HUMAN life depends upon food, clothing and shelter. Only when these are secured are freedom, culture and higher human development possible. To produce food, clothing and shelter, land and machinery are needed. Land by itself does not satisfy human needs. Election Victories in Milwaukee

 trict in which Comrade Berger was running, a city, county and a rural county (Waukesha) were joined together, literature for farm conditions had to be used. Add to all this our big posters and our newspaper advertising, and a picture of the literary end of the campaign may be had.
 The victory in the county is a splendid endorsement by the people of the Social-Democratic administration of the city. In a campaign that was bitter against us, the Republicans especially campaigning in a most disreputable manner, the city administration was dragged in and outrageously lied about. As fast as we would explode one falsehood another would be spring to take its place. The mendacity of the whole thing was almost unbelievable. But we were ready for them, and every missile thrown at us proved a boom-crang.

Milwaukee Socialists Celebrate
 By E. H. Thomas.
 The West Side Turner hall was once again the scene of a joyful celebration on Tuesday night. Long before the polls closed it had been packed to the doors with an eager, expectant throng. The very first returns brought in indicated that the Social-Democrats had made another clean sweep in Milwaukee. Instantly the great hall went wild—and all the comrades blent their voices in one long continued shout of triumph and ecstasy. Comrades Berger, Seidel, Arnold and Zabel were almost lifted to the table on the platform, and the crowd again went wild. One after the other the successful candidates addressed the meeting, and the allusions to the attacks which had been made on them by the capitalist press during the campaign brought down the house. Especial merriment was caused when Comrade William Arnold, the newly elected sheriff, cheerfully announced that the election returns indicated that the voters of Milwaukee evidently preferred "a Socialist to a citizen," alluding to the latter advertisement of McGreal which was printed in all the capitalist papers of Milwaukee. Ald. Melms reminded his audience that in the next election the two old parties—or rather what there is left of them—will no doubt be driven together. The Social-Democrats evidently felt that they had won a victory even greater than that of last April, and had given the Social-Democratic administration a splendid endorsement. The crowning delight of the crowd was manifested over the fact that we have now made good our aim, "On to Washington!"

One noticeable feature of the celebration was its orderliness, and the fact—which was also observed after our victory in the spring election—that the celebrating crowds on the street were sober and orderly, and that all was quiet in Milwaukee by 1 o'clock the next morning.

 Janesville, Wis., gave 72 Social-Democratic votes against 37 two years ago.
Socialist in Pennsylvania Legislature
 Reading, Pa., Nov. 9.—James H. Maurer, a union iron worker, was elected on the Socialist ticket to the legislature, receiving a vote of 4,009. The highest previous Socialist vote here has been 1,800.
Socialist Vote Heavy in New York
 New York, Nov. 9.—The Socialists are claiming to be the third party in point of numerical strength in New York state, having supplanted, as they allege, the Independence league for this honor. At the Socialist headquarters today it was stated that the Socialist vote in the state would reach fully 60,000, and possibly 65,000. The vote in Greater New York, according to the Socialist estimates, will be approximately 30,000.
 The Milwaukee victory reminds us of a certain Wilshire prediction!
 New York—Meyer London fell 800 short of carrying the Ninth district, Goldfogle won again.
 Philadelphia—Socialists claim 19,000.
 Mystic, Conn.—Hunter will have 9,500 in state. Last time, 5,000.
 Des Moines, Ia.—lowa will give 10,000. Several small townships are carried.
 Minneapolis, Minn.—This city gives us 10,000, it appears.
 Grand Saline, Tex.—Richie Alexander is elected a justice of the peace.
New York Socialist Vote
 New York, Nov. 9.—The total vote cast in the greater city by the Socialist party in the election was 27,320. This was for Charles E. Russell, candidate for governor, and it is the largest vote that the Socialists ever have polled here.
Big Vote in Pricso
 San Francisco, Nov. 9.—The vote for J. Stitt Wilson, Socialist candidate for governor, was so heavy as to upset entirely all the calculations of the old party managers.
 The returns are incomplete, but they show that Reguin, Socialist candidate for congress, carried the San Francisco portion of the congressional district in which he was running against Hayes, the insurgent Republican, who won by a very small vote.

 The plurality run up by Reguin in San Francisco over Hayes was 8,000.
 Bridgeport, Conn.—Four hundred per cent increase here.
 Texas—Socialists polled about 5,000 votes.
 Indianapolis, Ind.—Vote doubled. Have 2,400 this time.

Milwaukee's Greatest Campaign Meeting

Milwaukee: The great campaign of the fall of 1910 practically ended Sunday night with the great Auditorium meeting. The bigness of it is hard to describe. It was a combined Liebknecht meeting and final campaign rally and from both aspects it was a brilliant success. Milwaukee never saw a meeting like it, and even the Social-Democrats began to wonder almost where all the people came from.
 By 7:30 the great Auditorium was filled. Before 8 men were stationed at the doors to announce that the seats were all gone and to direct people to the overflow meetings. First Plankinton hall, near by, seating by actual count of chairs 1,800, was thrown open, and then Engelmann hall, seating over 1,000. A conservative estimate places the aggregate attendance at between 8,000 and 9,000! The speakers in addition to Liebknecht, who was the chief attraction, were Victor L. Berger, W. R. Gaylord, and Oscar Ameringer. Mayor Seidel presided.
 The eager crowds hung on to every word of the speakers. It was a wonderful sight. A sea of faces, tier upon tier of them, and when the applause broke loose it was each time like the roll of thunder. It was wonderful.

 Mr. Berger said the Socialists did not go into personalities, but used only matter which had been used by Republican papers.
 Referring to the use made of his article regarding rifles and bullets, he said that the bullet had backed up the ballot on two or three occasions in the history of this country. Their opponents, however, had done a great thing for the Social-Democrats in showing that the workingmen would defend the liberties of the country.
 "We will defend the liberties of the country at any cost and at all times," he said.
 He congratulated the old parties for their theft of several planks from the Social-Democrats, but he said they did not know how to use them after they had taken them, and so had placed their reliance on personalities of the rank kind. He said the issue was the trusts and the continual lowering of the cost of living to the workingman, the clerk and the small business man. He predicted a landslide and a tremendous vote.

Asks 35,000 Votes
 "I have been called a boss," he said. The statement was greeted with great applause.
 "You know," he continued, "bossism is impossible in the Social-Democratic party with the initiative, the referendum and the recall."
 Senator Gaylord discussed the economic questions, claiming that the high prices were not due to the tariff but to the trusts. He said that even with all the work done by La Follette in the way of regulating the railroads and corporations in this state prices had not been lowered to the people who must buy the food and eat it, or the small business man, it had been the big men who got the benefit.
 E. T. Melms, president of the common council, who had charge of the county campaign, said that 110,000 pieces of literature had been distributed.
 Assemblyman F. J. Weber presided over the big overflow meeting in Plankinton hall, and William A. Ar-

The First Socialist

Milwaukee Journal: The Socialists have elected their county ticket and their leader, Victor Berger, to congress. They have greatly increased their representation in the legislature. In a campaign, in which there was little incentive for the members of other parties to give them aid they not only have held their own, but they have increased their hold on local government.

 The election of Mr. Berger to the house of representatives marks the election of the first avowed Socialist to the American congress. The party is fortunate in having a man of his ability to serve it in congress as its first representative. For there is no question whatever as to Mr. Berger's ability and to his ability to adapt himself to a hostile environment. He will be staunch in his Socialism without sacrificing his usefulness to his cause by extreme radicalism of utterances or inconsidered action.

No man in the Socialist party is more capable of meeting the responsibilities of the office and none more deserving of the honor than Victor Berger.

Socialism is the ideal and hope of a new society founded on industrial peace and brotherhood, aiming at a new and higher life for men.—William Morris.

The Builders' Column

By A. W. Mance.

Forward Builders!

In other columns of this issue of the Herald you have read of the Tremendous Victory of the Socialists of Milwaukee County. That Victory is now an historical fact. What use we make of it will be of absorbing interest to all who are interested in the progress of humanity.
 There is only one source from where a full, reliable and hope inspiring record of what the Socialists in control of the City and County of Milwaukee are doing and planning can be found. And also what our fourteen representatives at the State Capitol at Madison are attempting to force the "Progressives" who stole a dozen planks from the Socialists, to do for the toilers.
 And don't forget it will not be long until Berger will be thundering through the columns of the Herald from Washington.
 Take those Herald subscription cards we sent you and sell them. You can do it with little effort the next two weeks.
 Below is the testimony of one Herald circulation builder, how easy it was done before election. You can all do it now.

Pierre, South Dakota, Nov. 8, 1910...
 Social-Democratic Herald.
 Dear Comrades: Enclosed find postoffice order to pay for the eight subscription cards you sent me to sell. I sold them so easy. I want eight more. I sold them all with one night's work. They went as easy as though I had been selling diamonds for 10 cents on the dollar.
 Hoping to read of a complete victory for the Milwaukee county ticket in the next number of The Herald, remain, your fighting comrade,
 ERNEST W. DINZY.

This Book Was Demanded

On file in the office of the Social-Democratic Herald are thousands of letters requesting the "History of the Milwaukee Socialist Movement, Campaign and Victory."
 We have been unable to supply the call for this information because it exists only as it is scattered through the files of the Social-Democratic Herald and Milwaukee capitalist papers.
 We have decided to publish the information called for in book form—but
 You can't buy it. You can only get it for putting forth a little effort to convert your neighbors, friends, or shop mates to Socialism.
What the Book Will Contain
 Historical sketch of Socialist movement in Milwaukee, by Victor L. Berger.
 Photographs of the conspicuous persons engaged in the historic struggle.
 Fac-simile cuts of the documents attacking the Socialists and Socialism, and the replies thereto, which the Socialists printed by the hundreds of thousands and distributed through the city, and published in the capitalist press at full advertising rates.
 What the elected Milwaukee Socialists have done and planned for the future.
A Thrilling Chapter
 After the election, November 9, we confidently expect to be able to write a concluding chapter which will thrill the nation. It will tell of the capture of the Milwaukee county government, and of Berger and Gaylord breaking into congress from the Fourth and Fifth Wisconsin congressional districts, etc.
You May Have the Book Free
 Send in a club of eight yearly subscribers for the Social-Democratic Herald for $2.50 for the national edition, or $3 for eight yearly subscribers for the Wisconsin edition, and we will regulate your name, and send you the history when published.

Milwaukee Plan Best

In view of the changes proposed from time to time in Cambridge, and the general interest in town and city planning, some of the readers of The Tribune may be interested in what the city of Milwaukee is now doing. To my mind, Milwaukee furnishes the best example of practical city planning now going on in the United States.

It is significant for three reasons: In the first place, it is not merely talk. I believe in discussion, but only as a preliminary stage to action. Mere talk which does not lead to action not only fails to be useful, but is usually positively harmful. The Milwaukee steps leading to improvement were: First, discussion; then tentative plans, followed by definite plans; and now, followed by prompt official action. The whole period occupied has been only about two years.

A second reason for attaching importance to Milwaukee's city planning is that all public bodies are co-operating. The city government, the city park commission, the county park commission and the metropolitan park board of supervisors are all working together toward common ends. And in their work they have also the cooperation of private individuals. This is a contrast to what we, too, often see where one ward of a city competes with another the city with the county, the county with the state and public officials with private individuals. The evils, the waste of this competitive system are apparent on every hand. There is an imperative need for co-operation and the coordination of effort.

A third and final reason for praising Milwaukee's present achievements is that plans have been made primarily with regard to public interests, although doing no harm or injustice to private owners, in fact, helping them. This is a radical and important change. Think, for example, what the other policy means with regard to our methods of handling real estate! Land is the most indispensable and the most enduring factor with which we deal the one most intimately related to health, to convenience, to making a living, to secure the common satisfactions of life, and yet not only the private land but the amount and form of public land is left almost unregulated to the decision of private individuals. Especially is this true with regard to the location, width, and character of city streets.

In Milwaukee it is proposed to change all this and to have the public authorities plan the system of streets with due regard to the public needs. The new plans for Milwaukee cover nine square miles of city property and are especially noteworthy because they recognize the practical requirements for a more adequate traffic and transportation system. Main thoroughfares will have a minimum width of 120 feet, which is 20 feet wider than Massachusetts avenue in North Cambridge, and main pleasure drives will have a minimum width of 150 feet, thus allowing ample space for planting, as well as providing a special motorway for rapid moving vehicles. These Milwaukee plans also show foresight in the selection of parks and playgrounds, thereby saving unnecessary expense later on. The interests of private property owners will be enhanced in the more rational system of land subdivision, that has been recently inaugurated. The result is that both the general public and individual owners of real estate will gain immeasurably by the wiser, more economical and more far-sighted system of city planning.

The various public bodies at Milwaukee have no intention of resting upon what they have already accomplished. They intend especially to agitate for the passage of laws giving them increased city planning powers. They ask for and will probably get the power of excess condemnation, authority to fix the building line as well as the street line, reasonable control of platting private property and the power to buy, rent and sell real estate for the purpose of housing. These increased powers are not advocated by any single political party but are approved by practically all parties, because they recognize their necessity and the dependence upon them of any permanent public welfare.—John Nolen, Landscape Artist, in Cambridge (Mass.) Tribune.

New York, N. Y. — From present indications the strike of the custom tailors, which was called on Oct. 12, will soon be a matter of history, with complete success for the strikers. Over 600 employers have signed agreements with the union and the tailoring firms are coming to the front and signing contracts every day.

The franchise of a street railway, or any other public utility, is a contract between the company and the city for the use of the streets in furnishing transportation, electric light, etc., for the Public. A franchise is of value to the Public because of the service which the people receive from the company holding the franchise.

Steady Employment, High Wages

By William Restelle Shier.

WORKINGMEN need never be ashamed of fighting for higher wages. It is quite the fashion to seek for more of the good things of life. Business and professional men have set the example by their incessant scheming for higher rents, higher fees.

The average worker in Canada and the United States receives no more than twelve dollars a week. Many receive less than this, a few receive more. Some get as low as five dollars a week, some as much as forty dollars a week. But taking them all together and striking an average, twelve dollars a week is what the man or woman gets who actually produces the wealth.

Now, that would not be so bad if it were not for the high prices and for the grim fact that even this bare subsistence wage is not always obtainable fifty-two weeks in the year. Steady employment is not one of the blessings conferred upon us by the present industrial system. Hundreds of thousands of us are often out of a job for weeks, even months, at a time.

Now, there is a method whereby every able-bodied person willing to work may be assured work that is at once useful and remunerative. And by this same method the wages of all the poorly-paid workers can be doubled within ten years.

The one thing above all others that keeps wages at a low level is the competition among the workers themselves. This competition is due to there being more workers than there are jobs.

Richard Cobden, the noted English statesman, once condensed all the big books on political economy into a very terse sentence. "When two masters run after the same workman," he said, "wages rise. But when two workmen run after the same master, wages fall."

A Hold-Up
Some time ago the ward superintendent was changed in the Twentieth ward for the good of the service. Then it developed that the retiring ward superintendent (a Democrat) had neglected to make his report to the tax office of the cutting of weeds and the clearing of snow in that ward for the past year. He claimed he had no time to make up the report and finally the city had to hire him for three days in order to get the report and he had the nerve to claim the pay for the three days. The affair is attracting a good deal of talk in the ward.

A Case of Dirty Politics

What Messrs. Cochems, McGreal and Niezorowski Did on Election Day

Reformer Cochems! Virtuous Patriot Cochems! The man who put La Follette in nomination for the presidency at the national Republican convention. How pleased Milwaukee should be to have such a force for clean politics in its midst! But is he a force for clean politics? Let the following facts speak for themselves—and we ask clean Republicans to read them carefully. After a campaign full of scoundrelous untruths and slanders the virtuous Mr. Cochems—reformer and "progressive" and cleaner up of dirty politics—went up in his automobile on election day to the second precinct of the Eighteenth ward—the Polish precinct. There was a deal on there by which he hoped to get enough votes to save him if the election was close. In the deal were the convicted grafter, Frank Niezorowski—restored to citizenship by Gov. Davidson—and Lawrence McGreal, Democratic candidate for sheriff. Cochems and Niezorowski spent the day in rounding up the Polish voters. They herded their victims as if they were cattle, and cleaned up poll lists cut no figure. The Social-Democrats got after the crooked work and were able to head

What the Socialists Want

At a time when so much is being written and said about Socialism, especially by persons who do not understand, or wish to misrepresent it, a Socialist may be forgiven if he offers a few explanations. What do the Socialists want? What does Socialism mean? Socialism means that the country shall belong to the people. It means that the city shall be the property of the citizens. The anti-Socialists make great play with the word "State." They speak of "State" tyranny, or "State" interference, or "State" ownership. But to the Socialist the word "State" is synonymous with the word "People." Here is a great difference; and this difference is exemplified in some recent words of the Bishop of Manchester. The bishop says: "The true Socialism which would level up by aiding individual effort and character, must be assiduously taught, by earnest missionaries to the rich and the poor, to counteract the false Socialism which levels down, deifying the state, whereas the state means only those who win in the race for power." The bishop uses the word "state" in its individual sense. Let us substitute the word "people" for the word "state," and the absurdity of the scares raised by anti-Socialists will be apparent. The people will tyrannize over the people. That is to say, we shall tyrannize over ourselves! The people will appropriate the people's goods. That is to say, we shall collectively rob ourselves of our own wealth. No. The Socialist is not afraid of the real state; which, is the people. The anti-Socialist dreads the "state"; and with good reason. For

Town Topics by the Town Crier

New Milwaukee will have a straight district attorney! For sale or adoption: A rag baby. Apply to Chas. A. A. McLeisidorf. Let Charley turn to Katherine for sympathy. No one else feels any for him. Campaign lying went out of fashion for a few months last Tuesday in Milwaukee. The Health commissioner will start a war on bedbugs. Now watch McGee tremble! Our opinion of McGee has not changed since election. He only merits its profound contempt. No one will shed tears over the retirement of Sport McGee from the district attorney's office. And then there ought to be a fumigation! The Social-Democrats cleansed Milwaukee of Rose, and now they will cleanse it of the more contemptible, though smaller stench of a McGee. Did you notice the big American flag flying from the flagstaff of the new Herald building Wednesday. That's our answer to the dirty slanders. The next assembly will be made up of sixty Republicans, twenty-eight Democrats and twelve Social-Democrats, and the senate of twenty-seven Republicans, four Democrats and two Social-Democrats. Mr. Beggs is running his gravel trains so as to interfere with the passenger cars on his lines. This is simply outrageous when people are in a hurry to go to and from work, and the people will not stand it. Neacy is reported to have sent word in to his wage slaves at the Filer-Stowell plant before election, that they must not talk Socialism. Thursday morning one free-born American citizen who had dared call his soul his own, was fired—and you can easily guess why. Judging from the campaign material used by old party candidates and the Free Press, Sentinel and Wisconsin, some people must have been given the impression that the Social-Democrats were crazy fellows who were only watching for the chance to stab their own nation in the back. McGee says the old parties ought to fuse. This comes as a delicious joke from a fellow who could not even be true to his own running mates in his own party. Men who put up deals against the men in their own camp couldn't be any less crooked-minded in a fusion camp, and mutual confidence would go flying to the dogs. When he realized Tuesday night that he had lost his official snap, Fred Cords went up to his office in the court house and blubbered. But Cords forfeited all sympathy when at a recent noon day meeting he hurled vulgar and slanderous charges at a Social-Democratic candidate. It showed he was in on the Heisdorf policy—a policy, by the way, that helped to unhorse him and his pals. An amusing thing happened Tuesday night. Two Social-Democratic supervisors happening that way dis-

What The Milwaukee Papers Say

Mr. Berger's Election Milwaukee Daily News: The Social-Democrats have recorded a second victory in Milwaukee which places county and city administrations wholly in their charge. It also results in the election of a member of congress. The conditions prior to election were such as to make the result one reasonably to be anticipated. Perhaps the situation in the outcome with the largest element of doubt was that relative to victor in the Fifth district where Congressman L. Berger has been chosen to the national legislature. No doubt the Socialists from their standpoint will regard this feat as one of the first importance to their propaganda, in that it is a recognition that has a feature in it of national significance. The claim can be made fairly with color, as political victories go, even though the victory may not be wholly an expression of the growth of Socialism in a scope wider than the congressional district involved. The election of Mr. Berger will accomplish one thing in the political arena. It terminates finally the insistent Cochems congressional candidacy. Those who have a sense of appreciation of the ability, in-

Tonight and tomorrow night at Ethical hall, 558 Jefferson street, R. A. Maynard and Milla Tupper Maynard will speak. Subject: Human Conservation. Through a misunderstanding Mr. and Mrs. Maynard were dated in Milwaukee two weeks earlier than they had intended—but the meetings will be held as stated. The admission will be free and comrades are requested to spread the notice. Six million eggs were recently dumped into New York harbor. Why? Because they had been kept so long in cold storage that they were spoiled. Why were they kept in cold storage when we are paying such ruinous prices for our food supply? Simply to keep up these extortionate prices. Now, if the people had control of the means of production and distribution, you may be sure that the people would have eaten these eggs instead of feeding them to the fishes. Let the nation own the trusts! Otherwise the trusts will not only OWN, but also STARVE THE NATION.
