Railroad Vultures Flock in Senate to Kill Workers' Compensation.

(By National Socialist Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 12 .- There is deal of discussion in labor here over the action of the nocrats in defeating in the House endments for the eight-hour day and against convict labor, which were introduced by Minority Leader Mann during the debate on the "Farmers ree List Bill."

Although the Republican leader as known to be insincere when he troduced the two labor amendments. fact, nevertheless, that the ocratic party went on record as cing opposed to these measures. There was no valid reason for the Democrats refusing to call the Reublicans' "bluff."

In fact, there was good reason back of Mann's argument that the entry of gunny cloth bagging be prohibited if it was made by convict labor abroad. The Payne-Aldrich Tariff Law, bad as it is supposed to be, has at least this provision against convict labor.

Underwood, the majority leader, atmpted to defend the position of the nocrats on the ground that the Reublicans have no reason to champion bor because of their past record. lut true as this charge is, it does not ear the Democrats.

The convict labor clause was deby a vote of 172 to 73. Needless to add the vote was by tellers, no rd being taken.

The eight-hour day amendment was out of order on a point of order made by Underwood. Mann apled from the decision of the chair but he lost by a vote of 107 to 73. ere is no record of this vote either.

Regardless of the fact that the free let bill alone was under consideran, the adoption of the amendments ild not have been irregular. Huneds of similar "riders" are passed in ngress. But of course these "riders" for the benefit of the capitalist middle classes.

DOVER; Del., May 12.-The trials by judges of the Delaware bribery cases will be continued all day tomorrow. This afternoon was consumed in hearing the defenses of the case against Charles W. Moore, Moore made a sweeping denial of the allegations of Powell and Collins that he purchased Powell's vote at Hazlettville and then threw the money in his arriage on the Hazlettville road. He produced witnesses to establish an alibi for that night in question, Mrs. Roy Johnson, a young woman of the neighborhood, swearing that he wa at her house.

The defense called Samuel Powell and others as to contradictory conversations and statements by Powell and Collins, and then called witnesses worthy of belief under oath.

The State answered by producing six persons who testified that they would not believe Moore, the defendant, under oath. The defense tried to show by David Rodway, a Republican oted, but the court vehemently ruled it out and criticized former Judge Hustings, counsel for the defendants, for endeavoring to disclose what took place in the secrecy of the election booth, even though in court, when there is a penalty for divulging the transaction of that secret place.

The judges reserved decision until w as to Moore's guilt or innocence.
George W. Spayd was acquitted of both informations against him.

SEEKS TO INVESTIGATE SUGAR TRUST PRICES

WASHINGTON, May 12.- Represen chieftain who tomahawked the Coffee Frust a few weeks ago, is now on the rail of the sugar barons. He introduced ient to investigate, through the Tariff Board, everything in connection with cane sugar and beet sugar in the United States, the insular possessions, and for states, the insular possessions, and forsign countries.

The idea is to develop the difference in the cost of production of cane and beet sugar in this country and in the countries from which sugar is imported, and to ascertain whether the Sugar Trust or the consumer has been benefited by the removal of the duty on sugar coming from American dependencies.

HOUSE LISTENS TO CHILD BUREAU PLAN

Resolution Presented to Give Labor's Daily Financial Assistance.

There was a rousing discussion over the Trecommentation of President Morfitt to demand the appointment of a permanent non-partisan tariff commission, at yesterday's session of the United Hatters of North America at Arlington Hall.

There being many delegates who spoke for and against the recommendation. James P. Maher, treasurer of the hatters and Democratic Congressman from the Third District of New York, made a long address, urging the delegates to turn down the recommendation leads of child workers in Southern mills.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—This was Children's Day before the House Committee on Labor, which look up the bill introduced by Representative Peters, of Massachusetts, providing for the formanite on a children's bureau in the Department of commerce and Labor.

Peters said there is not at present in the United States any single organized government body which has to do with the care and improvement of child life. He argued that the Federal Government should have at hand statistics which ald the various States in formulating laws governing child labor and all other phases of child wife at hand statistics which ald the various States in formulating laws governing child labor and all other hands given Peters by an extraordinary array of workers among children, including Miles M. Dawson, of the American Bureau of Labor Legislation; Thomas Nelson Page, the author. Mrs. Florence Kelley, of the National Consumers' League, and John W. Glenn, of the Russell-Sage Foundation.

All spoke in behalf of the measure, and Page made an effective plea, describing the conditions of child workers in Southern mills.

Second—Morrissey and Lee worked behind the back of Roe, who was chosen by the brotherhoods as their lobbyist in Washington. While Roe sought to introduce hills favorable to his fellow unionists and workera. Morrissey and Lee, while pretending to support him, used "black hand" tactics behind his back to see that his bills are buried in the committee rooms. Roe was subsequently removed from office to make room for a tool of Mirrissey and Lee.

The American Railway Employers and Investors Association, headed by Morrissey at the trifling sum of $1,000 a month, is nothing more nor less, than an agency to make strikebreakers for the company, according to Debs.

In his article Debs says:

In his article Debs says:
"According to this film fiam concern headed by Morrissey, the interests of the employes and corporations are identical. In this concern the employes may have a chance to invest a dollar in the railroads, and become five cent capitalists, and then they will strike no more, but when a strike of their fellow employes does occur will promptly help to break it. Also they are here given a chance to support the corporations politically, so that judges may be appointed by the corporations to issue injunctions that paralyze the employes."

Debs further charges that the railway employes are forced to join this organization by every species of covert threat and intimidation.

Debs further charges that the rall-way employes are forced to join this organization by every species of covert threat and intimidation.

Hoodwinking Workers.

After describing the tactics which Morrissey and his fellow leaders of the trainmen have for years been using to hoodwink their organization from seeing the real light, notwith-standing that they were retting increases in wages, their wages are to-day 25 per cent lower than they were twelve years ago. Debs challenges Morrissey and Lee to meet a representative of the Appeal to Reason.

Debs says:

Twenty-six operators in an underwear factory went on strike ten weeks cents to 8 cents per dozen. After the big meeting for the strikers on April 10, they were joined by the cutters, pressers and binders, to the number of 250, and the factory closed down completely. But Coombs, the employers' representative, raised the wages in Tremont, Pa., voluntarily to 9 cents to head off a strikke and to get the work done.

Monday night a splendid meeting was held in the Mine Workers' Hall at Minersville, to which everybody in town turned out. Just as the sneaker. Elizabeth Gurlev Flynn, commenced to speak, the fire whistle, which is located on the roof of Coombs' factory, went off with a piercing blast and the meeting was temporarily demoralized. Con Foley went out and investigated, but there was no fire to be found Tust about two minutes before 6 o'clock, while the organizer was talking to the minera and girls from another factory. Coombs rushed up in his automobile and into the factory where he detained the girls for about five minutes. Then he diamissed them in groups and they walked by the meeting without stoppins. He must have drastically intimidated them to so marsha! them in convict fashion.

The organizers are going to roture, however, and it is their intention to tie up as many of these industrial prisons as possible where women are being underpaid.

Little girls of 14 years work for Coombs for $1.50 and $2 a week and forewomen only set $9 per week. Information has just been received that the employes of the Eagle Silk Mill at Shamokin, Pa., after being on strike since April 19, have reached a satisfactory adjustment of their grievances and returned to work. The employes of this concern were not memployes of the conditions under which they worked became so aggravated that all the employes quit their employment.

The facts are these, as I understand it: An employe of the city subject to removal after charges has been tried by the dock commissioner personally and dismissed from the service. That is a legal and orderly troedure, and it is the height of impudence for anybody to interfere with that procedure except m a legal manner. But if you tell me there has been some mistake or inadvertence by the commissioner I am perfectly willing in the interest of justice to look over it and call the commissioner in and talk with him. $2,500,000 Festival and Huzzaing Populace Greet the Monarchs.

LONDON, May 12.—King George made his first appearance this afternoon before the British people in the opening coronation ceremony when he drove with Queen Mary from Buckingham Palace to the Crystal Palace to open the Festival of Empire, an imposing exhibition of Britain's imperial resources and a demonstration of the progress made in commerce, art and craftsmanship.

Thousands of flass were displayed along the eight miles of the parade, and how the thousands of people who had assembled did cheer his Majesty adding the steady, oft-repeated call of "The King!" "The King!" The monarch bowed gravely in response to these demonstrations and the Queen smiled joyously. The King was in ordinary dress and the Queen wore a illac gown and a hat to match. One of the principal features of the demonstration was a great assemblage of school children and boy scouts, who lined the streets through which he royal procession passed. As to the stability of the indictment the court said:
"I do not see how the Grand Jury could have made the charge more definite, and believe it is sufficiently specific to satisfy the substantive law "The whole plan (that of the pack ers as alleged in the indictment) from its inception appears plainly to be one to elminate competition as a factor in

"Commercial Monopoly."

I am of the opinion that the facts stated in the indictments show clearly a plan or scheme organized and put in operation by the defendants, the ultimate purpose of which was to contion of fresh meat throughout a large section of this country; and, as incidental to that control, to lower price to the producer of the raw materia and raise prices to the consumer of the finished product. While the facts do not disclose an absolute monopoly. yet the large percentage of the business which they control indicates that they intended to acquire at least a commercial monopoly.'

Judge Carpenter, overruling the nurrers, said he did not think the tria's could be held before fall.

MITCHELL TRIES TO EXPLAIN

Mr. John Mitchell is, as all will agree who have listened to him, a gentleman of considerable persuasive powers, and possesses in his general makeup no small amount of that somewhat elusive but decidedly useful characteristic generally known as "personal magnetism," but he will need it all, and then perhaps some more, if he is to succeed in the task he has undertaken-of convincing the rank and file of United Mine Workers that the Civic Federation, from which they compelled him to resign, is really an organization devoted to the interests of all classes, the working class included. Mr. Mitchell has begun the justification of that organization, and incidentally himself, in a series of articles the first of which has appeared in the Mine Workers' Journal.

We don't propose to quote at any length from the letter, which seems to merely claim that the Civic Federation was organized only for the purpose of providing a "public forum in which men holding divergent or even conflicting opinions could express their views and advocate the principles which they believed would best promote the welfare of society and the progress of mankind."

Nor will we go to the trouble to deny or refute this statement. It may stand as it is. But be that as it may, if Mr. Mitchell expects such an ingenuous explanation to reconcile the membership of the mine workers to his view of the situation, he will be grievously dis-

Labor leaders, like politicians, have talked so much, that they naturally believe their eloquence is equally efficacious under all circumstances and at all times.

They have worked this "friends of labor" plea for so long that they imagine its constant repetition is all that is required to have it

From the way it is used, it might be inferred that once upon a time the laborers actually regarded the capitalists as enemies, and were talked into abandoning the idea and accepting them as "friends," and that consequently all that is needed to preserve the friendship intact is to keep on talking.

If Mr. Mitchell could grasp the fact that there never was such a period, that the workers at first naturally regarded the capitalistsas a class at least—as not necessarily hostile, he might perhaps understand the futility of talk in attempting to reverse the viewpoint they are now taking.

| called the "Virginia Reel" there is a persue and that is to marry each other is quite true that the Socialists have insisted on the hostility figure which goes by the name of the er and keep it all in the family. tween labor and capital, but it was not their talking that created "Ladies" Chain." The miners are recognizing that the dominant interests of the members of the Civic Federation are opposed to theirs, and that the organization is consequently antagonistic to labor interests. They were not talked into this belief, and—listen, Mr. Mitchell—they or a word with him, and so around the control of the control can't be talked out of it.

actions counted-not its words.

If mere talking could create and preserve harmony in our industrial society, the few Socialists would have tried in vain to create antagonism. A thousand voices are chanting the harmony refrain where ten are insisting on the existence of a class struggle.

And it is because this class struggle is an actual fact that Mr Mitchell will find it impossible to talk it out of existence. All the more so, as every day it is growing and widening and intensifying.

Mr. Mitchell may, perhaps, do a decent job of whitewashing on the organization from which he has been dragged, and perhaps his efforts will meet with no verbal opposition, but so far as the mem-bership of the Mine Workers' Union is concerned, it will be labor in

-:0:---WHY DIAZ SHOULD GO

In an editorial from the New York Journal of Commerce of yesterday appears the following opinion regarding the Mexican situa-

"It does not appear that the definite retirement of Diaz, which the insurgent leaders now demand after capturing Ciudad Juarez, and making it the capital of their provisional government, will necessarily or probably be followed by anarchy and disaster. It may be followed by rehabilitation and peace and a forward movement for the Mexican republic.

Sexual intercourse are synonymous terms, The inference they draw is that the present system holds the family together, and that the family would fail apart and that the ladies would give their right hands to one man and their left to another. The charges are, of course, absurd, and we are learning to meet and re-

"He (Diaz) has directed a virtual autocracy too long to trust in and we are learning to meet and rethe efficacy of a more popular government, but the time seems to have come for it. . . . If Porfirio Diaz, whose past is now secure, should consent to retire and leave the fate of the republic in who are the promiseuous lovers and other hands in a period of transition, it might prove to be for him, in the eyes of the world, A CROWNING ACT OF PATRIOTISM."

We have no hesitation whatever in saying that the reasoning inthis statement, and the conclusion drawn therefrom, is most logical and timely, and has behind it, also, all the wisdom of the ages.

Porfirio Diaz should retire. Why?
For several reasons. First, he can no longer protect capitalist property in Mexico. Second, the insurgents can, and will, protect it: and, third, they are now sufficiently powerful to force his retirement. He has directed a virtual autocracy too long to trust the efficacy of a more popular government.

Quite true. You "can't teach an old dog new tricks," but "the time seems to have come" for getting a new dog.

It i a period of transition. Correct again. And the transition is practically accomplished. It isn't wise to swap horses while crossing a stream, of course, but now that the crossing has been made, Madero has proven a better

No better advice could be given to Diaz than that he should as far as possible "make a virtue of necessity. "Welcome the coming, speed the parting guest." But it isn't necessary to accelerate his departure with a kick.

It costs nothing, and may perhaps console him somewhat to be reminded that his retirement is an act of patriotism, for as the old proverb has it:

"Patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel!"

A Kansas item says that since last October over 100 local country banks have been robbed by thieves who ride in automobiles, which only shows how them goldarned new-fangled city ideas spread throughout the country. Most of the thieves who have robbed banks in New York and other large cities havitually affected the same method of locomotion.

There are two brothers, both New York men, Guernsey Curran and Ross Arabler, Curran, one of whom, Guerney, married Marie Harmon, a niece Ross Ambler, married Elise Postley, who was a bridesmaid at Miss Harmon's wedding. Each couple had one child.

First of all, according to a special cable dispatch to the New York Sun.
Marie Harmon, or Mrs. Guernsey Curran, secured a divorce under the laws of the State of New York about six months ago. The New York divorce laws allow an absolute divorce for but one cause adultary and for but one cause adultery, and so Guernsey Curran must have been proved in court to be holding Marie Harmon by the right hand and tightly clusping with his left the hand ot

It is possible that the political views of these sexular kaleidoscopic persons have anything to do with the case? Is it because they are Republicans or Democrats? ble collection of short stories that has appeared in years. There is the real picture of life in it, and through the pages real people move. They are poor people, desperately poor, they are not people without hope. Beneath the sordid exterior there are evidences of the power and the courage that must yet bear worthy fruit. In dealing with his people Oppenhein has not idealized them, caricatured them or freaked them. He has not them or freaked them. created for them an artificial literary dialect, nor clothed them with virtues they never possessed. But he has shown them as they are, and he has shown above all else the horrible, haunting ever present fear, the fear of lack of work.

There has never been told a true story than the first one in the volume "The Great Fear." There has runs out in countless homes in every city of this land that cry of anguish and ter ror, "You've lost your job!" There i more tragely in that cry, more horro of the black future and the uncer tainty than in all the tribulations o Kings and other toys of humanity. is in this, the great lear that sease the members of the working class that follows them and scourges them that the real drama of modern "ife lies, and it is one of sodden brutality of desperation and of a courage so matchless that it is the actual hope

There is power in all of them, but Meg fairly pulsates, and in A Broken Woman there is given a "love story" that happens repeatedly, is written of frequently, but has seldom been set forth with such relentless fidelity. This is indeed a book to buy or to demand at the libraries. It is a book to possess, for many of the stories are worth reading and rereading. It is a good book for local and branch libraries, and they as well as individuals can get copies at The Call, which has a plentiful supply. iduals can get copies at which has a plentiful supply.

THE NAMELES QUET.

By Edgar W. Stork.

On! On, my Soul! Sail on! Like some Columbus, we shall journey far—
Our eager keels plow through uncharted space of Spirit worlds:
Our guide, the wan, pale gleam of new born star.
So shall we seek the Unattained—the Unexpressed—
The Longing Undefined we cannot voice—
So great—so wondrous great is our de sire:
So infinite is this—our nameless quest.

UNLESS YOU ACT NOW THE CALL GETS NOTHIN

Since we have decided to discontinue this appeal for from May 29, it becomes important that every reader of the paper a understand the reason the appeal is made and the conditions govern contributions.

Hence, we begin at the beginning once more.

The Call has a weekly deficit of $300. There are a numold debt to be paid, and it is necessary that $150 should be detected.

to that purpose every week.

You see. The Call must have a sustaining fund of $450 a for another year. None but the persons who are actively en in getting The Call out every day can understand how great provement in the paper would be if the $450 was available.

It would mean, to begin with, that every time an extra came to The Call, every cent of it would be expended on sce partment of the paper which would make it a better Socialist and more nearly self-supporting.

As things are now, every extra dollar of income must be into the jaws of the deficit and the old debts.

If readers of the paper will complete the sustaining fund by 30 all this will be changed. The Call will be free to plunge in educational and political campaign between now and the election of 1912 with such effectiveness that America will wa November of that year face to face with Socialism triumph

In 1912 we must elect a dozen more Congressmen and local cials without number. The Call, supported by this fund, will giant in the fight. You are sure of this, therefore you are go join the fund.

All who contribute to this fund will receive 4 per cent bonds.
W. C. P. A. or subscription cards to The Call in the full at paid in. You can give these cards to persons who do not kee Call or you may sell them to others and so reimburse yours

All that is detail which you may settle for yourself. The portant thing is that The Call, your paper, needs $450 a week that you are determined to do your part toward supplying it.

May 29 the last appeal will appear. Unless the full amount pledged by May 30 The Call will get nothing.

The change in home life and home conditions and industries, caused by the industrial revolution of the past one hundred and fifty years, has brought new problems into existence, or rather brought old problems into a new aspect. The problems that confronted the wife and mother in the past were the same that confront her today, but the solutions then were simple as the life most people lived was a simple life. Our modern social and industrial processes are so complex and so different from the old life of a century or more ago, that new methods must be evolved to fit the new conditions.
