We Will Supply by Our Numbers What We Shall Lack in Finance

EVERY movement, every class interest and every political party, in order to succeed, must have a mouthpiece to give expression to its aims. This is inevitable in a democracy. The capitalist class realized this a long time ago. Therefore the press today, particularly the daily press, is virtually in the hands of the capitalist class.

The paramount capitalist influence over the daily press has of course been helped by the economic conditions themselves.

The modern daily paper has become a great capitalist institution, like a big factory, requiring a large amount of capital—machinery, raw material, and ready cash. The weekly payroll and outlay in general for white paper and news agencies for a modern daily are enormous—the annual budget for some of the New York papers amounts to five or six million dollars. All of this presupposes a large capital.

Therefore the ownership of all the big daily papers is naturally capitalist.

Railroads, gas companies, public service corporations in general, and mine owners, lumber barons, pulp manufacturers, tanners, packers and other big capitalists either own papers outright and openly, or they own them through some "dummy," who is put up as the "publisher."

For instance, the ownership of the Milwaukee Sentinel and of the Milwaukee Free Press is well known, while the ownership of some other dailies is only suspected. The ownership of the Chicago Tribune and the Chicago American is well known—while the ownership of the Inter-Ocean is only suspected.

However, in every instance the policy is virtually the same. And papers like the New York Times or the Chicago Daily News, while not owned by public service corporations or trusts, are no less capitalist and anti-social than the New York Sun which is owned by J. Pierpont Morgan.

Besides this, there are many other ways in which capitalism controls newspapers—for instance, through advertisements, loans in banks, mortgages, etc.

All of this has been well known for many years to even a casual observer.

Moreover, all these daily papers do not even pretend to stand for anything but the present capitalist system.

And it is rather ridiculous to even expect of them that they will take care of the class interest of the working class. And it is even more ridiculous to expect of them that they will give the Socialist party and the Socialist propaganda a fair show and a fair hearing.

Why should they?

We want to abolish the present capitalist system—which includes the interests of the owners of these papers—and we always say so openly. Whenever these papers printed our news, they did so in order to hold their Socialist readers—and naturally these papers printed as little as possible.

They stand for the present capitalist system and say so openly. We want to abolish it. Now why should we turn around and get angry because they do not assist us?

Truly, of all Socialists in this city the writer of these lines has borne the brunt of the newspaper battle in Milwaukee longer and more than any other.

No matter who was the candidate for mayor or any other big office, the candidate himself was considered "a good, well meaning and innocent man"—while Victor Berger was the dangerous, revolutionary spirit behind him.

This was particularly emphasized in innumerable editorials and speeches during the last municipal campaign. The capitalist papers even tried to create a division in our party right after the victory by praising the mayor-elect and expressing the hope that he would emancipate himself from the ugly, revolutionary dictatorship.

All of this is well known to the Milwaukee comrades, as are also the calumnies and vicious attacks of the capitalist press against Victor Berger in the Congressional and District Attorney campaign last year.

Yet I have no fault to find with the capitalist papers of Milwaukee in that respect—none whatever.

For more than a quarter of a century I have striven every day to abolish this capitalist system. Why should they have treated me differently? I only got what I deserved—from their point of view.

If the Social-Democratic party of Milwaukee wants a mouthpiece—the Social-Democratic party cannot expect the Sentinel, the Free Press, Journal or any other capitalist sheet in Milwaukee to be that mouthpiece.

Socialists must have their own daily paper. This has been the experience of every Socialist party the world over. And that will be the experience of the Socialists in this country.

We cannot expect our mortal enemies to praise the Socialist administration, or do it justice—or to help the working class to gain political power.

But judging from the enthusiasm and the vigor shown by the movement of Milwaukee—particularly at the meeting last Sunday—the Milwaukee Leader will be the first great newspaper success for the people in this country.

There can be no doubt that a daily paper that before it has even started can assemble seven thousand men and women—during a time when there is no excitement at all, no election, not even a graft investigation—simply for the purpose of giving endorsement and financial aid to the movement to start that daily paper, is bound to be a brilliant success.

We will supply by our numbers what we may lack in financial strength.

The Milwaukee movement which has broken the ice politically and has elected the first Socialist municipal administration of any large city and has sent the first Socialist to Congress, will also establish the first great Socialist daily in this country. It will be the first paper in Milwaukee that will give true expression to the wrongs and the fears of the common people—as well as to their hopes and aspirations.

It will be the paper of the intelligent working class—and of every man and woman striving for a political and industrial democracy.

Victor L. Berger

Comment on Passing Events

By Frederic Heath

The Milwaukee Sentinel, like its kind, is distressed because the Socialists of Italy oppose the land-grabbing war with Turkey. It praises the Vatican for blessing the war, as it claims, and says the attitude of the Socialists is "disloyal and contemptible." and that of the Vatican "immensely significant." I guess so! "Peace on earth, good will toward men," alas! The Sentinel even quotes the Vatican as saying that the murder of Turks will be "a triumph to civilization." Triumphant murder, so to say!

The magazines print a picture of the gross and lascivious face of J. Pierpont Morgan, as the man of substance behind the new "Men and Religion Forward Movement." A picture of the Rev. Steieler, is also given. Any movement of this kind that cannot cut loose from the biggest thieves in America for its financial strength is a libel on the American as saying that the murder of Turks will be "a triumph to civilization." Triumphant murder, so to say!

Wonderful Mass Meeting Assures New Daily for Milwaukee!

Largest Auditorium in City Filled to Overflowing—Addresses by Pres. Johnston of the Machinists, Congressman Berger, Mayor Seidel and Carl D. Thompson Midst Intense Enthusiasm

Fund Is Increased to $72,000 and Directors Warranted in Contracting for Machinery and Equipment—A Fourteen Thousand Dollar Increase in One Week—But Imperative That Balance Be Forthcoming At Once—Coats Off, Everybody!!

Milwaukee: The great Auditorium meeting last Sunday evening, in the interests of the new Socialist daily, was one of the most remarkable we have ever held in the city of Milwaukee, and that is saying a good deal! The enthusiasm was intense. It seemed as if every individual in that great sea of faces was spilling for fight. The politicians were aghast over it; that the Social-Democrats, between campaigns could hold such a meeting, showed what might be expected in the coming city campaign.

Alderman Melms presided. Addresses were made by Comrade W. H. Johnston of Washington, D. C., international president of the Machinists, Congressman Victor L. Berger, Mayor Emil Seidel and City Clerk Carl D. Thompson. The status of the daily paper promotion was openly considered and the necessity of speedily completing the fund of $100,000 made clear. Over $70,000 was imperatively required in order that contracts for typesetting machines and other equipment could be let in time. The daily must start December 1, and this would require that contracts be made the very next day.

The response of the vast concourse was remarkable. Comrade Berger announced subscriptions from the east for $8,000 of the bonds, and those present started out to meet it. The scene that ensued was almost indescribable. When all the pledge cards had been gathered, the fund had been boosted to $72,000—and the daily was assured!

The municipal Auditorium is the largest meeting hall in the city. By 8 o'clock the seats were all gone and the scene presented was simply wonderful. It was a very significant audience. The young men predominated. Out of the 7,000 present the women by actual count numbered but 430, showing that the first interest lay with the voters. And when they applauded the sound of hailstones on a tin roof or a carnival in a boiler factory was nowhere in comparison.

Stirred the Blood
It was long after 11 o'clock when the meeting broke up. The taking of pledges had naturally consumed a good deal of time, but the audience did not tire. There was a speech by Comrade Berger still to come and they did not mean to miss it. And while he spoke briefly, out of consideration for the lateness of the hour, his every word sent new courage and fight into the blood of the thousands who listened. The addresses of the evening had presented details, he supported the broad strokes, the masterly call to duty which fitted the occasion so perfectly. The applause was tumultuous.

President Johnston has a fine stage presence and a clear and pleasing voice. His well chosen words carried added weight coming from the head of one of the greatest industrial organizations in the land, the first one to so signally honor a Socialist.

Comrade Thompson then presented the facts as to the funds for the daily and showed that it was necessary, at once, to get enough money in sight, to let the necessary contracts. He asked that additional pledges be given then and there, and a wonderful scene ensued.

A Stirring Scene
Only a moving picture machine could do justice to the sight. Ushers passed around the cards and then began taking them up. Back and forth they rushed, handing the cards up to the platform and then going for more. Comrade Thompson called out the amounts, each one called forth eager applause. Lively interest shone on every face. And when the announcement was finally made by Business Manager Distorsin and the tellers, that the $6,400 had been raised to add to the fund and that on the morrow the contracts would be let, pandemonium broke loose. The comrades roared their applause and those that had room danced. It was like the announcement of victory after the close of the polls.

Why Movement Succeeds
"As a representative of the trade union army, I wish to say God speed to the Social-Democratic movement of this country. The success of your movement here has been due, in my opinion, largely to the distribution of literature. We have now arrived at a point where if we are to make farther progress, we must have a daily paper and have it speedily."

Keep Workers Divided
"The trade union movement needs equally as much as the Social-Democratic party, a daily paper. We have seen our fellow unionists kidnaped and taken to other states without trial. If it were not for the Socialist and the labor press, these men would have been railroaded to prison. The trick of the ages has been, to keep the workers divided. The corporations, the special interests, have seen to it that the press and schools and colleges have been subsidized. They don't care what kind of history we read if they may write it."

Both Wings Together
"All over the land, the men and women of labor are working as never before to Milwaukeeize the nation. And I want to say to the Socialist who is not a trades unionist that he ought to join the union of his trade. And to the union man who is not a Socialist I want to say that he ought to join the political movement of his class."

Seidel Gets Ovation
Mayor Seidel got an ovation when he stepped to the front to begin his address. Four times it was resumed before he could speak. His remarks had to do with newspaper misrepresentation of his office and was unsparing and eye-opening.

What the Speakers Said
"What we want in Milwaukee is a workingmen's daily paper that will tell the truth," said Ald. E. T. Melms, chairman of the evening. "You will understand when the speakers of the evening have presented their case that something must be done. The first speaker is one who, like thousands of other workingmen, realizes the necessity of fighting with both arms."

Seidel on People's Need
Amid a thunder of applause, of hand-clappings and cheers that rose and reeded and rose again, Emil Seidel, mayor of Milwaukee, was introduced. "The people of Milwaukee ought to have a daily paper that will tell them what is really going on," he said. "As far as the city administration is concerned, it doesn't need a paper. It is the people of Milwaukee who need the daily paper."

Nearing the Top!
A vertical scale showing the progress of the fund. The scale ranges from 0 to 100,000 in increments of 10,000. A hand is shown at the bottom, holding a pencil that points to the 72,000 mark on the scale.

The Daily Bonds
This Week - $72,210
Last Week - $57,490
GAIN - $14,720

Repairing Bad Machine
"I consider the city government a machine. If a machine slips or does crooked work, it doesn't do good work. We have had to repair a bad machine."

News Policy
"We are here to protest against a press that does not do justice to facts that are occurring under its very eyes. The capitalist class owns the press. And what the capitalist class wants told are the things that are told and only these. Nobody pays much attention to editorial columns nor paid advertisements. It is in the news policy, what things shall be told and what not told, that the viciousness of the daily press is worked. The news policy of the Milwaukee daily press has been against the Social-Democratic administration from start to finish. I have here over a thousand press clippings that will bear out this statement.

Good Work Not Commended
The press has stated in large headlines that the Socialists discharged a city employee because he was a negro. The headlines in the Journal clipping I have here were cunningly created to stir up race prejudice. The fact is that no negro was discharged.

Rep. Johnston
"I understand in what I have to say I am not hitting at the reporters. They don't own the press. If they did, I believe we would have a much better chance to get the truth."

Melms and the Knockers
Chairman Melms pointed at a banner left over from the industrial exposition, reading, "The knocker's hammer will drive no nails." "That is correct," he said, "when we get a worker's daily paper in Milwaukee, the knocker's hammer will drive no more nails. This is not the last meeting which is going to be held for the daily paper. A number of others will be held. We are determined to make it impossible for the knocker's hammer to drive any nails into the Social-Democratic movement."

Berger Speaks
A long tumult of handclapping, calls, and yells ensued when Congressman Victor L. Berger was introduced. Three times he tried to begin speaking but his words were drowned in a renewed upsurge of enthusiasm mingled with shouts of "The Boss!" Opening his speech, he said, "During the past three months

"I ask you to support this paper. I want to see next spring so many Social-Democratic votes that you can't count 'em." To do this we must have this daily paper."

A Socialized City

(Written for The Herald.)

ONE of the great problems of today is the city. Within a single generation such shifting changes have taken place that nearly forty millions of the entire population of the United States has been concentrated into the city.

In the rapid complex growth, the city has been honeycombed with the corruption, graft, disease, poverty, vice and crime, which were but the natural by-products of an aimless and abnormal development. These filthy imprints cannot be erased by merely putting good men into office but can only be grappled with by putting men in office, backed by principles based on the soundest and most rational economics.

The only party today which has a purpose and plan, which has science and system is a party which advocates Socialistic economic principles.

The foremost city in the world of this kind at present is Duesseldorf, Germany. While only in its economic infancy it is the marvel of wonders.

It already owns its street car system, a controlling interest in a local railroad; its docks and harbors; its slaughter houses; its gas, electric light and water plants. It owns three separate banking and loan houses; its own and rent houses; it speculates in land and is a great land holder. It possesses a municipal opera house, exposition hall, public baths, cemeteries, municipal pawnshops, restaurants and milk depots; in fact, Duesseldorf is the biggest business house in Duesseldorf.

Twelve years ago the city bought out the street car company, which had been run as abominably as those in our own native land of the free. Henceforth, the city realized a good profit on the investment at the same time offering better service at a rate lowered to 2 1/2 cents per fare with transfer. Artistic cars, comfortable seats, carrying passengers only to six over seating capacity, and beautiful waiting stations to protect passengers against the inclemency of the weather, were a few of the improvements installed. Each car is equipped with the most efficient brakes and safety appliances such that death or loss of limb is an almost unknown factor. The city gained another advantage. It can now develop itself successfully according to preconceived plans. The wonderful development of the street car system for the good of the many has paid, for its passenger traffic has been increased 400 per cent.

By obtaining a controlling interest in the Rhine Interurban railroad, Duesseldorf has made another good investment. It now develops the land surrounding the city in the most advantageous manner and also by its cheap fare enables the workingman to live in the country where rents are low and green meadows impart health.

In the year of 1907 Duesseldorf realized $700,000 out of its water, gas and electric light plants. This went to help lower the taxes.

The low lying shore land was reclaimed in 1885 at a cost of $4,500,000 and was transformed into a harbor with municipal docks. Outside of the business district the scrubby shore was coaxed into beauty until it had been changed into luxuriant parks and places of recreation. Did these improvements pay? Let us see? The river trade increased 300 per cent and the tonnage from 28 million to 104 million tons. The rentals from the docks are paying for the entire initial cost.

Since 1871, when the population numbered 60,000 inhabitants, this Old World city has grown to 300,000 inhabitants. It certainly paid.

A workingman wishing to buy a home can borrow money from the City Mortgage Bank. If in need, he can go to the City Pawnshop. He can deposit his money safely in the City Savings Bank. The banks are doing a splendid business of fifteen million dollars a year and the pawnshop a $300,000 business.

As a real estate broker, Duesseldorf is earning the "uncertain increment" on 2,000 acres of land and has set aside five million dollars with which to buy more. Thus Duesseldorf protects its people against the loan and real estate sharks.

The German workman is comfortable. The state, the employer and the worker each contribute a portion toward the workman's old age pension. Accident insurance is free, for every employer is forced to pay stipulated sums according to the kind of injury received. The German workman makes use of the free municipal labor bureau when out of work. He gets free medical attendance in free hospitals. His children can obtain splendid educations. He can visit the many parks and hear concerts four or five times a week. No wonder manufacturers establish their businesses in Duesseldorf, for here he finds willing, happy, clean, contented workmen.

Politics in Germany has ceased to be a brick-bat and has become a science. The government has become a great human father who with loving care is protecting his children.

Vice, crime, corruption, disease are at a minimum, as the causes which create them are being removed. The people are what conditions make them the world over and Duesseldorf is making a kindly, happy intelligent, just and respectable people.

Maximilian W. Moeller.

Needless Poverty the Social Disease

IT is agreed by everybody: 1. That the earth is large enough and rich enough in soil, climate, forest and mines so that no one needs to be poor for any fault of the earth.

2. That the great machines are good enough, and are so productive when in use that no one needs to be poor for any fault of the machines.

3. That there are workers enough, skillful enough, and willing enough to produce enough, so that no one needs to be poor for any lack of the power of labor to produce.

4. That, because of these facts, poverty is needless.

Why, then, poverty, and all the world of suffering, ignorance, vice, disease and death which are caused by poverty?

If anybody will think a little, he will readily discover that he already knows the cause of this needless poverty. To get the answer you do not need to know more. You know enough now. The answer will come, not by learning what you do not know, but by thinking about what you do know already.

Here are some things everybody knows:

1. That millions of people who must occupy and use the earth, and in order to use the earth must use the great machines with which to use the earth, do not know either the earth or the machines with which to use the earth. You know that, don't you?

2. That the few who do own the earth and the machines with which to use the earth, will not let the rest of us use the earth or the machines unless they fix the terms on which we use them, and when they fix the terms, the terms are such that the many are doomed to poverty and the few are made rich, idle and useless.

Why does needless poverty exist? It is because of land monopoly, mining monopoly, manufacturing monopoly, market monopoly. It is because the few privately own what "it" must together use; that is, the earth, and the machinery with which to use the earth.—That is what is called capitalism.

What is the remedy?

It is very simple. Make every privately owned monopoly a publicly owned monopoly instead. Then all those things which all the people use together, all the people, acting through their government, will own together. Then, because there would be no one to privately profit at the loss of others, the wages, the salaries, incomes must rise and the cost of living must fall until the useful people, who produce all the wealth, will be able to buy, and enjoy the use of all the wealth, they themselves produce. That would make an end of poverty to all useful people, and it would make an end of private fortunes in the hands of those who never earned them.

This is what is called Socialism. Where do you stand—for the continuance of capitalism, with all its wrong, or for the beginning of Socialism, with its universal well earned wealth for all mankind?—Walter Thomas Mills.

Railroad Chicken Thieves

The American farmer receives $300,000,000 for his eggs. The consumer paid $540,000,000.

Who got the difference?

Why our legalized social highwaymen, the railroads and the express companies. Who gave them permission to rob the people?

Why, the people themselves. How? By allowing the corporations to send their representatives to congress and the United States senate to make and unmake laws so they can burglarize the food cupboards of the people with the graceful bearing of a polished diplomat.

"Oh, Mr. Socialist, you are always kicking." What about you, Mr. Friend of the capitalist? You believe in the rights of private property, do you not? Do you believe because the thug privately owns the weapon he pushes under your nose, has a right to do so because he holds you up with his own private property? Well, why should a railroad corporation be allowed to hold all the people up with their privately owned railroads?—Torch of Reason.

Some Growth, That!—In April, 1896, the Socialists of the east side of New York started a little Socialist daily in the Jewish language. The name of this daily is "The Forward." Its circulation grew so rapidly during the last five years that it was found necessary to abandon the five-story building at 175 Broadway, and secure more commodious quarters.

The comrades went to WORK. They bought the adjoining lot, 173 Broadway, tore down the old building and next April, fifteen years after starting, they will move into and dedicate to HUMANITY a magnificent ten-story building covering both lots.

NOW READY

"United States Constitution and Socialism"

This pamphlet of 32 pages is very timely. It shows that the United States Constitution does not deserve the sacred and profound respect our capitalist institutions and politicians would have us bestow upon it. Progress demands that the truth be told and that the last vestige of false pride so many Americans take in this fundamental law, be destroyed.

It contains the real truth about our "patriotic" forefathers. It has history not found in our school books. The book contains a frank exposition of the hypocritical and fictitious patriotism of the framers of our constitution.

Socialist locals should push this book. It is good propaganda. Book Contains Reference List for Historical Research in Libraries and also Comrade Hood's

The Fleecing of Romano

By Emanuel Julius

(Written for The Herald.) ROMANO BATAGLIANO is now at his organ again. His tiny monkey looks up at his master with a sad look and seems to say, "Ah, my Romano, why you so sad? Why you ever smile at your little Tony? Me love you just same. Why you love me no more?"

But he never gets an answer. Romano now has a blank look on his face and very often sighs in a tired, forlorn manner.

For Romano the world has become a dark maze and holds out little hope. He distrusts every person. He sees a liar in every word he hears; a thief in every man he meets, and a murderer in every fat individual, provided he is well dressed.

How it warmed his big heart to see the ragged children of the streets sing and dance to the popular medleys he ground out of his organ! Their happy laughter engendered dreams of sunny Italy, and the squeaks of little Tony told him that the pennies were pouring in—pennies that would buy the good things of life and mount up into dollars, for future joys.

But no longer.

Romano once hoped to be wealthy—rich enough to go back to his far off land and buy a cottage for Tony and himself.

But no longer.

It wasn't so long ago that he had the immense sum of eight hundred dollars stowed away in the banks of Little Italy. Not one bank, but in many, for Romano was afraid that if he put all his money in one place it might burn down, or blow up, or be robbed and the like. The money collected slowly, but a dollar tucked away every morning meant hundreds in a short time.

All Romano's money is gone now. And somehow he can't get started again to save his hard earned money.

How did it happen? you ask. Well, you shall be told.

Romano thought that nearly all the wealth of Little Italy was in the hands of a few ward politicians—he craved to become a part of them.

One spring evening, while sipping wine in a small Italian coffee house at "Five Points," who should come strolling in but Fetucci Slaveno—heavy, sporty, self-assertive and well-fed.

Fetucci knew Romano. Once a year at election time he would approach Romano, pat him on the back, put a cigar in his hand and whisper something in his ear. Romano always understood and "did the right thing."

Fetucci seated himself close to Romano. They got talking. Soon the subject was politics. Fetucci painted a glowing picture of the money that could be made in politics. Fetucci knew that Romano had a good sized bank account. That's why he was so congenial.

Presently, seemingly out of the goodness of his heart, he whispered in Romano's ear: "DO YOU WANT ME TO GIVE YOU A TIP?"

Romano trembled. At last he was to be admitted to the order of the Money Gods.

"What is it?" asked Romano excitedly.

"Don't know yet," replied Fetucci, "but I'll introduce you to a man at City Hall, who can fix it up so you'll get rich in no time and it won't cost you much either."

Romano could not find words to express his gratitude.

"When?" he asked.

"Tomorrow. But be sure to dress

THE Nashville Labor Advocate

says, in commenting on the recent convention of the Switchmen's Union: "One of the most conspicuous features of the large number of outspoken Socialists among the delegates. There were fully double the number of any preceding convention, and where there are Socialists there is something doing. They will not submit to being herded by the boss like cattle. They ask questions of their officers and insist on being answered. They think for themselves and they want to know the why and wherefore of things."

The new home of the Socialist party, Socialist press and labor unions is now finished and practically all rented to first-class tenants.

The income from the rents now collected each month assures a profitable investment for all who have purchased shares in the People's Realty company.

The People's Realty company is incorporated for $40,000, divided in shares of $25 each. More than $35,000 worth of these shares of the People's Realty company have been sold, leaving only between four and five thousand dollars worth still to dispose of.

The building is an up-to-date, four-story, fireproof brick, cement and iron building. It is located at Sixth and Chestnut streets, one of the really growing business centers of Milwaukee. The foundation is built to support an eight-story building when necessary. Real estate is increasing in value in this part of the city every day and from all present indications will continue to do so in the years to come.

Brisbane hall is an inspiration to all progressive working people and Socialists who visit Milwaukee when they go through it. They are delighted with its quality, location and fitness for the grand purpose for which it came into existence—viz.: The home of the Socialist party, press and labor organizations.

The present income from the rents indicate that it will be a good dividend payer from the start.

If you have a little money to invest you accomplish two desirable things by purchasing one or more shares of the People's Realty company stock. You make a good investment and at the same time use your money where it will be doing excellent work for the cause of the toilers.

Bear in mind that this building was planned as the foundation and home of the daily paper which will soon make its appearance, to voice the demands and aspirations of the advance guard of the army of labor on the American continent.

We have tried to build everything pertaining to the Milwaukee Socialist movement, solid from the foundation up. The $5,000 needed for the balance of the shares unsold in the People's Realty company is now desired to remove the last barrier to our peaceful occupation of Brisbane hall, which is the home of labor in every sense of the word.

From this building an influence will radiate which will carry hope to millions of toilers in all parts of the world. You are all interested in the movement of which Brisbane hall is a practical and useful monument. Let us hear from you with a check for at least one $25 share of stock, if it is possible.

With this necessary preliminary work finished we will be free to lend all our efforts and energies to the task of launching the daily paper in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee's Tammany

By Carl Sandburg

(Written for The Herald.)
 One of our millionaire newspapers of Milwaukee made a mighty poor guess the other day. This paper said the Social-Democrats are the Tammany of Milwaukee.

Now, there are just about ten thousand big points of difference between Tammany and the Social-Democracy. Only one will be shown here.

The whole Tammany organization of New York city is a political arm of the big New York corporations. Whenever Tammany goes down and out in an election, and it is hardly ever that Tammany loses out on all the offices, the corporations take care of the Tammany men who are put out of office, who lose their jobs.

There is no such a thing as an Tammany man unemployed against his own wish. Be a Tammany man and you'll always have a job.

"We'll take care of you," is the word the Tammany politicians pass along to all the Tammany ward workers. And they always make good.

When a Tammany politician goes to a corporation employing thousands of men and it is well known that this corporation has gotten big special privileges from Tammany when Tammany was in power, such a politician can always get jobs for his ward workers.

Tammany may lose with the voters of the city once in a while.

But Tammany never loses with the corporations. The big special privilege corporations, chiefly the railroads, though there are a number of others, among them tax dodgers, remember Tammany faithfully.

It is right here that the enemies of the Social Democratic party in Milwaukee have a large advantage.

By providing jobs for the faithful, either in the city service or with the special privilege corporations, Tammany keeps its power and its strength year after year. This is the reason Tammany has been the main controlling power in New York for nearly a century. Reforms are born and die. But Tammany lives.

And it was partly through the use of this same method that the Dave Rose Democracy was able to gain power and hold power for so long a time in Milwaukee.

It is here that the "nonpartisan" enemies of the Social-Democratic party in Milwaukee have an advantage. When a "nonpartisan" street railway alderman, such as Con Corcoran, can go to his corporation friends to whom he has been faithful and say, "I want jobs for a few fellows who have been right," it is a big help toward carrying the next ward year after year.

Those who understand these facts and conditions also understand clearly the hardships and handicaps under which the Social-Democratic party of Milwaukee must fight.

Take a clear case like this, for instance. Suppose Carl Runge, former city attorney and a good friend of both steam and electric railways, went to railway offices and asked for jobs for a few "nonpartisan" friends of his. And suppose on the same day Daniel Hoan, present city attorney, whose office has fought the street railway on back licenses fees, sprinkling and paving—suppose Hoan should go to a railway office and ask for jobs for Social-Democratic friends of his.

Hoan would be turned down. Runge would get part or all that he asked for. Special privilege capitalists have good memories for their friends.

Suppose the railway coroner who preceded Dr. Nahin in that office and who during the first six months of 1910 did not secure one negligence verdict against the railways, suppose he asked for favors. He would get about what he asked for from railways.

But how much would Dr. Nahin get—Nahin, whose office during the first six months of 1911 secured evidence that showed clear negligence in twelve railway cases tried by jury. Nahin would get nothing.

Every man of any sense knows that every political friend of the big interests in Milwaukee is doing nicely, is not suffering for the want of a good job.

And when you understand these things, you understand more of the courage, loyalty and fine service back of the Social-Democratic party.

This is one of the things we have in mind when we say that the workmen of Milwaukee have become noted for big, daring enterprises. They have established a strong, solid political labor movement standing for great principles. Their elected officials have given the best administration ever known to Milwaukee city and county. They are starting a daily newspaper that will be the largest single accomplishment yet seen in the labor press of America.

This is a movement that dares to hope and fight. Like a first class fighting man, it never knows when it is whipped. And when it drives home one good blow at the enemy, it starts in again to drive home another one.

It lives and grows by struggle and combat—this Milwaukee labor movement. It is making history, though its greatest work is yet ahead of it.

Our Crooked Judges
 "An interesting situation is found in a legal decision by a federal judge in Kansas City, to the effect that it is no crime to bribe a federal meat inspector to keep him from destroying condemned meat. I presented all the papers in this case to President Roosevelt, and I shall never forget his dismay over it. It seems that the packers' agents had 'demurred'—that is, they had admitted to doing the act, but claimed that it was not an offence—they had paid the government inspector not to do something which he had had no legal right to do anyway; and the judge had sustained the demurrer, and had set the bribers free!"—Upton Sinclair.

That decision is still law, and will remain the law until the constitution of the United States is changed, or until the people and not the beef trust have the naming of the judges.

To Russia's Shame—The revolution of 1905 compelled the czar to make radical concessions. A Russian constitution and a Russian parliament, known as the Duma, were the result. Had the constitution and the Duma not been "suspended" by Stolypin et al: revolutionary conspiracy and assassination would have disappeared from the political arena of Russia. As a constitutional monarchy, Russia could have followed the political development of Western Europe.—Ex.

Charity and Pension

Red Devil Gives Chase to the Charity Angel
 By J. Rosett
 (Written for The Herald.)

WITH scores of millions of printed sheets; with promises of Heaven and threats of hell from ten thousand pulpits; in sweetest tones and perfumed notes of a legion of charity-angels, and in the rough grunts of all the benevolent devils; with the drums and trumpets of every salvation army, and of every damnation army; in sounds of thunder, and with the fire of live volcanoes, throughout the length and breadth of our land, against every traveler on the highways and byways of life, the cry is hurled: HELP, HELP! HELP THE HELPLESS!

Pictures of decrepit age, and helpless infancy and childhood; pictures of humanity in every possible state of agony are drawn by consummate artists, specialists in that sinister branch of the noble art. They can bore into hearts of flint. They can steal a spark of humanity hidden behind a dozen fire-proof and burglar-proof doors and bolts, and fan it into an all-consuming flame. They can draw tears from the eyes of Belzebub, and compel the breast of Satan to heave a sigh. They can strike a rock and make it gush forth a fountain of dollars into the capacious aprons of the charity-angels.

So much and more for the art of the noble institution. As for its science! Away with the discoveries of the vaccine and antitoxins! Away with the X-rays and with radium! With the Origin of Species and with Surplus Value! For real science look you into the annals of the charities. At least into the annual reports of Amalgamated, the Federated, the United, Disunited, General, Special, and whatever other Charities there be. Look into their numerous catalogues, indexes, classifications, and what not. But most important of all, look into their marvelous IDENTIFICATION SYSTEMS, where not only actual applicants for charity, but where every prospective suspect is, decades in advance, regularly and methodically inscribed, stamped, marked, tagged, sealed and packed away for future "identification," and for the "Confidential Exchange of Information" among the various charity agencies, Police Departments and States' Attorneys' offices.

Thus much for its science. But as to its philanthropy! Its Milk Funds, its Fresh Air Funds, its Old Age Funds, its General Distress Funds, its Housing Funds, its Christmas Dinner Funds. Its Funds for every form of human distress, from broken hearts and shattered vows to broken bones and shattered fortunes. Ah, if it only had not been for the natural wear and tear to which the flesh of eleemosynary funds is heir to, who knows, but poverty itself might long ago have been made into a dividend-bearing institution.

But there is hope. For this wear and tear has through the unremitting labors of generations of philanthropic sages, been reduced from century to century, and as we advance, still further reduction is bound to take place. The present proportions of waste involved in charity vary, as might be expected, with the general state of progress in the particular place. Thus, in progressive New York, the proportion is as 1 to 1.35, while in backward and reactionary Baltimore it is still as high as 1 to .85. That is to say, for every dollar wasted in false charity among humanity at large, the charities of New York bestow upon their charity workers the sum of $1.35; while in Baltimore, with the same amount of waste, the charity worker is the beneficiary to the extent of only 85 cents.

The art, the science, the philanthropy and the economy of almsgiving result in a morally elevating influence upon the actual and possible recipients of charity, which is the glory and the pride of the institution.

Methodical investigations from neighbors, friends, relatives and employers regarding the applicant's "deservedness" of the charity-angel's help, impresses the prospective recipient, as well as humanity at large, with a sense of the unworthiness of flesh, and brings over our mortal race that feeling of humility and the consciousness of its sinfulness, which gives free passage through the first gate on the road to Heaven.

A series of well contrived celestial performances proclaim to the world the sweetness of giving charity. And if GIVING be sweet, it is easily inferred that RECEIVING is bitter. If GIVING be noble, exalted, brave and angelic, then it follows that RECEIVING is ignoble, degraded, cowardly, devilish. Thus the attempt is made to redeem mortal flesh of its original sin by a performance in which a legion of noble, exalted brave and sweet angels condescend to extend a helping hand to a horde of ignoble, degraded, cowardly and bitter devils.

How thankful must the poor devils be!

But deep in the mire of sin and vice is sunk our human brood. An ungrateful and unappreciative race. The stage-coach served it a thousand years, and was banished on the first opportunity by the steam-driven machine. The horse has labored for it since the dawn of history, and is now being relegated to the sausage-plant on account of the automobile. The scribe was thrown into the scrap heap with the introduction of the printing press. The guardian angels of anointed heads were deprived of their jobs with the institution of detective agencies. The angel-messenger has been starved out by telegraph. What wonder then that the utter selfishness of flesh should now conspire to snatch the bread and salt from the mouth of its charity-angels by the institution of a pension for aged workers?

To deprive perhaps some three million men and women of the opportunity to knock at the doors of alms-houses! To rob them in their last years of the chance of repenting for the lifelong sin of wage-slavery—how utterly ungodly!

A pension for old and unfitted industrial horses—what is it if not downright paternalism? What is to become of the virtue of charity? By what means, henceforth, can any one expect to transfer himself to the kingdom of heaven? And this is only a beginning. The far-sighted will see the entire eleemosynary institution in danger.

It is well enough to pension those who had stained their hands with human blood on the field of battle for the extension of our markets. It is well enough to maintain in their old age the men who in their youth had slain their fellow men—even though they did so against their will—in the quarrels of their masters. Those who in their youth destroyed what others had built—it is well enough to let them pass their remaining years well cared for and well fed, so that they may die an unchristian death, without repentance. But those who have labored from youth to age; those who have fed and clothed and housed mankind; who have denied themselves all happiness, who have foregone every pleasure, every joy, in order to erect the glittering pile of our civilization!—Why not afford them the chance of being crushed beneath that pile? Why submit them to the dangerous possibility of contentment in their old age, and a consequent impatient death?

Surely, the angels of charity must not be expected to be a party to the heinous conspiracy of jeopardizing the aged worker's chance of a kingdom in heaven by depriving him of his hell on earth! Besides, the angels would lose their jobs. And until some red devil takes it into his head to institute government insurance for unemployed, a jobless angel is a pretty miserable creature.

It must, therefore, be expected, that in the attempt to pension aged workers, "neither messenger nor angel" will lend assistance. The strong arm of the working class alone can be relied upon to lift from the life of the working millions the dreadful spectre of starvation and beggary in their old age.

Tommy Workin'man
 By George Allan England.

WALKED into a lecture-hall, as thoughtful as could be.
 The Professor was talkin' 'bout a thing This here 'an' 'bulwar', so 'e said, was US, the Workin'man—
 The stalwart yeoman, navy, drudge; an' I to think began.

"Oh, it's Tommy this, an' Tommy that," an' Tommy 'e says, "Give 'em blighters powder!" when the Wheels begin to stick!
 The Wheels begin to stick, me lads,
 Oh, it's "Give 'em lead an' bayonets!" when the Wheels begin to stick!

I strolled into the 'Duse, one day. A Toff was makin' 'clear.
 That We're the Economic IT, We're Skittles, "Broad" Bec' it's "we're givin' you a Compensation Act!"
 "I shall see Tommy givin' like them pauper furrin' scum!"
 I moves we gives a Farthin', to Alleviate the Slum!"

Oh, it's "Tommy this, an' Tommy that," an' please accept a Track,
 An' Tommy, 'e says, "we're givin' you a Compensation Act!"
 An' Old Age Pension an' Weak Tea, A Milk-and-Water Aik!"
 But it's "Rifles for the Rabbits!" when our starvin' Women sack!

I read a bloomin' leader, an' I noted wot it said:
 "OUR workin'man won't never 'ave no Victims of the Red!"
 Content, secure, conservative, "e'll pull the country through."
 'E's patriotic, loves a lord, adores 'is master, too!"

Oh, it's "Tommy this, an' Tommy that," an' Tommy is ALL RIGHT!"
 But it's "Curse on the Outlaw!" when the Drums begin to roll!
 The times is growin' black, me lads,
 An' bitter bad, an' tight!
 Oh, it's "Give 'em lead an' Bayonets!" when the times is growin' tight.

I went into a big 'Ish Church, an' I 'eard a Parson, there, Declaimin' on our Virtues an' a-blessin' 'is in prayer.
 "God save the British Workin'man, preserve 'im from all harm!
 Perfect 'im, Lord, an' shelter 'im with Thine Almighty Arm!"

It was "Tommy is the Lord's Elect," an' "Ow 'ow precious soul!"
 But it's "Curse on the Outlaw!" when the Drums begin to roll!
 The starvin' Hordes erud out for bread,
 An' Dreams begin to rot an' rot!
 An' 'e says, "Here's the 'Red Lancers!" when the Drums begin to roll!

We ain't no Economic Bricks, we ain't no Skittles, too.
 But Men with wives an' nippers most remarkable like YOU.
 We are the very best of a-ben' Holy Shows.
 For, Mark! we know of a thing or two, an' this is what we know:

So long as West End grub is safe, an' Dividends an' "Tin,"
 They puts us on the bloody back an' cracks

THE REAL VICTORY.—The really big triumph was that of the workers over themselves—over their narrow craft ideas and customs—and their recognition of the principles of organization and action along industrial lines and the power of class solidarity.

The mass strike in Great Britain, in which upward of half a million workers were involved, was unquestionably one of the greatest achievements of organized labor on the industrial field in the history of the labor movement.—Max S. Hayes.

Socialism is the New Patriotism

"Human life depends upon food, clothing, shelter, and the necessities of life. We are sure that freedom, culture and higher human development possible. To produce food, clothing, shelter, land and machinery are needed. Land by itself does not satisfy human needs. Human labor gets raw materials and food out of the soil by creating machinery and the tools of the farmer. The farmer has control of land and machinery has control of human labor, and with it of human life and liberty. The machinery and the tools used for industrial purposes are owned by a rapidly decreasing minority. So long as machinery is simple and easily handled by one man, it does not matter to owners so powerful that they can dominate the sources of life of others. But when machinery becomes more complex and expensive, and requires for its effective operation the organized effort of many workers, its influence reaches over wider circles of life. The owners of such machinery become the dominant class. THE MASSES IN SUBJECTION.

In proportion as the number of such machines increases, their power in the nation and in the world increases. They bring ever larger masses of working people under their power, and make them either only productive property. Millions of formerly self-employing workers, busily engaged in the production of goods for the industrial mass-produce.

The more the economic power of the ruling class grows, the more the ownership of the tools of production, the more the ownership of the tools of production is concentrated in the hands of a few. The overwhelming bulk of the useful work of the nation falls upon the shoulders of the masses that either have not become productive property by their manual and mental labor power the workers—or that have but little land and little machinery outside of their labor power. The small traders and small farmers. The ruling minority is steadily becoming useless and parasitic.

A bitter struggle over the division of the products of labor is waged between the exploiting property class on the one hand and the exploited working class on the other. In this struggle the wage working class cannot expect adequate relief from any reform of the present order from the dominant class of society.

The wage workers are therefore the most determined and irreconcilable antagonists of the ruling class. They are also the class which suffers most from the curse of class rule. The fact that they are the only class that is permitted to use all the country's resources and social tools for their individual profit, and to make the production of the necessities of life for the mass of the people a matter of speculation, is at the bottom of all the social evils of our time.

MODERN INDUSTRY PLANLESS.
 In spite of the organization of trusts, pools and combinations, the capitalists are powerless to regulate production for social ends. Industries are largely conducted in a planless manner. "through periods of feverish activity the strength and health of the workers are mercifully undermined, and during periods of enforced idleness the workers are frequently reduced to starvation."

In its mad and reckless race for profits the capitalist class is bound to exploit the workers to the very limit of their endurance and to sacrifice their physical, moral and mental welfare to its own insatiable greed. Capitalism keeps the masses of workers in poverty, degradation, physical exhaustion and ignorance.

MUST CONQUER THE POLITICAL POWER.
 The private ownership of the land and means of production used for exploitation, is the rock upon which class rule is built; political power, in its indispensable instrumentality for the maintenance of class rule, must be won by the workers. The wage workers cannot be freed from exploitation without conquering the political power, and the national collective, and the national administration for private ownership of the land and the means of production used for exploitation.

The basis for such transformation is steadily developing within the very bosom of present capitalist society. The factory system, with its immense machinery and minute division of labor, is rapidly destroying all vestiges of individual production in manufacture. Modern production is already largely a collective and social process, while the great trusts and monopolies which have sprung up in recent years have had the effect of organizing the work and management of the industrial departments on a national scale, and fitting them for national use and operation.

In the struggle for freedom the interests of the workers of all nations are identical. The struggle is not only national, but international. It embraces the world, and will be carried to ultimate victory by the united workers of the world.

To unite the workers of the nation and to ally and sympathize with all other classes to this end, is the mission of the Socialist movement. It is the mission of the Socialist movement does not strive to substitute working class rule for capitalist rule, but by working class victory to free all humanity from class rule and to realize the international brotherhood of man.

Power of Congress Over Courts
 The Public: In our department of Incidental Suggestions this week, we publish a letter on the power of Congress to check the judicial usurpation in the guise of Constitutional interpretation. It brings forward the startling proposition made in Congress by Victor Berger, that Congress can legislate in restraint of the supreme court, that it has in fact done so, and that the supreme court has acquiesced by distinct and unambiguous decision.

If Congressman Berger's contention as construed by our correspondent is right, there would seem to be no important issue regarding which Congress may not divest the supreme court of jurisdiction. Government by injunction, therefore, might be abolished, trusts could be regulated or destroyed, and many forms of privilege, even some of the fundamental ones, might be uprooted, with no power on the part of the judiciary to interfere. This raises a technical question, but its discussion in a technical way need not be mysterious. We should be glad to open the columns of The Public for an exposition of the subject from all points of view. As the question is not whether the theory is a wise or good one, but whether it has been already established as constitutionally sound, there would seem to be no necessity for articles of much length.

In the midst of an election in Denver, a little girl sat in church with her mother and her father, listening to a minister who was preaching with much earnestness and emphatic gestures. When he had finished, the little girl turned to her mother and asked:

"Mother, was he for or against God?"—Everybody's.

Big Milwaukee Meeting

I have seen some fine audiences. Most of them were limited in size only by the capacity of the hall. But no matter what kind of an audience I had, after all, I always thought, the best audience is a Milwaukee audience.

"It took about three months to raise $8,000 for the daily in the east. We got $7,000 in one night in Milwaukee."

"With the spirit we have here tonight, you will win next spring. To do this, however, we must have the daily paper."

"Now, I have no fault to find with the Milwaukee daily press. They are doing their duty to the capitalist class. For the last twenty-five years I have been getting from the Milwaukee press what I deserve from them. (Laughter.) They have been giving to us just about what we will give to them."

Not Yet Dangerous

"In Washington and in the eastern states the press has been giving us good treatment. A Bridgeport paper gave a five column report of our meeting there. They are good to us now because to them we are not yet dangerous."

"When there are a dozen or fifty Socialists in congress, it will be different. Then, look out!"

"In Milwaukee, what could be expected? Could you expect that they would tell all the truth about Mayor Seidel and the aldermen? It would be expecting too much."

"In the city of Washington, I am an alderman. I will tell you what we have done this year. We have done three things: passed three ordinances. We changed the name of a street. We changed some title to a property. And we did some other small, insignificant thing which I have forgotten. Under commission form of government, Washington is the most Russian-like in its rule of any American city."

The Milwaukee Leader

Milwaukee and the Socialist movement must soon have a New Metropolitan Daily Newspaper. Funds are now being raised by the sale of first mortgage bonds to Labor Unions, Socialists and Sympathizers—$100,000 are needed. Comrades, if you want the truth, if you want to help hold Milwaukee, help us start a Sizzling Metropolitan Daily Newspaper. Wake up and be alive to the greatest opportunity that has ever confronted the Socialist movement in America. Nowhere, but in Milwaukee is there such opportunity and necessity for a successful—ripping and roaring advocate of the masses. Do your part, and it will be planted here in time to do effective work before the next campaign. We must and will show up the Enemies of Liberty. We must and will throw the spotlight on the Enemies of Our Public Schools and of a Free Press, on the Poes of the Working Class, the Land Thieves, the Lumber Thieves, the Franchise Grabbers, the Political Highway Robbers; all will get their daily due in news and editorial columns.

WILL IT PAY?

With eight out of every ten workmen and women, either Socialists or Unionists, or both, and a large commercial middle class favorably disposed toward Socialism and anxious to get the patronage of our readers, are not the chances bright for financial success? We expect to succeed in getting all the large advertisers to seek our pages for display advertising. For even the largest stores could not afford to miss the publicity our paper will afford, because of the buying power it will represent. We Need You to help us swing the daily into line.

Swing it Hard—Swing it High

SUBSCRIBE FOR ONE BOND—SUBSCRIBE FOR TWO BONDS—SUBSCRIBE FOR ALL YOU CAN.

Bonds are $100 each—Pay 4 per cent interest—secured by a first mortgage on all the property of the Social-Democratic Publishing Co. and run in series for 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 years.

The New Daily will be on the qui vive, a live wire.

It won't be edited on the fire-cracker style, but will always be "Johnny-on-the-Spot."

While a able staff of reporters will handle the news, an energetic editorial force will drive home the message of our newspaper to the very souls of men.

The Milwaukee Leader

A new, vigorous and truthful Daily Evening Newspaper. First issue to appear on or about December 1, 1911. Subscription price, $3.00 per year, $1.50 for six months.

The new Daily will be a live A-No. 1 modern, metropolitan newspaper, eight pages or more every day, chock full of the most gripping, interesting and genuine local and telegraphic news. It will have brisk special departments, such as one for Union Labor, a Home and Women's Department, a full page, something for our Boys and Girls, plenty of healthy Sporting News, first-class Market Reports, etc. Without Milwaukee's New Daily, you will deprive yourself of the world's Vital and Important Information and News and of the best in Education and Amusement. It will be indispensable. The New Daily will mark a new era in forceful and aggressive journalism in the United States. It will be the weapon of the New Democracy—Industrial Democracy. No power will be able to bully, buy or coerce it. It will seek and admit only clean and reliable advertising. Able edited, bright and efficient, the Milwaukee Socialist Newspaper will be as the daily sunbeams, bringing good cheer and encouragement into every toiler's home.

Help Us Get the Daily By December 1, 1911

Labor's Hand Raised Against War

Shall the rulers or the people decide on war? In Germany the Social-Democrats have come out squarely against war between the countries over Morocco. The Socialist Workers asked that the people make a show of hands on the subject, and as a result one of the meetings, at Treptow Park, near Berlin, the vast meeting shown in the above picture took place. "Morocco is not worth the bones of a single German workman," said the speaker, "Down with the war fever! Long live solidarity with our English and French brother!" When the working class refuses to furnish the cannon-food for capitalist wars, said wars have a hard time being begun.

The Yellow Pest in Milwaukee

How the Press Works in the Dark and How Socialists Reply—The Thermometer Goes Up Like a Skyrocket—The Milwaukee Leader Promises to Be a Powerful Gun—Socialists All Over the Country Are Enthusiastic and All Eyes Are Again on Milwaukee

Like a python throwing its coils about its victim the Milwaukee dailies are attempting to strangle the local Socialist movement. Every opportunity to work up a hostile public attitude is made the most of, and articles are published daily on the first page that have no grain of truth, but

SOCIALISM FAMILY FOE

Bishop McFaul Makes Assertion in Address to Federation of Catholic Societies

This display was made on the first page of an afternoon paper. Notice the juxta position of the two articles. As far as effect is in question the editor studied as much as a window dresser of some big department store does when asked to do his best to catch the passers-by. The casual reader asks, "Socialism attacks my family and my union? Must be true, because even Debs, their candidate for president, does." If the man on the street who knows no more of Socialism than he does of the nebular hypothesis or the theory of limits in geometry, continually reads such misrepresentations, what can one expect his attitude toward the political activity of the working class to be? The article relating to Debs' view on Chicago trades unionism is published in a way to give the impression that Socialism and the Socialist movement is averse to that type of organization. Telling half the truth is as bad as telling a lie. The Socialist movement cannot and will not control any man's opinions. Debs has a right to his. The Socialist party as expressed in its platform likewise has a right to its opinion. The Social-

Grill Court's Judgment

It gives the Herald readers, living outside of Milwaukee, an idea how many the ways of the press are in attacking the Socialist cause. The fault or the mistake of any man is made the fault or mistake of Socialism or due to Socialism, if he is found out to be a Socialist or near-Socialist.

Grill Court's Judgment

The past week showed a tremendous awakening, and the sale of bonds went up close to $75,000 worth. The Herald force became enthused, and plans were immediately made for the mechanical and editorial equipment of the Milwaukee Leader. We will relate each week the progress made. Remember the paper is to be a metropolitan one. Equal and better in every respect, except lying, to any paper published in Milwaukee. It will be an inspiration to the Socialist movement throughout the land. The eyes of the country are again on Milwaukee, and letters are pouring into the office from every state of the Union exhorting us to hurry with the first issue of the Milwaukee Leader.

Everything Ripe for a Change
Getting Subscriptions for the Social-Democratic Herald Is Merely a Question of Going After Them These Days

George L. Zeigler of Washington sent a check to pay for a list of new subscribers for the Herald, and a letter giving his views of the outlook for the Socialist movement. He says: "I have been a Socialist for ten years. Things have gone slow in the past. The time, however, is arriving, if it is not already here when the great majority of the people will realize where they are. They will soon see that there is only one logical landing place. That place is on the Socialist platform and in the Socialist party. Almost everyone I meet is thoroughly disgusted and dissatisfied with conditions as they are and Socialism alone has a message of hope and a way out."

BEAR THIS IN MIND

Millions of people are today drifting in the sea of social and economic discontent. The logical landing place for them is in the Socialist movement.

Get them as subscribers for the Social-Democratic Herald. Remember, every issue points the way out of capitalist darkness.

Take those club blanks we sent you last week and go after a club of new readers--where the Social-Democratic Herald goes, Socialism and Socialist organization grows.

WHILE THEY LAST

Through a business transaction with the management of "The Masses," a high class illustrated monthly magazine, published in New York in the interest of the toilers, we are in possession of in the neighborhood of 100 yearly subscription cards for that publication. While they last we will send the local edition of the Social-Democratic Herald and "The Masses" to any one sending one dollar, which is the price of each of these papers.

Both papers will be sent only when this offer is mentioned in the order.

Send us a list of persons you think might become subscribers for The Herald if they could read a few copies and we will send them sample copies three times. Where The Herald goes, Socialism and Socialist organization grows.

Tricks of the Press

This is the most necessary book for every citizen of this country to read. It is needed by every man and woman who reads daily papers. It has been written by an experienced newspaper man, Mr. H. G. Creel. Remember, this book contains the most sensational facts ever set forth in any book, and your enemies, the foes of decency, hide this book and what it contains from you.

Don't be fooled, but read the book!

"Give Us Recall of Judges"

Fierce attacks on courts being made in many states.

Sweeping over the country at the present time is a movement to challenge the insolent power assumed by the courts and judges.

Today all people except the rank and file of standpatners and the most ignorant of American citizenship are suspicious of the courts.

Crooked Leaders the Cause. Manitowoc, Wis., Sept. 27.—The article by Silas Hood in last week's Herald about the Manitowoc Labor Unions was correct and to the point.

After these politicians had been elected to office in the Central Labor Council they began to lay wires to be elected to public office.

There was in Manitowoc at that time a paper known as The Daily Tribune, a virile newspaper, edited by C. M. Wright.

The plot worked out in the organization of the Retail Clerks, which organization was started at the behest of the two big department stores.

The result of all this is also already visible in Manitowoc. Last summer the delivery clerks of one of the two department stores went on strike.

PLACES WERE TAKEN BY MEMBERS OF THE RETAIL CLERKS' UNION AND NOT A DELIVERY WAGON WAS DELAYED.

Now it may be asked, "What are the Socialists of Manitowoc doing all this time?"

Answer: It is much better to give a bottle-fed baby mixed milk from a large herd than from one cow.

Pasturized milk is produced by bringing it to a temperature of 140-150 degrees for from 20 to 30 minutes.

AT THE THEATERS

DAVIDSON—'An Every Day Man'
 The theatrical season of 1911-12 is conspicuous from the fact that Thas W. Ross, a pronounced favorite with Milwaukee theater-goers, comes to the Davidson theater for the week, starting Sunday night, in "An Every Day Man," a new comedy by Owen Davis. Mr. Ross has been ter which she originated and which she has played to thousands on thousands of appreciative auditors for the past twelve years. It was Miss Mel-stage at the close of last season.

Auditorium Dairy Show
 There will be no less than ten banquets at which in the neighborhood of 1,000 visitors will take part during the international dairy show in the Auditorium, commencing next Tuesday night.

The largest of these will be the annual dinner of the International Milk Dealers' association, which will bring to Milwaukee about 500 of the leading city milk distributors of the United States and Canada.

Five of the important cattle breeding associations will meet in Milwaukee during the show.

MAJESTIC—Vaudeville
 The Arkaloff Russian Ballakarka orchestra will be the unusual attraction at the Majestic theater for the week, beginning Monday afternoon, appearing here for the first time in America.

Supt. Mullen Turned Down by Bunk League

Asks "taxpayers' league" for investigation—gets no answer.

A letter proposing an investigation of the newspaper advertisement statements of the so-called "taxpayers' league" was sent to Lester C. Manson, the secretary of that organization, by Supt. C. A. Mullen.

Mullen asked two weeks ago that a commission of three men be appointed, one selected by the administration, one by the so-called "taxpayers," and the third by these two.

Don't Want Inquiry.
 Manson, acting under orders from "the men higher up" in the league, has refused to help get such a commission.

The letter of Mullen is a stinging challenge and is equal to calling the whole "taxpayers' league" a group of sneaks operating with sneaky tactics. The letter of Mullen, dated Oct. 3, is printed below, and is followed by a partial list of the "men higher up" in the league:

Mullen's Letter.

Dear Sir:
 Your display advertisement of Saturday was immense. It was the last of a childish series of three endeavors to convince the electorate of Milwaukee that things are what they are not.

First, you condemn us for not saying presto, change, and utilizing the surplus steam of the incinerator plant when you could have known by very slight investigation that we were proceeding in an orderly, businesslike way to do things.

Second, you condemn us for not being "with Mlle. Nina Payne and others" with Mlle. Nina Payne and

GAYETY—Burlesque

Few companies come to the Gayety as highly rated as Robie's Knickerbockers. The large company, headed by Roger Imhof, the veteran Irish comedian, who follows original, laugh-provoking methods, will begin a week's engagement at the popular theater Sunday afternoon.

The closing burlesque will be a rip-roaring entertainment called

"Casey, the Piper," a ludicrous stage fight between Mr. Imhof and Hugh Conn being one of the features.

There can be no doubt that any number of people in Milwaukee love to hear the Tyrolean Troupe "Alpenrosen." They will on Saturday and having in like presto-change fashion used a clinker by-product of said incinerator plant when your own henchmen in the common council are the real obstructors.

They Favor Graft Asphalt.
 And now for the third count you damn us for having saved Milwaukee some hundreds of thousands of dollars on paving, your argument being that asphalt is not asphalt paving, when you really should have said that all asphalt pavement is not your own favorite kind of graft asphalt pavement.

We hardly think it worth while again inviting you to present your proof, or rather lack of it, to a commission of three men, one selected by the administration, one by yourselves and the third by these two. You do not seem to have manhood enough to do this. However, if you ever feel strong enough to prove that asphalt pavement is not asphalt pavement, we shall be very glad to give you such an opportunity.

Sixty Cents a Yard.
 By the way, you might explain to the public in your all knowing way why some of you tax payers' leaguers sat calmly by while the people of Milwaukee were robbed of 60 cent graft on practically every square yard of pavement laid under the old monopoly creating specifications that afforded protection to the two politico-contracting asphalt paving companies.

Of course, you understand by this time that there has been $1 saved, 40 cents or less of which is due to economy in specifications, the elimination of the binder course, etc., the other 60 cents or more being the highly respectable graft above referred to. Also, you might tell us just how got this graft. Yours attentively,

C. A. MULLEN.
Who Is Paying the Bills?
 Some of the leaders of the league are Thomas J. Nearcy, a manufacturer whose fortune is rated above a million dollars, and who has been violently opposed to Social-Democratic measures, from the feeding of mal-nourished school children to the licensing of stationary engineers.

Frank M. Hoyt, Wisconsin attorney for the Barber Asphalt Company, and recently attorney for and defender of a tax dodger, as shown in the testimony in the case of Ephraim Mariner vs. City of Milwaukee.

Disappointed With Socialists.
 Oscar Olsen, a disappointed contractor, who has not been able to make arrangements satisfactory to himself with the present public works department.

Dr. Gerhardt A. Bading, formerly health commissioner, who failed of re-appointment by the Social-Democratic administration because he had refused as head of the health department to properly co-operate with the state factory inspector's office.

Joseph P. Carney, a Dave Rose Democratic alderman-at-large, who was either an ignorant fool or a guilty accessory of the asphalt paving pool which has been robbing the taxpayers of the city of more than a quarter of a million dollars a year through the game of crooked "closed specifications," Carney being chairman of the committee on streets and alleys under which the graft pavements were laid.

Attempted Land Steal by Tax Dodger in This City

Names, dates and places in connection with a big tax dodge. Lawyer Hoyt, of taxpayers' league, defended a tax cheat.

Just to begin with, let us have a look at the Mariner case. Down in the heart of it, you will find some curious lessons on the morality of the civilization in which we live.

Just this week, the supreme court of the state of Wisconsin heard a motion for a rehearing of this case, but denied the motion. The beginning of the case, however, goes back as far as 1854.

Through the laws of the state were very clear on the point and the land was exempt from taxation, though the statutes say as clear as words can say that the city need not pay taxes on its own property.

in this story, therefore be it known that Mr. Mariner died a few months ago. And the intention of this narrative is not in any way to sully the memory of the dead.

Mr. Mariner laid his plans. For over thirty years he did not pay a cent of taxes on the land. Nothing was said about it.

Yet in 1909, when the city announced plans for a garbage incinerator to be located on this land, Mr. Ephraim Mariner came forward and proclaimed that he was the owner of the land and before the city could go ahead with its construction work it would have to come across with the sum of $50,000, or a little more than that, whatever the appraisal might be.

City Attorney John T. Kelly gave an offhand decision, making no thorough study of all the winding technical points involved, and when he said that the Mariner title was no good, the city went ahead and built a $175,000 garbage burner on the land.

Got Hoyt to Help. In 1910, Mr. Mariner, who was himself a lawyer, began a legal battle to make the city pay him for the land.

Dodged Taxes 30 Years. As Mr. Mariner is the chief figure in this story, therefore be it known that Mr. Mariner died a few months ago. And the intention of this narrative is not in any way to sully the memory of the dead.

not only as the attorney for the Barber Asphalt Company but as one of the officers and organizers of the so-called "taxpayers' league."

Whether Mr. Mariner was a member of the "taxpayers' league" is not known. What is well known is the fact that for thirty years he did not pay one cent of taxes on a piece of land which he afterward had the nerve to go into court and claim as the owner.

One of the arguments of the city attorneys was, "Mr. Mariner is a lawyer. He knew well enough that it was his duty to pay the taxes on this land. If he has owned this land all this time and for thirty years has paid no taxes, he has no right to this land."

The supreme court decided in favor of the city. And this week, the court has denied a motion for a rehearing of the case.

A motion will now be in order to have the above story read out loud at one of the meetings of the so-called "taxpayers' league."

particular it is wrong. It faces wrong, its verandas are on the shady side, its internal arrangements are simply crazy. And it stands as a monument to the great "efficiency" of Bading, the darling of the capitalist newspapers of Milwaukee, and the low politician who disgraced his calling by his participation in the jobbing of Dr. Rucker, his successor in office.

The Bading Botch Again

HOW AN INCOMPETENT WASTED COUNTY MONEY

There never was a health commissioner of Milwaukee who used printers' ink for so much unmerited self-laudation as former Health Com. Bading.

Then followed the Bading dirty work, joined in by a certain type of doctors and the daily capitalist press.

And now it appears that Judge Turner knows himself how it feels to have to rush to a lawyer!

There is another scandalous thing regarding the conduct of Judge Turner that we expect to show up at the proper time.

Captain Clarcy, of the fire department, a brother of the deposed chief, disclaims all connections with the fund that was raised in the department to pay the chief's court expenses.

Now that the Social-Democratic officials have forced Tax Commissioner Schutz to act in the Hamburger case it is to be hoped that a lot of other flagrant tax dodging cases will be opened up.

The Sentinel's report of the last meeting of the common council made it appear that the Socialists had given away a franchise, or that the street railway had got some great thing from napping aldermen.

The people have a right to judge the people's "servants" by the company they keep.

work, joined in by a certain type of doctors and the daily capitalist press. In spite of it all the Socialists persevered until they got the Health Office reorganized.

All this is called to mind by the arrival of the September number of The Crusader, the official journal of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

The Crusader then goes on to indicate that the Greenfield botch had its effect in causing the framers of the county sanatorium law to insert a clause requiring that the sanction of the state board of control must be had before a tuberculosis sanatorium plan was accepted.

Some misunderstanding and false expectations were produced, it appears by the fact that in some of the earlier advertisements of the big Auditorium meeting Mayor Witt Wilson of Berkeley, Cal., was given as one of the speakers.

Nathan Allen of the Kenosha mammoth tannery, where labor conditions were so rotten that unorganized workers in their desperation went on strike (and Otto Falk of the Milwaukee Merchants & Manufacturers association, went down there with the state militia to frighten the poor wretches into submission).

The state railroad commission has been holding conferences with the representatives of the railroads relative to alarm bells at the dangerous country railroad crossings.

Judge Turner has a Tantrum

It isn't safe to laugh at a judge, no matter how grotesque he may make himself. Because sometime the judge may get you!

So please do not laugh at what we have to record here. If you do and you ever get before the judge, he will, it is quite possible, put you to the torture.

When he got to Judge Turner's court room he found that the judge was not busy. He therefore approached him and attempted to serve the papers on him.

brought suit against him for $150,000 forfeit money in connection with his thievish operations. Do you remember how the papers tried to hold up the Allen concern at the time of the strike as the victim of crazy headed workmen?

A Free Press reporter the other day wrote a short article about the difficulty the reporters at the city hall have in getting an audience with Mayor Seidel.

This matter of misquoting and representing the mayor of a city out of an extreme party rancor never before exhibited by the press toward and old party in power, does not injure those it is aimed at so much as it injures the city itself.

are equal before the law. So he "laid" for the judge. And he caught him in the corridor of the Masonic building early in the afternoon, as the judge was on his way to court.

Burns stepped up to the judge and handed him the papers. Judge Turner threw the papers on the floor. Then Burns picked the papers up and placed them on Judge Turner's shoulder, and hurried away. He had got service. It is reported that Turner had another tantrum in the corridor and that some of the things he called after Burns were not a bit nice.

But a judge who could in a former instance issue an injunction to himself by himself and sit in judgment himself on an injunction secured by himself from himself and himself decide the case in favor of himself, is certainly a resourceful judge.

Then he adjourned court and rushed down town to consult a lawyer, it is said.

Deputy Sheriff Burns had no trouble getting service on the other judges. They all acted like gentlemen and showed respect for the process of law.

A Progressive Mayor? The mayor of Kansas City, according to Munsey's Magazine, has devised a noteworthy plan for obtaining the best possible advice concerning the government of its municipality.

"If you should call on Mayor Brown on any Monday afternoon," says Munsey's, "you would see him holding what he calls 'his mayor's cabinet'—a heart-to-heart session with a representative group of merchants, doctors, lawyers, engineers and journalists about the affairs of the community."

Here is municipal progress, indeed. This is from a Milwaukee Free editorial—the Free Press is owned by Senator Ike Stephenson. It is a characteristic hurrah, especially since the

"If you should call on Mayor Brown on any Monday afternoon," says Munsey's, "you would see him holding what he calls 'his mayor's cabinet'—a heart-to-heart session with a representative group of merchants, doctors, lawyers, engineers and journalists about the affairs of the community."

Here is municipal progress, indeed. This is from a Milwaukee Free editorial—the Free Press is owned by Senator Ike Stephenson. It is a characteristic hurrah, especially since the

are equal before the law. So he "laid" for the judge. And he caught him in the corridor of the Masonic building early in the afternoon, as the judge was on his way to court.

Burns stepped up to the judge and handed him the papers. Judge Turner threw the papers on the floor. Then Burns picked the papers up and placed them on Judge Turner's shoulder, and hurried away. He had got service. It is reported that Turner had another tantrum in the corridor and that some of the things he called after Burns were not a bit nice.

But a judge who could in a former instance issue an injunction to himself by himself and sit in judgment himself on an injunction secured by himself from himself and himself decide the case in favor of himself, is certainly a resourceful judge.
