OAKLAND.-Workers packed the courtroom when the trial of Benson, Perrey and Rodriquez, got under way on June 25. The three are accused of "stealing" for stopping a city-owned truck which was running scab goods out of the L. A. Young plant.

The only evidence of the pros. ecution was based on notes by Inspector Tracy. He said that William Spooner had supplied him with evidence before the incident occurred. The case was continued until July 23, and that of Paul Heide and Ed Green, arrested on the picket line, continued until July 21.

OAKLAND .-- A proposed settlement agreement, drawn up by employers and presented by Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council, was rejected by the L. A. Young strikers by a vote of 100 to 66.

"Tax the Rich-Not the Poor!" Is Communist Party Campaign Slogan

(Editorial)

Taxation is always a "hollering point" for both the Republican and Democratic politicians and their bankerindustrialist bosses around election time—they all want it "reduced."

But they never want to reduce the sales taxes and other taxes that crush down the living standards of the workers and poor farmers; these taxes, say the politicians in behalf of the "blue bloods," should be increased so the poor, hard-hit banker and industrialist will not have to pay income taxes. If there are income taxes for the Fleischackers and Hearsts and Gianninis and Chandlers to pay, they will be practically reduced to their last yacht!

As the militant fighter for the working class, poor farmers, and impoverished middle class, 100 per cent of the time, the Communist Party doesn't pull any punches in regard to taxation. "Tax the rich who can afford to pay," say the Communists, "not the poor to whom more taxation means less and less bread in their mouths."

Following is the section in the California platform of the Communist Party, which deals with taxation:

"3. For repeal of the sales lax. For revision of the state income tax law to relief small incomes and increase the tax on high incomes. For the exemption of taxes for the working farmer and the small homeowner. For increased taxation of public utility corporations."

The Communist tax program calls for mass struggle by the oppressed working people and small farmers against the most reactionary sections of finance capital in California, who are trying to place the entire burden of the capitalist crisis on the toilers, by increased taxation of the poor, as well as by smashing wages and raising the cost

The Communist platform is for all working people who want to fight the oppression of the wealthy barons of California; this plank is designed to meet the needs of

CAL. JOBLESS LEADER RUNS FOR ASSEMBLY

Alex Noral-Native Son, Union Man Since Age Of 9-Is Nominee in 23rd District

Pioneer Western stock, native San Franciscan, a trade-unionist since the age of nine, leader of strike struggles, charter member of the Communist Party, and now organizer of the State Federation of Unemployed and Allied Organizations—this briefly summarizes the career of 46-year old Alexander Noral, candidate for assemblyman in the 23rd (Mission) District of San Francisco, on the Communist ticket. His grandfather was a pioneer in the State of Utah, a schoolteacher, to whom the school in Spanish Fork, Utah, is now dedicated. His stepfather was a painter and telegrapher in San Francisco, where Noral himself was born in poverty-stricken working class surroundings. When he was nine years old in Salt Lake City Noral was forced to leave school through poverty of his parents, and went to work as a newsboy becoming active at this early age in the Newsboys' Union.

He learned his trade as a team-fitter in the Guggenheim Ore Mills and Copper Smelters in Utah, and also worked at the lead smelters and the Garfield Smelting Company plant in the same state. In 1915 he was blackballed by the companies for actively organizing into the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, A. F. of L. Subsequently Noral worked at his trade in the shipyards in Washington. CHARTER MEMBER

In 1912, at the age of 22, he joined the Socialist Party, and in 1919 he became a charter member of the Communist Party. In 1928 and in 1932 he was Communist candidate for U S. Senator from the state of Washington. From 1929 to 1931 he worked in the Soviet Union. Coming back from Russia Noral led the San Jose cannery farms," declared Healy. San Francisco politicians are desperately afraid that the police graft situation might get out of hand and involve not only themselves, but also the "higher-ups" in finance and industry who profit most from corruption in govern-

They and their bosses would really sweat blood if the police graft investigation became sweeping and thorough, with no regard for the "blue bloods" of the San Francisco ruling class. But they'd sweat themselves right out of existence if a probe into ALL graft in the city were started!

For example, San Francisco invested $101,000,000 to bring water and power via Hetch-Hetchy to the city, and the grant of the federal government under Raker Act was made with the understanding that the power was to be municipally distributed. Result was that week found Col. Walter Garrison of the power and water were carried to the Associated Farmers of California Newark, 36 miles from San Francisco, again yelping that a $3 a day scale for and handed illegally to the Pacific Gas agricultural labor would drive the big and Electric Company for $2,000,000 bosses to the wall. a year. Senator Nye Meeting to Explode Wall Street Plot

MUNITIONS QUIZ HEAD TO BARE FINDINGS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—United States Senator Gerald P. Nye, who was chairman of the Senate Munitions Investigating Committee which unearthed startling facts concerning the profits from war, is coming to San Francisco to address a mammoth mass meeting in Dreamland Auditorium Wednesday evening, July 8th.

The meeting is being held as part of the nation-wide movement to keep America out of war and to prevent the commercialization of patriotism and the war spirit. While arrangements are under the direction of the American League Against War and Fascism, a large number of Bay Region organizations are collaborating in making the demonstration a success.

Senator Nye is expected to disclose facts never hitherto published, showing the intricate connections by which leading financiers profit immediately and directly from every wave of the preparedness spirit, and how war, because of this spirit, is inevitable. The manipulations of the war makers will be mercilessly exposed, it is expected. Senator Nye's topic will be "America Is Being Driven Toward War."

In addition to the chairman and Senator Nye, the platform at the meeting will be occupied by some 50 leaders in the movement to keep America from repeating the act of April 17 when America plunged into world war. The honorary chairman will include noted educators, labor leaders, heads of various peace societies and women's organizations, publishers, writers, and leading citizens from every walk of life.

Democracy in Industry and Full Guarantees of Security Provided in New Soviet Constitution

THE CONSCIOUS ACHIEVEMENT OF 19 YEARS OF DICTATORSHIP BY THE PROLETARIAT

The new Soviet constitution flashes brilliant light on the widened human rights 1934-1935 averaged 45,000 to 50,000 per which become possible under socialism. No attempt of enemies to distort it, to make it appear a concession by Stalin, or a faltering attempt to approach "our democracy," can prevent the constitution's own words Credit for this significant advance goes from shouting aloud to common people little, in the Soviet view, unless it is acto Lazar M. Here is a democracy which guarantees to its citizens, not merely voting rights for As well as testifying to the rapid eco- some head of political power, but equal and cultural life.

GOAL ACHIEVED

This constitution is no invention of a single man or group of men. Soviet citizens know it as the conscious achievement of 19 years of Soviet power. For 19 years the Soviet state has striven towards this goal: a classless society, based on full democracy of worker-owners. For the past 19 years the Soviet state has been a "workers' dictatorship," a phrase deliberately misunderstood in the capitalist press of the world. Power has been concentrated in the hands of the workers, who had a greater proportional representation in the organs of government than had the peasants. Exploiters, people living by rent, interest and profit, were deprived of vote.

MORE THAN VOTING

Universal, direct and secret ballot by all citizens over 18, gives the vote to a larger proportion of citizens than in any other country. But this is only the beginning of Soviet democracy. Mere voting counts for complished by ownership fo the material means. Soviet voting disposes of the wealth of the country, instructing its government what forms of industry and occupation shall be expanded.

Freedom of press, in the Soviet view, is which guarantees to every human being; not. Hence the guarantee of "freedom of a job, leisure (7-hour day and vacations on speech, press, assembly and demonstration" pay), old age and disability pensions, and in the Soviet constitution is accomplished by full self-expression in political, economic the placing at the disposal of workers and ing shops, halls and streets.

PEACE GUARANTEES

The Soviet struggle for peace is shown in several clauses. The preaching of national or racial hates is punishable by law. The right to declare war is abolished; but

WASHINGTON, D. S.—The United States government, before giving its approval to the new Italian envoy, Fulvio Suvich, required full understanding that such approval did not imply recognition of Italy's sovereignty over Ethiopia. The U.S. Minister to Ethiopia, Cornelius Van H. Engert, has not been withdrawn from that country. Nevertheless, President Roosevelt has lifted the embargo against Italy, which gives a severe blow to Haile Selassie's vigorous efforts in behalf of his country. RESISTANCE CONTINUES

In London, Selassie has proclaimed that Ethiopia is under the rule of a regency appointed by himself to direct matters during his absence. The entire Western area of Ethiopia is reliably reported in full loyalty to Ethiopian independence and divisions of the Ethiopian Army are re-mobilizing to continue resistance against the invaders.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden speaking for the British government declared: "His majesty's government has no intention at the forthcoming meeting of the League of proposing or assenting to the recognition of Italy's annexation of Ethiopia.'

TWO-FACED GAME

Meanwhile, Britain has concluded a military agreement with Italy and is openly agitating for removal of sanctions at the next meeting of the League of Nations.

Thus both America and Britain, to satisfy the strong anti-war sentiments of their populations, maintain a surface show of criticizing Italy, and, at the same time extend the practical hand of cooperation.

It is to be noted that America and Britain, in dealing with Italy, have the upper hand, inasmuch as they control the raw materials without which fascist war machines and fascist conquests would be im-

AMERICAN LEAGUE URGES INOUIRY OF BRAZILIAN MURDER

WASHINGTON, D. C .- "Further investigation" into the death of Victor Barron, young American who was tortured to death three months ago by Brazilian fascist police, was "promised" here by William Phillips, undersecretary of state, and Oswaldo Aranha, Brazilian ambassador, to a delegation representing the Committee for the Joint Defense of the Brazilian People.

The delegation demanded that Barron's body be brought from Brazil to the United States, that an authorized agent of Barron's mother, Mrs. Edna Hill of Oakland, Calif., be permitted to examine state department files on the case; and that a certified copy of the autopsy report be furnished

"I'll look into the matter further," replied Phillips to the demands.

Aranha said he was "very disturbed" over the death of Barron, that even if Barron did commit suicide as claimed by the Brazilian police it was police negligence in permitting him to do so, and that "steps would be taken."

The delegation included Anna Damon, of the International Labor Defense; Maxwell Stewart, associate editor of The Nation, and Gabriel Miller, of the American League late Maxim Gorky sent by leading writers. Against War and Fascism.

Mother Voices Pride In Poem For Murdered Son

"BLESSED THE DAY I GAVE YOU BIRTH"

OAKLAND, Cal.-Mrs. Edna Hill, mother of Victor Barron, the heroic young Amercan who was tortured to death by police in Brazil, has written her grief and pride into a poem that brings home the awful reality of the crime more sharply than all the intricate descriptions of the boy's ex-

Young Barron was arrested in Rio De Janeiro shortly after the recent uprising. Believing he might know the whereabouts of the revolutionary leader Louis Carlos Prestes, authorities tortured him to death and then threw his body out a window in an effort to make it appear suicide. The body was buried in quicklime to conceal the marks of torture.

Mrs. Hill, a resident of Oakland writes:

Boy of mine, it seems I see you, Legs thrown 'cross an old arm-chair, Lazily playing on the banjo Plaintive notes of love's despair, Softer now, the notes you're strumming-Time in perfect rhythm keep; 'Tis a lullaby you're humming, Little sister go to sleep.

Boy of mine, again I see you, Just a little lad of three. Sleepy time and I am rocking Little brother on my knee. Little hands that clutched my rocker. Little hands so dear to me; Ask me now in baby accents: Mama, ain't there room for me?

And I pulled you up beside him, Rocked you gently to and fro; Boy of mine, it surely does not Seem so very long ago. Blessed the day I gave you birth, Growing steadily into manhood, Fearing nothing on this earth.

Now again, the scene is changing, And it seems I'm filled with pain; "Don't give up," I hear you pleading, "Mother, live for us again." And I rally to your whisper, Just to know that you were there, son, Seemed to make my heart rejoice.

Then you left me, Victor, left me, And a tear was in your eye; Smiling though you tried to hide it. Lovely letters, son, you wrote me,. Said perhaps you'd see me soon, have waited for your coming, son; And I've waited all in vain; For they killed you down in Rio; And you can't come home again. Yes! They tortured, beat and stabbed you; And they kept you in a cell, The police in De Janeiro, For the things you couldn't tell.

Then they dug a hole to hide you In that God-forsaken place; And to hide their crime they threw A bit of quick-lime in your face. Oh, they bravely came and told me You'd committed suicide; Tried to cover up the murder-Oh! How well I know they lied.

Yes, they took you from me, Victor; And they think they're getting by; But your battle's taken up, son, There are war clouds in the sky; And who knows that those same devils Won't be some day in a cell; And I wonder how they'll like it Just a roastin' down in Hell.

Unemployed Actors Get FATHER COUCHIN'S Raw Deal From Shubert

PRODUCER FINANCING FOR BEST SCRIPTS

By Frank Barney Gilson, Federated Press.

NEW YORK .- (FP)-The jobs of unemployed actors and technicians on the WPA federal theater project in New York are threatened by the influence of the Shubert private theatrical interests, who benefit from opportunity to get first crack at promising scripts, while leaving second-rate ones for unemployed talent to produce.

It is easy to see how this would lead to loss of the tremendous prestige the federal theater project has built up through Macbeth with its Negro cast and Triple A Plowed Under. Then the reactionaries would point the finger of boundoggling at the hampered artists, and New York's WPA Administrator Victor Ridder, only too anxious to fire WPA workers, would have an excuse for action.

PLANTED AGENTS

Recently this writer told how Otto Metz ger, a Shubert man, headed the Managers Tryout Theater for WPA, until, plagued by a record of flops, it went to its demise. The writer said: "Whenever a good play came into the Tryout office, it is said on excellent authority, Metzger took it over to the Shubert office.

Since then, the writer learns on equally good authority that Metzer, as head of the new WPA Preview Theater, has taken one of the best plays submitted to his unit -I Confess, by William Beyer-and placed was a hit show of the Detroit federal theater project and was submitted to Metzger by Francis Bosworth, head of the playreading department of the federal theater. SPLITING TACTICS

An Effort to Assure the Election of Hearst's Landon by Split In Ranks of Democrats

Why did Father Coughlin, Dr. Townsend, Congressman William Lemke, and Rev. Smith bring forth their new so-called "third party"-the "Union Party?"

The answer is not far away; it is to be found directly in the words of the fascist radio priest-to defeat Roosevelt and elect the Hearst-Landon-Knox slate for the Republican Party and the Liberty League.

But shortly after Coughlin wrote to the New York Sun, organ of the Liberty League gang, that he was ready to support "a renovated Republican Party," he launched the "third party" and gave exclusive interview to the Sun, as follows:

"There is a strong possibility that the third party ticket, headed by Representative William Lemke of North Dakota, will cause a split in the Democratic and 'progressive' ranks and result in the election of Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas, the Republican nominee for President, the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, the Detroit radio priest admitted in an exclusive interview with the

And the Sun added its own comment: . . . The priest made it quite clear, without actually saying it, that as between Roosevelt and his New Deal, he would prefer the election of the Kansan."

A SLY MANEUVER

It has long been known that Coughlin is Hearstman, playing the fascist game of the Liberty League. This move to elect Landon by the "third party" scheme represents extreme danger to the anti-fascist tens of millions of American workers, small farmers, and lower middle class. The vast majority of the people are presented with an ever more imminent threat of an open fascist, terrorist dictatorship by Wall Street and its tools.

The 15-point platform offered by Lemke is completely demagogic, hoping to delude the people as to its "liberal" and "progressive" tone. For example, we have such a plank as No. 4: "Congress shall assure a living annual wage for all laborers capable of working and willing to work."

Not a word about what is a "living wage" and not a word as to how such a wage is to be guaranteed and secured!

And another such a demagogic point: 'Congress shall assure production and a profit for farmers!"

The same question holds good for Plank No. 6: "Congress shall provide 'reasonable and decent security for the aged' who have been victimized and exploited by an unjust economic system which has so concentrated wealth in the hands of a few that it has impoverished great masses of our people."

ROAD TO BETRAYAL

This is but poor bait attempting to lure the rank and file of the Townsend movement into the fold of the "Union Part" " to betray them from a militant and determined fight for genuine old age pensions.

The platform is cleverly directed at the weakest links in the New Deal armor, as can be clearly seen in the call for the restoration of "representative government to the people by the ruthless eradication of bureaucracy.'

Lemke assures that "America shall have no foreign entanglements either political, economic, financial, or military," yet he does not make any provision for the enforcement of effective and complete economic sanctions against war aggressors and does make provision for war under the demagogie Plank No. 8: "Congress shall provide 'adequate and perfect defense.' If there must be conscription, there shall be a conscription of wealth as well as a conscription

PHRASE MONGERING

"Conscription of wealth" is good votebait, if the fact is disregarded that wars are fought for profits, and for profits only!

Lemke states that private property shall be prevented from "confiscation through necessary taxation," but with the "understanding" that "the human right of the masses take precedent over the financial

In brief, the "Union Party" platform puts out "liberal" bait in an effort to attract With the lengthening days, the men have votes but contains no concrete provisions the overweening purpose of this "third party" is to defeat Roosevelt and put conceived of this "third party" as a move

The 'Mutiny' on the Hinduston

On Friday, October 25, 1935, the Coast Guard station at Eureka, California reported it had received a radio message that the frieghter Hindustan, flying the British flag, was drifting helplessly in a fast running sea, 18 miles off Coos Bay,

The message stated that the S. S. Aztec was proceeding to the rescue of the Hindustan.

At 3.15 on the afternoon of October 26, 1935, the Radio Marine station at Marshfield, Oregon, received a message saying the tramp steamer, Hindustan had turned over and sunk while crossing Mainatchee bar.

No trace, the flash stated, could be found of the 46 members of the crew, and it was assumed that all hands were lost. The S. S. Aztec had arrived on the scene at noon. The water was extremely rough over the bar, the Aztec reported, and apparently the Hindustan was struck by a large wave and had turned over.

In reporting the sinking, a Marshfield paper remarked "it may be recalled that the S. S. Hindustan was the scene of a mutiny shortly before she sailed from Marshfield. The mutiny was quelled with great difficulty."

Brown and half naked, eyes gleaming with fury, the 22 Malays and the 18 Shanghai and Canton coolies who made up the black gang and galley crew of the Hindustan squatted in a double circle in the forecastle.

Hassan Ali, a lean Malay oiler who could not have been a day over 20, rose and threw up his hands helplessly.

"We are in a white man's port," he saids "We cannot do anything here. We are beaten before we start. No matter which way we turn, we're beaten."

"They'd throw us in the white man's jail and torture us," said a Malay fireman. Seventeen of the Chinese members of the crew turned to the 18th Chinese, Pok Sum. They seemed to look upon Pok as their leader. They were asking him to interpret the Malay's words.

Greying, and bearing the scars of many sashings, he was a father to the Chinese boys in the crew. They loved and respected him. He made their few hours off watch a joy. For hours Pok would hold the Shanghai and Canton lads spellbound with stories of his experiences in the great 1923 Chinese seamen's strike. From the lips of Pok Sum the lads learned of a new "god" who had sprung up from their own midst. Soo Chao Jen, the leader of the Pok Sum had a price on his head. To step ashore in any Chinese port meant for 'nim the executioner's knife of the Kuomintang war lord.

The Chinese shouted with approval. The Malays sensed the spirit in the words of the young Chinese, Ah Foon, and some among them responded with the same spirit. These convinced the rest.

So there, in the rotting forecastle of the freighter Hindustan, the Malay and the Chinese seamen decided on a plan of action.

It was to choose a committee of four, two Malays and two Chinese, who were to present the crew's demand to Captain Blackmar. Their demand was but little. The Hindustan must remain in port until the clap-trap freighter was repaired sufficiently to at least insure the crew a fighting chance when the boat put to sea. Pok Sum, Ah Foon, Hassan Ali, and Mike Mirza, the last two Malays, made up field, in all probability sampling wares of the Marshfield honky-tonks.

With the exception of the four on the committee, the crew went to sleep, and slept fitfully, awaiting the return of Captain Blackmar.

Captain Augustus Blackmar and his six officers were returning to the S. S. Hindustan, under charter (the ship, not th. captain), to the firm of Alexander Mac-Donald and Son, and due, in an hour, to steam out of Marshfield with a cargo of lumber destined for Singapore and other Indian Ocean ports.

Accompanying Captain Blackmar an his six officers were Captain Reginal. Bassett and the six officers of the freigi. Colombo.

The directing genius of the Colombo, and his six officers had come, at the pressing invitation of Captain Blackmar, to sample the liquers in Captain Blackmar's

Since the ship was to sail in an hour, the Asiastics on the committee, realizing that no time was to be lost, decided the the crew's demand must be presented at once to Captain Blackmar.

Captain Blackmar decided that Captain Bassett must inspect his engine room. He made those damned "niggers" sweat to keep the room in trim, and he wanted to show Captain Bassett how stepping on those danmed "niggers" was the only language they really understand.

The committee followed the two captains into the engine room. Captain Blackmar, astounded, told them to "get the helf out of here, you blasted niggers."

But the four crew members were not to be deterred. Pok Sam began to present the demand of his fellow workers.

The officers of both the S. S. Hindustan and the S. S. Colombo broke out into the foulest language that the two English gentlemen could muster as suitable for an Astiac crew.

The four Asiastic seamen were peaceable men. But a wrench thrown by the second engineer of the Colombo struc-Pok Sum and knocked him unconsciou This was the signal for a concerted attack by the officers.

Ah Foon and the Kwangking boy were peaceable men, but they had not neglected the ordinary precautions. They had iron bars, and in a flash the second engine of the Colombo and the first mate of t Hindustan were down and out.

Now the struggle began in earnest. The ten remaining officers fought, with their backs to the engine room exit, to prevent the committee from summoning help of the rest of the crew.

Heavy machine tools banged and dazed the members of the committee, and met, only with grunts.

Doggedly the committee fought to break through the wall of officers and rouse the slumbering crew.

The second Malay was a powerful sixfooter. He was without a weapon, but his flail-like fists took a deadly toll. He finally forced an opening, and broke for the crew's quarters.

In a few minutes the crew descended in force on the engine-room, like locusts on a wheatfield. Soon the efforts of the steamships Hindustan and Colombo were laid out on the engine-room floor. But unnoticed in the fight, a mate of the Colombo had dashed out of the engine room, down the gang-plank.

The crew had won. What to do next?

"We must give ourselves up," said the Malay Hassan Ali.

"No," said Pok Sum. "We will sail the ship ourselves to Singapore, and then jump it. The ship is due to sail right now, and no one will notice anything out of the way."

"But what of the six officers of the Colombo?" demanded a Malay stoker. Here was a poser. Barely had the Malay presented it, when a large squad of p lice was seen to approach the ship from a distance. They had riot guns. Unarmed,

People's Health

W P A "UNEMPLOYABLES"

For some queer reason the Roosevelt Works Progressive Administration in Washington has made it their policy to cut those off work-relief who need it most; those who are more or less ill. A copy of a letter reported written by a high official of the San Francisco W P A about his district has come to my attention.

This letter shows the attitude of such officials toward this policy. A "system of physical gradings and is being established... throughout the state, classifying all workers into Groups 1, 2 and 3, according to the health. Those who are ill in any

Here is the letter: Dear Miss Wooley:

As you know, we established experimental in ally in District 7 on January 10th of this year, a system of physical gradings through a medical staff of six physicians who were on work relief.

In the four months since this has been operating, there has been considerable complaint due to various causes. There is petty jealousy among the doctors themselves and lack of equipment, resulting in less uniformity than we would like to have had. However, in the four months since this. has been operating, we have separated ap= proximately 2000 as unemployables making a monthly reduction from the P W A pay roll of approximately $117,000 and a total saving for the four months so far of $304,500.

It is true, the financial savings might be the a mooted question, inasmuch as these people 🧱 have to be supported. However, an important valuation in my mind is the fact that these unemployables, working alongside of and drawing the same pay as Grade No. 1 and No. 2 people, caused a very decided breakdown in the morals on all projects.

I know you will be interested in the results of our four months experiment. Wishing you a safe, pleasant and profitable trip,

One of the reasons for this policy of "classifying" the workers is to divide the unemployed into two competing camps of 'employables", and "unemployables."
