SOCIALIST "BLOCKED TRAFFIC," ARRESTED

J. C. Frost addressed a meeting at the corner of Waverly place and Broadway yesterday afternoon to give the ware slaves in the factories in that neighborhood a chance to listen to the message of Socialism during their noon recess.

A policeman insisted that the meeting was blocking traffic and arrested Frost. When arinigned before Magistrate Butts in the Jefferson Market Court the judge was first inclined to hold Frost or impose a fine. But after Jacob Hillquit called the judge's attention to the law and the precedents in similar cases, he postponed the case to July 7, releasing Frost on his own bond, Hillquit to submit a brief in the meantime.

JAILED FOR SMUGGLING IN CHINESE LABORERS

BOSTON, Mass., June 19.—The last chapter of the conspiracy to smuggle Chipese labourers into this country by whelesale was written today when the convicted men appeared in the United States District Court for sentence. Goodman, Phillips was sentenced to two years in jain and Capt. M. B. Gardinier received eighteen months.

Capt. Harvey G. Daly and Dr. Jimn Fuey Moy. a wealthy Chipese of New Jersey, were acquitted by the same jury that convicted. Phillips and Gardinier. During the trial it developed that the men had conspired to bring into the United States from Jamaica over one hundred Chipese at $400 a head.

LEATHER FIRMS START LOCKOUT

The manufacturers of fancy leather zoods declared war againts the union yesterday when four bosses employing about 400 men and women locked their workers out because they refused to give up their union affiliations.

The trouble started when Margel & Co. 583 Broadway, discharged thirty employes because they refused to sign papers that they would not have anything to do with the union. Soon after the thirty workers were discharged 150 men and women who remained in the shon struck in sympathy with the discharged workers.

of unorganized workers recently joined the union.

The union is also making preparations for a general strike to enforce a fifty-two hour week and to raise the wages which have gone steadily down as a result of the tirade being unorganized. The strikers say that these lockouts were made in order to head off the big movement carried on by the union.

Strikes are going on against the Progressive Leather Goods Works, 93 Prince street, and Lefkowitz & Co. of Houston street. Pickets were stationed near all the shops and the strikers held meetings where they made demands to present to the various firms. The strikers request all leather workers to stay away from the struck shops.

WILL ARBITRATE CLEVELAND FIGHT

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 19 -- For-

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 19.—Formal notification of the Cleveland Garment Workers' strike and a request for arbitration were sent to the State Board of Arbitration by Probate Judge Hadden today.

Section 1973 of the State law makes it one of the duties of the Mayor of a city or probate judge of a county to notify the Board of Arbitration whenever there is a strike in which there is "need of arbitration." Judge Hadden requests that the Board of Arbitration investigate the strike, the conditions here leading up to it, and try to arrange a speedy settlement.

The striking garment workers have already openly announced their willingness to submit their side of the controversy to arbitration. Last week the employers turned Secretary Bishop down when he attempted to secure their co-operation in arbitrating the differences.

Since the raids on the Otis ranch every effort has been exerted to stop the Liberal lunta in Los Angeles from further operation.

As is usual in such cases the authorities make the stereotyped announcement that others will soon be arrested. This is always done in the hope others interested in the revolution may become alarmed, and attempt to leave the city, when they will be arrested on some pretext and held pending a "confession" on the part of some one.

POWER OF MORGAN TERRORIZES EDITOR

Philadelphia Middle Class Journal Screams in Its Fright.

(Special to The Call.)

HILADELPHIA. Pa. June 19 -The North American of this city, a militant organ of the American middle class, is scared to within an inch of hysteria.

In its issue of today, this paper makes a desperate appeal to Attorne General Wickersham to stay the prog. ress of industrial and firancial evolution, which it calls J. P. Morgan. The editor has caught a glimpse of the terrible power reposing in the hands of one man and is badly frightened as Hold Drake in Cell Because a result. He screams aloud that the those who enjoy "modest incomes" from the labor of others are about to be wiped out by the process of con-centration of wealth and industry in the hands of a few.

The North American's indictment of the system is fine, its understanding of the causes of it are entirely missing

To quote the editorial in part. Middle Class Terror.

Mr. Attorney General, you ver, well know how transcendent has been the power of Morgan in the past. Your professional relations with the forces of Wall Street have given to you full knowledge as to the omnipotence of that one figure in the world of Big Business. You know that a frown and a word from him would put the seal of death upon any business, however, profitable that is large enough to re-quire the use of extensive banking credit

You have seen that same power' check the fury of a panic almost instantly, after all other agencies, in-cluding the government itself, had proved their impotence. "But, revealing an even greater power, you have seen this saving Morgan influence withheld until it had forced surrender of a coveted rival property. And pending that capture the legitimate business of the entire country was prostrated, crippled and in many cases wholly wrecked.

Even this brought forth no protest from the business world, the tendency being to approve Wall Street's acclaim of Morgan as a savior, because after his purpose was accomplished he deemed it advisable to relieve the appalling situation.

But this demonstrated only the power of Morgan in 1997. Since then it has increased in a geometrical ratio. It is stronger today than, it was one week ago. It will be stronger one week hence that it is today. Only last Friday this news was printed:

Poughkeepsie Race.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 19. — The final week of practice for the crews on the Hudson was ushered in with plenty of hard work today, three of the five varsity eights going over the full four miles at top speed. Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Syracuse were the eights that had time rows in the morning, and both Columbia and Wisconsin had stiff pulls in both the morning and afternoon. The time row of the Quaker eight was by far the most satisfactory piece of work that Ellis Ward has had out of his men since they arrived on the Hudson, and he was particularly well pleased with the freshmen. The Bankers Trust Company has bought the Equitable Life Assurance Society's holdings in the Mercantile Trust Company. "Next day I spoke at Syracuse and had a good meeting: pretty fair attendance, mostly Jewish Comrades and a number of girls. Stopped with a Jewish Comrade and had my first experience as an agitator. Yesterday I rode around Rochester in an auto, today I was helping to dress the babies. The poor mother had three of them and had to ship two off to school. I took the children to school while the mother tended the baby. My impression is that the workingmen get along better in small rities. The Comrade is earning $14 a week and seems to get along comfortably, at least much better than one could on that sum in New York.

Spargo and Mrs. Allen spoke at the same church. I understand.
"I was gratified with the success, as I had very poor promise from Comrade Parsons, the organizer, who told me before the meeting that they did not expect much of a success, as they had a disappointing meeting with one of the speakers lately. However, after the meeting he expressed himself as very well satisfied. The next day I went over to Buffalo and held a session with the women Comrades and planned out with them the method of agitation among women. They have formed a women's committee and will be heard from in the future. Am going on into Ohio next."

PARTY SPEAKERS' OPINIONS.

Editor of The Call:

I wish to correct an error which appeared in The Call of June 17 in the report of the City Executive Commit-It stated that Comrade Boyd for the Committee on Education reported that at a meeting of party speakers it was specially emphasized that speakers must adhere to the subject of Socialism as accepted by the party and not take advantage of the party platform to air their personal opinions.

As one who was present at that meeting. I declare that no such motion or resolution prevailed.

The opposite was the case, for when substitute motion for the whole was made by Comrade Meyer, requiring speakers to confine their talk within the limits of the national. State or local platform, or otherwise not act-as party speakers, it was beaten by the decisive vote of 10 to 5.

In the course of the discussion which followed the above motion, in which the undersigned took part, it was contended by its upholders that industrial unionism and the attitude of the church in regard to Socialism should be tabooed, but by a two to one vote the party speakers present decided that industrial unionism was a vital, living subject to be discussed the majority in the audience are generally wage workers.

This does not mean indorsing the L. W. W., for my part, I would rather bore from within than bore from other spirited discussion arose over the attitude of the speakers in relation to the attitude of the church toward Socialism. But it was decided by the above mentioned vote of 10 to 5 that speakers could discuss this question if they so desired.

It is a pleasure to see the type of young men and women that have joined the party recently. When I got to Niagara Falls I found that I had to speak at the Second Presbyterian Church. The world surely do move. As Russian Jewess in the pulpit of a Christian church talking on Socialism."

"The church was crowded and I held them for over two hours. The chairman, a good Christian, said uone of their ministers could hold the congregation for that length of time. The audience rose in a body to extend the thanks of the church to the speaker for the message she brought. A large quantity of books were sold here and at Buffalo. Comrades Spargo and Mrs. Allen spoke at the same church, I understand.

Greenwich—although it ought not to be—was as corrupt as any large city he knew of through investigation he knew of through investigation. The statement created a great deal of talk, and was considered an injustice to the wealthy element, and a petition was circulated to have Mr. Steffens prove his premise.

A meeting was called in the Town Hall, where nearly a thousand people assembled to hear the charges. It was perfectly obvious from the remarks of the speaker that there is a machine similar to the one of Tammany Hall, New York. The head of the machine —in fact the whole machine itself— is J. R. Walsh, a lawyer, and boss (with a big B) of Greenwich.

First of all, he is a very patriotic gentleman. He is counsel for the town and at the same time president of the water company. Recently the concern sought to increase their divi-dends. In order to do so the charter had to be amended to make it possible or the company to sell water outside their own jurisdiction. Naturally you will realize the farce of our representatives serving its citizenship, when first of all they must serve the corporations, and bear in mind that the above named was sent by the company to give reasons for the amendment and reasons for its passage. Can you beat that? The policy of the editor of the Greenwich Press is to fight this ring, and while having such purpose in the city of New York has hit upon an original if not entirely honorable method of inveigling the public to purchase their goods

An advertisement is run for two or three days in the morning and evening papers, making a great ado about finding a certain number of faces in the puzzle picture in their ad., and stating that to the lucky winners, prizes will be given, ranging from a chest of silver to a baseball and bat.

As many as forty thousand ar swers are received to each puzzle in answer to these advertisements. A staff of young girls ranging from 10 to 14 years old are put to work opening this vast quantity of mail. No attention is paid to whether or not the correct solution of the puzzle has been made, the letters simply being opened and piled up. The only idea is to get the name and addresses of the prospective suckers. Answers are sent to from one to ten people stating that they have been the lucky winners of either a chest of silver, a bracelet, a watch, etc. The other forty thousand are sent a cir-cular letter stating that "you have been successful in our recent prize contest, and in view of this fact, we are issuing you a cash credit purchasing coupon, good for a discount on any piano in our store."

When they are disappointcoupon." When they are disap-ed in this they inquire what this wonderful prize offer will do

Now comes the foxy part of the scheme. Pianos which are their own make and which would sell at a figure around $225 have been marked up to $375 or $400. Planos which sell for $200 usually have been boost-ed to $300 or $325.

The "lucky prize winner" is taken in hand by a salesman and imme-diately shown an expensive piano, stating "we will take a discount of $118 off this piano." If the poor prize winner says this plane is a little be-yond his reach, he is shown a plane around the $300 mark and assured that it is a fine instrument, and that $89.50 will be taken off the price.

Now we have reached the despicable methods which are worse than robbery. The, "lucky prize winner" asks wheré that beautiful new upright piano is that has been offered for $187 in the letter. He is taken over to a piano and assured that this is the piano. "Of course we do not guarantee this piano, but we do guar-antee our other makes." The salesman does not offer to play this piano. but if requested to do so, will thump it, and the sound that comes forth

NUDE WOMAN TELLS OF CRIME

OGDENSBURG, N. T., June 19.—
A posse this afternoon is rushing six miles into the country to investigate the story of a murder told by Mrs. Edward Larcek, who waited into town half nude, bleeding from cuts on the face, neck and arms. She said her husband had killed his brother and attempted to kill her.

it was "salted," that is, it was un-tuned. The idea is simply to get, a person into the store with the promise of a cheap piano and then sell them a new one.

Profits From Ignorance.

Ninety-nine out of 100 people do not know that if this piano was put chased and delivered into their home and a competent tuner called in, that after a good tuning it would be the equal of most pianos that this firm sells at a higher price.

The one person that might have an inkling that this piano is a "stool." for instance, a tuner who might come with a possible purchaser, asks upon what terms this piano can be pur-chased, and is always quoted terms to sell a higher grade instrument for. If he insists on the instrument he is discouraged in some way, so that he will eventually depart without having purchased it. The idea is that if they sold that instrument for $187 less $83.50; a total to be paid $97.50; they would not make money, and possibly lose on it.

If the "lucky prize winner" of one of these cash credit purchasing cou-pons does not "fail" for the letter which has been sent him, a follow-up letter is sent him, and if he does not come into the fold then, another is sent him.

More Written Lies,

These follow-up letters state that "you can become the part owner in a pland or will receive a slightly used or second-hand pland for the cost of cartage and shop work. It goes on "If you purchase one of our own to state that "you will receive a gold

You are also advised that the peryou a discount of $59.50.

Don't fail to come in and see our pon could not make use of same and beautiful upright plane which we are that you have been awarded the same. This piano is sold which is possibly $120 on "our own which is possibly $120 on "our own make" piano or $95 on any other make. This possibly $120 on "our own make" piano or $95 on any other make. It goes on to state that if you do not want the used piano, that the piece of it will be deducted from the cost of a new piano.

This usually brings wonderful resolution. The class of people that call chase of a new piano.

Now, usually, it is the children of the family who have answered these ads in the hope that they will win one of the ten prizes stated in the ads. In none of these ads. is there any allusion made to the issuing of a "credit cash purchasing coupon."

CO-OPERATIVE NOTES

Owing to several unavoidable circum stances, the semi-annual membership meet ing of the American Co-operative of Ho-boken, N. J., has been postponed until Thursday, June 22, at 8 p.m., in Kissel Hall, 122 Adam street. Every member is requested to be present, and also bring new andidates with them. The meeting will candidates with them. The meeting will be an important one, being the first one since the opening of the first co-operative store at 218 Willow avenue.

The Board of Directors, as well as the Board of Supervisors, will submit their complete report for the balf year passed and of the progress made during that time. There will be election of officers and consideration of the new amendment to the constitution. Some other very important business will be transacted, matters of importance to the further development of the American Co-operative of Hoboken.

Arm and Foot Discovered by Workers Raising Battleship.

HAVANA. June 19 .-- The first human remains to be recovered from the wreck of the American bat w ship Maine were discovered today, when workmen removing mud and debris from the spar deck, just forward of the after superstructures, discovered the blackened and coral en-crusted bones of a left forearm and

In the Maine explosion, two officers and 250 sailors lost their lives. The bodies of one officer and 181 others were found. There are still sixty-eight bodies missing. Many of these, it is believed, will be found in the wreck.

The bones were taken in charge by an undertaker and placed in a receptacle aboard the collier Leonidas. There is nothing to suggest identification, but it is hoped that this may be established by the subsequent discovery of other objects in the immediate vicinity.

The water in the coffordam inclosing the wreck had been lowered thirteen feet below normal this forenoon, revealing considerable more of the craft, especially amidships. A superficial examination of the most recent-ficial examination of the most recent-ly uncovered portions has tended somewhat to revive the hope that it will prove possible to float the after half or more of the hull. It is expected that the water will be lowered a total of fifteen feet by nightfall, when it is planned to hold it at that mark and proceed with the exploration of the interior of the hull.

RECRUITS FOR SOCIALISM

During the present month it is estimated that no less than 35,000 young people, mostly young men, will be graduated from the various colleges throughout the country, and launched into the midst of the competitive struggle for a livelihood, competition, as they are assured, being certain to bring out the best that is in them.

Lawyers, doctors, dentists, engineers, architects, chemists, professional and scientific workers of every description, swell the already overcrowded professional ranks every year in increasing numbers, despite the fact that all but the most stupid and unobservant of them know of this condition. But even these are bound to discover it by experience.

This spectacle is by no means repugnant to the Socialist. He understands thoroughly its significance, and knows well that Social-ism will profit through the blasted hopes of thousands of these ambi-tious intellectuals. He knows that the real education of these thousands, instead of being complete on leaving college, is only just be

Those delightful visions of future "salaries" of three, four and five thousand dollars per annum will soon become but as the base less fabric of a dream, under the competitive rules of the labor mar where brain and muscle are equally commodities, and bought and sold under the same conditions. As individuals these young p ple may be mistaken, but economic evolution has a purpose and ob ject in producing them.

Those brains, ostensibly cultivated for the service of the capitalist, will find their real mission in society by assisting in the destruction of the system they were apparently intended to serve and maintain.

Most of these young people will be "failures," not because of lack of efficiency, but rather because capitalism itself is a failure; it cannot make good its promises to them, promises the real object of which was the securing of cheap brain power, that profit might accrue to the buyers and users thereof.

And these "failures," who have intelligence sufficient to under stand the real cause of their failure, will eventually gravitate toward Socialism as their education through experience proceeds. Many of them are now in the Socialist ranks, but an immensely greater number are yet to be enrolled.

There is no danger to the Socialist movement from this influx and possibly there never was, despite the widespread suspicion of the "intellectuals." But, however this may be, the creation of an "intellectual proletariat" is as much a necessity of capitalism as the creation of a reserve army of unemployed. It has to be accepted as an inevitable outcome of capitalist development. And if, as we hold, the capitalist system produces its own grave-diggers, there is no reason for supposing that the college output cannot be utilized in actively preparing for the funeral also.

The Socialist movement has reached a stage where it is far be yond any danger of being misled by people with college or university degrees. It has long left the superstition behind that the holder o such a document must necessarily be superior intellectually to a well equipped Socialist. And many times it has been demon strated. The callow college youth, thinking to have some "fun" with the "soap-box orator," has generally departed a sadder if not wiser individual. And on the public platform, innumerable times, the Socialist champions have overwhelmingly defeated the masters from whom the college graduates received their education. Those who come to us from these institutions, after a struggle with the capitalist competitive world, will come not as teachers, but as pupils.

We can safely welcome them to our ranks, this intellectual pro letariat. We can use them, and capitalism cannot. Of those thirty five thousand let loose this month we shall have a big percentage within the next five years fighting alongside of us for the abolition of the system which regards both brain and muscle as marketable commodities, and cheapens both to the point of bare animal sub-

GETTING CLOSER TO UNION FUNDS

Capitalists instinctively recognize that a weak spot in union organization is the lack of funds. So whenever possible the union treasury is assailed, and by forcing litigation on the unions, by suing them, by arresting members and by making repeated claims for them, by arresting members and by making repeated claims for damages, they seek permanently to cripple unionism. A Massachusetts court has helped along in this work by awarding $2,000 to Frank A. Hanson, a granite working foreman. He was formerly a member of the union, but withdrew when he was promoted to a foremanship.

In that exalted position, it is claimed, he discriminated against many workers and used his power against them. Finally, Patrick Dacy, a man against whom he had steadfastly discriminated, fought bor back and Hanson was discharged. He immediately brought suit for against the union for boycotting him, and has received an award of $2,000. This is the largest sum ever given in such an instance, though similar suits have been won before.

While the courts have been exceedingly zealous in protecting the the non-union worker from the effects of the boycott, they have done the nothing to protect the union worker from the blacklist. The dis crimination is apparent. The union worker, thrown out of employ ment, can wander from place to place, but all doors are closed against him. He knows, his fellow unionists know, the capitalists know and the judges know why this man cannot get work. Yet the courts, so the judges know why this man cannot get work. Yet the courts, so It means, just as certainly, that they will resourceful in all attacks on the unions, find themselves helpless in accept, the only alternative — Socialist this instance. They can do nothing for the blacklisted man.

The unions, aware of the desperate situation in which a man marked for union activity will find himself, have put up many a valiant battle to prevent such a man from being thrown out of employment. It is in such strikes that the Eliot here finds his best opportunity, for "public opinion" can easily be directed against a union that strikes, that actually ties up sacred business, merely to shield a fellow worker. The claim can be set forth that he is incompetent, undesirable, obnoxious or a mischief maker. Usually, how ever, the truth is that the bosses are bent on getting rid of him.

Every industry has plenty of such instances, and the men ir every industry know the plight of the blacklisted man. They also know that he has no standing before the court, for the blacklisting system, founded deep as it is in the labor-spying system, is the most insidious and damaging of the weapons with which capitalists fight unionism. And at every turn the courts protect the capitalists.

But take the other side as it is shown by this award of $2 It must be remembered that the branch in question, that in Milford has only a few members and the award will bear heavily upon them. They have also been at the expense of fighting the case, and that, too, has been a drain on the union resources. Of course, it is possible to push the cost on to the national organization, but the national organization has resources that are none too great. At all times it is recognized to the national organization has resources that are none too great. nized that litigation is one of the worst afflictions that can overtake a union. It eats like a cancer, and for all the work, worry and expense nothing is definitely accomplished, for the capitalists can always co back in some new way and attack the treasury.

It is but one of the endless chains of evidence which shows he ighly the courts are committed to a defense of capitalism, and ow skillfully they carry on this defense.

But a general panel would not meet the case, so it is urged, if the remuneration that is to be given to the doctors is to be less than the fees which the patients have been accustomed to pay. It is pointed out that under, the bill a large proportion of working people who have been able and willing, in the past, to pay their ordinary doctors' fees without joining a friendly society are to be forced to accept from a State system benefits which they do not need, while on the other hand they are not to be assisted. working people who have been able to obtain-except as regards tuberculosis-the special medical or surgical treatment which they have not been able to provide for themselves. It is suggested that it ought to be head of dealt with either by excluding from medical benefit some of the insured who are in receipt of good incomes. or by making the remuneration of the doctors higher than it would be if states. only those classes were included who really need assistance. There is a strong prejudice among at any rate a section of the medical profession against handing over the administration of the new benefits to the friendly societies. There are various reasons for the existence of this prejudice, but it may be attributed mainly, perhaps, to a feeling that doctors have not been adequately paid in the past for their work for some friendly societies. This is a matter to which reference was made in both the majority and the minority reports of the Poor Law Commission The question has been asked, "Why, if the doctors have been willing to work for these organizations in the past The general practitioner would doubtwork formed only a small proportion of his practice and that it, was done at a reduced rate partly from a charitable feeling and partly from knowledge that the patients were of a class who could not afford to pay

READJUSTING TAXATION STILL WAITING FOR J IN MILWAUKEE

The Socialists of Milwaukee have made another notable achievement. By read-justing the basis of taxation they have been able to abolish the custom of issuing bonds for street improvements and dock-ing and dredging.

Heretofore the city has issued bonds for its street construction, docking and dredging. Now every dollar's worth of work that is done with money that is dredging. Now every dollar's worth of work that is done with money that is raised by bonds costs the city $1.40 before all of the interest is paid and the bonds retired. In this way, under former administrations, the city has been issuing bonds that run for twenty years for docking and dredging work which should have been paid for each year. It has also been is suing bonds for street construction. The pavements would last about five years, and then another set of bonds would be issued to pave the same street. This is an illustration of how the old administrations have wasted the resource, of the city. The present administration has faited the custom and henceforth bonds will not be issued for this purpose.

Each of the stations on the Central London-Railway is to have its own 'air clearing' plant, which will supply its own section of tube with 8.000,000 cubic feet of pure air per day. The process, which is known as the Czonair system, is a simple one. It is based on the fact that the electrical charges of a thunderstorm are large ozone producers. The plant will clean and vitalize the air by means of electricist.
