, the chaplain, the passengers, and the ladies were feasting in the cabin, or dancing on the quarter-deck?

Yet the ship of State is just such a ship, and in it are such things done. Observe the magnificence and ostentation of our day. Observe the luxury and display of our town halls, our palaces, our art galleries, our colleges, our cathedrals, and our ships of war; contrast these things with the slums, the workhouses, the prisons, the coalpits and the workshops of the poor. Can you reconcile the splendor and the poverty, the vanity and the misery, to the principles of justice or of wisdom?

I say that while women are weeping and children are starving; while industrious men and women are herding like beasts in filthy and fever-haunted hovels, to build art galleries and churches, town halls and colleges, is like putting on a muslin shirt over a filthy skin, a diamond crown upon a leprous head.

I say that the religion and the culture which demand riches and blazonry while vice and misery are at their side are like painted harlots hiding their debaucheries with rouge, and their shame with satin and spices.

I say that the cant and affectation of piety and culture which lisp sentiment and chant hymns in drawing-rooms and chapels while flesh and blood are perishing in the streets, and while the souls of our sisters creep shuddering to hell—I say that these maudlin, sickening things, with their poems and sonatas, their chants and benedictions, are things false and vain.

We Socialists are honestly desirous of doing good. We submit our proposals frankly. We demand sound argument and fair hearing. We think Socialism would prove practicable, and we are sure that it is just. Socialism would not bring perfect universal happiness. No political system could do that. But Socialism would let Labor breathe. Think again what Socialism is, and then you may easily compare it with the state in which we now suffer and struggle for a brief, anxious, and feverish life.

Under Socialism, we should not have heaven on earth. But there would be no starvation; there would be no pauperism; there would be no strikes; there would be no barefooted children in the streets; there would be no fraudulent trustees, no bankrupts; there qualified success, and is a "money maker" from the business point of view. Now let the working people of Baraboo get busy, and see to it that the water works is not used for the private profit of a few business men and property owners, by turning the profits into the general fund so as to reduce the taxes. Such profits, if any, should be used for the benefit of all the people.

The Superior Telegram: An ordinance is reported adopted by a recent meeting of the city council of Superior, providing that the city buy the present plant of the Superior Water, Light and Power company if suitable arrangements can be made, and if not, that a new plant be built.

While we have no doubt that the usual "reverence for property" will enable the private holding company to sell out at a good price, it will be giving the people control through ownership of that much more of the socially necessary machinery. When the interest income from the bonds gets too big, perhaps President Teddy Roosevelt will see to it that the income tax takes off a proper slice.

Meanwhile, the Milwaukee Sentinel publishes its usual daily paragraph to the effect that municipal ownership is a failure. The Sentinel will probably not come out of its trance until the people have decided that a newspaper is also a public utility, and rudely serve notice on the editor that he is a back number.

The Baraboo Republic publishes a detailed statement, showing that the city water plant has been an un-

What the Wisconsin Press Says.

The editors of the Wausau Record and the Hudson True Republican are in need of a little instruction as to the meaning of Socialism. The former says that Hearst and Bryan, and their so-called representative in Massachusetts, John B. Moran, who has been nominated by the Democrats of that state for governor, are all Socialists.

The gentlemen of the editorial guild should be willing to take Hearst and Bryan at their own word, and the say that they are not Socialists.

The Hudson editor is so reckless in his choice of words as to say that the half-breeds have been adopting Socialist principles. Nobody knows better than LaFollette himself that he has not advocated a single proposition that is a part of the Social-Democratic position.

The Abbotsford Weekly Clarion reports that a public mass meeting of citizens is proposed in that city, to discuss the electric light and water works question. The editor says that some of the members of the city council "have come to the conclusion that the village could put in its own electric lights and water works for the money it would pay a private corporation for lighting its streets alone." Of course they can.

The Baraboo Republic publishes a detailed statement, showing that the city water plant has been an un-

GLEANINGS FROM BUSY FIELDS.

IN YANKEE LAND

For the first time in the history of the party, Ohio Socialists have a candidate in every congressional district in the state.

In Seattle the capitalistic authorities are trying to keep Socialism away from the people by arresting Socialist speakers who use the public highways.

Comrade J. Phelps Stokes and his wife, Rose Pastor Stokes, are making a state tour in the campaign of the party in New York, and having big meetings everywhere.

The death is announced of Comrade C. C. Clemens, a cousin of Mark Twain, who was active for the party in Kansas for years and who was a familiar figure at several of the national conventions. He was in his eightieth year.

W. S. Dalton, who was a rabid "impossibilist" at the Chicago convention and who later took the editorship of the Salt Lake City Crisis, has now gone over to the American Party in Utah, which is aiming to oust the Mormons from political control. A new editor will be secured for the Crisis.

Labor fakirs got a setback in Cleveland last week, when a fully attended meeting of the central body reversed the action of a former poorly attended meeting to turn the local paper over to private publishers who wanted to make it a pure and simple sheet, and by a vote of 85 to 32, decided that the paper, the Citizen, should remain as it is and continue its Socialist policy. Hence the jubilation of De Leon's People over the supposed unseating of Comrade Max Hayes as editor was premature. By the way, the true spirit, the wrecker spirit of DeLeonism, was well shown in that jubilation.

National Organizer Geo. H. Goebel is having very successful meetings in northern Idaho, in most cases the audiences being far larger than either of the capitalist parties can muster for their best known speakers. The interest displayed has been remarkable, and despite open threats of "beating him up" or otherwise arguing with him in capitalistic style, the people have shown clearly their growing confidence in the Socialist as the only party with a vital message. Comrade Goebel thinks all the indications are for doubling the vote, or even better, the only element of doubt being in the fact that the capitalist officials have refused, in defiance of the plain law in the case, to allow the appointment of Socialist inspectors at the counting of the ballots.

ACROSS THE POND

A paper has been established in North Algeria. It is called the North African Socialist.

Anatole France, the great French author, is the latest notable convert to Socialism. He was formerly very bitter as an opponent of it.

An effort is being made in central Germany to unseat a Socialist who has just been elected mayor, on the ground that "he is only a shoemaker".

The Norwegian elections just closed have resulted in a great gain in the Socialist representatives in the Norwegian Parliament. The Socialist party elected four members three years ago. This year they have elected twelve to the new parliament.

In Canton Berne the Socialist has won a victory to the Cantonal Council. The Socialist candidate was elected with 1,732 votes against 1,395 for the Radical. That is an increase of 550 votes over the first ballot for the former and 385 for the latter bourgeoisie.

The Socialist party in Denmark scored a great victory recently by succeeding in breaking into the upper house of the Danish parliament. This body corresponds to our Senate and our Danish comrades succeeded in electing four members to that body. In the lower house the Socialists have twenty-four members out of 104 representatives.

ORGANIZED LABOR

Labor Crushing!

Just what the national employer associations are doing to the working class is hardly known to the general run of people, for the capitalist papers will not tell of it. There was never a more vicious and hypocritical attack on the right of the workers to protect themselves and their families than the so-called Open Shop crusade. Its real purpose is to break up trade unionism and lower the standard of living of the workers. From the Iron Molders' Journal we take the following exhibits, which show what the "open" shop really means:

Capitalist: "Workmen demand their rights. Outrageous! I'll get an injunction!"

Scott & Co., of Plainfield, N. J., are forcing the following form of agreement upon the molders in their employ:

"The party of the first part hereby agrees to work for said party of the second part, as a pattern molder continuously until such time as he is notified that his services are no longer desired by the party of the second part, for the remuneration of . . . per day of ten hours.

"The party of the first part agrees that at all times the party of the second part shall retain a certain amount of his wages, so that the party of the second part shall always have within their keeping at least one full week's wages of the party of the first part. And if the party of the first part leaves the employ of the party of the second part without two weeks' notice, or in case he becomes affiliated with any movement which in the judgment of the party of the second part is detrimental to them on the part of their shop employes, or in case the party of the first part in any manner fails to give satisfaction to the party of the second part, then whatever moneys may be due the party of the second part at that time, shall be retained by the party of the second part, and the sum so retained by the party of the second part to be considered as damages." (Italics ours.)

The one adopted by the Fillmore Avenue Foundry of Buffalo, N. Y., reads as follows: "Rules and Regulations, Rule 1. "All wages earned during any week are due and payable Monday of the second week following.

"Rule 2. This rule applies to employes who voluntarily leave the service of the Fillmore Avenue Foundry and Iron Works, as well as those who are discharged for cause. "Buffalo, N. Y. . . . "I hereby certify that I have (heard) read the above rules, and that I fully understand the same, and I HEREBY AFFIRM that I am not a member of any trade-union and that I will not become a member of any trade-union while in the employ of the Fillmore Avenue Foundry and Iron Works without giving the said Fillmore Avenue Foundry and Iron Works a three days' notice in writing of my intention to become a member of such union.

This is the way the powerful employing corporations play with their helpless workmen, whenever the workmen will stand it. Both of the above firms are members of the national Foundrymen's Association, an association that deliberately maintains a blacklisting bureau in defiance of the law and that in all possible ways hounds its men into servility to its wishes. The above shows that men are even robbed of a portion of the pay they have earned if they join with others of their fellows in order to improve their citizenship. Yet you never hear preachers tell you that the employers are un-American, although they are always ready to deprecate the trade unions, at least some of them, as was the case in Milwaukee two Sundays ago.

A Card Sharp!

When the Milwaukee Federated Trades Council passed resolutions referring to Cary's treatment of the Bakers' Union of Milwaukee, he came out with a cowardly politician's crawl-out by claiming that he had "no say" as to what kind of bread should be used at the jail, as the county board committee had charge of such matters and prevented him from using union bread. THIS WAS AN ABSOLUTE AND UNQUALIFIED LIE.

When the business agent of the bakers went to Cary to demand that he purchase union bread, he told the agent that he would try and do so as soon as he could. But he did nothing. The matter was then brought up in the Trades Council and the business agent of the Council, Bro. Weber, was instructed to call on Cary. Cary was all smiles. He said he was under personal obligations to Mr. Carpenter, of the non-union Carpenter Baking company, and asked for further time, as he had a contract. Mr. Weber waited and then went to see him again. Then a conference was held with Mr. Carpenter to see if he could not be induced to unionize his bakery, but this failed. Meantime a promise had been drawn out of the slippery Cary that if Carpenter would not unionize his bakery he would change to some union baker. Finally he was waited on again and pressed to keep his word. As a result of this he ordered union bread of a South Side baker for a few weeks AND THEN WENT BACK TO NON-UNION BREAD AGAIN.

The former sheriff, Fred. Tegtmeier, changed to union bread when the union requested him to—and Tegtmeier made no brags about having a card. But it is different with Cary!

The Feeley Funeral.

All that was mortal of Bro. John Feeley, who lost his life at the hands of a murderous Foundrymen's Association thug last week, was laid in the grave at Pilgrims Rest cemetery last Sunday in the presence of fully 1,500 brothers of the metal trade unions. These sturdy men had evinced the strong ties of solidarity and brotherhood by marching from the home of the Whoop'er Up! Keep something doing. TWO MORE WEEKS TO ELECTION.

New members, new converts, and new locals every day—THAT'S THE WAY WE ARE GROWING.

Gaylord takes the cake—ONE HUNDRED AND ONE SUBSCRIPTIONS for the HERALD since September first!

Watch the campaign fund grow! See list of contributions in another column. This is what does the business. IS YOUR NAME WRITTEN THERE?

SHEBOYGAN FALLS: There is going to be trouble among the farmers up this way. Comrade Boll sends in twenty-two weeks subscribers to the HERALD.

Do we grow? Read this and see: Comrade Loomis of Lone Rock writes: "We will have four or five times as many votes in this town as in the last election."

Hull at Helenville. Something has broken loose in Jefferson county. Comrade Schneider sent for Hull. Said they must have a speaker to crack the hard shells out that way. The Republicans had 12 people at their meeting—the Democrats managed to get together. HULL HAD NEARLY A HUNDRED. The Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers' Local No. 876, of Watertown, is the first union outside of Milwaukee to send in a contribution to the campaign fund. They came in with $5.00!

But the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of Manitowoc are close on their heels with another "V". Of course the Milwaukee unions are already at work. Twenty-five, fifty and even a hundred dollars from unions in the city is not at all unusual. (See another column for the list.) NOW THE LABORING MAN IS FIGHTING A WINNING BATTLE!!

Reinforcements. IT BEGINS TO LOOK LIKE VICTORY. All over the state comrades are taking hold of the work as organizers. Comrade Frank Gauthier of Ashland went down to Glidden on the 21st and had a splendid meeting. He is also conducting a column of labor news in one of the Ashland dailies.

Comrade Harris of Green Bay is also taking a hand in organization work. Indeed, in every part of the state, as never before, comrades are pushing the work. SPOONER: Hello! Somebody said Spooner lake was dead, but here's a list from Comrade Sage with $6.50 on the campaign fund. Just when the capitalists think they've got the Social-Democrats killed out, they do some ridiculous thing like this.

BLOOMINGTON: The state organizer was reading one of the state exchanges and discovered a good article on Socialism by one Holford of Bloomington. A letter was sent immediately and efforts are being made to get organization work started there. There are a great many Socialists in Grant county, and we hope to get them to to buy is the stove that will give the greatest amount of heat with the least amount of fuel. That is one reason why I sell the GARLAND line of heaters and ranges. My experience in the stove business has taught me that you cannot get satisfaction with a cheap stove. You can't expect manufacturers to put brains into cheap stove. And they don't. It is brains that build the GARLAND. There is a scientific principle to its construction. It is the brains in the stove that will heat your home, save your fuel and protect your health. The manufacturers of the GARLAND guarantee the stove because they put brains in it. When you buy a GARLAND you are not paying for just so much iron—you are paying for the brains that will give you comfort and save your money. Come to my store and examine the GARLANDS—I have them from $30 up to $80.

MEN'S TEN and TWELVE DOLLAR SUITS

Good Suits at medium prices will be very scarce in most stores this season. There has been a big advance in the price of woollens, trimmings, labor and, in fact, in everything that goes into a suit of clothes. We anticipated this advance and wisely made provision for our fall stock before it took place.

The Result:

Today we are showing the best $10 and $12 Men's Suits the town affords—the best tailoring, the best fabrics, and the best of everything that it is possible for the money to procure.

The man who wants a medium priced Fall and Winter Suit will make a bad blunder if he fails to come here for it. You will be interested, surely.

The Fight of the Two Breeds!

It is now developing why Mc-Govern waited so long before deciding to bolt the Republican ticket. When the result of the primary election burst upon the Half-breeds they were stunned and discouraged at the lack of interest shown in Mc-Govern by the voters. The thought of Mc-Govern running as an independent was not to be entertained unless a big campaign fund could be secured, and no one cared very much to chip in any big amounts. Just as the talk of Mc-Govern as an independent began to wane and even the Free Press had given up using black type about it, help came from an unexpected source.

It leaked out that one of the plans of the Stalwart crowd was to indict Tom Neacy, H. A. J. Upham, and other Half-breeds who had been shielded by Mc-Govern, although damaging information concerning them had been brought before the grand jury. This was serious, and he news made faces pale in the half-breed camp. It was clear that anti-Stephenson forces meant to get possession of the district attorney's office and turn the tables.

If the Half-breeds could indict Pfister on a far-fetched charge, the Pfister forces could very nicely use that office to indict the big men of the other side.

Immediately the fight of the two millionaire camps for the control of the situation was on! A fund of many thousand dollars was soon subscribed, with a little dollar subscription gag to cover up the real source of the sinews of war, and it is said that while Upham shelled out a pretty big sum, Tom Neacy was stingy. Neacy actually planked down a thousand dollars. Mc-Govern decided to run, and as soon as they saw money Host and Loreuz gladly jumped at the chance to make Milwaukee dance to the tune of the many-thousand dollar campaign fund.

The hope of the grafters of Milwaukee county lies in Boden's election, but from this account it also seems sure that the fear of the big grafters of the Half-breed color lies in a possible defeat for Mc-Govern.

And this is the fight of the "two breeds".

A Suspicious Affair!

What did it mean when such corporation lawyers as Quarles, Spence & Quarles, Winkler, Planners, Smith, Bottom & Fawcett, Turner, Pease & Turner, and Henry J. Killilea are represented at the inquest on the death of John Feeley, the molder shot by the foundrymen's gun man, Sossong? What does it mean when the Republican coroner, a man with a rough record, gets together a jury that does not hold the assassin of Feeley for further investigation of a shooting to which the witnesses were all from one side of the conflict? What does it mean when the coroner himself fails to bind an assassin over when a citizen has been shot down, especially when the assassin has a previous record for gun work in the Dietz case, up at Cameron Dam? Putting the presence of the flock of corporation lawyers together with the fact that we have a Republican politician for coroner it does not take a very wise head to draw certain conclusions. It is hard to realize that capitalism can arm irresponsible men, and tell them to shoot if they think they have to, and then "see their men through" when they follow that murderous advice? Unfortunately for the side of justice the witnesses to the shooting were all men in the Foundrymen's employ. Necessarily it was one sided evidence. Worse than that, it was such testimony as professional strike-breakers chose to frame up. It was not disinterested testimony.

The molders do not believe that Feeley carried a gun, his wife says he did not, and never did. Yet two revolvers were picked up at the scene of the shooting. How did they get there?

Did the coroner prove that one belonged to the dead man? Did he take testimony to show that the strike-breakers did not drop the two revolvers on the ground to help out their story against the dead man? Anything is possible in the criminal line to the professional strike-breaker, who is by nature a low down traitor. Milwaukee formed its opinion of the thugs that went up to Cameron Dam to shoot the valiant Dietz. Sossong was one of those scoundrels, who thought no more of shooting at a human being than at a stump.

At all events the coroner's inquest has not cleared up the Feeley case—even if it has given the Foundrymen the chance they and their attorneys were after. Why doesn't Frank Mc-Govern take up the case of Sossong, we would like to ask?

ONTARIO: Comrade Brey says the woods are full of Social-Democrats out in Vernon county, and he is going to chase them into a hall after a while and have one of the state organizers give them a lecture. He has been circulating the HERALD. Of course! If they do that, why, there's sure to be Socialists later on.

THE EX-HALF-BREEDS: Sure enough. Just as we said. The people begin to see that LaFollette couldn't do anything to help them. Another has come over to the Social-Democratic party. This time it is from Cedarburg. He sends in a contribution of $1.00 and a long list of people who know that the shoe pinches, but don't know just where yet. We'll give them a dose of HERALDS for a few weeks. Guess that will fix 'em.

MANITOWOC: Comrade F. J. Weber spoke for the Social-Democratic party under auspices of the Trades Council. MANITOWOC UNIONS ARE GOING TO SUPPORT THEIR OWN CANDIDATES HEREAFTER.

RACINE: Comrades have posted big bills for their full county ticket, are holding street meetings every Saturday night, will have at least one speaker at each of the large factories and are distributing literature thoroughly in at least several of the wards. GOOD!

This is what makes the campaign go, and elects the men!

AT THE THEATERS.

DAVIDSON.

The first great big event of the amusement season will occur at the Davidson next Thursday night. The Sousa Opera Company, in the celebrated "March King's" masterpiece of comic opera, entitled "The Free Lance". The engagement is for three nights and Saturday matinee. As the advent of the first real automobile play that has ever been given upon a stage "The Vanderbilt Cup" comes to the Davidson Sunday for four nights, with matinee Wednesday. The "big feature" is of course, Barney Oldfield's wonderful invention of an actual automobile race on the stage.

ALHAMBRA.

The original "Smart Set" company opens at the Alhambra tomorrow afternoon in Cassin's new comedy, "A Black Politician". There are three acts of comedy, liberally interspersed with musical numbers and plenty of specialty features. A large chorus contingent will be a special feature. The production is very prettily staged and with a chorus contingent large and of a distinctive type of beauty, the adjuncts for an elaborate scenic display are ample.

BIJOU THEATER.

Chas. T. Aldrich, erewhile professional illustrationist and a head liner in the fashionable vaudeville, is the star of "Secret Service Sam" at the Bijou tomorrow matinee and all week. This play is a vehicle in which to exhibit his extraordinary skill in many disguises. His disappearing act is a climax of thrilling interest. He is supported by a well balanced company and a big scenic production.

CRYSTAL THEATER.

At the Crystal next week the Auto Quartette of choir boys will lead the bill, assisted by "The Four Emperors of Music", the DeGrau Trio of acrobats, Robert Wittaker & Co., in a comedy sketch, and other big hits.

STAR THEATER.

"Campbell's Nightingales" comes to the Star commencing next week. Wherever this company has appeared this season, it has been crowned with public approval. Fun, frolic, original catchy music and a grand chorus of beautiful maidens, make it a winner.

Fattening on Fees!

The Milwaukee County Officials Making Great Grafts out of their Offices! A Republican Plunderbund!

We have charged that there is a scandalous amount of fee-grafting in the county offices. There is hardly a county office but that is corrupt in one way or another. We do not recede one hair breadth from this position. We say that the county offices, as administered by the capitalist parties, are simply robber joints and that Republican officials, some of them up for re-election, are stuffing their pockets with money that belongs to the county treasury, and that if some of them got their deserts they would be doing time.

Because such officials were put in office by the regular capitalist parties some people seem to imagine that that fact gives them a good bill of character. On the contrary, both the old parties have such a long record for rottenness in Milwaukee county that it is a foregone conclusion to any man who has eyes to see, that the men those parties put in office are just the fellows who need constant watching.

The County Clerk's Grafts!

Take the present clerk, who is up for re-election on a promise (!) of an honest administration. The county clerk has been pocketing thousands of dollars of fees that belong in the county treasury, and back of him has been the sanction of the Republican and Democratic members of the county board. Birds of a feather flock together! See Proceedings of the County Board for 1905, pages 92 and 97, where a resolution by Supervisor Jeske, Social-Democrat, to get back into the county treasury fees that Phelps had illegally pocketed (the district attorney having rendered an opinion that the fees belong to the county) was voted down, 37 to 4—the four being the Social-Democrats! In an opinion rendered in April, 1905, the district attorney showed that under the law the county clerk had no right to pocket any more than his plain salary. Yet in spite of that opinion the Republicans and Democrats in the county board have voted down every effort of the Social-Democrats to get back the thousands of dollars illegally pocketed by the man Phelps, and PHELPS IS STILL POCKETING THESE STEALINGS FROM THE COUNTY!

The Coroner's Reported Rake-Off!

Coroner Broegman is another handy-man at putting money in his pocket that does not belong there, according to all accounts. Recently he made no bones of the matter when asked about it, it is said. "Do you think I'd go through an expensive campaign and work to get re-elected if there wasn't more in it than the salary? Not much. Two thousand isn't enough for me—OF COURSE THERE'S A RAKE-OFF!" he is alleged to have said.

He is believed to pocket at least two thousand extra in fees. It comes to us on good authority that he has made it a practice to hold up the stenographers who transcribe the testimony at the coroner's inquest, O-K'ing their bills to the county and getting a divvy.

This is the kind of official honesty you vote for when you vote a Republican ticket, Mr. Voter. How do you like it?

The Register of Deeds' Illegal Work!

When Gov. LaFollette appointed a new man to the register of deeds office, the idea went out that matters would be straightened out there. But the first act of the new appointee, Maas, was to name as custodian a bed-house dive-keeper from Wells street. Recent disclosures show that the books and records of that office are in deplorable shape, that hundreds of entire pages have been mutilated and marked out (while incorrect figures are given in others) and that all this incompetent work may invalidate the legality of various properties. The county board is now "investigating", or pretending to.

As to fees, things are not altogether right in the register's office, either. A supervisor discovered that Maas was charging common people the full fees and allowing certain big real estate firms with a pull to file papers at cut rates! He went to the grand jury with it. Some time ago a young clerk says he went to the register's office to file some papers. Maas waited on him and asked him full price. "That's too much," said the young man. "Are you running this office?" was Maas' insolent retort. "Well, I work for so and so," said the young man, (naming a well-known lawyer) "and they get a lower—" "Oh, these are for him?" said Maas, then the fee will be — and he named a lower sum.

All this is illegal. How much of it is done, we do not know. The voters better put a Social-Democrat in the office of register of deeds!

As to Sheriff Cary!

A few weeks ago we referred to the fee taking of the sheriff's department. Sheriff Cary, now trying to break into congress, has sent us a purring politician's letter, with a few claws in it, which was written for him by the newspaper reporter he employs to write all his campaign "con" talk. In it he says there is no graft in his office—he is careful not to touch for the other county offices—and adds "the bills have been kept so low for carriage hire and other incidental expenses (in the sheriff's office), that a comparison of my books with former administrations is astounding." And he says his books are open to our inspection. If his books are as misty as the knowledge the public gets of the transactions of his office as given out through the county board, we fear the books would tell little.

If Cary has kept expenses and fees down to such an astonishing point, we wonder indeed what his predecessors could have done, for the reports that come to us of Cary's administration do not make a noise like a "reduced fee" by any means. As near as we can make out it has been a case of wildly illegal overcharge. Here are a few hold-up items that have been furnished us by a well-known lawyer:

- In the matter of serving a warrant on Zieman, in the case of Zieman vs. Zieman, a divorce action, deputy Weichman received $5, and deputy Reilly et al, $10.
 - G. A. Kissinger received an extra compensation in the matter of Klujan Levy on execution, $100.
 - In the matter of a writ of assistance served for attorney Georgi removing a mortgagee in a foreclosure case, deputies Brown, Genz and Kapanka, each received $2.
 - In the matter of removing a tenant from a house on River Street for B. F. Perless & Sons, deputies Kapanka, Genz, Horvay, Harper, Stark, and Hassinger, each received $2.
 - The practice in the sheriff's office has been to pay the deputies from one to three dollars for the serving of each warrant of arrest.
 - For making an inventory in the matter of M. J. Hayes, chattel mortgage foreclosure, deputy Harper received $4.
 - For serving a writ of attachment in the case of Hilgen & Co. vs. a carpenter on the corner of 37th and Clifton avenues, deputy Roemer received $5.
 - For taking boys to the Waukesha Reform School the sheriff paid each deputy $2, from which the deputy, however, deducted the costs of transportation of himself and boy to Waukesha.
 - For taking prisoners to Waupun the deputies received for expenses in case of a single prisoner, $14, and $22 in cases where there were two.
 - The sheriff has also been in the habit of paying to deputies from 50 cents to $3 for each paper served outside of the city limits.
 - These sums were invariably greatly in excess of the actual expense and it is said that the deputies, with the knowledge of the sheriff, retained the excess. It is estimated that upwards of $3,000 have been unlawfully expended by the sheriff during the past two years.
- Such are the verbatim items furnished us by the attorney already referred to.
- To this must be added the fact that the financial transactions of the sheriff's office are suspiciously covered up by the county board. When his quarterly report is rendered it is referred to the committee on sheriff's accounts. That committee then reports that the report has been found correct, and that ends the matter. The Social-Democratic members of the county board have tried time and again to have the Board print these reports from the sheriff's office in the official proceedings. Why has the gang always voted the motion down? What are they hiding? What are reports for unless that citizens can tell what their servants are doing. And how can they tell when they are not allowed to see them!

STEALING A MAN!

Not content with stealing fees, and other official skulduggery, the Republican candidates at the last county election actually stole a man! They stole one of the clerks of the county clerk's office. He was taken down to the Republican headquarters on City Hall Square and made to work for the Republicans for nothing, while the county was paying him his salary for two months, during which time he did not do a stroke of work for the county. And your unapproachably good Mr. McGovern was a party to this transaction along with the rest! The man's name was David Jones and County Clerk Phelps made out the payroll with his name on it and the money was drawn from the county treasurer—AN OUT-AND-OUT STEAL!

But that isn't all of the story. We got hold of the facts in this case and printed them. There was instantly fright in the grafters' camp.

Fred Lorenz was in charge of the Republican headquarters, and fearing the grand jury would be forced to take the case up, and that he might be indicted, he hurriedly sent a check to Phelps covering the amount of illegal salary drawn from the treasury of the county and asked Phelps to pay it over to the treasurer. Then he called on Phelps to be sure it was turned in.

But Phelps had the check in his desk and gave it back to Lorenz saying "Hell, take it back. What are you afraid of?"

Then Phelps discharged Jones, because he was a Half-breed, but, to close his mouth, sent him a share in the fees he (Phelps) illegally pocketed. Jones was frightened and turned the fees in to the county treasurer.

The stealing of a man happened in the last county campaign. Has the Republican party reformed since? NIXY! After Jones was fired, the Half-breeds made a place for him and gave him a job in Register of Deeds Maas' office. AND IN THE PRESENT CAMPAIGN JONES HAS BEEN DOING POLITICAL HOUSE TO HOUSE PLUGGING IN DOUBTFUL WARDS FOR MCGOVERN, day after day, and the COUNTY has been PAYING HIM HIS SALARY FOR THE TIME HE HAS PUT IN!

Voters of Milwaukee County, wake up! The capitalist parties are rotten and you cannot help knowing it. Sweep them out on election day! Clean out the carrion from the court house. Put clean Social-Democrats in charge and GET AN HONEST ADMINISTRATION OF YOUR COUNTY AT LAST!!

The committee in charge of the BIG MINSTREL SHOWS and dances, for the benefit of the PRESS and AGITATION funds, report that they have engaged a number of attractions never before seen in Milwaukee, and from the amount of enthusiasm displayed at the rehearsals it will add another page to the book of successes enjoyed by the members of the party.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY COURT

IN PROBATE
 STATE OF WISCONSIN, ss. Milwaukee County.
 In the Matter of the Estate of NICKOLAUS STEINBACHER, Deceased.
 On this 22nd day of October, A. D. 1906, upon reading and filing the petition of MARJA STEINBACHER, stating that Nicholas Steinbacher, of the County of Milwaukee, died intestate, on or about the 8th day of October, 1906, and praying that she, or some other suitable person, be appointed Administrator of the estate of said deceased—
 IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court at a regular term thereafter to be held at the Court House in the City of Milwaukee, on the first Tuesday of December, A. D. 1906, at 9 o'clock A. M., or at such thereafter as the same may be reached on the calendar.
 AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of said application and hearing be given by publishing a copy of this order for three consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Social-Democratic Herald, a newspaper published in said County, prior to said hearing.
 Witness the Court: PAUL D. CARPENTER, County Judge.
 MICHAEL ELSNER, Attorney of Estate.

Get Ready!

Start now, and get your supply of cold weather garments. The first blast of winter may strike you unawares.

Wool Underwear and Flannel Shirts to keep the chill away are plentiful and come in different styles and grades to suit your purse.

Corduroy and Duck Coats

lined with sheepskin felt and with a large fur collar—just the thing for teamsters and others who are hampered by a long overcoat.

Stylish Overcoats

All overcoats of the latest cut—black kersey, oxford, and black vicunas are the leaders. Workmanship on our garments, suits and overcoats is first-class.

Pull-Down Caps

for men and boys and of the newest shapes and shades. Try the fur-lined band—it is the warmest. Seal and other Fur Caps to suit your fancy.

Gloves and Mittens

of every description—wool, leather, and canvas, for work and for dress—kid, horsehide, sheepskin, buckskin, hogskin, etc.

Come around and look at these things—they may be of interest to you and we may save you money at the same time.

Hot Shots!

It begins to look like a big victory!

The copies of this issue put at your doors have all been paid for (at cost) by party men, who willingly sacrifice in order that you may hear the truth.

Capitalistic hocus-pocus! just keep your eyes on the district attorney fight, good people, while the capitalists sneak in another lot of crooked law makers!

Here's a Straw! Gaylord's meeting at West Bend, Thursday night, had an attendance, by actual count, of 300 people. Aylward had about 200. It's a Democratic city in a Democratic county.

Candidate Donnelly, who is running for congress, says in effect that the workingmen who are working for economic justice and the rule of the workers instead of the shirkers "have bats in their bell-frys". Thanks!

Grassie, in the Evening Wisconsin "Dope" column, figures it out that the election will be a tie between Thiel and Boden. He thinks Thiel will get 18,000, McGovern 10,000, part of the trouble for McGovern being that even where people run the risk of splitting on the machine they make all kinds of blunders.

The appearance of the little grafter, Becker, on the platform of the Republican aggregation of grafters and grafter candidates, was entirely fitting. He showed his moral fitness for such company when he, as supervisor, tried to use his position to get graft contracts for his rich relatives.

Milwaukee and Waukesha counties ought to hang their heads in shame at having sent such a nonentity as the young lawyer Stafford to Washington as a representative. The fellow has positively no redeeming features. He is a mere zero mark, only fit to do corporation bidding at Washington and do the other things that the ordinary capitalist congressman does.

PULL THE FOURTH LEVER!

The revelations about Connor and his one-man town need surprise no one. These fake reformers of the Connor brand are simply the worst political rascals unhung. A millionaire lumberman, he differs in no particular from the other millionaire lumbermen. Pluck-me stores and scrip for his employes, tax-dodging in the most criminal degree, so that the state tax commission has to be appealed to—all this kind of thing is the thing people are voting for when they cast a Republican ticket this fall. How do you like the dose that you are asked to swallow, Mr. Man!

Cary's talk about "not supplying deputy sheriffs to the foundrymen" is a fine lot of bunk. The fact is that the central idea of the resistance of the manufacturers is to starve their striking workmen in to submission. All they need is time, but the shorter the time the less it costs them in delayed contract work, etc. The Republican and Democratic laws are on their side and will remain on their side as long as such parties are in power. And anything that will dishearten the strikers and break up the strike is "money found" for them. That is why all the big exploiters prefer to have armed thugs of their own in order to create trouble. The steel magnates and the mine lords have always been experts at that trick. The killing of John Feeley by a hired thug was a boon to the foundrymen in more ways than one. It might dishearten some strikers, and it also gave the manufacturers a chance to go into court and charge violation of the injunction. So it is not clear that the strikers gained by having irresponsible thugs brought into the struggle by the Neacys, et al. In one way it might even have been better for the molders if there had been deputy sheriffs at the foundries, for deputy sheriffs are responsible to the community for their acts. But

- The firemen and policemen of this city are forced to pay into the
- pension fund each month, but it is in the power of the chiefs to discharge them without trial at any time, and they lose their right to a pension or to the money they have paid in. It is an abominable arrangement, and yet Chiefs Janssen and Memminger went out to Madison in a parlor car with Pfister at the last legislature and lobbied so hard that they defeated the bill to
- give the firemen a fair shake. The outrage ought to be straightened out at the coming session, but you need Social-Democratic legislators to do it.
- Really now, that was rather unkind of City Atty. Kelly to retail that exploded charge that Thiel had attacked the local courts. How a thing can be twisted for partisan ends! Thiel's reference to the courts was general and referred to the courts in the West and elsewhere controlled by Standard Oil as exposed in recent magazine articles.

Hot Shots!

By the way, have you forgotten that the last grand jury recommended an investigation of the fee grafting in the county offices!

Union men will find the true account of Cary's scab bread history on page 9. It is worth reading and pondering over. It is things like this that show the real nature of a man, the nature that lurks below the smiling, crafty, vote-catching campaign mask.

Davidson is no better than his half-breed Stalwart boss, Connor. He spoke at Beloit last Monday, and this is what a trade unionist of that city writes us:

"Gov. Davidson spoke here yesterday. As an escort he had some of the most prominent Citizens' Alliance (Parry) men. And last of all, the music was furnished by the Beloit City Band, a band that is non-union and also on the unfair list. It is composed of non-union Alliance pets. Leavers' union band was not allowed to bid. Union labor in Beloit is in an uproar about it and will show its feeling on election day. There are more Social-Democrats in Beloit today than before Davidson's visit."

Labor is getting a good many of these eye-openers lately!
