LORIMER'S PALS URGE

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Members of the Senate who want to keep Senator Lorimer in his seat at the close of the Sixty-second Congress are suggesting to the Hilmois Senator the advisability of resigning before another fight is launched against him.

Senators who have approached Senator Lorimer have been unable to count him on the proposition, notwithstanding some plain talk.

These Senators are now more concerned about themselves than about Senator Lorimer. They recognize a strong sentiment against Lorimer which might compel them to change their vote. They desire to be consistent, if possible, but will be able to do so only in the event that Senator Lorimer will resign.

There is a widespread sentiment in the Senate today that if another vote is had Lorimer will be deprived of his seat.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The annual meeting of the Woman's Welfare Department of the National Civic ederation was held here today. The business session was held at the home of Mrs. John Hays Hammond, na-tional chairman of the department, the program including addresses by Mrs. Hammond; by Seth Low, of New York, president of the Civic Federation; by August Belmont, chairman of the department on workn's compensation, and by William Willcox, chairman of the employ-welfare department.

Mrs. Tatt, wife of the President, an honorary chairman of the wom-an's welfare department, was an active participant in today's meeting. "It is our peace raission to bring about a better understanding between wage earner and employer.

"Although barely 3 years old, this woman's welfare department, through the efforts of my predecessors in office and their co-laborers, has achieved most gratifying results, We have established night schools, dispensaries, medical clinics, visiting nurses, kindergarters, lessons in cooking, sewing and household economics in mill towns of the South.

"No detail is too small for our care. We have dried the wet garments of the overworked postman, provided reading rooms, local barber shops, baths, bowling alleys, pool tables, conducted without drinking and disorder; we have concerned ourselves with grading of streets and lighting of towns by electricity, the planting of domestic gardens, and even the proper pasturing of family cows has been part of our work. In every case the most encouraging feature of our labor has been the ready realization by the employer of the great importance and value of our co-operation."

WASHINGTON. May 5,-Thirtee speeches were delivered on the Demo ratic free list bill in the House today Representative Warburton, of Washing Representative Warburton, of Washington, spoke in support of the bill. Warburton is the first of the House Republicans to come out flatly in support of the measure. Some Republicans have announced a purpose to vote for the bill, but none of them have indorsed it in the terms employed by Warburton.

He suggested that the bill was a pretty good measure, but that it was deficient in one particular. He thought it should provide for the admission duty free of sugar. He contended that the remost of the duty from this product would save the people more than $145,000,000 as year. If present plans are carried out general debate on the free list bill will be ended tomorrow night.

TEMPORARY STRUCTURES FOR BANGOR, ME

BANGOR. Me., May 5.—With the permission of the City Government to erect temporary structures in the burned district, work on a number of small buildings was begun today. These are to be not over fourteen feet high, to be covered by metal and remeved or forfeited to the city on or before January 1, 1912.

Insurance adjustments on the losses are proceeding rapidly and more than $1,000,000 will have been paid over by Saturday. The city is still crowded with sightseers and is still under martial law.

REBELS TAKE TORREON.

REBELS TAKE TORREON.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 5.—To-day, the Cinco de Mayo, celebrated all over Mexico in commemoration of the defeat of the French at Puebla in the intervention of Maximilian, brings the most serious reports of rebel advances in Northern Mexico that have appeared since the division was mobilized at Fort Sam Houston reservation.

Private advices received by a citizen of San Antonio, which tell of the capture by the insurrectos of Torreon in the State of Coahuila, the threatened movement upon Nuevo Laredo, just across the Rio Grande from the Texas town of Laredo, and the final interruption of traffic on the single line of railroad remaining open out of Mexico, through Nuevo Laredo are items of the most importance.

The cipher message, which came to a business man here this afternoon from Salifilo, was delayed two days in transmission. The telegram said that the town of Gomez Palacio, across the river from Torreon, had fallen into the hands of the insurrectos carly last week, the federals retiring to Torreon without a struggle.

On May 2. the message continued, the insurrectos crossed the river and began their attack on Torreon. Two days later, when the sender of the elegram was en the point of leaving Torreon for Salitile the firing had ceased, and the evacuation of Torreon was being arranged under a white flas.

Is Crucial Point.

Torreon is the seventh city in point of population in Mexico. Because of its position as a railroad center its possession by the insurrectors would be of great value. Through Torreon pass he three merged railroad systems, he Mexican National, the Mexican lentral and the Old Mexican Interna-

Central and the Old Mexican International.

In normal times all three lines passing out of Mexico to the United States ran trains through Torreon. The city is connected with Monterey by two lines, with Saltillo and Durango by one, and with Mexico by the main line of the National Railways.

With Torreon in their possession the insurrectos can be masters of the entire railroad system of Northern Mexico. One of the largest smelters of the American Smelting and Refining Company is situated in this city.

He claims that he is on a world tour and had no knowledge of opium smugiling.

The federal authorities, however, appear convinced that they have made a big capture, and intimate that Sayder has made a fortuse by pisuuing the importation of opium to Hawaii and this port.

Mexico Realizes Danger.

Mexico knows now that Washington is aware of her appeal to the sister Latin republics, and some of the passages between Knox and Minister De La Barra since have been also hotter than diplomatic relations are usually forced to stand.

Seeing how affairs are realizing the temper of the Mexican government, the Teft administration has cast aside all but the last vestige of pretense and Mexico is being rapidly pushed to the wall, where she must make the last stand.

Fortunately, for the purpose of the administration, word came out of Mexico late last night to the effect that the two sons of American Judge Melvin Godman had been killed by "bandits" near Acapulco, Mexico, and that other American citizens, resident in that country, were in great danger of heater willed.

Secretary Knox seized upon this information as a pretext to demand of Mexico that American citizens be given immediate protection. It is also probable that additional alarming news of this kind will be made an excuse for zending warships to both Mexican coasts, the preamble to the actual invasion by way of Vera Cruz. There was some possibility that the publication by The Call of the war secret would induce the administration to call a halt and alter the plan completely, as in the case of the European naval demonstration last month. It now looks, however, as though the very opposite effect had been produced.

C. F. U. ORGANIZES FOR M'NAMARA DEFENSE

Committee Appointed to Take Action---Fire Protection Again Discussed.

Organized labor of this city enrolled in the fight to save the lives of Mc-Namara and his colleagues last night when, at the meeting of the Central Federated Union, it was decided to issuc a call for the formation of a Mc-Namara Defense Committee, composed of representatives of all Central Labor bodies and the Socialist party.

The General Executive Board of the C. F. U. recommended that a donation of $100 be made for the McNamara defense, and it was unanimously carried.

It was decided to invite the Brooklyn Central Labor Union, the Brony Labor Council, United Hebrew Trades, Building Trades Council, Women's Trade Union League, and the various boards of business agents to elect five delegates each to a conference to be known as the McNamara Defense Committee of Greater New, York and

The committee that was elected on the Fire Commission recommended that a mass meeting be called for the purpose of making a united demand for the enforcement of better fire protection in the shops of the city.

It was recommended that all trades elect inspectors of shops who should report to the Women's Trade Union League of the conditions they found in shops, and also demand the establishment of hire drills, and, if possible put up placards giving instructions how to fight fires. They also asked that the union dispense cards to their members giving instructions how to conduct fire drills, and also request the middlements were leavy. We have returned indictments were leavy.

Money for All Those Collections Skimmed?

Leaders of the striking machinists denied yesterday the claim made by Robert Hoe, president of the R. Hoe & Co., that it was only recently that the hours of work have been reuced from ten to nine hours a day.

It was in 1901, or exactly ten years ago that the nine hour day was gained by the machinists. The strikers are firm in their demands for the eight hour day and are confident of victory.

College Boys as Scale

College Boys as Scabs.

The would-be professional students of the different colleges have once more assumed the dirty work of assisting the bosses to break a strike. A group of students was seen yesterday entering the shop of the Splitdorf Magneto Company, Walton avenue and 138th street. They were escorted by a strong police force and kept in the shop until late in the evening. The police have rushed to the rescue of the Splitdorf Magneto Company and their presence has provoked trouble, as usual. They kept the pickets moving yesterday. Captain Post, of the Alexander avenue station, assigned fifty men to strike duty.

While the pickets were on their way from their strike headquarters to picket the shop they were stopped by the cops, who demanded to see a permit, and then nabbed the spokesman of the strikers. The men arrested Thursday were Archill Kahané. Otto Bernhardt, and Henry Madewell. When arraigned in the Morrisania Police Court they were charged with parading without a permit and Magnistraty Steinert fined Madewell $5 and discharged the others. Later in the afternoon the police arrested William Wicke for attempting to talk to strike-breakers.

Debs said in part:

"You Pennsylvania shopmen are out on strike. You were forced to strike when members of your union were discharged for belonging to a labor-organization. I hope that you will win. But whatever the outcome of this strike never has been lost. The workers have learned from apparent defeats to reorganize for victory. The experience gained was worth all that was sacrificed in the stringgle.

"Today organized labor has an object lesson before it. You Pennsylvania shopmen are organized into a craft union. The railroad men in all the other crafts remain at work, and even though unconscious of their act, they just as surely are indirectly contributing to your defeat.

P. S. COMMISSION LOSES $1,000,000 SUIT

yesterday in its motion before the Ap-pellate Division of the Supreme Court yesterday in its motion before the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court to annul the trial before Supreme Court Justice Brady, of a suit to collect penalties amounting to over $1.000,000 from Frederick W. Whitridge, as receiver of the Third Avenue Railroad Company, for failure to equip the cars of the Union avenue line, in the Bronx, with wheel guards.

Justice Brady dismissed the complaint and the Public Service Commission asked for a new trial on the ground that Justice Brady had been a stockholder of the Third avenue road and was disqualified from hearing the case because of the ownership of the stock.

Chairman Willcox, of the commission, made a public statement after the trial concerning Justice Brady's conduct of the case and was called before the court to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court. Justice Brady finally accepted an apology.

The commission both appealed from Justice Brady's judgment dismissing the complaint and asked the Appellate Division to annul the proceedings because of the court's recision. The Appellate Division not only decided that Justice Brady's interest was the remote to affect his attitude on the trial of the case, but affirmed his judgment dismissing the complaint.

that a park be established where now prevail tawdry palaces of immorability. The Park Board entertained the effizien delegation at its last meeting. The delegation was headed by Prof. Graham Taylor. Chief Justice Harry Olson, of the Municipal Court, and Mrs. Alice E. Bates, a social worker. Their arguments were backed by numerous petitions.

The tract which it is proposed to embrace in the park is the heart of the present South Side levee. The easterdn boundary, it is suggested, would be the alley between State and Dearborn streets, with Clark street on the west, half a block from the west, half a block from the world be the northern frontier and 12 attentions and disreputable houses and blocks would be affected, although a few manufacturing establishments are within the zone to be cleared, which is about ten acres in extent.

The petitions, which amazed the board members by their quantity and quality, were from many leading churches, family hotels and residents of the South Side. Since that time the board has received numerous letters from individuals, as well as additional petitions, and more are expected at the next meeting on May 24. There appeared to be no doubt in the minds of the petitioners that consequently and the substitution of a public park would solve the question. Segregate in actuality, so abolition was a necessity.

Policemen Took Flags From May Day Paraders?

Editor of The Call:

On the night of the May Day patook it upon themselves to confiscate small flags carried by Socialists in tion of inaugurating a general strike the parade along Eighth avenue, near in defense of the McNamara brothers. 34th street. I wrote a note to Mayor the labor leaders, illegally kidnapped Gaynor in view of his last message to the Board of Aldermen, in which he stated his views upon the real mean-ing of our emblem-stating in a few words the outrageous occurrence, but could give no number of any police-man; and I received this reply: "You write me that small flags carried by Socialists were broken by police officers. You do not give mu-time, place, name or anything. Per-mit me to zay that I do not believe you, but if you can give me the facts to those who did the wrong.

(Signed) MAYOR GAYNOR. I answered as follows:

"I am very much put out that you dis-believe me as to the confiscation of Socialist flags, and rather than take up your valuable time in a personal visit I drop these few lines to inform you that I will try to find out the number of one of the policemen, whoch a Comrade took down on the night of the May Day parade upon Eighth avenue, somewhere near 34th street. That you do not believe me does not alter Now to the point,
Will the Comrade or Comrades who took part in the above incident please send me the number of the police man, and as near as possible the street where the flag or flags were taken from them? Also any other inermed such-treatment cease in New fork once for all.

I heard one policeman, who attempted to take a small flag, say, "It is the orders." I wonder if the Mayor would believe that?

GUGGENHEIM ON PROSPERITY

Isaac Guggenheim, of the Smelter Trust and of several other large and prosperous organizations, has just returned from Europe with the cheering announcement that we shall all be happy and have plenty of money as soon as we cease being foolish. There is some basis to the idea. It is foolishness, or blindness, that stands in the way of all having plenty. But the conception Mr. Guggenheim has of foolishness is somewhat different from the real one.

He says: "The good crops of last year and the prospects of good crops this year lead the foreign bankers to look for prosperity here." It appears, then, that prosperity depends on how the foreign or domestic bankers look at it, or on whether they look for it. There is no hint that some prosperity is to come from the fact that the people who raise the crops, or who might exchange the work of their hands for the crops, are going to eat the cereals, vegetables, the meat, and wear the wool and the cotton, and the skins of the animals that go to make up the crops. Not at all. The idea Mr. Guggenheim has in mind is that the crops which neither he nor the bankers, nor the brokers, nor the speculators, nor the other capitalists have any hand in raising, make the basis for gambling. That is the prosperity he has in mind. The people who do the work might starve, and yet there would be prosperity, in the opinion of Guggenheim and the others, as long as gambling was good.

A little further on he says: "Political meddling and eternal investigations keep things stirred up in this country, and the whole outside world is laughing over our continual worrying and agitation." Oh, no. The only world Guggenheim knows is the banking and speculating world, and the members of that do not do much laughing. What the outside world has reason to laugh at is an entirely different affair. While other countries have been progressive in their legislation the United States has been reactionary. England, having faced a great financial crisis, having recently gone through two tremendous elective fights, and having passed an oldage pension bill, is now facing other radical measures and doing it without any noticeable fear. If there was up in Washington the bills just presented by Lloyd George, every agency of reaction and without any noticeable fear. If there was up in Washington the bills just presented by Lloyd George, every agency of reaction and oppression in this country would be yelling its head off and predicting blue ruin to the nation.

But the worrying and agistion that a title like bloom of the New Charter the adoption for the city of the pro- Vision of an act of (date) entitled: Board left out? Why is there not a committee for New Jersey cities of the first class has been placed before the first class has been placed before the people in pamphlet form. Has now that a title like bloom of Licenses? Is it because these

But the worrying and agitation that seem to worry and agitate Guggenheim are simply the beginning of real constructive legislation. At the present stage of development there can be no constructive legislation that does not favorably concern the working class. There can be no socially wholesome legislation that does not have to do with improving the condition of the working class. It will be necessary, in order to get it, to keep up the agitation to the conditions of the conditions of cities of the first class. Show we all know that a title like the committee done good work. Has the means rothing to a lot of people. Many would not notice it at all if placed on the regular party ballot of if at a special election many would favored in such things. That's the question.

While we abhor the conditions of the first class. Now, we all know that a title like the commits? Why not a single Commissioner of Taxation and Assessments? Why not a single Commissioner of Taxation and Assessments? Why not a single Commissioner of Taxation and Assessments? Why not a single Commissioner of Taxation and Assessments. Now, we all know that a title like the committee done good work. Has the committee d will be necessary, in order to get it, to keep up the agitation, to increase it and intensify it. When it becomes sufficient to force the

Guggenheims and others to do a little real worrying then it will be understood that the work is making headway.

Unfortunately there is a reason for foreign nations laughing at us, sneering at us, or pitying us, according to the temperament of the individuals, and that is that we should have in the Senate such a person as the brother of Guggenheim, and not only that we have him, but that we have in legislative bodies such contrasted types for evil as Lorimer and Root, Lodge and Smoot, Cannon and Bailey. and others of the same stripe.

IMAGINARY --- BUT , RARE

The following extract is taken from an "Imaginary Interview" between Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg and a writer on the staff of John Bull, a British publication. They are discussing the recent book of Norman Angell, in which he attempts to portray war as "The Great Illusion," as disastrous to the victor as to the vanquished. The Chancellor scouts Mr. Angell's views as absurd.

"I take it you have no intention of limiting your armaments," I observed.

"None whateffer," returned the Chancellor. " We shall build what we blease. Und why nod? Seventy-five per cent of der cost of naval construction goes in wages. Is dot nod goot? Is it nod goot for der mechanic, der engineer, der riveter, der founder, der blagsmit, for all?

"And you do not think the money thus spent could be used more profitably

"Nein; vot is better dan to provide embloyment? You build a same interests in government. One wants special privilege, the other wants equal rights for all. One wants of course, naval expenditure means increased taxation,"

These two classes have not the requiring only a petition of 5 pet deputies or Pinkertons, which the percent, without affidavits, when the peodeputies or Pinkertons, which the wants equal rights for all. One wants a strong centralized government with officials appointed by someone they can control, the other wants all of can control the power that deputies or Pinkertons, which the peodernt wants can control the power that deputies or Pinkertons, which the peodern wants can control the power that deputies or Pinkertons, which the peodern wants can control the power that deputies or Pinkertons, which the peodern wants can control to preserve the peodern wants all of can control the power that deputies or Pinkertons, which the peodern wants can control to ple are to have imposed upon them control the heard task of getting 25 per cent in the provided can control to preserve the peodern wants all of can control to preserve the peodern wants all of the peodern wants are peodern wants all of the peodern wants all of the peodern wants all of the peodern wants are to have imposed upon them control to peodern wants all of the peodern wants are peode

"Ja, so; for us, yes; for your poor, no. Are you nod a Free Drade gountry? An extra warship on esdimades does nod ingrease making schemes about by the law's der brice of your food. It is your reech, your gomfortable middle glass who pay. Nod der poor. Der poor haf der work und der wages. Der reech pay. Is it nod so?"

It is just this very fact, put into the mouth of the imaginary German Chancellor, that worries the British propertied classes into a frenzy over the increasing war expenditure. The British poor, whose only chance to live depends upon getting work, have no interest from this point of view in curtailing armaments. On the contrary, the greater the increase the more work for them. Nor do they bear the expense in the least. They have nothing, and therefore nothing can be taken from them. The funds for the construction of warships come, and can only come, from the surplus value previously extracted from the workers. Hence the bitter cry of the propertied classes, who really pay the score with what they have already robbed from the working class.

READY TO MOVE

There is no doubt that American capitalists are prepared to make one of the largest and most important grabs in Mexico that they have ever made anywhere. It does not necessarily mean that they are after annexation. What they want are concessions forced by the United States and protected by United States troops. President Taft, always States and protected by United States troops. President Taft, always ready, always obedient, sent the troops to the border and has maintained them there, without explanation, ever since. But the interests are growing impatient. They want results. The rumor of massacres of Americans, of indignities suffered by Americans, and of attacks made on American property will give the opening that is sought.

During the past few days the capitalist papers have been carefully and skillfully preparing the minds of the people for this great and dramatic assault.

At the present time any move to interfere in the internal affairs of Mexico will demonstrate how thoroughly subservient to capitalist interests our rulers are. The use of the troops, further, will demonstrate to the workers of this country how ready the authorities are to employ force. And this force can be employed for capitalism at home as well as abroad.

THE ADVANTAGE OF A LARGE FAMILY

THE COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT—I

By G. H. STROBELL

The class of special privilege consists of the politicians who hold office or expect to; of those whose living is secured by favor of license or perrailways, electron in short, the use of our public property for their private business; and lastly, of that body of big business men and corporations whose object is to exploit by means of rent, interest and profit, and the banking corporations who want city banking corporations who want city deposits and to see public and private property of the people may petition for an election in the people being meant—if these composition is meant to stay. There is no the people being meant—if these composits and to see public and private provision made that 5 per cent of the department are not to be subject to that will return us to our present form that will return us to our present for

These two classes have not the cials possible elected and subject to recall. How can the same government please both? All people, therefore, come to the consideration of this new charter from the point of their class interests.

The Socialist party is organized to protect the interests of the working and producing class, and from that standpoint, at considerable expense and from motives that no man can! justly challenge, places before the peo-ple its objections to the new charter.

Before considering the plan of government, it is worth our while to consider the way in which it is to be brought about. The Legislature is to pass the law. Then the Common sas the law. Then can be seen that the people of our city and the Mayor, elected by the lection that the people of our city and the Mayor, elected by the least an election a petition signed by the lection a petition signed by the other four Commissioners, a lice Commissioner, a Fire Carloner, a Commissioner of Hessianer, and the Mayor.

t the last legislative be submitted.

Think of that a minute? Five per ent without affidavit or attestation. Think of that a minute? Five per cent without affidavit or attestation. In the suppremental bill attached to the charter whereby the people are to be allowed (if it is carried) the initiative, referendum and recall, the percentage of names on the petition necessary to invoke an election is to be twenty-five and the signatures to be sworn to before a notary. What inconsistency is this?

There is a mean and contemptible trick in these proceedings. The title under which the commission form of government is to be voted on is "for the Department of Finance under the Department of Finance under the Altogether, it is, I should imagine, the most reactionary charter, devised for the government of a targe city in the United States in the last sixty years. We cannot imagine the citizens of Newark adopting it.

This bill was introduced in the Legislature, but too late to be passed. The business men generally favor it and express confidence that the pao-fally against the latest development industry-scientific management. One before Labor tried to stand on the track in the way of an industrial revolution The industrial revolution went on and for a generation Labor was crushed. That was in the 18th Century when machinery revolutionize I industry. The skill of the worker was a discount, his strength was uncalled for, even his num-bers were useless. Helpless and bewilder-ed, the worker appealed to his govern-ment. He asked that the use of new machinery be probibited. When the gov-erument, blinded by the vision of new markets and profits, refused, misery be-came despair and the worker burnt and broke the machinery which had become his competitor. strength was uncalled for, even his num markets and profits, refused, misery became despair and the worker burnt and broke the machinery which bad become his competitor.

Sclentific manuscement in its essential features is a natural stage in the evolution of our industry, because it is the application of physical science to manual labor, and of organization to industry. Its adoption is as certain as the use of machinery, for every process that makes production cheaper wins in the end.

As inevitable as its adoption is the attitude of the worker to it. What was it to the shearman of Vordshire in 1758 that ten times as much shearing could be done as before, ence 100,000 shearmen had no jobs. What to the cibbou weaver of Germany in the 17th century that fifty pieces of ribbon could be woren in the time necessary to weave one before, if boys took the places of men at the new machinery? What is it to the Bett-lebem steelworker today that by better tools and the reduction of wasted muscular of ort one man can shove fifty-mine tons of ore instead of sixteen tons, if he is one of the 460 men the new system made unnecessary? Does a bricklayer care to lay 330 bricks an hour instead of 120, if there is no other gain to him than the scientific beauty of saving thirteen motions on every brick?

The invention of machinery brought to the machine-worker today, intensity of work and scarcity of jobs. The brains of the management now becomes the speeder. Each men; increased output becomes the competitor for his own job or some one else".

The effect of machinery along these two lines was not temporary. A reserve army of unemployed became for the first time a permanent feature of industry, and the grind of the machines depletes at an increasing rate the strength of the workman. Nor is there any reason to suppose that the worker's disadvantage under scientific management will be temporary, so long as capital controls the management. The argument that cheap production will ultimately create such a demand for the products that new jobs will be created for those thrown out
