HONDURAS TREATY TO BE DEBATED

WASHINGTON. June 11.—A motion will probably be made to have the Scaate delate in open session the Honduras treaty which ostensibly provides for "the refunding of the foreign debt of that republic." This fact came out town unconnection with the criticism heard among certain Senators because of the action of the Foreign Relations Committee Friday in favorably reporting the treaty at a time when four Senators understood to be opposed to it were absent:

There has been some talk of a motion to recommit the treaty because of the alleged "snap judgment" because of the alteged "snap jungment taken on the absent Senators. At least one of these Senators says he received no notice of the committee meeting. But whether the motion is made to re-

The reasons advanced in support of this move are that the treatry involves a radical departure from "our" traditional policy in dealing with the South and Central American republics and that it affects "our" fiscal policy and is a matter of such transcendant public importance that it should be discussed publicly in order that the country may be made aware of every death of the properties.

Lansbury further asked if it was not a fact that in previous years the right honorable gentleman had made a grant for the purposes of the wom-en's workrooms out of the current en's workrooms out of the current year in which the money was used and was there any reason why the same should not be done this year? To this Burns replied: "I have given f750 out of the f1.000 asked for. It was never intended that he work should be permanently continuous. The committee itself states that it is disadvantageous to the women themselves that they should be in-duced to look upon the relief work as themselves that they should be induced to look upon the relief work as continuous throughout the year."

The Right Honorable John. Burns.
Cabinet Minister at $20,000 a year, here shows three of his prominent characteristics: His facility in lying, his habit of shielding himself behind other people; and his arejudice against helping the unemployed. Here is a simple statement of the facts:

On the day Lansbury first asked the question. Burns requested that it should be postponed. This enabled a nuceting of the Women's Work Committee to be held to give him the excuse by passing a resolution that they agreed with him. Fut the fact remains that the clerk to the central (unemployed) body, in answer to a question put to him by Councilor J.
H. Banks definitely declared without any reservation whatsoever that the rooms were closed because of the request of the Local Government Board.

Lesson in Burns' Case.

Lesson in Burns' Case. Why did not Burns grant the 250 pounds? The reason is that he has been ngainst the work rhoms from the start, and at last has made an opportunity for closing them. The work is not continuous, as the women have only a certain number of weeks work per year. It has developed into relief work because

YOUNG LAD IS MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT

EAST MORICHES, N. Y.: June 11. EAST MORICHES, N. Y. June 11.—
There was a fatal shooting here at 8 o'clock this evening and it is not known exactly how it happened. The victim is George Smith, a 16-year-old boy, son of Isaac Smith, of the Forge River life saving station. He is employed by De Forest Hulse, a duck raiser.

Another employe is John Armstead, a negro. Armstead says he owned the revolver, but that Smith had borrowed it, and Armstead disclaimed all knowledge of how the shooting was done. A retired police sergeant, James Brady, now owning a summer hotel here, and a cottager.

MUST TREAT FAR EAST LIKE OTHER NATIONS

BERLIN. June 11—In the June number of the Colonial Review, Prof Otto Franke publishes an article severely criticizing the Kaiser's famous appeal made some years ago to civilized nations to combine agains the yellow peril. Professor Franke says:

"Educated people in Germany are peril and they judge the political questions of the Far East from the standpoint of an artificially stimu-lated racial feeling. They dream of the solidarity of Western races against Asiatic barbarians. This ludicrous idea of the yellow peril has already involved us in political losses and with bring about more disadvantages in the future unless we liberate ourselves from this superstition.

"We must grow accustomed to re-sard Japan and China not as enemies civilization, but as great powers to be treated on a basis of equality with Western countries. If their friend-ship is valuable to us, we must seek it irrespective of nebulous conceptions of racial indifferences.

We must get rid of the romantic idea of a modern crusade against the Asiatic heathens and we must pursue in the Far East a policy of self-inter est. We must promote the interests of Germany and not the interests of any other white race except our own.

The Benefits of Unionism.

The fact remains, however, that the Bangor and Aroostook, Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk pay no such wages as have been forced upon the Boston and Maine by the labor unions. Not many years ago the freight han-dlers of the Boston and Maine asked for an increase of wages and for less work. Their increase of wages was granted and they then determined that a day's work for a freight gang was the unloading of six cars instead of ten, and that has been the rule since, until now the Boston and Maine supervisors of labor have to make work for some gangs they are forced to keep upon their payroll." High wages and "efficiency," ac-

OLD NEW YORKER:
Now was this interesting epistle written by a friend or an enemy? At first glance it would appear that it is a genuine view-with-alarm on Socialism written by a gouty and conservative old codger belonging to a prehistoric era. Careful reading, however, gives rise to doubts. It is to be noted that the incident of the school boy's marbles exactly illustrates the Socialist contention that even if this world's riches were divided up and each person feceived an equal share (many apparently intelligent people still think this is what the Socialists want), in the course of time a small group would have it all and the rest would be as poor as ever; since the capitalist system inevitably enriches capitalist system inevitably enriches the few at the expense of the many.

BURNS, M. P., AIMS

Burns has deliberately prohibited the di posal of the products in many ways. He has distinctly forbidden the committee tendering for guardians' and other pullic requirements, favoring instead the sweating contractors. But, however had relief work is economically, it is bette, than starvation, and until proper remunerative employment is provided for the unemployed relief work will be necessary—or its alternative; starvation.

The working class of Great Britain has had a valuable lesson in the record of John Burns with reference to the pure and simple labor representative in Pariament. He is another Briand of just as deep a color. He is a more effective enemy of the workers than a born and bred Tory, because he has come up from the ranks, has had the workers dence, knows their psychology and can therefore more easily betray them in the interests of their masters, to whose side he has gone for the thirty pieces of silver.

USED INJUNCTION TO STOP LABOR MEETING

Amusement Park at Altoona Was Closed on "Moral" Grounds.

WASHINGTON, June 10.— Arrangements have been completed in Altoona, Pa., for a mass meeting to be held in one of the public amusement parks on Sunday, June 4. The meeting was arranged for the purpose of listening to prominent speakers in the jabor movement, and the em-ployes in the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company had been invited to attend.

The railroad company has many ramifications and upon the information reaching the company that a meeting was to be held in the amuse ment park they procured an old lady who was a part owner in the park to sue out an injunction against the lessees of the park prohibiting the lessees from permitting the meeting to be held, stating in the injunction that the park was only to be used for "moral" amusement. It was appar-ently expected that the injunction ently expected that the mount would be violated and the meeting held. It was decided, however, to meeting place to a piece change the meeting place to a piece of ground on the side of a hill, the property being owned by those who were sympathetic toward the labor organizations.

An attempt was then made to bring in the fifth, but the others were unpressure to bear against those who owned the latter piece of property to also forbid the meeting, but their pleas were unavailing. The meeting was held on Sunday per schedule and there were present some 6.000 in the audience. Secretary Morrison, Raymond Robbins and Frank Milhol and were the speakers.

The Dock and Coal Company has furnished a large part of the coal for Auburn prison during the last four years. Bituminous coal is used at this prison for all purposes. The commissioners ask for further time to report regarding this prison as the investiga-tion of the coal purchases is not yel completed. The report says regarding the coal purchases at Sing Sing prison during the years 1907 to 1910, inclusive, that the specifications which accompanied the advertisement for bids called for "egg" coal, that the coal dealers tendered bids to supply "egg" coal, and that in each case the Dock and Coal Company was awarded the contract, and adds:

In the production of coke in 1910 there was a larger relative increase in value than in quantity, and that the average price per ton advanced from $2.29 in 1900 to $2.39 in 1910, from which it appears that the history of coke production in 1910 was a highly satisfactory one. Such, however, was not the case, for whereas the value of the product of 1910 exceeded that of 1909 by $9,730,784, this was more than offset by the higher value of the coal. Satisfaction is expressed that Gerbard and cocupled was specified and upon which bids were made. In other words, it appears that while all the competing dealers were required to bid on 'egg' coal, the warden and the Superintend-ton to change the grade when the contract was drawn, and a lower and less expensive grade was substituted that of 1909 by $9,730,784, this was more tract was drawn, and a lower and less expensive grade was substituted therein. The records and proof show that the Dock and Coal Company did that the Dock and Coal Company did not furnish 'egg' coal, which was de-scribed in the specifications and upon which all bids were made, but did furnish 'grate' coal, which had been substituted in the contract for the more expensive kind." Under these contracts the Dock

Under these contracts the Dock and Coal Company delivered to Sins Sins prison 4,991 tons in 1907, 4,992 tons in 1908, 6,650 tons in 1909 and 5,350 tons in 1910, all "Delaware and Hudson" coal. In the years 1907 and 1908 the price paid to this company for this coal was $4.75 a ton, in 1909 this afternoon. There was a record of several degrees higher in many places in the city. Last night, following a wiolent electrical storm, the thermoneter showed by 65 degrees. By 11 son. Her passengers were transferred am, it made the sudden change to high temperature more noticeable.

It further appears that in 1910 a reputable dealer offered to furnish the quantity of "grate" coal required by this institution of $4.40 a ton. The offer was rejected on the ground that offer was rejected on the ground that the telegram was received a few moments after the hour fixed for open

From these and other sources it is shown that the standard market price for 'grate' coal in the vicinity 'of Sing Sing during this time was $4.40 a ton delivered alongside dock. From these facts it appears that by reason of the substitution made in the con-tract, permitting the Dock and Coal Company to furnish 'grate' coal in-stend of 'egg' coal, the State sus-tained a loss during this period of $3,433.60.

DESPITE "CHARITIES"

Despite the hundreds of thousands of dollars which the various agencies working "for the prevention of tuberculosis" are receiving, they have not succeeded in reducing the death rate from that dreaded disease, either in New York or elsewhere.

Figures showing reported cases o tuberculosis and resultant deaths just issued by the State Charities Aid Association, show the number of deaths reported outside of Greater New York to have slightly increased in 1910 over those of 1909.

The number of deaths from tuber culosis reported in 1909 was 5,351, while in 1910 the number was in creased to 5,357 deaths.

The report says there is need o hospital provision for advanced cases of tuberculosis. If more advanced cases could find hospital care a fall in the death rate from tuberculosis could be looked for in the next ten years.

Foreign Powers Protest Against Italy's Proposed

ROME. June 11.—State monopoli-sation of life insurance in Ital., with the object of providing funds out of the profits for pensions for old and disabled workmen, is one of the plans of the fioletti Cabinet. When the bill was drafted it was doubted if the approval of the Chamber of Deputies could be secured for it. There were many who prophested that it would cause the downfall of the Cabinet.

Today, however, the governmen announces that it has triumphed with the selection of nine members of the Parliamentary commission to repor the measure eight ministerialists and one member of the opposition having been chosen. The approval of the insurance law therefore seems assured probably it will be consider modified in order to avert diplomatic protests.

CALL WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE BILL REACTIONARY

LONDON, June 11 -- Present pros pects are that the women's suffrage bill, which seemed to stand a fair chance two or three weeks ago of passing at the present session of Parliament, is now probably lost forever. That is to say, all signs point to its burial in committee.

This is essentially a history of the labor movement among the Poles as seen by an outsider and one who can youch for the authenticity of what he says, as he has been through the same grind himself and has had the hard experience of working in a cot ton mill in this same town until his health, at the age of 16 years, was so wrecked by the hard lot of a cotton mill worker that he saw nothing oinplete change.

The whole trouble with the bill is ahead of him but a future full of rather than continue being a burder

This may seem to some to be rather strong, but to the writer it can't be made any too strong, and the reason that I am telling this experience of mine is in the hope tha it will be the cause of opening eyes of these people (who will see the workers hard lot) to see the workers hard lot) to the are condemned to when, through poverty, the parents are force send them to the cotton mill to forced tribute their mite to the aid of the family

WARE, Mass. June 10.—Within the past fifteen years the Polish people have been coming into Central Massachusetts in great numbers.

They have now very largely become the workers in the cotton mills, which are about the only industries to be largely before the cotton places where the cotton places where the cotton mills abound.

They have now very largely become the workers in the cotton mills, which are about the only industries to be planted the other nationalities in fused, he have looked was replanted the other nationalities in these rooms and just as the one na-tionality worked cheaper than the other, so today the Pole is working cheaper than either the Irish or the Canadian, because he can live on a lower scale and therefore can and will work for the lower wage. The mean average paid them is about 34 a week.

For years they work for this pay, the price of living went up to them just as to us, but the wages for these people stayed stationary, or if any-thing were cut, bringing them face to face with privation and want, and in desperation they struck. Of the strike I will speak further on.

Beats London's "Submerged Tenth."

No need of going to London to see Jack London's "Submerged Tenth: we have it here where fifteen people will crowd into a room that is mean for three or four persons, and where a boy could get board for $2.50 a month. Unbelievable, isn't it? Un-happily, it is only too true.

These people, driven to revolt thought to enforce their demand that they be given a living wage and struck to enforce the demand they asked for—the insignificant sum of 15 or 20 cents a day; did I say a DAY? A mistake, I assure you; I meant 15 or 20 cents a WEEK, and they were refused and fought to the end, that same end was not so very far away, as you can imagine. In one room the total asked for was about $3 for the crowd. Imagine it if you can-an increase of about 4 cents apiece They might just as well have asked for a million dollars; they would have

-J. Neufeld is his name—represents the Polish paper. The Daily People, of Chicago, held his first meeting on the 23d of May and spoke for 3 hours to an audience of 500 Poles who had gathered to hear the message of hope. This meeting was held with the purpose of reorsanizing the Polish Branch of the Socialist party, and was held in the home of one of the Comrades; the result was seven new members added to the roll and a good prospect of more in the near future.

On the 25th we held another meet On the 25th we need another meeting to thoroughly organize the Polish workers here. There were present about 550 people who filled the hall to its utmost capacity. They were addressed by the Polish organizer of the progression of Laboration at Laboration and La the American Federation from Springfield, Mass. At this meet-ing the people were invited to enroll as members of the union and sixty came forward to enlist in the battle for a living wage instead of the star-vation wages they had heretofore been receiving, an average, as I said before, of about $4 a week

The prospects are bright for a thorough organization of the Polish textile workers here in this vicinity.

Good Recommendation, Says John, Wealthy From Their Toil.

Wanamaker gtore received their pay envelopes recently they found them somewhat bulkier than usual. The heart of many a girl leaped. Some of the least experienced hoped that the bulkiness might signify an increase in wages. Others who are wise to the disappointments of life, trembled lest the extra slip in their pay envelope their services are "no longer required."

But neither of these "mights" happened. In their pay envelope the girls found a printed note on the sta-tionery of the company, advising the .rls to save in "small amounts" her "salary," and lay up something for the future. The note was printed, and footed with a facsimile of John Wanamaker's signature. It was marked "Private Office," bore the eal of the company, and read:

I am glad to find that many of younger people are saving il amounts and laying up ething for the future. I besomething for the future. . LINCOLN AND MARX.

In his message to Congress in De-cember, 1861, Lincoln said: "Labor is cember, 1861, Lincoln said: "Labor is prior to and independent of capital. Capital is only the fruit of labor and could never have existed if labor had not existed first. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much the higher consideration."

Naturally this would have pleased Karl Marx, who was then an exile in London engaged in writing "Capital."

London, engaged in writing "Capital, and in directing the growing Socialist-Labor movement. Our Civil War bore most disastrously upon England's great cotton industry, and well-to-do opinion there sympathized with the South.

ANTI-SOCIALISTS

Milwaukee Reduces Public Debt. Many Thousands Reason for Scream.

By E. H. THOMAS.

(Special Correspondence.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis, June 9 .- Th two anti-Socialist Aldermen who de bated in the West Side High School on the subject. "Has the Socialist Administration Made Good?" and were defeated, have suddenly decided that it is wrong to have political discusions in our public schools.

This is like the small boy who decided that it was wicked to fight on Sunday when he began to get the worst of the fight.

the Aldermen did not have any scru

The offer was ineffective. A please when they accepted the invitation to debate. Their objections were evidently was not send of sufficient value to the read. That is, of course, a matter of the course, a matter of the course, the course, to close the school buildings from any further discussions of sufficient the purpose of the charges is, of course, to close the school buildings from any further discussions of similar subjects, to free the anti-Socialists thus from the risk of any further challenges to debate of this port, and at the same time throw discussions of the same time throw discussions of the same time throw the second of the same time throw the same second of the second of the same time throw the second of the same time throw sort, and at the same time throw discredit on the social centers.

These, like every other means of popular enlightenment, have worked for the benefit of the Social-Democratic party in Milwaukee. The anti-Socialists would like not only to close Socialists would like not only to close the schoolhouses to the social center work, but they would like to close the schoolhouses altogether; Witness the anti-Socialist vote the school bonds at the last Milwau tee election.

Socialists Reduce Debt.

The Socialist administration of Milwaukee has reduced by $55,000 the city debt of $165,064.49, inherited from the last administration. At this rate, the debt will be reduced to nothing before the end of the year.

The object of the Socialist administration, of course, is not merely economy. But economy is pecessary in order to have funds for the great undertakings which the Socialists design for the benefit of the people. Be-sides all this, there is a felling an-swer to the ridiculous charge that has circulated through all the capitalist papers that the Milwaukee admin

SAYS CHINA WOULD CONTROL PORK MARKET

WASHINGTON, June 11 .- Testin was given before the Senate Committee on Finance that if pork be placed on the free list. China would control the pork market in this country. An illustration of the capacity of China as a pig product exporter comes from Consul General Griffiths, at Liverpool, who says of a sinsie consignment that arrived in the English port from Hankow.

A SOCIALIST OPPORTUNITY

The trusts that have been investigated or that are to be investigated are eagerly seeking shelter under the wings of the government It is naturally not because they have any desire to reform, but because they seek immunity from interference. Under government control, they being the government then as they are now, they would have greater freedom of operation and there would be no change whatever of property ownership. So far in all the investigations and prosecutions there has been no questioning whatever of private ownership. But something has been started that it is necessary for the Socialists to use to the limit.

Public prosecutors have contended that certain combinations of property are dangerous to the country. Yet those combinations, the trusts, have been highly efficient in production and have been economical in operation. They are manifestations of a social tendency to get the greatest possible returns from a minimum of effort, and the fact that the huge establishments have been successful where the small, scattered establishments have not is an argument for further concentration, not for dismemberment.

Naturally further concentration without a change of ownership would work more disastrously to the general welfare than the present combinations have worked. The admission of a larger number of partners, the permission of the employes of a corporation to "participate" in the profits of the industry, would be of no general benefit, because the employes would still not own the business. Ownership and control would still be vested in the capitalist class, and in spite of figures concerning the number of stockholders in railroads, banks and industrial concerns, the fact remains that actual, remunerative ownership resides in a very small and restricted class.

This ownership is the thing that has been working ruin, that has enslaved the working class, that has created an enormous standing army of unemployed, and that now causes such uneasiness among the capitalists and has brought forward so many "solutions" of the trouble. There are suggestions of a "modified State Socialism" and of "government supervision." Both of them are about the same in intent, that is, they seek to force the government of this country more carefully to protect private possession of social utilities. The capi talists are seeking desperately, through this government supervision to gain a position where they will be absolutely free from prosecution, both by the Federal and the State governments. All this is for the benefit of the capitalists, not for the benefit of the public.

If anything worth while is done it must be in the line of a change of ownership.

The great masses of social wealth are a thing to be desired. They are to be used for the benefit of all humanity. They are to be exploited for the welfare of humanity. At present they are used for the benefit of a small portion of society, and through the ownership of them by that portion of society, the rest are kept in misery.

But the agitation caused by the prosecutions and investigations and threats of investigation should not be lost by the Socialists. It is a splendid chance to make known that fundamental idea that social wealth, used in the production of further wealth, capital, must be owned by the whole people.

State Socialism is not what is sought. Government ownership of railroads, for instance, when the capitalist class is the government, would simply mean that the railroads would be used chiefly for the benefit of the capitalist class. The workers use the roads, ordinarly, merely in traveling in search of employment. The capitalist uses them for the shipment of commodities, and while industry remains in the hands of the capitalist class the railroads would be simply an appendage to the privately owned plants.

What we must have is social ownership of what is now called capital. Nothing else will be satisfactory.

While it was known before, this investigation has brought again forcibly to the attention of all citizens the fact that capitalisms spells murder. Those eminent gentlemen who own the trusts have not stopped at robbery, at murder, or at swindling of alk kinds. They have corrupted the government, prostituted the press and turned the courts into an instrument of oppression. Under government supervision, it is true, there would be economy for the corporations. They would not then be under the necessity of buying the tallist class is the government, there is plenty of opportunity to interfere with the operations of the trusts. Today, while the capitalists. Under the form that is sought this opportunity would be entirely gone. Absolutely, in every department the trusts would be protected, fostered and fattened through government supervision.

But now is the time of the Socialists to fight as they never fought before. A change is imperative and is almost here. If the capitalists can compass it the change will be not in which the public will be referred that the work of the manifest tenor of the every possible way the fact that the charge and over stain to support of the class and the support of the convention is not a matter as the basis for in attack on Representative Bester at the basis for in attack on Representative Bester at the convention is not attack on Representative Bester at the convention is not attack on Representative Bester at the convention is not attack on Representative Bester at the convention is not attack on Representative Bester at the convention is not attack on Representative Bester at the convention is not attack on Representative Bester at t capitalists can compass it the change will be one in which they will officers are contrary to, or not wait final amendment and adoption by the have greater license to operate and in which the public will be ranted by the Constitution, rests only whole convention that the wording deprived of its last chance to interfere. Or the change will be one in which a real, worthy beginning is made toward the conversion of capital to social property.

The capitalists, through their ready compliance with orders that pretend to mean much but really mean nothing, are lining up their forces for a desperate battle in the Presidential election of 1912. The old issues will not be so much to the front as formerly. The capitalists know it, and they are seeking now to remove from the field this question of trust domination.

It is the duty of the Socialists to make the fight a straight one Under government supervision, as under present conditions, private ownership of social utilities would be the cause of all the crimes, all the misery and all the discontent. So down with private ownership.

People have been aroused to a consideration of the question and they should be taught to consider it right. They cannot consider it right without an understanding of the Socialist program, and every agency of the party should be set vigorously at work in this campaigr

Don't let the trusts get to cover through this new dodge of gov ernment supervision. It is the most brazen and vicious attempt made yet to turn the whole force of the government to the protection of enslaving private property.

THEIR SUMMER REST

While J. Pierpont Morgan and other capitalists connected with the Baldwin Locomotive Works are in England to enjoy the festivities in connection with the coronation, 12,000 men are on strike seek ing conditions somewhat nearer the conditions that should be accorded every human being. Several thousand machinists in New York City are striking for an eight-hour day. Tens of thousands employed in the New England textile industry are working on part

The vacation of all of them is either forced on them through lack of employment or because they seek to better their condition. It will, herefore, be one of privation, because when they stop working their income ceases

Mr. Gustavus Myers, in his "Prospectus of the History of the Supreme Court," implies that the members of the Constitutional Convention of 1787 were resolved to lodge the ultimate power in the judiciary. eaders we should like to say a few vords additional concerning efficiency. Efficiency is one of our most promi-nent words just now. Considerable effort has been expended in trying to discover whether the word anything useful as employed by Tay-lor. Emerson and others who are standing beside it under the spotlight. A remark made at Washington the other day by an exponent of industria efficiency is responsible for the present contribution on the subject. The supponent referred to assured some members of Congress that a little in members of Congress that a little in-creased output by each mill, mine and factory employe, as prescribed by Taylor, would lead very shortly to the greatest benefits to cil classes. (When our public men are not en-gared in denying that there are any "classes" in America they are busy referring to "all classes.") referring to "all classes.")

The efficiency man went on to say that an increased output would cer-tainly result in higher wages, shorter hours of work, and a cheaper prod-uct. He used enthusiastic language of profit before it could increase wages. And with this amount of profit it was satisfied, since it did not lower wages.

It would seem to some persons that the way to win labor unionists over to the efficiency idea would be to promise the workers all they produce next year after the stockholders have taken out their eighteen millions of profit. That sum of money is a pretty nice gift from the employes to per sons who do nothing to earn it.

uct. He used enthusiastic language in saying this, and the big newspapers next day referred to the workingman's Utopia foreseen by the witness. We were given to understand that the only thing needed to insure higher wages and shorter work hours was an increased output.

Now, it is a matter of the most common understanding among manufacturers that wages are regulated by the unwritten "law of supply and demand" in the already oversthe unwritten "law of supply and demand." That is, if workers can be found to enter a factory at $1 a da."

But neither Mr. Taylor nor any willing to make any such promise-thistend of offering the willing to make any such promise-their present "reasonable return for their money," they insist that the stockholders take all that is left after the workers get what the "law of supply and demand" in the already overstoked labor market brings them.

Mr. Taylor has nothing to earn it.

With the kind indulgence of our then $1 a day is the rate of wages, and underpaid who are wolves at the then $1 a day is the rate of wages. The most erudite and profound economists of the capitalist school call this logicul, inevitable and just.

Dividends, on the other hand, are limited only by the size of the surplus left after wases and other penses have been paid. Thus we find that during the last fiscal year the Harvester Trust paid in dividends $15,084.819.

According to the exponents of "efficiency" the Harvester Trust was not able to pay higher wages because its output would not permit. it. The trust had to have more than $18,090,000 of profit before it could increase is a splendid one for promoting un-employment, increasing the frequency of panics which result from overpro-duction and intensifying the struggle for existence among wage workers Socialists are not opposed to the efficiency idea in itself. If the peo-ple owned collectively the means of production the idea in force would do what Mr. Taylor promises; lessen the hours of work necessary and in-crease the returns to them who work.

With the machinery of production in the hands of private individuals, "efficiency" means greater profits for the owners, fewer jobs and more

THE COST OF PROSPERITY

Great Britain receive less than 30 shillings, or $7.50, weekly wages, according to statistics quoted recently in the House of Commons by J. H. Tennant, the Parliamentary secretary for the Board of trade, in opposing the motion of Will Crooks, the Labor member from Woolwich, for a compulsory minimum wage ings, or $7.50, weekly wages, according of Commons by J. H. Tennant, the Par-liamentary secretary for the Board of Crooks, the Labor member from Woolwich, for a compulsory minimum wage of 30 shillings. Crooks' story of the sufferings of the poor was a pitiful one and the House was greatly moved. Mr.
Tennant reluctantly had recourse to cold logic and said that the motion would involve a cost of 88,000,000 pounds sterling. The sudden increase of wages, he declared, would raise the cost of production and invite increased foreign competition.

rolve a cost of $8,000,000 pounds sterling. The sudden increase of wages, by declared, would raise the cost of production and invite increased foreign competition.

In other words, to raise the level of wages to a point where the worker could live, not in comfort, but above the bare necessaries standard of existence, would be ruinous to British commercial prosperity. The powerty of the workers is, then, the price paid for the favorable trade position of the country. One may imagine the distressful condition of many of the toilers in competing countries, and one may also find the reason why the doctrines of Socialism gain acceptance among the working people of Europe, and why the tide of discontent is everywhere rising.

It is said by sociological investigators that the condition of the masses of the people was far worse during the middle.
